Political Calendar for Week Includes Ewing, Ewing, Gatesville; Maybe Others

Today, Friday, it's the Ewing picnic, and they'll be there, the "politicians, racers, common citizens and the also-rans" when they go to Ewing where everyone always enjoys their Ex-students picnics. Included in the festivities will be Bingo, ball games, plays, and many other features, including the "speakin'" in the morning at 11.

With the first day cancelled, today Ewing's "Candidate's Party" will be Saturday in that thriving Coryell county town. Included in the festivities will be many added attractions, of which we don't have any idea now. However, there won't be a still minute there.

Next in line is the rally to be held on the east side of the courthouse lawn in Gatesville Wednesday evening the 20th, under the auspices of the Western Auto Associate Store and the Coryell County News.

FIVE MINUTES will be allotted to each speaker, no more and no pooling. Stoges or substitute speakers may be used for any candidate who cannot be present. Sound equipment will be furnished free by the Western Auto Associate Store. Introductions will be only the name and office.

The entire county is invited to be present, and at NO COST! It's literally and actually "on the house". We will be glad to see you, and for you to see the aspirants for YOUR offices.

TEXAS PENSION ASS'N HEAD SPEAKS FOR HUNTER HERE

RAYMOND EDWARDS GETS BADLY INJURED ARM IN WRECK

Monday night about 12:00 midnight, a truck driven by Dewey Harman, driver for Ernest Boynton, was sideswiped by a light car driven by Raymond Edwards. Edwards suffered a very severe injury to his left arm at the elbow, when it scraped against the side of the truck.

Hermon Shoaf, another occupant of the automobile was uninjured except for a small gash on his face.

The truck was going east on highway 7, according to reports and the car was headed towards Gatesville. Very little damage was done to the truck, since the care hit back of the cab, only knocking loose a few standards and a rear fender. The car had a ruined front wheel, bent front axle, rolled up front and rear fenders and running board.

Edwards was treated at the local hospital.

GERALD C. MANN IS GATESVILLE SPEAKER

The greatest need in Texas politics today is a moral shot in the arm Gerald C. Mann, dynamic Dallas attorney and former secretary of state, declared here. (Continued on last page)

HARRY FLENTGE, CHIEF SPEAKER HERE ON SATURDAY NEXT

Harry Flentge, known thru out the 52nd Judicial District as an able attorney, and at present, District Attorney for this district will speak at 3 p. m. Saturday of this week on the east side of the court house.

Harry needs no introduction to the voters of this vicinity, and, as he has repeatedly demonstrated in his work in this particular court, is a forceful and interesting speaker. A large crowd naturally is expected when Mr. Flentge speaks.

COLORADO AUTHORITY GETS RESOLUTION FROM CITY

Resolutions have been sent the Lower Colorado River Authority "that the city desires to obtain electrical energy at the rates heretofore quoted and desires to enjoy the benefits of cheap power to be generated from dams on the Colorado River and distributed same to its citizens."

The resolution was dated July 8, and signed Mayor C. E. Gandy, and attested by City Secretary Eiland Lovejoy.

Contrary to the apparent reading of the resolution, this does not mean the city has, or for that matter will, accept this power and distribute it, but that consideration will be given to the proposition, if it is deemed the most beneficial proposition for the consumers.

HUGHES' HOME!

Howard Hughes landed his big twin-motored Lockheed Monoplane in New York at Floyd Bennett Field at 12:37 Gatesville time, after his completion of his trip around the world which took him 3 days, 19 hours and 17 minutes.

Hughes and his four companions left Floyd Bennett Field Sunday, making six stops, which included the following places: Paris, France, Moscow, Omsk, and Yakutsk, U.S.S.R., Fairbanks, Alaska, Minneapolis, Minnesota, U.S.A., and New York, again.

Hughes companions were Navigators Harry P. O'Conner, and Thoms. A. Thurslow; Radio Engineer Richard N. Stoddard, and Flight Engineer, Ed Lund.

He received a welcome in New York, only comparable to that received by Lindy.

ERNEST O. THOMPSON SPEAKER HERE 2 O'CLOCK SAT.

Saturday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon a prominent speaker of the state will speak on the court house lawn in behalf of Ernest O. Thompson, candidate for governor.

Although we are told the speaker will be a man of prominence in Texas his identity is not known at this time.

Dan Cross and Howard Williams were visitors here yesterday.

They're still at it—and, they have turned in to District Clerk Carl McClendon eight felonies! We refer to the Grand Jury.

Door Baliff Wicker, who says "they don't tell him anything" but they call lots of people", says he has no idea when they'll "end it all".

District Attorney Harry Flentge is right in the big middle of it, and, we'll be hearing more and more.

So far, here's the "billing", according to the "D. C."

Two bills against W. T., alias "Dub" Haley charged with burglary.

Two bills against Jack McCrackin, burglary.

Two bills against Robert Lee Franks, alias Bill Franks, burglary.

Arthur "Red" Chappel, charged with murder.

COUNTY SUPT. RULINGS ON TRANSFER OF SCHOLASTICS

From Director John Olsen of the School Census come the following letter in reference to transfers of school children from one district to another. The letter reads:

"I am advised that the Attorney General's office, thru its assistant, Mr. William Kemp, has in opinion No. 1006, held that the county superintendents do not have discretionary authority in refusing transfers."

"You are advised, therefore, that said opinion holds that county superintendent must grant all requested transfers made by parents; that any group of trustees which objects to the transfers shall file its objection with the county board in the adopted rules and regulations of this county board of school trustees within 5 days after the 1st day of August, and the county board shall head all protests prior to the 15th day of August of each year."

"Please take careful note of this act and in conformity with the Attorney General's opinion so as not to endanger the total number of scholastics in any school district as determined in any law, especially the equalization law."

