Waco Boy Drowns in Leon River; Waco Fire-Men Recover Body

The swift, treacherous waters of the Leon claimed their first 1938 victim as Claude Jenkins, 17, from Waco drowned last Saturday night when a boat bearing Jenkins and L. A. Seaberry, 37, overturned. Seaberry managed to reach shore. The accident occurred about 11 o'clock about six miles north west of here. Local firemen were called to the scene but could do nothing. C. A. (Happy) Holcomb, relative of the boy first discovered the body about 9 a. m. With the help of the Waco firemen the body was recovered.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the North Waco Baptist church with Rev. W. D. Boswell officiating. Burial was in the Rosemount cemetery. Surviving are the mother Mrs. Roy Knight and a brother Rene Jenkins.

BILLY NESBITT BUYS OUT MARVIN E. FLETCHER'S STORE

Thursday sale of the Marvin E. Fletcher store on North Lutterloh and State road was completed, with Billy Nesbitt on the buying end. Mr. Nesbitt will continue at the same stand, we are informed, and will continue to handle Star Tires, Oil, and the grocery department of the store. Further announcement will probably be made in the Friday issue of the News with regard to Mr. Nesbitt's policy with respect to his business.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY THURSDAY MARCH 17

It's the Irishman's Day, Thursday, March 17. It's the day when 'New York's Finest' (Police), and practically all the police of the entire country celebrate, because a lot of men from the Emerald Isle have turned to this occupation.

Regardless of that, there are plenty of the Good Old Irish in this County, and their forebears probably have originated from every county in Ireland.

Visitors in the S. S. Rickett's home Sunday were Miss Maggie Ricketts, Herman Ricketts and sons, Harold Dean and Jimmie Sam, all of Killeen.

Mrs. Lillian Brubaker of Waco visited Mrs. E. T. Mayes Sunday.

George Miller In J. of Peace Race Makes His Statement to Voters

To the Voters of Justice Precinct No. 1. In announcing my candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace, I feel that I am fully capable and qualified to fill the office with efficiency, and if elected, it will be my purpose to administer the affairs of the office with justice and fairness to all. In soliciting your support, I assure you that any favors shown me will be duly appreciated. Respectfully, George Miller (Political Adv.)

COUNTY BOARD TRUSTEES TO MEET IN COURT ROOM MONDAY, 21ST

Monday, March 21st, first day Spring, will be the first meeting of the Coryell County Board of Trustees, which will be held in the District Court room, according to J. M. Witcher, County Superintendent.

At this meeting the principal discussions will be on transportation problems concerning the schools of the county, and on other matters regarding the individuals in the schools and the schools themselves.

REFRIGERAGENTS ARE MANY IN GATESVILLE WITH SPRING

Announcements coming every day gives news of the refrigerator dealers locally. The first to draw attention the 1938 season was W. T. Hix of the Western Auto Associate Store. Mr. Hix handles the Frigidaire.

Next, in a pabatical continuity is Arnold Electric Company, who is featuring this year the new Westinghouse. Mr. Arnold, electrician, and fixture dealer of note in

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING TONIGHT

A review of the work of the past year and the aims of the coming will be given at the general membership meeting of the Gatesville Chamber of Commerce tonight at 7:30.

Officers named by the nominating committee will be submitted to the group for consideration at the meeting.

The addition of E. A. Warner outstanding singing leader and teacher of music in the Waco public schools and the town orchestra, directed by D. W. Diserens has completed the program for the annual C. of C. Banquet to be held the 22nd in the local gym.

this section tells of his box in this issue of the News.

D. D. McCoy, whose name was originally associated with automobiles, and still is, is the local Crossley Shelvator and Radio dealer. They make payments for 30 months.

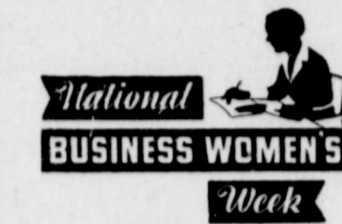

But we've skipped the Community Public Service Co. who carries that Kelvinator Refrigerator. They've a dime a day plan.

Uillard's Department Store also has their GE which is being publicized quite frequently, and really is something to write home about.

Next is the O's. That is Pat O'sen, who has those "quite" gas and kerosene burner Electrolux Refrigerators, claimed by those who use them to be the best, and we wouldn't know.

It's last but not at all least, Morton Scott, with the Norge, and it's Rollator feature which is doing considerable rolling in these parts.

We've given you a little "song and dance" on all these machines. (Continued on last page)

This is "to the Ladies" it's just about their week, and the dates, March 14 to 20, was the time last year, so why not this year.

At any rate, here are Business Women in Gatesville, who are standing "heel and toe" with their mightier and more brawny counterparts, and doing a good job of "tending their own businesses."

Let's look at them and what they're doin'.

Most peculiar, probably is Mrs. L. A. Preston, who is operating Preston's Scales, yes sir, or mam, she'll weigh anything you bring down. Mr. Preston, naturally takes care of his feed mill and of course Mrs. Preston takes care of the "scaling". It's a bonded scale.

