ROYCE FAUBION FOUND DEAD IN CALIF. DEC. 2ND

FBI IDENTIFIES FAUBION AS MAN WHO BROKE JAIL HERE OCTOBER 10.

The body of Royce Faubion, alias Robert Jones, was found in the railroad yards of Mojave, California, and was identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as the man who chisled his way out of Coryell county jail on October 10, according to Sheriff J. H. Brown.

Sheriff Brown just yesterday received positive identification of the man from the FBI, who took his finger prints in Mojave, and they matched with those which had been taken here.

Faubion was killed by a train in the yards at Mojave. He made his escape from the jail here by chisling under the bars over a window at the jail, and using sheets and blankets, slipped out under the bars.

In order to get to the window, he managed to break some welded slabs of iron out of the cage inside the jail.

Faubion had previously been sent up on two charges of cattle theft, according to Mr. White, and was held in the jail here charged with stealing mohair and transporting it to Brownwood for resale. He was caught there by former Sheriff Joe White and the man who owned the mohair, and returned to jail here, being held without bond.

Both Sheriff Brown and former Sheriff White have been working on this case since his escape in October.

THREE CONTESTANTS WERE HANDED IN AT NOON YESTERDAY

We're writing this story like a high school or college theme—the climax is at the last. This is the reverse of the usual news story!

Noon yesterday the Third Annual News-Merchant's Stork Derby closed, and the winner is,—(look at the bottom of this story)!

With the 1938 No. 1 Coryell Cd. Baby being Glenn Gary Graff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Graff, who formerly lived at Coryell City.

Coryell County's No. 1 1938 Baby was another boy, Harvey Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richardson, who lived near Straw's Mill. (Note:—If the parents of these two winners will go to Mayes Studio & Radio Shop, Mr. Mayes will make pictures of your winner, at our expense, keeping one picture for the Coryell County News.)

Now, here what Mr. and Mrs. ——— and their No. 1 1939 Stork Derby Winner ——— get, compliments of the Coryell County News, and more especially, the following merchants who have cooperated to the full extent in this contest.

Here they are, and their offerings: Duncan Coffee Company, J. I. Yates, Local Distributor, has a 3 lb. jar of Admiration Coffee; W. M. Gamblin Dairy has 8 pints of milk, or, in this particular case, the equivalent in money, since the winner lives out of the city limits; Murray Grocery and Market has $1.00 worth of groceries; Leaird's Department Store has a pair of Baby Shoes.

Gatesville Laundry, Crawford Scott, manager, will wash 4-doz. diapers free; City Drug Store, J. O. Brown, owner-manager, has 6 cans of Heinz Baby Food; Martin's Cleaners, Jim Martin, manager will clean and press, suit, dress or overcoat; Regal and Ritz Theatres, L. B. Brown, manager, gives 8 passes to his shows, good anytime; Gatesville Drug Store, Jno. P. Reesing, mgr., a J & J Baby Gift set; Mayes Studio & Radio Shop, E. T. Mayes Sr. manager, 6 post card size pictures of the winner; Koen-Foster Drug Store, R. D. Foster, manager, a baby hot water bottle; Thomson Grocery Company, has 12 cans of Libby's Baby Food, according to E. L. Cummings; Mrs. J. B. Graves, Florist, has a bouquet for the baby; and the Coryell County News has a 2 year subscription to the Coryell County News.

The winnah, Ladies and Gentlemen is none other than—

VERNON H. WELLS, 8¼ lbs. son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wells, of Flat, born January 1, 1939 at 2 p. m.

Mr. Wells is a farmer of that community, and his wife was formerly Miss Ona Bell Moss; this is their second child, and their ages are 28 and 24 respectively. Dr. W. A. Southerland, of Flat sends in the information, and is the "proof" in this case.

"Also rans" are Robert Harris Clemons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winford Lee Clemons, who was born January 4, 1939 at 3:50 a. m. according to Dr. T. M. Hall.

The third entry was an unnamed young lady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams of Gatesville, who was born at 6:49 p. m. on January 8, this year.

This is the third year in succession that "boys" have won the Stork Derby Contest, and it seems the old chivalry of the old South does not figure in these contests.

To the parents of the Winner, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wells of Flat, if they will come to the Coryell County News office, we'll give them their "credentials" which will show the above merchants they are entitled to the gifts offered.

Long Live the 1939 Winner!

