Sheppard, Poage, Allred Win in State; Alvis Mounce and Zeigler Take Lead in County

Run-Off Here Includes Senator Rep., Dist. Clerk, Treas., Com.

FLENTGE - ALLEN CONTEST SHOWS FORMER WINNER BY SMALL MARGIN

The "long count" has been given by Mr. and Mrs. Voter! Probably the closest race here is that of Bill Allen, present District Attorney, and Harry Flentge, the margin for the three counties composing the district being only twelve big votes in Flentge's favor.

Allred, Poage, Morris Sheppard, George Sheppard, Lockhart, Woods, McDonald, Zeigler, Mounce, Alvis, were the lucky ones, taking a clean sweep in the field and eliminating their opponents the first round. Poage carried every county in the district, the last coming in being Bosque.

E. O. Thompson failed to muster the necessary majority and has either Morris or Hardin to contend with since the returns are not complete according to Monday evening's paper, and the last two candidates named are still battling for No. 2 position. Morris's count was 135,180; Hardin 134,770; and Thompson, the leader has 378,834, but not a majority.

The latest count gives the following:

Governor: Allred 455,781 out of a total 877,746, a majority of 33,816. Hunter 201,272; Fischer 122,077. Sandorford 69,977. Brooks 28,619. 114 out of 254 counties in the state being complete, with only straggling votes to be counted.

Senator: Bush 30,015. Eagle 111,140. Fisher 70,487. Glenn 23,227. Pierce 33,300. Sheppard 478,523.

Treasurer: Adair 102,480. Hopkins 161,142. Lockhart 465,042.

Congress: Poage 23,958; Tiry 15,593. Sherman 3,237.

State Senator: Shofner 9,706. Head 11,440. Tweedy 5,466.

Representative: Huddleston, 2,696. Medlin 524. Livingston 1702. Miller 1679.

LOCAL PEOPLE INJURED IN ACCIDENT IN WACO

Red Chamlee of Gatesville was badly injured in a car accident in which four cars were involved on the south end of the highway 67 overpass Sunday evening at 8:45. Mrs. C. S. Iden, in another car was seriously injured. Others from Gatesville with Chamlee who figured in the accident were Misses Nell Cook of Gatesville, Zonell Swindall of Ames, Norma D. Pollack of Jonesboro and Myrtle Poe of McGregor, who suffered bruises and cuts.

Mr. Iden, who was driving the car in which Mrs. Iden was injured, was cut and scratched. Mrs. Iden suffered a broken left arm and left leg, head and chest injuries, a broken collar bone, and a cut on the forehead. She was reported as not resting well Monday.

Red Chamlee was reported last night as being more seriously injured than at first reported, receiving several broken ribs and other injuries including a deep gash on the hip. The cars were practically total wrecks.

Johnson Case Gets Change of Venue By Attorney Agreement

CARL McLENDON THANKS VOTERS AND ASKS FOR HELP IN AUG. PRIMARY

I take this method of expressing to the voters and citizens of Coryell County. When I met and campaigned with during my race for District Clerk, my appreciation of the courtesies in general which they extended me. I also want to commend my opponents in the race for the gentlemanly manner in which our race was run without mudslinging. Above all, however, I am and always will be ever grateful and thankful to those who voted for me, giving me about 2000 votes, and a splendid lead for the runoff. I am especially proud of the vote that I received among those where I have lived most of my life. Until about 9 years ago I lived at Turnersville, and in that box I received 116 votes to 50 votes cast for Mrs. Ethel Johnson's case received a change of venue to Austin yesterday after agreement was made by attorneys for the State and defense.

Mrs. Johnson stands charged with the murder of Mrs. Bernice Blankenship and her husband, Joe Dean Blankenship, in Coryell County in 1934.

The Johnson case has created state-wide interest, due to the fact that the defense include Maury Hughes, a former candidate for governor, and Dallas attorney besides Tom Mears and Harry Flentge of Gatesville. Mrs. Johnson's husband is a radio technician in Dallas and Fort Worth.

both of my opponents; and in the Gatesville wards, where I as well as both of my opponents now live, I received 631; that is to say, I carried the boxes over my opponents where I have lived which makes me

Gov. James V. Allred broke all precedent in Texas and executed a modern political miracle in winning renomination in the first primary over five opponents. Crushing and unequivocally did the electorate of Texas endorse the administration of the former Bowie bootblack who, at latest returns, had 51.84 per cent of the total vote and a majority of 28,500 over the field.

Latest available returns give Allred 403,006; Hunter 176,819; Fischer 109,933; Sanderford, 62,065; Brooks 25,601. County returns show Allred carried 244 out of the 254 counties. Hunter was ahead in five counties, Fischer in four, and Allred and Hunter tied in Floyd county.

Wichita county, which gave Hunter a majority in both primaries of 1934, voted 2 to 1 for Allred. Harris, Bexar, Dallas, Tarrant, Jefferson, McLennan and Travis counties—the State's largest—gave Allred majorities or put him ahead of the other contestants.

Hunter went down to defeat in all his former strongholds and the 200,000 or so voters who regularly voted for the Ferguson candidate bolted to the Governor. East Texas, where Sanderford, the Ferguson candidate, was expected to run strongest and where Judge F. W. Fischer of Tyler counted on his main support went overwhelmingly for Allred. Sanderford lost his home county to Allred and Fischer was only 700 votes ahead of the Governor in his home county with over 5000 tallied.

With returns from 240 counties in and 82 complete, Hunter had little chance of passing the 200,000 mark and Sanderford was far below the 207,000 mark set by C. C. McDonald, the Ferguson candidate, in 1934.

Senator Morris Sheppard, running for his fifth consecutive term, won the most overwhelming victory of any candidate. At this writing Sheppard has 437,000 votes or 347,636 more than his nearest opponent, Joe H. Eagle of Houston, who had 90,030. Eagle failed to run as well as Joe Bailey did against Senator Connally two years ago. Bailey lost to Connally by about 200,000 votes—355,000 to 576,000. Guy B. Fisher, the anti-New Deal candidate against Sheppard, was third with 65,825. Joseph H. Price had 31,301, Richard C. Bush 27,787, and J. Edward Glenn 22,189.

