DIST. COURT FOR JULY GETS UNDERWAY MON.

Politics! Shofner Starts Headed By Head; Finished by Fischer

Voters of Coryell County, in town on the occasion of First Monday, and in large numbers, were treated to an unusual political dish with three candidates furnishing the feast.

Starting with W. A. (Son) Shofner, candidate for State Senator from this district, whose home is in Temple, the "rally" went off in a rapid fire manner, with plenty of laughs and good sound reasoning on a number of "jabs and punches" at their opponents.

J. Manley Head of Stephenville, another convincing speaker and candidate for that popular State Senator's position, also held a crowd by his eloquence, quips, and straightforwardness.

Finishing in grand style, for F. W. Fischer, candidate for governor from Tyler, was Ronald Smallwood of the same city who told the "ho wand why" of the old age pension act, its abuses, failures, and how to remedy it. Mr. Fischer who was scheduled to speak could not be here. Mr. Smallwood stated on account of rainy weather and storm disrupting his speaking itinerary.

TEN MEN DIDN'T HAVE TO BUY DINNERS LAST NIGHT LIGHT CO. GAVE PRIZES

Numbered registration cards were drawn, and the luck winners were the Mesdames George Painter, Frank Mayhew, Tom Chapman, Homer Clemons, Luther Scott, Jack Steele, Cyril Hudson, Leon Jenson, Emmett Stewart, and Miss Catherine Everetts.

Miss Dallas Plauche of Dallas, demonstrator for the company, demonstrated the various uses and labor-saving utility of the cookers.

NO DEUTSCHE TODAY, DUE TO LACK OF COPY; BE OUT FRIDAY

Our usual German page is missing today. For the main reason, too much Centennial. Another, equally important, is the fact that we had very little copy.

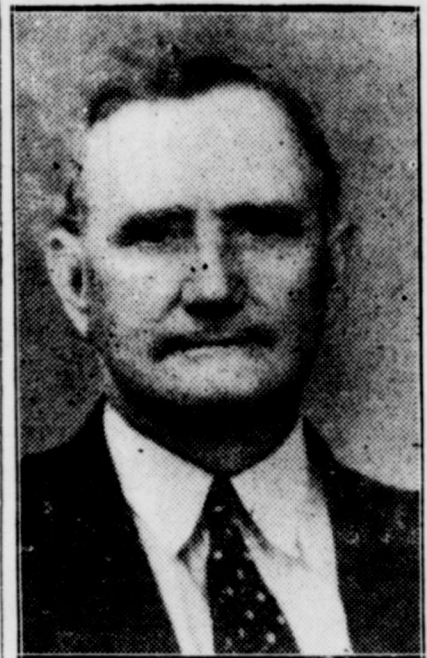

Regardless, of these facts, get your German-American dictionary out for Friday, because you'll have something to do if you're interested in the

OUR POLITICAL CALENDAR SAYS ABSENTEE VOTING STARTED MONDAY

The first blood was drawn Monday in the 1936 Democratic Primary election as the first absentee voters voted in the office of County Clerk Charlie Mounce, beginning another event in the political calendar of 1936.

Quite a few voters took advantage of the opening Monday and have left their verdict already. All others who are going to be out of town on that fateful July 25, should hie themselves to the County Clerk's office and start scratching as they will.

FIRST YEAR'S WORK OF RESETTLEMENT BRINGS MORE LIVESTOCK

An increase in the amount of live-stock owned by lof-income farmers is one result of the first year's work of the Resettlement Admisitration, which ended with the month of June. Official summaries received by H. E. Wellborn, county supervisor, covering the period to May 1, show that Resettlement borrowers in Coryell County purchased 70 horses and 35 mules, 24 dairy cattle, 139 hogs, and 1,114 chickens.

These livestock purchases accounted for $11,643 of the $44,461 loaned in this county. The loans were made to 158 families, of which 149 were white. They included 741 persons. The average loan was $281 per family. Loans for machinery totalled $1,508, harness, $258, food $11,387, clothing $4,585, feed for livestock $1,666, seed $3,442.

Loans bear 5 per cent interest, and are repayable in one to five years, depending upon the kind of goods purchased. Twenty-five per cent of similar loans made by the Texas rural rehabilitation corporation in 1935 have already been repaid, although loans were made only to those farmers who had been denied credit by all other agencies.

Pleas M. Post in His Candidacy for Dist. Clerk Makes Statement

To the People of Coryell County: I trust you will consider this little message as a personal interview with you for your vote and support for the office I now hold, that of District Clerk.

Owing to a very severe illness right after the last term of court, and when I recovered, Doctors told me that I would have to remain very quiet for some time if I expected to regain my strength and health, and I have taken their advice.

