Santa Claus Here Wednesday: Lights, Music, Festivity

LIONS TO BANQUET G. H. S. HORNETS TUES. DECEMBER 13TH

According to announcement by Andrew Kendrick, member of Dr. Otis C. Ray' chairman's committee, Gatesville Lions will honor the Gatesville High School football team and coaches Tuesday evening, December 13, at 7:30 o'clock, at the high school gym.

Coach Morley Jennings, Head Coach of the Baylor University Bears will be the principal speaker of the evening. R. D. Foster, popular Lion, and a proven "mouthpiece" will be the M. C. of the event.

Grub! Always an interesting item at any banquet, unless you've got ulcers, will be prepared by the Home Economics Department of the high school, with Miss Marie Wilson in charge.

Statistics and other details are yet to be worked out for this occasion and will be announced as they are unfolded.

It is probable musical items and other forms of entertainment will be given. Of course, Coach Earle Worley, one of Gatesville's most successful coaches in years, will be heard from, as well as all the future "spell binders" on the club.

FHA OFFICIAL VISITS HERE IN INTEREST OF BUILDING

J. Max Montgomery, Mortgage conference representative of the Federal Housing Administration, of Dallas was a visitor with the building trades here this week, launching a FHA "Ready for Winter Campaign."

According to Mr. Montgomery, adequate funds are available for financing repairs as well as for new construction.

Qualified borrowers may obtain from $100 to $10,000 with which to improve any type of property, home, farm, or business, under Title I of the Act.

Quite a few local people have already taken advantage of the FHA offerings and already have homes completed by this method.

NEW GYM AT PEARL TO BE DEDICATED TONIGHT

Announcement has been received from Superintendent M. "Peck" Sharp of Pearl school system that tonight at the gym, dedicatory exercises will be held for the formal opening of the new building.

Although the information is slight in reference to the gymnasium, we are informed the gym includes dressing rooms, office, playing floor and many other conveniences which make up a modern building of this character.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone in the county to be present this evening, when ample entertainment will be provided.

"LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD;" THIS TIME IN ECONOMICS

Truman C. Bigham, now Dr. T. C. Bigham, of the University of Florida was one of the headlights or highlights of the Southern Economic Association's eleventh annual conference which was held recently at Birmingham, Alabama, his picture appearing in the Birmingham News.

The meeting was to analyze and discuss economic affairs of the South and the Nation.

In addition, in the latest "Who's Who in American Education" Dr. Bigham is also listed among the notables.

He is a former resident of Gatesville and son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Bigham.

PAINTER'S DOES HAVE A SANTA: AND IT'S SATURDAY

We made a bust in announcing that Old Santa Claus would be at Painter's last week.

It's so this week!

Santa Claus will positively be at Painter's Saturday of this week, December 3, from 1 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

He's sent us a special request to ask all the kiddies and their elders to be here. There'll be candy, souvenirs and 1001 things that Old Santa has displayed there for samples that the boys and girls can pick out to write Santa to bring them.

It'll be a gala event at 1 to 3 p. m. Saturday.

Dr. Charles T. McGregor, formerly CCC Camp physician, left Thursday for Mangum, Oklahoma, where he and Dr. J. L. Nelson of Granite, Oklahoma, are to jointly operate a 75 bed hospital.

Dr. McGregor has been in Gatesville for some time and people of this vicinity will be glad to know of this connection in Mangum. Mrs. McGregor also left with him Thursday.

HIGHWAYANS GET RESULTS ON TRIP TO AUSTIN THIS WEEK

Quoting County Judge Floyd Zeigler a statement was released by members of the State Highway Commission in Austin that they would "possibly include topping on Highway 36 from Gatesville to Jonesboro in the next Spring's asphalt program."

The delegation of three, which also included H. K. Jackson and J. Hurl McClellan, had interviews with various members of the Commission, and appeared before the Commission in a hearing and the attitude of the Commission was very much in favor of the completion of Highway 36, if at all possible, within the next two years.

State Engineer Julian Montgomery and also the members of the Commission were informed of the deteriorating condition of the highway from the State Training School to Jonesboro, and seemed interested in topping this part of the highway, so as to save further damage to the already completed dirt work.

It is also hinted that funds have previously been allocated to Highway 36 below Temple will be diverted to complete additional 36 work north of Temple. This is due to the decision to use asphalt instead of concrete, which means a saving of a very sizable sum.

All in all, these gentlemen stated the outlook on highway construction in this vicinity was on the "upswing" definitely.

MCGREGOR KEYED FOR TITLE BATTLE WITH KERENS

McGregor, Nov. 30—Excitement is running high as this town of western McLennan county prepares for its bi-district championship football game with Kerens here Friday afternoon. Not since 1932 have the Bulldogs of McGregor annexed the district gonfalon and this year's championship climaxed a campaign of competition in which the team defeated five district opponents and battled to a scoreless tie with the other.

Hundreds of fans will follow the Kerens team to McGregor on a special train. With no other game in this section of central Texas Friday, large delegations from towns of the surrounding territory are expected to be present for the contest.

Harvey Ballew, Bill Henderson and Boody Johnson have been employed to officiate the contest, which begins at 2:30 Friday afternoon.

Winner of above game will have the right to play the winner of the Elkhart-Calvert game for the regional championship.

CITY DREAMS OF NO TAXES

GRAHAM, Texas—Citizens here hoped for tax relief, possibly freedom from city taxes, from a wildcat oil well that is being drilled inside the city limits. The well, if successful, would end the city's tax worries because assessments would be increased enough to pay the bills several fold.

VOTERS KEEP FAITH

OMAHA, Neb.—Voters have faith in George Brandeis, well known Omaha merchant. For many years justice of the peace of Fairacres, Brandeis again was elected to that post—but he still has his first case to hear. After each election he neglects to post the necessary bond.

GUARANTY BANK HAS OPEN HOUSE FROM FOUR TO EIGHT P. M. TODAY

From four to eight o'clock p. m. today, the Guaranty Bank & Trust Company will put on its best bib and tucker.