State Supt. L. A. Woods also writes:

Under a recent opinion by the Attorney General's Department, county board transfers are not legal transfers so far as the Equalization Law is concerned. For the purpose of calculating the amount of aid which a state aid school will receive, only those scholastics which have been transferred by parent application thru the office of the county superintendent will count on the teacher-pupil load. For example, it takes 67 scholastics for a school to qualify for aid on a three-

City Council Gives Information on Local Traffic Problems

We are constantly reminded of traffic accident, traffic deaths and the question for the citizens of Gatesville to answer is "HOW IS YOUR DRIVING?" and to those who know how to drive and those who don't, the City will make a courteous, yet forceful effort to handle Gatesville's traffic safely. Nearly all traffic deaths and injuries in the state last year were caused by violation of traffic laws. If we are to stop these accidents we must stop traffic violation. These traffic accidents are the problem of every town in the state and more so those towns on highways that lead in and out of the smaller towns where the citizenship have not observed traffic laws and enforcements.

Gatesville has been fortunate but the City Council realizing the extreme seriousness of the traffic conditions in Gatesville will put on an enforcement program for YOUR SAFETY.

It will pay each and every driver and pedestrian to acquaint themselves with the traffic laws and for your convenience we will list a few of the more important ones:

SPEEDING: The maximum legal speed within City limits as set by state law is twenty miles per hour.

BOULEVARD STOP SIGNS: Come to a complete stop at the stop sign and proceed when safe.

LIGHT SIGNALS: What you should do, both driver and pedestrian.

RED LIGHT: This means a complete stop, both driver and pedestrian. The driver may make a right turn only after a complete stop has been made, remember the pedestrian has the right of way.

AMBER LIGHT: This is the warning signal. Do not drive into intersection while the amber light is on under any circumstances.

GREEN LIGHT: This means proceed, but only when the right of way has cleared.

A legal right turn may be made but turn carefully and as near the middle of the main street as possible remember the pedestrian has the right of way.

A legal left turn may be made after driving to the middle of the intersection and around the button, remember the pedestrian has the right of way.

While making all turns always make the signal with your hand and make sure the other driver sees your signal. Do not cut corners either on left or right turns.

FIRE TRUCKS, AMBULANCES, POLICE CARS, FIRE HOSE, AND FUNERALS: Fire trucks and ambulances have the right of way over all traffic. They are on missions of mercy. Should you see or hear one approaching, the law requires you to pull immediately to the right curb and stop.

Police cars have the right of way.

Fire hose must not be crossed under any circumstances.

No vehicle is permitted to cut thru a funeral procession.

This program of safety now is a state-wide movement and it is urged that every citizen, civic group and other organization enter into it with one purpose in mind, that is to reduce accidents and save human lives.

Your cooperation is requested. The City Council.

Open House Held For The Bayless

CONTOUR FURROWS IMPROVE CORYELL COUNTY PASTURES

Contour furrows on pasture land are proving very beneficial in several farms in the Gatesville Camp Area. These furrows are installed to stimulate growth and to prolong the growing season of grass by preventing rainfall to run off from the steeper slopes.

The process of furrowing pasture land consists of plowing furrows four to five inches deep and four to six feet apart on true contour lines, with a middle buster plow. These furrows act as individual reservoirs in holding the water where it falls until it has had sufficient time to penetrate the soil.

Pasture land furrowed in February on the C. E. Turner farm near Purlmela and on the L. C. Meharg farm near Trsville has completely resodded in the furrows, and the grass is much thicker and greener there now than on areas that have received no treatment. Both Mr. Turner and Mr. Meharg state that all rainfall has been held on the land except in rare cases where large rains fell after the furrows were standing full of water from a previous rain.

Contour furrows offer a very cheap, safe and practical method for pasture improvement. Since there is no ridge to maintain, weed control is the only maintenance necessary and weeds should be controlled in all pastures, regardless of treatment. It has been estimated that furrows four feet apart provide a storage place for 20,000 gallons of water per acre, and this estimate is a very significant fact since insufficient water is recognized as the most limiting factor in pasture development for this area, where much of our grazing land is located on steep slopes that encourage rapid runoff.

EVANGELISTIC MEETING BEGAN SATURDAY AT OGLESBY

COUNTY SUPT. RULES

(Continued on page 5) teacher basis. If a district has a net scholastic count of 66 scholastics, made by the county superintendent and upon the records of the Census Division, and if the district has two transfers made by the county board, the district would be allowed two teachers, not three.

Let me urge you to give publicity to this opinion and notify all of the patrons and schools in your county so that those parents who are interested in transferring their children may do so before August 1. Since this affects the amount of aid which a school may receive, based upon the number of teachers employed, this should receive you very close attention. Mr. Olsen of the Census Division advises me that in accordance with the Attorney General's opinion No. 10,006, all transfers requested by the parent must be approved by the county superintendents.

Only those pupils who have been transferred by parents application thru the county superintendent's office will count on teacher pupil load given in the in the State aid application. These scholastics who are transferred by voucher after the regular transfer date, August 1 do not on the teacher-pupil load.

"Let me repeat again that this is of vital concern to many school districts thruout the state. Therefore am urging that you give this your prompt attention."

Very truly yours,
L. A. Woods, State Supt

THE POLITICAL POT'S BOILING

WELDON BURNEY HAS STATEMENT FOR THE JULY 23 VOTERS

Some voters have remarked that I am too young to be a Representative. I am not as young as I appear, being 34 years of age at the present time. I graduated from the Hamilton High School in the class of '26 and have been engaged in business with my father in Evant interested in farming and ranching since that time. I feel that my experience places me in a position to represent the people of this district in a capable and efficient manner.

I have tried to see as many voters in the district as possible but find it impossible to contact everyone. I am making the race for Representative on issues that are facing the people of Texas today and not on personal friendship altogether. As your representative in the Legislature, I would face the same problems which would confront the Governor, as laws and changes in laws originate in the House of Representatives. Although my opinions and things for which I stand may not meet with the approval of every voter of this district, I will constantly be on guard and stand for the things that will be of benefit to the people of my district—and I will not only vote accordingly, but will use my best efforts to put through legislation of interest to my constituents. I would expect to be a "doer" instead of a mere "voter". I haven't any political record to offer you as this is my first time to ever ask for public office, but I would appreciate your vote and influence in the coming election and promise if elected to make a "live" representative.

(Political Adv.)

A. E. WHISENHUNT MAKES STATEMENT TO VOTERS

In announcing for County Superintendent, I stated that I believed that the people of this county were fair minded and reasonable. I have since that time spent two or more months visiting and discussing school problems with you and I am still of that opinion. Each community has its individual problem and likewise each individual. These problems can only be solved by just and fair consideration on the part of everyone concerned.

