PEARL SCHOOLS ARE COMMENDED BY STATE DEPT.

Pearl school system came in for extraordinarily high praise from District Supervisor A. M. Tate and from J. W. O'Banion, Director of Supervision, according to a letter received by Superintendent M. (Peck) Tharp.

The commendation reads: Visit to elementary rooms and also the English and Science departments as well as an examination of the required exhibits, proved that the Pearl High School was meeting the standards of an accredited school system. Special projects and work done by the pupils other than regular classroom activities justifies a report of commendation and show that the school authorities have higher objectives than merely meeting the minimum requirements of accredited schools.

"The school paper deserves special commendation. It is one of the best and not only provides a worth while activity for the student body, but is a service to the community.

The building was clean and showed evidence of continuous care.

The students were alert and interested in the welfare of their school and the practice of good citizenship was apparent.

C. E. ALVIS MAKES STATEMENT FOR VOTERS

To the citizens of Coryell County:

Due to an extended illness and a recent operation on my left leg it has been impossible for me to solicit personally the support of each voter in my candidacy for re-election to the office of County Attorney. I hope to be discharged from the hospital and back to my duties within the next few days, though the nature of my operation will no doubt prevent me from doing much walking before the primary. Under these circumstances I wish to gratefully acknowledge the fine support which I received in the last election and hopefully solicit the support of each citizen in the election to come.

YOUNG W. LEE STILL IN THE RACE

To the voters of Justice, Precinct one:

As there seems to be a whispering campaign that I have withdrawn or my name will not be on the ticket, I wish to state my entrance fee is paid and campaign expenses rendered, and I shall remain in the race until the people say stop.

Being the only laboring man in the race it may be a surprise to some that I have managed to meet all requirements. To those I will say I have received no aid except by my immediate family, and if elected I will not be the tool of any clique, clan or political bunch.

Further more, as I have to work every chance I can get I may not be able to solicit each of you personally; I will say that the thirteen years of teaching (from 1906-1919) in the public schools of this county. I believe to be evidence of my educational ability, and if elected I shall endeavor to use enough common "Horse Sense" to conduct the office in a way my supporters will not be ashamed of me.

Upon these qualifications and old friendship I solicit your vote July 23.

"BEEF-TRUST" TANGLES WITH "RIDGE POLES" IN SOFT BALL

The scream of screams takes place tonight at the athletic field when the local "Beef-trust" nine tangles with the Ridge Poles under the lights.

Secretly, the Ridge Poles are planning to punch the Beef-Trust in the ribs and get them so tickled they can not play soft ball,— they never could anyway. What the Beef Trust has in store, remains to be seen, but here they are: Horace Galloway, Otis Coward, Kelly Brooks, V. C. Ray, Bert Richardson, John C. Linder, Frank Farquhar, Pat Holt, E. W. MEMORIAL HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients in the Hospital are: Mrs. Jack Roach. Mrs. O. G. Gilmer C. R. Sellers.

Mrs. Jim McClellan won first prize in the News-Merchants Candid Camera contest with the entry of an enlarged photo of her daughter, Ann. The coveted prize is a D-6 Agfa Ansco Cadet box camera, presented by The Fox Company, of San Antonio who have several local firms as agents here.

Second, fourth and sixth on the list is W. E. Lasseter, a candid camera fan from away back who entered more pictures than any one and, took off more prizes.

Miss Minnie Lou Witt got third place among the shooters and, we can't give you the comments of the judges, since they spent an entire, well, at least three hours studying the pictures. Miss Lucile Eaneg took fifth place with one of her "trick" photographs, something that is very unusual in photography. It is a silhouette, and a fine example

Mrs. Pete Patterson took No. 7, a group picture of kids at play—always a good picture.

Judging was done by Mrs. Hope Thompson and Mrs. C. H. Wallace, who at first came in and "made their pick" alone, and then got their heads together and finally settled on the winners. The pictures were not named, or identified, and they probably don't know who won, until they read this. The numbers (we numbered all pictures) that won, in case you believe in lucky numbers, were: 61, 65, 24, 18, 23 55 and 53.

We wish to thank the cooperators: Flentge Drug Store, Gatesville Drug Store, City Drug Store and Koen-Foster Drug Store and Mayes Studio and Radio Shop and of course The Fox Company, who gave their support and furnished part of the prizes. Patronize these merchants they've been glad to assist you in this contest.

Prize winners may call this morning and the prizes will be given, or letters authorizing the offering stores to give the prizes will be given. We would like to keep the other pictures a short while since there is a contest sponsored by Mayes Studio & Radio Shop to be worked out and also we'd like to have the prize winners, which are in our window at this time.

