PAINTER'S FRONT IS MODERNIZED WITH NEW AWNING

Doing away with the cumbersome wooden awning, Painter's has continued the modernizing process and has installed a new awning on their store front.

In addition, more of the new "black" has been added and after this is completed, the entire east side and the part of the building above the awning will be sand-blasted, giving a white and black theme thruout the building.

Incidentally, just recently, all the lady clerks have donned black and white frocks, which adds materially to the appearance of the entire store.

CO. AGENT'S OFFICE TO BE IN BASEMENT: BEING FIXED NOW

Soon the County Agent's office will be in the basement of the courthouse. Thursday work began with cleaning out the rubbish, the accumulation of years, in preparation of this work, which according to County Judge Floyd Zeigler, will cost the county some $600.00.

New work will include a concrete floor, plastered walls and painting. Light fixtures will be installed and other items needed will be added.

Work is to be completed in approximately a month and will give some 2,500 square feet of floor space, which will relieve the congestion in the former County court room and offices on the second and third floors which had been occupied by a part of the governmental work.

This move will also make the office more accessible to those who transact business there, since they will not have to go to the second and third floor to receive information which they need in following the various government programs.

SEVEN COUNTY SCHOOLS OPENED YESTERDAY, 1ST MONDAY

JACKSONVILLE PAPER SAYS ZACK FORE LOOKING GOOD IN PLAY

Zack Fore, '38 graduate of Gatesville High School got a nice break in the Jacksonville Daily News, recently which read as follows:

"Wednesday's scrimmage session showed the new edition of Bearcats to be working better as a team and showing greater spirit and drive giving voice to the teachings of the Bearcat mentors.

The "A" and "B" teams fought it out just about evenly matched, both teams looking exceptionally good defensively on line play. Lanky Zack Fore, playing on the "B" team stood out offensively with his terrific drives thru the opposing line."

YOUR TAXES AREN'T UP? YOU'VE JUST GOT MORE

At least that's the story emanating from the City Hall where the tax rate for this year is $1.40—same as last.

Here's something you might or might not know—we didn't! In dividing up the rate, here's what it goes for:

- 60c to the schools;
- 20c to the General Fund
- 11c to the Streets
- 49c to the Sinking Fund.

This sinking fund is used to retire bonds and other "paper" owed by the city.

South America's Columbia

By R. G. Davidson

This letter will have to serve as one to each of you because I am really busy getting started in this new work. Just now we have the inventory man here and I have done nothing but help him take inventory of this stock for the last three days. Believe me it is really a job, but a very pleasant one. To get an idea of the size of this warehouse, and the number of parts that are in it, you will have to imagine that you were going to build several cities, utilities light, water, sewerage, railroads, highways, and what not. Right now I venture to say that there is not a thing that we don't have and that would darn near cover evrything. A job down here as warehouseman, is equal to handling the warehouse for a dozen diffrent industries. When I said building railroads, we have in stock, locomotive parts, engines, motor boats and part, Ford parts, Chevrolet and White truck parts Lumber, Shot-puns, pistols, ammunition, Electrical supplies—evrything from a fuse to a complete light plant, radios, hardware—in fact, just anything, anybody can think of to order. The idea is that you may need it so try to think of evrything. This inventory will run close to a million dollars, that is things, just in stock. It is all, by far the most interesting thing that I have ever done. Right now we are enlarging the building, the foundation and floor has already been laid and will probably be finished this next week. The warehouse will be just twice as large, and we need more room than that. I had better try and tell about somethings besides my work, but that is about all I can think about right now.

Last nite I went to a movie, we have our own movies out here. The show last night was "The Three Musketeers" and as I hadn't seen it before, I really enjoyed it. Our theatre is an out door one and it was a beautiful night with the moon rather bright and with these mountains rising up for a back ground you can imagine how impressive it all could be.

For sports here, there is mostly tennis, that is about the national sport. I enjoy playing, we have been having a tournament, but I have been eliminated in the second round. There are lots of other things to do, but as yet I haven't done much but eat sleep and work, except for the tennis for about an hour or two in the afternoon. You see we go to work at 6:30 and that means getting up at 5:30, so we go to bed early. We get off in the afternoon at 3:30 and that is when we play tennis. However, as soon as the inventory is over I am going fishing, for it is supposed to be really great here.

