FOUR FIRE CALLS IN CITY SINCE FRIDAY

Friday, the "department" was called out to E. T. Mayes home for a "grass" fire. No damage.

Saturday's line-up included one grass fire at the old Granville Rogers place; a machine on fire at Byrom & Walker's Tailor shop, and the third, a "false alarm" when someone turned in the alarm calling the boys to the Baptist parsonage, where the pastor, Rev. C. M. Spalding was burning wasp nests out of a tree, and the "alarmist" thought the house was on fire.

There were none Sunday. And there were none Monday.

ELEVEN BLACK CATS, AND HALLOWE'EN, TOO, BUT NEVER A JITTER

Hale Center, Texas, Oct. 31.—Jack Hooper has 11 symbols of bad luck on his farm near here, but he isn't worrying, even if it is Hallowe'en.

Hoopers black cat gave birth to nine kittens, all as black as she is.

The father, so far as is known, is also black.

ABSENTEE VOTERS REALLY ARE SCARCE: VOTE NOV. 8TH

Seems like they just don't give a hang—or, are not going to be gone from their voting boxes on November 8th, General Election Day.

So far, only three ballots have been mailed out, and only two have cast absentee votes.

At this rate, the "counters" are going to have to back up their money this time—they certainly won't earn it.

PRESIDENT PERSONALLY DIRECTS RAILS PEACE PARLEY

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt took personal charge today of efforts to effect a peaceful settlement of the critical railroad wage dispute.

The chief executive called representatives of rail management and labor to the White House to consider some long-range program to aid the carriers.

Of immediate importance, however, was the 15 per cent wage reduction ordered by the roads for Dec. 1 and the threat of almost one million rail workers to strike if the cut is carried out.

The president's emergency railroad investigating board recommended Saturday that the railroads withdraw their notices of the reduction, which would clip pay rolls.

Before the White House conference there was no indication whether the roads would accept the recommendation. A committee of the carriers' executives was asked to meet during the day. Its chairman, H. A. Enochs, said the wage question probably would be turned back to the individual roads.

Mrs. Rosser Saunders was in West Friday night and Miss Ray returned home with her.

BRIDGE OPENED SATURDAY: TRAFFIC HOT SINCE

"Over the waves"! Actually, right here in Gatesville or between Gatesville and Coryell County.

The new bridge across the Leon is open for traffic.

This was done Saturday, and since that time, many has been the rider that went over this new structure, which is the result of some five or six months' work. The highway, running from Waco, west, we understand is open to Arnett, 9 miles west of Gatesville and work is being done on the ground work and bridge structures west of this point to Evant.

At a chamber of commerce meeting Friday morning, it was decided not to have a celebration of any kind until the entire highway No. 7 was completed to Evant, and then those invited would have a much better chance to attend the celebration should the weather be rainy or bad.

Also, it was noted at this meeting that the new bridge had been wired for lights, with conduit thruout, and that the State Highway Department had agreed to install this, but expected certain types of standards if the bridge was lighted.

It was also intimated at the chamber of commerce meeting that a fund had been allotted for survey work on Highway 36 south-east of Gatesville, preparatory to, it is hoped, some action on this part of this highway.

NEW PHOTO SHOP OPENS NEXT SHEPHERD MOTOR COMPANY

New in Gatesville, is the Gatesville Portrait Shop, which has just opened in the building next to Chamlee's Garage, formerly occupied by the Friendly Beauty Shop, and prior to that by Mrs. J. B. Graves, florist. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wilson of Fort Worth are operators of the new studio.

Recently from Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are known to Coryell County and Gatesville people, since they were formerly with a local photographer.

They came originally from Tupelo, Mississippi, and with fifteen years' experience, they have worked in and with some of the better shops in Dallas, Fort Worth and other points, most recently, with Brown and Brown of Dallas.

These folks specialize in children's photos, and also have a new process for "make-up" for photographs which bring out the last ounce of "beauty" or "handsomeness" you might have concealed.

Mrs. Ada Tadlock is confined to her home on account of illness.

Mr. Tom Martin and Dr. Stamford of Hamilton were guests of the former's brother, Jim Martin Sunday night.

Maurice S. Ewing, former teacher in the Gatesville high school of Shreveport, Louisiana, was week end visitor in this city.

WACO JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SHOW

The Waco Junior Livestock Show brought out many valuable points. Most of the 4-H Club boys who attended this show were taking part in their first livestock show, and there learned that a pig, for instance, must be washed thoroughly with high quality laundry soap in order to have the hair in the proper condition for the best showing and that immediately prior to showing the hair must be dressed with light weight oil in order to show to the best advantage, but chief of all it was learned that the pig must be trained to show prior to going to the show, and that during the show must be properly handled every minute in order for the judge to see the good points of the respective animal. All in all the boys are to be highly commended for the wonderful lot of animals presented in the show and for the care and management of those animals during the entire show, and especially during the judging. Coryell County had one-half of the hogs in the show and attracted much attention to the excellent work being done by the boys of the county. In the sheep group as in the hogs, Coryell County had her share.

It was through the very close cooperation that the 75 Coryell County pigs and sheep were handled at the show and returned to the respective owner at the very minimum expense. Eddie Wiegand stayed through the duration of the show and looked after the animals. Several of the other boys stayed through a part of the show and aided Eddie in caring for the animals.

This and other shows are very worthwhile for livestock production in that it attracts the attention of many people who see the animals on display, as is indicated by the fact that the Coryell County boys sold approximately $500.00 worth of stock during the show and took many orders for future deliveries on pigs. County Agent Powell is most anxious to contact within the next few days all boys who are interested in feeding and developing stock for the spring shows, the first of which

BOY HAS CHAMP LAMB

Curtis Manning, Pearl 4-H Club boy, who weighs only 65 pounds, exhibited the champion lamb at the Waco Show, the lamb weighing twice as much as its owner. Curtis bought this lamb from Fred Robinson, local sheep breeder, and developed it on home-grown feeds to the attractive finish that was presented in the show. On the night of the auction sale the lamb attracted considerable attention for its wonderful appearance and to its owner and was bought, as previously announced, at 40c per pound, which is one of the higher prices paid this year for a winning lamb. In addition to the money prizes on the lamb Curtis was presented a registered Duroc Jersey sow pig which he has taken home to develop as a brood sow. This young Club member, in his first year of Club work, has set up a mighty high mark for the other Club boys to shoot at.

"IT CAN'T ALL MAKE PAGE 1" PLENTY INSIDE

Page 1 isn't all the News! If your story doesn't make page 1, there are a dozen or more pages in each and every edition of the News that has plenty of newsy news.

We only select what, in our opinion, is news that most folks in Coryell County want to see first. Maybe we're wrong, and in that case the story you're particularly looking for may be on the inside.

That's the advantage of the tabloid newspaper—it makes every page a front page—as far as news goes.

Federal agricultural experts contend that planting and harvesting crops "on the contour"—that is operating farm machinery across slopes rather than up and down them—not only reduces erosion and increases yields but also cuts operating costs.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Each second and fourth Sunday nights we have a young folks Bible study. Everyone is invited to come and be with us.

