AS MAINE GOES, SO GOES THE UNION, AND MAINE GOES REPUBLICAN

Early returns from Maine show all important candidate offices going Republican. Senatorial candidates have safe leads on early returns. Republican gubernatorial candidate, Senator Wallace H. White Jr. is well out in front.

So goes Maine, so goes the U. S., and this state, as believed by many, is the undisputed barometer of national sentiment in presidential campaigns.

TWO OTHER SCHOOLS WILL OPEN MONDAY; MOUND AND IRELAND

They're still opening, and Mound and Ireland schools are due to open next Monday, Sept. 21, according to County Superintendent J. M. Witcher.

Yesterday morning, Mr. Witcher attended the opening of the Oglesby schools and reported everything going on smoothly at that point, with one of the largest enrollments in the history of the school.

PURMELA DANCE PAVILION RE-OPENS FRIDAY NITE

Emory Fletcher, manager of the Purmela dance hall announces elsewhere in these columns the re-opening of his dance hall near Purmela.

Mr. Fletcher invites all who wish to dance to come out on Friday night for his opening.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Sunday, September 13 was indeed a gala day in the Bethel Duncan home at Turnersville when he and Mrs. Duncan entertained with a birthday dinner in honor of their mother, Mrs. Celestia Robinson of The Grove.

The guests began arriving at about ten o'clock. Mrs. Robinson knowing nothing about the plans, having been invited by a friend to accompany her to Turnersville to spend the day in the Duncan home, was surprised to find on her arrival other guests to greet her who presented her with many lovely and useful gifts.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in pastel shades of pink and blue and the long table was centered with a four-tiered birthday cake, iced in white with delicate white flowers with pink centers and bears. (Continued on Page 4.)

Opening yesterday after preliminary registration Saturday, Gatesville public school system opened with seven hundred and sixty-five pupils enrolled in all grades, but a report from the colored school had not been given, it being expected there would be enough to fill out to a total of 800 enrollees. The high school has 380, elementary 385.

Saturday morning registration began, and a program was given with the song "America" led by D. W. Diserens, band director, and accompanied by Miss Mayme Sue Halbrook, a teacher in the high school. Invocation was led by Rev. M. M. Chunn, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Gatesville. Following this all teachers were introduced and the respective high school classes were asked to stand, so that the students, especially the Freshmen, would know who to respect.

Superintendent Erceel Brooks then gave instructions to the students with reference to the schedule of work, which was published in last Friday's News, and made other important announcements.

Principal E. D. Shelton, of the elementary school then took the elementary students to their building and the assignment of various work and classes was the order of the day.

In conversation with Mr. Brooks he stated that about 50 more Juniors had registered than was expected and somewhat confused the the present schedule of classes, making a good many conflicts which would be ironed out in a few days.

Mr. Brooks expects the enrollment in high school to reach 400 by the end of the week, and stated that Gatesville was to be congratulated on having such an enrollment. "Most towns of 6000 to 8000" Mr. Brooks stated do not have more high school enrollees than that. "This is the largest enrollment in the history of Gatesville schools," he added.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MUSIC AND ART COURSES

Since a number of teachers are interested in public school music and art, Misses Johnson and Caldwell made a trip recently to Clifton to interest that College in giving such courses.

They agreed to do so if sufficient teachers were interested.

Russian camps cared for 100, 000 children this year.

FLAT SCHOOL HOLDS OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY NITE DEDICATE BLDG.

Patrons of Flat school district celebrated open house Saturday night with the dedication of the new portion of the building which has just been completed this summer.

Judge Robert W. Brown was the principal speaker for the occasion and County Superintendent J. M. Witcher also made a brief talk to those at the dedication services.

The building now has an auditorium or study hall seating 250, besides seven rooms and a library and office. Eight teachers are included in the faculty, headed by Superintendent C. R. Humphries.

Announcement was to have been made in the columns of the News Friday, but through an oversight the story was omitted.

This community is one of the better and more progressive communities of the county and the people are to be congratulated as well as commended in keeping their school plan up with the growth of other institutions in the community and the county.

