Colt Show Draws Many, With Out-Of-Town Judges; Many Entries

Gatesville's first Colt Show, featuring Dr. Verne A. Scott of John Tarleton Agricultural College as the judge for the show, and State Secretary J. E. McDonald, as an interested spectator, brought in many entries of colts, both mules and horse colts Wednesday afternoon.

In the parade, which came off after the judging, it was led by shetland ponies, then the others, concluding with a "South American Nightengale," his honor, a jack reminding one of a circus parade with the caliope in the rear.

Stopping on the square for exhibition purposes to the crowds the animals were viewed by many of the Trades-Day visitors.

After an introduction by County Agent Guy V. Powell, Secretary of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald, urged the people attending the Colt Show to realize their responsibility toward the agriculture of the nation. Mr. McDonald brought out the fact that one-third of the cotton of the nation was produced in Texas and one-twelfth of the livestock. He further urged the people to produce more and better livestock stating that this was one of the ways to utilize the products of the farm.

Mr. McDonald explained the act which permitted the use of a portion of the race track funds for the purchase of Stallions and Jacks to be distributed thruout Texas for the betterment of livestock of the state. Coryell county now has two of these stallions.

This would make it necessary for the farmers to complete any channel and terracing work in time for the E. C. W. to complete their work by April 1.

So far, no authority has been received for any additional work with the above acceptations, and if authority is received, subsequent announcement will be made.

ANNIVERSARY OF SIEGE OBSERVED

San Antonio, Dec. 16.—The scene of historic Centennial celebrations shifted last week to San Antonio where the 100th anniversary of the siege of Bexar and the capture of San Antonio by the Texans was commemorated with a three-day observance sponsored by the State Association of Texas Pioneers.

A pilgrimage to Ben Milam's grave, December 7, introduced the program of commemorative events, participated in by descendants of men who fought in the historic battle. Religious services in local churches were conducted Sunday and the program was closed with a luncheon Monday.

What about . . .
TEMPERATURE?

Any sudden change in temperature as you go from a warm room into a cold one disturbs the heat regulating apparatus of the body and makes it susceptible to cold germ attacks.

Protect your family against becoming overheated or chilled. Give them the benefit of healthful, pure, warmed air throughout the house. If you are not keeping a comfortable and even temperature in every room don't go through the winter without this health protection.

If your home is inadequately heated . . . if you "huddle" in one or two rooms, sudden temperature changes are unavoidable. Your family goes from a heated room into a cold hall or adjoining room. Then, shivering and chilled, they return to the heated room. This happens many times a day, and each time they have unnecessarily subjected themselves to conditions that make them susceptible to highly communicable diseases. America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ, finds a fertile field in inadequately heated and poorly ventilated homes.

Keep comfortable temperatures and adequate ventilation throughout your home. You will find that it will add to your happiness as well as assist you to protect your health and that of your loved ones.

. . . Community Natural Gas Co.

Don't gamble with a "cold"! Consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health. Tune in each Thursday night at 6:30, WFAA-WBAP, for helpful information from a leading physician that will assist you to guard against the common cold germ.

When the snow flurries and sharp winds of mid-winter hold sway there is nothing more inviting than a dinner whose central dish is a steaming casserole, rich insavory food combinations. Such a dish quickly restores energy and banishes fatigue—it has the merit of economy and great variety. Utilize

SAUSAGE AND VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

Two medium onions sliced thin, 4 medium potatoes sliced thin, 1 No. 2 can creamy style corn, 1 pound bulk sausage, 1 can canned tomato sauce, 1½ teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper.

Grease a casserole and place the ingredients in the order given in the dish. Make the sausage into balls or patties, then pour the tomato sauce over all. Cover and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Remove the cover and bake until the potatoes are tender and the dish nicely browned.

SAVORY CASSEROLE

Two pounds sauer-kraut, 1 tablespoon sugar, ½ cup fat, 1 onion, 1 teaspoon flour, 1 to 1½ pounds of veal, ham, chicken, halibut or sole, 2 dill pickles sliced, 6 olives, 6 picked mushrooms.