I have been no place except to the office and to my home and I am happy to say that I now feel just as well as ever. I have done my best to fill the office as it should be and with credit, and if I have not done so the fault is in the head and not in the heart, for at heart I want to do right, and if ever I needed a place to make a living I need it now worse than Having reached the years of middle life, and I hope having, during that journey, gained some knowledge and wisdom, I have tried to impart the same to the young people with whom I have to come in contact, especially those who have been brought before the court.

I do not say it boastingly, but proudly that I think I have helped many to a better life, and as evidence I quote a few words from letters I have received: A lady now married and living in a city says: "Who do you have working for you now? Mr. Post, I believe you have helped more girls get a

With Judge R. B. Cross presiding, the second or July term of District Court opens here Monday, July 13.

District Clerk Pleas M. Post stated the docket had not been prepared and was unable to give out any information as to the first case to come up for consideration.

However, the Grand Jury has been summoned and the Petit Jury in part, and work will begin for these bodies on the date mentioned above.

The Grand Jury for this term of court will include F. A. Morris, Jr., Jeff Ritchie, J. M. Manning, Leslie Thompson, Levi Aldrich, Feno Straw, Charlie Barkley, Henry Hudson, B. W. West E. P. Berry, J. H. Brown, Geo. I. Johnson, Frank Blair, Chas Maynard, J. B. Foster and H. V. Bomer.

start than any other man in Gatesville. I know you certainly did give me some good advice."

One from a young man: "The letter you wrote me to Mr. last summer was worth about $250.00 to me. However, I did not know it at the time, but I certainly do now."

From a married lady who said: "The letter you wrote for my husband and self was worth untold money to us."

And I could tell you of others, but do not want you to be burdened or think that I am proud that I have been able to help some few. And I think you had ought to support me for the reason that by staying at home and at the office I have not wanted and annoyed you with lectioneering.

Pleas M. Post.

WORLD COMMENT

By JOE BURNS

Decision of New York's Governor Herbert H. Lehman to run for a third term and a reversal of the attitude of potent Tammany Hall in favor of the New Deal has swung the balance in favor of the Democrats carrying the Empire State and its forty-seven electoral votes in November.

Lehman, following his announcement of several weeks back that he would not run for re-election, finally submitted to a draft movement instituted by National Democratic leaders which included a huge "draft Lehman" movement at the Democratic National Convention and announced that he could no longer resist the pleas of his party.

In spite of predictions by National Chairman James A. Farley that Roosevelt will carry more states this year than he did in 1932, the Administration wanted Lehman on the ticket in order to strengthen the national ticket in pivotal New York State. This announcement of his retirement brought statements from G. O. P. leaders that Roosevelt could not possibly carry New York and even now they refuse to concede the State to the Democrats.

Tammany Hall rang with praises of the New Deal and the Roosevelt Administration last week as the wigwam celebrated its 150th anniversary. Three of the principal speakers were Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, Senator Robert F. Wagner, and Senator Royal S. Copeland. The former two are ardent New Deal supporters, Cummings being a member of the Cabinet and Wagner having written the 1936 Democratic platform. Copeland, columnist for the Hearst papers and a doctor, recently took a "walk" from the Democratic ranks when he refused to attend the Philadelphia Convention in spite of the fact that he had been elected a delegate.