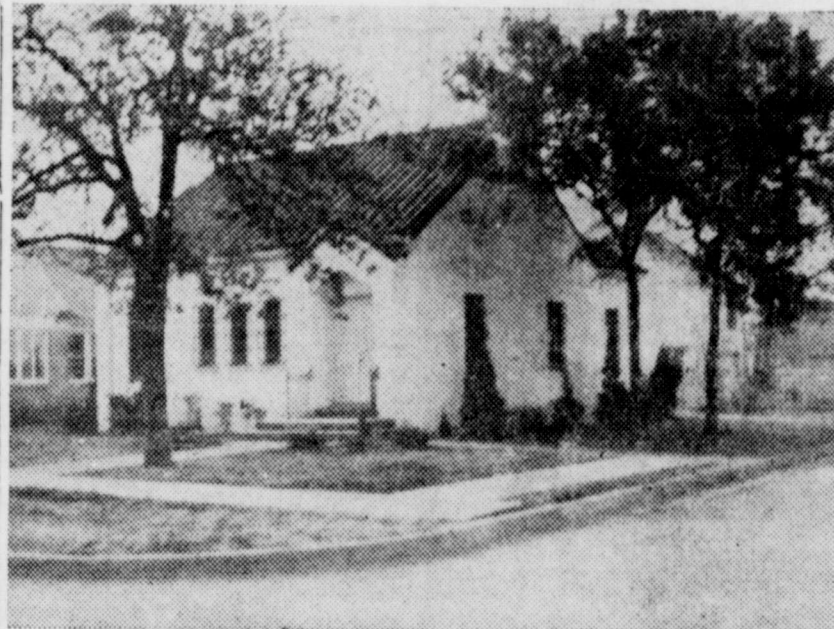

Ireland School to Have Eleven Grades, Same As Taught Last Year

It has become the belief, so announces M. L. Bannister, superintendent and T. N. Grubb, secretary of the Ireland school, that the Ireland school will be only a nine-grade school this year. We are therefore taking this means to announce to all parents and children who may be concerned in this matter that the Ireland school will be an 11-grade school this year just as it was last with the full backing of the State Department of Education.

Both Mr. C. M. Elwell, head of the rural school division, and Mr. J. W. O'Banion, chief supervisor of schools, have made it clear that inasmuch as the Ireland school was approved as an eleven-grade school last year by the County Board, and furthermore since it was accredited with 9 units of affiliation, that it is their opinion that it should be continued as such.

The school will open Monday, September 21, as an eleven-grade, accredited school, with regular bus transportation as in the past.

Telephone Company to Hold Open House October 1

Celebrating the completion and use of the new Gulf States Telephone Co. new exchange, at 10th and Main streets, the company will hold open house Thursday, October 1, according to local manager W. W. (Bill) Bamberg.

Celebrants will include S. A. Lindsay, president of the company, and other officials who will be here for the day.

Oscar Burton, general manager, requests that everyone in Gatesville and vicinity be the company's guest on that day and inspect the new grounds and equipment.

Pictured in these columns is the new building which has just recently been completed by the company, which adds greatly to the commercial side of Gatesville as well as being one of the most beautiful buildings in the city.

RECRUITS ARE NOW BEING RECEIVED FOR MANY ARMY BRANCHES

The United States Army recruiting service at Dallas has been authorized to enlist men for cavalry at Ft. Bliss, El Paso; field artillery and infantry at Fort Sill, Lawton, Oklahoma; and infantry at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio.

Application blanks can be obtained from the Postmaster here or at recruiting stations at Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Paris, Tyler or Denison.

Prosperity Smiles on Coryell County

It's a fact! Witness the crowds here Saturday afternoon and evening which were the largest we've ever seen in Gatesville, with the exception of circus, or election day. Folks, people don't come to town like that unless they are prosperous. They were not just sight-seeing.

Here's what a few of the Gatesville merchants said about Saturday:

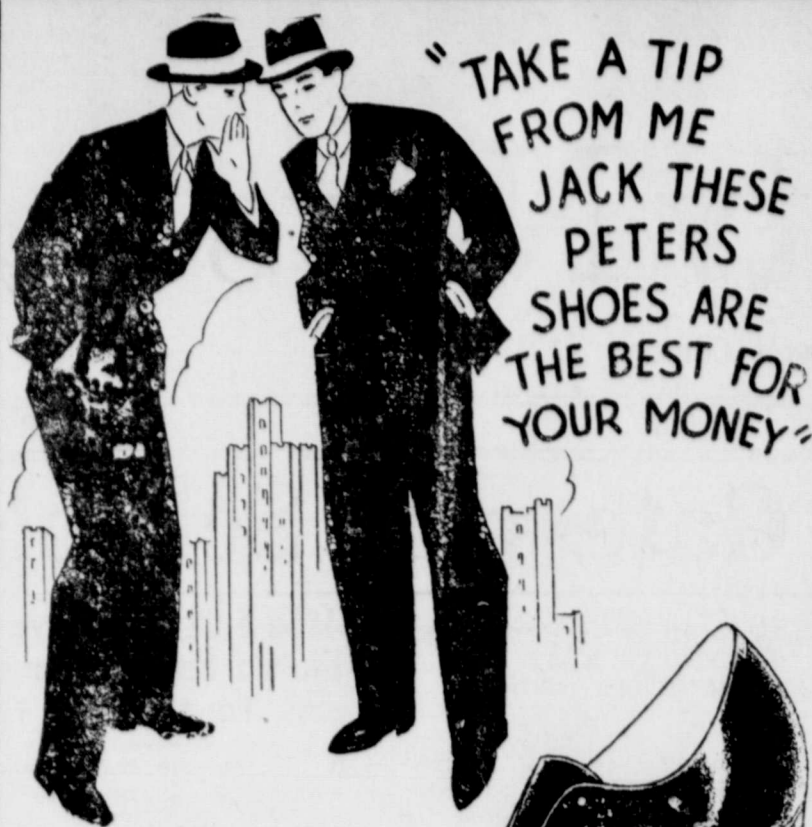

"Starting nearest this office, George B. Painter, of Painter's said briefly "a very good day. Then skipping around, W. T. Hix of the Western Auto Associate Store stated, "about my best Saturday." Jack Horne of Horne's Bakery said: "Stop it!

It was too good to be true!" V. V. Lively of Lively's Shoe Shop "Saturday wasn't so hot, but I had a powerful good week." Byron Leaird Sr., of Leaird's Department Store, stated he "had a very good day, and for part of the time Saturday I could have used 8 to 12 more clerks to advantage." Doc Ruthford of Doc's Sandwich Shop, said "best single day since election, and almost as good as circus day." Joe Hanna stated, "an excellent day."