Cook the sauerkraut in several waters until tender, add the sugar, bring to a boil and drain. Brown the chopped onion in half the fat and add it to the sauerkraut. Sprinkle with flour, add remaining fat and let simmer for a few minutes. Grease a casserole, place half the sauerkraut in the bottom, then the meat or fish cut in slices, with the dill pickles, olives and mushrooms. Cover with the rest of the sauerkraut, brown in the oven and serve hot.

PORK CHOPS EN CASSEROLE
Four pork chops, 4 tablespoons rice, 1 onion, 1 green pepper, No. 2 can tomatoes, Salt, pepper, sugar.

Brown the chops on both sides in a hot frying pan. Season with salt and pepper and arrange in a casserole. On each chop place a tablespoon of uncooked rice, a slice of two of onion and a few strips of green pepper. Season the tomatoes with salt, pepper and a little sugar and pour carefully over the chops. Add water if necessary to make enough liquid to cover the chops. Cover the casserole and bake in a moderate oven for about an hour or until the chops are tender.

Main Street

LIVER EN CASSEROLE
One pound of calf or beef liver cut thick, 2 large onions, ½ green pepper, 1 stalk celery. Cut liver in cubes. Dice onions almost size of liver. Heat bacon grease in pan, add liver and onions and sear, then put in casserole. Add green pepper and celery. Now pour a can of tomato soup over all and add a can of water. Season to taste. Put in hot oven and bake for about 30 minutes.

BAKED HAM SLICE

Two pound slice raw ham, 1 minced green pepper, 3 peppercorns, 3 cups sliced onions, 3 cloves. Milk to cover.

Place the slice of ham with its edge slashed in a casserole, cover with vegetables, seasonings and milk. Two cups of cooked rice may be piled on top during last 10 minutes of baking.

A NEW FALL DISH

With the return of Fall, pork and nuts win the housewife's attention and the following recipe combines these seasonal ingredients with ever popular smoked ham. Have the butcher grind very fine 1 pound of smoked ham and one pound of fresh pork. Mix well and add 1½ cups finely chopped or ground Brazil nut meats, two well beaten eggs, 1 cup of bread crumbs and seasoning to taste, a grating of nutmeg and lemon rind, parsley and paprika, salt and pepper to taste are the needed ingredients. Pack into a straight side bread pan, pouring a cup of catsup over all. Bake in moderate oven 1 to 1 one-fourth hours. Slice and serve hot or cold with potato salad. The flavor is irresistible.

OYSTERS BRING HEALTH NOT PEARLS

Pearls of genuine commercial value rarely, if ever, are found in the American Eastern oyster grown along the Atlantic coast. Pearl-bearing oysters usually are found in tropical waters, but the Japanese oyster, much smaller than the Eastern oyster, is often used in the cultivation of pearls.

America, however, does produce commercial quantities of pearls. They are found in the fresh water mussel of the lower Mississippi system.

The Eastern oyster is grown only for food, and it is the second largest of the fishery industries, being outranked only by salmon packing industry of the Northwest.

weather—but the Old Weather Man predicts "colder and snow" most any time now, and when he predicts that he usually means business.

Just to be prepared for this long-awaited-for event, why not get your sled and your ice skates in smooth sailing condition? Of course the runners of last winter's sled and the blades of your skates, too, will need to be cleaned and polished; and perhaps they will need a good sharpening. The easiest and best way to clean them is with the safe seismotite cleanser. (Be sure to ask mother, for the one she uses contains this cleansing ingredient). You've no idea how quickly it chases away the rust and dirt—and it polishes just like new! Simply sprinkle some of this safe seismotite cleanser on a damp cloth and rub it over the metal; then wipe with a damp cloth and dry. If you just use this treatment—and perhaps a sharpening or two—on the runners of your sled and on the blades of your ice skates, they'll be slick as a whistle all winter long!

CHAPTER I
"ONE thousand dollars reward for the capture, dead or alive, of Carlos, the bandit."

Don Pascual Castro's voice shook with fury as he read those words on a poster which decorated one wall of the office of the mayor of Monterey.

"Your United States government offers such rewards for Carlos, who robs only the rich to feed the poor. Yet it lets Joe Kincaid kill my people and steal their lands without raising a finger."