In the race for Railroad Commissioner, chairman of the commission, led with 317,963 at this writing but his run-off contender was uncertain. Only 1,130 votes separated Attorney Frank S. Morris of Dallas and former Senator Carl C. Hardin of Stephenville for second place. Morris had 119,417 and Hardin 118,287. The two Houston candidates, H. O. Johnson and Goodson H. Rieger, had 79,513 and 23,819, respectively. Thompson lacked over 20,000 votes of having a majority over all four opponents.

George B. Terrell and J. E. McDonald are destined as run-off contenders for the place of Agricultural Commissioner. Terrell led Commissioner McDonald by 25,000 votes. He had 249,325 to McDonald's 224,580. Cliff Day of Plainview was third with 96,179 and Kal Segrist of Hico last with 81,590.

Comptroller George H. Sheppard won handily over his two opponents, Walter W. Covington of Austin and Sam Houston Terrell of Waco, for a fourth term. Sheppard had 419,899; Terrell 137,630; Covington 72,996.

of Eastland won over Major John W. Hawkins of Austin for Land Commissioner. McDonald and Hawkins were candidates to succeed the veteran James H. Walker, who voluntarily retired. McDonald received 367,332 and Hawkins 279,434.

The heated fight between L. A. Woods and Pat Bullock for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction culminated in a complete victory for Woods, seeking a third term. Woods had 409,346 and Bullock 265,118 in Monday's compilation of the Texas election Bureau.

Charley Lockhart, State Treasurer, was renominated with ease, winning over Garland Adair of Austin and Harry Hopkins of Fort Worth. Lockhart had 416,446, Adair 93,689, and Hopkins 145,770.

Coryell County went with the State with the exception of the Railroad Commissioner and Superintendent of Public Instruction races. Carl Hardin won the county over Thompson and Pat Bullock beat L. A. Woods. Allred for Governor, Sheppard for Senator, Sheppard for Comptroller, and McDonald for Land Commissioner, carried the county and Terrell and McDonald led for Agricultural Commissioner. Coryell, traditionally strong Ferguson territory until 1934 when Allred led in both primaries, dethroned the Ferguson candidate to give Allred a thumping majority over all opponents. WORLD COMMENT

By JOE BURNS

The Rightist revolt in Spain goes into its second week with the rebels unsubdued and still in control of Spanish Morocco and several of the mainland provinces. Foreigners in Madrid and other key cities are in danger as fighting rages throughout throughout the peninsula and the safety of 160 Americans besieged in the Embassy in Madrid is in doubt. British, French, American and Italian vessels have been rescuing foreign subjects from the coastal towns but communication with the interior of the country has been impossible for a week.

The nations of Europe are closely watching the fighting in Spain, as the outcome may swing the balance in favor of one of the two extremes of Fascism and Communism on that continent. France, with a Leftist government of Communists and Socialists, is sorely in need of the prestige which it would accrue through a government victory while the Fascist states of Germany and Italy want to see a rebel triumph.

Led by Gen. Emilio Mola and Gen. Francisco Franco, the rebels are admittedly Fascists and expect to set up a Fascist dictatorship on the German and Italian models if victorious.

The revolt was set off by the brutal murder of the leader of the Spanish monarchists, Jose Sotelo, Minister of Finance when the late Primo De Riviera was Fascist Dictator of Spain. Sotelo was assassinated by members of the Leftist Government of President Manuel Azana. He was to have been head of the new Fascist State which the rebels expected to establish.

inite stand on national issues when he made his speech of acceptance at the notification ceremonies in Topeka last week. Refusal of the Republican nominee since his nomination to expound on the G. O. P. platform and give his interpretation of the problems confronting the American people irked many leaders of his party and necessarily postponed Republican thrusts at Roosevelt and the launching of the attack against the New Deal.

The 20,000,000 dependent on the government for sustenance were assured by Landon of a continuation of relief when he said: "Let me emphasize that while we propose to follow a policy of economy in Government expenditure, those who need relief will get it. The question is not as stated by the administration—how much money the American people are willing to stand for in the administration of relief."

Landon declared that the AAA was disorganized agriculture before it was invalidated, and he criticized the administration for "gambling with the needed food and feed supplies of the country." Explaining his own agricultural program, he said:

"We shall establish effective soil conservation and erosion control policies in connection with a national land use and flood - prevention program—and keep it out of politics. Our farmers are entitled to all of the home market they can supply without injustice to the consumer."

With American Federation of Labor's William Green and the United Workers' John L. Lewis backing President Roosevelt, Landon struck out at unionization of industrial workers. "The right of labor to organize," he said, "means to me the right of employees to join any type of union they prefer, whether it covers their plant, their craft or their industry. It means that, in the absence of a union contract, an employee has an equal right to join a union to refuse to join a union."

With the national election only three months hence, the campaign may proceed in full pace now that a declaration of policy has been forthcoming from both candidates and the party lines are drawn.

Landon, at Topeka, laid special emphasis upon the administration's relief policy and failure to reduce the unemployment rolls. While deprecating the huge outlays for relief in the last four years, the Republican nominee promised a continuation of relief for the needy but proposed no policy that would reduce the relief rolls and cut the cost of relief. Until such a policy is formulated and announced, the Democrats may with effect say, "Why change horses in the middle of the stream?"

The majority of the American people would eagerly approve a reduction in the gigantic expenditures of the last few years but what is Landon's formulae for effecting this reduction?

SOCIETY

Mrs. J. E. McClellan Entertains Club.

Mrs. J. E. McClellan was hostess to members of the Thursday Contract Club on Thursday afternoon at her home on Bridge Street.

Bouquets of zinnias and roses were used for decorating the party rooms.

