4-H PIG CLUBS OF CORYELL COUNTY WIN FIRST IN STATE COMPETITION

Announcement from the Texas Swine Breeders' Association in their annual award of excellence in swine demonstration in 1938, 4-H pig clubs of Coryell, Lubbock and Bosque counties were the winners in order in the contest. Checks for $100, $50 and $25, in order, were turned over to adult club leaders to be used in "any manner that the committee of adult leaders determines will be most beneficial to the county 4-H pig club boys in promoting swine production in the county."

E. M. Regenbrecht, swine husbandman of A. and M. Extension Service, who directed the contest with the assistance of the state 4-H club committee and district agents made the announcement.

There were 30 boys with 389 pigs in the winning Coryell county entry. All boars used in breeding were either son or grandsons of world champion sows and boars. The club produced 39,763 pounds of pork during the year and realized a gross return of $4,060.87, which with the expenses of $1,127.50 gave the boys a profit of $2,933.37 for the year's work.

All of the boys provided pasture and home grown feeds plus a protein supplement. Extreme care in providing shade and water is evidence by the fact that not a pig was lost from heat. The work in Coryell county was under the direction of Guy Powell, the county agricultural agent, and three adult leaders, Bryd King, Albert

Jacobs of Gatesville and A. T. Quicksall of Ames.

The Coryell county rating was 76.2 per cent. Lubbock's was 71.2 and Bosque 70.1.

Regenbrecht said soundness of the county plan, number of boys completing the demonstration, total pounds of live hogs produced, percentage of boys owning registered sows, percentage of boys who bred their sows to registered boars, percentage of boys who fed out litters averaging 180 pounds or more, percentage of boys feeding home grown grain, and pastures and participation in shows were considered in judging the contest.

Other high ranking counties included Parmer, Crosby, Wise, Dallas, Hill, Ellis, Vanzandt, Henderson, Red River, El Paso, Scurry, Martin, Falls, Chambers, Shelby, Cherokee, Bexar, Guadalupe, Lavaca, and Wharton.

Summarizing the pigs the boys showed, there were seven boars weighing 2,471 pounds; 24 sows weighing 9,514 pound; 188 pigs weighing 11,577 pounds; 16 gilts weighing 3,705 pounds, 54 butcher hogs weighing 12,496 pounds.

Initial outlay for the hogs was $1,127.50 and the increased value was $4,060.87.

Out of the lot, 18 sows were registered, 7 boars, and 16 gilts. All sows except one was bred to registered boars. Fifty-seven were exhibited at State and District shows during 1938.

Mrs. I. F. Johnson and children of Clifton spent the week end in this city with friends and relatives.

EVANT HI WINS FROM HIGHLAND PARK: DROPS SECOND ROUND TO VERNON 26-23

Evant High School, District Champions of this district, out hustled and out passed the heavier Highlanders of Dallas in the first round of the Regional Meet in Denton, taking the long end of the score 26-23. Standout performances by Jones and Lindsay under the basket, and S. Leslie Sheldon elusive Evant guard, dribbled and tossed his team to victory.

In the second half, Seay of Highland Park covered Sheldon but Herbert Kelm, Elk forward, assumed leadership of the Evant scoring that kept a pace ahead of Highland Park.

In the second round, Evant picked up Verno, and the tables were turned, Vernon nosing out the Elks by a 26-23 score. This was the final match, Vernon gaining the Regional Championship as a result of their win.

Evant, headed by Herbert Kelm and Leslie Sheldon ran the Vernon basketekers off their feet half the game, leading 8 to 3 at the quarter, but lagged at the half, 12 to 13. Joe Jones, Evant guard did stellar defense work, blanketing Matney, Vernon scoring ace, but Graf of Vernon led the offensive that pulled that club ahead.

In the third quarter Matney shook free sufficiently to push Vernon to an advantage of 20 to 17, but the close of the period, and in the final quarter, Evant was unable to whittle the difference.

BOB CHANDLER LOSES THUMB AND FINGER IN EXPLOSION

Bob Chandler of near Coryell Creek, got the thumb and fore finger of his right hand blown off Sunday afternoon.

With other boys, he picked up some sort of a cap or fuse and after arriving at his home, started to drop it in the fire, and it exploded in his hand.

Treatment was given at the local hospital.

GATESVILLE ICE CREAM PARLOR OPENS ON WEEK END

Gatesville Ice Cream Parlor, one of Gatesville's most popular "summer spots" opens this week end, next door to the Coryell County News Building, in the building formerly occupied by Flentge Drug Store.