WTCC CALLS MEETING IN WACO TO TALK FREIGHT RATES

In an open letter from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce received yesterday attention is called to a meeting to be held in Waco Monday night for a discussion of alleged freight rate discrimination, with D. A. Bandeen and H. S. Hilburn, the former president and the latter Abilene manager, being the principal speakers.

Representatives will be present from district 10 which includes Erath, Coleman, Brown, Comanche, Hamilton, Bosque, Mills, McCulloch, San Saba, Lampasas, Coryell, Mason, Llano, Burnett, Gillespie, Blanco, and McLennan counties.

Freight rate reports recently issued by the WTCC indicate West Texas pays 72 to 85 percent higher freight rates than eastern zones of the United States, and a plan for organization of the Freight Rate Equality Federation, which has as its principal purpose the abolition of unequal freight rate zones.

Remedy recommended is the complete overhauling of the entire freight rate zone policies and practices and a legislation mandate to the Interstate Commerce in rates as between zones.

RAIN DURING THE LAST SESSION WAS ONE, TWO, THREE

Rain during the last rainy spell, according to reports from the official weather and rain gauge, amounted to 1.23 inches.

In many parts of the state. Dallas had a terrific wind which did no little damage and took the life of two people.

In the neighborhood of Cisco another twister was reported and extensive damage was done in that section.

Coryell County and Gatesville, as we have well reminded before, have been very lucky when it comes to too much of everything, especially storms and heavy rains.

ENTRY BLANKS ASKED FOR BY CLIFTON IN LOCAL DISTRICT GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNAMENT HERE

In the District Golden Gloves Tournament to be held in Gatesville February 3 and 4, Clifton drew the first interest, and entry blanks have been sent Louis C. Barton, Adjutant of the Clifton American Legion in answer to his request, which has just been received.

Mr. Barton says: "We understand that a Golden Gloves Boxing Turney is to be held at Gatesville, Texas, February 3 and 4.

"Several of our local amateur boxers wish to enter. Will you kindly send me six entry blanks. Thanks, (Signed) Louis C. Barton, Adjt., American Legion."

Sunday's issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram gave the districts in the Golden Gloves Tournament over the state as follows:

Pampa, Amarillo, Childress, Big Spring, Lubbock, Abilene, Brownwood, San Antonio, Austin, Houston, Galveston, Tyler, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, and Gatesville.

New districts this year include Gatesville, San Antonio, and Childress.

Boys in other Golden Gloves Districts are already at work in preparation for their district meets, and Gatesville's district is not being slighted. Boys at the CCC camp are working, we are told, and also in the Ewing community, the latest news being that in Clifton boys are oiling up their muscles, both leg and arm styles.

Entries in the District Tournament, as well as in the State Finals are limited to boys 16 and over, and these may be sent to Golden Gloves, care of Coryell

County News, Gatesville, Texas.

In handling the Golden Gloves Tournament here, the News Amateur Athletic Association has been organized, subject to approval from the Southwestern Association, A. A. ADDED TEXAS CASH FOR ELEEMOSYNARY USES IS REQUESTED

In the face of Gov-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel's demands for reduced governmental spending, the state board of control recommended today that the biennial budget for eleemosynary institutions be boosted $209,233 or 1.4 per cent, Austin dispatches said.

The board emphasized this was the minimum rather than the desirable amount and retiring Governor James V. Allred called the figure too small. The board would have urged a larger increase but for the condition of the state's general fund, now $19,000,000 in the red.

Waco State home participates in the increase, with $152,274 scheduled on the 1940 budget and $203,849 assigned on the 1941 slate. Officials of the local institution could not be reached for comment Friday night.

Gatesville reformatory has a $60,000 colored boys dormitory in the list of recommendations, and the budget for 1940 and 1941, respectively is $274,227 and $216,667. The state orphans home at Corsicana has $224,886 and $238,750 for its coming two years' work in the budget.

Allred said it appeared completion of this year's building program would permit removal of all insane from jails by June, but that some hospitals still would be overcrowded. "The board's recommendations for the next biennium probably should have been somewhat larger to overcome this condition to a good extent," he said.

The eleemosynary budget recommended to the legislature for 1939-41 aggregated $15,195,681, compared with the appropriation of $14,986,443 for the current biennium.

The board suggested some salary increases, a few new jobs and additional housing facilities to care for 684 more insane persons, 452 feebleminded, 190 epileptics, 35 orphans and 100 delinquent negro boys.

Additional housing will be needed for dependent children, the board said, unless the legislature appropriates the authorized $1,500,000 annually for their aid.