Mrs. W. H. Satterfield and Mrs. I. F. Johnson Jr. were recipients of high and second high score prizes respectively and a guest prize was awarded Miss Dorothy Daley.

A sandwich plate was served the following: Mesdames J. A. Hallman, L. H. Holmes, I. F. Johnson Jr., Byron Leaird Jr., Laura Rayford, Chess Sadler, W. H. Satterfield, Horace Jackson, Francis Caruth, T. R. Mears, Fred Prewitt, L. K. Thomson, Jr., M. E. Worrell, Doyle Badlridge of Temple, A. L. Chollar, and Miss Dorothy Daley of Washington, D. C.

Pre-Nuptial Courtesy Given Miss Gilder.

Miss Margaret Gilder, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. G. Gilder and bride-elect of Billy Nesbitt of this city, was named honoree Thursday evening when Miss Beverly Chamlee and Mrs. L. K. Thompson entertained with a buffet dinner and personal shower at the latter's home 1416 East Leon St.

Bouquets of roses and zinnias were attractively arranged throughout the home and the guests were seated at smaller tables which were laid with white linen cloths and centered with miniature tiered wedding cakes, topped with a small bride and groom. The serving table was laid with a lovely lace cloth centered with a bouquet of red roses.

Following a two course dinner the gifts were brought in on a tea cart and presented to the honoree.

Those bidden to enjoy the affair were: Misses Ruth Raby Franks, Jacquelyn West, Joyce Baker, Marjorie Wollard, Ray Virginia Rayford, Polly Sadler, Eunice Mason of Birmingham, Ala., Dorothy Daley of Washington, D. C., Mesdames O. G. Gilder, Earl Nesbitt, Dessie Anderson, Doyal Baldrige of Temple, John T. Post, Floyd Ziegler, Bill Thomson, Jim McClellan, Lewis Holmes, O. N. Hix, Horace Jackson, Marion Burleson, Eugene Alvis, Peyton Morgan, Ermon Chamlee, Jim Brown and the honoree.

Miss Gilder Extended Courtesy Friday.

Miss Orpa Mayo, Mrs. P. D. Holt and Mrs. J. M. Prewitt complimented Miss Margaret Gilder, bride-elect of Billy Nesbitt of this city, at a miscellaneous shower Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Mayo, 1010 East Leon street.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Byron Leaird Jr., and just within the reception room the receiving line was formed, which included Miss Orpa Mayo, Mrs. P. D. Holt, Mrs. J. M. Prewitt, Miss Margaret Gilder, Mrs. O. G. Gilder, Mrs. Earl Nesbitt, Mrs. Horace Jackson, Mrs. O. N. Hix, and Miss Eunice Mason of Birmingham, Alabama.

A profusion of varicolored summer flowers and ferns at the house helped make the affair more inviting.

When the guests were seated, Misses Margaret Ann Morton and Hallie Jo Jackson gave each guest a card and pencil on which they were bidden to write a favorite recipe or a household hint for the bride-to-be.

During the afternoon delightful music was rendered, on the violin by Miss Jacquelyn West, vocal solo by Mrs. Byron Leaird Jr., both accompanied on the piano by Miss Mamie Sue Halbrook, who gave several selections as the guests passed into the dining room, where they were greeted by Mrs. John Powell and Mrs. Fred Prewitt.

The refreshment table where Miss Elaine Cross and Mrs. Marion Burleson poured punch, was laid with a lace cloth centered with summer garden flowers and appointed with silver. Assisting in the serving were Misses Beverly Chamlee, Ruth Rayford and Beulah Gamblin.

The party reached its acme when Janet Sadler and Hallie Jo Jackson opened the previously shaded French doors leading into one of the living rooms and the charming bride-to-be was escorted thence by little Misses Cynthia Sadler and Gene Hix masquerading as cupids.

As the honoree entered the room Mrs. C. A. Morton, accompanied by Miss Mamie Sue Halbrook, sang "The Little Grey Home in the West". Little Misses Sammy Beth Williams and Martha Ann Hallman, standing on each side of a miniature house held a placard reading, "The House of Nesbitt". Trees of crepe myrtle, locust and elm stood on the smooth green lawn on which grew lovely beds of verbenias, marigolds and rose bushes making the whole setting seem like an enchanted Fairy Land. Marching up the side-walk was a miniature bride and groom. Surrounding the place were many beautiful and useful gifts which came as a complete surprise to Miss Gilder.

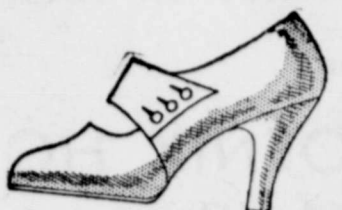

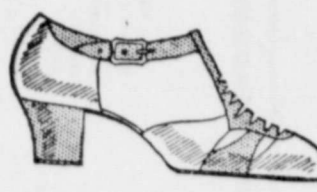

All members of the house party wore dresses of pastel shades.

Approximately eighty - five guests were present at this occasion.

Baseball at Waco Tourney
Is of the Best

Fans who have the idea that the type of base ball played in the state semi-pro tournament now being held in Waco is of the average sand lot variety are very sadly mistaken. We saw the game Sunday afternoon between the Magnolia Beer team of Waco and the Barber's Hill Gushers and enjoyed a better game than was our lot in most of the Texas League games we witnessed while Waco was a member of that organization. The boys play harder, even though they do not play smoothly, as do the boys playing for a living, and any game played for the sport of the game itself is more interesting than the same played on a commercialized basis.

We understand that the game played just prior to the one mentioned was just as thrilling, if not more so than the one we witnessed. The talk heard about the ball park was to the effect that every game so far has been nearly as well played as was these two and that fans are losing out by staying away.

LOCAL SOFTBALL TEAM IS AWAITING WORD FROM TAYLOR

Whether a local softball team will enter the district meet in connection with the state tournament depends on word from Taylor, the site of the district tournament.