I have made a house to house campaign in most of the county. Many of you however, I have failed to meet personally, but I have been denied that against my wishes. I shall continue to try to meet and solicit you personally, but, if I should fail to see you, I would be glad to have your support and vote.

I wish to say at this time to the people of my home community, it has been a pleasure to work with you for the past six years and time nor prudence will not permit me to visit you and solicit you in your homes but I deeply appreciate your support and the many kind and helpful words you have spoken in my behalf during this campaign. The encouraging words, acts and courtesies shown me by the citizenship of this county shall never be forgotten.

I believe that I should again state clearly for your consideration my positive attitude. I believe that schools are for the education of our children with a view to making them good self sustaining citizens and I shall if elected strive to affect that goal. I stand for fair and impartial consideration and treatment of all persons and schools in adjusting all school problems. I believe, in fact I know, that the County Superintendent is the supervisor of the schools in the county and that he has laws regulating his duties concerning that work; and I, shall, if elected administer to those duties faithfully with only such exceptions as law and prudence will permit. I have made no public or private promise which could influence me to do otherwise, neither shall I do so. I believe that if such a course is followed that the school system of the county will be a pleasure and benefit everyone. I shall if entrusted with that office conduct it in such a manner that information concerning school work can be had and with promptness. I will not stay action that should be taken, neither will I withhold information that should be had. People of Coryell County, I really want to be your Superintendent and render to you a valuable service. If you can give me your vote of confidence, I will serve you faithfully with one object in mind, that of building a school system for Coryell County that will furnish the material means for educating your chil-

Your vote and influence will be appreciated.
A. E. Whisenhunt,
Candidate for County School Superintendent.

A. W. ELLIS IN "CLERK" RACE HAS STATEMENT FOR VOTERS

To the people of Coryell County:
For the past few weeks I have been canvassing the county in the interest of my candidacy for the office of County Clerk. I have earnestly tried to see each voter of the county, but due to the limited time that I have had since the closing of school, I know there are some that I have failed to see, I wish to take thank everyone for every kindness shown me and to those I have failed to see, I wish to take this method of soliciting their support and help.

For the benefit of those who do not know me, I wish to state that I am a teacher at Osage, where I have been employed as principal for the past eight years. I would appreciate your investigation of my record as well as my ability and qualifications. I assure you that anything and everything that is done in my behalf will be gratefully appreciated.

Respectfully,
A. W. Ellis

SHERIFF JOE WHITE HAS STATEMENT FOR VOTERS IN THIS CO.

To the voters of Coryell County:
It has been my pleasure to serve you in the capacity of Sheriff of this County for the past 3½ years, during which time I have tried at all times to be courteous and fair, feeling that the innocent should be protected as well as the guilty punished

I have felt that each citizen is entitled to equal consideration and have tried to conduct the affairs of this office on that basis.

I have not had occasion to see every voter in the County nor will I have before the election. I have always felt that my work came first and when the duties of my office require my time I have given it feeling that I was discharging the responsibility (Continued on opposite page)

George W. Barcus

Candidate for Court of Civil Appeals

Geo. W. Barcus, who has spent his life in McLennan County, is a candidate for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals at Waco.

There are eleven Courts of Civil Appeals in Texas, with three Judges on each Court. Approximately 1,400 cases are filed in said Courts each year, on which opinions must be written by one of said Judges, and each Judge must write an average of 42 opinions per year, or additional Courts must be provided.

Judge Barcus served on said Court for one and a half terms. During his first year he wrote 43 opinions, and he wrote an average of 53 opinions each year. He is now asking for a second full term.

The opponents of Judge Barcus, on July 14, 1937, was appointed by Governor Allred to succeed Judge Stanford, who died. The record as obtained from the Clerk of said Court shows that his opponents has served as Judge one year and has written only four (4) opinions, for which he has received in salary $6362.51. His two Associates have written more than 75 opinions during said time.

There are 16 counties in the district and Judge Barcus cannot see all the voters. This is a personal request from him to each one for his vote.

GERALD C. MANN—

fore a large audience on the courthouse lawn Wednesday afternoon in speaking in the interest of his candidacy for attorney general.

"We need in responsible state positions men with principles men with courage and character who will put principle above personal gain and who will do what their conscience dictates without fear of political consequences.

"I shall sacrifice no principle to gain the office of attorney general and when elected I shall sacrifice no principle to keep it. I'd rather be a real attorney general for only two years than be a vacillating shifting politician. I'd rather be a one-termer than a two timer.

Remembered for his successful battle against fraudulent stock brokers and racketeers while secretary of state when he exposed gangs of operators selling worthless stocks and subsequently wrote and secured passage of the present Texas Securities Act. Mann here pledged a continuous fight on all rackets.

"The worst racket today, the one that has too long gone unchallenged and unhindered" he declared, "is the political racket. The political racketeer is the influence-peddling lawyer, the schemer. When I am attorney longer sit enthroned in Texas.

"I shall be relentless in the prosecution of all law violators whether the law breaker is the largest corporation or most humble citizen. On the other hand I shall not prosecute a man or set of men for the purpose of gaining public favor nor shall I fail to prosecute for fear of losing it. Honest dealings and a square deal for all will be my motto as attorney general.

'Hamburger Campaign'

Dist. Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin—on leave of absence without pay while making the race for attorney general—won a million dollars in cash for the state in one case as assistant attorney general. Friends describe his present race as a "hamburger campaign" as he has no elaborately-financed organization with an army of paid workers but is carrying his candidacy direct to the people—shaking hands with a thousand or more daily between his six to 10 speeches to large crowds, as he walks, talks and travels 18 out of each 24 hours. Born in East Texas near Tyler, he waited on tables in a student boarding house, worked as a harvest hand in the wheat fields and as a tank builder in the West Texas oil fields to earn his law education. Here Yarborough is seen eating a typical campaign "dinner" —one hamburger.

BY BRACK CURRY

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

PRESENTING—your candidates for lieutenant governor.

