District Clerk Pleas M. Post Passes Away at Home, Saturday Nite

Pleasant M. Post, who was born in Pike county, Alabama, Oct. 11, 1864, passed away during the night, Saturday or early Sunday morning, at his residence on South 14th street.

Mr. Post came to Gatesville in 1886, and was associated with Dr. J. B. Garbrill in publishing the Gatesville Advance. He later worked in Waco, Chicago, Denver, and in many other cities and states of the Union. While in Denver he was married to Miss Lela Whitney, June 29, 1887, and with her returned to Gatesville, where he has lived ever since. Soon after his return he was connected with the publication of the Gatesville Forum. Later he was elected and served as Coryell County tax collector for two terms. For the past 18 years he has served faithfully as District Clerk of Coryell County.

He was a true Christian gentleman and a believer in God and the Church. For the past forty years he has been a member of the First Baptist Church of this city.

Funeral services were held at four o'clock Monday afternoon, September 7, in the First Baptist Church of this city with the pastor, Clarence A. Morton conducting the sad rites. Interment was made in the I. O. O. F. Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by one brother, John T. Post, and four daughters, Mrs. D. B. Anderson, Fort Worth; Mrs. W. T. Johnson, Whitesboro; Mrs. Dick Jones and Miss Helen Post of this city; and four grandchildren.

Pall bearers were Boone Gordon, F. W. Straw, Fred Prewitt, Joe White, Otis Chambers, Judge R. B. Cross, Joe Hanna, and J. M. Witcher.

1-MINUTE SAFETY TALKS

By Don Herold

VICTIMS OF FUTURE ACCIDENTS

I'm starting a new club. It's the V. F. A. A.—or Victims of Future Automobile Accidents.

Instead of going out and getting hurt haphazardly on a sunny Sunday afternoon and coming home with any old injury, we V. F. A. A. boys will try to name our injury in advance, and we may give medals to members who come nearest to calling their shots.

I'm going out for a concussion-of-the-brain ribbon. I've already made arrangements for two months in the hospital and have sent myself some flowers, and have set aside a thousand dollars for expenses. (We V. F. A. A.

members have to pay ourselves our own bonus—and we pay it in advance so it will hurt more.)

The whole point is, we think it's smarter to plan our accidents than simply to have accidents as most boobs do.

All we have to do is to drive carelessly for about 20 seconds on a curve or hill or straightaway. I'm planning to have my accident by passing some cars going up a hill.

Want to join? Here's the menu. Take your choice. Last year, according to The Travelers Insurance Company, non-fatal injuries in automobile accidents were as follows:

	Persons Injured
Fractured Skull	12,530
Fractured Spine	1,790
Other Fractures	74,310
Concussion of the Brain	14,320
Severe General Shock with Contusions and Lacerations	133,770
Shock (less severe) and Shakeup	531,800
Internal Injuries	13,430
Other Injuries (Sprains, Dislocations, Wrenches, etc.)	105,330
Total	825,280

Former Gatesville Girl Weds Wacoan

Miss Claire Muller of Dallas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Muller who live near here, became the bride of Herbert W. Schneider, son of Mr. Mrs. M. E. Schneider of 1413 South 7th St. Waco, in a ceremony performed by Rev. C. C. LaBorne at his home in Denton, August 31. Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. LaBorne. Miss Elizabeth Muller, sister of the bride, and Miss Evelyn Lengefeld, both of Dallas, motored to Denton for the ceremony and remained for the supper.

The couple went to Waco Monday night and visited there until Tuesday when they left for this city where they visited the bride's parents and other relatives and friends. They left here Thursday for Miami, Fla., where Mr. Schneider is connected with the Armour Company, and where they will make their home.

Mrs. Clay Stinnett Hostess to Club

The Thursday Contract Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Clay Stinnett at her home on East Bridge street. Bouquets of roses were used for decorations throughout the party rooms.

Mesdames L. E. Kincannon and R. B. Cross were awarded high and second score prizes.

POPULAR GATESVILLE COUPLE WED

In a single ring ceremony at Waxahachie Saturday evening at 9:30 p. m. Miss Martha Louise Robertson became the bride of Mr. James Sherrill Kendrick of Gatesville, the Rev. Jan McMurray, Presbyterian minister of that city and brother-in-law of the groom, reading the ceremony.

Miss Hunter Marie Quarles of Waco, was maid of honor and wore a grey satin tunic, with navy blue accessories and a red rosebud corsage. David, Franks of Gatesville was best man.

Mrs. Kendrick, the bride, was smartly dressed in romance blue, grey accessories, the dress being trimmed in baby Irish lace. Mrs.

Kendrick chose as her corsage, one of delicate orchids.

Miss Roberts is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Robertson of Gatesville. She is a Graduate of Coleman High school and after graduating there spent considerable time in both Baylor University and Western Reserve of Cleveland, Ohio, from which last named school she received a certificate from the speech department.

Mr. Kendrick is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kendrick of this city. He is a graduate of Gatesville high school and received his degree at Baylor University in 1934. Since completing his school work Mr. Kendrick has been employed by the Gatesville National Bank for a number of years, and just recently has accepted a position with the Coryell County Cotton Oil Co. of this city.

Immediately following the short ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick left for Galveston for a few days, after which they are scheduled to spend a few days in Dallas before returning to Gatesville where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Entertain Wed. Night.

Complimenting her brother, Ernest Bauman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., on his birthday, Mr. and Mrs. E. Taylor entertained on last Wednesday night with a barbecue at their attractive home, North 19th and Saunders streets.