We have a letter from officials at Taylor informing us that literature concerning the tournament will be sent as soon as possible. About the only chance a team this far from the site of battle will have in making a trip, with most of the players working, will be to have a sectional tournament within the district with only a few teams entering the finals at Taylor so as to complete play in one day and night, or arrange for several places to play at the same time to gain the same results. Complete information will be published as soon as word is received from Taylor.

Soft ball

Thursday night Doc's went into the League lead by pounding out a 13-0 victory over the Firemen. The minners had blood in their eyes as they still remembered the two beatings administered them by the losers week before last. The Firemen were minus some of their regulars but their presence would have helped but very little as the sandwich crew, finding Dr Ray off form, maltreated his offerings severely, pounding out 19 hits which coupled with numerous errors, allowed them to coast in with the victory. Dr Ray, finding it a hard task to get them over to begin with, found it even harder after he was hurt in a collision with Morgan of Doc's, in an early inning. This allowed the winners to connect with the oval with greater success than has been their lot in previous games with the Firemen. The losers were more impotent at the bat than has been the case the entire season. They connected with 7 very scattered hits.

In the second game the CCC camp won from the Merchants 4-1. The game was hard fought and was featured by some fast fielding. Bradford started in the box for the Merchants and relieved by K. Anderson who previously had made two nice catches playing in right field. Allen did the hurling for the camp and did a nice job of it. The CCC boys appear at this time to be as strong as any team of the four and will bear watching.

Thursday's Schedule

Merchants vs. Fireboys.

Doc's vs. CCC Camp.

STUMPIN' THE STATE—

1934 the totals were: Allred 1,682; McDonald 1,489; Hunter 617; Witt 368; Small 289; Hughes 219. This year the official totals are Allred 2,146; Sanderford 1,190; Hunter 617, (exactly the number of votes he received here in 1934); and Fischer 338; Brooks 99.

Bob Poage was elected to U. S. Congress, carrying McLennan, Falls, Bell, Coryell and Milam counties. Late returns give Poage 23,303; Tirey 15,052; Sherman 3,157. In this county Poage received 2,126; Tirey 1,785; Sherman 237.

In the race for State Senator of the 21st district to succeed Roy Sanderford of Belton, J. Manley Head of Erath County led W. A. (Son) Shofner of Bell County by approximately 1,700 votes. Shofner carried Bell county only and had a total of 9,706. Head carried the other four and had a total of 11,440. with E. A. Tweedy of Bosque county third with 5,466.

A runoff will be necessary.

the office, need it, and can fill the job.

In the first campaign, I was handicapped in getting about in some of the sections where I was least known. This due to the necessity of continuing work to provide for my family and the unfortunate circumstances of my wife, being in the sanitarium for four weeks during the campaign, in which time I had no opportunity to campaign at all. If Providence permits, I will make an honest effort during the runoff to see more of the voters and personally solicit their votes and influence, however if I fail to see a voter, I trust that he will accept this as a personal solicitation of his vote and influence. If one ever needed an office, I feel that I need it and I feel that the duties of the office, age and experience in life, justifies me in asking your support, and I refer again to those with whom I have lived and their support of me as well as I trust that you may inquire as to my qualifications and if you find I am worthy, give me your vote and influence for which I will be grateful, and if I am elected, I assure you that I will always be on the job to serve you and fulfill thereby the trust and confidence placed in me by the citizens and voters of Coryell County.

Very gratefully yours,
Carl McClendon
Candidate for District Clerk Coryell County.

3,000,000th FORD V-8 WITH ROONEY AT THE WHEEL WELCOMED TO EXPO.

The 3,000,000 Ford V-8, which was driven overland from the plant in Dearborn, Michigan, to Dallas, has arrived. Its entry into the city and the Texas Centennial Exposition was observed with colorful pomp and ceremony at the city hall and again at the Exposition gates.

Touching Texas soil first at Texarkana, the epoch-making Ford V-8, driven by James Rooney, an official police escort across the state and from the Dallas city limits to the Exposition gates. Seven cars traveled with the 3,000,000 car from the Texas-Arkansas state line. Stops were made in many towns and cities en route.

The 3,000,000 V-8 with smiling Rooney at the wheel received its first formal welcome at the city hall where distinguished Dallas officials, including Mayor George Sergeant, City Manager Hal Mosely, Chief of Police R. L. Jones and Dallas county Sheriff, Smooth Schmid, participated. All officials spoke highly of the 3,000,000 V-8's part in publicizing the Exposition. Afterward the city leaders rode in a parade to the Exposition grounds.

Fred Florence, president of the Centennial Central Exposition, greeted driver Rooney and his car at the Parry street Exposition gates and presented the car the "Ambassador of Goodwill" scroll, heretofore giv-

NEWS READER HEARS FROM RELATIVE AFTER FINDING PAPER IN STREET

Mrs. Claude Meyers of Big Springs, found a copy of the Coryell County News on the streets of that city, and was tickled to read news of friends and relatives in Gatesville, since she had seen no paper from this section in so long.

Evidently, some News subscriber had misplaced, lost, or already read the News and had thrown it away.

Mrs. Meyers wrote to Mrs. Lester Britain of her good luck and said she was certainly glad to get in touch with folk in this county again.

Miss Annie Ruth Witt left Tuesday for San Antonio and Corpus Christi, where she will visit relatives.

en only to prominent persons who have contributed generously to the success of the Exposition Nathan Adams, chairman of the board of the Centennial Central Exposition, was one of the many outstanding persons who officially welcomed the car to the Fair grounds.

A parade circled the "Roads of the Southwest", the nine famous cattle trails and highways which have been reproduced opposite the Ford building, and afterward the 3,000,000 V-8 was placed in the court of the building where it will remain during the Exposition.

Temple Farmers Amazed At Results from Use Of S.C.S Strip Crops

Temple, Texas—Farmers who used strip crops or a phase of the complete coordinated erosion control program in the Elm Creek watershed Project of the Soil Conservation Service are veiwing with pleasure and amazement the successful performance of the crops planted in strips in preventing their fields from washing during the recent floods.