You know what these folks sell, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, the local managers, and it really hits the spot on hot days.

John Rufus Colgin Jr. student at A. and M. College, was a guest of his parents over the week end.

Wendell Lowrey, and Albert Dickie, who are attending the University of Texas, visited friends and relatives in this city over the week end.

He is the youngest son of Dr. Ralph Bailey.

WINNERS ANNOUNCED IN THIRD RUN SPELLING ADVERTISEMENT

In the third run of the Dollar Days Spelling Advertisement there were 29 entries, 15 of which were city entries, and 14 which were sent in from the country.

City Winners were Bernice Herrman (M. Powell Memorial Hospital) first prize; Willie Mat Claxton, second prize; and Chas. T. McGregor, third prize.

In the country, Chas. Scott Herrman, Pearl, won first prize; Anna Mae Diserens, Rt. 1, Gatesville, second prize; and James Sump, State Training School, third prize.

Again, the first prize winners will receive one dollar, second prize winners a one year subscription to the News, and the third prize winners a six month subscription to the News.

In today's issue of the paper there is another spelling ad, which is the last time it will appear. These winners will be announced Friday.

Jim Saunders and Eiland Lovejoy went out to Dublin Sunday and conferred with Everett E. Colburn, Rodeo promoter, who is the producer of the Madison Square Garden Rodeo. They were after some tough stock which would be used in Gatesville's 1939 Rodeo and Frontier Celebration which will be held June 1, 2, and 3.

W. A. PREWITT OPENS GARAGE AT MACK'S CABINET SHOP

Opening March 1, will be the garage operated by W. A. Prewitt at the old Mack Cabinet Shop location.

Mr. Prewitt needs no introduction to motorists of Coryell county, as he has been with K. W. Ray, G. D. Nolte, Curt Rogers and other garage men of this vicinity.

At reasonable rates, he gives complete automotive service.

BEAUTICIANS TAKE OFF TO FORT WORTH PARLEY

It's hard luck today, if you want beauty work, since the beauticians are heading for Fort Worth to the State Beauty Convention which is to be held there today.

But that don't make but one day's difference, since they'll all be back Wednesday with new ideas and a zest to make you even prettier.

Here's a list of those going: Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. Nadine McAllister and Mrs. Mary Hinsley of the Ethma Beauty Shoppe, and one member of the Blue Bonnet Beauty Parlor.

RETAIL MERCHANT'S ASS'N MEETS TONIGHT IN BURT BLDG.

Members of the Gatesville Retail Merchant's Association are called for tonight at 8:00 p. m. for a meeting in the Retail Merchant's office in the Burt Building.

Several letters of importance to the merchants of Gatesville trade district will be discussed and should be of interest to every merchant. Members are especially urged to be present, and representatives of firms, not now members are cordially invited to be present and join in the open discussions, according to Evan J. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer.

Miss Doris Ament, who is attending a business college in Austin, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kay Ament.

COURT'S CLOSED, AND WITH TWO CASES SETTLED

It's all over, in District Court, according to District Clerk Carl McClendon.

Just before closing, however, 2 cases were disposed of, and they are Ex Parte Robert Lee Bone Jr., partition for removal of disabilities of a minor, which was granted.

The other, a divorce was granted to Juanita Kinsey from Taylor Kinsey.

Next term starts in July.

Do You Want Laws Which Repeal The ANTI-TRUST LAWS and RAISE PRICES?

Texas Legislators Are Ready to Pass Price-Fixing Laws

THE FAIR (?) TRADE LAW

Gives manufacturers power by law to fix prices YOU PAY for his products. It does NOT provide higher wages or better prices for farmer-producers. YOUR COST OF LIVING will be determined by men who live in New York, Boston and elsewhere if this law passes.

THE ANTI-DISCRIMINATION LAW prohibits sale of any item at less than invoiced cost PLUS SIX PER CENT. Goodbye sales and bargains if this one passes.

PROTESTS FROM FARMS AND KITCHENS.

THE NATIONAL GRANGE says: "Therefore, be it resolved, that the National Grange urges immediate repeal of the Miller-Tydings Act and recommends to STATE GRANGES that they move to secure repeal of equivalent state laws erroneously called STATE 'FAIR TRADE ACTS.'"