The picture shows, Regal, Palace and Ritz, played to capacity crowds, and, another capacity crowd could not get in for each performance, so they were surely happy, after Saturday's showing.

Subscription business picked up for the News on Saturday, what with some of the fall rates coming in on the Dailies and other out of county papers, it looks like we're all going to get well this fall along with our good customers.

From one of the local banks we understand, $46,000 was placed on deposit, and a stack of notes, mortgages about so high, were taken up by the stream of dollars that passed thru the tellers' windows Saturday. Not hearing from the other two banks, we are confident that they did equally as well.

WORLD COMMENT

By JOE BURNS

Competent observers of European affairs believe the recent extension of the German period of military service from one to as Germany's ally. These two years was for two purposes:

first, the second step preparatory to the long anticipated drive to the East against Soviet Russia, following the initial step of scrapping the military provisions of the Versailles treaty and re-creating a standing army for the Reich; secondly, to bluff the powers of Western Europe into permitting the incorporation of the Free City of Danzig into Germany following the close of the Olympic Games at Berlin this fall.

The struggle in Spain between Communists and Fascists assumes added importance when it is recalled that Europe is divided as it was in 1924 between two opposing camps, at that time professing respectively the principles of democracy and autocracy, and at this time Communism and Fascism, respectively.

Following the emergence of Germany under the leadership of Adolf Hitler and his Nazis State on the sea and on the
as a great power—the leading power of Europe—including the revivification of the German
State on the sea and on the Kaiser, been a scramble on the part of the smaller and weaker continental powers to enroll under the Hitler flag as an ally of Germany, and coincidentally there has been a strengthening and tightening of the alliance directed solely against Germany and its expansionist ambitions.

The nature of the alliance against Germany is identical to that of Britain, France and Czarist Russia of pre-war days with the exception that Communism has been projected into the alliance by the inclusion of the new Soviet Russian State and the rise to power of a liberal, pinkist Popular Front government in France under the leadership of Socialist Premier Leon Blum. Britain is not officially included in the alliance; indeed, the vacillating foreign policy of the Baldwin government has tended toward sympathy with the German cause.

Italy has succeeded the defunct Austro-Hungarian Empire nations form the bulwark of the defense against Communism in Europe and of those forces favoring a revision of the treaties which followed the termination of hostilities in 1918.

Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia were for a decade following Versailles securely within French orbit of control. Today the Czechs Republic remains the only one in firm alliance with France; the other three having been wooed in varying degrees away from Paris by Germany.

Rumania has just dismissed its smartest statesman, wily Nicholas Titulescu, foreign minister in a dozen cabinets and pro-French advocate, preparatory to going Fascist or Nazi in a big way. The flood of German manufactured products into the Yugoslav kingdom have brought that nation effectively under economic control of the Reich, and recently it was thought the ten year no-aggression treaty made by Hitler with Poland had effectively checked that nation's relation with France.

Pilsudski, Colonel Josef Beck directed the foreign policy of the Warsaw government for some time and showed a decided preference for Berlin but the recent succession of Gen. Rydz-Smigley to the post of No. 1 man at Warsaw and his following visit to Paris to attend the French War maneuvers point to another arrangement between Paris and the Poles.

Belgium, victim of German invasion for four horrible years, joins Czechoslovakia as the small powers adhering to the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact. Czechoslovakia is construcing airports for the use of the Soviet air fleet in the event of an attack upon either France or the Soviet by Germany.

All indications point to peace for Austria for one year at least Germany's war lords have prevailed upon Hitler to abandon Nazi schemes in Austria and Southwestern Europe for the present and to concentrate upon the Baltic region—and the Soviet. Their argument, it is said, is that all Europe would be upon the Reich's neck should it invade Austria, including Germany's present ally, Italy, while Britain and perhaps France will not go to war to protect the independence of an obscure Baltic republic.

This explains the Austro-German treaty of amity on July 14.
It also accounts for increased Nazi activity within the limits of Danzig, which expects to succumb to German pressure in the fall and by force or its its own free be incorporated into the German Reich.

After Danzig, what? Britain, it may safely assumed, will not go to war to protect Danzig nor will Russia and France. But Hitler's insatiable appetite for expansion will only be whetted following another triumph there and where will he then turn?
To the Baltic? But there the Soviet will fight, for a German advance into the Baltic region would be only a preliminary step to the seizure of Ukraine.

Nevertheless, the danger of involving all Europe and perhaps the entire world in another gigantic and catastrophic conflict is considerably minimized by Hitler's about-face in turn-

FREEMAN AND WILLIAMSON FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Williamson of the Slater community were hosts in the celebration of the 36th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Williamson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Freeman of Pearl, and also the fifth birthday of their daughter, Danna Lajuane Williamson.

The occasion took place Sunday, September 13, with thirty-six friends and relatives present: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Freeman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Deaton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hill, Mr. and Mrs. William Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodway Jr., and Mrs. Hayes of Picoke; Mrs. Clive Gray and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Perry, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Freeman and Tom Freeman, Gatesville, and the honorees.