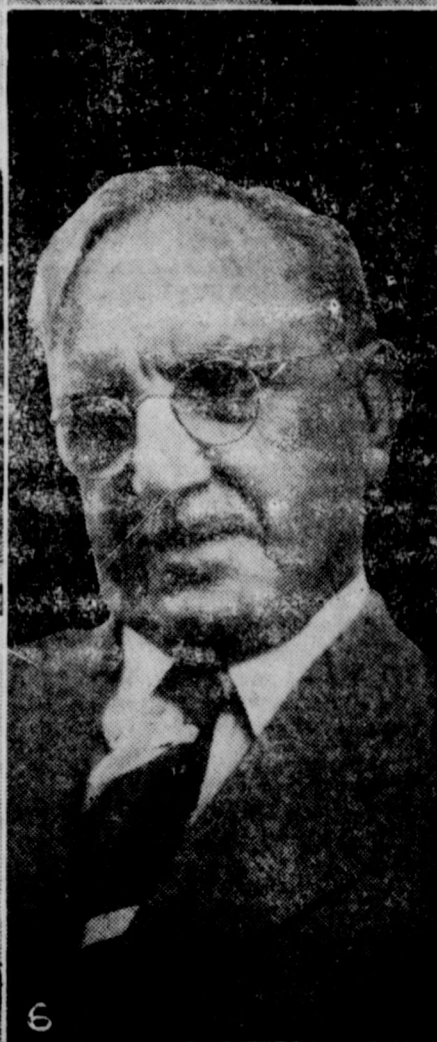

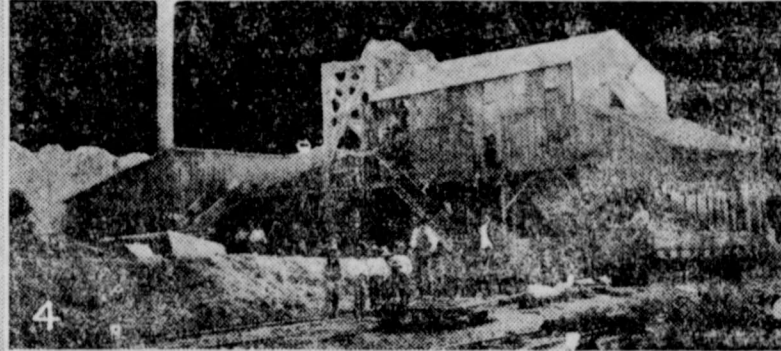

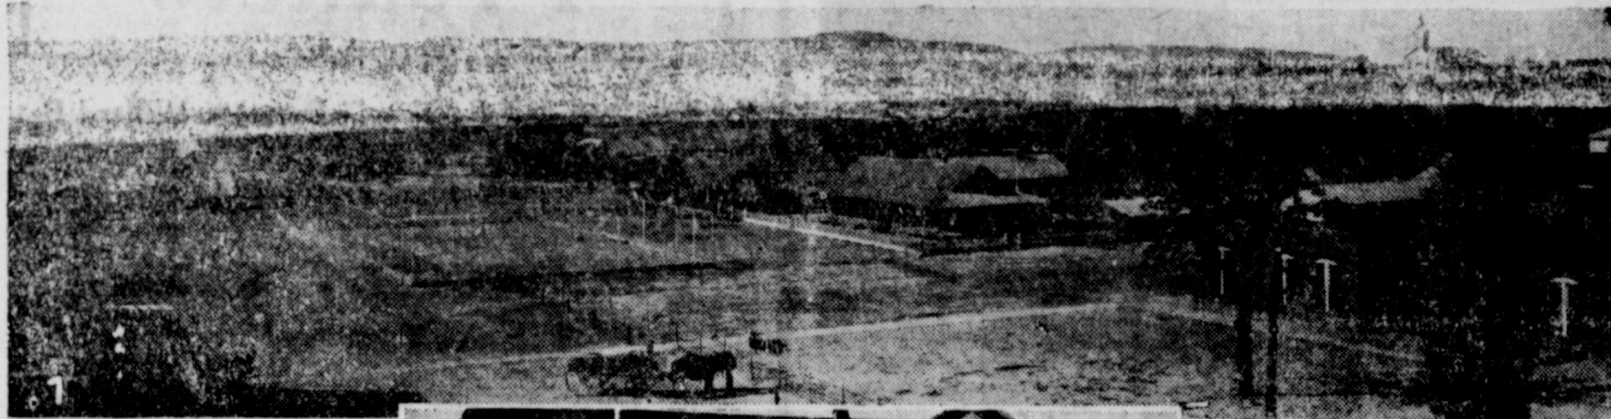

Rev. and Mrs. E. O. Walters and children have moved to the old Franks home.

The young folks of this community enjoyed a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kitley recently.

Heta Taylor spent Sunday night with Beulah Faye Galloway of Coryell City.

Everett Yeilding of Gatesville spent the week end with his parents here.

We are sorry to hear that Rev. Walter Galloway is mighty sick. We hope he will soon be back with us.

Turnersville Pioneer Woman, Mrs. Hobin, Celebrates Birthday, Oct. 16

Mrs. P. R. Hobin, pioneer citizen of Turnersville, celebrated her eighty-second birthday Monday in the same house where she has spent the past sixty-one years of her life. Jovial, cheerful, and quite evidently enjoying her "birthday party," Mrs. Hobin greeted a host of life-long friends who came to see her during the day. Nearly twenty were at the dinner table.

Mrs. Hobin is well and surprisingly active for her age. She enjoys talking about things present and past, and concerning the latter has some most interesting stories to recount.

Born in Perry County, Missouri, on October 24, 1856, Mrs. Hobin was brought by her parents to Hamilton County when she was but five months old. Hamilton and Coryell were just part of the great Wild West eighty years ago, and this pioneer family had many exciting experiences ahead of them. Their home was the first house built in Hamilton County, and a few years later Mrs. Hobin's father became the first sheriff in the county.

One day Mrs. Hobin, still a little girl, was needed at home and so didn't go to the little school house that was located near their home. In the early afternoon one of the older brothers came running in to tell of an Indian raid on that school. Seeing the approach of the Red Men, the brave teacher saved most of her pupils by calming them and sending them out a small opening in the room on the opposite side from which the Indians were coming. However, the invading band had come on the scene before all could escape. The teacher, for so thwarting their purpose, was killed; one of the children injured, and another taken captive.

"I always said," Mrs. Hobin remarked, laughing, "that if I had been there, they would have got me, sure."

Marrying when quite a young woman, Mrs. Hobin moved with her husband to a little pioneer settlement in Coryell County. Four or five houses were there, and two or three stores to serve that section of the county. The name of the place was Turnersville.

Going into business with Mr. Henderson, the Hobins remained in Turnersville some time. Their home was the same building, since enlarged to include more rooms, in which Mrs. Hobin now lives. The structure was built in April, 1878.

Later Mr. Hobin accepted employment with Mr. Pancake, in the community of that name, but shortly thereafter returned to his home in Turnersville, where he remained until his death twenty-nine years ago. However, for nine years he owned and operated a general merchandise store in Hurst a flourishing community in those days. Tho he usually drove to work in his wagon, Mr. Hobin often walked the seven or eight miles twice a day, remaining in Turnersville that his children might be near the school.

Concerning these early days, Mrs. Hobin recalls some interesting things. When they first moved there, the mail came, at irregular intervals, to one of the men who lived near the town. He kept the mail in an old trunk at his home, and people for miles around went there, whenever convenient, to look through the trunk for a chance letter. Later the government awarded Turnersville a post-office, and made Mr. Hobin the first postmaster.