Firemen Win First

The Firemen won their initial contest in the city softball circuit by drubbing Arnold's Electricians 15-2. Arnold's team showed vastly improved form over the previous night, and displayed a surprisingly steady young infield. However three home runs over left fielder's head proved to be the Electricians undoing.

MOUND FACES BLACKFOOT ON HOME DIAMOND SUNDAY

The championship bound Mound nine will square off with the Blackfoot club at Mound Sunday and will try to annex a victory for their ninth straight win of the season. Blackfoot surprised the critics and sent the old dope bucket aspinning by knocking off a favored Coryell City nine, 9-5. However they are not expected to give the league leaders much trouble.

Other games of the day find the local CCC at Pidecke and Coryell city meets Moshlem at Moshlem.

POLITICAL RALLY TO BE HELD IN EVANT SOON

Because of continued interest and talk concerning such an affair, a political rally will be held in Ewant sometimes during the Merry political month of July. Arrangements have not been completed for the gathering, but reports from political headquarters and from over the county are to the effect that there will be plenty of both candidates and voters at the rally.

JONESBORO W. M. U.

Personal service is sometimes confused with neighborliness asking a plate of cookies or a glass of jelly to a neighbor when she gave you a pie last week is not personal service but being neighborly. Personal service is taking food flowers, books magazines or even clothing to those less fortunate than us.

A wonderful playlet on personal service was presented when the W.M.U. met in the home of Mrs. R. A. Russell.

The program on Brazil opened with song, "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder"; Prayer, Mrs. E. P. Berry; Playlet, "Personal Service"; Scripture, John 5:22-24; 28, 29; Matt. 7:1; 8:15 12:46, 48, Mrs. B. E. Morgan; "Thou Shalt Not Judge", Mrs. R. A. Russell; "Brazil 50 Years Ago", Mrs. W. C. Huggins; "Brazil Today," Mrs. Ira Mayes; "Brazil tomorrow," Irene Rutheford.

Mrs. W. J. Watson, Reporter.

Mr. E. W. Jones Sr. was in Dallas several days this week.

Chips From the Political Stumps:

Lee Simmons of Sherman, former manager of the Texas prison system, is managing the gubernatorial campaign of Clarence R. Miller, Dallas textile magnate.

Simmons, credited with developing the system's self-sustenance program, said he believed Candidate Miller's platform of industrial development for Texas filled the State's greatest need.

His decision to back the Dallas manufacturer brought him out of virtual political obscurity since he resigned as head of Texas prisons Sept. 2, 1935.

Miller opened his campaign at Mexia on June 18.

Thousands of Texas Democrats will vote July 23 for a man for governor whose name they do not even know.

This "believe-it-or-not" of the coming primary is due to a seemingly simple Irish surname of one of the candidates—William McCraw, spelled "Craw"—as in chicken—the gubernatorial candidate's last name presents insurmountable linguistic difficulties for many Texans who have known the present attorney general for years.

McCraw is almost universally known as "McGraw", while to thousands of others he is "Mergaw" and still others "McGrew". So popular has the last name become that his headquarters staff facetiously call their candidate "Dangerous Bill McGrew".

Those who get the name wrong don't need to worry, however. Lots of times he refers to himself as "McGraw" before he remembers.

Remarks of U. S. Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska on the operation of the unicameral Legislature in that State are being sent out by State senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock candidate for Lieutenant Governor. Nelson advocates a one-house Legislature for Texas.

The remarks appears in the Congressional Record but the sheets being mailed by Nelson say they were not printed at Government expense. A copy received by the writer was in a stamped envelope.

Tom F. Hunter candidate for governor, will poll in the neighborhood of 400,000 votes to lead the ticket in the Democratic primary July 23, C. A. Everetts, well-known east Texas independent oil operator predicted in Dallas this week.

I base my predictions on reports of the various groups in all sections of the State, including independent oil producers and royalty owners, who are emphatically oppose to the $50,000,000 additional oil taxes proposed at the last session of the Legislature," Everts said. "I have traveled extensively over the state and find a preponderant Hunter sentiment among level headed business and professional organizations desiring a clear thinking fact facing business man for governor.

"Hunter probably will poll 40,000 more votes in the Rio Grande valley counties than any of his opponents, because trucking companies and fruit growers have pledged their support to him in groups," he said.

Although he said he had nothing to do with James A. Ferguson's decision to run for governor and did not know of it until the announcement, former Gov. James E. Ferguson lost no time in declaring he would vote for his cousin a Bell county farmer and real estate man.

"If he wants to be governor," said the latter, "then he can have my vote."

He paid high tribute to James A. Ferguson, saying he is a man of unquestioned ability and integrity.