ARDELL WILLIAMS IS MADE ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL

Ardell Williams has been made Assistant Attorney General by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, the announcement having been released by Mr. Mann last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Williams left last week for Austin.

Ardell Williams is well qualified for his new position and will undoubtedly prove a valuable asset to the state office. He is a native of Hamilton county, and after finishing his high school course here he attended John Tarleton College, the University of Texas, and secured his law degree at Lebanon, Tenn. Upon passing his bar examination, he began the practice of law in his home town and later served the county for four years as county attorney, resigning that position to accept the present office.—Hamilton County News.

EUGENE TATE MADE COUNTY ATTORNEY

Eugene Tate, who was appointed by the old Commissioner's Court to serve the unexpired term of Ardell Williams as county attorney, has been named for the office for a full term.

Mr. Tate is a studious lawyer, competent and his past experience as an assistant attorney general makes him unusually qualified for the place he now holds.—Hamilton County News.

HORNETS LOSE FIRST HOME GAME THIS SEASON

In Friday night's battles the Hornets were defeated 28-22 by the Cardinals of Ireland. The Hornet dribblers missed many important shots and seemed to do everything to discourage victory. Had all of the free shots of the Worley men tallied, the Hornets would have won by a large score.

The Cardinals cagers were an exhibition of well trained men. Russel, captain and center for the Cards, led the scoring with eight points and Lemmer followed with 7.

McDonald did not participate in Friday's game, so Moore, center for the Hornets led Hornet scoring with 8 points. Koche, forward, accounted for 5 points. Turner's game was not up to his standard, but Post played his best defensive game of this season.

The Hornets will return this visit tonite when they battle the Cardinals at Ireland.

IRELAND TOURNAMENT FRIDAY

Friday marks the start of the Invitation Tournament at Ireland. The Cardinals of Ireland possess the qualities og being the leading team of the county.

Under these circumstances, they have invited a number of outstanding teams to battle in this tourney. Interest closed today and brackets also will be mailed today. Although this is not the official list of entries, the basket ball fans of Coryell County can expect to see the following teams compete in this race: Ireland, Turnersville, Valley Mills, Flat, Jonesboro and Tokia, McLennan County Champions of 1938.

This tournament should be a thriller, with a program such as this one.

FEMALE HORNETS STAGE BRILLIANT GAME

Last Friday nite in the local gymnasium the Hornette cagers completely out classed Dickerson's girls from Ireland 38-6. Patterson started the rally when she tossed a goal early in the first quarter. From that point on the Hornettes kept up the scoring. The ball tossing girls from Ireland held the ball in their possession only a few moments in the remainder of this pushover.

Patterson held the spotlight in the first half while Weaver took credit for the second period. Weaver and Patterson were not alone in their graceful performances; they did, however, score 16 and 14 points respectively.

Captain Henson and James, forwards, did splendid work, while the efforts of Davis and Shoaf cannot go unmentioned. Coach Schwartz does, without doubt, have an exceptionally good team of girls this season. These girls will play Ireland tonight at Ireland and will repeat this victory again.

JOE NED BROWN IS OUT FOR RIFLE TEAM AT JTAC

Arnett is being used in a forward position where his uncanny one-handed shots make him a serious threat to the opposition.

OLD FASHIONED SQUARE DANCE TO BE AT FAT STOCK SHOW

Invitations have been mailed to square dancers thruout Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona to compete in a 10-day square dance contest at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, March 10 to 19.

Under the plan contemplated, three sets will compete for day honors and prize money each evening. Sets with the highest points will be called back by the judges for the finals on the last day of the Stock Show.