Six contestants are fighting a torrid battle to succeed Houston Walter F. Woodul as presiding officer of the Texas Senate and as second in command to the governor. They are John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, Pierce Brooks of Dallas, Alton M. Mead of San Angelo, Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock, George A. Davison, Jr. of Eastland and Coke R. Stevenson of Junction.

Due to limited space, only a brief word picture of each candidate will be presented for the purpose of acquainting the readers of The News with the candidates or this important office.

The Dallas Morning News commented editorially upon the race for lieutenant governor in these pertinent words:

"More attention is being given the contest for lieutenant governor than in many years, all because of a growing realization over Texas that the position has become far more important and more powerful than most persons realize."

"It has been realized that the presiding officer of the Senate the lieutenant governor, in the appointment of all standing committees, has great powers. These committees have very much to do in controlling legislation. Their personnel, along with an adroit use of the rules, can go a great distance in killing or passing bills."

"In naming the chairmen of 38 standing committees, as well as all members, the lieutenant governor can influence legislation by anticipating the burning issues that will come before the Legislature. He can appoint chairmen and committeemen to constitute a majority for or against the bills that will be introduced, and if passed, he can appoint Senate conferees, either conservative or progressively radical."

JOHN LEE SMITH

John Lee Smith of Throckmorton is campaigning upon the slogan of "Let's Parole the Political Pie Eaters and Pay the Pensioners."

Smith in his platform, declares that "the Tax Problem is our most vital issue. The manner in which we solve it will determine the success or failure of our form of government. The way we acquire taxes and the manner in which we expend them will be the index to our success or failure.

"I am opposed to any additional taxes," he states. "If the $154,000,000 we now collect is wisely spent we will have sufficient money to pay the old age pensions in full, maintain a public schools properly, support adequately our highway system and perform the others necessary agencies of government. To do this we must rid ourselves of the swarms of political pie eaters—permanently parole them—that devour the substance of the people."

Smith served six years as county judge of Throckmorton county. He saw service in France as a private soldier. He was a member of the Democratic Convention in Chicago in 1932 and was connected with the original Roosevelt movement. For two years he served a State Chairman of the American Legion's Committee on Americanism. He is a Past Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Texas and was a member of the Veteran's Committee of the Democratic National Committee in 1936.

Pierce Brooks, who paid his filing fee for lieutenant governor on the installment plan, emphasizes the fact that he is not a lawyer nor a professional politician and points to the fact that all of his opponents are lawyers politicians and corporate "stooges."

"These men," declares Brooks "are not interested in reducing taxes they are interested only in spending money. It is high time for the people of Texas to elect businessmen to important State offices; businessmen who know from actual experience what mounting tax rates mean and not politicians who spend every waking moment trying to figure out some way to spend money. I am offering myself as a 'businessman candidate' for the important post of lieutenant governor."

His platform urges the abandonment of the automobile license tax and substituting therefor a nominal registration fee. He states that he would reduce governmental overhead $10,000,000 by the elimination of needless and overlapping bureaus abolition of the liquor board and old age assistance commission, placing the duties of these departments in the hands of local authorities and courts, which he feels would be more competent to handle such matters.

Alton M. Mead, business man, farmer and rancher of San Angelo, favors the abolishment of all useless boards and officers of the State government, effecting thereby a saving to the people of six million dollars a year. He wants to pay the aged $30 per month "with no red tape".

Mead favors the Townsend Plan local self government, all clean sports, horse racing, baseball, auto racing, amusement clubs—free from high taxation.

He would cut the auto license to $1.00 a year on all cars and trucks in Texas. He favors cutting the gasoline tax from five cents to two cents and abolishing the $1.75 poll tax.

He favors doing all the State business at regular session of the legislature. Our Legislative representatives should be paid $2,500 per year, he says.

"I do not believe any one should hold office more than four years," he says. "Give the other fellow a chance. Get new people in office, thus doin away with old politicians."

He would give more tonnage to the trucks thru Texas and would establish shorter hours and a set price for work.

G. H. NELSON

Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock is the foremost advocate of the unicameral legislature in the current campaign. "Under our present two house system of legislation, the hope of getting economy in government is only a dream," he declares. "The ease with which responsibility for economy is dodged, to buck-passing the log rolling, and the secret drafting of important legislation in conference committees, which go with a two house legislature, make it almost impossible to get any real economy."

"If on the other hand, we had a one house legislature where every representative had to vote squarely on the issue of economy in government then real economy would become a reality" he maintains.

"We should have a smaller more respectable legislature, whose members are paid on a full time basis to do a full time job. When you, the people, pay compensation for their full time employment and forbid them to accept employment from special interests then and then only will you get responsible, efficient and progressive legislation."

"The constant upward trend of taxes must be reversed," Nelson says. "Of course, we cannot reduce our expenditures for education and highways, but we can reduce our expenditures by putting sound business methods in to our State government."

COKE R. STEVENSON

Coke R. Stevenson lists as his qualifications for lieutenant governor six years as county judge and county attorney of Kimble county, ten years in the legislature, twice speaker of the house, being the only man to serve two consecutive terms as speaker.

As a member of the house Stevenson introduced and passed progressive, constructive and business like measures. Among these are the State Auditor's Law, providing a check on government expenses; the State Budget Law for business methods in government; payment of county highway bonds out of the gasoline tax.

During his term as speaker the cost of government was cut 25 per cent and the taxpayers saved $13,000,000 during the biennium of 1933-34 and 13,000,000 during the biennium of 1935-36. At the same time according to Stevensons platform, the revenue for public schools was increased and all of the present old age assistance payments were provided for.

Stenson is bitterly opposed to the unicameral legislature. "The small one house legislature urged by the unicameralites will create a paradise for special interests," he declares. "Such a plan will turn the legislative place over to the professional politician. Experience has demonstrated that we do not get better men in the legislature by raising the pay."

WORLD COMMENT

BRACK CURRY

Pot Shot from the political arena:

Not to be outdone by hill-billy bands, Tom F. Hunter is enlivening his campaign for governor with a pair of entertainers who campaign for him with a program of songs, antics and a mind reading act for the edification of the crowd.

Marshall Reed, presented as "The Great Solomi", sits blindfolded on the platform and furnishes answers to questions put to member of the audience by Ray Covert.