A barbecue dinner with all the trimmings surrounded the cake which was centered with candles. Ice cream and cake were served during the afternoon. Boat riding, games and conversation supplied the entertainment for the day, which ended with—"nice time," "good luck" and "til we meet again!"

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR MRS. M. J. GLASS, PIONEER CITIZEN

Mrs. M. J. Glass was born in Coryell County near The Grove, October 28, 1864, in which vicinity she lived her entire life time. When a small child she united with the Missionary Baptist Church at Pleasant Ridge and has lived a devoted Christian life. Mrs. Glass was loved by everyone for her kindness and tender care; especially will she be remembered for her ministering to the sick.

On January 13, 1881, she was married to Mr. M. J. Glass, to which union were born 11 children, nine of whom survive. Before her marriage, she was Miss Fannie Alice Dunn.

Mrs. Glass, who had been in ill health for the past ten months, passed away at her home near The Grove Saturday, September 12, at 5:30 p. m.

Funeral services were held at Flint Creek church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. Ollie Williams of The Grove officiating.

Mrs. Glass is survived by the following children: D. I. Glass, Mrs. A. J. Walls, Mrs. Seul Donaldson, Mrs. Ed Ayres, of Gatesville; Jess Glass, Horace Glass, of The Grove; John Glass of Overton; Mrs. Ralph Weaver, Friendship, and Mrs. Omar Farris, South Bosque; by one brother, John Dunn, and one sister, Mrs. Ellie Walch of Oklahoma, by 14 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Pall bearers were Guy Hord, Charlie McGehee, L. H. Hair of Longview, R. C. Hair of Overton, Tom Robinson of Pendleton, Bruce Carlisle, Jeff Ritchie and R. L. Reaneau.

ACROBATIC PIGEON AT CENTENNIAL

Dallas, Sept. 14—When the National Pigeon Show was held at the Texas Centennial Exposition recently it was found that all acrobats are not confined to humans. There were 1,500 pigeons, many of which were "tumblers" skilled in back flops and other acrobatic stunts.

World Comment—

ing to the East. Perhaps, pacifists Britishers argue, Fascists and Communists will kill each off on the steppes of the Russian Ukraine, obviating the necessity for sending British soldiers to the continent to preserve the status quo.

The war-fraught danger of treaties of military alliance is demonstrated, as in 1924 when Germany came to the assistance of Austria and provoked the world calamity of the nineteenth century, whereas otherwise that conflict might have been localized to a punitive war against Serbia by Austria, by the fact that France is bound by treaty to go to the aid of the Soviets in the event of an attack by Germany. Thus it will be virtually impossible to confine any conflict between Germany and Russia to the two nations.

Britain remains as always the key to the entire European setup. What will the British do That familiar question is resounding in the nervous chancelleries of Berlin, Rome, Paris and Moscow today as Stanley Baldwin and Anthony Eden dilly-dally among their vineyards and gardens and in each succeeding speech in foreign matters contradict what was said in the preceding one.

The scales seem to weigh in favor of France in spite of protestations in favor of Germany. Hitler is regarded by many Britishers as the world's greatest nuisance and troublemaker. On the other hand, many of the London diplomatic circle have a genuine sympathy and understanding for the situation with which the Germans were confronted following Versailles and blame Hitler upon the selfish arrogance of their own and the French statesmen at the peace conference.

DON'T GET "OFF" THE AUTOMOBILE

The automobile is here to stay—and I'm glad of it.

There isn't a greater crank in the world than I am on the subject of careful driving, but, at the same time, there isn't a greater friend of the automobile.

The automobile puts zest into modern life. It gives the city dweller the country and it gives the country dweller the city. I thoroughly enjoy a long motor trip. And I don't need to defend the motor car as a pure transportation device for transaction of business and movements of merchandise.

Automobiles are away ahead of most of the people who drive them.

killings and injuries leads some folks to say that "something will have to be done about automobiles".

I say that something will have to be done about people.

Statistics gathered by The Travelers Insurance Company show that in a relatively small percentage of accidents is it the car's fault. A car is not to blame if its owner has neglected its brakes, lamps or tires—or if he drives like a wild Indian on a rampage.

A car is not to blame if its owner abuses the power it gives him, regards it as a toy instead of a fine transportation instrument, or gets drunk on speed instead of practicing caution and discretion and moderation when he takes the wheel.

Freight trains nowadays act like express specials.
New freight schedules are so fast, sometimes wonder if everything has to be delivered day before yesterday.

Many of our passenger trains are running faster schedules, too. Well, one thing is sure. We make faster runs, but the first railroad commandment is still "Safety First." That's one rule
they won't change.

Western railroads and allied industries provided jobs for 750,000 workers last year. Some of them live in our town. Good neighbors.

Passenger fares are now the lowest in history with substantial reductions on round trips.
And no more surcharge for riding in sleeping cars.

This new Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight—I heard some traveling salesmen talking about it on the train yesterday. They said it saves shippers a lot of money and centers all responsibility on the railroad. The railroad picks up the freight at shipper's door and delivers to receiver's door. Of course, local delivery men get the haul from

DO YOU KNOW WHAT HAS BEEN HAPPENING AT MAYES PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO?

You will come by and see our display window, of course. But please do more than that. COME IN. Let us show you what has been done inside. We've worked pretty hard and we want you to share our pride in the changes we've made.