As Mayor Hill started to protest the door of his office swung open and Joe Kincaid himself came into the room. He was a big, coarse man across whose face played a twisted, self-satisfied and cruel smile.

"Howdy, Jonathan," he said to the mayor as he jammed a black cigar into his mouth. "Heard my name mentioned as I passed by and dropped in to find out if you wanted to see me."

"I hear you raided the Alzaga's ranch last night." Hill's voice was sharp.

"Their ranch! Does that sound like me?" protested the oily Kincaid. "I wouldn't have the heart to dispossess a rattlesnake. They were just squatters on public land. It was open for any good American to enter and possess."

"They'd owned that ranch for a hundred years," cried Castro, his fine old face white with anger.

"The point is, can they prove title in this year of 1852? If so I'll step off in a second. All they had to do was file claim to their land under the American law when California joined the United States. That's what I did this morning."

"They are simple ignorant people. How could they know your law would expect them to beg, as a charity, the homestead they had as a birthright. As for the law," he whirled upon the mayor. "Does your law permit murder?"

"Now I kind of resent that word, Senior Castro," snarled Kincaid, his hand dropping to his revolver butt. "I was entering a parcel of public land when they popped at me. I had to defend myself. I had a dozen witnesses to swear that they fired first. Nobody feels worse than I do about the fact that the old man and his son were killed." As he spoke his anger evaporated and the usual cynical grin overspread his countenance. "That's a mighty nice ranch YOU'VE got, Castro," he concluded.

"Keep away from it," thundered the old Spaniard. "You mean you've got just squatters' rights too?" Kincaid licked his lips.

"Yes," answered Castro. "And I will not humiliate myself my filing claim. Kincaid, try to take my ranch away and see what happens to you." After a low bow to the mayor, Don Pascual Castro departed.

In a bitter mood the Spaniard returned to his ranch home just outside of Monterey. There he found everything in an uproar of excitement due to the fact that a fiesta was to be held that night in the town.

"But I'm too old to become a bandit and an outlaw," sighed Castro. "If I were your age, young man," he added, turning to Don Luis, "I'd do just that."

"Like this Don Carlos and his Vigilantes?"

"Why not?" Rosita clasped her hands in delight.

"But I'm too old to become a bandit and an outlaw," sighed Castro. "If I were your age, young man," he added, turning to Don Luis, a sleek and serious young man who showed little enthusiasm for the topic under discussion, "I'd do just that."

"Would you like to have a price on your head?" gasped Don Luis, his hand flying to the ruffles at his throat.

"If I were a man I would join Carlos and his Vigilantes this very night," cried Rosita, her eyes blazing with excitement.

Back in Monterey meantime, Joe Kincaid and his men were carousing at the Golden Nugget saloon.

"How'd you come out with Alzaga?" asked Spike, a broken-nosed individual who looked as mean as his name implied.

"On top as usual," grinned Kincaid as he downed his fourth glass of whiskey. "The ranch is ours. Here's to Uncle Sam," he added, as he poured another drink. "He looks out for his nephews if they're smart."

"Goin' to stay in town for the fiesta?" asked Bill, a little cross-eyed snake of a man.

"Not for me," answered Kincaid, "I'm going out to the shack to catch up on my sleep."

"Alone?" Spike was apprehensive.

"Think I need a crapperone?" sneered Kincaid. "I'll take care of myself better than you boys that stay here and get soused. 'Hey,' he whirled sharply upon a half-breed busboy who jostled against him at that moment, "Get out of my drink, will you, Juan?"

"Sorry, boss. Excuse," answered the boy as he scurried for the door. A moment later he was leaning over a peon who lay asleep outside the saloon and was shaking him vigorously.

"Dios!" muttered the sleeper. "What's the matter?"

"Tell Don Carlos that Joe Kincaid ride to shack alone tonight," whispered the busboy. Then, his hands tucked in his big sleeves, he shuffled back into the saloon, once more only a stupid servant of Kincaid and his kind.

Here are its most outstanding values—many brand new this year.

- V-8 ENGINE PERFORMANCE—smoothness, pick-up and power with proved V-8 economy.