Asked if there had been Indians about in those days, Mrs. Hobin seemed almost to shudder in remembrance. "I should say there were," she said. "Why, it wasn't safe to be out at nite in the light of the moon. They were wild—the meanest alive—and I was scared to death of them."

Citizens will now show a depression in the side of a hill near town, with the floor beaten down and rock table in the center, which was used as a gathering place for the Indians. "I remember one time when they killed a preacher," said Mrs. Hobin. "It was Brother White, a traveling preacher who held services for us in the school house every now and then. He was on his way to Turnersville when a band of Indians spied him and shot him down. A companion, whom they wounded, escaped and rode to town to report what had happened."

To Mr. and Mrs. Hobin were born eight children, but only two are now living, the oldest and the youngest. John Hobin, of Turnersville, is successor of his father in the general merchandise store of that community. A daughter, Mrs. Olin Sydow, lives in Gatesville. There are ten living grandchildren.

The following were present for "Granny" Hobin's birthday dinner: Mesdames J. W. Short, Hattie Carr, Dan Tharp, Ollie Buster, A. B. Wallace, Phelix Pruitt, Emma Jones, J. W. Hardie, Lee McCoy, N. J. Dollins, A. J. Adams, Dave Pruitt, E. S. Bayless; Miss Nell Block; Master Bobby Jones; Baby La Rue Pruitt; and Rev. Ed. Bayless, Presbyterian minister. Afternoon callers were Mesdames Layton McDonald, Julian Smith, Bernice Hardie, and others.

MOSHEIM FARMER PLEASD CCC WORK PASTURE LANDS

"The grazing capacity of my pasture has greatly increased this year as a result of the exceptionally good live and spread of the Buffalo and Bermuda grasses that were sodded this spring in cooperation with the local Conservation Service," Mr. E. Callan of Mosheim community stated.

Mr. Callan continued, saying: "The mowing and cultivation of these areas during the spring and summer months has proven to be very valuable in that it eliminated moisture and shade competition given by a normally heavy growth of weeds. I consider cultivation and mowing essentials of good grass spread. Newly sodded areas like our cultivated crops react favorably to proper treatment. The areas on my farm now covered with good grass were once waste land unfit for cultivation, due to gullies and location. Today these areas serve as waterways, an excellent pasture, and make my soil 'stay put.'"

IRELAND TURNS ON HEAT; TAKES FLAT, 6-MAN, TO TUNE OF 57 TO 0

Ireland high school 6-man team displayed power a-plenty in defeating the scrappy Flat six, 57-0, on the Ireland gridiron in their game Friday night.

Werner Lemmer returned the opening kickoff 60 yards for a touchdown to start the fireworks. Jack Lemmer, Allen Pearson, Moore and Huckabee also scored.

The line composed of Haines, Squyres, Boyd, Dodgion, Edwards and Lemmer outcharged the Flatonians making possible many long games.

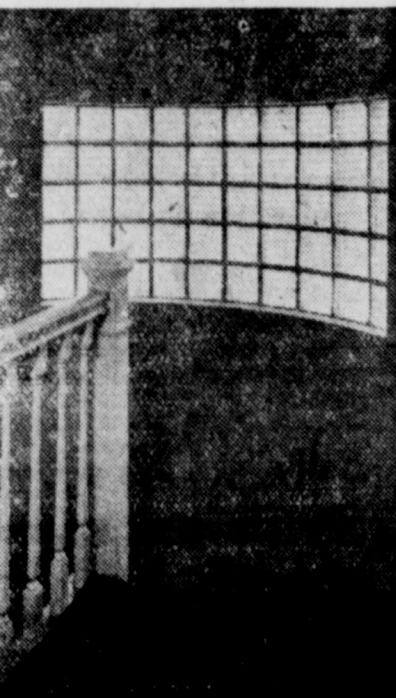

Flat threatened with sustained drives deep into Ireland, but each time was turned back with pass interceptions and fumbles.

Pearl, the conference leader, is to take on the Irish of Ireland on November 4th.

Ireland dropped an early season game to the "Gems" of Pearl, but can get back into the running—if they get over Friday, coming.

Flat, on the other hand, takes on Turnersville at Turnersville, which is likely to be Turnersville again, since this club took the initial game under the lights here.

NEAT 'N' NICE AT LOW PRICE

Builders and home owners will be interested in what Architect Charles Dilbeck has accomplished with 50 insulux glass blocks in this Dallas, Texas, residence—an idea that is ideal for the small home. The translucent but not transparent blocks bring in daylight, well diffused, to light up the stairway in the interest of greater safety, and provide a striking bit of decorative background that lifts the stairway to a new plane of beauty. The cost to "open up" such a wall in this way is negligible.

Modern scientific research indicates that long life is principally hereditary, though factors of environment and habits also are important.

BEATING THE FROST KING

Late feed crops which need more time to mature their seed are in danger of frost at almost any time now. It is not necessary to lose a large part of their feed value either by premature cutting or from frost, if the crop is made into ensilage. If frost strikes unexpectedly and singes the foliage, cut the crop as quickly as possible and ensile it later. Often the daily weather report will forewarn of killing frost, and give time to cut the crop before it strikes. In either case the bundles can lie as they fall until cutting is completed, with slight damage to its feeding value.

Two years ago the writer saw many fields of grain sorghums hit by premature frost in the lower Panhandle. Growers started the row binders immediately, and the frost damage did not extend beyond the foliage. Those who had not already prepared for it, began digging trench silos, leaving the crop in the field until the silo was ready. Since it only takes a day or two to construct a trench of considerable capacity, the crop dried out very little in the meantime.

It is preferable to permit the seed to mature, since the feeding value of the ensilage is greater than if it is cut in the "dough" stage, which was formerly recommended. On the other hand, the even make ensilage from cured silos will preserve its full value in whatever stage it has to be ensiled and immature silage is far better than no silage at all. The past summer saw many fields burned up by drouth and useless for feed which would have been well worth saving had the crop been cut and ensiled before it was entirely ruined.

It is strange but true that some people still question the practicability of the trench silo. The point is well illustrated by the reply recently given the writer about sheep on the farms in East Texas. "Well," answered the man asked, "those who have no farm flocks are still saying sheep do no good in East Texas, and those who have them want more." So with the silo—I've never found a man who gave it fair trial who didn't like it.

It is neither hard nor expensive. While an ensilage cutter, a row binder or even an ensilage harvester which takes the place of both, is a great advantage, ensilage can be made without either. Cut it with a butcher knife on a broom handle, a machete, a sled cutter, if a better implement is not available. Cut it while succulent and the foliage is green if possible; add water according to the degree of dryness; you can mended. On the other hand, the even make ensilage from cured fodder by using enough water, but that isn't the way it ought to be done.

It is much easier to feed out if the ensilage is cut into short shreds and it also packs better in the silo. But good ensilage is made by laying the stalks shingle-fashion, closely packing them, and wetting them down to facilitate fermentation. The only real indispensables are to exclude the air and provide moisture enough to insure the fermentation which preserves the material. Keep these two points in mind and anyone can make good ensilage of corn, sweet or grain sorghums, or other highly carbonaceous forage.