Guests were Mrs. William Danguard and sons, Ernest and Billy, and daughter Mary Jo, of Temple; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bauman, son Clarence and daughters, Charlie Marie, Edna and Annie; Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hale and children, Perry and Lillian; Mrs. Hannah Gerard of Temple; Mrs. Ernest Bauman and sons Ernest Jr. and Charles, and the honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bauman and family, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. Taylor and other relatives here for the past two weeks, left Friday for their home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. M. H. Richards and daughter Grace, and Miss Frances Goodall attended the wedding of the former's daughter, Miss Elizabeth Richards and Charlie Marcell in Waco last Wednesday. The wedding was held on the Roof Garden of the First Christian church, Waco, with Rev. Mr. Clark, pastor, officiating. Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of Mrs. Lem Jones in Waco.

MISS GLADES HENDERSON IS MARRIED TO WILLIAM A. CULBERSON, AUG. 29.

Under the above head, in its issue of August 29, the Greenville Banner gives an account of the marriage of W. A. (Billy) Culberson formerly of Gatesville to Miss Glades Henderson of Greenville.

Climaxing the numerous nuptial events of August, a month which in local society annals rivals June—the bride's choice,—was the wedding at 8 o'clock this morning uniting Miss Glades Henderson, daughter of Mrs. Ernest Henderson, and William Albert Culberson of Gatesville.

The ceremony, impressive in its quiet dignity, took place at the home of the bride, 2107 Walnut street with Rev. Elmer Henderson, pastor of the Grace Presbyterian church, reading the sacred ring service.

Appropriate for the occasion, the home was decorated with formal arrangements of palm, rubber plants and fern. The improvised altar was a mass of fern, flanked by gold colonial baskets filled with pink asters while the avowal scene was reflected in a modernistic blue mirror hanging above the vine-covered book case. Green embankments stood at each end of the French doors.

David Terry, local violinist, offered as the pre-nuptial musical selection, "Sweetest Story Ever Told," accompanied by Miss Alta Merle Little. Mrs. Wheeler Schley of South Bend, Texas, sister of the groom, played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" by Wagner and softly played "I Love You Truly" through the ceremony.

The bride, who entered unattended, wore a Parisian morning wedding gown of traditional white bridal satin. The smartly fitting floor length model was cut on vauish princess lines and ensembled with a modish silhouette jacket outlines with pleated ruffles of the same material. The trimmings formed a distinctive neckline, standing in regal fashion at the back. The form-fitting jacket was fastened with emerald catches encrusted in rhinestones.

Her bridal veil, finger-tip length, fell from a modish ruff worn in halo fashion and encircled with a garland of orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book from which fell satiny streamers tied with lilies of the valley.

The bride is one of the most popular of the young business women of the city, and is also active in social circles. Until her resignation last week she was administrative assistant in Hunt-co's Texas Extension Service office, a position she has held for several years. Mrs. Culberson received her education in the public schools of this city, and was graduated from the Greenville high school. She is also a graduate of a local business college.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave H. Culberson of Gatesville where he received his education and graduated from the high school. He attended the Texas A. and M. College and finished with a Doctor of Veterinary degree. Mr. Culberson is now Assistant Texas Farm Loan Superintendent of the Continental Assurance Company. For the past four years he has resided in this city, where he has a host of friends.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Culberson left for a wedding trip to Galveston and other coastal points. The bride chose for her going-away outfit a tailored shark-skin suit in pink with brown leather buttons and brown blouse and accessories.

After the honeymoon, the couple will go to Marlin to live, where Mr. Culberson's headquarters will be located.

Out of town guests for the wedding included:

Mrs. Dave Culberson, Mrs. Joe Whigham and Miss Dorothy Culberson, of Gatesville; Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Smith and son of Honey Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Schley of South Bend, and Mrs. F. C. Henderson and children of Vernon.

CLUB NEWS

Purmel Club News

The Purmel club girls met Friday afternoon, August 28, at the home of Mrs. J. N. Weeks for the purpose of organizing a 4-H Club. Miss Sydney Gale Gibson, county home demonstration agent, was present to help in the organization.

After several games were played a business meeting was held with Mrs. R. A. Bertrand as acting chairman. The following officers were elected: Ometra Thetford, president; Antonece Bertrand, vice president; Bessie Voss, secretary; Avis Parsons, council delegate; Betty Sue Thetford, reporter; and Mrs. T. J. Smith, sponsor.

With the club women acting as hostesses, the girls were invited in the yard under beautiful shade trees where refreshments of iced grape juice and cake were served.

The girls appreciate very much every effort shown them by the club ladies and by Miss Gibson toward organizing a club.

Our next club meeting will be held at the school building, Saturday morning, September 19. The club girls invite all others in the community to come and help make this the best club in the county.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB NEWS

The Friendship Club met with Mrs. Ed. Autrey, Sept. 2. A quilt was quilted by seven club members and one visitor. The club decided to postpone the meetings until after the fall months. The hostess served iced punch and cake. The next club meeting will be in December.

BROWN'S CREEK

Several are getting ready to start picking cotton in the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weaver visited the later's mother Mrs. Glass of The Grove since our last writing.

Mrs. M. C. Bigham has as her guest, Miss Lula Strickland of Waco.

Mrs. Juber Gates is back from East Texas for a few weeks. She plans to join her husband there in a few weeks.

Mrs. Mag Wittie has been visiting relatives in Temple for the past few weeks.

Two Old Timers

Here's one for you, Mr. Ripley W. D. Austin, an abstractor and conveyancer in Rockwall, Texas, has worn the same ten-gallon Stetson for the past sixty-two years. Mr. Austin claims it is the oldest hat in use in the Southwest and perhaps in the world.