They're having their formal opening of the newly re-modeled bank building, which already is one of the show spots of Gatesville.

Invitations have been sent to many, and the word is spreading around generally that they are "at home" at these hours, and earnestly request your presence.

What's more, it's really a sight for sore eyes, and if you haven't seen the new "set-up" (New Deal Word) don't miss this opportunity.

DR. RALPH BAILEY SELLS "HEAVYWEIGHT" IN FORT WORTH

Dr. Ralph Bailey has just sold two "heavies" to Fort Worth buyers. They're hogs.

The hogs, not the buyers! But anyway, one of the "little old things" weighed 870 pounds and the other scaled 680.

These Duroc Jerseys have practically made the county vegetarian, but suppose there are many other smaller ones hereabouts.

COMANCHE COUNTY ATTORNEY IS ACQUITTED ON SECOND TRIAL

"County Attorney D. P. Parker was acquitted yesterday on a charge of false theft by pretext," says a statement in the Waco Times-Herald of last night.

Attorney Parker had previously been tried on the same charge and there was a "hung jury" and the case was retried this week.

INFANT DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. CRAWFORD SCOTT BURIED TUES.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Scott for their infant daughter, Alice Ann, who died Monday, November 28. The Rev. C. M. Spalding conducted the services. Interment was in the City Cemetery.

The grand parents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Zim Marion Scott and Mr. and Mrs. E. Routh, all of this city.

Out-of-town people attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Scott of Port Arthur; and Mrs. J. B. Young of Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Linder of Moody visited in the John C. Linder home Thursday.

ADVISORS WILL GATHER BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Fort Worth, Dec. 1.—The meeting of W. Lee O'Daniel with his "citizen's advisory board," here Monday will be a closed affair, the governor-elect said today.

"The meeting will not be of a political nature," O'Daniel said, "and will be completely private. The members of the board are not politicians and I have decided against permitting outside visitors."

The governor elect declined to give any information as to what subjects will be discussed, saying "I don't know now what will come up. I won't until we get together."

O'Daniel announced the appointment of J. F. Lucey, Dallas oilman and Frank Davis, Itasca merchant, to the board, bringing the total named to the board to 34. He said Davis had accepted.

The governor elect said that he had received 25 acceptances from those invited to the conference.

OLD ST. NICK WILL BE IN GATESVILLE AT 5:00 P. M. WEDNESDAY, DEC. 3.

With the entire town alive with Christmas lights, a-clatter with Christmas Carols and music, Christmas Trees, and all accouterments necessary to make a dramatic call, Saint Nicholas, alias Santa Claus, will be in Gatesville Wednesday evening of next week at 5:00 o'clock.

This friend of everyone, will arrive in splendid style, in a new and different Christmas setting, and a Yuletide party is being planned in his honor, and for his presentation to the people of Coryell County and Gatesville.

Favors, or souvenirs, and candies will be given to the children and a merrie night will be had by all who enter the city.

Stores, now in the process of decorating, will be finished, lighted and articles for this season of happiness and hope will be displayed in an array that will be a treat to the most fantastic and blase. To accomodate the many visitors, the stores will remain open later than usual so that the public may know what is new and different in the Christmas melange of shopping necessities.

The entire square will be lighted, in addition to the silvered trees which have just been placed and are now being wired.

All this preparation, work, and study, is to give added beauty and interest to the most interesting season it is our pleasure to know. Merchants in Gatesville have plentiful stocks, and shopping here is made easier, and shopping elsewhere, is unnecessary.

DANIELS PRODUCE COMPANY HANDLE "HAMILTON" FEEDS

Daniels Produce Company, here for many years announces today they are local dealers in Mid-Tex Feeds, manufactured by Gerald Company of Hamilton, Texas.

This company according to Mr. Daniels, manufacturers a complete line of feeds, especially for the poultry and dairying trade.

These feeds meet all specifications required by the State Department of Agriculture and other "overseers" of feeds.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Alene Miller Given Shower

The home of Mrs. U. Z. Touchstone of the Buster community was the scene of a prettily appointed party Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Touchstone entertained with a handkerchief shower for Mrs. Alene Miller.

Bouquets of shaded autumn leaves decorated the house throughout. After several games and contests were had, the box of gifts was presented to the honoree by the hostess. After each gift was admired, a refreshment plate, consisting of hot coffee, cocoa, and chocolate and pineapple cake was passed to those enjoying the courtesy.

Friday Night Bridge Club Entertained

Misses Aurora Yongue and Lois Grantham acted as joint hostesses to their bridge club Monday evening at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Greely Ricketts, on Fouts street. The home was attractively decorated with chrysanthemums.

Awards were presented to Misses Leah Dale Franks, Ernestine Durham and Truie Pearl McGilvray for score prizes.

After the games of contract, the hostesses served refreshments, consisting of pumpkin pie, topped with whipped cream, hot tea, and salted nuts.

Members present for the courtesy were: Misses Bess Holmes, Bill Cayce, Chloe Yongue, Elizabeth Bigham, Maude Alyce Painter, Ernestine Durham, Leah Dale Franks, Dorothy Culberson, Anne Hill, Doris McGilvray, Truie Pearl McGilvray, Thelma McGilvray, Christine Moran, Louise Hall, Sidney Gibson, Linnie Fore, Rebekah Wilcox, Mary Brown, Minnie Lou Witt, and Mrs. Bailey Curry.

Maxine Lovejoy Celebrates Thirteenth Birthday.

Miss Maxine Lovejoy was honored on the 13th birthday anniversary by her mother at her home on South Seventh street. Monday afternoon, November 21 at 5:30 o'clock.

Games and contests were played after which the guests were served refreshments of sandwiches pickles, cookies, candy and punch.

Mrs. Graves Complimented With House Warming

Friends of Mrs. J. B. Graves complimented her with a surprise house warming Wed. afternoon at her lovely new home on North Seventh street. Greeting the guests at the door were Mrs. Pat Potts and Mrs. Mat Jones, and presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Bythel Cooper.