Ensilage made of whole stalks, singly or in bundles, must be cut as fed, and a simple implement to do this will cost a dollar or less. A heavy iron bar for a handle with transverse blade of tempered steel (which can be kept sharp will do the job of cutting.)

Hornets Play 1st Half: Really Play Last: Trim West 21-13

JACKSON STARS FOR HORNETS: CERNOSEK FOR WEST TROJANS.

Two freight trains, a Katy passenger, and a few Interurbans stunned the Hornets (we guess) in the first half of the Hornet-Trojan fracas at West Friday night, and if that had been all—well, it was not—and during the last half there was a football game, and in the "bright lights" is and should be, the name of "Jac" Jackson, who dimmed the brightness of the lights on the trains, and proved himself "The Big Train," hauling the Hornets out of the depression of 0-7 to a 21 to 13 win.

Cernosek, Welch, and Walker, with brain work, furnished by Wendorff, supplied the thrills for the West fans, and the two "W's" were West stellar performers.

Back again to the Hornets, Lester in blocking and defense, co-starred with Morgan, and the heavies in the line, including Edwards, Weaver, Blankenship and Perryman. At the ends Post proved he, too, could snatch difficult passes, stabbing one, one-handed, out of a flock of Trojans. "Ham-Hand" McDonald picked his out of the ozone with his usual nonchalance. Robinson, the battering ram of the squad, held up his part of the game, but was slowed somewhat by a slight jury. Jan Jones, and the other "extras" turned in good games after the half.

Here's the play by play:

Hornets won toss and chose to defend the south goal. West received, ball going to Cernosek on 15, returned to 35. Divin hit C for 15 yard gain, and 1st down. Divin hits center for 8. Sub: Whigham out, Blankenship in. Neckols makes 1 off T, 1st down. Schley throws Nichols for 2 yd loss. Pass Nichols to Edwards incomplete. Nichols passes, Lester intercepts on 10 yd line.

Jack makes two at C. Jack shovels to Lester for no gain. Jack on long end run makes 15 and 1st down. Jack on lateral fails, losing 1 yd. Bad pass from C missed by Jack. Lester kicks 30 to Willis, who is downed in his tracks. Both sides off side, play called back. Lester kicks to Willis 45, and is smothered by Hornets on 32.

Cernosek makes 1 thru C. Cernosek hits C and makes 1st down. Bad pass from C is recovered by Wendorff for West. Wendorff fails at RE. "Statue of Liberty" fails, stopped by Morgan for no gain. Wendorff punts 25, ball killed by West.

Jack on LE makes 1. Jack on long LE makes 2 at C. Jack passes to Mac, incomplete.

Gerick for Jurard for West. Jack passes, intercepted by Nichols, who returns to 50. Nichols hits C for 5 gain. Lester throws Cernosek for 1 yd loss. Cernosek hits C, fumbles, recovered by Wendorff. Cernosek makes 1st D at C. Wendorff passes to Diven over C for 6. Nichols picks up 2 around RE. Robinson stops Diven for no gain. Cernosek makes 1st down. Sub: Welch for Edwards. Jones for Robinson. Schley throws Welch for 3 yd loss. Welch makes 5 thru C. Willis around RE fails. Wendorff passes, incomplete to Diven as ball goes over.

Jack makes 2 around RE. Jack passes incomplete, as quarter ends.

2nd Quarter

Sub: Perryman for Blankenship. Jones punts out from 15 to 45.

Cernosek makes 2 over L end. Wendorff fails at C. Cernosek passes, Morgan intercepts, and attempting to pass, ball is recovered by West. On fake pass Diven ran L, losing 3. End round, with Willis carrying is smeared by the Hornets. Wendorff passes, incomplete. On punt, West off side, and play called back. Wendorff again punts to Jackson on 5 who return to 4 yards. Jack weaves thru for 8 gain. Jones makes 2 and 1st D. Jack on RE run makes 5. Crozier comes thru line and brings down Jack for 10 yd loss. Pass knocked down by West. Cepek blocks Jones punt and Walker for West recovers, taking over for West's first marker. Try for extra is good. Score: West 7, Gatesville 0.

Diven kicks for West, ball goes to Lester on 10, returns to 35. Jack passes incomplete. Jack passes to McDonald, who attempts to pass and fumbles, West recovering on 37.

Cerno makes 1, stopped by Mac. Welch picks up 4 over RE. Pass, Divins to LE knocked down by Foster. Wendorff fakes punt, and hands to Divins who fails to make 1st down, and ball goes over.

Jack around LE makes 8. Foster makes 5 and 1st down. Jack on RE run makes 18 and 1st D. Attempted end run fumbled but recovered by Hornets. Jack passes incomplete. Jones passes, incomplete to Mac. Lester punts 20 to 31 yd line.

CHAPTER V

FIELDS had gone to a small town and wanted a drink. In his customary voice—he likes to talk loudly—he asked the hotel clerk where he could get one. The alarmed clerk nudged him and finally whispered that if Charley Bogle could be found the drink would be forthcoming. "Then find Bogle," ordered Fields but discovered that he would have to follow the clerk. Then began a mysterious round. Into various cigar stores, pool halls and other small establishments went the clerk and Fields. At each place a whispered consultation was held with one or

In payment for his "snort" he stayed in the newspaper office for an hour regaling the delighted reporters with stories of his travels.

Fields had innumerable experiences in his voyages over the world. While he was appearing in Cape Town, South Africa, in vaudeville, a "rodeo"—at least Americans would call it a rodeo—was being staged at the same time. Fields dropped over to watch the fun and became interested in a young American cowboy who had shepherded a cargo of cattle from South America to South Africa. Years later Fields and this same cowboy were destined to work in the "Follies" together and become great friends. The cowboy was the late Will Rogers. Fields headlined several bills at the Folies Bergere in Paris. Because his entire finally made Fields understand that he wanted an autographed picture rather than money. His applause had been in earnest.

Later in Hollywood Fields attended a party. Another guest came up to him, solemnly produced three tennis balls and proceeded to do part of Fields' old juggling routine. He is a star in his own right now, Carl Brisson, who had wanted an autographed picture but no money as a young boy.

Fields headlined the Palladium in London many times. He was invariably received well by the critics. But one of them almost ruined Fields' career. He commented, in print, that it was a pity that Hazlitt, who had written of the jugglers from India, was not alive to see Fields the greatest juggler of his day.

Fields never had run across any Hazlitt in his extensive reading and he proceeded to make up the deficiency. He got everything by Hazlitt that he could lay his hands on and eagerly read pages and pages. Eventually he found the essay on jugglers and read it avidly. Hazlitt commented at great length on the mathematical precision, the co-ordination of eye, nerve and muscle, the nimbleness and dexterity of the jugglers.

All of this greatly impressed Fields. He knew that juggling was a painstaking work, that he had put years of work into perfecting himself, and that he must constantly keep in practice, out, until he read this article, he didn't actually realize what he had been doing all those years.

Back on the stage again, doing his routine, he started consciously to co-ordinate. He tried to make his eye, muscles and mind do the same thing at the same time. As a result, he couldn't do a single trick right. The harder he worked, the worse he got. It went on for several days. Finally Fields ripped the offending article out of the book, threw it in a fire and savagely watched it burn up.