STATE AND FEDERAL LAWS ON SHOOTING DOVES

District Game Warden W. E. McCracken of Meridian was in Gatesville Saturday and gave the News the following regulations on shooting doves and wild ducks, so that local hunters may acquaint themselves with the provisions of the law:

Mourning Doves: Open season, north zone, Sept. 1st to Oct. 31st, and south zone, December 1st to January 15th. Bag limit 15 a day and 45 a week but no more than 20 in possession at any one time. Daily shooting hours 7 a. m. to sunset. May be taken with shot-gun, only, not more than a ten-gauge or not capable of holding more than three shells. Must not lure birds with or by grain or food products.

Bag and Possession Limits
Ducks: Ten in the aggregate of all kinds and may not possess more than ten of all kinds. Shooting periods 7 a. m. to 4.

Geese and Brant: Four in the aggregate of all kinds and may not possess more than four of all kinds. Shooting period 7 a. m. to sunset.

Use shot-gun only, of not more than 10 gauge and not capable of holding more than 3 shells.

Full copies of this law may be had at the County Agent's office.

MRS. ROGERS VALUES PANTRY

"If my home were to burn, I would certainly want my pantry saved," said Mrs. Eugene Rodgers, a pantry demonstrator of the Good Samaritan Home Demonstration Club of Pidgeoke. After taking a look at her stock of canned goods one does not wonder that she wishes this.

This year she has canned 377 quarts with a total value of $112.41, which consists of the following:

Kraut, 18 containers; English peas, 17 containers; Corn 64, Irish potatoes 7, Snap peas .9, Plums, 28, Pineapple 8, Honey 26, Pickled cucumbers 32, Meat and meat stock 105, Peaches 52, Green cream peas 17, Lima beans 20, Peach butter 4.

This list does not include berries, beets, and other foods canned last year. Her pantry is built of ply wood doors and ends with shelves equally spaced inside. The dimensions provide ample shelf space without taking a great deal of floor space as the pantry is wide, tall, and comparatively shallow.

HORNET PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN

With the end of the first week's training, the high school Hornets look good, very definitely. Although no signs of championship calibre have yet been exhibited the squad gives promise of developing into a potential district champion.

The lack of weight this year will not be as great a drawback as formerly. Nearly every other school in the league is handicapped with the same shortcoming. The title should go to the team with the most brains and most fight. The hornets are not lacking in either respect.

The backfield will shine brightly with several triple-brightly with several triple-er heads the list with his smart signal calling and kicking and blocking. This smiling young man is rapidly acquiring the art of quick kicking which is one of the most valuable assets a team can have.

Two rabbit backs, Byron and Colgin, both look good in broken field running and with some capable blockers out in front should cross pay dirt several times.

"Red" Fore is combining some nice kicking with some very nice hip-twisting runs. Hinsley is getting off good kicks and passes but is weak on blocking and defense.

The most promising blocking back is Doug White, 160 pound fullback. His weight and drive are needed by the Hornets and should gain many yards for them this season.

The forward wall has not shaped up very well as yet and Warley is expecting to find the right combination.

Big "Fuzzy" Voss should rip any opposing line to shreds with his weight and fight from his tackle position. Jackie Parish, fresh from the corn fields of Liberty is tearing the boys up from the other tackle position. If this husky lad can learn enough about the game to be serviceable he should cause Gatesville opponents plenty of worry.

News From Enemy Camps

Gatesville's traditional rival, the McGregor Bulldogs, are pointing for a successful season with a new coach and a heavy team. Lloyd Mitchell, incoming new coach, greeted twenty-five prospects last Friday and issued equipment. The squad boasts of several 160-pounders and some speedy backs. Always formidable, the Bulldogs will be especially dangerous this year.

Coach Tommy "Dutch" Snyder of Bruceville-Eddy watched the Hornets work out the other afternoon and gave out some dope on his own team. Gatesville's second opponent on the '36 schedule, Bruceville-Eddy has 5 letter men returning and a squad of about twenty. Although never especially dangerous in the past this may be a year of upsets and the Hornets will find them no pushover.

Mart lost twelve letter men last year but has six coming back, four of whom are backs. The Panthers will have a light and inexperienced team this year, but will probably make up for it in speed and fight. The entire line, except for a center and guard, was lost last year and will be replaced by a green and small squad.

This game is always a high spot on Gatesville's grid card and this year will prove no exception.

Hamilton boasts of the best prospects in the history of the school, so says Coach Roy White in the Hamilton paper. Five letter men are returning with a squad of young hopefuls from last year. The Bulldogs are also expecting several good men in from other schools. This game, Armistice Day, should be one of the Hornet's toughest.

West has twelve letter men returning; six in the backfield and six in the line. Most of the men are light but are experienced which makes their prospects in the district race fairly good. The Gatesville game is to be played on West's own field which is a six-point advantage to any team, but the Hornets should outclass them.

The district is evenly matched this year and the title should be heavily contested by all the several clubs. Gatesville High's chances are good if the old jinx of starting off strong and ending up weak doesn't come on us again. Just how good those chances are will be demonstrated the night of September 25 when the Hornets meet Moody. Jinx Tucker will probably pick McGregor as usual, but this writer still takes the Hornets, win or lose.

ENTRIES TO CENTENNIAL POULTRY SHOW CLOSE SEPTEMBER 18

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 31—The Young Birds Poultry Show scheduled for September 25 to October 1 at the Texas Centennial Exposition has been thrown open to every type of poultry, including water fowls, ducks and geese, turkeys, guineas and bantams. Walter Burton, exposition poultry director, said today.