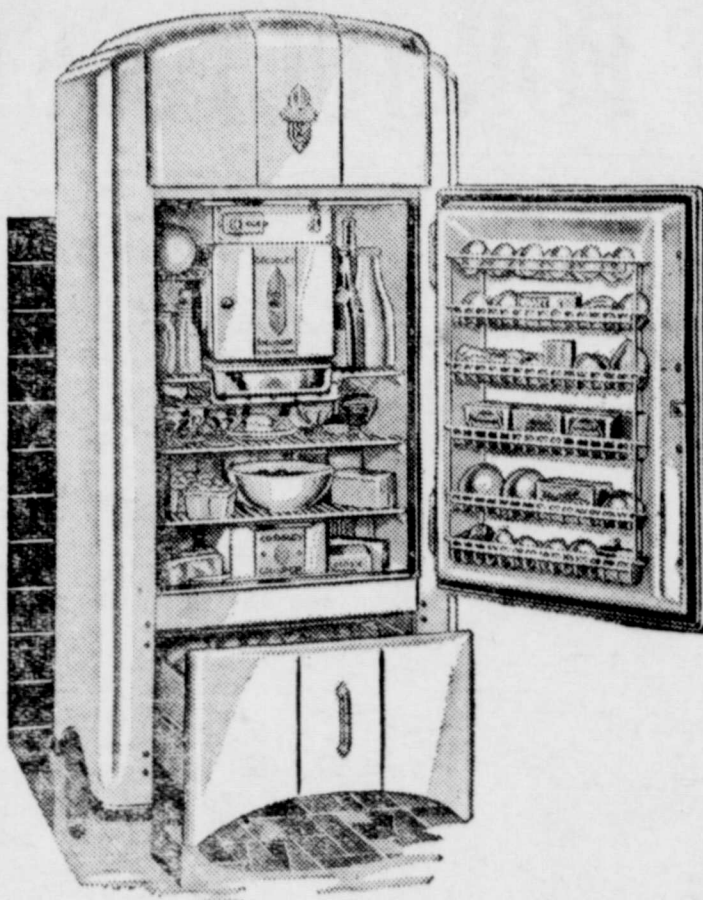

Conspicuously absent from the Tammany meeting was former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, one of the thirteenth sagem of the society of Tammany and the wigwam's choice for the presidential nomination in 1932.

With Lehman on the ticket and Tammany Hall in the ranks, the Republicans face an uphill fight to carry the nation's most populous state and its all-important electoral vote. Lehman is probably the best votegetter ever to run for office in New York State. In 1932, in the face of indisputable Roosevelt popularity in his home State, Lehman ran 125,000 votes ahead of the national ticket in the Empire State. In 1934 his majority over his Republican opponent was nearly 900,000—the largest ever accorded a can-andidate in that State.

Tammany Hall, while not controlling the Mayors, is still an important influence in New York City and most political experts predict it will elect the next mayor, replacing the fusion incumbent, Fiorello H. La Guardia. Its importance as a factor in the way the metropolis goes in national affairs has often been demonstrated and to the Democrats the reconciliation of Tammany and Roosevelt is of inestimable advantage.

Georgia's fiery Governor, Eugene Talmadge, has done the expected in announcing against Richard B. Russell and entering his own slate of candidates for state officers.

Although the re-suspender chief executive has not made his peace with the National Administration, he has told Georgia Democrats that he will support the National ticket—meaning Roosevelt and Garner. Heretofore Talmadge has been one of the severest critics of the New Deal and possibly only the ire of the Georgia Democrats has stopped his attacks on Roosevelt.

Senator Russell has served in the Senate since 1932, when he was elected to a four-year unexpired term. Talmadge, at that time State Secretary of Agriculture, was elected to the governorship unopposed in the same year. Although Russell is little known outside his home state, due to his brief tenure of office, he is expected to receive the endorsement of the National Administration and of the National Committee, which in spite of the peaceful overtures of Talmadge, do not want him in the United States Senate. They still remember the late Huey Long as a member of that august body.

Talmadge seeks to emulate Long by entering the Senate and at the same time retaining control of the State government. He is supporting Charles D.

Redwine, president of the Georgia Senate, for governor. Redwine has promised to carry out the Talmadge policies.

Three other candidates for governor—all anti-Talmadge—are in the race. Washington will watch the results of the results of the Georgia primary with interest.

Oklahomans are enjoying one of the hottest races for the United States Senate ever witnessed in that commonwealth. Blind Senator Thomas P. Gore, veteran of nineteen years in the Senate, has drawn seven opponents and is having a hard fight to enter the second primary.

Chief opponents of the only blind Senator are Governor E. W. Marland, ardent New Dealer serving in the second year of his four-year term as the State's chief executive; Representative Josh Lee of Norman, also a New Dealer, and Gomer Smith, Oklahoma City lawyer and National Townsend Plan vice-president.

The Townsend issue is being projected more realistically in the Oklahoma race than in the senatorial race in this State, where two advocates of the Townsend plan are campaigning against Senator Morris Sheppard. The Texas candidates are conceded little chance of defeating Sheppard, but thousands of Townsendites are flocking to the standard of Gomer Smith in Oklahoma and Smith and Marland are threatening to squeeze Gore out of the race and enter the run-off together.

"Where Flour is Proved"

BISCUITS

Corn Bread Sticks

Two cups corn meal, 2 cups buttermilk, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 egg well beaten, 1/2 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar.

Sift meal, flour and salt together twice. Dissolve soda and baking powder in milk, add beaten egg immediately and mix with a spoon. Then add meal mixture and beat all together. Pour into well greased and sizzling hot irons, filling each 3/4 full and bake in hot oven. Enough grease should be put into the irons to seep over the top of the dough mixture when poured into the irons.

Corn Pone Bread

Three cups corn meal, 2 teaspoons salt, enough almost boiling water to make a mush.