Charles Ocker, who owns a farm on the Rosebud highway, one-half mile west of Barclay, makes the following statement: "It was surprising how the strips held the soil on my farm during the recent heavy rains. I especially like the way the strips between the terraces worked in the field north of my house."

The strips of sorghum between the terraces on Mr. Ocker's field prevented the silting in the terrace channels and there was no evidence of soil loss. Mr. Ocker has another field strip-cropped without terraces. Several strips of Hobam clover and two meadow buffer strips (little bluestem) on his field did a remarkable job of erosion control. Soil that was carried by the runoff water was dropped just above, or in the strip. The little bluestem was planted in February this year and is now six to eight inches high.

The rainfall of July 1, 1936 to July 4, 1936 was the greatest recorded in many years in the Elm Creek Watershed area. The Blackland Experiment Station, four miles south of Temple, recorded a rainfall of five inches in one and one-half hours for ten minutes the intensity was three inches per hour, and then with only a slight let-up for a few minutes there was a rainfall intensity of six inches per hour for ten minutes.

The older residents in some sections of the watershed say they have never observed more rainfall over the same length of time and that the height reached by the water in some places was the greatest they had ever seen. Many bridges in the lower end of the watershed were washed out and all were more or less damaged. Roads were overtopped where no damage had been evidenced before.

A total of 9 1/2 to 11.52 inches fell over a four day period in the North Elm Creek Watershed, and the high intensives noted above came after the ground was saturated.

A thorough check-up following the rains in some sections of the Elm Creek Watershed which is merely planting bands of close planted crops on the contour in clean cultivated fields is essential for most complete protection of cultivated fields, even on those fields which are terraced.

One of the most remarkable observations made was the way in which the vegetative terrace outlet channels withstood the heavy discharges of water. Some of the channels had been solid sodded to Bermuda grass and buffola grass only a few days when the test came and most of these damaged.

In general, on lands protected by coordinated erosion control measures such as strip-cropping with contour cultivation, other phases of erosion control, excess water from the heavy rains ran off slowly with the result that very little soil was lost.

Contrasted with the conditions mentioned above were nearby fields, unprotected by erosion control measures that were badly damaged by the rushing rain water which concentrated in many places, cutting gullies, uprooting crops, sweeping off thousands of tons of top soil from a single field, thus furnishing definite additional evidence, visible to the eye, that the unprotected areas are suffering tremendous losses after each rain.

THIS WEEK IN TEXAS HISTORY

Week of July 26

1823. The town of San Felipe de Austin was established, by order of the governor July 26. It was laid off at a beautiful spot on the Brazos River in what is now Austin County.

1828. On July 29 Stephen F. Austin signed a contract to colonize the vacant land lying within the tea-lague reserve on the coast from Lavaca to San Jacinto.

1839. In a grove of oak trees between Fourth and Fifth streets in Austin, the first sale of lots in the new seat of government was held on August 1.

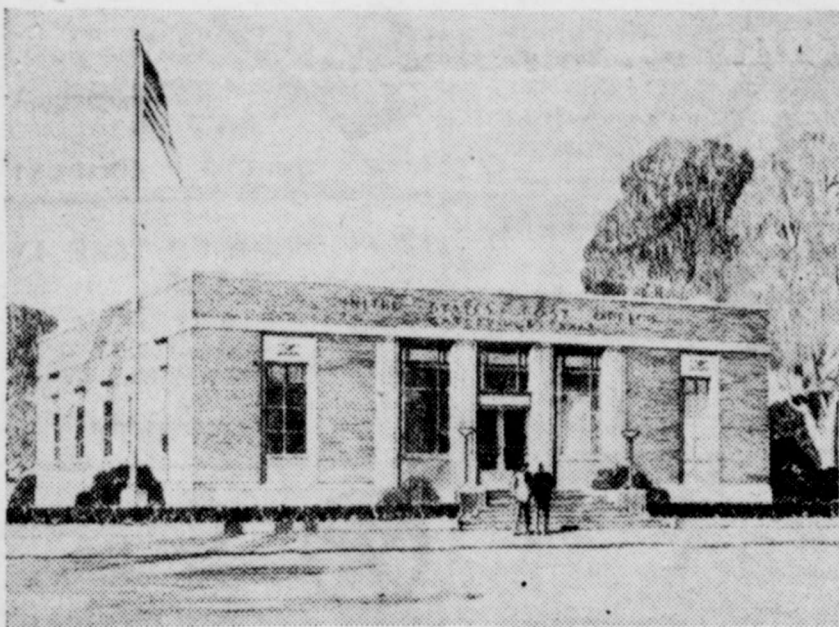

1836. General Sam Houston, at the age of 74 years, died at his home in Huntsville on July 26th.

1867. General Sheridan, by a special order, removed Governor Throckmorton from office on July 30, and appointed E. M. Pease to his place.—CIA Press.

HAROLD KNOTT OF WACO SPOKE FOR ALLRED HERE. FRIDAY P. M.

Harold Knott Waco Attorney, spoke here from the steps of the courthouse Friday in the interest of Governor James V. Allred, who was placed in the runoff for governor by a substantial vote in the First Primary Saturday.