This done he heaved a sigh of relief, put all thoughts of co-ordination out of mind, went to work and did his tricks perfectly.

sons. After two hours the mysterious Charley Bogle was found and he, with a furtive air, managed to give Bill one small sip of vitriolic white mule.

On another occasion, Fields had gone to a new town to see the preview of one of his early pictures. Apparently he didn't think much of it because, once it was over, he asked where he could find a drink. Everyone assured him no drinks were available.

"What?" roared Fields. "No drinks? You guys live here and don't know where to get a drink. I've never been here before and I'll have one in five minutes. Come with me!" He led the parade down the main street until he found the office of the morning newspaper. He went in and asked the way to the sports department.

"My good man," he said. "My name is Fields—W. C. Fields. Maybe you've heard of me."

The sports reporter assured Fields he not only had heard of him but had seen him many times.

"Then," said Fields, "if you would like to do me a favor, pour me a drink."

A bottle was instantly produced from the reporter's desk.

"You see," said Fields to those with him, "just a bit of ingenuity and the thing is done."

act was in pantomime, audiences everywhere could appreciate his work. On one of the programs there was another comedian who employed a "stooge" to sit in a box and shoot pellets at him. The "stooge" later became the best known comedian—and pantomimist—in the world. He was Charlie Chaplin.

On another Folies Bergere program a young song-and-dance man was in the opening spot. He showed great promise—a promise which later made him internationally famous as an entertainer. He was Maurice Chevalier.

In Copenhagen, as he had done in other cities, Fields hired a clique of small boys. He wanted to be sure of some applause. After the performance one of the youngsters refused pay. Largely by gestures, he

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS CALLED MOST IMPORTANT

Newspapers offer the most important advertising medium and that most widely used by retailers, Arthur L. Kramer, president of A. Harris & Co., of Dallas, asserted Thursday before the Southwestern Retailers meeting at Hotel Texas as a preliminary to opening Friday of the tenth Southwest Advertising Federation of America.

"I'm a severe critic of advertising," Kramer warned his audience. "I've seen ads which were loud, but which couldn't be heard, and I've seen ads which were odoriferous, but you couldn't smell them. My experience leads me to believe that the first thing for an executive to do is decide what kind of store he has, and then make the advertising harmonize."

The next duty of the executive said Kramer in his talk on "Management Looks at Advertising," is to see to it that his store lives up to its advertising and remembers that "newspaper advertising is the clothing that your institution wears in the public mind."

"The nearest to perfection in newspaper advertising can be obtained when the manager is constantly aware of its importance and appeal," Kramer said. "He must also remain constantly conscious of the fact that its appeal is to the eye. For that reason it must be made as clear, concise and beautiful as possible. To those who write the advertising I would say, read it over a second time and correct your copy before it goes in."

"Advertising is the best handmaiden that a business man has, but it can either make or break him."

Kramer was introduced by Lionel Bevan of Fort Worth, who said advertising men of the Southwest are giving retailers and customers, through the newspapers, the cleanest and best advertising of any section of the Nation.

"Today it is team work between the manager and the advertiser that gets the job done," Bevan said.

Teachers, librarians, parents, leaders of boys' clubs and hundreds of thousands of boys, themselves, enthusiastically recommend The American Boy Magazine for all boys over twelve.

"It's more like a companion than a magazine," remarked one high

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists, and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce, in the American Boy, just the sort of stories and articles boys like best.

The American Boy sells on all newsstands at 15c a copy. Subscription rates are $1.00 for one year or $3.00 for three years. To subscribe, simply send your name address and remittance direct to The American Boy, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich.

TIRES FOR EVERY SERVICE

The extra mileage that Mansfield Tire users have received during the past twenty-five years has been responsible for the fact that the Company has grown steadily until it is now one of the six largest producers in the tire industry. Mansfield distributors dot the continent from coast to coast.

Mansfield Mudders

Designed and built to do just what their name implies — take you through the mud, slush, snow on any type of road, on their wide angled, heavy cleated treads.

Mansfield Cushion Balloons

Today's cars — built for small diameter wheels and low air-pressure — need special tires for high speed service. Mansfield Cushion Balloons bring out all the sparkling performance built into modern cars.

There's a Mansfield Tire built to give extra mileage and extra safety on any make car or truck you drive — on any kind of work, in any season of the year, over all kinds of roads. That's the reason we are stocking them, yes, and selling them to your friends and neighbors who already have had the opportunity to see the extra safety, economy and performance of Mansfield Tires.

THREE WAYS SAFER

Mansfield Tires are three ways safer because they are built three ways differently from other tires. For instance, Cord-Lock construction puts 31% more full weight cord fabric into the sidewalls, reinforcing the tire against flexing strains. The high tensile, steel piano wire beads are seven times as strong as actually needed. Mansfield treads are made of tougher Duro-mix rubber, today still more resistant to high speed wear and pavement "burn" from fast starts and quick stops. Every Mansfield Tire gives you more mileage than you pay for.

FOUR FIRE CALLS IN CITY SINCE FRIDAY

Friday, the "department" was called out to E. T. Mayes home for a "grass" fire. No damage.

Saturday's line-up included one grass fire at the old Granville Rogers place; a machine on fire at Byrom & Walker's Tailor shop, and the third, a "false alarm" when someone turned in the alarm calling the boys to the Baptist parsonage, where the pastor, Rev. C. M. Spalding was burning wasp nests out of a tree, and the "alarmist" thought the house was on fire.

There were none Sunday. And there were none Monday.

ABSENTEE VOTERS REALLY ARE SCARCE: VOTE NOV. 8TH

Seems like they just don't give a hang—or, are not going to be gone from their voting boxes on November 8th, General Election Day.

So far, only three ballots have been mailed out, and only two have cast absentee votes.

At this rate, the "counters" are going to have to back up their money this time—they certainly won't earn it.

PRESIDENT PERSONALLY DIRECTS RAILS PEACE PARLEY

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt took personal charge today of efforts to effect a peaceful settlement of the critical railroad wage dispute.

The chief executive called representatives of rail management and labor to the White House to consider some long-range program to aid the carriers.

Of immediate importance, however, was the 15 per cent wage reduction ordered by the roads for Dec. 1 and the threat of almost one million rail workers to strike if the cut is carried out.

The president's emergency railroad investigating board recommended Saturday that the railroads withdraw their notices of the reduction, which would clip pay rolls.

Before the White House conference there was no indication whether the roads would accept the recommendation. A committee of the carriers' executives was asked to meet during the day. Its chairman, H. A. Enochs, said the wage question probably would be turned back to the individual roads.

Mrs. Rosser Saunders was in West Friday night and Miss Ray returned home with her.

BRIDGE OPENED SATURDAY: TRAFFIC HOT SINCE

"Over the waves"! Actually, right here in Gatesville or between Gatesville and Coryell County.

The new bridge across the Leon is open for traffic.

This was done Saturday, and since that time, many has been the rider that went over this new structure, which is the result of some five or six months' work. The highway, running from Waco, west, we understand is open to Arnett, 9 miles west of Gatesville and work is being done on the ground work and bridge structures west of this point to Evant.

At a chamber of commerce meeting Friday morning, it was decided not to have a celebration of any kind until the entire highway No. 7 was completed to Evant, and then those invited would have a much better chance to attend the celebration should the weather be rainy or bad.