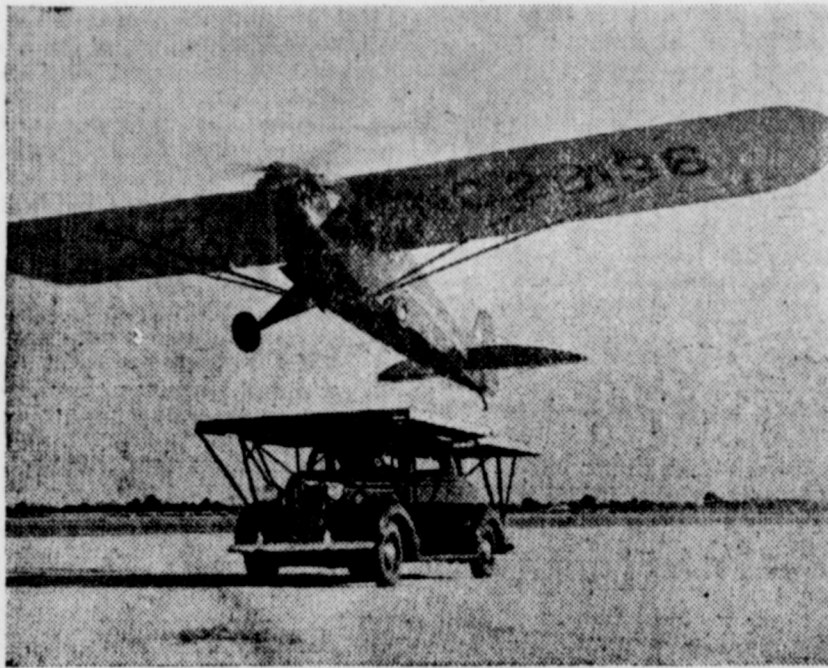

Manager John B. Davis of the Stock Show announced that John Winters of Mineral Wells will be chairman of the square dance contest. Winters is known among square dance clubs in the Southwest. He is president of the Mineral Wells Junior Chamber of Commerce and conducted the square dance competition last year during the annual health festival in Mineral Wells.

"I want square dancers in the Southwest," Winters said, "to know that they may come to the Stock Show contest with assurance that the judging will be based on old time performance such as our fathers and mothers danced."

Early entries will make it possible for the management to set a contest date convenient for the individual dance sets, Winters announced.

Entries have been received from El Paso, Van Horn, Hot Springs, N. M., Mineral Wells, Toyah, Pecos and Throckmorton. Entries should be addressed to the Fat Stock Show, Coliseum Building in Fort Worth.

MAN DROPS DEAD WHILE FIGHTING PASTURE GRASS FIRE

Wilmer Ray, age 38, dropped dead from a heart failure while fighting fire in his pasture near his home between Aleman and Ireland Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Mr. Ray left the house with his 3-year-old son for a walk about his farm, and it is supposed that when he noticed some grass along the fence row, that he struck a match and lighted it. Apparently the fire reached his pasture land and he attempted to extinguish it, and becoming ill ran from the fire and fell on his face. His small son went to the house and reported to Mrs. Ray, who arose from a sick bed to notify relatives a half mile away.—Hamilton County News.

Speaking of Clover

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

We remarked once before that there's good luck in a four-leaf clover or any other sort if there's enough of it. The Southwest has been dilatory in adopting clover but is stepping into its use at a rapid rate in recent years. The increased production of livestock and poultry on farm demands more legumes for grazing and hay, as well as for soil improvement, and there is scarcely a section for which there is not one or more sorts of clover available.

While it is generally preferable to sow the clovers early in fall, some of them are equally or better adapted to spring sowing. Since all clovers and small seeded grasses require a well-settled, firm, seedbed, for good germination, the preparation for spring sowing must begin several weeks before seeding time.

Sweet clover is one of the most widely adapted in the Southwest, and the best time for seeding either alone or in winter grain, ranges from the middle of February to the middle of March. If it or alfalfa has not been grown on the field before the seed should be inoculated. Standard inoculants may be bought in all good seed stores, and directions should be carefully followed. A successful practice is to drill the sweet clover seed cross-wise of newly drilled-in spring oats or barley; or it may be drilled in lightly on fall-sown oats or barley. In either case the grain serves as a nurse crop, and the clover makes its growth after the grain harvest.

Biennial sweet clover should not be sown on land where cotton dies with root rot, as the stand will be depleted before the clover makes seed. Hubam (annual white sweet clover) seeds the first year and is being used successfully in the Texas blacklands where cotton root rot occurs.

Lepedeza is another legume with a wide adaptation throughout the more humid portions of the Southwest, especially on sandy soils, and is also sown in the spring. It supplies good summer pasture and with fertile soil and good rainfall grows high enough to cut for hay.

New strains, Tennessee 76, Korean, and Kobe lepedeza, introduced in recent years with remarkable success in some sections have not been widely enough tried in the Southwest to determine their value and special adaptability, but where they succeed they make heavier yields than the common lepedeza. Kobe is doing well in deep East Texas and Arkansas, however.

Alfalfa is of course the king of all legume forage plants, and while it is usually better to sow it in the fall in this region, it can be sown like sweet clover on ground that is not foul with early-growing weeds. In its seedling stage alfalfa cannot compete with grass or weeds, but if it gets a good start, the competing growth can be held down by mowing.

Looking ahead to next fall it is not too early to plan a field so that the summer crop will be out of the way and the ground in condition for sowing alfalfa or some other clover in September or October.