VOLUME III AT NEWS' STANDS GATESVILLE, TEXAS, FRIDAY, DEC. 20, 1935 2c COPY NUMBER 104

LETTER FROM SENATOR POAGE

Waco, Dec. 18.—From a legislative standpoint the outstanding development of the week has been the news dispatch from Austin stating that the Governor was inclined to withhold the call for a Special Session until next Summer, rather than to convene the Legislature in January, as it had generally been supposed that he would do. I have not been in Austin this week, and have not talked to the Governor, but understand that he has suggested that he might not call a Session of the Legislature until after the primaries next Summer. He is quoted as stating that his Tax Commissioner, Honorable R. B. Anderson, who is, by the way, a very able man, is working on some kind of tax survey, and that he feels that he should not convene the Legislature until he is able to present this survey, and until such time as he himself is in a position to make recommendations as to the levy of new taxes.

This Special Session of the Legislature whenever called is going to be an unpleasant and unwanted meeting. No one enjoys a tax session. No citizen wants to pay taxes and no legislature enjoys levying them, but we have a pension bill that must be paid, and I think that the decision should be met as quickly as possible. It is true that the State will have enough money from the Liquor Tax to begin to pay pensions at such time as the Federal Government makes an appropriation to pay its part, but the State funds are sufficient only to begin payment. They are inadequate to continue this payment for any extended period, and I seriously doubt that it will be possible for the State to make payments of the pension until next Fall without the collection of some substantial new tax. If this is true, it seems to me to be the part of wisdom to meet the issue squarely and quickly, and from this standpoint it occurs to me that it would be best to convene the Legislature at the earliest possible date, and dispose of the tax question, thereby eliminating this troublesome question from the realm of political debate next Summer, and at the same time assuring the prompt and continued payment of the old age pension. Nor do I see any reason for delaying a session in order that we may have the benefit of any kind of tax survey. We have been making tax surveys every since I first went to the Legislature—eleven years ago. A few of the members study the reports made by these surveys, but most of them never see them, and the great majority of the members refuse to be guided by the findings of any committee, much less of a separate State Department for the simple reason that most legislators are like most other people; they think their own judgment is better than that of anyone else, and for this reason they always question the conclusions arrived at by any tax survey or similar body. Personally, I have always found that there was a great deal of helpful information that could be secured, from these reports, but I have never felt that one could simply accept their findings without question, and I know that very little good will result in delaying a session of the Legislature simply to present some kind of report which could have just as well been presented months ago.

I think it is generally conceded that the only way we can raise the necessary amount of money to pay pensions is to levy a sales tax or a natural resource tax, and no survey on earth can make it possible for the farm lands and city property of this State to carry the burden. Of course, every tax survey will point out that there is a great amount of ad valorem tax now delinquent, and that if same were collected, it would be unnecessary to levy a new tax, at least for the time being. I am sure that this is true, but I am equally sure that the great bulk of these delinquent taxes are at this time delinquent simply because the taxpayers cannot pay them, and the State could not pay pensions by confiscating this property. You can only get tax money from sources which have money, and this brings us back to the fundamental proposition

$100 a Day for Prison Atonement

One hundred dollars a day for one hundred and twenty days, served in the Joliet (Ill.) penitentiary for another's crime is the compensation the state owes James A. Long, shown at right, according to a bill introduced in the legislature at Springfield, Ill. The bill states that Long's vindication did not remove the stain that conviction had placed upon his reputation, nor did it make up for the mental anguish he suffered, fearful he might have to spend the rest of his life in prison for a crime of which he was innocent.

that many of the people have a little money, which could be taken away from them thru a sales tax, which would destroy Texas purchasing power, and cripple Texas business. On the other hand, there are a relatively few exploiters of natural resources who have substantial sums, and who are making handsome profits. A reasonable tax on these concerns would supply the necessary funds and would do it without imposing an undue burden on the people of Texas. The people and the Legislature must ultimately choose which course they will follow. For my part, I am ready to make a decision, and I doubt if any good can be accomplished by delay.

Wishing you all a very Merry Christmas, I am

Yours very sincerely,
W. R. POAGE.

WHAT IF THIS WERE SCOTLAND?

You're wondering what we mean by this, "What if it were Scotland?" Here's the reason. In Scotland, Christmas used to be the time when people returned "borrowed" goods. And wouldn't that be a break for most of us?