Years ago when James E. Ferguson was campaigning for office he said, James A. Ferguson rallied the support of numerous other relatives and friends.

"I couldn't do any less than vote for him," the former governor said.

James E. Ferguson expressed the opinion the similarity of his name and that of James A. Ferguson would not confuse the voters.

The Greenville Herald contributes this tart comment on the candidacy of James A. Ferguson:

"Everyone has been wondering whom former Gov. James E. Ferguson will support in the Governors race. It develops that he will support a cousin, of whom most of the state never heard—that is, in the first primary. The cousin is James A. Ferguson, farmer and real estate man of Belton, who has just recently thrown his hat into the ring.

"Of course, Farmer Jim's cousin hasn't any chance to win the race. No one knows that better than Farmer Jim. But it will provide ample opportunity for the former governor to size up the situation and get ready to deliver the vote in the runoff, the vote of all the dyed in the wool Ferguson followers he can deliver.

BEATING THE "SUMMER DROUTH"

One of the Southwest's climatic peculiarities is so common that "the summer drouth" is a standard part of our vocabulary. It doesn't occur at the same time in every section, and occasionally doesn't occur at all but as a rule there is a period when rainfall is deficient, pastures dry up, and crops suffer to a greater or lesser degree. This is the time when milk flow falls off and growing livestock slow up in gains. When either happens the loss is final. At considerable pains and expense the milk flow can partly be restored and normal growth will again begin when adequate feed is supplied. But the milk that would have been produced and the weight that might have been gained has disappeared down the inexorable and ir reclaimable corridors of time.

That is why so many good farmers now hedge against the summer drouth by providing Sudan grass or other cultivated pastures, or keep a supply of ensilage in reserve. It is far cheaper in the long run to fence a field of Sudan so it can be grazed than to let the growing animals take a set-back or let the milk flow fall off.

"I had eight acres of corn that was 'firing up' so I dug a trench and put the corn in it," said a Guadalupe county farmer at Luling. "My pasture was dry, and I fed the corn to my cows right along out of the silo and kept the cream checks up to normal. Before the corn was all fed up my hegar also began to fire up before the grain was ripe. I cut that and ensiled it in the same trench. My cows never fell off in their milk all summer; and the trench, which my son and I dug in half a day made me many times its cost before the summer was over, I will have a bigger one ready next year."

Sudan grass at certain stages is high in protein and next to alfalfa is probably the best and cheapest feed for growing pigs and lambs. It has become customary thruout the Southwest to carry spring litters of pigs thru the summer on Sudan, if alfalfa or sweet clover is not available. A small amount of grain along with the Sudan pasture may be used to advantage if available, but if grain has to be bought at a high price it may be more profitable to grow the pigs out on pasture at the expense of a little more time to attain feeding size.

Another saving practice which is coming more and more into vogue is that of turning the farm flock or sheep into the corn field to graze the grass and weeds which spring up after the last cultivation. It serves the double purpose of weed and grass control in the field and relieves the pasture of its load for a few weeks, and the damage to the standing corn is negligible. If some of the old sheep develop a habit of riding down the corn take them out and leave the field to the lambs.

"I am building small trench silos for emergency summer use" says Robert Lindley, ace Jersey breeder of Hopkins county Texas. "Since ensilage spoils more rapidly in hot weather, and has to be fed deeper each day to avoid loss, it is economy to have small narrow silos for summer while the main supply is stored in the large trenches for winter use. They cost so little to build and fill that it is mighty cheap insurance against feed shortage at any time."

Dairy farmers in the cow testing associations are also learning that a regular supply of green pasture or succulent feed is the only fair way to learn whether a cow has a profitable productive capacity. Many a cow has been condemned with out having a chance to show what she could do, because so seldom have they had the right kind of feed thru-out an entire lactation period.

WORLD COMMENT

BRACK CURRY

Austin political quidnuncs generally predict the outcome of the campaign for State Offices with uncanny accuracy as picking the winner often means continuation in office for the 'ins' and lucrative jobs on the State payroll for the 'outs'.

Current opinion in the Capital city as to how the candidates rate is, therefore, of great interest to political observers and students of political as well as to the general public.

This is the way the Austin prognosticators rate the candidates today.

Attorney General Bill McCraw retains his leadership in the gubernatorial race. His friends maintain that he will win the nomination in the first primary despite the fact that he has 12 opponents. Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson ranks second. Thompson's strength has surprised the Austin prophets, who report that he has gained more strength during the last month than has McCraw and considerably narrowed the gap between the two.