There's a newly decorated camera-room, for one thing, with new backgrounds and new lights. AND a dressing room with a properly lighted mirror, a cushioned chair and plenty of room to hang things while you dress.

We have some new folders and frames to add the proper dignity—or zip (depending on your type or your taste!) to your finished picture.

Bring along your best bib and tucker. We are trained to bring out all of your nicest points and guarantee to do full justice to those comely eyes or that movie-hero profile.

We are all set to provide that not ALL of our energy and thought have been spent on "fixin' up the place."

scream of whistle, the synchronized yells of a cheering section, and the brightly caparisoned bands all unite to give the spectator that familiar spine-tingling thrill.

A football game, in the modern manner, is a combination of an Eastern potentate's court and a Mississippi levee battle-royal. Music and color form a background for a contest of brains and brawn that adds up to a dazzling array to delight the pleasure loving public.

Football and ceremony go hand in hand. Every game of importance is attended by certain rites that would put to shame the charging of the guard at Buckingham Palace and without which the game would become just another athletic contest.

All of which leads up to the question, what is to be done about the dedication of the new football stadium Friday week night?

This is a gala year for Gatesville football and this event should not go unnoticed. An Amateur night has been announced to mark the opening of the new City Hall, but so far nothing has been said about the dedication of the football stadium.

The Lions Club, foremost civic organization, could do much about an appropriate opening for the field if they would only take the matter in hand.

Of course we could hardly expect to see Mayor Gandy on a snow white charger leading a procession of horsemen in review before the stands, with flags flying and bands playing, but that would not be a half-bad idea, eh, dear public?

A little color and ceremony adds a great deal of zest to the game for the average spectator, and this chance should not be missed to sell Coryell County on football.

CHANGES IN RULES FOR 1936

In company with Bob Arnold Jr. this writer attended the 1936 meeting of the Southwestern Board of Officials at Dallas where the principal rule changes for this season were interpreted. Presided over by Coach Morley Jennings of Baylor, the rules were thoroughly gone over and explained to everyone's satisfaction.

Here are the principal changes:

A ball kicked from scrimmage which for any reason does not cross the line of scrimmage, may be recovered and advanced by any player of either team. Before, players of the kicking team could not advance the ball after they had recovered. A clarification brought out by Jennings was that the kicking team could advance the ball twenty yards and then fumble and the defense could recover and advance the ball. This is contrary to the regular fumble rule as the defense cannot run with a fumbled ball. The rule book reads that it is a kicked ball until it is dead and the defense can advance any kicked ball.

A new ruling was made concerning safeties. A safety can be declined this year where the rule read that it could not.

It was clarified this season that no ineligible man could be in advance of an eligible pass receiver, even though he was not in the vicinity of where he pass was thrown.

The 1934 rule concerning a dead ball has been gone back to, which will make the referee blow his whistle a little quicker this year.

The penalty concerning the flogging of a kicker will fall on the referee's judgment this year. Instead of assessing a five yard penalty and first down or merely touching a kicker, the referee may decide whether he contact was unavoidable or not and may or may not assess a penalty. For flagrant roughing of the kicker the penalty is still fifteen yards.

SECOND STRINGERS WINNERS OF SOFTBALL SERIES

Pitched by Doc Ray, of the Firemen, the second team of the News Fans Poll won two out of three games, to sweep the series of softball games.

Losing only the second game 10 to 1, the underdogs decisively battled out the first and third games to the tune of 7 to 1 and 8 to 1.

Pitched by Sasse in the first two games and Blanton in the third, the first team was distinctly outclassed, leaving the fans, who picked them, with, oh so red faces.

Tonight will see a thrill-packed game (supposedly) between Doc's Sandwich Shop, champions of the season, and an All-Star team picked from other clubs of the league.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

WHEN you invite the teacher to dinner at your house, you gotta be careful and not disgrace your kid. Because kids are awful careful what the teacher thinks about the folks at home, and they like to show off to the teacher.

Well, there was a teacher come home to visit little Patricia Bing, and the kid was walking around the house with her, holding on to her hand.

They come to a room where there was a big map spread out on a table and a lot of scraps of paper around.

"Oh, what's this?" says the teacher.

"That there's my home work," says Patricia, and she was all swelled up with pride. So they went into a little room under the roof, and there was a boiler on a gas plate, and a lot of funny pipes and jugs and bottles and some strong mash on the fire.

"My goodness!" says the teacher. "What's all this?"

"Why... ah... that's Daddy's home work!" says the kid, pulling teacher towards the door.

DROUTH CONDITIONS HARD ON YOUNG CHICKS

Dallas, Sept. 14. Due to drouth conditions having dealt a hard blow to young poultry in producing centers the Texas Centennial Exposition's young bird show has been expanded to include old birds, Walter Burton, exposition poultry director, said today.

The drouth, according to Director Burton, retarded the growth of young birds and at the suggestion of breeders the rules have been changed to permit the inclusion of old birds. The show will be held Sept.

"ONCE UPON A TIME"

Once upon a time there was a small town in a county in Central Texas that had a wonderful opportunity to get free publicity of nation-wide scope during a year that every town in the state from size of Podunk to Houston received and capitalized on his publicity, when the world was literally at its door.

Rip Van Winkle reincarnated had infested this small community for that famous twenty years. Even Nero just "fiddled" while this little "Rome" burned. That "Japanese Sand Man" had gotten in his dirty work, and as a result this community slept on its rights—and the grandest opportunity it had ever had slipped by.