Also, it was noted at this meeting that the new bridge had been wired for lights, with conduit thruout, and that the State Highway Department had agreed to install this, but expected certain types of standards if the bridge was lighted.

It was also intimated at the chamber of commerce meeting that a fund had been allotted for survey work on Highway 36 southeast of Gatesville, preparatory to, it is hoped, some action on this part of this highway.

NEW PHOTO SHOP OPENS NEXT SHEPHERD MOTOR COMPANY

New in Gatesville, is the Gatesville Portrait Shop, which has just opened in the building next to Chamlee's Garage, formerly occupied by the Friendly Beauty Shop, and prior to that by Mrs. J. B. Graves, florist. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wilson of Fort Worth are operators of the new studio.

Recently from Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are known to Coryell County and Gatesville people, since they were formerly with a local photographer.

They came originally from Tupelo, Mississippi, and with fifteen years' experience, they have worked in and with some of the better shops in Dallas, Fort Worth and other points, most recently, with Brown and Brown of Dallas.

These folks specialize in children's photos, and also have a new process for "make-up" for photographs which bring out the last ounce of "beauty" or "handsomeness" you might have concealed.

Mrs. Ada Tadlock is confined to her home on account of illness.

Mr. Tom Martin and Dr. Stamford of Hamilton were guests of the former's brother, Jim Martin, Sunday night.

Maurice S. Ewing, former teacher in the Gatesville high school, of Shreveport, Louisiana, was a week end visitor in this city.

WACO JUNIOR LIVESTOCK
SHOW

The Waco Junior Livestock Show brought out many valuable points. Most of the 4-H Club boys who attended this show were taking part in their first livestock show, and there learned that a pig, for instance, must be washed thoroughly with high quality laundry soap in order to have the hair in the proper condition for the best showing and that immediately prior to showing the hair must be dressed with light weight oil in order to show to the best advantage, but chief of all it was learned that the pig must be trained to show prior to going to the show, and that during the show must be properly handled every minute in order for the judge to see the good points of the respective animal. All in all the boys are to be highly commended for the wonderful lot of animals presented in the show and for the care and management of those animals during the entire show, and especially during the judging.

Coryell County had one-half of the hogs in the show and attracted much attention to the excellent work being done by the boys of the county. In the sheep group as in the hogs, Coryell County had her share.

It was through the very close cooperation that the 75 Coryell County pigs and sheep were handled at the show and returned to the respective owner at the very minimum expense. Eddie Wiegand stayed through the duration of the show and looked after the animals. Several of the other boys stayed through a part of the show and aided Eddie in caring for the animals.

This and other shows are very worthwhile for livestock production in that it attracts the attention of many people who see the animals on display, as is indicated by the fact that the Coryell County boys sold approximately $500.00 worth of stock during the show and took many orders for future deliveries on pigs. County Agent Powell is most anxious to contact within the next few days all boys who are interested in feeding and developing stock for the spring shows, the first of which

Curtis Manning, Pearl 4-H Club boy, who weighs only 65 pounds, exhibited the champion lamb at the Waco Show, the lamb weighing twice as much as its owner. Curtis bought this lamb from Fred Robinson, local sheep breeder, and developed it on home-grown feeds to the attractive finish that was presented in the show. On the night of the auction sale the lamb attracted considerable attention for its wonderful appearance and to its owner and was bought, as previously announced, at 40c per pound, which is one of the higher prices paid this year for a winning lamb. In addition to the money prizes on the lamb Curtis was presented a registered Duroc Jersey sow pig which he has taken home to develop as a brood sow. This young Club member, in his first year of Club work, has set up a mighty high mark for the other Club boys to shoot at.

"IT CAN'T ALL MAKE PAGE 1" PLENTY INSIDE

Page 1 isn't all the News! If your story doesn't make page 1, there are a dozen or more pages in each and every edition of the News that has plenty of newsy news.

We only select what, in our opinion, is news that most folks in Coryell County want to see first. Maybe we're wrong, and in that case the story you're particularly looking for may be on the inside.

That's the advantage of the tabloid newspaper—it makes every page a front page—as far as news goes.

PRISCILLA CLUB NEWS

B. & P. W. Club Has No-Host Social

On Thursday evening, members of the Business and Professional Women's Club assembled at the Home Economics department of the local high school where they enjoyed a no-host chili supper.

Marigolds and fern were used to decorate the department in order to carry out the club colors, green and gold.

"Picking Your Job," was the program topic, which was arranged by the program committee, Miss Janice Durer, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Turk Brown, educational chairman.

The program was begun with the entire group singing the invocation. Miss Sidney Gayle Gibson, president, gave two reports, one on her trip to Cameron. She was accompanied on this trip by Misses Maude Alyce Painter and Bess Holmes. Her other report was on her trip to Marlin, where she, along with other members, Mrs. Pearl White, Misses Anne Hill, Minnie Lou Witt, and Christine Moran, were present at the fish fry given by Dr. N. B. Buie. After these two interesting talks had been given, Miss Janice Durer presented each member with a sheet of paper on which each answered the 50 questions as she asked them. Then each member scored herself. Mrs. Turk Brown made an excellent talk which was enjoyed by everyone. In speaking she said, "Keep looking for the job you really want to do." After this talk, the club voted to sponsor the Red Cross Roll Call.

Club members present were Misses Louise Hall, Anne Hill, Rebekah Wilcox, Christine Moran, Janice Durer, Ernestine Durham, True Pearl McGilvray, Thelma McGilvray, Bess Holmes, Maude Alyce Painter, Sidney Gibson, and Mesdames Turk Brown and Pearl White.

Miss Sally Britain and the Home Economics students prepared and served the supper. The club expresses their appreciation to Miss Britain and the students.

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Quivering nerves can make you old and haggard looking, cranky and hard to live with—can keep you awake nights and rob you of good health, good times and jobs.

What you may need is a particularly good woman's tonic—and could you ask for anything whose benefits are better proved than famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and thus help calm your shrieking nerves, give more energy and make life worth living again.

More than a million women have reported benefit—why not let Pinkham's Compound help YOU, too, to go "smiling thru" trying times like it has other grateful women for the past 3 generations? IT MUST BE GOOD!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Each second and fourth Sunday nights we have a young folks Bible study. Everyone is invited to come and be with us.