Measure and sift meal and salt into a bowl. Pour over this enough water that is almost hot enough to boil, to make a stiff mush, cutting the water in with a large stiff spoon. Let stand until cool. Pour 1-3 cup of bacon drippings in a heavy pan or iron skillet. Heat sizzling hot. Grease your hand and make into oblong pones and lay into the hot pan. Brush top of the pones with sweet milk and bake in hot oven 450 degrees F.

Lets Talk about Clothes

TEXAS STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN (CIA)

Denton, July 6.—Some of the fascinating party frocks fashioned for starlit summer nights are of flowered chiffon. Typically party clothes, they are designed with clinging full skirts tight bodices, ruffles, plaits, and trimmings of velvet. Clear white backgrounds are splashed with field flowers, roses, or cornflowers, and delightful deep blue backgrounds with prints of crisp white daisies or quaint floral wreaths. This summer your party look will be romantic, decorative, and the stuff you have dreamed about for years. Long coats of the same flowered chiffon are as new as anything to be found. Coats well full, almost floor length skirts, short softly puffed sleeves, and tight bodice tops are a special delight to girls at Texas State College for Women.

Cotton challis prints, copied in the soft mellowed peasant designs against dainty ivory white or pastel tinted backgrounds show small crimson rambler roses and bright green leaves for contrast. These clever cotton challis frocks are fashioned with full swirling skirts, a rib hugging bodice top, and a lovely old fashioned perky peplum to the fitted long or short sleeved separate jacket.

Exotic prints are effective against cool linen, with the full wide picturesque skirts, and tight bodice tops. Black and navy blue backgrounds have

LIMERICK CONTEST

Beginning Friday

Complete Details in Friday's Coryell County News. Watch for them.

Doc's and the Firemen Battle for Soft Ball Title

Tomorrow night Doc's Sandwich Shop team and the Firemen will battle for the first half softball crown. If both teams won their game of last night then the winner of Wednesday's game will emerge the first half winner. If either team lost last night then that team will have to win tomorrow night to get a tie. In case both teams lost last night the situation will be the same as if they both had won. The two teams are now tied for the top. A large crowd is expected to witness these two rivals in action.

LOCALS WIN AND LOSE WEEK END SOFTBALL GAMES

Friday night a group of local all-stars won a rip-roaring high scoring game from McGregor by a score of 18-12 while Saturday another team journeyed to Turnersville where they were humbled 7-6. In the Turnersville game folks who know the culinary arts of the housewives of that community aver that the local athletics ate too much fried chicken and pie to play softball. The game at McGregor saw lots of hard hitting and even more errors with the miscues accounting for about two-thirds of the runs.

CANDIDATE RALLY AT FLAT WEDNESDAY NIGHT, JULY 15

All candidates are invited to be present at a political rally at Flat on Wednesday night, July 15. Every candidate present will be given an opportunity to talk to the audience.

One hundred and seventy students, an increase of 75 per cent over last summer, are candidates for bachelor degrees from Texas State College for Women at the end of the summer session. In addition, it is expected that approximately 30 masters degrees will be awarded at the same time.

Tomorrow night (Wednesday) Doc's and the Firemen tangle in what will prove to be the deciding game of the first half softball race. That is if both teams won last night, and the chances are they did.

This game will be the only game of the night and because of its importance a goodly crowd should be on hand. In case the games of Thursday are played the Merchants will play the Reds in the first game, and the Whites and Rutherford's will tangle in the second game.

The second half get underway a week after the first half comes to a close.

Thursday night the Firemen pulled a game out of the fire to win over the Reds and pull up to a tie with Doc's for the league lead. These two teams have been keen rivals all year and you might say for three years for most of the members of Doc's were members of the winning Baptist team of two years ago and fans will remember that this team and the Firemen had nothing in common.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

The Report Card

A prominent educator calls the report card "the scourge of childhood"

Without doubt he hit the truth. My only wish is that he had made it stronger.

After all, what purpose should the report card serve? Briefly it should inform parents of child development so that home and school may cooperate in doing a better job. It should indicate to the pupil his own progress and the points where improvement is needed. In short, it should be a measure of achievement, as well as a diagnostic chart of weaknesses in need of attention.

A list of final grades does not satisfy this purpose. It tells nothing of real use to anyone, and too often it is misleading. It does not take individual likes and dislikes into account, and certainly human beings are not alike. Talents vary and it is talents we are striving to bring out and develop.

Parents and teachers, may we this year look to our boys and girls as human beings in need of guidance, encouragement, and happiness?

For this let's look into our hearts and then into theirs, rather than at a row of figures or letter on a card.

Your copy of the "History of Coryell County" is now ready. Call at this office. It makes a book of more than 100 pages and is neatly bound in a heavy flexible embossed cover, 50c.