Some time in the early part of the perilous year in question, an initial "set-up" had been made at the request of certain directors or officials of this largest exhibition in the state. Then it was voted in a caucus that this community would arise out of its seeming lethargy and do something about it. Committees were appointed to handle the affair, set the dates, furnish the publicity and make general arrangements. However, they have evidently gotten hold of lotus blossoms, poppy or mirahuana, or some other strong sedative, and have lapsed into a coma, from which it seems they will never recover. It seems they have pulled a "bear stunt" and hibernated, leaving the citizens of the county and city "holding the bag" on this snipe hunt.

They are in charge. They are the ones delegated with the responsibility. We are not telling them what to do. We are not even intimating that something should be done and be done IMMEDIATELY. We are just presenting the facts of the situation. We would like to see something done about this business, especially with November 29, the last day of the big show in Texas, (and this being September 15), leaving ever so short a time to get a local celebration of this nature into a reality.

Can anything be done about the matter? We can't, except in the matter of suggesting. Our suggestion is to those in charge, "get busy!"

Copperas Cove Citizen Finds Snake With Legs Near His Home There

Apparently tired of crawling on its belly, a snake killed recently by George Fritz was found to have two distinctly formed feet, each with five toes.

As yet, Mr. Fritz has not been able to identify the species. He says it more closely resembles a rattlesnake than any other, except for the head and the absence of rattlers and of course the presence of the feet. The head had fangs.

About two and a half feet in length, the snake was routed while Fritz was burning weeds along the fences on his place. The feet located on each side of the body one-third the distance from the tip of the tail, were discovered after the snake had been killed.

Mr. Fritz has preserved the snake in alcohol to prove his story.—Copperas Cove Crony.

FEW TENANTS CAN WIN LAND OWNERSHIP UNDER FARM PROGRAM

(This is first of three articles on what is being done by the Resettlement Administration to assist tenant farmers to become landowners).

We might not be so seriously concerned with farm tenancy were a passing or transient condition, if it were simply a stage by which the farmers reached a higher level. But tenancy as it exists in Texas and Oklahoma tends to be a permanent greater part of our farmers are permanently imbedded. Financial returns to the tenant farmer are ordinarily so low that he is prevented from accumulating the reserves which would enable him to loose from that condition.

At a conference of southern agricultural research leaders held at New Orleans, a large amount of new material was made available, which included a study of 700 share croppers in Alabama. It showed that only one out of ten of them ever became owners. Only one out of four rose to the condition of a third-and-fourth renter in which he owned his team and equipment. Seventy-five per cent of them remained their whole life as share croppers.

The study showed that in three years out of four these families lost money or went broke. That is, during three years out of four they made enough only to liquidate what they owed to their landlord, or they increased their debt to him. Another study showed that out of 3,000 share croppers forty per cent were in debt to their present landlords, with a debt of more than one year's standing. The average indebtedness was more than $80 to the present landlord. It was concluded from the results of this study that one-third of the croppers in Alabama were indebted to this extent, and that the average share cropper under the present system can expect no more than a bare living and will remain permanently dependent upon the landlord for credit. There are 76,463 of these share cropper families in Texas and 13,640 in Oklahoma totaling more than 430,000 individuals, who have not teams nor tools and who are also en-

IRELAND GIRLS' 4-H CLUB IS COUNTY WINNER IN CENTENNIAL CONTEST

The Ireland 4-H Club has the highest rating in the county among the 4-H clubs according to the judgement of the H. D. Council judges, Miss Otha Berry and Mrs. George Bamberg. The clubs were scored on percentage of girls in community being 4-H members, completion of club goals, club history written, demonstrator and cooperator stories written, and pictures and clippings of club work during 1936.

That this 4-H club at Ireland should win is indicative of good leadership of the sponsors, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, and cooperation of the officers and members. Miss Etoyle Huckabee is the president and Miss Jamie Lynch is the secretary. Members include Miss Iralada Austin, Lillie Bunnell, Laura B. Hampton, Ruby Lee Lawson, Donaletta Patterson, Pauline Reicerson, Johnnie Mae Robinette, Albertine Robinette, Bernice Squares, Elaine Watkins, Jessie Williams, Rosa B. Williams, La Jaun Walker.

Pecan Grove 4-H club ran second in the contest with a score of 665. points Ireland scored 772 points of a possible 1000. Over the state the judging will be by districts to determine the final winning club which will receive a three day trip to the Centennial with all expenses paid by John W. Carpenter in cooperation with the Texas Power and Light Co.

tirely dependent upon their landlords for food and supplies while making a crop.

Instead of the number of small farm owners increasing, we have found during the last few decades that there has been a concentration of land in the hands of a few owners. There has been an increase in the number of farm operators, but at the present time there are indications that the ownership of these farms is tending more and more to move into the hand of a comparatively few. During one ten year period, a study made in seven cotton states showed that the number of landlords owning more than five farms increased by seventy-five per cent.

We all know that many large plantations have broken up, but when this happened, the land has not been divided among small owners. When put on the block, these plantations are not divided and sold at reduced values to groups of rising small owners, but are sold en bloc to large plantation owners or to business and professional leaders in towns who are looking for investments. These purchasers of foreclosed property are often financed by federal long-term farm credit and become absentee owners.