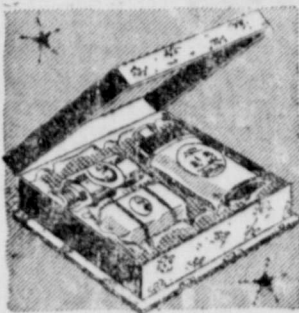

Misses Marguerite Williams and Mary Brown, assisted by Misses Joyce Baker and Leah Dale Franks, and Grace Richards, presided in the dining room, where tea was passed to each guest. The table was laid with a beautiful lace cloth, adorned with a crystal bowl of Texas gold roses.

Lending charm to all the rooms of the new home were the many gorgeous flowers, a gift from Wolf's Florist in Waco. Mrs. Graves also received a rug, a set of dishes, a chair, and a number of other beautiful and useful gifts, showing the great esteem she held by her many friends.

Friends called during the afternoon between the hours of 2:30 and 5:00 o'clock.

DEANNA DURBIN'S AMAZING CAREER CLIMAXED IN "THAT CERTAIN AGE"

"I'm just lucky, that's all!"

This is the only credit Deanna Durbin gives herself for her amazing flight to cinematic stardom.

Deanna, who is not yet sixteen, has starred in four great Universal pictures in a row, "Three Smart Girls," which introduced her to the picture-loving world, "100 Men and a Girl," in which she appeared with world-renowned Leopold Stokowski, "Mad About Music," and her latest, "That Certain Age," which will be at the Regal Theatre Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

She credits her startling success to luck, because neither she nor her parents anticipated Deanna's screen career.

"It happened accidentally," Deanna declares.

She was thirteen at the time, tending Bret Harte high school in Los Angeles. Except for her voice, she was a normal child in every respect. Her parents, James and Ada Durbin, had speculated a bit on an operatic career for her, but nothing, outside of singing lessons, had been done about it. Deanna's sister, Mrs. Charles Heckman, a Los Angeles schoolteacher, and internationally known as a fencer, had urged a further musical education.

Deanna returned home from school one day to be told by her mother that she was to go to see an agent, Jack Sherrill. Sherrill rushed her to the M. G. M. studios where Deanna made a test.

The test was a success and Deanna was placed under contract.

Then she learned that she was supposed to go into a picture with Madame Schumann Heink, the great diva, portraying the role of the singer as a girl. But the opera star became ill and the picture was cancelled. Deanna was released from her contract.

For the "Season's Eatings" Serve Creamed Chicken, Waffles and Peas

An Old Favorite Becomes a New Success Through Addition of Canned Peas You'll Discover a Treasure of Nourishment in This Combination

After the anticipation and excitement of festive holiday meals, there is apt to be a letting up on all household activities for a while. There is one task however, that must go on—the family must be fed. Even though you may hear them sigh, after having devoured the sumptuous feast you prepared, that they are much too full to ever eat again—before many hours pass you will probably hear them clamoring for the left overs.

Attractively arranged left overs are always welcome and often give more in flavor than they did in their original form. Too often you find left overs presented in dishes where they have lost their form or are too thoroughly chopped and minced to be attractive. If it is left over chicken or turkey that you are serving, warmed in its gravy, leave the pieces large enough so that they may be recognized. Add enough new food either as garnish or as new seasonings to pep up the left over and change the flavor slightly.

With the holiday dinner left overs, you will probably start your menu building with the chicken or turkey that remains. Serve this in the gravy on slices of dressing, if any remained, or on freshly baked waffles or biscuit shortcakes with chopped egg filling. To round out this supper or luncheon menu it is important that you serve a green vegetable. At this time, all convenient and labor saving ideas are welcome: Canned vegetables being the quality they are these days are ideal at a time like this. Canned peas are a favorite from ages ago and still rate at the top of the popularity list of canned vegetables. This year in particular they deserve your favor because the crop was so bountiful and exceptionally high in quality.

It is not necessary to cook peas when they are taken from the can. They have been prepared and canned under regulated and scientific conditions and ready to use after heating to serving temperature. The liquid from the can of peas has in it valuable food nutrients that no one can afford to throw away. Plan to make use of this in your gravy, soup or broth.

Two sorts of peas are put up by the commercial canners. One variety is smooth, round and quite firm, and is commercially called the Alaska pea. It is often labeled "June" or "Early June." The second variety is irregular in shape, wrinkled, and slightly sweeter in flavor. It is known as "Sweet" or "Sweet Wrinkled." In the commercial canning there are usually not more than two hours between the time the pea leaves the field until it is in the can. This means the saving of flavor and a quality in the product not possible to duplicate in fresh peas bought in the market and cooked at home.

If you would enjoy an exciting excursion in good eating, try

Creamed Chicken Short Cake

- 3 cups chicken gravy
 - or cream sauce
 - 1½ cups chicken cut in pieces
 - ½ cup mushrooms sauteed in butter
 - 1 No. 2 can peas
- Combine all ingredients, heat to serving temperature and serve on crisp, freshly baked waffles, biscuits spread with chopped egg and butter mixture, or on toast. The peas may be added directly to the mixture, or used as an accompaniment on the serving platter. Serves 6.

COTTON PROGRAM

For the past several weeks, we have been carrying articles by N. Foote Chairman Coryell County Agricultural Association which represents the AAA in this county.

Farmers of the county are more qualified to KNOW whether or not they want the present "set-up" or a new one.

Locally, we have had no sponsors of the J. E. McDonald Plan, but there has been considerable aggressiveness on the part of these folks, which, included a number of Farm organizations.

We make no comment on either plan, neither the "ins" or the "outs" but, when the vote is counted on December 10, nor the "outs" but, when the vote is counted on December 10, should get behind the plan they have voted for.

It seems to us however, that the factions are divided as to "lead horses" that are in the races leading, and the "would be lead horses" who are "out" of the program, would like to be "in".

Farmers, it seems, the so-called "dirt" variety are not worried much which one leads, and do not do the "squawking" that we read of when a "farmers" meeting is held. It is the "leaders".

The entire program is so "thick" it practically takes a Philadelphia lawyer to understand it. Anyway, go Vote!