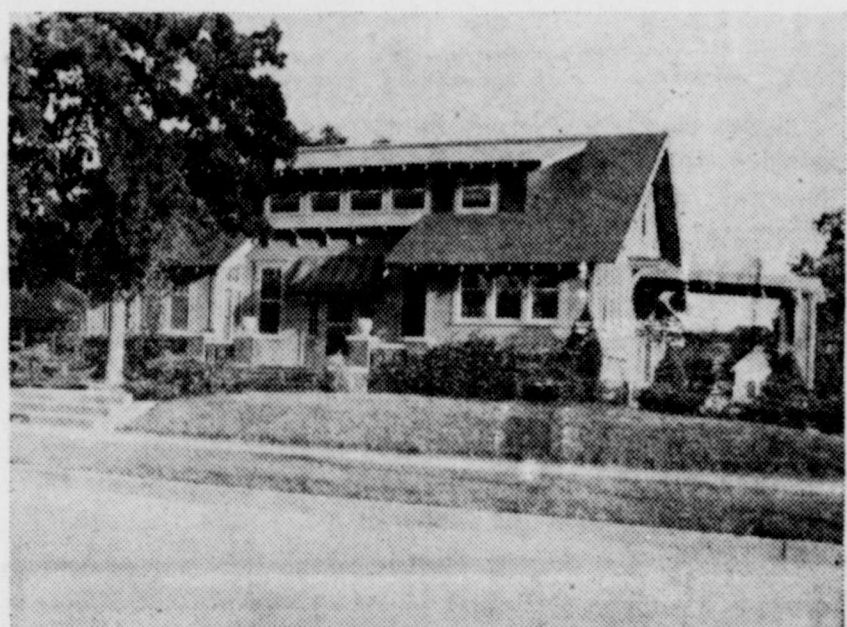

Mr. Knott was introduced by Judge Robert W. Brown.

Presented here is a picture of the officially proposed sketch of Gatesville's new Post Office building, made possible by Hon. O. H. Cross, Congressman from this district. Bids have been asked for, but the time has not been set for starting actual construction. Site is on corner south of Scott Motor Company.

The new Gulf States Telephone Company building, which has just been completed and was occupied ten days ago by that company. After everything has been completed the company intends to hold open-house, inviting the general public to view the new building and see the new plant in operation.

Gatesville's newest undertaking, the Milton Powell Memorial Hospital located on Leon at 11th, and is owned and operated by Drs. K. R. and Dean B. Jones. Due to the inability to get the beds the opening has been delayed, but it is thought that the hospital will be open by August 15.

One of the newest and most modern buildings for its purpose erected in Gatesville is the new Sinclair Station located at corner of Main and Tenth streets. This new addition to Gatesville's modern buildings has been open for some six months. The architecture modern and along regular designs used by this company in the larger cities.

WOULDN'T IT BE NICE!

Wouldn't it be nice if we had Nos. 36 and 7 completed! (Let's don't mention 66). We would then have approximately 120 miles of paved highway thru the county, highway that would be paid for by the State, highway that the county would not have to build. Highway that would keep up our 45 or more filling stations. Highway that could easily be connected up with lateral roads which would bring people to Gatesville instead of letting them go over better roads to other trade centers. Highways that would create a need for tourists camps, cabins, cafes, tires and an unlimited number of other commodities sold locally. Highways that would encourage people to go thru Gatesville and the rest of the county, instead of forcing them to go around. Highways that would advertise Coryell County and Gatesville as having good roads, paved routes thru the county, instead of when the tourist looks at a road map he sees gravel or graded roads, and promptly says "Well, we won't go that way!"

Listen, folks, on July 31 this county gets a hearing before the Highway Commission and local authorities are going to try to get No. 7 completed first, but also are to have a hearing on No. 36.

Now, we're hoping that a big delegation composed of you and you, will go down with the County Judge and others and help add weight to this request for consideration on the completion of these highways.

And WOULDN'T IT BE NICE if we got the job done!

IT'S MOSTLY OVER!

Tuesday finds a lot of things settled. Maybe the majority didn't vote like you wanted them to, but good Democrats always bow to the majority—let's all be good Democrats!

Now, whoever is elected to lead, we imagine things will go on just about as usual, with the usual betterment and advancement and progress, characteristic of American communities—precinct, county, State and even the nation!

So, let's bury the hatchet, (we might as well, as we can do nothing about it) and get behind our new, or re-elected, officers and grab a little of the prosperity these post-depression times are showing us. That's the spirit!

FRUIT SALAD TIPS FOR "THE DOG DAYS"

One of the most inviting foods for warm weather service is fruit salad. Here are some interesting versions of this healthful and appetizing type of salad.

ORANGE FLOWER SALAD
Orange sections, lettuce, maraschino cherries, mayonnaise.

Arrange orange sections on a bed of lettuce to simulate the petals of a flower. Garnish with tiny strips of maraschino cherry and mayonnaise forced through a pastry tube.

PEACH CUPSALAD
Twelve medium halves canned peaches, 1/2 cup celery, 1-4 cup chopped nuts, 1-4 cup seeded raisins, 2 to 3 tablespoons apple butter.

Arrange twin nests of lettuce on individual salad plates. In each nest place a half of a peach. Combine celery, nuts, raisins and apple butter. Fill centers of peach with mounds of this mixture. Place a spoonful of mayonnaise between the halves of peach.

PEAR MACARON SALAD
Halves of canned pears, one package cream cheese, macaroon crumbs, maraschino cherries.

Mash cheese and spread a thin layer on half a pear. Cover with another half of pear and dip the whole pear thus formed in ground macaroon crumbs. Serve the fruit in a deep cup of lettuce garnishing top with a maraschino cherry cut in half. Place a spoonful of mayonnaise at one side.

BANANA SALAD
Six bananas, 1 cup macaroon crumbs, 1 head romaine, 1/2 cup currant jelly, 1-4 vinegar, 2 tablespoons salad oil, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Peel bananas and roll macaroon crumbs. Arrange bananas on romaine on individual salad plates. Mash jelly, add vinegar, oil, salt and serve on the salad.

BUNCH OF GRAPES SALAD
5 halves canned pears, 1 pkg. cream cheese, 1 pound of green or red grapes, one-half cup mayonnaise, one-fourth cup chopped meats.

Drain pears thoroughly by placing on a tea towel. Frost the rounded side with thin layer of cream cheese. Cover with halves of green or red grapes from which seeds have been removed. Insert to represent stem a parsley stem from which leaves have been removed. Arrange in individual beds of lettuce a spoonful of mayonnaise combined with the nuts. Cover with decorated pear.