About the next most peculiar occupation by a member of the "weaker sex" (?) here is Mrs. C. Bauman, who is agent for tomb stones, or in the modern lingo "markers". She has been at this business for a number of years, and has many, many customers.

Next, in line, is Dr. Elizabeth Green, now Gatesville's only chiropractor or "ess", and she heals and adjusts your ails and aches so you won't notice them and that's usually, the only time we consult a member of the "healing" or "curing" professions.

Mrs. Pearl White, she'll pay you if you have something that gets "all burned up" that is if you're insured with her, and she's been in business—we can't tell you how many years!

Farmers in the county went to bat Saturday and told President Franklin DeJano Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace that they wanted the 1938 Government Farm Loan Program with a big yes, the final count, according to the County Agent's office being:

FOR 1316
AGAINST 138
TOTAL 1454

These figures show considerable interest in the vote locally as well as thruout the State. The state's percentage according to the daily papers is about 7 to 1 for.

In the county the percentage for the county is nearly 91 per cent for and, of course 9 per cent against.

Texas will have a marketing quota of approximately 9,839,000 acres. No farmer will be prevented from marketing without penalty whatever he produces on his allotted acres whether he makes a bale to ten acres or two bales to the acre. If he plants more than his allowed share, he will not receive conservation payments or any cotton adjustment, and the cotton raised in the acres in excess of his allotment will be subject to a penalty of 2 cents per pound. Nor can he borrow as much money on his cotton under the loan provisions of the Aca as the farmer who cooperates by keeping within his quota.

County allotments are to be determined on the basis of production plus the diverted acres during the past five years, but individual farmers will receive allotments on the basis of tillable acres and not on past or historic production.

BRACK CURRY HONOR STUDENT IN S. M. U.

According to reports received Brack Curry Sophomore student, in S. M. U. Dallas, was one of the thirty seven students of the entire student body of over thirteen hundred boys and girls who made all A's on the five subjects which he took last semester.

Brack, a student in Journalism is surely to be congratulated on his splendid record, as he was one of the nine students from cities other than Dallas to make all A's.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Curry formerly of this city now of Dallas.

'TAINT NO CIRCUS! IT'S NEW AWNINGS ON THE BROWN BUILDING

Looking down on North 7th you'd think there was a circus in town from the looks of the colorful awnings being installed on the recently completed Brown buildings.

These awnings certainly lend Glamour (that much over worked word) to the very modern fronts Mr. Brown has had installed on the "face" of his buildings.

Delegation Visits Commissioners Court; Asks for Bridge

Monday afternoon members of the County Commissioners Court were paid a visit by delegates from the Eliga section of the county who are asking a bridge across the Cow House at Eliga.

Information is to the effect that the bridge will save many people in that part of the county a 20 mile drive to Gatesville, since about four or more months of the year it is impossible to cross at that crossing.

A delegation from the local Chamber of Commerce, the Highway Committee, including Lewis Holmes, Louis Thomson, H. K. Jackson and George Painter were present.

According to reports the delegation was promised by the Court that investigation would be made and a survey, preparatory to finding if the county funds would possibly stand the outlay in money necessary to the construction of the bridge, and what type to build.

Members of the delegation include John E. Miller, Lum Hubbard, Chas. P. Hill, Frank Yancy, Percy Yancy, Frazier Whatley, Beason Graham, Hub Culp, Craig Thomas, Jim Manning, W. C. Manning, George Blackwell, Jim Gault, F. F. Curry, Grover Fleming, and Irving Warren.

The entire delegation was some fifty in number.

County Democratic Committee Endorses Poage Saturday

Meeting in the District Court room in the court house Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. members of the Coryell County Democratic Executive Committee endorsed Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage unanimously for re-election and commended him highly on his achievements for the Eleventh Congressional District which he represents.

The endorsement reads: "We members of the Coryell County Democratic Executive Committee, assembled in the court house on March 12 resolve 1. That we endorse the recommendations and endorsement of the Bosque County Democratic Executive Committee in their endorsement of Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage, our present Congressman from the Eleventh Congressional District.

2. We believe our young, tho experienced Congressman has proven his worth to this county and his district, and has shown his entire willingness and desire to do his best for everyone concerned, and especially, for his intense interest in farmers and stockmen of this section.

3. And finally, we recommend him to our people of our respective political divisions which we represent and pledge him our united efforts to return him to the office he now holds and express the hope that he will be returned to Congress for two more years without opposition.

C. H. McGilvray, Chairman For the Assembled Committee-men.

It will be remembered that the News carried the above mentioned resolutions by Chairman Dury L. Helm of the Bosque Democratic Committee and the members from Bosque county on February 22.

TO MY LITTLE CHARLES EFTON

Pure as an angel from Heaven
Sweet as a rose from the dew
Thus was my little Charles
Efton,
No sweeter child ever grew.

But he's gone and I am sad and so lonely.