DALADIER—DELANO

Daladier is having plenty of trouble with Labor in France. Labor has been petted, coddled and "mushed" over so much by some of the everchanging governments of France that Labor there is trying to dictate the policies of the country, it seems, without regard to any other factions.

Right here in the USA one "Delano" probably better known as FDR, it seems, is building up to about the same trouble. He's really putting on a "petting party" with Labor, and the CIO and AFL are both licking his boots for favor.

Although this is, for the most part, a non-union town we have considerable respect for Union Labor, but not the kind that, from the newspapers, seems to be operating most manufacturing plants in the industrial centers. These seem like two big rackets headed by two hardheads who won't give an inch, and expect and mean to take everything for themselves.

Far be it from us to advise anyone, but it looks from the surface as if Mr. Roosevelt will have to dillydally with Daladier's dilemma.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR INFANT SON OF MR. MRS. JACK MORSE

Funeral service were held for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morse Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m. at their home with the Rev. S. L. Culwell officiating. Interment was made in the Pidcoke cemetery.

The infant was born Wednesday, November 30 at the local hospital. Its grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Morse Sr. of Spring Hill community and Mr. and Mrs. Gip Waddill of Pidcoke.

John G. Morse Jr, uncle of the infant, of Cleburne was present for the funeral.

C.C.N. CORYELL CITY 4-H CLUB

The meeting came to order. Everyone was present, and one new member, who was a welcome visitor, who joined our club.

We talked of giving Christmas gifts and decided to have a Christmas tree. We also filled in our general goals and wishing goals, which we enjoyed a great deal.

Games were played after which the meeting adjourned and everyone went to his respective room.

This meeting was on Monday and our next meeting will be December 8, 1933.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

THERE was a young preacher out in Arizona that was awful careful about his manners and kinda watchful so as not to scandalize his flock. The flock wasn't very big, and he wanted to keep 'em all coming to church, so he was mighty careful to keep from smoking or swearing or dancing or doing anything tough that way. But he did play a little golf, and he wasn't so very good at it. One day when he was playing with the biggest pillar in his congregation, he broke his club, swatting away the ground. He yelled out, "Roosevelt! Oh, Roosevelt, look what I done!" "Yeah," says the pillar. "I'll get you a new club. But what has Roosevelt got to do with it?"

"Oh, that's just a little word I use when I'm vexed."

"But what for? Ain't there any more expressive word than Roosevelt?"

"Well, maybe there is. But you see, I'm kinda restrict choice of words by my profession. And Roosevelt is the name of the biggest dam I ever seen."

WALLACE RABBE LIKES
SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE

"I wish my cooperative agreement with the Soil Conservation Service lasted longer than a five-year period," stated Wallace Rabbe, a Soil Conservation Service cooperater with the Gatesville Soil Conservation Service camp, "because I will need their cooperation and advice in order to keep controlling erosion on my farm."

Many cooperators of the Gatesville Soil Conservation Service camp regard their cooperative agreement with the Soil Conservation Service as has Mr. Rabbe, a resident of the Coryell City community. The problem of controlling erosion is a continuous fight, worthy of a very carefully planned and executed maintenance program on the original erosion control plan.

The technical Staff of the Gatesville camp, in cooperation with farmers of the camp area, are giving much consideration to some outstanding maintenance problems such as terrace, terrace outlet, terrace outlet channel or waterway, and strip crop maintenance.

Community demonstrations on several cooperative farms will be held in a number of communities at an early date, using the more practical ways of maintenance, so that farmers of the area can continue to secure erosion control on their farm lands.

FASHION HINTS

From the November Pictorial Review

PARIS has spoken, and if you are to follow her fall fashion decrees you must be gay this season as well as bland and charming. The fashion staff of Pictorial Review present in the November issue of the magazine the latest bulletins from French designers who have broken out in a sympathetic rash of boisterous plaids steadied by demure, small-girlish dinner gowns and full-swung, romantic evening dresses.

Dresses are full and flaring, with a definite trend toward an unusually tiny waist, supple bodice, and a smooth hip-line.

Important cables from fashion scouts are flying across the Atlantic, flashing: it's a dirndl and it's full... it's heavy with embroidery... it's full and it's bloused... juniors adopt jumpers... shoulders are up... tucking is in...

And whatever it is, it must be feminine.

Plaids for fall, reports the November Pictorial Review. Above, plain tweed skirt with full kick pleat fore and aft. With it is worn a highland plaid blouse, slightly full, pertly buttoned, definitely smart.

(At Right)

This dress is full of tricks, according to the Pictorial Review fashion editors. In the November issue it is changed into four different frocks,—from a short afternoon dress to a formal dinner gown.

(Below)

Fashions for Kiddies.

Little Jim wears a helmet, leggings and a coat and Jane wears coat, bonnet, and leggings—all made by their mamma as easy as anything from pattern directions in the November Pictorial Review.

The first belle (tummy out) wears a cunning dress with shirred bodice of silk, hand-made, from pattern directions in the November Pictorial Review, and her timid friend wears a puffed sleeved dimitiv.

BAYLOR UNIVERSITY OPENS BASKET BALL SEASON JANUARY 6

Waco, Texas., Nov. 29.—Basketball practice at Baylor is under full swing as Coach Ralph Wolf and his cage squad are looking forward to their first practice game of the season early in December.

This year's team is made up of four lettermen and a great freshman team of last year that went through the second round of the Denver A. A. U. meet. The Bears will open their conference play against TCU in Waco, January 6.

The complete conference schedule follows:

- Jan. 6; TCU at Waco
- Jan. 12; A. and M. at College Station.
- Jan. 18; Texas at Waco
- Jan. 24; TCU at Fort Worth
- Jan. 28; Rice at Houston
- Feb. 3; Arkansas at Fayetteville
- Feb. 4; Arkansas at Fayetteville
- Feb. 11; SMU at Waco
- Feb. 14; A. and M. at Waco
- Feb. 18; Texas at Austin
- Feb. 24; Rice at Waco
- Mar. 2; SMU at Dallas.