Another surprise to the Austinites was the good State-wide reception tendered Tom Hunter who is making his fourth consecutive try for the governorship. Hunter's strength was discounted when he announced early in May but he is now regarded as a serious challenger for runoff honors with Bill McCraw. Friends of Hunter point out that he has never polled less than 200,000 votes in the first primary in any of his three previous races. This amount of votes, they say, would put him in the runoff this year due to the large field of gubernatorial aspirants.

The Associated Press released this dispatch shortly after Hunter announced:

"It is generally believed here (Austin) the entry of Tom Hunter of Wichita Falls means there definitely will be a run-off primary in the Governor's race this year.—The reasons are Hunter's strength, built up and tested in 3 campaigns, and the number of candidates, all of whom will get some votes and a few will get many.

'At the time of his announcement there were 10 other candidates, 5 being considered active and probable factors in the result. The five are Atty. Gen. William McCraw, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, Representative Clarence E. Farmer, Karl Crowley and P. D. Renfro.

"In his first campaign in 1932, Hunter was eliminated in the initial primary by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and Gov. R. S. Sterling, running third with 220,391 votes.

"In 1934, Hunter Polled 241,339 votes in the first primary, being topped only by James V. Allred, who received 297,656. In the run-off, Allred received 497,808 and Hunter 457,785.

"In the only primary of 1936, Allred, seeking re-election, polled a majority of all votes cast, receiving 552,219, while Hunter, in 2nd place accounted for 239,460. Other candidates were F. W. Fischer, Roy Sanderford and Pierce Brooks.

"In other words, in each of the three first primaries Hunter received more than 200,000 votes, and this with good competition. Also he is the type who draws support in all sections of the state and from all candidates and, on the record, seems to hold it."

Austinites are frankly puzzled at the potential voting strength of the dark horses in the gubernatorial Melee. For instance, they find it difficult to estimate how many votes James A. Ferguson, cousin of former Gov. James E. Ferguson, will poll.

Other candidates whose possible totals it is difficult to estimate are Karl Crowley, W. Lee O'Daniel, Clarence Miller and P. D. Renfro.

Austin predicts that Coke Stevenson of Junction is the current leader in the race for lieutenant governor. Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock will likely be Stevenson's run-off opponent.

In the Attorney General's race, Walter Woodul of Houston, now lieutenant governor, is the undisputed top man. Ralph Yarborough of Austin and Gerald C. Mann of Dallas are fighting for a runoff position with Woodul.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, will lead the ticket in his race, according to the Austin dopesters. His opponent, on the basis of present strength, will be in the runoff either Robert A. Stuart of Ft. Worth or John Wood of Austin.

"The State Observer", political weekly published at Austin, undertakes to rate the candidates for governor. At the time of the estimate, James A. Ferguson had not announced his ersatz candidacy. The men running for the nomination were rated on the power of the organization behind them or their personality, physical stamina, platform, showing in prior races, finances, group support, speaking ability, handshaking ability—giving them a grade based on 10 as perfect in each case and averaging the result.

On the power of the organization behind them, the candidates rated: Thompson 8.2; McCraw 6.9; Hunter, 4.5; O'Daniel, 3.0; Renfro 2.5; Farmer, 3.3; Crowley 2.7.

On their personality, McCraw led with 8.4, followed by Thompson with 6.5, Hunter with 6.2, O'Daniel with 5.0, Renfro with 4.3 Farmer with 3.4 and Crowley 2.9.

Thompson led in the physical stamina classification with a percentage of 8.7, McCraw had 8.0 Hunter 8.6 O'Daniel 5.3, Renfro 6.2, Farmer, 6.8, Crowley 7.3

On the basis of platform strength, McCraw received 7.4; Hunter 4.6; O'Daniel, 4.9; Renfro, 4.9; Farmer, 4.4; Crowley, 4.0.

The rating on the basis of prior races gave McCraw 8.9; Thompson, 7.8; Hunter 5.2; O'Daniel 0; Renfro 3.0; Farmer 3.0; Crowley 1.8.

Thompson received the highest rating for financial strength with a percentage of 8.7; McCraw had 6.7; Hunter 5.1; O'Daniel 3.7; Renfro 3.0; Farmer 2.3; Crowley 3.0.

Group Support gave McCraw a percentage of 7.5; Thompson 8.0; Hunter 4.6; O'Daniel 3.6; Renfro 2.8; Farmer, 4.2; Crowley 3.0 McCraw led in the speaking ability classification with 9.1; Thompson was given 7.0; Hunter 6.0; O'Daniel 6.8; Renfro 4.8; Farmer 6.3; Crowley 4.0.

For hand shaking ability, McCraw led again with 9.4; followed by Thompson with 7.0; Hunter 5.2; O'Daniel, with 6.0; Renfro with 5.4, Farmer with 4.9, and Crowley with 3.8.