CANTALOPE SALAD
Cut three cantalopes in half and remove seeds. Scoop out in balls. Mix with French dressing. Arrange on nests of lettuce and sprinkle with 3 tablespoons finely chopped candied or maraschino cherries.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

THE HOME CAMP

One of the great educational institutions of our country is the summer camp, but at present the opportunity to attend is not available to every child. For the "stay at home" a number of child welfare agencies are promoting the home camp in one form or another.

Perhaps the neighborhood camp is a better term, because it is not always located right at home.

If your boys and girls are interested refer them to the National Recreation Association in New York City, to local recreation officials and Scout executives. They could write to the national headquarters of the Girl Scouts of Boy Scouts, both in New York City.

Many things need careful consideration, so it is well to study the problem with a view to doing some careful planning. Just as reminders may I suggest these points: food is important; especially, is there plenty of milk, and is it good, clean and wholesome? Is there protection against flies, ants, and mosquitoes, and, sometimes, snakes? Provide sensible clothing, especially shoes and stockings; a first-aid kit; bedding and covers; dishes, eating utensils, and cooking pans. O tent is an asset, though it requires transportation.

Just this thought, Camping one of the great adventures of childhood. What it teaches, the child can ill afford to lose. Although we worry, it is better to give him this experience than to deprive him of it because of our fears.

"It's A Small World"

IN PITTSBURGH the other day a couple were married and they had the ceremony put on a record. The "I do" and "love, honor and obey," etc. were picked up by concealed microphones and recorded on disks. No doubt those disk records will cause some lively discussion down through the years, whenever they have a family quarrel.

EXPERTS in Cambridge, Mass., gave the Radcliffe College girls the jitters when they discovered that the coat of arms used by the college since 1894, should really be used only by widows and spinsters. It's bad enough to have to get a diploma, let alone having "Old Maid" engraved all over it.

MEANWHILE Donald MacMurray completed a four-year course at the University of Chicago in only eight months. He said he could have earned his diploma in half the time if he'd been more diplomatic about it.

EVERYBODY'S been signing Jim Farley's name to things. So many Farley signatures have been turning up unaccountably that there certainly must be a lot of rubber stamps at work somewhere. Jim says he knows nothing about the $1 admittance cards to Democratic rallies, that somebody sent to postmasters, and that "some overzealous individual" must have signed his name to them. Another overzealous individual is Al Smith who mailed a letter to Jim Farley's convention a couple of weeks ago. The letter got lost in Jim Farley's Post Office, so the convention never got it. No rubber-stamp about Al Smith.

FROM Estes Park where Candidate Landon is vacationing, his wife revealed that "Alf" likes to read detective stories and try to guess the solutions. Maybe he can solve the mystery of the disappearance of Al Smith's letter.

AL apparently is turning out to be the Forgotten Man.

HAILE SELASSIE wants to return to Ethiopia where some of his subjects are said to have set up a government in the town of Gore. You'd think he'd have had enough of gore in the recent war. Anyway the threat of his return is causing new trouble in the garden of Eden, British Foreign Secretary.

DURING the Democratic nomination-notification ceremonies at Franklin Field in Philadelphia, they installed a "demonstration meter" to measure the applause and show it by means of lights. If this device is left there for the football games, the teams won't have much to do—the side whose cheering section makes the most noise would win.

A COPY of Edgar Allan Poe's pamphlet "Tame Age" published in 1827, recently turned up in Baltimore. A man bought it along with five other books in a second-hand store for $1.25. It's worth probably $30,000—about $1,000 per page. At that, the Congressional Record costs much more. This amazing record of Congress' deliberations (and useless speeches) cost the taxpayers $23,450 for just one Monday and Tuesday alone, during the recent sessions. How America likes books!

YOUR CORRESPONDENT has discovered why the W.P.A. workers who wave red flags to warn motorists, get better pay than the fellows who have to do the shovel-work. The men with the little red flags haven't anything to lean on.

FIVE NAVY destroyers at the Philadelphia Navy Yard will be sold for junk, and parts will be made into razor blades. So if your razor destroys your face some morning, just remember the darn thing always was a destroyer. No wonder we have Leathernecks.

AND SUDDEN DEATH

with RANDOLPH SCOTT-FRANCES DRAKE
Novelized by Wallace West from the Paramount Picture of the same name.

SYNOPSIS
Arrested for speeding for the fourth time, Betty Winslow, madcap society girl, is brought before Det. Knox, handsome head of the Traffic Department, at Police Headquarters. Knox is campaigning for more safety in traffic. Betty is sentenced to attend his traffic school. She treats it as a lark. Despite her yen for breaking speeding limits, Knox is fascinated by the bewitching Betty and falls in love with her.

CHAPTER V

THE next few weeks passed rapidly as the romance between Knox and Betty bloomed. The girl's sophisticated friends teased her unmercifully about her attachment for the handsome young officer but she ignored them and spent all the time possible in his company.

"Let's have dinner together before we go out to Mike Andrews' place tonight," Knox was pleading as Betty guided her car dexterously through Haverstock's traffic one afternoon.

"You know we can't," she laughed. "We've been together morning, noon and night for four weeks! If we don't show up on time Mike'll never forgive us."

As she spoke they drew up alongside a large bus which bore the legend: "Grand Easter Egg Hunt, Civic Auditorium, Saturday Night."

The bus was full of children, who yelled greeting at the couple in the roadster.

"Hey! Lieutenant Knox!" shouted one snub-nosed and freckle-faced kid as he leaned out of a window, waving frantically. "Hey! It's me. It's Bobby Sanborn."

"Hello there, Bobby! How are you?"

"Fine!" Then, as the bus started to make a right turn, he shouted once more. "Say! Thanks for that car you gave me!"

"Sanborn?" puzzled Betty as she threw in her clutch and "jumped" the traffic light just before it turned green. "Haven't I heard that name before?"

"His father was the motorcycle cop that brought you to my office—Remember?" Knox answered sardonically.