My heart, it just aches for his voice.

God called him home with the angels,

With God I'm afraid I've no choice.

In my dreams I can hear his sweet laughter,
See his smiles and his bright sparkling eyes,
I can still hear him calling his
Granny Mamma,
Though he's gone to the top of the skies.

Bless his heart, he was ever so precious,
And he loved with devotion so true,

Some times I just think I can't bear it,
But I guess that I'll have to,
don't you?

I can still feel his presence at mealtimes

When he climbed on the white kitchen stool

And helped me to roll out the biscuits,

And did a good job as a rule.

He was my one consolation,
And chased all my blues quite away,

Now he's gone and I'm very lonely
But I know I shall see him some day.

When my troubles on earth are over,

And then when my life crown is won,

I know I shall see my Charles
Efton

In the land of the non setting sun.

Sleep on little Charles and sleep peacefully,

And watch o'er your Granny
mamma, dear,

I'll think of you ever so often

And know that you're hovering near.

NOVA PILBEAM—THE GIRL GROWS UP

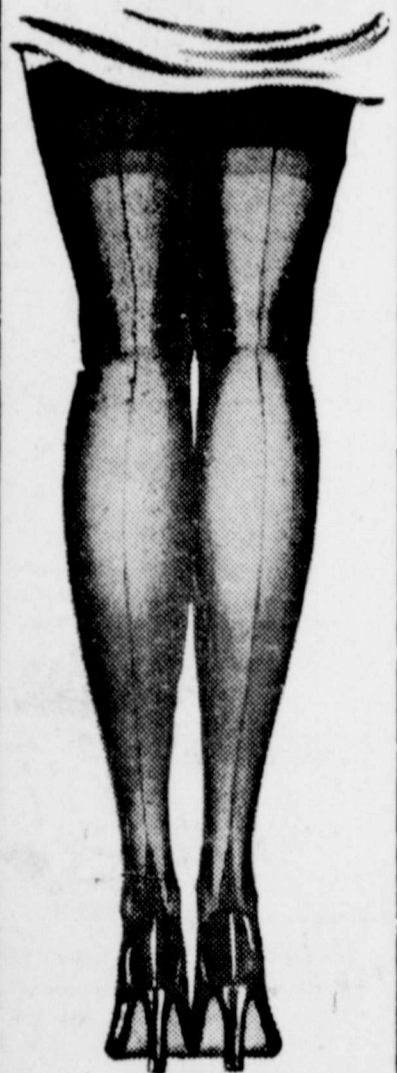

Stairs to Stardom

In "The Girl Was Young," forthcoming Gaumont production directed by Alfred Hitchcock, Nova Pilbeam, the child star of yesterday receives her first screen kiss. This act symbolizes her newly acquired maturity, marks her first adult and romantic role, sets her on the road to a new career as one of Gaumont's glamorous leading ladies.

Nova, now eighteen years old, began her screen career at thirteen as the forlorn child in "Little Friend," was alternately gay and tragic in "The Man Who Knew Too Much," and established herself definitely as a great and versatile actress in her notable role as Lady Jane Grey in "Nine Days a Queen." Her career closely parallels that of Helen Hayes, with whom she has often been compared. Gaumont plans to star her in several new pictures after "The Girl Was Young."

Cecil Hazelwood and Bill Massey of Austin spent Sunday with Miss Nannie Sue Everett. Miss Minnie Mae Grant of Hamilton is visiting with Mrs. R. E. Kiger this week. Mrs. B. S. Cook is visiting with her sister Mrs. J. A. Webb of Waco.

Miss Francis Goodall, student at T. S. C. W., Denton, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Ethel Goodall.

Miss Ora Pennington, who recently accepted a position in Austin, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Pennington.

Mrs. Merle Scott McDowell, Economics major in Denton T. S. C. W., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zim Scott, and little son, Zim Marion, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Happy Lee visited near Eliga with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Manning, who are entertaining a new son, born Thursday morning. He has been given the name Ray Walker.

Rev. A. S. Gafford, pastor of the First Methodist church at Taylor spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Elmo White.

Visitors from Gatesville in Hamilton last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Woodall and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Alvis. The first named couple came to visit their son Louis Woodall, window artist for the Garner-Alvis Co. house and Mr. Alvis came on a business mission with Robt. Williams, manager of the popular Garner-Alvis store of this city.—Hamilton Herald Record.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Neal of Waco accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Franks, attended the Fat Stock Show in Ft. Worth during the weekend.

Miss Clara Bakke is visiting her parents in Cransfill Gap.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Smith and Son, Travis Jr., of Wharton were guests of his mother, Mrs. J. G. Smith over the weekend.

Miss Hazel Huggett spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Huggett in Ireland.

Mrs. Mattie Davis and daughter, Yvonne, spent Sunday in Levita with Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Davis.