You have seen the pretty red and green, and blue colored parrots, well there are just lots of them around here, there are all sizes and all color. Lots of monkeys, but they don't come near the camp and run when they see anyone. I have seen a few from the railroad going between here and Port Eareis, which is the Port we get all of our things in on barges. It is not really a port, just a landing place on the river. a beautiful place tho.

We have just completed a new dormitory and are building another, they are long buildings of six rooms, five rooms and a bath. You can either have a room mate or have a room to yourself. Since I have been here, I have been living in the club house, as soon as the new buildings ar completed, I will get one of the rooms. I think I am going to ask one of the Colombian boys to stay with me. He works here in the office and speaks really good English and has been helping me on my spanish, so it would be a real help if he and I roomed together. He is a graduate of the college in Bogota, Colombia. I don't know as yet just what I will do though, I hate to ask for a single room for they are usually used by the men who work on the derricks as tow men in other words, ones that works shifts, and some of them have to sleep during the day and work at nite. Thank heavens, I don't have to work at nite any more, that is one thing alone that I would have come down here for.

Now to tell something about the oil industry. This is an oil man's paradise. This oil field was discovered by oil seeps, oil just coming up out of the ground in the lower places. Not far from here there is a place that gasoline comes out of the ground at five feet deep, they dug it with a post hole digger. Around here most of our wells are only 400 feet deep, and the deepest at about 1200 feet. The finest oil to be found, the gravity of it is around 48 and that is darn near gasoline just as it comes out of the ground. We are building 3, 85,000 barrele tanks but as yet we just have the weels shut in until we get the pipeline finished, that will be several months.

I will probably be working out here in Petrolia for several months It is really nice here, and I don't mind if they send me back, but at the end of my three months. I will get 5 days off to go to town and just rest up for the time you can go anywhere you want to that the time will allow. I have made pretty good friends with Capt. Grey, one of the pilots, so when I get my time I will probably get him to take me with him if he is going to Bogota or Barranquilla, they are both beautiful cities. I can hardly describe the cities here, they are far from anything that I have seen before. Of course, if I don't get to go to Bogota, I will go up to Poncotilla, it is only a few hours from Cucuta by car and is a beautiful place way up in the mountains about 12,000 feet altitude. I have seen some pictures of it, some of the fellows here have. There is a bautiful tile bathing pool, and is crystal pure. Here the water is not so good so we don't have a pool. The water we use here is all electrified and condensed. We have a big plant here to electrify and make our water absolutely pure.

Must close and go to supper; will write again as soon as I can find time.

Cecil Rhodes' old home in Bishop's Stortford, England, has been opened as a public museum.

*"HEADS-UP" PLAYING AND SCRAPPING LINE NET VICTORY

Waco's Methodist Orphanage Badgers, all around, a mediocre team, took the Gatesville Hornets into camp Friday night to the tune of 13-0, playing on Hornet territory for the greater part of the game. For only a few minutes in the third quarter, did the Hornets show enough "Zip" to put over a drive which would have meant "pay dirt".

Th Home had nothing to write home about, but what they did have, they used, and played heads up, made every break their advantage, which accounted for the scoring.

Potentially, the Hornets appear about 3 or more touchdowns better, but that don't mean a thing, unless they use it. Coach Worley, will probably give them the once over, and more than likely already has when you read this, and "there'll be some changes made", probably, if the 1938 Hornet machine fails to "click" in their conference curtain raiser, Friday afternoon, next.

Here's the starting line-up:

Parks	LE	McBride
Bennett	LT	McDonald
Foster	LG	Perryman
Smith	C	Morgan
Newman	RG	Weaver
Gann	RT	Schley
Waldrop	RE	Post

Gann makes 1/2 thru C Pierce makes 4 on reverse around LE, Terry punts from 30 to Jackson on other 30.

Robinson makes 2 over LG. Lester, hesitating, loses 1 as signals are crossed. Kirk over LT makes 5. Lester punts from 35 ont on 28 yd line.

Crunutt makes 1 thru C. Terry fails on rt side of line. Sub: Edwards for Schley. Crunutt makes 1 over RT. Terry kicks from 25 to 40, to Jackson.