THE AMERICAN HOME ECONOMICS ASSOCIATION says: "... continue opposition to legislation for resale price maintenance and other forms of price-fixing."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SAYS:

"When prices are privately managed at levels above those for which would be determined by free competition, everybody pays." FORT WORTH PRESS, FEB. 2, 1939
—An editorial:
"The best way to judge such laws is to see how they have worked in states where they operate. 'In New York, for instance, a survey by R. H. Macy & Co. showed that prices of cosmetics had been raised 8.6 per cent; liquor, 11.8; drugs, 15.8; books, 17.6; miscellaneous items, 16 per cent."

MR. JACK GOES TO TOWN VISITS J. B.

Thursday night about 8:20 o'clock, a big streamlined jack rabbit dropped in to see the pups at J. B. Martin's filling station. Mr. Watson and son were on the east side of the station and Snowball, the station mascot, was "watching the front." Mrs. Blanton stepped in the station to telephone when the visiting monster made a boisterous exit. Watson, hearing the comotion, immediately investigated and saw the startled Mr. Jack, flying low toward the court house. Snowball was running a close second. Apparently jack went into the station and seeing the dog, eloped without any asking. Walter Winchell has his oddities and so does the County News.

Mr. Clay Strickland was a Waco visitor Friday.

Miss Marie Baker had as her guest over the week end, Miss Miss Naomi Shultz from Silver City.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krempin, Victor and Clarence of Topsey visited in the Charlie Kindler home Wednesday night.

Mr. Sam Anderson and his Junior boys basketball team went to Jonesboro Friday where they played Purlmela and returned as winners.

Mr. Buck and John Lovejoy are starting a garage in the place which was formerly occupied by Floyd Rodgers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilkerson visited Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Turner at Antelope Friday.

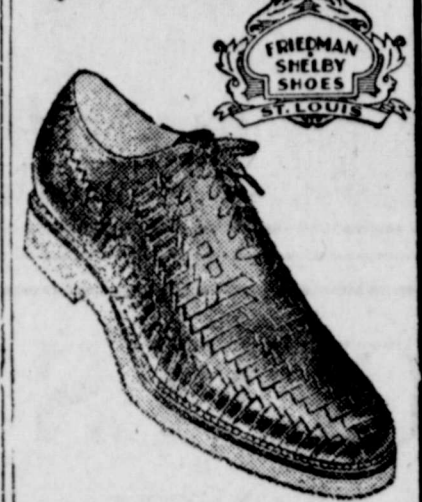

Mrs. Cecil Catlett and daughter are visiting Mrs. Catlett.

The Pidcoke Ex-Students Club, which was organized last fall with these officers, president, Louise Kinder; vice-president, Celeste Nite; secretary, Cecil Newton; treasurer, Marie Baker; had a regular meeting last Friday night. 42 was played and pop corn was popped and enjoyed by all. The club is planning to present a play soon, so watch for the date.

WILL BUILDING UPTURN LEAD BUSINESS OUT OF SLUMP?

Late in 1920 the country went into a tailspin with one of the worst depressions in history in immediate prospect. Late in '21 it was apparent that, despite general business conditions, home building was moving very rapidly ahead, and by '22 this country was out of the depression, having been pulled out of the depths by reason of unprecedented home building.

History is apparently about to repeat itself.

Mortgages selected for appraisal by the regional offices of the Federal Housing Administration have since the start of the FHA mortgage insuring program, proven a most reliable barometer of current and future residential building activity. The week ending Mar. 26, 1938, established an all-time high of individual home projects, having a total mortgage valuation of $22,568,219. This was the fourth consecutive week that new all-time high records have been set, and the fifth consecutive week that 1938 volume exceeded that of the corresponding week of '37. This five week period showed a total of over $94,000,000 in mortgages submitted to the FHA in 1938, a 32 per cent increase over $71,000,000 for the same period in 1937, a period then considered gratifyingly active.

The encouraging reports of the rising tide of small-home FHA mortgages preliminary to construction are further confirmed by current reports of residential contracts let, as compiled by the F. W. Dodge Corporation Figures from this source show that (1) The slump which started last June ran itself out and February showed a ten per cent upturn over January. (2) In March, figures are only 14 per cent under the record high of last March.

If there is any question as to need for easier home financing, that question has been conclusively answered by the new FHA 90 per cent, twenty-five year finance plan . . . as witness the quick response.

Thus despite the fact that the level of general business is making depression history, home building and improvements are forging ahead in an unprecedented manner . . . with this stimulating effect, all business may soon feel beneficial results.