A group of popular radio entertainers broadcasting twice daily from a Dallas station is devoting a part of its program to Hunter's candidacy.

Other State candidates and the voters were promised something to make them set up and take notice this week by Pierce Brooks, candidate for lieutenant governor. Brooks said that a panoramic float 20 feet long is almost ready to be hitched to his sound car for a tour of Texas before election day.

On the float is a figure of Brooks shown driving the professional politicians out of the Capitol.

Brooks advocates reducing the automobile registration fee to about $3 a year.

In the midst of the battle among Democrats for nominations at State and local offices, Texas Republicans are going along quietly with plans to select their State candidates at a convention in Houston Aug. 9. John W. Philp secretary and organization director has sent out the call for the Republican convention, with instructions on holding precinct, county and district conventions.

Backers of Attorney General William McCraw have launched a barrage of verbal denunciations against W. Lee O'Daniel. Among the speakers who gave the first public acknowledgement of the Fort Worth candidate's strength are former Attorney General W. A. Keeling former District Attorney Henry Brooks of Austin State Labor Commissioner Fred Nichols, Mayor Tom Miller of Austin and John B. Pope of Dallas, head of the McCraw speakers bureau.

In a few speeches McCraw had ridiculed a "mountain music" candidate but had not other wise paid much attention to the O'Daniel candidacy nor has Thompson, Hunter and the others. This time McCraw's supporters came out in the open and denounced him.

Keeling said the big fight was on and the people will say on July 23 whether they want a "Yankee Governor from north of the Mason and Dixon line who didn't bring enough recommendations to Texas to warrant me hiring him to milk my cow". This was a jab at O'Daniel's Ohio residence up to 13 years ago.

"Yankee flour salesman" was another name applied. His candidacy was referred to as the "political bubble of 1938".

Keeling accused O'Daniel of being on a tax strike and said that if all other taxpayers did likewise there would be no money to pay the old age pensions, on which O'Daniel harps so much.

The SPORT SCROLL

By POST

One of the greatest diamond attractions in Texas will get under way Wednesday night at Katy Park in Waco when the strong Grand Prize Beer team of Houston tangles with the capable Seven-Up Bottlers of Austin in the curtain raising contest of the third annual State Semi Professional Baseball Tournament, and it is expected that many will travel to Waco for the opening game and other contests throughout the entire tournament.

County baseball fans have another treat in store for them. On Saturday, July 30, the fine Mound team will meet an all-star team composed of the cream of the performers of the other six teams. It is hoped that the game will be played on the State Diamond, but since it is doubtful as to whether or not the Training School officials will allow an admission fee to be charged, the scene may be shifted to Mound's home diamond, or to the old athletic field here in Gatesville.

The managers of the six teams will pick the team by popular vote, and after looking over their rosters, it seems that this all-star aggregation will be one of the strongest teams ever assembled in the county. However, Mound will give them a battle, and has a fine chance to win.

Tomorrow at the three o'clock hour on the State diamond the capable State nine will meet a Smith's Grocery team from Waco. Manager Raborn Balch has two good hurlers, Summers and Hall, lined up to take care of the slab duties but as yet is undecided as to who he will

SIX GAMES ARE ON COUNTY DIAMOND CARD

Coryell county fans will get a chance to see plenty of diamond action this week end, with six games scheduled to be played at various diamond hot spots over the county.

This afternoon at three o'clock at Ewing those two ancient enemies, Mound and Pidcoke will tangle once more. The last time these two teams met this year the Mound boys edged out a 4-3 win, with the winning run coming start.

At three o'clock today at Ewing, the Mound team will meet Pidcoke as an attraction for the fourth annual Ewing picnic. This is due to be a real battle with neither club likely to ease up just because it is an exhibition contest. Bowman, slugging third baseman for the Cokers and also the best third sacker in the loop, sprained his ankle sliding home in a softball game here Tuesday night, and it is doubtful whether he will be able to take the field against Mound today. If he is unable to play, the Cokers will feel his loss greatly, because he is, without a doubt, the heaviest hitter on the Pidcoke club.

Crowds are increasing every night at the softball games. The Coca-Cola ten, a really powerful outfit, is leading the league and probably will stay up there for the season, with the dog fight coming up in the battle for second and third places, and the right to play in the league play off.

Jonesboro and Pidcoke will probably dominate the all-star team that will meet Mound July 30. Jiggs Drake, P. T. Lemmons, Hazen Ward, and Carl Liljedahl, all Eagles, are practically assured a place on the squad. Eric Wiegand, a hard hitting outfielder-pitcher, Bowman, Virgil Lockhart, and C. A. Barton will probably represent the Cokers in the game. The remaining players will probably be scattered out through the other four clubs.

ing in during the last half of the ninth. Those Cokers are out for revenge and will probably shoot the works in an effort to give Mound their first set back of the year. Cleo Whaley or Schoolboy Rutherford will handle the pitching duties for the Mound club, while Virgil Lockhart or Paul Newton will go to the box for the Cokers.

Then on Saturday at the State Training school the State club will meet a Smiths Grocery club from Waco. Nothing is known of the strength of this Waco nine but it is known full well that the State team has a pretty fair country ball club. Either Summers or Hall will open on the mound for the state.

Then on Sunday, besides the three league games, the champion ship bound Mound nine will play a team from Dallas on their home diamond. This contest is apt to attract many fans, and will probably out draw every other game of the day.

The Sunday league finds CCC at Jonesboro; Pidcoke at Coryell City, and Blackfoot at Moshien.

All-Stars Bing-Bang Way To 18-7 Win Over McGregor

Gatesville All-Stars soft ball squad skam-banged their way to an 18-7 win over a like McGregor team in a loosely played, free hitting game. Blanton and Wilson did the hurling for the locals. Blanton started out strong not allowing a run in the first three innings. However, he weakened in the fourth and Gredy, McGror shortstop, slammed out a home run that rolled to the left field wall. Wilson relieved Blanton in the last of the fifth and McGregor shoved another tally across. Wilson then hurled scoreless ball for the next two innings, but in the last inning McGregor jolted him for four runs.