The show is open to the world but is confined to birds born during the present year. It is one of the high spots among the fifteen poultry shows scheduled at the World's Fair of 1936 between September 4, date of the first show, and November 29 closing date of the $25,000,000 exposition.

Entries will close September 18.

LUTHERIAN PASTORS HOLD CONFERENCE AT COPPERAS COVE LUTHERIAN CHURCH

Eighteen ministers were present at the Central Texas Pastoral Conference of the Lutheran Church, held at Copperas Cove last week, with visiting pastor is the home of the Copperas Cove church members.

The sermon was delivered by Vice-President E. Hickmann of Reissal, the confessional address being made was Rev. Walter Bushanchscher of Temple.

Four papers were read, "Youth Endeavor", by Rev. G. Beyer, pastor at Marlin, "Cathetical Treatment", by Rev. Fred Stalzer of Thorndale, "Exegitital Paper on Titus 1" by Rev. George Heineneir of San Angelo, and "The Pastor in Secular Affairs", by Rev. K. G. Manz of Austin. The pastors partook of the Holy Communion in a body. They returned to their homes Wednesday morning.

EXCELLENT CAST IN NEW
GENE AUTREY WESTERN

Gene Autry, handsome Republic Western star, is an evening's entertainment by himself. So is Burnett, his pal, neighbor and acting contemporary. But when you have these two plus six Light Crust Doughboys—any story is an assured success.

Not that "Oh, Susanna" which comes to the Regal next Saturday night at 10:30, also Sunday and Monday, lacks for plot, color and character interest. It doesn't.

In fact the story, which has to do with a bad man masquerading as a radio star at a dude ranch, is probably Mr. Autry's best photoplay to date.

Frances Grant who did a small part in "Red River Valley", plays opposite the handsome Autry. Among supporting players are Ed Piel, Jr., Fred Burns, Roger Grey, Snowflake, Roscoe Gerall, Ken Cooper and Alfred James.

The Light Crust Doughboys

comprise a radio sextette that for the past several years entertained the air audiences of the U. S. Southwest. Six radio hook-ups broadcast The Lightcrust Doughboys program three times daily.

The Friday Bridge Club was entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Glen Gray on South 7th street.

Bouquets of summer flowers were used for decorations. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. A. W. Gartman was awarded high score prize.

Cherry ice box cake and fruit punch were served the following: Mesdames Johnnie Washburn, A. W. Gartman, Durwood Shepherd, Francis Stout, Jim J. Brown, Louis Neuman, and Miss LaVerne Wilson.

Morris-Kelso Nuptial

Miss Hazel Kelso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kelso of the Hay Valley community, and Pat Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Morris of Baytown, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's brother, Gordon Kelso of Liberty Sunday afternoon at three o'clock with Rev. Will Jackson, pastor of the Liberty Baptist Church, officiating.

The bride was attractive in medium blue afternoon frock with silver trimmings. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of pink sweet-heart roses. The groom wore a dark grey suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris, after a short honeymoon trip, will make their home at Baytown.

They include President, W. W. Kincaid, Youngstown, N. Y.; Vice-president, E. J. Heiser, Pekin, Ill.; directors, Joe P. Allyn, Delavan, Wis.; D. E. Hull, Painesville, Ohio; A. Lilly, La Crescent, Minn.; A. Oliver Bower, Bushton, Ill.; H. A. Mabon, Randallia, Iowa; D. N. Boice, Churchville, N. Y.; Matthew Suydam, New Burnswick, N. J., and Secretary Inman.

Twenty-five hundred dollars will be awarded Brown Swiss winners during the two days C. S. Rhode, of the University of Illinois, judges them, Oct. 14-15. This show, never held in the southwest before, will be the major livestock activity during the exposition which closes November 29.

FAMOUS PONY ILL

Dallas, Texas—When "Tiny-mite", diminutive Shetland sister of Peruna, famous mascot of the Southern Methodist University football squad, became ill at the Texas Centennial Exposition, the PBX was swarmed with calls of information. "Tiny-mite" registered as a celebrity of the first rank. She is now on the road to recovery.

4-H AND FFA SHOWS ON SAME DATES AT CENTENNIAL

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 31—Consolidation of the 4-H club and the Future Farmers of America poultry shows at the Texas Centennial Exposition was announced today by Walter Burton, Exposition poultry director.

The consolidated show, open to the members of the two organizations of Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana, will extend over a period of two weeks, September 11-24. The 4-H club was originally scheduled for September 11-17 and the Future Farmers, September 18-24.

GUERNSEY SHOW PRIZES AT CENTENNIAL $5,000

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 31—Three special rosettes will be added to the awards the American Guernsey Club will present winning Guernsey owners at the National Dairy Show at the Texas Centennial Exposition October 10-18, it was announced today.

They will award the three highest ranking Guernseys bred by the exhibitor and winning awards in any of the twenty-nine classes the club is sponsoring at the world's greatest dairy exposition.

Rosettes, prized more highly than cash, will also be awarded the premier Guernsey breeder and exhibitor and to the owners of the senior junior and grand champion females and bulls.

The sum of $5,000 will be distributed in cash, the highest sum ever awarded at a Guernsey show.

TEXAS NATURAL RESOURCES EXHIBIT TO BE MADE PERMANENT

Dallas, Texas—The $200,000 Texas Natural Resources exhibit at the Texas Centennial Exposition will be made permanent.

This was made certain Saturday when a meeting of the industrialists, educators and businessmen in session here voted unanimously in favor of the project.