PROPER LAND USE PAYS MONROE BLANKENSHIP FARM

A profit of three dollars per acre on twelve acres of badly gullied and seepy land was obtained by Monroe Blankenship on his farm near Coryell City this year. This accomplishment is made more noteworthy by the fact that this same land also controled the runoff water from all the terraces on 90 acres of cultivated land, thereby eliminating a serious erosion menace to the entire farm.

When this farm was offered to the Soil Conservation Service for erosion control demonstration purposes, technicians found that large and active gullies had already formed along two natural depression extending across the field. Concentration of water along these gullies had made a strip of land along either side too seepy for cultivation except during the summer. In planning a complete erosion control program for this farm it was recommended that, in order to control the two gullies and because these natural depressions would furnish the most practical and economical locations for emptying the terraces on the remainder of the field, these two strips of seepy land along the gullies should be fenced and a permanent sod cover established.

Even though the sod on this new pasture area had not reached its full growth last winter it provided sufficient grazing for an additional calf which sold for $35. The tenant on this farm recently stated that although in the beginning he believed that there would be more profit in leaving the area in cultivation, last year's experience proved to him that proper land use pays.

More than 2,000 members of the Society of Automotive Engineers will visit the California World's Fair on June 7.

Paris gowns will be displayed in the Palace of Elegance at the 1939 California World's Fair, together with other finery for milady.

RESULTS OF GOLDEN GLOVES ENTRANTS IN FORT WORTH TOURNEY; COST OF DIST. TOURNEY HELD IN GATESVILLE

Gatesville's District Golden Gloves Tournament is now history.

Gatesville winners who made the trip to Fort Worth although they did not win any of their bouts, acquitted themselves well, considering the training and preparation which preceded the State Finals in Fort Worth.

Only five made the trip: In the first bout Thursday night, Feb. 20 Tommy Caffrey, Flyweight, stayed three rounds, losing the decision to his opponent John McCollum of Childress. O. A. Blanchard, Bantamweight did not make the trip, and neither did an alternate.

Ting Wilkerson, Featherweight failed to go to Fort Worth.

One of the best bouts put up by the Gatesville boys was Cleburne Chandler's when he drew Lon McMillin of Abilene, last year's State Championship Lightweight. People in the audience were surprised that Chandler stayed with this boy as long as he did, as McMillin has the reputation of putting his opponents away in short order. Chandler lost by a TKO in the middle of the third round.

Franklin Mills, Waco, in the welterweights, drew a very good boy in Earl Brown of Pampa, and lost by the TKO route to him.

O. O. Russell, Hico, who won over Dick Chandler here lost a close decision to Eugene Sorenson of Fort Clark, Marfa, after staying with him the three rounds and coming out minus part of 2 teeth.

In the Heavyweights, R. Wieder spahn of Bartlett drew a bye until the quarter-finals, and in the first round, broke or fractured a finger, and was counted out because he waited too long to get up during the count.

Clinton Breeding, Lighthweight did not make the trip.

Those who won the State finals were Harold Lawler, Tyler, Flyweight; T. B. Stanford, Bantam, Fort Worth; Eddie Russey, Feather, Wichita Falls; Morris Corona Light, Port Arthur; George Porter, Dallas; Middle, Elby Pettaway, Houston; Lighthweight, Delmar Koch; Heavy, Bob Owens, Amarillo. Each of these boys won a gold trophy and the runner-ups won the same trophy in silver. A team trophy was won by Amarillo.

GATESVILLE TOURNAMENT COST AS FOLLOWS:

Here's the cost of the Gatesville tournament, not counting a car trip to Goldthwaite and return, and one to Temple, Waco and Gatesville.

TOTAL	$141.63

The total of the three nights of the District Tournament here was $143.10.

During the first three days in Fort Worth, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram paid the expenses of the ENTRIES ONLY, with the exception of issuing passes to other members of the District Visitors.

Hotel bills for all concerned, and the entrants after the first three days was $19.50, and $9.00 in meals was supplied the boys. Returning home, one boy was given (about 3 a. m. Tuesday, last) $2.00 to get home on, and another's bus fare was paid to Temple, amounting to $.70. No accounting or charge was made for the use of any of the three automobiles used to carry the boys to and from Fort Worth. This expense totaled $51.50.

In addition to paid publicity, some 30 news papers of the surrounding counties generously gave space, and for this courtesy, passes were sent, but as far as is known, were not used.