Just think of the books you've borrowed, the thousand-and-one-other-things that have been loaned to you and by you. Now, with the Christmas season on us, we don't think of a better idea to adapt to our situation, so if you've borrowed start the trek homeward with the "borrowed" goods. That's just another idea for an extra grand Christmas. This is adapted from Mr. Hix's column "Strange as it Seems," and we're bringing back what we've borrowed from him.

FARM INCOME UP

Farmers' sales of principal agricultural products brought in a total return of $4,215,217,000 during the first nine months of this year. Totals for the same periods in 1934 and 1933 were $3,892,052,000 and $3,238,853,000, respectively. These totals do not include government rental and benefit payments.

All major regions, with the exception of the Southern Central and South Atlantic, shared in the improvement. Experience was especially favorable in the East North Central area, where receipts jumped 23 per cent over last year.

Much of the credit for this encouraging change in farm income is due to economic forces. But a share of the credit must go to the farmers themselves who, thru cooperative effort, laid the groundwork that enabled them to take advantage of changing times. Farm cooperatives are stronger now than they were before depression-

With Ethiopian news meager, politics took the headlines the first of the week.

The Good Old Party started it off by choosing Cleveland for its 1936 convention city over Chicago and Kansas City. Although all three cities made identical bids of $150,000, Cleveland was preferred over the other two because two of the leading G. O. P. aspirants for the nomination call these their home towns. Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas and Col. Frank Knox of Chicago lead the list of the possible nominees along with Sen. William Edgar Borah of Idaho. It was thought that, should Chicago or Kansas City be chosen, it would be indicating a preference for one of these gentlemen.

The check which Cleveland presented for $150,000 should take care of the expenses of the meet next June. The National Treasury of the G. O. P. also boasts a surplus of over $100,000 with which to start the campaign. This is in contrast to the deficit of approximately $500,000 against the treasury of the Dems.

Gov. Eugene Talmadge, fiery chief executive of Georgia, was much in evidence at the meeting of the Republican high command, although he is a Democrat. Talmadge aspires to fill the shoes of the late Huey Long as the chief baiter and opponent of the Roosevelt New Deal. His encouragement to date has been slight but last week he announced that he would be a candidate for the presidency and would enter the Georgia primaries against Roosevelt. Talmadge has not intimated whether he will bolt and form a third party if he fails to gain the Democratic nomination. He has about as much chance of winning the nomination or being elected as did Jim Ferguson in 1920.

With the death of "Kingfish" Long last September the chief threat to Roosevelt from within the Democratic party or from a third party vanished. That the Louisiana Senator really had a strong following in many Southern states it is not to be denied and, should the Republicans have offered unusually stiff resistance in the Middle West and East, might have swung the election to the G. O. P. by taking one or more Dixon from the Democratic col-states south of Masos and umn. Gov. Floyd Olson of Minnesota was the logical successor

Old Friends and New

"When the year's end draws upon us,
And we ask what life commends;
Amid all the good that throngs us,

Nothing's like the best—our friends.
"Our old friends—O, how we love them!

How we tried them—found them true.
How it cut our hearts to leave them

As their forms fade from our view,
"Then into our lives new faces

Come with faith and hope and smile;
Glad to share with us the graces,

Like to those we left awhile
"Tho they're new, it is with gladness

That we open to them our hearts,
Fully trusting that God's goodness

To new as old His life imparts.

They shall come to true enlargement,

From the friends of tomorrow's day.

BLONDELL — FARRELL ARE COMING TO REGAL IN COMEDY HIT

Joan Blondell, Glenda Farrell and Hugh Herbert have been the source of riotous laughter in a number of pictures.

Now they are together again in what is heralded as the most hilarious comedy romance of all, "We're In the Money," which will be the feature attraction at the Regal Theatre on Saturday night at 10:30, also showing Sunday and Monday.

Hugh Herbert is an absent minded attorney who specializes in breach of promise cases, and puzzles, while Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell are his two slick and chiseling process servers.

Glenda portrays an out and out gold digger, and so does

Joan, until she falls in love with a man on a park bench whom she thinks is a chauffeur but who is really a man of wealth masquerading to escape the girls, who are pursuing him to serve him with a subpoena in a breach of promise case.