Willie Huggins Jr of Jonesboro, spent Sunday afternoon in the W. A. Melton home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartin were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hedgepeth in Liberty Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Melton had as their guests during the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hagans of Lampasas.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Shirley of Port Arthur and daughter, Daisy Edith, who is attending school at State University, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jones and other relatives. Mrs. Shirley's mother, Mrs. T. D. Hendrickson returned home with them to spend a few days.

FINAL RITES FOR CORYELL CITY WOMAN

A large number of friends and relatives gathered at the Coryell City Cemetery for the final rites of a beloved woman Mrs. Minnie Falkenberg, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Falkenberg was eighty years, five months and sixteen days old. Although born in Germany she had been a resident of Coryell City for many years. She passed away at her home Thursday.

Hornets Meet Pearl In Dual Track And Field Meet Sat.

The Gatesville track team will go to Pearl Friday to compete with the strong Pearl squad in a dual track meet. This Dragon outfit is one of the foremost challengers to Gatesville's track and field supremacy and the fans will be able to tell just how much trouble they will give the Hornets in the county meet as a result of this meet.

The Hornets have been working out only a week and not much is known of their strength while Pearl has been drilling for three weeks and have already defeated Ireland in a like meet.

Gatesville will probably cop all the field events, except the high jump, where Arnett of Pearl will be in the top hole. The track events, however, are very much in doubt.

KNOW TEXAS

Health Guardians

DENTON, March 15—A peck of apples a day could not keep all the Texas Doctors away, because there are over 6700 of them in the state, according to the 1936 census. At that time there were 295 hospitals, which boasted a total of 21,470 beds and 319,240 patients, not to mention 1500 bassinets. Since the average number of hospitals per state is about 130, Texas is well above its quota.

Youngsters Ahead

Texans between the ages of 35 and 44 should be able to get what they want these days if there is any truth in the 'strength of numbers' policy. There are 787,000 in that age group, with the 5 to 9 year class ranking second. Those under 5 form the next row with 640,000, and these from 15

GIRL ATHLETE FORGETS OLYMPIC DREAM TO TRAIN FOR TEACHING

RUTH MARSHIK

DENTON, Texas—Ruth Marshik, widely publicized by Dallas newspapers when she was 13 as a possible successor to the great Mildred "Babe" Didrickson has traded her dream of competing in the Olympics for the more modest aim of becoming a teacher of physical education. Enrolled as a freshman at the North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, the girl who in 1935 was holder of the unofficial women's high jump in the United States is now a pretty and on the whole, a very normal young woman. Maybe she's above average in scholarship and health. She's five feet seven inches tall and weighs 132, never worries about excess poundage, plays soft ball a good deal, still clears the bar at a good figure. Probably studies more than the average co-ed has a good sense of humor, likes domestic life, and chews her pencil for past time. Pictures show her on the tennis court, clearing the same bar used when she first entered big-time athletic competition against Babe Didrickson and other female stars in the 1932 A. A. U. Meet at Denton, examining book titles in the browsing room of the North Texas State Teachers College library.

Lets Talk about Clothes

DENTON, March 15, 'Draping' 'Front fullness' and 'Blousy' are familiar words to fashion watchers by now, but they will be even more familiar by the time this spring is over.

The loose, cleverly gathered costumes that created such a flurry this winter are going to stay with us a while longer, and will soon have a new member of the society—the dolman silhouette. The wide armed, spacious sleeved style was shown in a few fur evening jackets last fall, but its big moments are still ahead. Fullness is moving up to the shoulders, having started in the skirt and worked up to the bust line. Instead of just plain "fullness forward, straight from the shoulder" will be the pass word for dresses and coats now.

It hardly seems necessary to say anything more about pleats, so widely proclaimed have they been; tucks, too have come in for general notice, particularly the fine ones.

Now in the spotlight are wide tucks or folds, another expression of the soft loose treatment. Sometimes these folds have the casual unstudied effect of an impromptu accent whether in bodice or skirt, and then again you'll see them in serrated rows horizontally, forming an entire bodice.

Girls at Texas State College for women plan to use these cross-bands of deep tucks in a great many of their daytime sheers this summer, coupled with the long waisted fitted bodices of the season.

is a helpy-selfy laundry or a "we'll do it" kind which ever you want, the work you do there will reduce you, just like the prices for the service are already reduced. It's a dandy way to clean up for this Spring and Summer, when the weather gets hot.

Mrs. J. B. Graves had rather sell "flowers for the living" and "for a living" than just about any other thing. For those who have "departed this life", she'll help sooth the anguish which the leave taking necessarily leaves. She also has flowers for every occasion, weddings, anniversaries parties,—well you name the event, she'll plan and fix the flowers.

Mrs. G. L. Shelton, (known to most of us as Miss Emma Ruth) has for many years sold exclusively Avon products which includes an entire line of cosmetics and other household and personal necessities of such regular use by the lady of the household.

Another lady in the "selling line", and what lady isn't is Mrs. M. L. Gregory, who is the Real Silk and Dated Style representative here, selling merchandise for practically the entire family.