Lester off RT makes 9 with good blocking. Robinson makes 1st D. Kirk around LE loses 1. Kirk over C. makes 3. Lester over RG makes 4, Kirk kicks from 48 to 5, out of bounds. McDonald takes Terry as he makes 9 around RE. Pierce recovering fumble by Terry for no gain. Terry kicks from 10 to Gv. 48 out of bounds. Subs: Foster for Jackson. Lester to Kirk, to McBride, pass, incomplete, Pass to Post over C, incomplete. Pass by Kirk, intercepted by Bennett on 37 yd. line, and he runs that distance without tacklers for TD and 1st marker of game. Extra point, place kick by Compton, is blocked, but ruled acceptable by referee, since whistle blew too soon, or something. Hornets 0, Home 7.

Foster takes kick on 15, returns to 36. Robinson fumbles, recovered by Crunutt as Q. ends.

2nd Quarter

Sub: Burdeaux for Parks, Crunutt makes 5 over RT. Pierce to Terry fails at LT, Terry passes intercepted by Morgan. Both teams off-side, play called back. Crunutt hands to Terry, who makes 4 thru C. On reverse, Terry to Pierce, fails as ball goes over.

Kirk goes thru C, fumbling, is recovered by Home Terry makes 1 thru RT. McDonald stops Crunutt for 3 yds. gain. Terry on hand back to Compton, passes incomplete to Burdeaux. Pass, Terry to Pierce incomplete. Ball goes over.

Lester faking to Foster hits RG for 1. Robinson thru C. makes 3. Lester over RG makes 1. Kirk punts, blocked and recovered by Bennett for Home.

Crunutt back, hands ball to Compton who is downed by Perryman for 6 yd. loss. Crunutt picks up 1 at C. Terry punts over goal. Hornet ball on 20. Sub: Jackson for Foster.

Kirk hits C. and everything for 1 yd. Kirk to Robinson to Lester makes 3 on lateral, LE. Kirk over RT makes 3. Lester plows C. for 1st down. Lester to Kirk over RT makes 2. Kirk passes, intercepted

ELEVEN CORYELLITES ARE STUDENTS AT TARLETON COLLEGE

Among the 1100 students who are enrolled in John Tarleton College are eleven from Coryell County.

These are Bob McDanold from Jonesboro, Gayle M. Pruett, Joe Ned Brown, Clovis King, Mildred Witcher, Wayland Holt, Lillian Mack, Azalea Whisenhunt, Ralph Hartgraves, Juanita Harrell and Kyle Hobin.

In a recent edition of the Stephenville Enterprise, we noted Joe Ned Brown was listed as a candidate for the Plowboys football team of the college.

ELMO WASHBURN IS NEW MECHANIC WITH C. ROGERS

Elmo Washburn, well known Gatesville mechanic, has been employed at Curt. Rogers Garage, one of Gatesville's better garages.

Elmo has worked with Fuzzy Chamlee, Scott Motor Co. and other garages of this vicinity.

TIMELY REMODELING IDEA

A timely idea for those contemplating remodeling or modernizing their home, or for new construction, is represented by the enclosed porch which has been added to the present residence of H. J. Strief in Dallas, Texas. Architect Storey, by utilizing insulux glass block, opened up the wall areas for the porch so efficiently that even ping pong, where good light is essential, can be played—yet the glass blocks diffuse the incoming flood of daylight so well that glare is eliminated. The panels of glass block provides an attractive appearance architecturally, too, both inside and out. In the above view are, left to right, Mrs. Strief, her son, and Mr. Strief.

The HEADLINES Say:

New Protection for Defensive Players—(Right) Bill Moore models the new protective pads for players to wear over their regular football pants during scrimmage invented by Coach Clyde Crabtree of Miami Beach High School. Thickly padded with felt, it gives the player's stomach, thigh, knee and ankle protection without hampering his movements.

Most Perfect Legs—(Left) And we think you will agree with us that Jan Holm, pretty starlet, has the most perfect legs in the movie capitol.

Aid to Motorists—The 1939 Plymouth instrument group is dominated by this ingenious "safety signal" speedometer that automatically flashes a warning for three different driving speed zones. A bright colored light swings with the indicator needle and changes from green to amber at 30 miles an hour. Between 30 and 50 amber continues to show, beyond 50 it turns red as a safety warning.