How Joan, aided by her pal Glenda, pursues the man she loves, the subterfuges she resorts to to serve the papers on him, and the complications that ensue, makes a comedy of errors and double crosses that are said to be funnier than any picture in which the three comedians have starred.

Phil Regan, the former Radio Cop, sings one of his inimitable songs. For a thrill, Man Mountain Dean and Chief Little Wolf stage a fierce wrestling bout in which Man Mountain is huried from the ring into the two girls' laps and is served with a subpoena forthwith. He is so angered he almost demolishes Chief Little Wolf.

There is an unusually talented supporting cast which includes Hobart Cavanaugh, Anita Kerry, Lionel Stander, E. E. Clive and Ed Gargan.

SHOTS AT THE BASKET

Monday night the boys and girls teams from Jonesboro broke even in their games with Pearl. The Jonesboro lassies losing their game while the boys copped theirs. The junior boys also played Pearl winning in the last few second of play.

The Pearl sextet flashed a brilliant offense that was too much for their smaller opponents. Jonesboro was doing a fair job of holding their own until Miss Weaver left the game via the foul route in the first half. After her departure the Jonesboro crew was rather impotent. The entire Pearl team seemed to be at their best and had no trouble at all in finding the hoop with their varied assortment of shots.

The Eagles led by the Weaver boys and ably assisted by Young, Sellers and Roebuck, defeated the Dragons with more or less ease. In fact the Dragons were helpless until the last quarter when four of the five Jonesboro starters were fouled out of the game. The Eagles presented a good defense that bewildered the Pearl quint and a fast breaking offense that penetrated the Dragons defense time after time.

Tuesday night the Gatesville girls' second team overwhelmed the Ewing team while the Hornets beat the Ewing boys in an even more one sided contest.

The girls had no trouble with their opponents and parted the meshes almost at will with Miss Davis taking the leading role.

The Hornets used everybody but the water boy, and a game but inadequate Ewing team went down in defeat. The offensive stars for Gatesville were quite few with practically everyone scoring. Curry, Turner, Hall and McDonald, all had success with their shots. The locals defense held Ewing to a couple of field goals, one in each half, and three tosses from the foul line. The Hornets play was improved but as yet they do not look as good as Jonesboro or Turnersville, the two best teams in the county at this time.

Now for a little football. Do not forget the all-star game Xmas Day between the Ex-Hornets and Valley Mills. The game starts at 3:00 with the admission being 10c and 25c.

We would like to leave with coach Worley Dec. 28 to witness the Rose Bowl game between S. M. U. and Stanford, but as more important work keeps me here and sports writers nearly as competent as myself will cover the game, Worley will furnish all the post-game yarns on his return.

AUDIENCE SEES ONLY ONE SHIP BUT "MUTINY" CAST WORKED IN TWO

Weather is one of the few phenomena of nature that cannot be duplicated or controlled by motion picture studios.

To combat adverse weather while filming the thrilling sea sequences for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Mutiny on the Bounty," opening Saturday night at the Palace Theatre, Director Frank Lloyd successfully carried out a production program that prevented a waste of the company's time.

He built two Bountys!

The first Bounty, constructed from plans of the original ship of one hundred and fifty years ago supplied by the British Admiralty, was launched a year ago.

The second Bounty, although not seaworthy, was an exact replica of the interior of the original "Bounty." Constructed in every detail in the studio's vast construction shops, it included the captain's cabin, the cabins of the various officers and members of the crew, the surgeon's quarters, the galley and every other section of the Bounty's interior.

This second Bounty was then sliced into sizable chunks, or dismantled, every timber and bolt numbered and loaded onto two barges that hauled them to the Catalina isthmus.

Director Lloyd obtained permission from the Wrigley interests, to use the isthmus village's "town hall" for a motion picture studio, and by working night and day for three days a crew of more than fifty workmen converted the quaint building to Catalina Island's first motion picture studio.

The numbered timbers were assembled, and soon the authentic interior of H. M. S. Bounty was reproduced within the "town hall."