PLANS BEING LAID FOR FORT WORTH FAT STOCK SHOW MARCH 10 TO 19

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 2.—Showing substantial increase in prize money with the addition of a Draft Horse, Jack and Mule class, the 1939 premium lists of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, March 10 to 19, are being mailed this week to several thousand breeders, County Agents, Vocational Agriculture Teachers, and others interested in livestock breeding and development thruout the Southwest.

Premiums approximating $30,000.00 are divided between Hereford, Shorthorn, Aberdeen Angus herds, and Dairy, Swine, Champion Steers and Carlot Fat Steers, Boys' Livestock Show, Draft Horses, Jack, and Mules.

Livestock Judging Contests will again be a feature of the show. In recent years the General Livestock Judging Contest for Senior Agricultural College has attracted teams from the major agricultural colleges of the nation and has grown into a contest second only to that at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago annually. 4-H Club and Vocational Agriculture activities will again be a feature of the 1939 Exposition.

"We are expecting an outstanding livestock show this year," said Secretary-Manager of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. "The big herds of America attracted to the World's Fair at San Francisco in February will route themselves into the Winter livestock shows in Denver, Ogden, Tucson and into Fort Worth for our Show, March 10 to 19."

Canned Pecans

A pecan harvest in Texas of from 17 to 18 million pounds has been estimated by J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, and extension foods specialists have pointed out that the crop offers an opportunity to housewives to add to the family food supply.

It has long been a commercial practice to keep pecans either under vacuum or in cold storage to prevent the meats from becoming stale or rancid. Neither practice, of course can be use by the housewife.

County H-D agents have information for home canning of the pecan meats by use of pressure cookers, according to Miss Grace I. Neely, Extension Specialist in Food Preservation and the author of the bulletin, "Canning Fruits and Vegetables".

For those who desire to keep small quantities of nut meats for home use, and who have no pressure cooker available, Miss Neely recommends a water bath method recently announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry.

"Fill glass fruit jars with freshly cracked meats, put on the rubber rings and tops but do not tighten them down," she said in explaining the procedure. "Put the jars in an ordinary wash boiler provided with a wooden rack to keep them from contact with the bottom. Two inches of water in the boiler is enough."

Let the water come to a boil, and after it has boiled for 18 minutes with the lid on tight, remove the jars as rapidly as possible and tighten the tops. The jars of nuts may be kept at ordinary room temperature but should be stored in a dark place."

Home demonstration club members stored more than 400,000 pounds of nuts in 1937, the annual report of the Extension Service shows. With the large supply of pecans available from the present harvest, it is expected that this amount will be greatly increased.

"BULLET"
BILL
PATTERSON

Waco, Tex., Dec. 1—Billy Patterson, Baylor's great grid chunker has turned his last pass for the Bears. The Rice game last Saturday closed the door to Billy the Kid's college football career, and he brought it to a close with the greatest exhibition of backfield playing that he has demonstrated during the past two years.

The game came as a climax to as brilliant a career as ever enjoyed by a Southwest grid performer, for Bullet Bill has been the mainstay of the Baylor team the past two seasons. His punting, passing, running, team direction and defensive play have been largely responsible for the upward climb of the Green and Gold elevens.

Over that period of time, the Hillsboro youth whose real name is Joseph William, Jr., has tossed 321 passes, with 135 of them being completed. His overhead heaves alone have traveled nearly three and one half miles and have accounted for more than half of the Baylor scores. He has attempted more passes than any other player in the conference, and on several occasions, he has started chunking strikes within his own ten yard line. He is one Baptist who doesn't mind gambling.

Patterson's punting average is 39 yards per try, giving him second place in this respect in the loop figures, while his running efforts have netted him three yards on every attempt. In defensive play and blocking there is no equal in the circuit. During the past two years, he has played every minute in fifteen of the Bears' twenty games.

These are the things that made the sport writers name him the most valuable back in the conference last year. This season he seems headed for the same honor and some mention on the All-American elevens.

But behind these facts is another story of how Billy the Kid became one of the most talked about players in the Southwest. He was born in Hillsboro, August 28, 1918, and from Billy's early childhood, his father who was an outstanding end in his playing days, was afraid that the now-famous pigskin chunker was going to be a sissy.

When Billy was old enough to walk, he was given a football and he says he started out in earnest as soon as he was big enough to pick it up off the floor.

Later came the "Vacant Lot" games and ward school teams, and Billy says that he didn't enjoy them. He was too little and had to take too much of a beating. He didn't like the game at first and refused to play for awhile, but his dad talked him into playing.

Then came high school in Hillsboro and Billy went out of the team. It was the same old story, he was still playing with boys that were much bigger than he was and once more Patterson wanted to quit. Billy's father then started helping him learn how to take the bumps and falls and in his sophomore year he lettered without touching the ball. He was playing as a blocking back and the coach wouldn't let him pass or run with the ball.

Patterson took up passing in his junior year. The team had lost their passer the year before and Ed Price, one of the Hillsboro coaches who is now freshman coach at the University of Texas, told him to try his hand at chunking the ball. From that time on the young man has gone places by the overhead route. He was chosen on the all-district team his last two years in high school.

From his freshman year, Billy took a prominent place in the Baylor student body. His athletic accomplishments are well known, but behind them is a straight A scholastic ranking. This year he was elected vice-president of Alpha Chi, a national scholarship society whose members are selected from the top five percent of the membership of the junior and senior classes.

Following his graduation in June Patterson expects to take up the study of law. When asked about pro-football, Billy said, "One can look at my body and see that I was not made for such rough treatment. I might take a fling at pro-ball for a year if I could get real good money."

"I haven't really decided about that. I wouldn't want it for a career but I hear that law sometimes can make irregular eating when you first get started and a pro-season's salary would be a good stake."

Billy expects to come back to Baylor and complete his law study in about three years, he hopes to hang his shingle up—"Billy Patterson—Attorney at Law".

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

A BUNCH of fellows used to catch the same train to London every morning and always occupied the same compartment. One of them was a confirmed Optimist. Everything they had been telling him for years he always would say,

"Well, it might have been worse." All during the war when they would speak of the big casualties he would say, "Well, it could have been worse."