Gatesville opened strong, taking advantage of numerous McGregor miscues to score eight runs in the opening stanza. They added three more in the second and two more in the third. Baker McGregor hurler then settled down and did not allow another tally until the first of the eighth when the locals again found the range and slugged across eight runs.

Jessie Lee Wiggins and Doc Ray led the hitters, Wiggins getting two out of five, with the portly Doctor slamming out a single and a doubles in two wobbles to the plate.

In a league game Monday night the hustling Firemen gave the dope bucket a mighty kick when they licked Blanton and the Highway 3-1. Ole' Doc Ray turned the clock of time back about six years, and hurled magnificent ball the entire seven innings, allowing only three singles, with the only Highway run coming in the seventh, and that tally was unearned.

Blanton pitched his heart out, but he lost control for a moment in the fifth, faltered a little and that coupled with wobbly support allowed all three of the Smokeaters' runs to trickle across.

In the second game Monday night the all powerful Coca-Cola team blasted a listless Thomas and Ratliff outfit, 10-0. Woodrow Wilson, burly Coca-Cola hurler turned in the most dazzling hurling performance of the year, by hurling a no-hit no-run game, with only four men reaching first and not a man advancing as far as second. He was never in serious trouble, and showed a blazing fast ball, which never got out of his control.

That hustling little Arnold bunch put on another sensational last inning splurge, much to the delight of the fans, and edged out a 13-12 win over the Thomas and Ratliff bridge gang. They scored 6 runs in the closing inning to win their second victory of the season, raise their percentage to .500, and take fourth place in the standings.

In the No. 2 game Tuesday the CCC boys turned in a mild upset when they slugged the Merchants, 6-4.

Pretty Campaigner for L. A. Woods

Few candidates for state offices have such pretty campaigners as Miss Geneiva Stewart of Dallas Technical high school, who is speaking nightly in behalf of L. A. Woods, candidate for re-election to the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Only 17 Miss Stewart won this year's State Inter-scholastic League championship in girls' declamation.

HARRY FLENTGE'S RECORD

Two years ago the citizens of the 52nd Judicial District of Texas elected me to the office of District Attorney. In soliciting your vote for re-election, I think it proper to emphasize the fact that I seek a SECOND TERM. It has been a time honored democratic custom for many years to accord a second term to an officer who is seeking re-election. I make no extravagant claims concerning my record but do assert that I have represented the district in the prosecution of crime. According to the records and reports of the grand juries of some of the counties crime is on the decrease.

RECORD IN 1937

In the year 1937, my first year in office, I obtained 73 convictions through pleas of guilty and not guilty in the three counties. Only three persons were acquitted in Comanche County; two in Coryell County and none in Hamilton County. All cases that were appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin, Texas during the year 1937 and disposed of, were affirmed.

In accordance with my promise of two years ago, I have prosecuted all cases without fear or favor and made no distinction between creed, color, wealth or poverty. The records will show that by following this principle, I have prosecuted parties for offenses that occurred in 1933 long before I was your District Attorney. The District Attorney's office is important and should be represented by some attorney who has attained some measure of success in the private practice of law and who is able to fearlessly prosecute crime without the aid of private prosecutors. Whether my record in the private practice of law and as your official will meet this requirement is for the voters of this district to decide.

COURT CONVENED JULY 11TH

Court convened in Coryell County in the 11th day of July and during the last two weeks of the campaign, I shall not neglect the duties of the District Attorney's office to electioneer. However, I feel that my friends in the District will not censure me for doing my duty and will not be changed by any last minute political talk.

INSTRUCTED VERDICTS

During the time that I have been your District Attorney there were two instructed verdicts. One where the testimony of an accomplice witness developed to be insufficient as a matter of law and the other was given when the witness completely changed the former testimony made before the County Attorney. These instructed verdicts were given on my motion but were given by the Court and were sanctioned and authorized by law.

I make no prior claims to the office and am very grateful to the people for the many courtesies shown me in the past. It is in this spirit and in the spirit of a time honored custom that I ask your support for a SECOND DEMOCRATIC TERM OF OFFICE.

Upon my record both as a citizen and an official, I submit to you my candidacy for re-election. My promise for the future is to fairly and impartially enforce the law without fear or favor.

Harry Flentge

Candidate for District Attorney, Second Term.

 Directed by Norman Taurog

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:
 In all St. Petersburg there was no boy like Tom Sawyer, his elders agreed. He showed as much ingenuity getting out of mischief as he did getting into it. After a series of escapades, he meets Huck Finn, ragamuffin, and makes a date to join him at the cemetery where Huck will show him a novel method of curing warts. At school, Tom misbehaves and is told to sit with the girls. He chooses Becky Thatcher, his new light o'love. Tom takes the blame for a cartoon of himself that the teacher discovers on Becky's slate. In gratitude, Becky accompanies him on a walk. And Tom, suggesting that they get engaged, is progressing splendidly until he confesses that he was engaged once before!