"In clover" is a common phrase for good living in either man or beast. Let's "cloverize" for the livestock as a means of putting their owners also "in clover".

Next May 18 has been designated as "Peace Day" for the promotion of international good will at the 1939 Calif. World's Fair.

Hele Hull Jacobs will be one of many famous speakers under auspices of the California Writer's Club during the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition.

"THE ARKANSAS TRAVELER"

By GEORGE CROSSITT
Novelized From the Paramount Picture Starring
BOB BURNS
FAY BANTER JOHN BEAL IRVIN S. COBB JEAN PARKER

SYNOPSIS

The Arkansas Traveler, a hobo printer, takes a job on the Record, a small town newspaper owned by the Widow Allen. He immediately takes an interest in the town's affairs. First he brings Johnnie Daniels, Judy's lover and son of the town's Mayor, back to Judy. Johnnie had fought with his father over the latter's association with Matt Collins, a political boss. The latter endeavors to get control of the Record before the election. Mrs. Allen refuses to sell and Collins forces the merchants of the town to cancel their ads for the anniversary issue. The Record comes out anyway with a startling blast against Collins. Things look hopeless for the Record. Johnnie suddenly finds out that the Record has a franchise for a radio station from the Government. The Traveler makes an appointment to see Matt Collins in the latter's home.

CHAPTER IX

IN the telegraph operator's office at the railroad station, the Traveler and the operator sat over a checker board as the telegraph key clicked and spluttered.

"No. 9 picked up forty two here," the message read. The Traveler switched over to "send" and deftly tapped out another message. "Tell hobo Traveler needs help. Come tonight on No. 9." He switched back to "receive."

"Twenty seven left here on No. 9," came the answering message. "Those friends of yours sure give you prompt service," the operator commented. "How many calls have you sent out?"

"About a dozen, I reckon. Ops. So far I can figure about a hundred and fifty men on their way into town."

"What's the big idea?" "Wait and see—or wait and listen," the Traveler grinned. "Thanks for lendin' me your wire. Now I got to get down and meet No. 9 when she hits the bottom of the grade."

Johnnie was with him when "the Traveler's special" came to a halt. The Traveler waved a greeting to his friend, the brakeman. "Thanks, Freddie—sorry to have loaded you up but I needed these fellows."

From every part of the freight train—brake-rods, gondolas and freight cars, men of all sizes and ages swung to the ground and greeted the Traveler. From the vantage point of a pile of railroad ties, the Traveler addressed them:

"Boys, I got a big job for all of you—a big job with plenty of hard work, maybe some trouble and very little pay. But you'll be helpin' two of the finest women in the world and you'll be makin' it tough for a couple o' rats. Are you with me?"

A shout of assent went up from the strangely assorted crew of hobos. With Johnnie's aid he quickly organized the men into groups. Some were assigned to convoy the invaluable equipment to Abernathy's farm. Fearing possible trouble, the Traveler assigned a guard armed with pick-handles to accompany Johnnie on this most important expedition.

The bulk of the men, however, he marched directly to Abernathy's place. When Johnnie joined him with the equipment the men swung into action under Johnnie's and the Traveler's joint direction.

The townspeople, suddenly getting the spirit of the thing, aided in every possible way. Under Martha Allen's leadership, the women made sandwiches and coffee and served the laboring hoboes. Once these same people had built co-operative homes, churches and schools. Now they were helping build the town's first radio station.

Inevitably Mayor Homer Daniels learned of this frantic activity. With MacSweeney and Dean, he dashed to Matt Collins' home.

"Matt, thunder's broken loose," the Mayor panted as Titus admitted the group. "They're building a radio station and half of the town is helping them."

"They say they'll have it operating before the polls open in the morning," Dean interjected.

"I heard that Traveler fellow tell the people to listen in at the crack of dawn if they wanted to know what to vote for," MacSweeney elaborated.

"And your Johnnie is bossing the job," Dean told the Mayor.

In the telegraph operator's office at the railroad station, the Traveler and the operator sat over a checkerboard as the telegraph key clicked and spluttered.

"Well, boys, it looks like I counted the chicks before they were hatched," Collins admitted. "But we can stop 'em. They have to have electricity and I can fix that." He dialed the local power house.

"But they've got their own generator," MacSweeney cut in. "Pounding away with lights all over the place."

"Their own generator!" Matt was plainly astounded. Suddenly he realized where that generator came from—and probably all of the other equipment. "So I went into the cotton gin business," he mused to himself. Then he turned to the group. "Homer," he said to the Mayor, "you come with me. The rest of you can go home."