One morning one of the party said, "Have you heard of the terrible murder at No. 7 Chesham Road?" "No," said the Optimist, "what was it?"

"It appears that a travelling salesman who always come home Friday nights got away and come home Thursday night and found another man in his house making love to his wife and he took out his gun and shot the man and his wife and then blew his own brains out."

"Well, it might have been worse. It might have been worse."

"How could it have been worse than that? They were all killed, you silly fool."

"Well, you see, he might have come home on Wednesday, and shot me."

JOE WHITLEY PASSES AWAY THURSDAY

Joe Whitley was suddenly taken by death at the home of Earl McCandless at Hurst Springs late Thursday evening November 24, 1938. His sudden death was a shock to everyone as he had been able to do his work to the present, although he had a similar heart attack the night before. He, his wife and grand daughter were over for a visit on Thanksgiving and to get their daughter, Evelyn, who had been visiting near Lanes Chapel for a few weeks, and were getting ready to return to their home at White Hall when he was struck with pain and passed away before the doctor could reach him.

—The Waco Times-Herald

Joe Whitley was born September 9, 1877. At the time of death he was 61 years, 2 months, and 15 days old. He was married to Miss Blanch McCandless November 24, 1907. To this union were born four children, three daughters, Mrs. Jewel Dintiny of McGregor, Miss Evelyn Whitley of White Hall, Amy Mae, who died in infancy, and one son, Marvin Whitley of Waco.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. L. Derrick in the Hurst Methodist Church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, November 26. His body was laid to rest in the Post Oak Cemetery by the side of his infant baby who preceded him in death several years ago.

Besides his wife and three children, he leaves to mourn his going 2 grandchildren, Betty Sue Whitley, Waco, Wanda Lou Dintiny, of White Hall; three sisters, Mrs. Chas E. Dansby, Valley Mills, Mrs. Sam Golden, Plainview, Mr. Jack Schofield, Hurst Springs; two brothers, Homer Whitley, Quinlan, Sam Whitley, Arnett; his mother, Mrs. V. J. Whitley, Hurst Springs; also many nieces, nephews, other relatives and a host of friends.

It was a dark hour to all who knew him. There'll always be an empty chair amid our circle, no one could ever fill the emptiness that was taken from our hearts when this one, very dear to us, took his peaceful flight to Heaven. Although there were broken hearts and sorrows in our homes, there was great rejoicing among the angels because this faithful servant had come to his Heavenly reward. We know how we are going to miss him, but he is sitting at God's throne waiting, longing, and looking for our coming to be with him forever in a home where family circles are broken no more, and heartaches never shall again come our way.

THIS WEEK in OGLESBY

By FRANK SIMMONS

Supt. elect Dave Stockburger attended the state teachers convention in Dallas.

Jack Magee was home from Houston over the week end the guest of his father and sisters.

Rev. Carrol Chadwick attended the Baptist Convention at Wichita Falls. Bro. Chadwick reported a great meeting of the Baptists, at that place.

Walker Griffin was home from Baylor University, over the week end to visit his parents, the Geo. Griffins.

Dan Scarborough went to the big possum dinner at Frankston. Dan said he didn't like possum, but had a fine cool time while there.

Mrs. Dan Carter and little son, Tommy D., of Waco were guests of the Alex Bakers this week.

Mrs. M. V. Dalton, Mrs. E. P. Abel, Mrs. H. C. Adams, Mr. Alton Dalton and Mr. Porter Adams went to Temple to see Mrs. Hollis Dalton and her nine year old daughter who were severely burned in their home at Bartlett last Friday afternoon. At last reports they were recovering in a Temple sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wornick and daughter, Joyce, and son, Carrol, who is a student at A. and M. College, were visitors in he L. L. Wornicks home.

Our old neighbor, P. E. Jones is reported sick this week.

Adolphus England and Mr. Sparkman of Leon Junction, were transacting business in Oglesby.

Mrs. Douglas Dotson, of Douglas Arizona, who has for several weeks been a guest of her parents the Joe Neagles, left for her home the 25th.

Mr. Yarbrough and wife of Waco were guests in the Rev. White Alexander home.

Commissioner Harry Johnson has been very busy pushing to completion, the surfacing of the Davis Ranch road. This is important work as it has formerly a black mud road, and almost impassable in rainy seasons. It is also a part of the Station Creek bus route for the Oglesby School. With this section of road completed this bus route will be an all-weather road, rendering safer delivery of scholastics to and from school.

Fredric Green was home from A. and M. College over the week end.

Pine Brooks, an old timer of this section, but late years of McLennan County, was here from near Waco, seeing old friends. Pines came by and entered his far across the river as a part of the proposed Wild Life Preserve. He also entered other lands in that vicinity.

This week has seen some fine choir practice at the Baptist Church. Good singing is one of the finest refining influences, and also one of the finest methods for higher spiritual development. Let this good work continue.

Earl Huddleston was a social and business visitors to Meridian, Bosque County's captial.

T. R. Bannister, and Eugene Simmons are out checking the wheat plantings for the 1939 crop as it applies to the AAA. From our position it appears that dry weather has just about checked the 1939 wheat acreage.

During this dry cold weather, The Hot Stove Club has held daily sessions, but the members somehow cannot get warmed up. No great and momentous questions have been brought before the club. It may be that the membership are waiting for W. Lee O'Daniels to start the big show in Austin.

Wild Life Preserve

On next Wednesday night, December 7, 1938 there will be a meeting in the Oglesby Gym to discuss ways and means to form a cooperative association for the protection of wild life in this section. Within a radius of eight miles of Oglesby approximately 18,000 acres of land have been entered by the owners.

On that date we expect to have Mr. Guy Powell here to discuss and direct us in this move to protect wild life. We are adding acreage every day. It costs no money, only your cooperation.

MENU'S

For ME 'N YOU

If you are fortunate enough to partake of a dinner that reaches its high point with the serving of a turkey—crackling brown and savory, accompanied by appropriate vegetables and relishes and ending in a traditional dessert you have reason enough to be thankful. This feast, truly American in origin and style, has no rival. Make it the grand success it can be by using the recipes of old time quality such as accompany the suggested menu given here.