Chapter Four

Tom and Huck, in their midnight rendezvous at the cemetery were considerably disturbed by the moaning of the wind through the trees and the hooting of an uneasy owl. They entered a hole in the old board fence, moving geometrically to avoid stepping on graves. Near the tomb of the late Hoss Williams, they climbed a tree. Soon three vague figures appeared, one swinging an old-fashioned tin lantern, another pushing a wheelbarrow. "They ain't devils," said Huck. "One of 'em's old Muff Potter." "Say, Huck, I know another of them voices. It's Injun Joe." As the three men reached the grave, the owner of the third voice held the lantern up and revealed the face of young Dr. Robinson. "They're body-snatching!" whispered Huck. Muff Potter and Injun Joe dug up the coffin, hoisted it out on the ground. They pried off the lid with their shovels, got out the body and dumped it into the wheelbarrow. Then there was a pause. "Just a minute, Saw-bones," said Injun Joe to the doctor. "When do I get paid for this?" "Are you crazy? I've already paid you in advance. Do your job and shut up." "I want five dollars more now, and five more next week. You only just started paying." The doctor lashed out with his fist and knocked Injun Joe sprawling. He turned from Joe to see Muff approaching, knife in hand, and mistaking his intent, laid him out with a shovel. Injun Joe grabbed the knife from Muff's hand and drove it into the doctor's back. Then the half-breed robbed the body, after which he put the fatal knife in Potter's right hand and sat down on the dismantled coffin. Five minutes passed, and Potter began to stir and moan, then sat up in horror. "Too bad, Muff," said Injun Joe. "What'd you do it for?" "Me? I never done it." "What's that in your hand?" Muff looked at the knife, threw it away in horror. "Joe, oh Joe," he cried aghast. "I never meant to do it!" The two boys dashed away toward the village, speechless with horror. Exhausted and breathless, they finally sought refuge in the old deserted tannery. By next noon everybody in St. Petersburg had heard of the murder, and pretty soon the sheriff saw Muff Potter down by the branch, washing himself, which was not a habit with Potter. Injun Joe, who found himself suspected, had blamed the killing on Muff, and the Commonwealth of Missouri formally charged Muff Potter with the murder of Dr. Robinson. Huck and Tom were outraged at this miscarriage of justice, but were afraid to speak. Tom's conscience hurt him considerably. Aunt Polly, noticing that something seemed to all the boys, prescribed her favorite remedy—a spoonful of pain-killer. But Tom managed to administer the second mouthful to Aunt Polly's cat, Peter, who with a mighty hurrah ended a wild rush around the room by sailing through the open window, carrying most of the flower pots with him. When Aunt Polly's back was turned, Tom snatched a lump of brown sugar from the table to remove the taste of the pain-killer. Aunt Polly whacked Tom with a

THE FATTED CALF

Just because the man in the parable killed the fatted calf, when his prodigal son came home hungry is no warrant for folks who raise calves to do without fresh meat until some occasion for celebration arises. With all due reverence for the spiritual implications of the Bible story it also teaches a very practical lesson, which is as useful today in America as it was in Palestine two thousand years ago.

The custom of fattening a calf for the home table is an old one and a good one. Abraham and Lot, like other range cattle men had to depend on grass-fattened beef, which was sometimes good and most of the time not so good, but when their posterity settled down to farming they were able to fatten a calf or lamb at any time of the year by feeding some of the crops they raised.

The old fashioned "beef club" which several families take turns in killing a fat calf and divide the meat into portions of family size is still a good way for country people to have fresh meat every week.

They are not as common as they were a generation ago, when nearly every farm had cows and raised calves, but with auto transportation a "beef club" could be organized over a much wider territory than formerly, and there is scarcely a community without eight to a dozen families who have calves to fatten.

A Wilson county (Texas) beef club which has been in operation for many years brings all the animals to George Boehning's farm where slaughtering facilities have been provided. A blackboard on the walls keep the record of the different cuts allotted to each family, so that in the long run each gets back an entire beef. A central slaughtering place is desirable but not indispensable if each of the member know how to dress and cut up the carcass in standard portions. With ice or mechanical refrigerators now so common on farms a family can use a larger portion of fresh meat than formerly.

The refrigerated locker system is being installed in many ice plants in the Southwest, and farmers can rent a locker for about $1 a month. The carcass is cut up and the cuts wrapped separately in butcher's paper; the temperature in the locker-room is kept well below freezing, and the family withdraws the cuts as wanted—enough for the day's cooking or whatever can be cared for in the household refrigerator. This enables a single family to kill fresh meat any time in the year, reduces the cost of living and makes a good living better.

Of course the steam pressure canner also provides a method of having meat at any time of the year, and thousands of families make a practice of putting up a year's supply of beef in cans. Not long ago the writer dropped into an Oklahoma farm home on washday just before noon. In a few minutes the lady served a good dinner from the pantry including delicious beef from the can, fresh-heated in the oven.

After all, the method of handling meat is secondary. The famous Welsh rabbit was not far from wrong when it began with "First catch your rabbit". Before we can kill the fatted calf we must "raise" the calf and get him fat.

Maybe, too, if more fatted calves were killed and eaten on the farms where they grow, there would be fewer prodigal sons. A farm boy ought not have to go to a restaurant in town to learn what fresh meat tastes like.

IF gas cost nothing AT THE WELL

Even if gas could be had for nothing at the well—the cost of using it in your home would not be greatly changed. A large part of what you pay for gas service is the cost of delivering it to your burner tips—and keeping it there every minute. To properly serve you, there is necessary a vast investment in gas reserves sufficient enough to meet any demand, in pipelines and equipment for its transportation and control. Money must be spent to maintain all this equipment at a high standard for dependable service. A skilled organization must be on duty day and night.

There's a difference between "raw materials" and a finished, usable service.

Your home and this community could not risk anything less than the best in gas service. Life and health in the home depend more than ever on the efficiency and quality of service. Yet today, in spite of the fact it is costing Lone Star Gas System more to operate because of rapidly mounting taxes and other new costs, your gas dollar buys more than ever before.

A CUSTOMER WRITES IN PART...

"In all the years of my experience of using gas it has never failed me. No other fuel affords so many heat units per dollar as gas; my budget can be arranged with a smaller amount for fuel because of its low cost."

Though O'Daniel makes a lot of promises, Keeling said when he is asked for details he answers with an invitation to his hillbilly orchestra. "Boys let's have a song".

If O'Daniel takes cognizance of the Austin meeting, he will be able to bear down hard on his favorite theme to "drive the professional politicians from power" and keep them out of office, or all the speakers either were holding public office or had held it in the past.

Up to this time O'Daniel has been waging his campaign alone but before large crowds. Other candidates have had others speaking in their behalf. However,

O'Daniel crowds have been almost as large as those of his individual opponents plus their respective helpers.

O'Daniel did not render a poll tax in 1937 and for that reason it did not appear on his tax statement. Tax Collector-Assessor John Burland said last week checking records in his Fort Worth office.

O'Daniel in Houston blamed the tax collector for not giving him a poll tax when he paid his property tax this year.

Burland said it was customary for the clerk taking a property rendition to ask the property owner at the time of rendition whether he wish to pay a poll tax.

The records found by Burland show that in 1931 O'Daniel paid a poll tax. The record year by year shows:

In 1932 O'Daniel rendered his property with two polls but did not pay the poll taxes; in 1933 he did not render his property and did not pay a poll tax in the voting precinct in which he lived; in 1934 he rendered his property and two poll taxes, but did not pay the poll taxes; in 1935 he rendered his property and two poll taxes, but did not pay the poll taxes; in 1936 he did not render his property and did not pay a poll tax in the precinct in which he resided.