"Homer, we've got to stop that Traveler fellow somehow," Matt said as they drove to the Abernathy farm. They found the Traveler supervising the installation of the generator in Abernathy's cow shed.

"Hello? Mr. Collins. I suppose you want to talk to me," the Traveler greeted the newcomers. "I got a place over here I call my office," he went on as he led them to a furniture dray crudely furnished with an old couch, a stool and a couple of boxes.

"You obtained that generator and equipment from me under false pretenses," Collins said angrily. "You haven't a bill of sale. If you don't call off the building of this radio station I'll get a court order and recover all of my equipment."

"Well, it's past midnight now—which makes it election day. That's a legal holiday," the Traveler pointed out.

"I'll have the Constable arrest all of these men," the Mayor blustered. "I'll telephone the Governor. I'll get him to call out the militia. You can't run in a filthy lot of tramps on this town."

"Now look, Traveler," Matt said quietly. "What's the use of beating around the bush. I'll make a deal with you. Call off your men and stop work until after the election and I'll see that you get all the men and equipment necessary to do the job right in time to protect the Record's franchise."

"Well, I don't know you well enough to make a verbal agreement," the Traveler declared. "I'll have to consult Mizz Allen. She's the one that's got to make the decision."

"But I'll personally guarantee the deal in my official capacity as Mayor of this city," Daniels pompously stated.

"Supposin' Mizz Allen turns down the deal. What'll you do then?" the Traveler edged toward the back of the truck as he spoke.

"Anything and everything necessary to keep you from going ahead," Matt answered.

"I'll be back in a moment. Make yourselves at home, gentlemen. You'll find sandwiches and milk and things in that box."

As the Traveler swung to the ground he signalled two huge hoboes. Quickly they swung up the open tail-board of the dray and chained it in place. Too late Collins and the Mayor realized they were trapped.

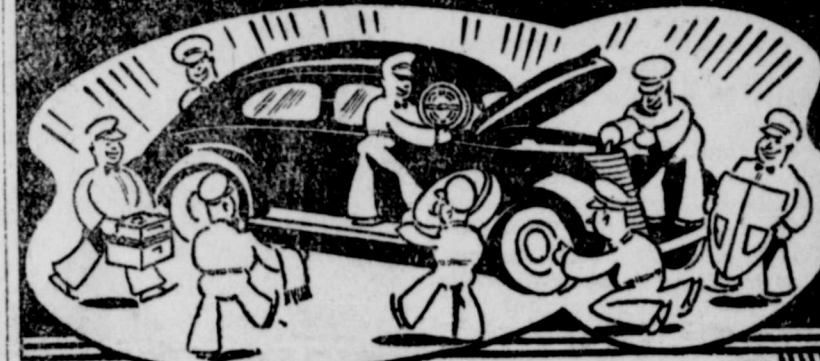

"Stay on back roads but give 'em a nice long trip," the Traveler called to the driver. "Mister Collins said he envied me my long trips. Now it's his turn to travel." (To be concluded)

76th Congress Knuckles Down to Work

Both new and familiar faces are seen in the halls of congress as the nation's legislators opened their seventy-sixth session last week. Above, with gravels, are Speaker Williams B. Bankhead, house ringmaster, and Vice President John N. Garner, presiding officer in the senate. Center: One of the new senators, California's Sheridan Downey, examines his desk. The Republican minority in the new congress boasts 81 more representatives than last year, and eight more senators.

The president and congress were asked in the resolution to "take such steps as may be necessary to give practical application to these principles, which we are convinced represent not only the sentiment of the church but also the will of the American people." Venezuela, meaning "little Venice" was originally applied to an Indian village built on piles on the coast of that country. The West Indies are the summits of a submerged mountain chain.

DUCE BACKS U. S. SEEKING EASIER TERMS FOR JEWS

London—Premier Benito Mussolini was reliably reported Friday to have acceded to a request from President Roosevelt and agreed to attempt to enlist Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's aid in getting Jews out of Germany.

A well-informed source said that United States Ambassador William Phillips in Rome asked Mussolini Tuesday to support more lenient terms for the emigration of Jews from Germany.

It was understood that the Ambassador suggested to Il Duce that a Jewish emigration plan attributed to Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, should undergo certain modifications and that Mussolini was sympathetic to Phillips' suggestions.

Meanwhile Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain made announcements generally regarded as discreet notice to Mussolini that he stood behind France on the matter of the Italian campaign for French territory.