The plan contemplates that the exhibit will be housed permanently in the $1,200,000 Hall of State on the Exposition grounds. Its maintenance is to be financed by contributions from industries and individuals interested in the development of natural resources. The principle theme will be the attraction of manufacturing and processing plants to the scene of the resource.

The plan was presented by Col. George Knapp of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and adopted by motion of Col. T. N. Jones of Tyler.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND RETREAT, GEORGETOWN

Delegates from the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of this city to the Retreat held in Georgetown at Southwestern University this week are Mrs. Reb J. Brown, of the Adult Auxiliary and Miss Bess Chapman, delegate from the Young Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. W. C. Guggolz, who is the corresponding secretary for the Central Conference, attended also.

Several prominent speakers of Nashville, Tennessee, and other cities were there during the sessions, and spoke on the Spiritual cultivation and work of the Missionary society.

THIS WEEK IN TEXAS HISTORY

Week of September 6
1834—Stephen F. Austin was elected to represent the newly created department of the Brazos in the legislature on September 7 during his imprisonment in Mexico.

1877—On September 10, a telephone conversation was held between the Galveston Western Union Telegraph office and the office of the Galveston News. This was the first commercial use of the telephone.

1881—An election was held on September 6 to locate the University of Texas.

1900—On September 8 a tropical hurricane swept away the city of Galveston. Approximately 6,000 lives were lost—Texas State College for Women (CIA).

BULLFIGHT FOR CENTENNIAL

Dallas, Texas—An unusual bullfight is scheduled at the Texas Centennial Exposition by Sidney Franklin, American bullfighter. There is a state yaw against the real thing. In the event planned the matador will take all the chances of a usual fight, while the bull takes none.

STORMS FILM GATES

Dallas, Texas—A modern Cinderella departed from the Texas Centennial Exposition the other day to try for fame in Hollywood. She was Geraldine Robertson, West Texas ranch town of Lamesa, crowned Queen of the Centennial in a statewide competition. The 17-year-old platinum blonde was described as a perfect screen model.

EXTENSION ENTOMOLOGISTS SUGGESTS CLEAN-UP TO COMBAT WEEVILS

College Station—"To reduce the number of boll weevils in the cotton fields next year every farmer should plow up all cotton growth as soon as cotton picking is complete," says R. R. Reppert, Extension entomologist.

"Cotton boll weevils feed only on green cotton and develop only in green cotton squares or bolls. Killing cotton growth early thus removes the food of the weevil. If the growth is entirely killed as early as two weeks before frost, practically all weevils will starve before going into winter quarters.

"Absolute lack of food for only a short period during the active season, that is previous to killing frosts, will cause death from starvation. If allowed to reach the dormant state, weevils can live several months without food, and it is these over-wintering weevils that breed and supply the next season's herds," he added.

"A total destruction of the plant substance is not necessary nor desirable," Reppert warned. "All our soils need this organic matter returned for continued profitable production. It is enough in the matter of weevil control that the plant be merely killed.

"Often a plow set shallow to clip the tap roots just below the surface of the soil is a successful practice. Merely chopping or clipping the stalks will not answer, because the stumps will throw out new growth ideal for weevil food," he concluded.

KELLY ON EXPO POLE

Dallas, Texas—Shipwreck Kelly, veteran flagpole sitter, finally has reached the Texas Centennial Exposition. He had been one of the few celebrities "out of pocket". He announced his intentions of "seeing the show through".

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

YOU'D be surprised how many honest taxi drivers there is. You hear all kinds of things about them cheating, but you don't often hear about the good things they do. Well, there was one of these guys eating his lunch at a beanery in New York, and he says to another taxi man:

"Well, I finally found the old guy that left the two thousand dollars in my cab."

"Yeah, that was a month ago he left it. Did you just find him?"

"Sure, I had to advertise for a week. Then he come to my house after the dough."

"How much did he give you?"

"Two dollars."

"Pretty soft for you!"

"Soft? What do you mean? I don't think two bucks is a lot. It cost me more than that to advertise."

"Yeah, but you see he didn't even try to charge you interest on the two thousand bucks."

"It's A Small World"

JUST TO SHOW you how much some people value their privilege to vote in this good old U. S. A., James W. Gerard, the former Ambassador to Germany, paid $3400 to be sure he wouldn't lose his right to vote this Fall. It seems that under the law in his State, anyone who bets on the outcome of an election may lose his vote. Mr. Gerard had offered $20,000 to $10,000 on the re-election of President Roosevelt, although the current odds were much lower. The bet was immediately taken up by two Republicans. Discovering he was endangering his own right to vote, Mr. Gerard called it off and paid $1700 to each of the people on the other end of the bet, to cancel it. Of course, you can't just call off a bet after you've made it, and Mr. Gerard showed good sportsmanship by paying the other bettors to cancel. Still, $3400 is a lot of money to pay for a vote—or rather, to pay for being de-voted to betting.

YOU CAN BE ALIVE and dead at the same time, according to the law. Johan Karlsson was last heard from in 1883—fifty-three years ago. He was declared dead by the district court of Vettanda, Sweden, but the Surrogate's Court of New York City is not convinced he's dead, and won't release $2100 standing in his name in a New York bank. Usually the courts declare a man's dead after he's been missing 7 years. If Karlsson isn't dead yet, he certainly will be by the time the courts get through wrangling over him.