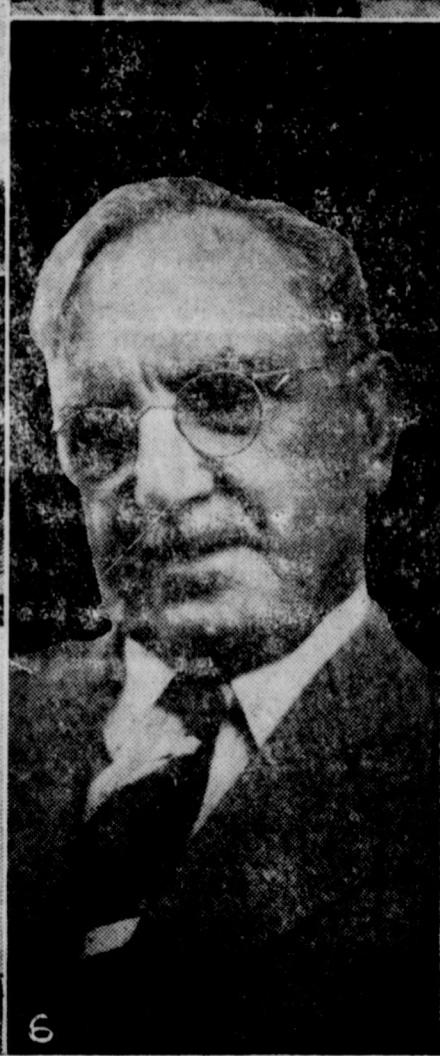

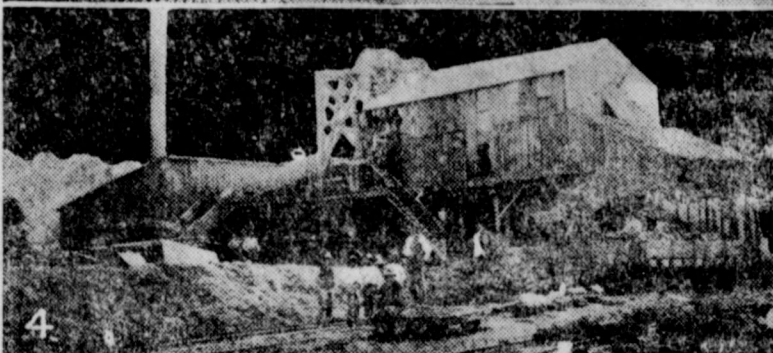

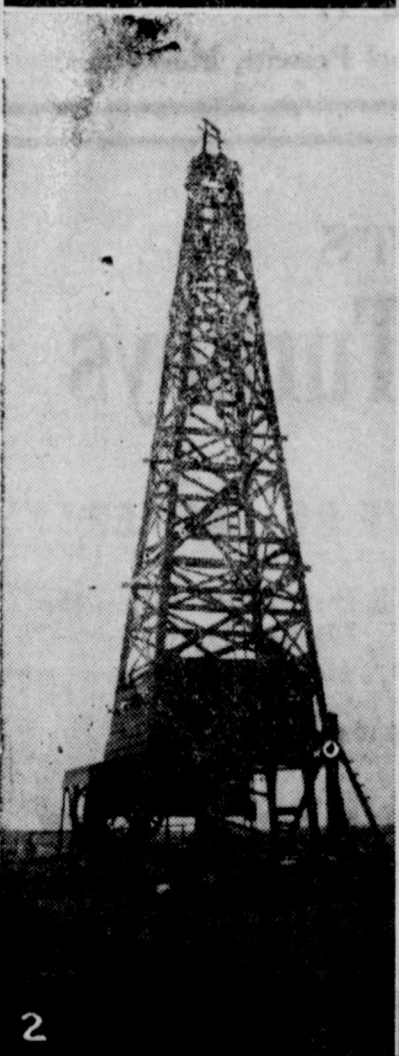

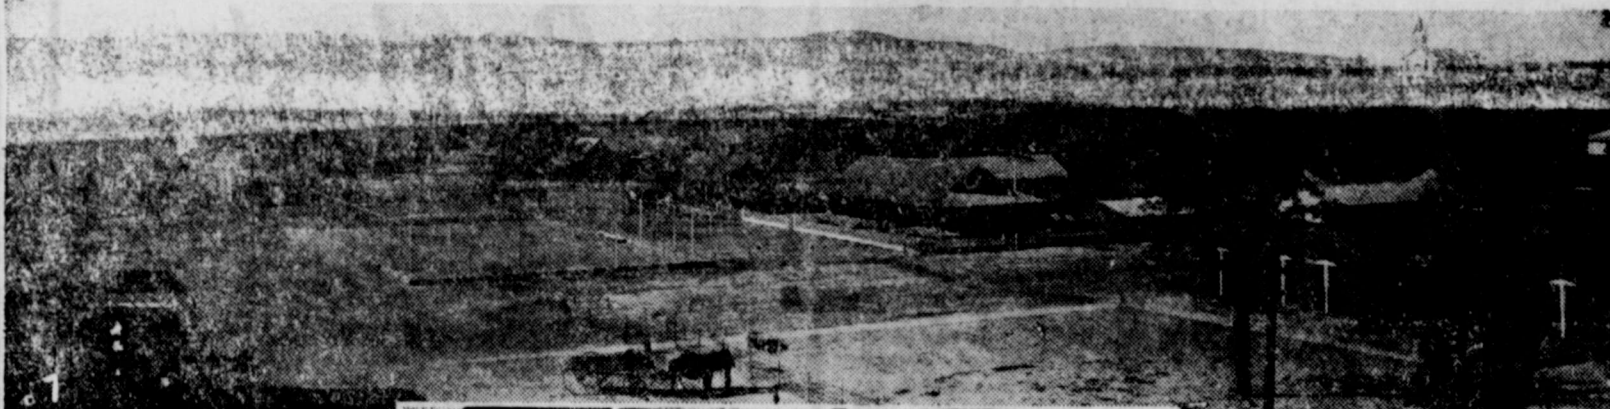

Rev. and Mrs. E. O. Walters and children have moved to the old Franks home.

The young folks of this community enjoyed a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kitley recently.

Heta Taylor spent Sunday night with Beulah Faye Galloway of Coryell City.

Everett Yeilding of Gatesville spent the week end with his parents here.

We are sorry to hear that Rev. Walter Galloway is mighty sick. We hope he will soon be back with us.

Turnersville Pioneer Woman, Mrs. Hobin, Celebrates Birthday, Oct. 16

Mrs. P. R. Hobin, pioneer citizen of Turnersville, celebrated her eighty-second birthday Monday in the same house where she has spent the past sixty-one years of her life. Jovial, cheerful, and quite evidently enjoying her "birthday party," Mrs. Hobin greeted a host of life-long friends who came to see her during the day. Nearly twenty were at the dinner table.

Mrs. Hobin is well and surprisingly active for her age. She enjoys talking about things present and past, and concerning the latter has some most interesting stories to recount.

Born in Perry County, Missouri, on October 24, 1856, Mrs. Hobin was brought by her parents to Hamilton County when she was but five months old. Hamilton and Coryell were just part of the great Wild West eighty years ago, and this pioneer family had many exciting experiences ahead of them. Their home was the first house built in Hamilton County, and a few years later Mrs. Hobin's father became the first sheriff in the county.

One day Mrs. Hobin, still a little girl, was needed at home and so didn't go to the little school house that was located near their home. In the early afternoon one of the older brothers came running in to tell of an Indian raid on that school. Seeing the approach of the Red Men, the brave teacher saved most of her pupils by calming them and sending them out a small opening in the room on the opposite side from which the Indians were coming. However, the invading band had come on the scene before all could escape. The teacher, for so thwarting their purpose, was killed; one of the children injured, and another taken captive.

"I always said," Mrs. Hobin remarked, laughing, "that if I had been there, they would have got me, sure."

Marrying when quite a young woman, Mrs. Hobin moved with her husband to a little pioneer settlement in Coryell County. Four or five houses were there, and two or three stores to serve that section of the county. The name of the place was Turnersville.

Going into business with Mr. Henderson, the Hobins remained in Turnersville some time. Their home was the same building, since enlarged to include more rooms, in which Mrs. Hobin now lives. The structure was built in April, 1878.