Even the Best Friends Must Part—Sad indeed are Pamela Holmes, 7, and "Barry," a St. Bernard. Ordered to be exiled by Justice of Peace of Bellport, L. I. Barry, who has never bitten anyone, had been accused of keeping three small children in a boat for several hours.

BRACK G. CURRY, ALIAS, JOE BURNS

For the past five years, a young, former Gatesville boy has been the Arthur Brisbane of this newspaper, exclusively. That was Brack Curry.

Brack began his "World Comment" when he was 14. Because he was afraid of his youth (which was unnecessary) he adopted the pen name of "Joe Burns". Brack is a student—a student of state, national and international affairs. A student who knows how to put his interpretation on the fast moving, oddly developed events in this 1938 World, in writing, and, has a style of his own.

Brack, in his work on the SMU daily newspaper in addition to his work as a Junor in that University, is crowded for time and for this reason there will be no more World Comment by Brack.

The News regrets Brack has discontinued writing his familiar and informative column. He will be hard to replace. He has helped make the News. His work has been a distinct asset in every way.

Fans locally supported the Hornets well in the first three games, especially the ME Home game. Two-third of the west stand was full, and 3-4 of the east stand was full Friday night last. And the real test is just now on us.

Coach Worley got by without any injuries, and the entire eleven as well as the subs got thru ok and should be ready by next Friday.

Any coach will tell you, any of the orphan's teams are tough assignments, and Worley'll tell you it's a fact when it comes to the Waco crew—and that's not because of the close defeat on Friday last.

PECAN GROVE W. M. U.

A few weeks ago, the ladies of the Baptist Church of Pecan Grove met and re-organized the W. M. U. At their last meeting the following program was given.

The meeting was called to order by the president and the devotional given by Mrs. A. Davidson taken from the Psalms. Individual copies of the song "God Save Our State" were distributed to be used at the end of the program. The leader of the program, Mrs. Joe Martin took charge and very capably turned our thoughts and attention to the theme for the afternoon "Sheaves with Rejoicing in Our States".

The program was given in peagant form with the following taking part, bringing some phase of our work of the Baptists of the Southland: Mrs. J. T. Davidson, Mrs. Marten Martin, Mrs. C. D. Shepperd, Mrs. Gus Davidson, Mrs. Leonard Marshal, Mrs. A. Davidson and Mrs. O. C. Martin. The peagant closed with the group and the entire audience rising and singing "God Save Our State" The dismissal prayer was offered by Mrs. M. Manning.

A social hour followed being given by the general officers of the WMU. Special emphasis was given to our state, "Texas" by singing of that song by Mrs. O. M. Davidson, a contest was engaged in taking the form of a spelling match with questions being asked and the answers given with the name of some state of our southland. Texas was further recognized in the refreshments. The table was covered in red and white and blue and Texas flags Sandwiches and punch were served with the sandwiches being cut in the shape of Texas with a miniature Texas flag waving in each sandwich.

The program was inspirational and enjoyed by all. There were 18 women present and the next missionary program will be given by circle 1. This program was given by circle 2. Everybody of the community is urged to meet with us as we seek to magnify the church and carry forward the cause of Christ.

The 4-H club girls' Educational encampment will be held in Dallas October 11 to 13 in connection with the State Fair of Texas which furnishes maintenance for the girls while they are there. They will be housed in the dormitory which holds about three hundred people. The girls will be chaperoned enroute and while they are there by home demonstration agents.

Since there is a limited number of accomodations at camp only the girls and agent who are scheduled to attend camp and for whom proper reservations have been made can stay at camp. We are informed that the quota for Coryell County is four girls.

Report forms concerning the completion of last year's goals have been supplied to the 4-H club demonstrators and the selection of the 4-H girls to attend the Educational Encampment at Dallas, October 11-13 will be based on these report forms.

In order that the committee on selecting eligible delegates may notify the winners, that is the 4-H girls who may attend the Encampment, the Home Demonstration

WE'RE Now Selling MANSFIELD Tires!

TIRES FOR EVERY SERVICE

The extra mileage that Mansfield Tire users have received during the past twenty-five years has been responsible for the fact that the Company has grown steadily until it is now one of the six largest producers in the tire industry. Mansfield distributors dot the continent from coast to coast.

Mansfield Mudders

Designed and built to do just what their name implies — take you through the mud, slush, snow on any type of road, on their wide angled, heavy cleated treads.