It has been due to our past financing and credit, as much as to anything else, that the landlord-tenant system has been perpetuated. The Resettlement Administration is now taking over a large number of farms which have fallen into the hands of loan companies, and is breaking them up into small tracts to be sold to tenants and other low income farmers under condition which will make it possible for these small owners to pay them out.

Lets Talk about Clothes

TEXAS STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN (CIA)

Denton Sept. 14-Suits in costume, tailored and sports variations are repeatedly shown shoppers who are looking for something that they can really get the good out of. Designers have predicted an excellent season—one that will see basque jackets, knee length coats, circular or pleated skirts, and swaggers.

Your best buy for this fall and winter is the three piece town suit. It can be worn early in the fall for sport, and later when the weather gets colder you can put on the top coat with the huge fur collar and go pour way in perfect comfort. At one price, it combines a separate casual suit, a two-piece suit, good looking in its own rights, and offering endless possibilities for union with separates.

If you prefer something strickly sport, girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) suggest a boxy swagger in plaid over a solid color jacket with a plain skirt. You can also purchase a plaid skirt with the suit and again have countless opportunities for variations.

This year suits are boosting details that add much to their appearance. For instance pepum are frequently used with furedgings, and this same trimming is used on the tunic styles. Suits reflect three-tiered, lapels, yeather chain link fastenings, and silly braid edges. The costume suit gives you a complete dress with a stylish coat to wear with it—the coat can be either a short jacket or tunic length. Velveteen and woolen combinations are especially attractive and the redingote style is featured in these materials. Short jacket combinations show a wool dress with a hip jacket that is banded in fur from the neck to the bottom of the jacket. It is caught at the neck with a novel clip and hangs open the rest of the way.

NEW WAY FOR SERVING FALL VEGETABLES

Squash, pumpkin and parsnip have an autumnal flavor. And you may give them a new interest by serving in these different ways.

PARSNIP STEW

Scrape and cut in small pieces enough parsnips to make 3 cupfuls. Peel and slice enough potatoes to make 1 1-2 cupful cook the vegetables in water, together until tender. Cut salt pork in small pieces to make 1-2 cupful and fry out, add with the fat the vegetables and when the later are tender add a quart of milk. Bring to the boiling point, thicken with 2 tablespoons of flour blended with cold milk and a little butter, season to taste with salt and pepper and serve with hard crackers or strips of toast.

SQUASH PIE

A cup of steamed or baked squash well mashed or forced through a sieve, 1 cup of brown sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-4 teaspoon of mace and nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup rich milk or cream, 3 eggs beaten without separating and 4 tablespoon of orange juice. Mix all together well and turn into a pastry lined pan, bake in a moderate oven until the custard is set in the center.

SUMMER SQUASH

When young and tender this can be fried in the same manner as egg plant. Winter squash takes much longer to cook and should be soaked in cold water two hours or more before cooking.

STEWED PUMPKIN

Cut in two, remove the seed, slice and pare. Soak for an hour in cold water, then put in boiling water, stew gently, stirring often. When the pieces grow tender and break, drain and squeeze dry and rub through a collander and return to the pan with a seasoning of salt and pepper. Stew rapidly from the bottom till very hot.

SYNOPSIS

Jeff Hawkins and Wahoo Jones, bandits, join the Texas Rangers to procure inside information about payrolls and gold shipments to send to their outlaw pal, Polka Dot McGee. Jones finds that he likes his new life as an officer of the law and wants to abandon the hold-up game. Hawkins, too, is being won away from outlawery by a budding romance with Amanda, beautiful daughter of the Rangers' commanding officer. Hawkins' life is saved by Polka Dot but Hawkins decides to cast his lot with the Rangers and breaks with his outlaw pal.

CHAPTER VIII

"WHEN did you first convince yourself that I was the only girl in the world," Amanda asked as she walked beside Jeff along a picturesque trail not far from the Rangers' camp.

Embarrassed by the silence and the sudden realization that he was in love, Jeff picked up a stone and hurled it through the tall trees which bordered the path.

"The night you made me kiss you," he admitted shamefacedly at last.

"Made you! Why I had to fight to get away from you," she teased. "I was scared to death."

"Yeah, I bet," he grinned.

"Well—I was a little scared," she admitted brazenly. "But the question is now: What are we going to do about it? Do you think I'll make a pretty bride?"

"I haven't asked you yet," he chuckled, still amazed that he could be so fascinated by this hoyden. "But I've got a ranch in Kimble County. The people up there gave it to me for gettin' rid of Higgins. Maybe..."

He was interrupted by Wahoo, a new hire and hearty once more, who came running down the path toward them.

"Major Bailey wants to see you," he panted, jerking his thumb back toward camp. "Important."

Jeff found the Major pacing the floor of his office, a newspaper in his hand. The black headlines read: LATEST EXPLOIT OF "POLKA BANDIT" GANG!

Sensational Outlaw Holds Up Third Train in Month! Loot Estimated at $60,000! Bandit Outwits Rangers Pursuit!

"What is it now, Major—more Indians?" inquired Jeff as he hurried in.