UP IN ALBERTA, Canada, they've got a new kind of money and a new kind of tax. The government is issuing scrip—paper money which is redeemable in regular Canadian money at the end of two years—and you have to put a stamp on this money every week. In other words if you get stuck with a lot of money on Saturday night, you've got to buy a lot of stamps to put on it before you can pass it to the next fellow. At the end of the two years, each $1 scrip will have pasted on it $1.04 worth of stamps—and these stamps will all have been bought with regular Canadian "hard" money. This seems to put us right back where we started doesn't it—except somebody's out 4c. Well, maybe you can figure out what it's all about. They call it "Prosperity" Scrip. That's a funny name for it. Already the citizens are protesting with the slogan "Scrap the Scrip."

THE GERMAN AIRSHIP "Hindenburg" is too small to carry all the people who want to cross the Atlantic on her, and they're adding quarters for 16 more passengers. On her six trips this summer she carried 101 percent of capacity—some passengers sleeping in the lounge when they couldn't get berths. Pretty soon the Hindenburg will have to put on a couple of trailers.

THE OTHER DAY a 12 year old homing pigeon returned to its home in White Plains, New York after being gone two years on a 2,000 mile trip from Columbia South America. "Louie"—that's the pigeon's name—had been given up for lost long ago, but back he came, with a "fluent" understanding of Spanish! His owner thinks he must have met an attractive senorita pigeon along the way—two years is a record absence for a pigeon accustomed to "homing sweet home!"

CHEESE DISHES FOR ECONOMY

Many dishes are substantial enough to serve as meat substitutes. They are varied in character and hence may be used frequently without monotony.

CHEESE PUFFIT

One cup left over cooked ham, 1 tsp. minced onion, 2 tsp. butter, 2 1/2-inch slices soft bread, 2 eggs seperated, 1/2 lb. fresh yellow cheese, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1-4 tsp. paprika, 1 1-3 cups hot milk 2 tsp. minced parsley.

Put ham and onion through grinder. Pan-fry gently three minutes with butter. Arrange in a layer in a deep baking dish rubbed with fat. Break bread into small pieces. Sliver cheese. Combine bread, cheese, beaten egg yolk and milk. Add salt and paprika. Let stand 20 minutes. Add parsley. Then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into baking dish containing ham. Bake in a slow oven 45 minutes.

CHEESE BISCUITS

Two cups flour, 5 tsp. baking powder, 1 tsp. salt, 2 tbsp. shortening, 1/2 cup grated cheese, 3-4 cup milk.

Mix sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with a knife. Add cheese, then mix milk gradually and mix to a soft dough. Roll out on a thick-soft dough. Roll out on a thickness. Cut with biscuit cutter. Bake in a quick oven 10 to 15 minutes.

CHEESE RAMEKINS

Cook in a sauce pan until smooth. 4 tablespoons grated bread, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 2 tablespoons butter and pepper and salt to taste. Add yolks then whites of 3 eggs. Grease ramekins and fill three-fourths full and bake 6 minutes. Serve at once.

FROZEN CHEESE TARTS

Mix 1 pound unsalted butter, 1 pound cottage cheese and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Set in a refrigerator over night. Roll out thin on a floured board, cut in two inch squares, fill with sliced peaches, preserved figs or jam pinch the four corners together, place on a buttered tin and bake in a moderate oven until brown.

USES FOR SOUR CREAM

Sour cream as an ingredient of fine cooking is too apt to be overlooked, and this is a pity, for it imparts a flavor and richness to many dishes that is unsurpassable. The following dishes are but a few of many that utilize sour cream to great advantage.

CHEESE TORTE

One pkg. zwieback, 2 tbsp. sugar, 2 tbsp. butter.

Roll the zwieback to fine crumbs. Add the butter and sugar and line a spring form, pressing the crumbs firmly into the bottom and sides. Fill with a custard filling and bake in a slow oven.

CUSTARD FILLING

One cup sugar, 1 cup soured cream, 1lb. cottage cheese, 1-8 tsp. salt, 2 tbsp. flour, 1 tsp. vanilla, 4 eggs.

Put cream through a sieve, cream with sugar, flour and salt. Add beaten yolks, soured cream and vanilla. Mix well and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into the pwieback-lined pan.

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

Two cups brown sugar, 3 squares bitter chocolate, 1/2 sour cream, 1/2 cup butter, 3-4 cup hot water, 2 eggs, 2 cups flour, 1 heaping tsp. soda.

Dissolve chocolate in hot water Cream butter and sugar. Add beaten egg yolks. Dissolve soda in a little milk and thin the cream. Combine all mixtures and let stand for 3 minutes before mixing in the sifted flour. Bake in a shallow pan in a moderate oven 40 minutes.

BOILED FISH

One silver trout, 1 carrot, 1 onion, 1 quart water, 3 stalks celery, salt and pepper. 1/2 pint soured cream.

Slice fish, bring water with diced vegetables to a boil, add minutes. Remove fish to platt-fish salt to taste. Boil thirty ers. Strain liquid in a bowl, add soured cream and pour over the fish.

welcome the new hats. They feature high crowns that come down with a graceful swoop over the right eye and add height to a figure. They are trimmed in quills and ostrich in bright colors. There are some hats with the entire crown of wings, and velvet figures such as leaves are combined with patent leather cloth to form new and exciting adornments.

New materials are coming in. Designers predict the popularity of antelope, velours, and velvet. They are pointing out the possibilities of fur trimmed hats to match coats, and also the rich color possibilities of velvet. Velvet hats tends to bridge the season, and they are shown with and without brims. Turban variations and the high cone with brim are styles that are especially good.

Berets still retain their popularity, however slight changes are seen in styles and shape. New and interesting models in felt are displayed. They follow the same general styles of the newer materials and prove much more versatile to the majority of women, according to the girls at Texas State College for Wo-

The Spanish revolution has influenced designers with the result that they have created models that recall the dark-eyed beauty of Madrid. One black felt fits the head like a cap and rises in a sharp ridge like a dancers comb at the back. A mantilla veil comes down over the eyes.