In an address at Huntsville, O'Daniel stated that the "Common Citizens' Candidate" is leading the field of 12 opponents in the governor's race by 30 per cent in straw votes over the State.

"We common citizens are showing the professional politicians that we mean business," O'Daniel declared. "Two weeks ago my name ran third on a poll taken by 12 large Texas newspapers. Now it is first, leading the second candidate by a ratio of five to three."

The austere Dallas Morning News commented editorially on the O'Daniel candidacy in these words:

"The current concern of other drawn by Mr. O'Daniel of Fort Worth in his energetic and entertaining pursuit of the governor's chair amounts in some part to retribution. It has been long since any aspirant for the highest office in the State relied on (1) sound public program and (2) his personal ability. Showmanship has been developed to a high point of efficiency. The improved facilities for public contact furnished by the radios and the screen have been utilized to the utmost."

"The fact that it has worked is sufficient justification for Mr. O'Daniel's acumen in going a step further. The Fort Worth business executive has simply carried the fight to the other fellow's camp by adding a band and making the most of a apesable family. Mountain music played by a hillbilly band is as sound a reason for voting for a man for governor as are winning ways, platform effervescence, and a strong hand grip."

"Mr. O'Daniel plan might be improved on. It is not too late for some of the other boys to recruit a burlesque chorus and build a campaign around an esthetic strip tease act."

Answering the attacks of O'Daniel against the "professional politicians", Bill McCraw stated in Hamilton that he is proud to be called a politician.

"Webster defines politics as the science of government," he said. "A politician is a man who understands the science of government and is able to put that knowledge into practical use for the benefit of the people. That is why I'm proud to be called a politician."

The State ticket is not the only one breaking all records for length this year, reports to the Democratic executive committee indicate.

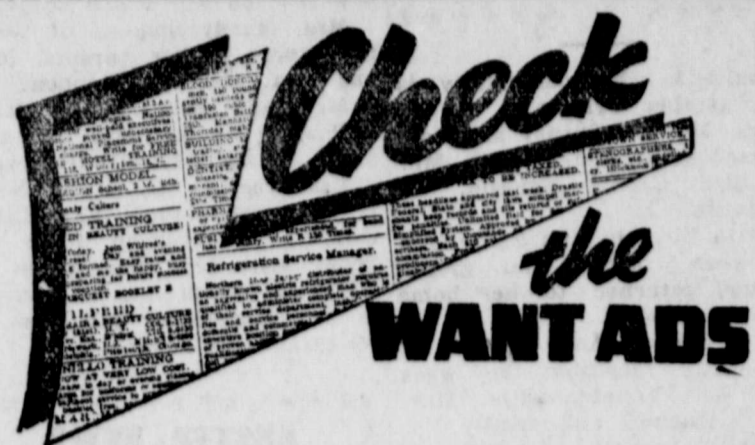

While records are still incomplete from some counties the reports so far show approximately 460 candidates for the 150 figures for other years are not available, but it is believed the greatest number in years.

In the various races for senate are 43 candidates—with 16 places to be filled; and there are 48 men in Texas who aspire to be members of congress.

No record is available centrally of the number of district officers, but with only 20 local candidates in each county and 254 counties, there would be 5,180 candidates.

By adding this total to the number of legislative congressional and State candidates a grand total of at least 5,783 aspirants to public office is arrived at as a minimum estimate for Texas.

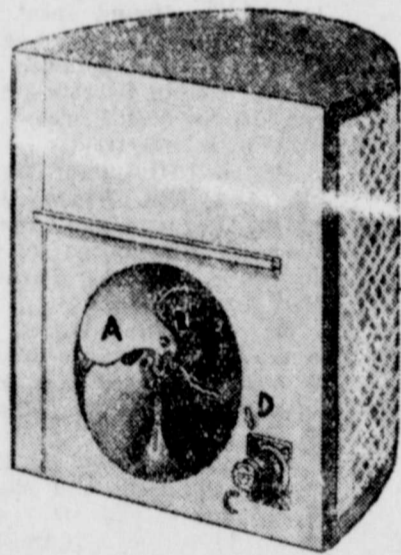

ENJOY Cool LAKE BREEZES IN YOUR HOME

All Summer Long

with an ARIZONA COOLER

TESTED AND APPROVED IN ARIZONA'S SCORCHING DESERT HEAT

COOLS BY EVAPORATION Here's How It Works

A powerful but quiet fan (A) pulls outside air through the cooling mat (B) which is kept moist by water dripping from a copper tube at top of cabinet. As the air passes through the mat, it is cooled by evaporation and then blown into the house, through the house and out again through windows left slightly open at the top. A three-position control (C) permits increasing or decreasing the fan speed to suit weather conditions. A convenient control valve (D) regulates the flow of water. The amount of cooling varies with the humidity. With an outside temperature of 100 degrees and a 40 per cent relative humidity, the cooler delivers air at approximately 83 degrees.

Low priced . . . Efficient . . . Quiet Economical to Operate

Here is the cooling unit that is bringing relief from heat to thousands of Southwestern homes. Low priced, quiet and efficient, the Arizona Cooler provides lake breeze comfort at low cost by scientific application of the principle of heat removal by evaporation. It not only cools the air from 10 to 20 degrees below outside temperatures but also removes dust and pollen.

A self-contained unit, the cooler is easily installed in a short time by placing the cabinet on the window sill and lowering the bottom sash until it engages in the channel on the face of the cooler. Especially designed for quiet operation, it provides a pleasant movement of cool air without objectionable noise. The operating cost is extremely low—approximately one cent per hour for most models.

Two types of coolers are available—the propeller fan type (illustrated) and the blower type, which is used to force air through ducts to point of discharge. There is a size for every application—from small homes to large stores and offices. Prices range from $59.50 up, depending upon the amount of space to be cooled. Water and electrical connections cost from $2.00 to $3.50 extra.

We shall welcome an opportunity to give you more information about the Arizona Cooler and to submit estimates based upon your requirements. No obligation is involved.