Chamberlain disclosed he would have a two-hour conversation with Premier Edouard Daladier of France, Thursday during a stop in Paris on his way to Rome for conferences with Mussolini.

FRESH JAPANESE SOLDIERS LAND

Chunking—Chinese military authorities said today that 400 Japanese soldiers had landed in Weichow Island 30 miles south of Pakhoi, in the vicinity of which are four Japanese warships, including an aircraft carrier.

The Central News agency said that since Tuesday an artillery duel has been raging across the Yellow river 130 miles north of Fengtun in southern Shansi province.

At Wheat Parley

Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain is chairman of the international wheat advisory committee which will begin its deliberations in London today. The last world wheat conference, held in July, postponed action on a proposed quota system for marketing surplus wheat. Since that time world surpluses have increased considerably.

CONGRESS TO TIGHTEN CONTROL ON RELIEF

Washington—Powerful members of Congress made plain Friday they mean to tighten congressional control over relief spending by laying down an iron-clad formula for the distribution of funds to the states.

While a House committee questioned WPA Administrator F. C. Harrington closely about the need for a proposed $175,000,000 appropriation to last until July 1, members of the Senate unemployment committee agreed informally to attempt to earmark future funds so there would be no discrimination between states.

Three Democratic members of this latter committee, Bennett C. Clark of Missouri, James Murray of Montana and Carl Hatch of New Mexico, said they favored putting a distribution formula in the emergency appropriation bill, if one could be worked out in time.

In his request Thursday for the emergency fund, President Roosevelt observed Congress might want to change the method of distributing relief, but urged this not be done until the appropriations bill for the new fiscal year is considered later.

The first steam railway to carry public passengers was the Stockton and Darlington in England, opened in 1825.

METHODIST BLAST SALE OF ARMS TO AGGRESSOR LANDS

The General Missionary council of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which has first-hand knowledge from its members of the horrors of war, condemned in strong language today the sale of war materials to aggressor nations.

A resolution denounced "the practice of turning the blood of men, women and children into financial profits" thru such transactions.

The council urged all American industry to adopt an attitude similar to that of some business men and corporations, who consistently refuse to sell war materials to aggressors.

Society Has Gone To Hollywood

SOcially speaking, there used to be The Riviera, The Lido and Biarritz. But today, they are either too near the sounds of guns in Spain or are shaken by the menace of an unstable world. London and Paris are still gay, but there is an atmosphere of fear and gas-mask parties under the gaiety.

New York had a depression and now casts a disapproving eye at any extravagant high jinks of high society. The $50,000 debut belongs to a vanished era. Money is tight everywhere—everywhere but in Hollywood.

She arrived in Hollywood to find a rigid, incredibly formal social structure with Pickfair its heart and Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks the reigning monarchs. She found caste lines irrevocably drawn, and for no discernible reason. Beyond these bar-

Socialites and cinemalites Franchot Tone, Ginger Rogers, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Joan Crawford, Chester Morris.

In the February issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine, Lloyd Pantages, famous Hollywood columnist, writes an entertaining and authoritative story on society in the capital of the world of "make-believe." "People think of Hollywood only in connection with the movies," writes Pantages. "They forget that the most congested oil fields in the world are enriching the natives; that the orange groves spreading in all directions supply half the world; that the harbor is the fourth largest shipping port in the nation. Hollywood is prodigiously rich; it is young and prodigal, and it has suddenly gone social in a big way."

"This is something quite new," the famous columnist says. "Of course, the movie colony has been trying to be social for years, but it had got nowhere. There have always been two society columns in the local papers. One for the nabob descendants of the old settlers, and one for the movie colony. Socialites and cinemalites didn't intermingle. Santa Barbara, New York, Newport, Europe, remained aloof from Hollywood." Pantages says that when Dorothy, Countess di Frasso first appeared on the scene, Pickfair was in its heyday. Why she came to Hollywood in the first place, only she can tell. For her villa in Rome was world-famous and her parties in New York the rage. She had plenty to do, and lots of money. Probably she was intrigued by all the wild tales of the goings on of the movie people.

riers she could perceive scores and scores of the nicest-looking people she had ever seen, stunning girls and strikingly handsome men, having a good time in their own way, but not being admitted, and she didn't care for that at all.

On her second descent upon Hollywood, the countess bought a house and established herself. Then she sunned the community by entertaining everyone she met—and you may be certain she met everybody. By calmly discarding the phony Hollywood caste system, she made her parties successful beyond anything the town had ever seen. The fame of these festivals spread rapidly and invitations were sought everywhere.