Mansfield Cushion Balloons

Today's cars — built for small diameter wheels and low air-pressures — need special tires for high speed service. Mansfield Cushion Balloons bring out all the sparkling performance built into modern cars.

There's a Mansfield Tire built to give extra mileage and extra safety on any make car or truck you drive — on any kind of work, in any season of the year, over all kinds of roads. That's the reason we are stocking them, yes, and selling them to your friends and neighbors who already have had the opportunity to see the extra safety, economy and performance of Mansfield Tires.

THREE WAYS SAFER

Mansfield Tires are three ways safer because they are built three ways differently from other tires. For instance, Cord-Lock construction puts 31% more full weight cord fabric into the sidewalls, reinforcing the tire against flexing strains. The high tensile, steel piano wire beads are seven times as strong as actually needed, Mansfield treads are made of tougher Duro-mix rubber, today still more resistant to high speed wear and pavement "burn" from fast starts and quick stops. Every Mansfield Tire gives you more mileage than you pay for.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

The police of Algiers are baffled in their attempt to capture Pepe le Monko, international jewel thief who is protected from them by the lawless inhabitants of the Casbah, mysterious native quarter where Pepe lives. Pepe meets Gaby, a Parisian tourist visiting Algiers, and they are strongly attracted to each other, much to the indignation of Pepe's native sweetheart, Ines. Regis, a stool pigeon in Pepe's gang, lures Pepe's friend Pierrot out of the Casbah in the hope that Pepe will come in search of him and thus fall into a police trap. When Regis returns without Pierrot, Pepe and his gang surround Regis and threaten him with a dire fate if Pierrot does not return unharmed. Meanwhile the shrewd inspector Slimane, stationed in the Casbah, is evolving his own plans for using the tourist girl Gaby to get Pepe out of the protection of the Casbah.

Chapter Four

While Pepe and his braves kept their vigil over the perspiring Regis, a party of tourists, resplendent in their evening clothes, furs and jewels, was sweeping grandly through the Casbah, shepherded by Inspector Slimane. The party of tourists consisted of the exotic Gaby, Pepe's acquaintance of the night before, with her friends who had been separated from her on that occasion — the blonde, enterprising Marie, her friend, Berthe, and Gaby's fiance, one Etienne, a portly, middle-aged but immensely wealthy gentleman whom she had planned to marry, as she confessed to Marie, "for business reasons."

The law of the Casbah had been fulfilled.

They were drawn back to the Casbah by a strange power. That power (perhaps not so strange after all) was the attraction which Pepe le Moko had exercised over Gaby during their brief meeting, and which had led her to make Inspector Slimane agree (not at all reluctantly) promise to arrange another meeting.

So presently Gaby and her friends were seated in a little Casbah restaurant, and Slimane despatched a messenger to invite Pepe to join them. Which he did with alacrity, leaving his aides to deal with Regis.

Pepe greeted the tourists affably, then devoted his attention to Gaby, while the others, tourist-like, chattered and ogled the strange sights about them, and Slimane sat back in his chair, pretending to doze. Pepe and Gaby talked — at first idly, almost conventionally. Did she like Algiers? Not particularly — traveling made her homesick. She missed her Paris... Did he know Paris? Did he! It had been his very own! With a thrill of mutual pleasure they named, in turn, the streets they both knew and loved so well... the Rue St. Martin, the Champs Elysses... the Gare du Nord... the Opera... the Boulevard des Capucines.

Some one put on a record. They got up to dance, still talking. What was her name? Gabriele — Gaby. Was she married? Perhaps a widow? No, she was engaged to — to that man over there. And he was very jealous. Suddenly Pepe began whirling her madly around to the music, until they fetched up breathless against a pillar, laughing excitedly like children.

He tried to kiss her, but she held him away. "Let's go out on the terrace," she suggested. They went out, but only for a moment. Looking out across the Mediterranean, they pretended they could see Paris — Montmartre and the Madeleine and the Place

Blanche. Then she had to go back. "I can't leave my friends — but I'll come back."
"When?"
"As soon as I can. Tomorrow... I never break a promise."
They looked into each other's eyes, and it was as though an electric current were passing between them. Silently he drew her body close to his.
"Let me go."
"Why?"
"Because I ask you."
"Say please —"
"You're rude —"

He released her, and she went back to the table, her face expressing nothing. Slimane sleepily raised his eyelids, looked at her, then lowered them again.