SYNOPSIS
Jeff Hawkins and Wahoo Jones, bandits, join the Texas Rangers to procure inside information about payrolls and gold shipments to send to their outlaw pal, Polka Dot McGee. A budding romance between Amanda, daughter of the Rangers' commanding officer, and the tall and handsome Jeff Hawkins is interrupted when Indians in all parts of Texas go on the warpath. Hawkins and Jones distinguish themselves as Indian fighters, Hawkins saving the lives of a small band of Rangers trapped in a cave by Indians.

CHAPTER VI

THAT battle in Needle Canyon proved to be the turning point in the Indian war. With two hundred and fifty of their bravest warriors exterminated, the Comanches surrendered en masse and, with their squaws and papooses, tramped stolidly back to their reservations. Never again would they be strong enough

... legal-like, of course. And I'm puttin' Sam in his place. Get me?"
"Listen, Jeff," his friend interrupted uncomfortably. "I don't know how . . . I'm not tryin' to be sentimental . . . you know me . . . but count me out on that deal."
"Count you out?" Jeff was stunned.
"This ain't been so bad for us . . . has it?" Wahoo rambled on. "They like us here, don't they? We're among right people, real friends, for the first time . . . ain't we? When Rodriguez went to climb that cliff . . . knowin' he might get killed . . . Say Jeff, warn't that one of the finest things you ever seen?"
"Yeah, Rodriguez was an A-1 game hombre." Jeff was fighting with himself in order not to be swayed by Wahoo's plea.
"An' Captain Stafford—dyin' like that. . . That was great too."

live to be a hundred and wouldn't mention it to you. But he told me if he ever did settle down it would be with you."
"What am I supposed to do—sit and yearn?"
"Not if you're the kind of girl I think you are," answered Wahoo as he saw his plan for getting Jeff back into the fold taking form. "Jeff's headin' up toward Kimble county purty soon. If you . . ."
"Drink your buttermilk!" The girl's voice was sharp as she thrust a glass of the thick liquid into his hand and hurried toward the door.
When Amanda, her face set determinedly, reached the corral, she found that Jeff already had roped a horse and was busy saddling it. As he tightened the girth and reached for his rope the girl handed it to him silently.

Wahoo was laid up with his wound to attempt to withstand the onrush of civilization.

Thanks to Wahoo, Jeff escaped with only slight wounds. But his friend was laid up for many days in a bedroom of the Bailey home which had been turned into an improvised hospital. There the ex-stage-driver was forced to regale young Davie with tales of Jeff's heroism, for the boy accepted Wahoo's part in the battle as a matter of course, but insisted on making a demi-god out of Hawkins.
"Say, the way you talk you'd think Jeff whipped them Injins single-handed," Wahoo protested angrily at last. "Why, if it warn't for me coverin' Jeff's climb, he'd never have got to the top at all. I never shot so fast in my life—Injins come tumblin' down like rotten apples!"
"You Rangers ought to be grateful to Jeff all right," agreed the boy. "If he hadn't found Company B you'd all be dead."
He was interrupted by a hammering on the door. A second later Hawkins himself stood in the doorway.
"Gee, Jeff, we was just talkin' about you," cried the boy.
"Do me a favor, will you, Davie?" grinned the other. "Turn Baldy loose in the pasture an' see he gets plenty of grass."
As the boy dashed out with a whoop Jeff sat down on Wahoo's bed and said without preliminaries: "I'm expectin' Sam."
"What for?" His friend swallowed and did not meet Jeff's eyes.
"To talk a little business. That Injin fight did the trick. We're aces with the Major. An' I've picked a sweet job—plenty sweet. This is goin' to be a gold mine . . . the kind of money we can retire on. They're sending me up to Kimble County, the richest part of the state. A bad hombre named Higgins runs it. He collects tribute from every saloon, every gamblin' game; he has fellers rustlin' cattle an' horses; he makes everybody pay an' everybody's afraid of him. Well," as Wahoo stirred restlessly, "I'm throwin' out that feller

"What're you tryin' to do—break me down?" snarled Jeff savagely. "Wal, I tell you you're crazy! You make me sick. What's bein' Rangers goin' to get us? If you don't get shot you'll wind up without a nickel by the time you're fifty. Not for me! I want all I can get while I can enjoy it . . . an' Sam an' me's gonna get it! But if you say so it's a two-way ticket from now on! I'm dealing you out. So long, Pudgy!"
As Jeff walked out and slammed the door behind him Wahoo half-started to call him back, then gritted his teeth and turned his face to the wall.
"What was the matter with Mr. Hawkins?" inquired a soft voice a moment later. Wahoo turned over to stare at Amanda, who had entered the room with a tray on which was a pitcher of buttermilk and a glass.
"Aw," her patient stammered helplessly. Then, as he got one of his few inspirations. "Aw, he's just in love, I guess."
"In love?" gasped the girl, her face white. "Who with?"
"With you, I reckon." Wahoo was sticking to his original lie.
"He's sure got a funny way of showing it. Storming past me without saying hello."
"You know what we were talking about?" was the crafty inquiry. "We were talkin' about you. That's why . . . Jeff's crazy about you but he don't dare tell you."
"I don't believe it!" The girl blushed deeply.
"Why, when we was lookin' for Injins, he talked 'bout nothin' but you . . . all the time!"
"You're joking, Wahoo. . . . What did he say about me?"
"Oh . . ." Wahoo was stumped for a moment, then plunged ahead. "He talked 'bout your hair . . . an' the color of your eyes . . . the way you walk. . . . He likes everything about you."
"You sure could have fooled me." Amanda tried not to act thrilled.
"He's awful shy. Why he could