Orange Cocktail

1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup sugar
Few grains salt
1 cup carbonated water.
Combine and pour over cracked ice in cocktail glasses. Garnish with fresh mint or maraschino cherries.

Cream of Mushroom Soup

Boil stems from 1/2 pound of mushrooms for 20 minutes in about 2 1/2 cups water. Use 1 1/2 cups of this waer for the cream soup, discarding the stems, Cut mushroom caps in thin slices and saute in butter for 5 minutes. Add to cream soup, using any good basic recipe.

Roast Turkey

Singe the bird, removing pinfeathers. Remove the lungs and scrub the bird inside and out in warm water to which 2 teaspoons of baking soda has been added. Dry thoroughly. Salt the fowl inside, then stuff, filling body and neck cavity generously. Tie the feet close to the body and turn the tips of the wings back under the body so that they will not dry out in roasting. Roast 25 minutes to the pound, basting frequently with butter and water mixture to prevent drying and cracking of skin. If the bird browns too quickly place a piece of oiled paper over the breast.

Old-Fashioned Turkey Stuffing

Take the soft part of 2 loaves of bread (not too fresh) and crumble well. Season with salt, pepper and poultry seasoning. Mix in about 1/2 cup of melted butter or finely chopped salt pork. Moisten slightly with cold water, mix well.

Sweet Potato Souffle

2 cups masher sweet potato
3/4 cup hot milk
6 tbsp. butter or margine
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
3/4 tsp salt
Few grains pepper
3 egg whites.
To masher swee potatoes gradually beat in hot milk to which butter has been added. Add grated lemon rind, salt and pepper and beat well. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into potato mixture. Pile into greased baking dish, bake in a hot oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until potato puffs slightly and is well browned on top.

Spinach Timbales

2 cups milk
1 1/2 cups fine bread crumbs
4 tbsp. butter
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
4 eggs
2 cups spinach pulp
1 tsp. grated onion
1 tbsp. vinegar
Scald milk, add bread crumbs, butter, salt and pepper. Blend. Add eggs, slightly beaten. Combine with well-drained chopped spinach to which onion and vinegar have been added. Fill greased or oiled timbale molds with this mixture and place molds in hot water. Bake in moderate oven for 40 to 45 minutes until the knife comes out clean when inserted in the center. Unmold and serve with hot asparagus tips and well-seasoned cheese sauce.

Jelied Cranberry Salad

1 qt. cranberries
2 cups water
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar.
2 1/2 tbsp granulated gelatin
1/2 cup cold water.
1 cup chopped celery
2 tbsp. lemon juice

1 cup walnut kernels
Mayonnaise
Cook cranberries in 2 cups water until they start to pop, strain. Add sugar and the gelatin, which has been sprinkled on the cold water. Still till gelatin is dissolved. Chill until it begins to set and add celery, lemon juice and walnut kernels. Pour into individual molds and chill until set. Unmold on lettuce and serve with mayonnaise.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD THURSDAY FOR D. W. FREELAND

Funeral services for D. W. Freeland, 84, were held Thursday afternoon, November 24 in the Unity Presbyterian Church, Turnersville. Interment was in the Turnersville Cemetery. Rev. Ed. Bayless, pastor, officiated.

David Willis Freeland was born in Lowndersville, South Carolina on September 21, 1856, moving with his parents to Strawberry Plains, Tennessee shortly afterward. Coming to Texas in 1876, Mr. Freeland walked from Waco to Young's Ranch near White Hall, where he secured employment. On December 4, 1878, he married Elizabeth Cawfield Young, and the following year they moved to Turnersville, where they lived until 1925, moving in that year to Brownwood.

Joining the Unity Presbyterian church July 1, 1878, Mr. Freeland was a member there until he moved his membership to the Brownwood church in 1925. He was a deacon in the former church for many years, but characteristically humble, he refused to accept the office of Elder. He was a member of the building committee which supervised the erection of the present church building at Turnersville, which was completed in 1906.

Mr. Freeland was the father of ten children, eight of whom survive him. They are: Dr. C. F. Freeland, Glendora, Mississippi; E. Y. Freeland, Sherman; Mrs. Clara Morgan, Turnersville; Rev. J. H. Freeland, Houston; Mrs. Frank Kelso, Gatesville; Mrs. Jennie Steward and Mrs. Tho Blair, Brownwood; and Mrs. Bessie Clary Turnersville. There are twenty-six living grandchildren.

SERVICES AT UNITY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH AT TURNERSVILLE

There will be regular worship morning and evening at the Unity Presbyterian church, Turnersville. The pastor will preach.
 Sunday School begins at 10:00 o'clock. Morning worship is at 11:00 o'clock; evening worship at seven o'clock.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

S. L. Culwell, Pastor
 Very splendid congregations have greeted us each service the past two Sundays. Rev. J. N. Rentfro the new Presiding Elder of the Waco District preached a splendid sermon last Sunday morning.

The Superintendent of the Children's Division asks that the following announcement be made. A meeting will be held Monday afternoon December 5th., in the basement of the church, of all teachers and mothers of children under 12 years of age. There will be a short program and the pastor will speak on "A Christian Christmas for the Children". A social hour will follow the program. All mothers and teachers of the children's Division are urged to be present.

Next Sunday is Communion Sunday and the pastor very much desires a full attendance of the membership in order that the congregation may join with the pastor in carrying out our beautiful Communion service. The pastor will speak briefly in the introduction of the service on "What seek ye?"

At the evening hour a subject of special interest will be discussed by the pastor. He will use as his subject "Giving God A Chance". The services will begin promptly at 7 o'clock. The young people will meet at 6 o'clock for their evening program.

Worship brings to us a new and finer vision of life and christian duty. When we worship we are better able to choose the vital and worth while thing and make them first in our plans of every day living.

 The public is cordially invited to all our services.