All in all, as far as those connected with the tournament are concerned, the whole thing was a grand success, except, perhaps financially. However, publicity received from Fort Worth and the 30 other newspapers far exceeded in value any loss entailed in handling the tournament.

EDWARD E. BRAVENEC IS NAMED TO F.S.A. OFFICE HERE

Appointment of Edward E. Bravenec has been named assistant rural supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in this county, information received Friday stated.

He has been added to the Gatesville office so that low-income farmers of this county may get better assistance from the F.S.A.

"Basis requirements for F.S.A. loans are: first, inability to obtain adequate financing elsewhere second, ability to make a sound plan of farm and home operations that will give the family a better living, increase the value of their possessions, and repay the loan."

A working model of the giant atom smashing machine will be shown by the University of California in its exhibit at the California World's Fair.

HORNETTES TAKE N. TEXAS CHAMPS FRIDAY NIGHT; ALL-STAR PLAY

Before largest crowd Gatesville High School gymnasium has seen in 1939, the female Hornets defeated the Mesquitos of Mesquite. Half the town, all the band, the pep squad, and "Bill Morgan's male pep poppas" were there to urge the victory for Coach Schwarz's golden Hornets.

A few minutes after 8, Friday night, Coach Shipley of the Mesquite Six telephoned from Valley Mills, for he had missed the highway and gone to that city. While the over-crowded basketball spectators waited anxiously for the North Texas champs, Coach Worley made the announcement that the Plainview All-Stars would meet the Painter's All-Star ball tossing cagers.

That's just what happened and it turned out to be one of the best boy's game this season. The Painter's Boys, composed of Weavers and one Ward, nosed out the Plainview All-Stars 20-19.

The crowd was in a cheering mood and cheer they did, for the score at the half was 10-10. At the end of the third quarter, the Painter's Boys led 15-14. Each squad made a counter; Bruce Weaver made a field goal to tie the score 18-18. With seconds to go, Tom Ward made a talley and Felix Newland made his free shot. That ended the game 20-19 with the Painter's Cagers victorious.

High pointers were: for Plainview, Weigan, 8; for Painter's, Bob and Bruce Weaver and Tom Ward with 6 points each.

The North Texas Champions then came on deck and it was a fight between the Mesquitos and the Hornets. The girls from Mesquite have a good basketball club, but the power of the Hornets guards accounted for a part of the victory taken by the locals. The Hornette forwards made shot after shot to lead the invading Skeeters at the end of each quarter. Crane, flashy forward of the Mesquite Sextette, really put on some swell playing for that squad.

All the locals need recognition for the excellent cooperation and brilliant performance displayed by them.

The Hornets missed only 5 out of 14 free shots and the Mesquitos missed 7 out of 10.

The score at the half 21-9.

The score at the end of game 37-20.

NUMBER 20

ZEK SEZ

(By Nugent Ezekiel Brown)
Austin—Flash! Here is more hot news!

Now that Governor O'Daniel has signed the bill to allow the Board of Control to borrow $900,000 for the pensions fund, Acting Director Jack Little and his right-hand bower, one Claudios Hodges, so-called personnel director and employment manager of the Old Age Assistance set-up, are rejoicing. They assume their jobs are cinched because they believe they now will be able to put on the rolls many borderline cases that have been cut off for some months and thus they will win favor with many members of the Legislature by putting on old folks suggested by some of the members. Little and Hodges and others in the set-up are still worrying about a letter they are alleged to have sent out on July 15, 1937, to district supervisors giving instructions to employees to contact members of the House and Senate to see whom said members wished to put back on the pension rolls. "Acting Director" Little now is signing papers as "Director" Little, in spite of a recent statement given out by Chairman Claude Teer of the Board of Control that Little is "only acting director."

One of the biggest laughs of the week in the House was created during Abe May's presentation and explanation of the Governor's proposed transaction tax. Representative Mays had just explained that farmers' produce was exempt from the transaction tax.

Someone asked: "Does that mean livestock?"

Representative Mays: "Yes."

Questioner: "It says agriculture and horticulture products, Abe."

Mays: "Ain't horticulture livestock?"

In spite of the fact that old age pensions is the first order of business for this session, the fight between the railroads and interior compresses on the one hand and the trucking interests on the other hand gets hotter day by day. A crowded senate floor and galleries on last Tuesday night heard spokesmen against the proposed increase in the truck load limit bills. Different from the hearing one week before when truckers spoke their "pieces", this crowd was mixed, many of the truck folk mingling with the railroad boys. On Tuesday afternoon of this week the truckers will have their day in the House.