On those days when the sun failed to shine and it was inadvisable to loose the Bounty's canvas and sail her into the open sea, production of the picture was transferred to the "cover sets" where Clark Gable, as Fletcher Christian, Charles Laughton, as Captain Bligh, Franchot Tone, as Byam, and the forty other featured players worked in the Bounty's interior scenes.

A few of the oldtime miners are still alive.

Lima's most important industries are cotton spinning and tobacco.

The natives still use primitive means of ferrying across the Tigris.

To prevent woollens from shrinking, add two teaspoons of glycerine to the water when washing.

Camphor will take off the white rings made on tables by water glasses.

Heating a knife will help in cutting fresh bread.

Blocks of camphor in the corners and on the shelves of closets will take away the dampness.

Goville Grammar School

On Monday, Dec. 16, Mrs. Chunn had charge and conducted a very interesting program.

On Tuesday, Dec. 17, the seventh grade reading, English and history classes had charge of the program. They have been making an Indian village. Its people, houses, cooking utensils, horses, fields, etc. and the classes gave a very interesting program.

The nature Club had the study of the squirrel last week and they become so interested in it that they put some squirrel pictures upon the bulletin board, and got some of the boys of the handicraft club to make some squirrels an d other things for Christmas gifts.

Maxine Lovejoy was supposed to have been on the Honor Roll but on misreading of the grades by the teachers, her name was left off.

The Christmas Holidays

The students are all ajoy over the fact that this is the last day of school before holidays, and are all looking forward to having a lot of fun during Christmas.

The holidays, for most of us, will mean parties, visits to grandmother's house, plenty of eats, no studies, no getting up early and plenty of fun!

We won't think of the day we come back, now, but we'll probably all be late for school that morning.

The Student Council

The Student Council, with the help of Mr. Williams and other members of the faculty, is arranging a program of citizenship for the High School. The plan which has been adopted for trail, will work very well with the cooperation of the student body as a whole. It consists of a contest between the classes of the High school.

Besides this plan, which involves the whole student body, steps are being taken by each class, separately, to have monthly meetings and programs on citizenship. The members of the council will consult with the sponsor of his or her class and with the aid of the sponsor and the program committee of the class, these programs will be given at the regular meetings. These plans have been made in order to have better citizens in the school, and they will probably lessen the detention hall attendance.

Assembly

Under the leadership of Mr. Diserens, several songs were sung. The talk given by Mr. Williams was based on the first Psalm. Nathan McDonald gave a few points on the work of the student council. The Student Council has decided to have a contest between the classes. Points will be given for good deeds. Bad deeds will have points deducted from the score of the class. The plan will be put to trial for a month. As the end of this time if it is successful, it will probably last for the rest of the year. If not it will be abandoned.

The band played at its first chapel program of the year Friday, December 13.

Some of the numbers played on this occasion were, "Star," "Evening Idyle," "Marilyn Waltz," "Aunt Hannah," "Little Arab," and "The Man on the Flying Trapeze."

The band expects to play again soon.

Future Farmers of America
The Future Farmers of America made a farm tour over the county early last week. The purpose of this tour was to examine the different kinds of terraces constructed on different fields.

Mr. W. E. Lasseter, instructor of agriculture, pointed out two very excellent examples of strip cropping along the road. He explained to the pupils that strip cropping was often a much better method of conserving the soil than regular terraces.

The bus stopped at Standlee Chapel and the students examined the terraces on the farm of Mr. D. I. Glass. These terraces were constructed by the local C. C. C. Camp. Mr. Lasseter explained how the grass planted in the bottom of the terrace outlet helps to decrease the velocity of the water and to conserve the soil.

The students were then taken to the farm of Ed Schlceman where they examined several soil saving structures. Among these were several field terraces so constructed as not to lessen the regular amount of grazing and to protect the soil. There were also some cement structures put up to check the velocity of the water and to avoid the washing of gullies. Some obstructions made of brush and wire were stretched across the water channels to keep them from becoming deeper.

EL PASO TO STAGE EVENT FOR CENTENNIAL

El Paso, Dec. 16.—Brilliant festivity will feature the gay Sun Carnival, New Year's day celebration at El Paso which will open 1936 with an official Centennial year event.