"I think we've put them on the Reservation for good," Bailey handed him the paper. "This is something else—a real man-hunt. I'll leave the whole thing up to you. Handle it any way you see fit. This man whom all the newspapers in the state are calling 'Polka Dot.' We're out to get him. One sensational crime after another—he's making a laughing stock out of all of us—police, sheriffs, rangers, the Pinkertons—everybody. You're to bring him in dead or alive."

"I didn't reckon on this kind of a job," Jeff fought to keep his voice calm. "I'd rather not take it."

"Why?" The Major's voice was blunt.

"Well, I've been working pretty hard," the Ranger began cautiously. "An' I was sort of hopin' for a vacation—you see—well, that is—your daughter an' me—that is, Amanda—we're plannin' on gettin' married—that is, if it's all right with you."

"I see." The Major's eyes were inscrutable. "Well, never mind that now. We'll talk about it after you clean up this job."

"I have to resign, Major." Jeff had made up his mind—was giving up Amanda and all the rest for the sake of his friendship with Sam.

"Here's the form then. Sign it." The officer did not bat an eye.

"What's the matter with you," the big Ranger demanded one evening when he found the boy crouched down on the corral fence, looking the picture of despair.

"Nothin'."

"Oh, yes there is... you're thinkin' 'bout Jeff."

"Well, supposin' I am!" Davie was close to tears.

"Listen..." Wahoo climbed up beside him on the top bar of the fence. "Jeff ain't afraid of that train robber! None of the Rangers is! I know I'm not!"

"I didn't say... you was." "Would you think I was a pretty good Ranger if I killed that bandit?" demanded his friend as he realized this was his opportunity to prove himself a hero in the eyes of this small, disappointed hero-worshiper.

"You mean you'd go after him?" "Would you be proud of me?"

"You know I would." The boy leaped to the ground and fairly danced for joy. "Everybody would be proud of you! When do you start?"

"Now wait a minute—let's get this thing straight." Wahoo was stalling for time as he realized that his boast had been only too successful. "This has got to be an absolute secret—between you an' me."

"Man to man," agreed the boy. "Come on though, let's start."

"Let's start?" Wahoo who really never had intended to start at all, was confused. "Say, you ain't goin'."

"Yes I am. Unless you let me I'll tell the Major and he'll send somebody else and Jeff'll stay in jail for the rest of his life." Davie was desperately anxious.

"Besides, you'll need help an' if you get in a tight spot I could go for help."

"Wal..." Wahoo's simple mind was more and more intrigued with the idea. Then, firm once more: "But don't worry about me, I'm not gonna get in any tight spots. An', for the last time—you're not comin' with me!"

"The Major won't let you go if I tell him," the boy argued fiercely. "You're a friend of Jeff's. An' besides, maybe you'll want to send a message, when you find Sam."

"Hey—wait a minute—say that again!"

"I said—if you wanted to send a message back—you wouldn't have nobody to take it—less'n you took me along."

"That's a good idea." Wahoo scratched his head. "Boy, you got a brain. C'mon, we better get started. You can ride in front of me. But don't fall off or the rattlers'll eat you." (To be continued)

Jeff realized that he was in love

Slowly Jeff scrawled his signature across the sheet.

"McBride," shouted Bailey when he had finished. Then, as the other entered the room: "Place Hawkins under arrest."

Before Hawkins could protest he added: "The Polka Dot Bandit and Sam McGee are one and the same. Not so long ago you two were outlaws together! You were and still are pals. You're not hiding anything from me."

"How long have you known this?" Jeff was completely taken back.

"It came while you were at Kimble County." The Major held out a "Wanted" card toward the disgraced Ranger. "I don't mind telling you it was hard for me to believe it. I wanted to give you a real test. I hoped you'd come through. I'm sorry."

The one who took Jeff's arrest hardest was young Davie. He was disconsolate and even Wahoo's efforts to cheer him proved useless.

SEVENTY PERCENT OF TEX. CROP LAND SIGNED UP IN NEW PROGRAM

College Station—Seventy percent of all crop land in Texas is accounted for in the 243,000 work sheets covering about 355,000 of the 501,000 Texas farms and ranches, according to H. H. Williamson, director of the Extension service, in a summary of the soil conservation work of the Extension Service, presented in a meeting of the staff

September 4. These figures represent approximately 25,000,000 acres of the 35,000,000 acre of crop land in the State.

These work sheets include a statement of previous land use on the farms and ranches covered by them as well as plans for shifting land out of soil erosive crops into soil-conserving crops and practices. Tabulation of the work sheets figures indicate that at least 3,800,000 acres on Texas farms and ranches are now being devoted to soil rebuilding.

This is the first time in the history of Texas. Williamson stated, that farmers and ranchmen have made such a full analysis of the land use practices prevailing in the State. As a result many farmers and ranchmen are shifting to plans which definitely include soil building. The conservation program offers a chance to make the needed changes with aid from the government in recognition that soil loss is a national problem.

According to estimates made by workers in the agricultural program there are indications that terracing, contouring, strip cropping, and other such practices to prevent soil losses will be applied to about 3,000,000 acres of Texas crop land, in 1936.

Figures taken from annual reports of the service from 1916, including 1935, show a total of 3,065,857 acres of Texas land terraced or contoured, Williamson said.

In addition to that 1,703,740 acres of land have lately been contour listed in the wind erosion area of Northwest Texas. In this work the Extension Service had the cooperation of the Soil Conservation Service, the Resettlement Administration, and other agencies, Williamson stated.