The railroad interests are fighting with their backs to the wall, realizing that a modern age and its modern methods of transportation are against them. The trucking interests are organized as never before—the old Manufacturers & Merchants association and the old Common Carriers Motor Freight Association having joined forces this time with the Texas Motor Transportation Association, thus joining, together, farmers, merchants, livestock haulers and everyone who operates a truck in any way against the railroad lines. This time, it is admitted by those who know that the increased load limit laws will pass—the only question being how much of an increase will be authorized. Great stacks of postcards being received by members from railroad districts show such a similarity that even those members know they are inspired, and have no hesitancy, in many instances, of saying they may yet vote with the majority for the increased load limit, in spite of such mail. While railroads point out small towns will lose out if the railroads lose, scores of other small towns point to recent expansion because of truck lines which run thru them.

The great throng of filling station operators everywhere are strong for the trucks and are fighting to help them.

Talking about freak legislation—there is a chiropody bill which, if passed (and it won't), would not allow a retail shoe store to sell arch supports nor would it let drug stores sell corn cures! The barbers got a bill thru the House but, with its many amendments, the boys in the small town still will be able to get their haircuts for 30 cents or less, if and when the bill becomes a law.

Flash! Howard English of Austin suggests this latest piece of gossip! Governor O'Daniel, honored guest at a banquet of 300 Legionnaires and reserve officers for a National Defense program, one night last week, proved a veritable "Ferdinand the Bull" in a china shop when he declared "I don't believe in going anywhere to fight anybody's war but, if they come over here, let them have it." Now, did the Governor mean it that way or did he? The rest of his talk dwelt on blue bonnet fields and daisies. D'you get it? (Afterthought—we still believe Governor O'Daniel will sign the R.O.T.C. bill for the University when it gets to his desk as his son Pat is strong for such a unit and is a student out there.)

The past week witnessed another precedent broken. For the first time in Texas history, the "dirt farmers" were invited by the chairman of the House agricultural committee, Bailey Ragsdale of Crockett, to hold a "congress" in the State Capitol while the legislature was in session. And, in resolutions, they said they appreciated the attention thus given them. They also indorsed practically the entire program for agriculture now being considered.

Governor O'Daniel's proposed merger of five departments into the department of agriculture will meet much opposition from some sources. His proposal included a board of 21 directors who would select the commissioner of agriculture instead of letting him be elected by the people. This is a stumbling block which is not likely to get by both houses. Too, the game, fish and oyster department is not going to take calmly the idea of being merged with the agriculture department! Many letters already are pouring in from sportsmen opposing the idea.

With many East Texas senators sore at O'Daniel because of the appointment of J. C. Hunter of Abilene as highway commissioner, the air is filled with talk. Some want to call the senate the "black-hole of Calcutta" while others say it is another step toward impeachment of the governor. The result is likely to be compromise after the dust blows over.

One of the most popular places to gather these days in Austin is the "Federal Cafe & Bakery" on Congress Avenue. Why the free advertising? Two reasons—one is the cuisine is excellent; but the big reason is O. P. Lockhart, owner and manager. O. P. is district committeeman for the party and an original O'Daniel supporter who is one of the friendliest personalities about Austin. Scores go to him daily, seeking information or ways to get to the governor. Lockhart has become a power in politics overnight and it has not spoiled his disposition. All of the boys know him and discuss with him many matters of policy. He is fast becoming one of the few with whom you can talk confidentially about many matters coming before the legislature.

Chairman Wendall Mayes of Brownwood of the State Parks Board, in Austin one day this week declared himself as pleased with the fact that a new paved highway is being completed from Brownwood to the Lake Brownwood state park, 24 miles out. This state park is the mecca for many fishermen and the completion of this road will be good news to them, says Mayes. This is one of the 36 State parks for which the Board is seeking funds for maintenance during the coming biennium. With the CCC camps being depleted, the State will have to take care of its parks and it takes money to do that, points out Mayes.

SYNOPSIS

When the "brains" of a bank-robbing gang threatens to kill her brother unless she gets a truck in which the mob can make a getaway, Jane Hartman, beautiful bank secretary, lures Tony Andrews, independent trucker to the gang's headquarters. With the police hot on the trail, the truck is barricaded and Tony is forced at gun-point to drive across the county line. State troopers stop the truck but Tony's reputation as an honest truckman gets the truck through without a hitch.