Now, there's Mrs. B. Osborn operating the Cottage Hotel, where they have home cooked meals and nice clean rooms if you need to spend the night in Gatesville. There's the homey atmosphere about her hotel, that is a rarity in most hotels, and she's doing a good job of the hotel business right here in Gatesville.

Now of course the most important to the ladies is beauty shops—

On the South side of the Square is the Kiger Beauty Shop operated by Mrs. R. E. Kiger and her assistants, and it one of the places in Gatesville where Coryell County's beauties are made more beautiful.

Going in a northerly direction, we find the Ethma Beauty Shop, operated by Mrs. Ethel Rutherford and her cohorts, wherein the Madam or Miss can and will get beautified if she patronizes this shop where "beauty is their business".

All in all these ladies do their respective businesses in a business like manner and their thousands of more than satisfied customers, are legion.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morris of Oglesby were guests of Mrs. G. J. Morris Sunday. Mrs. W. B. Alexander, Temple, visited Mrs. Morris Friday.

GATESVILLE, TEXAS, TUESDAY MARCH 15, 1938

WORLD COMMENT

Joe Burns

Prime minister Neville Chamberlain is staking his political life upon the conclusion of a pact of friendship and non-aggression with Fascist Italy. But the fate of the British Empire will not rest upon the signing of a treaty with Mussolini, who manifested a singular disregard for the sanctity of treaties in invading defenseless Ethiopia in 1935.

By 1940 Great Britain will possess the strongest array of armed forces the world has ever seen. The British navy will be at the zenith of its power. The air force will be stronger than any on the continent and the army will compare favorably with that of Nazi Germany.

Seven billion dollars was the total expenditure for armament announced last year when the program to prepare the United Kingdom for any eventual war was inaugurated. But now, we are told, the total cost will likely run to ten or eleven billions before the program is completed.

The 1938 arms program for Britain totals nearly two billions or a cost of $40 to every British citizen. The navy will receive $618,535,000 making a grand total of yearly expenditures for navy, air force army and miscellaneous services of $1,758,750,000.

Although far from completion the British arms program should give pause to any rash acts by either Hitler or Mussolini, although the German fuerrer is apparently satisfied that Britain will not interfere with his ambitions in Central Austria.

As a result of the executions of Russian leader of the army and of transportation, banking and heavy industry foreign military experts discount the effectiveness of Soviet Russia in a war against either Japan or Russia.

Russia is being deprived of her best leaders. Several prominent leaders are standing trial now and only a few months ago ten high generals of the Red Army suffered execution before a firing squad. Stalin, a mad man, is playing directly into the hands of the Fascist dictators and Japan through his jealousy and fear of any Russian who exhibits individual merit or initiative.

Fiasco of the senate committee of inquiry into affairs of Attorney General William McCraw has added thousands of followers to the McCraw standards according to political prognosticators.

Trip to Moody

Saturday, March 5, 24 vocational Agriculture students went to Moody to attend the Moody baby beef show and Area VIII, judging contests.

The first ten teams of each event out of the following were qualified for the State Meet at A. and M.: Wild Life, Poultry; Crops; Soil Conservation; Livestock and Etomology. Forty schools were represented in Moody Saturday. Gatesville was represented by the following: Dairy Cattle; Raby Alford; Harold Diserens, Don Rhodes, the alternates were William McDonald, Dooley Rogers, and Gerald Lina. Field crops; Owen Edwards, Herschel Wilhelm, Billie Malone, Poultry; Clyde Sexton, Truman McCorkle, Bobby Melbern, the alternates were J. C. Bunnell, Steve Lindley and Robert Gilmore. Wild life, Randolph Morse Live Stock, Dauris Rhodes, Cadean Patterson, R. M. Cummings, the Alternates were James Sadler and Wallace Daniels.

Killeen won first in Dairy Cattle, Gatesville second; thirty-three teams entered this contest. Hillsboro won first in field crops, Gatesville second; twenty-one teams judged field crops.

Kerrville won first in Live stock; Gatesville, tenth, 26 teams judged livestock.

Wildlife was an individual contest of which only one person from each school could enter. Six schools entered in wild life and Randolph Morse won fourth place.

Gatesville was the only school.

Chairman T. J. Holbrook of Galveston and Joe L. Hill of Henderson broke a quorum of the committee when they walked from the hearing room. They were displeasd by a deadlock on Hill's motion to issue new subpoenas for bank accounts of McCraw, his former law partner, Tom C. Clark, and the old Dallas law firm of McCraw & Clark.

McCraw received excellent publicity for an announced candidate for governor. And the publicity was decidedly favorable.

The inquisitory aspect of th committee's activities aroused sympathy for McCraw, who ably defended himself in Austin while appearing as a persecuted hero.

At any rate the chances of Governor Alfred entering the gubernatorial race have been considerably lessened since the investigation was dropped.