"Thanks," he grunted without looking up. Then, as he reached for his slicker, he again found it handed to him.
"Thanks," he said again, but this time he looked up to find Amanda regarding him with laughing eyes.
"What's the matter with me?" she inquired impulsively.
"I don't know . . ." he was startled, "as how anything's the matter."
"Do you think I'm pretty?"
"Yeah . . . a man would call you pretty."
"Why don't you tell me that?" she stormed suddenly, "instead of tellin' it to other people."
"Beggin' your pardon," he looked at her in amazement across the horse's back. "What are you talkin' about?"
"So you like my eyes!" She was becoming more and more exasperated. "You don't even know what color they are!"
"Right now, they look a little greenish," he laughed, mystified.
"And my hair," she continued resolutely. "And the way I walk and talk! You like everything about me—don't you? Answer me!"
"I don't know what to make of you," he gasped.
Throwing aside all feminine nicety, Amanda walked briskly around the horse and confronted him. "Why don't you face the truth . . . like me?" she demanded. "We love each other!"
"That's nonsense!" Jeff seemed on the verge of running away.
"Don't you believe in love?"
"No."
"But you do love me?" She was recalling Wahoo's words.
"No-o-o-o."
"Well I love you. There, you made me say it!" Impulsively she threw herself into his arms, kissing him fervently on the lips. At first Jeff was stunned. Then his arms tightened about her. But as they did so Amanda wriggled free and dashed toward her home, laughing hysterically. (To be continued)

"Where Flour is Proved"

CARAMEL CAKE

1½ cups white sugar, 3 cups flour, 1 tsp. mapepine, 3-4 cup butter, 2 cups milk, 3 tsp. baking powder, 1 tsp. vanilla, 4 eggs. In a heavy skillet melt one cup butter over a low flame. The syrup should be a light golden brown by the time the sugar is melted. Remove the skillet from fire and add boiling hot milk. Blend together until mixture is smooth returning to heat if necessary. Set aside to cool. Cream the remaining sugar with the butter. Add well beaten egg yolks. Mix well. Add caramelized liquid alternately with the flour which has been sifted with the baking powder 4 times. During this process add mapepine and vanilla. Fold in stiffly beaten egg and bake in a greased stemmed loaf pan 55 minutes in a moderate oven 375 degrees F.

APPLE CAKE (GERMAN)

Two cups flour, ½ tsp. salt, 2 egg yolks, 2 apples, ½ tsp. cinnamon, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1-3 cup shortening, 3-4 cup milk, 3-4 cup sugar, 1 grated lemon rind. Mix and sift all dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening and add egg yolks which have been mixed with milk. Add lemon rind and pour into shallow cake pan and top with apples which have been cut into eights. Sprinkle top with sugar, cinnamon and lemon rind. Bake in moderate oven 45 minutes. Cut in squares and serve with whipped cream.

FUDGE CAKE

One-half cup butter, 1 3-4 cups sugar, 1 cup milk, 4 eggs beaten separately, 3 cups flour, 3 tsp. baking powder, 2 squares bitter chocolate, ½ cup boiling water, ½ cup broken English walnut meats, ½ cup raisins, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Cream the butter thoroughly, add gradually the sugar and stir until well blended with the butter. Melt the chocolate over boiling water and allow to dissolve. Add to the butter and sugar mixture. Beat the yolks and add to the above. Add vanilla. Measure the flour after sifting once. Then add the baking powder and sift twice. Put the broken nut meats in the flour and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk. Lastly, fold in the thoroughly beaten egg whites. Bake in a loaf pan in a slow oven for one hour. Do not light the oven until the cake is put in. Increase heat slightly after the first half hour. Use any frosting you wish, but I like it with plain white frosting.

GINGERBREAD

One and one-half cups sugar, ½ cup butter, 1 egg, 1 cup sour milk, ½ cup molasses, 2 cups flour, 1-4 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. ginger, 1 tsp. cinnamon, ½ tsp. cloves, ½ tsp. nutmeg, 1 tsp. soda 2 tsp. baking powder.

Cream sugar and butter; add beaten egg, then mix sour milk and molasses together, alternately with dry ingredients sifted together. Pour into a greased and floured shallow pan and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven, 400 degrees F. When cool trim the edges of the gingerbread, split into two layers and put together with a generous filling of cream cheese softened with fresh sweet milk. Spread the softened cheese over the top same as icing or whipped cream. The gingerbread may also be baked in individual cup cakes, split, filled and topped with the cream cheese.

In his next article, Dr. Ireland will discuss the all-important problem of milk and other nourishing foods for the growing child and the midday lunch at school in particular.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

TRUE STANDARD

What educational standards do we have for our children? How would our hopes read if we put them into words? These are appropriate questions at this time, for it is the beginning of a new school year. It is the time for casting out false standards and for thinking clearly and constructively of the new.

It is my hope that by next June my sixth grade daughter can name the boundaries of Peru? Or recite the dates of the Greek and Roman eras? Never! But it disturbs me greatly to know that such are the primary objects of some schools. On the other hand I am more than pleased with the changes taking place for we are in a transition period of great significance. There is a weeding out of non-essentials going on; a most wholesome change from which the public school will emerge in its true colors—the foundation stone of society.

But I am most sincerely interested in having my daughter experience the joy of human living, the wonders of nature, the comfort of music. Besides I want her to learn sportsmanship, for it is the backbone of character and citizenship and neighborliness.