CHAPTER VII

AS THE truck rumbled up the long grade over the mountains, both Randall and Sidney became more and more uncomfortable. Randall was badly in need of his favorite beverage—alcohol. Sidney's scalded face burned and itched.

"I could use a bottle of that beer if it was cold," Randall remarked, eyeing the cases all about him. Sidney moaned. "I got to get out of here," he said quickly. "My face is on fire."

"Take it easy, now," Mr. Gibbs said soothingly. He turned to the peephole behind Tony's head. "Pull up here, Andrews," he ordered.

"Not on your life," Tony answered over his shoulder. "If I tried to stop on this grade, we'd roll right back to those coppers."

Sidney joined Mr. Gibbs at the peephole. "I tell you I'm going nuts!" he shouted. "Let me out of here!"

Tony caught the note of frenzy in Sidney's voice. A vague plan began to form in his mind. "There's an all night cafe up at the summit," he suggested.

"That's right. Stop there, Andrews," Mr. Gibbs agreed.

"Okay," Tony's eyes narrowed. "I could do with a cup of coffee."

"Well, if I go to sleep you'll all find yourselves at the bottom of a canyon."

Mr. Gibbs considered this for a moment. "Well, we'll see," he said slowly.

"I wouldn't keep that panel open," Tony went on casually. "There's no telling when we might pick up that motorcycle cop."

"Do you mind if I leave it open the width of—say, a knife-blade?" Mr. Gibbs' voice had an edge as sharp as the knife he mentioned.

"That's your business," Tony answered, his voice steady although he had not missed the implication, "but when I spot this cop you'd better close it all the way for a minute or two."

Hunching over the wheel so as to mask his movements as much as possible Tony slowly worked a check book and a pencil from his inside pocket and laid them in his lap. Leaning still farther over the wheel as though completely exhausted, he managed to scribble a few words on one of the blank checks, tear it from the book and crumple it into a small ball. Jane watched in fascinated silence. The check book and pencil he permitted to slide on to the floor of the truck.

Turning to Jane, Tony said: "Look—untie my necktie, will you? It's kind of close tonight and I don't want to let go of the wheel."

As Jane leaned over her head effectively blocked Mr. Gibbs' view from the peephole. Tony whispered tense instructions into her ear as she struggled with the knot of his tie.

"What are you doing there?" Mr. Gibbs demanded harshly.

As Pop Stebbins stepped away, Moore pushed through the door, gun in hand.

"She's loosening my tie," Tony explained as he dropped the truck into second and the deafening roar of the motor smothered his final words to Jane.

"Get back on your side of the seat, Miss Hartman," Mr. Gibbs ordered. As Jane sank back in her corner, Tony caught a glimpse of a single light approaching on the highway.

"There's a motorcycle ahead," he called over his shoulder. "Better close that panel." The panel closed with a click.

Working swiftly, Jane obeyed Tony's instructions. The crumpled ball of paper she tucked into an empty tobacco can. Around this she hastily tied Tony's necktie. From a side pocket of the truck door she extracted a bottle of lighter fluid and doused it over the tie. As she passed it to Tony, he struck a match, touched it to the gas-soaked tie and tossed the flaming missile out of the truck just as the motorcycle came abreast of him.

As the truck roared away into the darkness, Motorcycle Officer Sam Moore brought his motorbike to a halt. Stamping out the flaming tie, Moore extracted Tony's message. By the light of his flashlight, the officer read Tony's scrawled words.

"Killer in truck—follow to Summit Cafe—take no chances!"

Officer Moore digested this thoughtfully, loosened his gun in his holster and, remounting his motorcycle, allowed the lights of the truck up the grade.

As Tony brought the truck to a halt in front of the Summit Cafe he made a quick inspection of the place. Good! Nobody in the place but the proprietor, old Pop Stebbins. "It's all clear," he called over his shoulder.

The trio of bandits pried open the make-shift "door" and boosted Sidney through the aperture as Tony dropped to the ground. "You go first," Sidney snarled, his hand seeking his gun in its shoulder holster.

Pop Stebbins greeted Tony as an old friend as he seated himself on a stool at the counter. Sidney dropped into a chair at a table near the door where he could command a view of the entire room.

As Pop gossiped about trivialities Sidney snapped: "Button your lip and bring me some coffee!"

Stebbins looked at Tony in surprise. "Is he with you?" he asked.