The Sun Carnival will carry Centennial year interest to the far southwestern corner of Texas, being planned to depict in parade and pageant the sections thrilling history which is recorded back to the days of the cliff dwellers. Fifteen cities of West Texas, Southern New Mexico, and Southwestern Arizona will join El Paso in the carnival.

World Comment—

of Long as leader of a possible third party movement but the Minnesota executive has announced for the U. S. Senatorship, now held by blind Senator Schall.

Word comes from Oklahoma that that state will witness a hot race for the senate post now held by another blind senator, Thomas P. Gore. Gore, anti-New Dealer, will run for re-election and will have as opponents two of the best speakers in the land, former governor William H. ("Alfalfa Bill") Murray and Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, founder of the NRA. This race will certainly eclipse the race for the senate now expected in our state.

December 15 France defaulted on a debt installment due Uncle Sam totaling $50 million. December 16 the Chamber of Deputies voted 289 million for the army and 24 million for the navy. This is included in the regular budget but does not include extraordinary appropriations for armaments totaling 396 million voted last week.

The French feel that every franc must be put into strengthening the defense forces of the nation because of the menace of Nazi Germany, rearming in feverish haste. The French army is the best in Europe and the air force tops. The French navy is in many respects superior to Britain's and could successfully cope with the German and Italian water forces acting as a combined unit. Last year a 35,000 ton battleship—the Dunkerque—largest afloat, was launched and in 1936 a sister ship, the strasbourg, will follow. Within two years the Republique will have 120 "of the largest, finest and fastest submarines afloat," according to the Minister of Marine.

But who's going to pay for this much-talked-of "next war." Uncle Sam's fingers were burnt to the extent of 22 billions last time, but next time it will take quite a bit of maneuvering on the part of European statesmen to get the North American Santa Claus to pay for the conflict.

Jack Hestilow: "What is a budget?"

Erle: "My, you'll be hungry by morning."

Miss Worthy: "What do you understand by the word, deficit, Edwin?"

Edwin McDonald: "It's what you've got when you haven't got as much as you had when you had nutting."

Frances McCoy: "What is your charge for extracting a tooth?"

Dentist: "Five dollars."

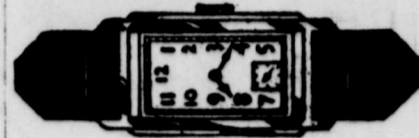

Frances: "My goodness! Five dollars for three seconds work!"

Dentist: "I can extract it any slowly if you wish."

MARION DAVIES IN "PAGE MISS GLORY" COMING TO THE REGAL

Charming Marion Davies, America's outstanding motion picture star, will appear at the Regal Theatre on Xmas Eve and Christmas night in "Page Miss Glory."

Supporting Miss Davies is a remarkable all star cast of famous "name players" including Dick Powell, Pat O'Brien, Mary Astor, Frank Hugh, Lyle Talbot, Patsy Kelly, Marton MacLane, Allen Jenkins, Hobart Cavanaugh and a score of others.

"Page Miss Glory" was a big hit on the Broadway stage.

Mervyn LeRoy, fresh from his triumph with "Oil for the Lamps of China," directed the film version.

A new song, also bearing the title "Page Miss Glory," written by Hollywood's leading team of hit writers, is sung as a duet by Miss Davies and Dick Powell.

The story of "Page Miss Glory" is as funny as it is unique. Miss Davies, in the role of a country girl, neither pretty nor bright, gets a job as chambermaid in a swanky New York hotel in which reside a promoter, portrayed by Pat O'Brien, who has nothing to promote, and Frank McHugh a jobless newspaper photographer.

McHugh, learning that an advertiser is offering a big cash reward for a photograph of America's prettiest girl, makes a composite picture, blending the features of famous stage and society beauties and submits it under the name of "Dawn Glory."

He wins the prize and trouble starts. A "Dawn Glory" craze sweeps the country and even Miss Davies falls for it with startling results. Properly attired and "made-up," she becomes the reincarnation of Dawn Glory, but all she wants to be is the sweetheart of Dick Powell.

The action is fast and furious.

Miss Davies, one of the screen's most beautiful women, wears some gorgeous gowns especially designed for her.

"Page Miss Glory" is said to be the greatest of Miss Davies' score of film hits.