Hollywood woke up, and every hostess in the town began to give the countess' sort of parties. The old rules and regulations, the old restricted guest lists went into the discard.

Each succeeding season has seen more and more Whitneys, de Ponts and Vanderbilts in Hollywood for the races. They linger on after the season is over. Mariana du Pont married Randolph Scott. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt was proud to have Ginger Rogers as hostess for his parties.

So Hollywood society has grown. Today Jock Whitney heads a movie company. His lovely wife, Liz, has her heart set on an acting career. Whitney Bourne, a Lodge of Boston, and an Earl of Warwick all came to play and stayed to work.

TEXAN HAPPY OVER U. S. NAZI PROBE

Washington—Representative Martin Dies, democrat, Texas, embattled investigator of what he calls alien "isms", was happy tonight in the thought—shared by others on Capitol Hill—that he had finally wrung two major concessions from the Roosevelt administration.

1. President Roosevelt told a press conference the justice department was investigating alleged violations of criminal statutes by nazi, communist and other organizations.

2. There were increasing reports the administration had decided against opposing a continuation of Dies' house committee to investigate un-American activities and, instead, would assent to a limited continuation of life for it.

FIREMEN INITIATE THREE AT TUESDAY FIRE DRILL

It was a comic sight, when on Tuesday evening of this week, 3 new firemen, Ira Kemp, Charles Powell, and Frank Morgan were initiated into the Gatesville Fire Department by members of the department.

It was a good thing the day was warm, as they were not too amply clothed. Plentifully tied with a succession of knots, the like of which no good sailor would claim, they endeavored to sell a 5c sack of pop corn for 10c but, due to the every present retail sales this part of the year, the price was reduced to a jitney, and deals were finally closed with no carry-over inventory left.

Anyway, it was fun!

POSTAL RECEIPTS ARE UP SLIGHTLY IN CORYELL COUNTY

Postmaster J. Hurl McClellan gives us the figures on postal receipts for 1938, as compared with 1937.

Here's the information. 1937 $17,131.00 was the amount of postal receipts, whereas in 1938, the amount was $17,545.10, showing an improvement or increase of $414.10.

However, Mr. McClellan says this does not show the true value of the sales, since some $7500.00 in damaged stamp stock has been returned by customers, and this has been replaced by new stock, the total of which is not reflected in the 1938 figure. Usually, the average amount redeemed is only about $100.00.

August Bechtler, who minted money for the United States Government at Rutherford, N. C., from 1830 to 1835 died in poverty.

CHAMBERLAIN TO MEET DALADIER

London—Prime Minister Chamberlain disclosed today that when he goes to Rome next Tuesday to see Premier Mussolini he will make a two hour stop in Paris to confer with Premier Daladier.

In informed circles it was believed the meeting was designed as a reminder to induce that although Chamberlain was visiting him this did not mean weakening of the ties binding Britain and France.

At Algiers, Premier Daladier concluded his tour of France's north African defenses today with a declaration that France would make no more "sacrifices for peace."

MUCH SOIL LOST IN COUNTY, REPORTS SAY

"The land owners of Coryell County have, during the past fifteen years, suffered a loss of more than two and a half million dollars due to erosion on cultivated land alone," announced E. E. McCallister, local technician for the local Soil Conservation Service last week. "This loss covers only the actual decrease in value of the 250,000 acres of cultivated land in this county and does not include the great annual losses due to decreasing crop yields.

This statement was substantiated by Monroe Blankenship, secretary of the Gatesville Farm Loan Association, who has been familiar with land value in Coryell county for a number of years. Mr. Blankenship stated, "The average value of cultivated land in this county has decreased about one third during the last fifteen years. At least 20 per cent has been due to erosion alone."

More than one hundred and twenty land owners in the county have already taken definite steps to eliminate this evil by establishing complete erosion control Soil Conservation Association, which has a membership of more than 350 local land owners and operators, has as its aim the complete control of erosion on a county wide basis. With such construction efforts already under way it is reasonable to believe that during the coming years this enormous loss of the only important natural resources of Coryell County will be reduced to a minimum.

January Yule—And 2 Santas!

Christmas comes twice a year at Rodanthe, N. C., on isolated Roanoke island, where old people among the fishing village's 300 inhabitants celebrated "old Christmas" last Thursday. Villagers explain that the little Santa is the big on's "son". The truth is that Rodanthe has two Santa Claus suits and see no good reason why both of the costumes should not be used.