PECAN SCAB CARED FOR BY SPECIAL BORDEAUX MIXTURE

A control measure has been found for pecan scab, which once attacked only a few varieties in a narrow strip of the eastern Gulf Coast region but now causes loss of nuts on many commercial varieties thruout a large pecan belt, reports J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

A special Bordeaux spray containing small amounts of lime than the regular Bordeaux formula does the job, Rosborough said. It also controls many foliage diseases such as downy spot, vein spot, liver spot and blotch.

The formula was developed after three years of research by specialists of the U. S. D. A. Growers in Georgia who attempted to control scab with the standard mix of 3 pounds of copper sulphate 3 pounds of hydrated lime and 50 gallons of water frequently defoliated their trees, especially if the spray was applied in dry weather.

The special formula varies with the time of application. The first spray, made of 2 pounds of copper sulphate, 1/2 pound of hydrated lime and 50 gallons of water is applied when the leaves are half to two thirds grown.

The second spray is used 2 to 3 weeks later or immediately after pollination and is made of 3 pounds of copper sulphate, 1 pound of hydrated lime, 50 gallons of water and 1 pint of light summer emulsion.

A third spray of the same formula as in the second spray should be applied 3 weeks later. If it is a rainy season, a fourth spray should follow in another 3 weeks.

Use of these formulas and this schedule has resulted in gross gains of from $50 to $80 an acre on mature groves in Georgia, Rosborough said.

FACTORY WORKERS EMPLOYED BECAUSE OF RURAL TRADE

In 1929 one and one-half million factory workers had jobs as a direct result of purchase of manufactured goods by farmers economists of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service say. Farm cash income in that year was about ten and one half million dollars.

In 1932 when farm income was less than half that figure for 1929, reduced rural trade resulted in this type of factory employment dropped to 850 thousand. From 1932 to 1937, farmers bought more manufactured goods and factory employment increased.

It is estimated that in 1933 two out of every five factory workers added to payrolls owed their jobs to improved farm conditions. The term "factory worker" does not include professional people, merchants and those in the transportation industries the economists pointed out.

New York.—Easter bonnets already on Broadway, and maybe Easter gowns but they're still hidden under fur coats—for New Yorkers who love the sun better than citizens of any other town and who throng the streets the instant the thermometer goes above fifty; are the last to leave off winter coats in the Spring and the first to don them in the Fall; for these sun-lovers dress by date and not by temperature... May first—Spring... July first—Summer... September first—Fall... October first—Winter... The theatre produces a comedy at last; but an English one, smooth, sophisticated, drawing room style with Ina Claire... Author Erskine Caldwell defies critics and keeps "Journeyman" going and may make a hit with it. Gertrude Niesen back after a too two year long absence in Hollywood is suddenly a superstar at the Versailles with her own inimitable singing of song and composing of them. Frederic March and Florence Eldridge March winning friends because they didn't run back to Hollywood after the quick closing of their play; and he is tops in his new film "The Buccaneer", with Akim Tamiroff making screen history in the role of the swash-buckling Dominique You. Francis songstress at the Waldorf-Astoria, Carmen Castillo of the haunting Spanish rhythms, and why don't American Ambassadors travelling to and from their posts use American ships?... O. O. McIntyre goes home to Gallipolis and leaves a gap in Broadway, a strange gap for in all his years in the big town he never became a New Yorker and that is a feat. The excitement at the Dog Show, beg pardon, Westminster Kennel Club, because for the first time in history five of the six winners of the main groups were 'American' dogs and the best dog in the show, for the first time in a dozen years, was one of the Americans; and in case you'd like to know what the five Americans were listen, a French Poodle, a Dachshund, a Scottish Collie, a Pekinese and the winnah and new champion, an English setter!!! and what do you suppose would happen if somebody tried to enter a real yalla Missouri hound-dog? That editor of that ancient and honorable magazine who visited General Franco and came back to syndicate an article on how nice the rebels are when they're not bombing women and children faces an author's ban, and one person in ten still believes Bruno Hauptmann was innocent that the Duke of Windsor will some day be King of England again; that Amelia Earhart is hiding on a South Sea Island; in England they still whisper that Lord Kitchener didn't go down with the Cruiser Hampshire in Russia they still say that when the Bolshevik power crumbles the Tsar will come back from exile.

REV. ALONZO MONK BRYAN IN NEW YORK CITY

Rev. and Mrs. Gid J. Bryan of Hamilton had news from their son, Rev. Alonzo Monk Bryan, a senior student in SMU at Dallas, that he was leaving on Friday, February 25 for New York City. He went on the happy mission of serving a friend by taking part in a wedding at the far famed Little Church Around the Corner in the great city.