J. P. KID TO PREACH AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. J. P. Kid, Superintendent of Home Missions in Central Texas Presbytery, will preach Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian Church. The subject of his sermon is "The Convicted Position"

Mr. Kidd has held several evangelistic meetings in the county and has been in the Gatesville church on numerous occasions. His coming carries out the church's plan to present one visiting minister each month.

The pastor will preach at the vesper hour, using the subject of his sermon, "Keeping Fit" or "The Christian in Training."

On Wednesday night the pastor will continue a study of Old Testament passages dealing with the coming of the Christ. As a pre-Christmas study, this series offers four lessons from Isaiah setting forth a progressive preparation for the coming of the Lord Jesus, together will parallel New Testament references.

Program for the week is as follows:

Sunday School, 9:45. Mr. Frank Kelso, superintendent.

Morning worship, 11:00. Sermon by Rev. J. P. Kidd.

Vesper worship, 5:00. Sermon by the pastor.

Bible study, Wednesday at 7:00 o'clock.

Colleges in several states had 15-805 CCC youths enrolled in correspondence courses last year.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
Joan Butterfield, department store heiress, bored with the life of monotonous luxury which her multimillionaire grandfather, Cyrus Butterfield, heaps upon her, runs away and finds herself adrift and penniless in New York. She meets slangy, good-natured Peggy O'Brien who gives her shelter in her one-room flat and gets her a job working beside her in, of all places, Butterfield's Department Store! Joan, working there incognito as Joan Baker, is discovered by Bill Spencer, star reporter. Bill has it in for runaway heiresses and for Joan Butterfield in particular, and sets out to sensationalize the story. Offering Joan and Peggy a ride home in a cab, he is picked up by a policeman as a masher.

Chapter Four

Joan, seeing Bill about to be arrested, suddenly found herself inexplicably concerned with the welfare of this man whom she had thought she despised. She decided that she must help him...after all, you couldn't let a man go to jail, even if you didn't like him...well, anyway, you didn't use to like him. Rushing over to the taxi, she gave Bill her sweetest smile for the benefit of the cop, and cooed: "Why, dear! I didn't recognize you! I wondered what kept you!" And she climbed into the cab, bundling Peggy in with her, while the gallant officer retired in confusion.

They won a prize for fancy skating.

In gratitude for their timely assist, Bill invited both girls out to dinner. But Peggy had to decline, for this was the night she was to see her gentleman friend, Mr. Pennypacker. Peggy's romance with Mr. Pennypacker (full name Pennypacker E. Pennypacker) was what is commonly known as something. A subway motorman on the night shift, he was fortunate enough to see his light-o'-love twice every day, passing her on the stairs of the apartment house in which they were neighbors each morning when she was going out to work and he was coming home, and each evening when she was coming home from work and he was going out. Penny was studying chiropractic in his spare time, and thus his days were pretty full.

But one night each week (and this was the night) Peggy visited with her fiance while he was at his work, riding in the motorman's cab with him and talking over their plans for the great day when she would be Mrs. Dr. Pennypacker E. Pennypacker, until the small hours of the morning.

Joan, however, had no other place to go, and she suddenly found herself filled with glowing excitement at the prospect of spending an evening in the company of Bill Spencer. So much so, in fact, that when he calmly announced that he had little to spend on their dinner, she hastily suggested a hamburger.

"What?" he demanded. "Fifteen cents for a piece of bread and a piece of meat that you don't know anything about?"

ed the preaching and singing, Mr. Franklin and grandson and wife attended the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Garret Dutchman visited relatives in South Texas recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Palmer visited Mr. and Mrs. Watt Palmer near McGregor.

Misses Violet and Gladys Wolf visited Miss Clara Dixon Thursday afternoon.

It is still a mystery how iron armor of the Middle Ages filtered from the Mediterranean shores into the heart of the Cameroons across 2,000 miles of desert and jungle.

"That is silly, isn't it?" she agreed.
Taking her by the arm, he led her to a corn-on-the-cob vendor's little stove on wheels, and there sumptuously treated her — not to a measly two-cent or three-cent ear — but to a great five-cent one!
Dinner over, they decided to try their luck at an ice-skating rink — an eminently sensible decision, since neither of them knew much about ice skating. But after several hours of practice, during which they managed to win a prize of a goldfish for unintentional fancy skating, they emerged tired and breathless, but strangely happy and slightly surprised to find that the world could contain so much fun.

Taking the subway home, they had the good fortune to find themselves on Pennypacker's train, and took Peggy home with them. The project of making coffee got under way, and while Peggy attended to the culinary department, Bill and Joan went up to the roof to collect clean napkins from the washline. Joan, half humorously (but only half) began waxing tentatively romantic.

"Look at that moon peeking from behind that cloud...isn't it lovely?"

"Oh, it's all right if you like moons."

She started to laugh. "What's so funny?" he demanded.

"I was just trying to visualize you as somebody's husband."

"Hold on! Don't tell me you're proposing!"

"Don't be afraid. I was just trying to figure out the kind of a woman who would be most suitable to you."
"When I let a woman get mixed up in my life," he replied grandly, "it's going to be to make a home and nothing else. I want my slippers beside my chair and plenty of first class groceries on the table. I expect to work like the devil for her, and I expect her to do the same for me...But what's the use? They don't make women like that any more."

A flash of lightning suddenly split the sky, followed by shattering claps of thunder. With a little scream, she rushed to him and hid her face on his shoulder.
"Scared?" he laughed.

"I've been afraid of lightning ever since I was a little girl... But I'm not scared now."

The following day Mr. Butterfield, having made a record trip on a record liner while enjoying record blood pressure, arrived in New York and at once took personal charge of the frantic hunt for his missing granddaughter. Private detectives were hired, help from the police was besought, alarms were sent out and excursions went forth...but no one appeared to have seen Joan Butterfield.

No one, that is, except Bill Spencer, who went to his office, wrote a scathing story about the sensation-seeking run-away heiress — and then, on reading it over, stuck it in his pocket, deciding that perhaps it was just a little bit harsh and that he'd better not let the paper run it yet until he had garnered more details.