Pepe stood on the terrace a moment longer, gazing out at the sea. Then he turned, to confront Ines stepping from behind a pillar. She must have seen and heard everything, he reflected, and he scarcely cared.

Pepe was about to return to the hapless Regis and his captors, when he saw Pierrot stagger in through the doorway. Pierrot, the bad, unruly boy whom he loved, was swaying desperately, clutching at his side with fingers through which blood welled.

Pepe ran to support him. "I was wrong, Pepe," gasped the boy. You were right. I didn't listen to you...

Where is Regis?"
"Come on, I'll help you."
Pepe half dragged, half carried him into the inner room. Regis' jaw dropped, his pallid face turned a shade whiter, at the sight of the bleeding Pierrot staggering toward him, with drawn gun.
"No! No! No!" screamed Regis, backing away. Pierrot came on toward him. The others lounged carelessly in the doorways, blocking any means of exit. And still Pierrot came on.

Now Regis is in a corner, near the mechanical piano. His lips twitch and mumble, but his voice is gone. With bulging eyes fastened on Pierrot's revolver, he tries feebly to climb under the piano, over it, anywhere for escape. Still Pierrot comes toward him.

Regis, clawing the piano, accidentally pushed a lever, and it begins banging noisily, tinnily. Pierrot, with his last remaining strength, pulls the trigger, then slumps to the floor, never to move again. Not six feet away from him lies Regis, shot through the heart. The custom of the Casbah had been fulfilled.

Pepe had loved Pierrot like a brother who is also a son. Now he mourned him. He bitterly recalled the senseless fate that had taken away his friend. He raged and stormed like a shackled lion, drinking heavily, ordering all his friends out of his presence.

All but Slimane the philosophical, Slimane the wise counselor, who always tride to be helpful and never give offense.

"I was all alone at the cemetery," he told Pepe. "It must be hard not to be able to go down to say goodbye to your friend on his last journey. But I'm your friend, Pepe. I know how you feel — you're like a prisoner in the Casbah."
"I'll get out whenever I wish," cried Pepe.

"When you go," Slimane taunted him slyly, "you'll go quietly, like Pierrot — feet first."
"I'll go out alive!" Pepe raged. "I'm free to go — I'm sick of all this! I'll get out when I feel like it — I'll do it now — nobody can stop me! I'm going — now — right now!"

He rushed out of the door, hatless, and strode with feverish pace, almost running, toward the Casbah gate.

AUCTION DAY: CHICKS GO: UNCLE SAM SELLS: CULBERSON BUYS

It's all in the heading, except what was sold. It was 98 chicks, ordered "by mail" as many other refused things are, and were turned down by the customer.

They came from Missouri—like we don't have hatcheries in Texas, yea, in Coryell county, yea, yea, in Gatesville.

Anyway that's beside the point. These 98 were actioned off by Postmaster J. Hurl McClellan on the courthouse lawn this morning before an awe inspired crowd of about 6. Us, a half dozen produce and grocerymen and the buyer.

$3.00 was the price, after a start of $2.00 was first bid, Charges

(the COD kind), we believe was $1.45.

Anyway, the 98, brought $3.00 from Tax Assessor-Collector, Dave H. Culberson. Some say it was a bad buy.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

OUTDOORS AT NIGHT

Above — taken at twilight. The "campfire" can be an amateur flood bulb on extension cord. At right—silhouette against real campfire, using a time exposure.

PICNICS, campfires, and hayrides are events which offer a wealth of picture opportunities. Some picnics are daytime affairs, but others take place at twilight or after dark—and there are no times more opportune for charming campfire snapshots.

For twilight snaps, wait until the sky is almost dark. Set the camera for a "time" exposure, place it on a firm support, and take a picture that includes the campfire, the group around it, and some sky. With proper choice of time the sky will reproduce deep gray, the campfire warm and brilliant—giving a picture full of the mystery and atmosphere of an ending day.

Campfire shots taken well after nightfall are wonderfully effective. They show the fire, the faces of the group about it—but everything else in rich, mysterious shadow. These can be taken just like the twilight shots, with a short "time" exposure. It is best to have someone sit between the camera and the brightest part of the fire—his silhouette will add interest and keep the fire from appearing too bright.