The young preacher expected to spend some two weeks in travel and in seeing New York City. Friends made in Hamilton during the visits of Rev. Bryan to his parents, are desirous that his every experience may be a happy one and that his every wish be granted and expectations filled in the two weeks that he is occupying in social duties and sight-seeing. —Hamilton-Herald Record.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:
 Seeking a marital respite, Jerry Warriner tells his wife, Lucy, that he is making a business trip to Florida. Instead, he spends the week in town playing poker with his old gang. When the week is up Jerry goes to the athletic club to get a quick tan under the sun lamp. Frank Randall accuses him of "putting one over" on Lucy. Jerry denies this, saying that he was merely fed up with routine and wanted to have a fling. He couldn't have it with Lucy, he says, because she is no quiet and proper. Jerry and Frank pick up some friends and drop in on Lucy for a surprise cocktail party to celebrate Jerry's "homecoming". Lucy isn't there but she returns soon with Armand Levelle, her handsome voice teacher. On the way home from a dance the night before, she explains, their car broke down and they had to spend the night at an inn until the car could be repaired. Jerry accepts the story calmly while the guests are there but when he and Lucy are alone he demands an explanation. She insists that she has told the simple truth, that she is innocent of any wrongdoing. Jerry refuses to believe her and Lucy, at last, discloses that she knows Jerry wasn't in Florida. In fact, she knows that most of his recent "trips" had been fakes. They battle until Lucy announces that she's through. She is going to divorce Jerry.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Chapter Two

The only hitch in the Warriner divorce proceedings came after the interlocutory decree had been granted. Jerry wanted the custody of their wire-haired dog, "Mr. Smith", and Lucy was just as insistent that she be awarded the dog. The judge allowed the dog to make his own selection. Lucy won, but on a foul for when they placed Mr. Smith equidistant from Lucy and Jerry, Lucy squeaked a rubber toy that the dog played with and he romped over to her.

Jerry was outraged by her perfidy but the court was adamant. Mr. Smith went to Lucy.

In the days that followed Lucy tried to accustom herself to her new mode of life. Her Aunt Patsy, a cynical and acidulous lady with more than her share of worldly wisdom and biting humor, came to live with Lucy but within a month they were both thoroughly bored with each other's company. Aunt Patsy, who has come to the city from her up-country cabin, wanted to go places and do things.

"I do wish you'd stop moping around this apartment," she snapped. "The only excitement we've had around here was when Jerry tried to break in an steal Mr. Smith a week ago."

"I'm sorry you're so bored," Lucy sighed. "But where can two women go without an escort?"

"We might try the Y. M. C. A.," Aunt Patsy suggested. "We don't do a thing but eat, sleep and look at each other. And even then I get the worst break. My face, at least, is cheerful. Lucy, I want some life, some excitement. Let's go to a theatre tonight and then drop in at a night club or two afterwards..."

"But we can't," Lucy protested. "Why not?" Patsy demanded.

"No escorts."

"Humph! Unless there's a new law, I don't need an escort to get a drink," Aunt Patsy snorted. "I'm going down to the bar and talk with Joe. Bartender or no bartender, he's a man — and maybe he knocks off early." She stalked out of the room.

Aunt Patsy found good hunting down at the bar and she rapidly struck up an acquaintance with a personable young man who was sipping a solitary Martini. For a time she was flattered by the young man's attentions but she soon discovered the reason for his gallantry.

"I wonder if you'd do me a favor?" he asked. "I wonder if you'd tell me who that beautiful girl is who lives with you? She has a dog and she —"

Patsy dropped her flirtatious coyness. "That's Lucy. She's my niece," she announced flatly. "The dog is no relation."

"I've admired her for days," the young man announced. "She's beautiful."

"Oh, Lucy's just a little homebody," Patsy confided.

"Well, you just introduce me to her. I'll make her snap out of being a homebody," he said. "I've been dying to find someone to do the night clubs with me. I haven't been any place or seen anything."

Aunt Patsy brightened up. "Young man," she said, "you're the answer to my prayers. Come along." She took his arm and led him to the elevators. In a moment they were in Lucy's apartment.

"Lucy," Patsy beamed, "this is Daniel Leeson a very dear old friend of mine. Mr. Leeson this is my niece. Her name is Mrs. Warriner."

When the introductions were over Patsy continued, "Mr. Leeson is a neighbor of ours," she said. "Lives across the hall with his mother. They're from Oklahoma and Daniel would take it as being right friendly of us if we'd show him some of the bright spots."

Patsy ignored Lucy's protests and they were making ready to leave when they were interrupted by the doorbell. It was Jerry and Aunt Patsy greeted him enthusiastically. Lucy was cool and distant.

"Hello," she said. "What is it you want?"

Jerry produced a formidable looking paper from his pocket and handed it to Lucy.

"What is it?" she asked.

"It's a court order," he announced triumphantly, "permitting me to see Mr. Smith for two hours each week. See? I'm allowed to take the dog walking, riding, motor boating or anything I please. The order says I can visit him and entertain him in any manner that does not endanger life or limb."

Mr. Smith, who had heard Jerry's voice, came bounding into the room and jumped into Jerry's arms.

"I suppose you've come to take him bicycling?" Lucy asked.

"In this rain? He'd catch his death of cold. I've come to visit with him and entertain him," Jerry looked down at the barking dog in his arms. "Come on over here, boy. We'll be out of everybody's way."

Leeson, who had been standing awkwardly during all this, coughed significantly.