"I'm giving him a hitch," Tony explained. As Stebbins served Sidney's coffee, the cafe owner temporarily masked the gunman's view of the kitchen door. Out of the corner of his eye, Tony saw Moore's face peering through the panel. Pretending to massage a stiff neck, Tony signaled to Moore, indicating Sidney.

As Pop Stebbins stepped away, Moore pushed through the swinging doors, gun in hand.

"Put 'em up!" he barked at Sidney. The gunman grabbed for his gun as Moore's revolver spat three times. Sidney crumpled up over the table.

Turning to Tony, Moore was surprised to see the former with his hands in the air. "Keep your gun up, Sam!" Tony hissed. "Start backing me toward the window!"

"What's the matter with you?" Moore asked in astonishment.

"The other two bank bandits are in the truck. They're watching." Tony explained as he backed toward the door. "You can't take 'em alone. Get some help. You trust me, don't you?"

"Yes, but—" Moore was frankly puzzled.

"I got to get back to that truck," Tony explained. "Sorry, Sam, but here it comes." He swung suddenly at Moore's jaw and the officer dropped to the floor.

Pop Stebbins grappled with Tony. Outside, Randall slipped under the wheel of the truck and started the motor. As Tony freed himself and leaped through the door, the truck was lumbering down the highway.

CRANFILLS GAP NEWS

A lovely wedding was that of Miss Era Mae Knudson to Mr. Fred Clard of Baytown which was solemnized at 3:30 Saturday afternoon, February 18 in the St. Olaf Lutheran Church with Rev. Maakestead officiating with the ring ceremony.

Prior to the ceremony Caroline Belle Swenson sang "I Love You Truly", after which Mrs. A. B. Harris played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Guss Knudson, was attired in a white satin gown. Her long veil was gathered about her head with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a lovely bouquet. The bridesmaids were arrayed in modish ankle length gowns and carried bouquets of pink carnations and ferns.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

A miscellaneous shower, honoring Miss Era Mae Knudson, bride-elect, was given in the home of Mrs. J. P. Pederson. Mrs. Alfred Knudson and Mrs. Oscar Rhone were the hostesses.

We are glad to report that Christabel Bertelson, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bertelson, won first place in the Beauty Contest at Waco last week. It was sponsored by the Eastern Star. She was entered in the group ranging from one year to four years old. The babies were judged for health, beauty and friendship.

The Goar Valley H-D Club met last Monday afternoon in the Clyde Tindall home. Mr. Craddock, the County Agent, gave a demonstration on correct planting of fruit trees and pruning at the time of resetting.

Refreshments were served T. D. Craddock and Miss Imogene La Grone, Home Demonstration agent club members and visitors.

Last Monday night, Mrs. Edd Johnson was greatly surprised when a host of her friends arrived at her home to wish her a happy birthday. A number of interesting games were played after which refreshments were served. At a late hour, the guests departed for their home wishing Mrs. Johnson many more happy birthdays.

The Safety Sensation of 1939!

THE NEW Firestone CHAMPION

The Only Tire Made with the
NEW SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY
and NEW GEAR-GRIP TREAD...

NEVER before in our experience has a tire met with such instant and unanimous approval as the new Firestone Champion Tire. It's the Safety Sensation of 1939! Our customers have started a word-of-mouth campaign that is making this the biggest selling tire we've ever had. Motor car manufacturers have been so impressed by its superior performance that they have adopted it for their 1939 models.

Why? Because the Firestone Champion Tire is an entirely new achievement in safety engineering.

Stronger Cord Body. This is accomplished first, by the use of a completely new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to assure cooler running and provide greater strength. Then, the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves, are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping which provides amazingly greater strength. And greater strength means greater safety.

More Non-Skid Mileage. The new Safety-Lock cord construction provides the extra strength needed for the use of the new, thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip tread which delivers remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design — it has more than 3,000 sharp-edged angles which grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and assure a safe stop.

Drive in today and equip your car with a new set of Firestone Champion Tires — the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

500-Mile Race

Champion race drivers, whose lives and chances of victory depend on tire safety, know tire construction and that is why they select and buy Firestone Tires for their cars.

Firestone LIFE PROTECTOR the Tire within a Tire

This amazing new Firestone development makes a blowout as harmless as a slow leak.

Should a blowout occur the exclusive Firestone Safety-Valve holds sufficient air in the inner compartment to support the car until it is brought to a safe stop.