"Will I ever forget it," she chuckled as she shot the grey roadster in front of all the rest of the traffic. Then, as she gave the nervous officer a quick side glance she added: "Still scared of the way I drive?"

"I'm getting resigned to it," he groaned, then, to change the painful subject, added persuasively: "Come on! Let's have dinner together before we go out to Mike's. If you need an excuse for being late I'll let the air out of one of your tires and say we had a flat. How about it?"

"Oh, all right," she shrugged contentedly. "Where shall we eat?"

The party at Mike's house was ready to break up when Betty's roadster came limping up the drive that night. Most of the guests had been drinking and were feeling high as they got their wraps and escorted their women folk to the cars.

"Hello, you two—what happened to you this time?" Inquired their dark-haired and athletic host as the late-comers ran up the steps to the esplanade.

"Terribly sorry, Mike," Betty was profusely apologetic. "Tire blew out.

We've been hobbling along on the rim for hours."

"No doubt!" Mike was skeptical.

"Such goings on!" reproved Dodie, who had come up in time to hear the story. "I don't believe a word of it."

"I can't understand such cynicism," protested Knox solemnly.

"Where are you going from here?" inquired Betty.

"Over to Arden's place. Will you condescend to come along," grumbled Mike.

"Come on, my brave Lieutenant," Betty spun her escort round.

"You've had him long enough!" protested Dodie. "It's my turn now."

"Archie!" cried Betty in mock horror. "You're about to lose your wife!"

"Anything I can do to help?" yawned Mr. Sloan.

"Where's Jackie?" Betty pretended to be offended. "I'll go with him. Hey!—Jackie!" she called. "Front and center."

At her hail, Jackie came striding out the front door, an unfinished drink in his hand. A pretty, black haired girl with a worried look on her face, was clinging to his arm and helping to steady the tipsy youth.

"What's the idea?" young Winslow protested as he waved his glass. "What's everybody goin' for? Wait'll I finish my drink."

"Don't finish it, Jackie, please," pleaded his girl. "Not if you're going to drive."

"What's the idea?" His voice became ugly. "Think I'm tight...?" He gulped his drink belligerently. "Go on, if you want to go!"

"Let me have the rest of that drink, Jackie," said Betty quietly as he hurried up.

"Okay, Sis—" He smiled at her owlishly. "Anything you say."

"You driving, Bangs?" Betty asked the girl.

"I think I'd better."

"I'm driving," Jackie cut in. Betty and Bangs exchanged glances.

"So all right—you're driving," his sister soothed, then added brightly: "Look—why don't I drive with you? Bangs can go with Mike."

"You think I'm drunk, too?" Jackie was offended.

"Don't be silly," the girl answered as she led the way to her brother's car and started to slide in under the wheel. "My car's got a flat and I just sort of had a yen to see what I could get out of this sissy job of yours. You keep saying it'll do eighty. Bet I can make a liar out of you."

"Is that so!" The boy had forgot all about his determination to drive. "A hundred bucks says she'll do ninety! Go ahead and try it."

And, despite her recent traffic school instruction Betty did try it and was not picked up by the law for once. Just outside of town, however, they ran into a string of cars parked bumper to bumper as a Brake Squad conducted an inspection of each vehicle.

When they reached the head of the line they were approached by Sergeant Maloney.

"We're going to test your brakes, Miss," he began.

"They don't need it," Betty objected.

"That's for us to find out," Maloney was busy attaching a decelerometer to the running board. "Now start your car, Miss—and when I say 'stop' jam your brakes on as hard as you can. Let's go."

"Don't finish it, Jackie, please," pleaded the girl. "Not if you're going to drive."

Betty sullenly started the motor and picked up speed rapidly.

"Stop!" commanded Maloney, who had been standing on the running board watching the speedometer.

Betty jammed on the brakes and the car came to a slow halt.

Maloney dismounted, bent over and detached the decelerometer. At the same time he extracted an oblong of paper from the machine and examined the results of the test.

"Your brakes are in bad condition," he said at last.

"Baloney!" growled Jackie audibly.

"You have five days to get them fixed." The sergeant ignored the interruption. "Then take this slip down to the police garage for clearance. Meanwhile you're not to drive over thirty miles per hour."

"Is that all?" the girl demanded felly.

"That's all, Miss," Maloney touched the edge of his cap.

"Thank you so much." She threw the car in gear and shot off down the road, leaving Maloney shaking his head as he watched her go.

be careful how you put on powder. So often we see women who look like they have been "dipped in the flour barrel." Powder won't cover up blemishes, and it just clogs the pores and gives your face a flaky appearance. Put plenty of powder on, to be sure, but after you have finished, girls at Texas State College for Women suggest that you gently brush excess powder away with a soft brush. Your natural appearance will be restored.

Lets Talk about Clothes
TEXAS STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN (11)

Denton, July 27. Toward mid-summer clothes need very little attention! You probably have already purchased everything you will need for summer, and it's a little too early to begin planning your fall wardrobe.

So, attention is not focused on your physical appearance, and the first thing to consider is our skin. During the hot summer months your skin becomes very oily, it does not have a healthful glow and blackheads are present in unusual numbers. This is because hot rays of the sun draw out moisture onto the surface of the skin and leave it there to dry and make blackheads.

To remedy this, beauty experts suggest a rather dry cleansing cream. It will thoroughly cleanse your skin, and will help to retain the natural oils that are necessary for a healthful appearance. After you have creamed your face, wrap an ice cube in cotton, dip it into your favorite freshener and smooth it over your neck and face. This is especially good before putting on make-up and you'll be surprised at the glowing results. Slightly diluted lemon juice serves as a splendid tonic for your skin.

In summer there's nothing that can take the place of soap and water. But be careful how you use this on your face. Soap has the tendency to draw out all the natural oils of the skin, and unless you use a foundation cream after it, your skin will become dry and rough. Be sure to use only slightly warm water, and rinse with plenty of cold water.

When making up your face.