"Oh, Jerry," Aunt Patsy said, "this is Mr. Leeson. Daniel this is Mr. Warriner, Lucy's husband for about sixty more days. Both men nodded.

"Mr. Leeson has just come from Oklahoma," Patsy offered.

"That's lucky," Jerry said.

"What's lucky?" Leeson asked.

"Oklahoma," said Jerry. Leeson laughed but stopped abruptly, not certain whether he was being kidded. Jerry and Mr. Smith retired to a corner of the room to play and Lucy, Aunt Patsy and Leeson tried to pick up their conversation. They found it difficult for, in their romping, Jerry and Mr. Smith overturned a table, sending a lamp crashing to the floor.

"I'll replace that," Jerry announced solemnly.

In a moment another table had been overturned and then a chair. This was too much for Aunt Patsy who seeing that Jerry and the dog were having all the fun, deserted Lucy and Daniel and joined Jerry and Mr. Smith. The romping went on with a vengeance then and Lucy quickly despaired of entertaining Leeson.

"I'll tell you what," Jerry said to Lucy, "let's play hide-and-go-seek." Lucy jumped to her feet angrily. "And I'll tell you what," she said, to Leeson, "rain or no rain let's go out of here. How about it Patsy?"

"Huh?" Patsy looked up, surprised. "Oh, you go ahead. We're having too much fun."

Lucy picked up her wrap and Daniel, elated to have her alone, led her to the door.

That was the beginning of many meetings for them. Together they visited night clubs, saw shows, took long drives to nearby inns for dinners and lunches. At breakfast one morning, about ten days later, Lucy announced defiantly that she and Daniel were engaged. Patsy was not at all pleased with the news.

"Know what rebound is?" she asked. "That business of trying to get over one love by bouncing into love with someone else? It's fine except the rebound is rarely the real thing — like a mirage. In short, my dear, it's the bunk."

Lucy bridled angrily. Secretly, she knew that Aunt Patsy was right but she refused to admit it. "I tell you I'm serious about Dan Leeson," she insisted, her voice rising shrilly. "He's fine. And Jerry doesn't mean a thing to me. I don't love him and probably never did."

Aunt Patsy stared at Lucy without a word. Tears welled into Lucy's eyes. "I'm sure I never loved him," she repeated almost hysterically. "And now I hate him. I hate Jerry Warriner and I — I like Dan Leeson very, very much. I hope he's just mad about me for I think he's the finest man I ever met."

Aunt Patsy continued to look at Lucy. "The toast is burning," she announced calmly.

KNOW TEXAS

Beaten an Water
 DENTON, March—The well known size supremacy of Texas does not extend to the matter of water areas. Although even here she ranks third. The states of Minnesota and North Carolina both surpass Texas in the number of acres covered by water. Minnesota has 3,824 square miles of water and holds only 11th place in total area. Since the total water surface of the United States is 53,013 square miles, the average per state is about 1,104.

Wide Choice

Thirteen different types of insurance are listed in Texas by the 1936 census, with 365 companies in all. Local mutual aid companies head the list with 157, and next in order come statewide mutual, stock life and health and accident companies.

Watch the Sales

Retail sales should give a fairly accurate picture of times and conditions, and the last available figures show that Texas ranked eight in the United States in the amount of sales, reaching a total of $1,289,264. New York lead the nation in total sales with over four million dollars.

Ted Brazzil of McGregor, formerly of this city visited friends and spent Saturday shopping here the latter part of the week in Gatesville.

Map Infantile Paralysis Fight

This council of war to fight infantile paralysis and help Texas youngsters crippled by the disease is headed by Jesse H. Lets Talk about Clothes

Lady fingers will resemble the Pied Piper this year if advance spring color predictions are dependable. Gloves are featured not only in bright solid colors but with contrasting backs, fronts and finger seams.

Gloves can always start the season because the gay heart-lifting spring colors are wearable at an early date in such small patches. Added to winter clothes they make nice hinges on which to swing to spring; and worn with the first spring costume they sound the trumpet of any new color combinations.

Pinks are definitely in the lead of the "pretty" color with all the shades of it that have been primed for popularity this season doing their bit. Pale blues violets, amethysts and gold in your dress and light in your eyes. Detail is much more noticeable now than in past years, and even in kid gloves there is a plentiful supply of braider effects, lacings eyelets, embroidery, applique and stitching.

Cuffs have left the glove picture, and are replaced almost entirely by thick or thin rolls. Girls at Texas State College for Women like the combination of plain and lustrous leather, and leather and fabric for the backs and fronts of new gloves.

WEATHERFORD OPENS SPRING GRIDIRON SESSION

The Weatherford Junior Colleges mold-knitters opened their spring season Thursday with 32 hopefuls reporting to Head Coach Field. Seven of the boys are lettermen, while quite a number of hucky leeds who have never had any experience whatever. Coach Field hopes to teach these boys the basic fundamentals during the spring drill.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Mack returned Tuesday from a three day trip to Roscoe.