Later Mr. Hobin accepted employment with Mr. Pancake, in the community of that name, but shortly thereafter returned to his home in Turnersville, where he remained until his death twenty-nine years ago. However, for nine years he owned and operated a general merchandise store in Hurst a flourishing community in those days. Tho he usually drove to work in his wagon, Mr. Hobin often walked the seven or eight miles twice a day, remaining in Turnersville that his children might be near the school.

Concerning these early days, Mrs. Hobin recalls some interesting things. When they first moved there, the mail came, at irregular intervals, to one of the men who lived near the town. He kept the mail in an old trunk at his home, and people for miles around went there, whenever convenient, to look through the trunk for a chance letter. Later the government awarded Turnersville a post-office, and made Mr. Hobin the first postmaster.

Asked if there had been Indians about in those days, Mrs. Hobin seemed almost to shudder in remembrance. "I should say there were," she said. "Why, it wasn't safe to be out at nite in the light of the moon. They were wild—the meanest alive—and I was scared to death of them."

Citizens will now show a depression in the side of a hill near town, with the floor beaten down and rock table in the center, which was used as a gathering place for the Indians. "I remember one time when they killed a preacher," said Mrs. Hobin. "It was Brother White, a traveling preacher who held services for us in the school house every now and then. He was on his way to Turnersville when a band of Indians spied him and shot him down. A companion, whom they wounded, escaped and rode to town to report what had happened."

To Mr. and Mrs. Hobin were born eight children, but only two are now living, the oldest and the youngest. John Hobin, of Turnersville, is successor of his father in the general merchandise store of that community. A daughter, Mrs. Olin Sydow, lives in Gatesville. There are ten living grandchildren.

The following were present for "Granny" Hobin's birthday dinner: Mesdames J. W. Short, Hattie Carr, Dan Tharp, Ollie Buster, A. B. Wallace, Phelix Pruitt, Emma Jones, J. W. Hardie, Lee McCoy, N. J. Dollins, A. J. Adams, Dave Pruitt, E. S. Bayless; Miss Nell Block; Master Bobby Jones; Baby La Rue Pruitt; and Rev. Ed. Bayless, Presbyterian minister. Afternoon callers were Mesdames Layton McDonald, Julian Smith, Bernice Hardie, and others.

MOSHEIM FARMER PLEASED CCC WORK PASTURE LANDS

"The grazing capacity of my pasture has greatly increased this year as a result of the exceptionally good live and spread of the Buffalo and Bermuda grasses that were soddied this spring in cooperation with the local Conservation Service," Mr. E. Callan of Mosheim community stated.

Mr. Callan continued, saying: "the mowing and cultivation of these areas during the spring and summer months has proven to be very valuable in that it eliminated moisture and shade competition given by a normally heavy growth of weeds. I consider cultivation and mowing essentials of good grass spread. Newly soddied areas like our cultivated crops react favorably to proper treatment. The areas on my farm now covered with good grass were once waste land unfit for cultivation, due to gullies and location. Today these areas serve as waterways, an excellent pasture, and make my soil 'stay put.'"

IRELAND TURNS ON HEAT; TAKES FLAT, 6-MAN, TO TUNE OF 57 TO 0

Ireland high school 6-man team displayed power a-plenty in defeating the scrappy Flat six, 57-0, on the Ireland gridiron in their game Friday night.

Werner Lemmer returned the opening kickoff 60 yards for a touchdown to start the fireworks. Jack Lemmer, Allen Pearson, Moore and Huckabee also scored.

The line composed of Haines, Squyres, Boyd, Dodgion, Edwards and Lemmer outcharged the Flat-tonians making possible many long games.

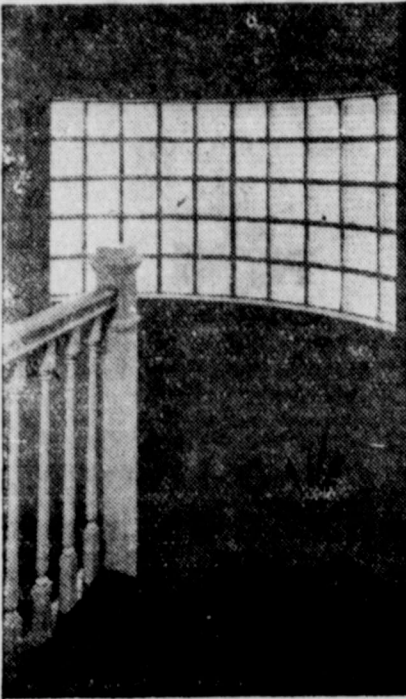

Flat threatened with sustained drives deep into Ireland, but each time was turned back with pass interceptions and fumbles.

Pearl, the conference leader, is to take on the Irish of Ireland on November 4th.

Ireland dropped an early season game to the "Gems" of Pearl, but can get back into the running—if they get over Friday, coming.

Flat, on the other hand, takes on Turnersville at Turnersville, which is likely to be Turnersville again, since this club took the initial game under the lights here.

NEAT 'N' NICE AT LOW PRICE

Builders and home owners will be interested in what Architect Charles Dilbeck has accomplished with 50 insulux glass blocks in this Dallas, Texas, residence—an idea that is ideal for the small home. The translucent but not transparent blocks bring in daylight, well diffused, to light up the stairway in the interest of greater safety, and provide a striking bit of decorative background that lifts the stairway to a new plane of beauty. The cost to "open up" such a wall in this way is negligible.

Modern scientific research indicates that long life is principally hereditary, though factors of environment and habits also are important.

BEATING THE FROST KING

Late feed crops which need more time to mature their seed are in danger of frost at almost any time now. It is not necessary to lose a large part of their feed value either by premature cutting or from frost, if the crop is made into ensilage. If frost strikes unexpectedly and singes the foliage, cut the crop as quickly as possible and ensile it later. Often the daily weather report will forewarn of killing frost, and give time to cut the crop before it strikes. In either case the bundles can lie as they fall until cutting is completed, with slight damage to its feeding value.

Two years ago the writer saw many fields of grain sorghums hit by premature frost in the lower Panhandle. Growers started the row binders immediately, and the frost damage did not extend beyond the foliage. Those who had not already prepared for it, began digging trench silos, leaving the crop in the field until the silo was ready. Since it only takes a day or two to construct a trench of considerable capacity, the crop dried out very little in the meantime.

It is preferable to permit the seed to mature, since the feeding value of the ensilage is greater than if it is cut in the "dough" stage, which was formerly recommended. On the other hand, the silos will preserve its full value in whatever stage it has to be ensiled and immature silage is far better than no silage at all. The past summer saw many fields burned up by drouth and useless for feed which would have been well worth saving had the crop been cut and ensiled before it was entirely ruined.

It is strange but true that some people still question the practicability of the trench silo. The point is well illustrated by the reply recently given the writer about sheep on the farms in East Texas. "Well," answered the man asked, "those who have no farm flocks are still saying sheep do no good in East Texas, and those who have them want more." So with the silo—I've never found a man who gave it fair trial who didn't like it.

It is neither hard nor expensive. While an ensilage cutter, a row binder or even an ensilage harvester which takes the place of both, is a great advantage, ensilage can be made without either. Cut it with a butcher knife on a broom handle, a machete, a sled cutter, if a better implement is not available. Cut it while succulent and the foliage is green if possible; add water according to the degree of dryness; you can even make ensilage from cured