Modern films are fast, so exposures need not be long. With a good bright fire, try two to five seconds at f.6.3, or ten to thirty seconds with a box camera.

To show added detail in an outdoor night scene, use a flash bulb. It's easy. Have the camera on a firm support, shutter on "time," lens set at f.11. Open the shutter, flash the bulb, close the shutter—that's all there is to it. Flash bulbs can be used in a "synchronizer" that fires the bulb and trips the camera shutter at the same time—or they can be used in inexpensive holders that resemble a pocket flashlight.

Campfire effects can be obtained with flash bulbs, without a campfire. Set up the camera for a snapshot of your group, and flash the bulb from the ground, below or slightly behind the camera. The low angle of lighting produces the campfire effect. Amateur flood bulbs can be used on an extension cord in the same way.

Take the camera along on your next evening picnic or other outing. You'll come home with snapshots that are distinctive and different!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

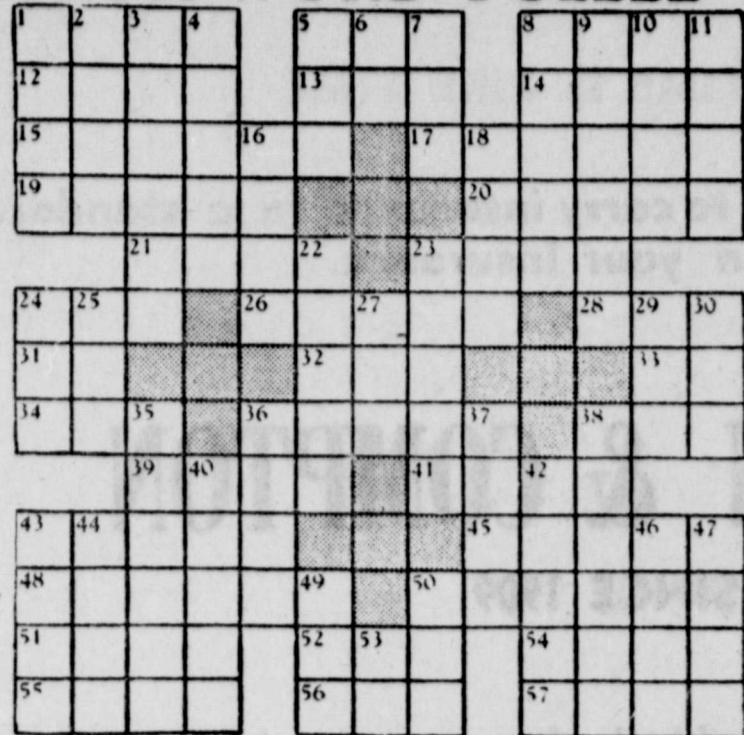

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

WATER IN A WATERSPOUT SELDOM DOES DAMAGE. IT IS THE ACCOMPANYING WIND!

GEORGE SKINNER
 —HOPELESSLY CRIPPLED WITH INFANTILE PARALYSIS, CURED HIMSELF WITH HIS OWN ORIGINAL EXERCISES, WHICH INCLUDED CONSTRUCTION OF A MODERN ALL GAS KITCHEN!

The actual amount of water in a water spout is not large. It is condensed from the air—not drawn up from the sea. Any damage done is usually from the tornadic violence of the wind.

This is the story of an unusual boy, George Skinner, a 29-year-old Los Angeles, California, youth. Hopelessly stricken with infantile paralysis, his own determination plus many original exercises and exercising equipment brought him back to complete normalcy and health! Part of his exercise was the construction by himself of a modern gas kitchen in his own home. Then to make actual kitchen work as easy as possible, he selected one of the new clock controlled gas ranges and a gas refrigerator.

night. Inexperience cost Reagan heavily, Gatesville scoring once on a pass over the Reagan secondary and again on the interception of a pass thrown from within Reagan's 10-yard line. Gatesville however outplayed Reagan most of the way, particularly in the line. Reagan scored on running plays. For Reagan, Hardt, Hill and Merinik looked good in the backfield, although Hardt's play calling was bad. Henderson looked best in the line. For Coach Fred Schwarz's Gatesvilles, Lasseter, Ward, White and McBrown stood out in the backfield and Gribble, Sydow and Oldham in the line.—Temple Daily Telegram.
