GATESVILLE, TEXAS, TUESDAY, MARCH 7, 1939

HERE'S A RELIC OF SCHOOL DAYS OF LONG AGO

Last Saturday A. Davidson was a pleasant caller at the News office and showed us an old document that will refresh the memory of our older citizens about early school days in Gatesville.

Mr. Davidson stated that Justice of the Peace Geogre Miller was turning the leaves of the old family Bible a few days ago, a volume one hundred years old, and ran onto a teacher's contract between S. C. Folsom as teacher and the trustees of the Leon school, then located about two and one-half miles out on the Moccasin Bend road. The instrument is 58 years old, but there are a number of citizens who still remember when Mr. Folsom taught in Gatesville. Justice Miller was a pupil of Mr. Folsom, and the teacher boarded at the Miller home during this term, and turned the contract over to Mrs. Miller for safe keeping, which explains that fact of its being in the family Bible.

The present County School Superintendent W. D. Stockburger relates that Mr. Folsom was his first teacher, but that it was several years later than this, and in a school near Ewing.

The contract reads:
Form C
Office of PRESIDENT BOARD OF TRUSTEES,
Leon School Community No. 8
County of Coryell
State of Texas, 1881

THIS IS TO CERTIFY, That a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Leon School Community No. 8 County of Coryell, at which were present T. D. Bone, J. M. Robinson . . . the following proceeding were had, viz:

By vote of a majority of said Board of Trustees, Mr. S. C. Folsom holding a 2 Grade Certificate, was employed to teach a

PONY EXPRESS GETS AWAY ON TIME TO INVITE O'DANIEL TO RODEO: WIRE SAYS "MAKING SCHEDULE," LOVEJOY

At 4 a. m. Monday morning, Weldon Jones, left the Court house Square with messages to mayors enroute Gatesville to Austin, and a special invitation to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel to be in Gatsville June 1, 2, and 3, for Gatesville's Rodeo and Frontier Celebration.

First message from the riders came from Larry Reazor who "took over" at Mound, and on his and Jones' tour, they picked up 15 minutes on the schedule. From Temple, yesterday morning at 8 a. m. radio station KTEM broadcast the announcement for Temple folks to be on the look-out that the "Paul Revere's" were coming. Later in the day, a "wire" was received by R. L. (Rodeo Bob) Saunder from City Secretary El-land Lovejoy, who was with the riders, as follows: "OUT OF GEORGETOWN ON TIME. EI-LAND".

Information was received here last night that on arrival of Emmett Digby in Austin, letters would be taken by the Baniff Airlines to the Mayors of San Antonio, Corpus Christi and Brownsville, inviting their populace to Gatesville's 1939 extravaganza.

Among those who made the trip to Austin, either with or ahead of the riders, were C. H. Wallace and son, and Mayor C. E. Gandy and son.

Arrival in Austin, was scheduled to bring a broadcast from station KNOW and the presentation of the letters of invitation to the Governor and officials of the State Capitol. Both Senator J. Manly Head and Representative Weldon Burney, in addition to other former Gatesville people in the capitol and in the University of Texas were expected to be present.

MOON HOTEL HELD OPEN HOUSE LAST SATURDAY MARCH 4

Saturday evening between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock Mrs. Alyce Griffin held open house at the Moon Hotel. Mrs. Griffin is the new manager of the hotel, and has had charge of it only a few weeks, during which time she has made an excellent mark for herself. She is indeed a credit to the hotel and to its owner, Miss Lorraine Moon.

Approximately 125 people called during the evening. Many out-of-town people were present, but it was impossible to list all their names.

Frank Poole Jr. of Grand Prairie was a Gatesville visitor Sunday afternoon.

Kenneth Hedgepeth of College Station was in this city the past week end.

Red McGuffey and his "mouthpiece" J. B. Carlisle

$19,162 TEACHER'S SALARY AID IS RECEIVED MONDAY

Twenty-five schools in the county have received Teacher's Salary Aid, according to announcement received yesterday from the office of County Superintendent W. D. Stockburger.

Among those receiving this money were Turnersville, Leon, Arnett, Mountain, Bigham, Harmon, New Olive, Davidson, Antelope, Ireland, Longview, Woodward, Purmela, Ewing, Plainview, Evant, Belcher, Murrell, Harmony, Levita, Turnover, Flat and Topsey.

Other schools which did not get in their A. D. A. reports have not yet been awarded this additional money, and this includes some 13 schools.

COLORED BASKETBALL IN GYM TUESDAY NIGHT

Fans of the county will have their first opportunity to see colored basketball teams in action Tuesday night, when Prof. T. T. Germany's boys will take on another dusky aggregation from McGregor in the local gym.

In addition, Gatesville All-Stars will battle a like aggregation from McGregor.

There's to be more "color" in these games than any the fans have had opportunity to witness during the entire season, and a small admission will be charged for the evening's festivities.

"RACKET BUSTERS" AT REGAL: CLIP COUPON IN THIS ISSUE

At the Regal Theatre, this week, the feature attraction of News-Newspaper Night is Racket Busters, a melodrama concerning a group of truckmen who are forced to pay tribute to the racketeers.

There is plenty of action and suspense, and thrill, fans will thoroughly enjoy this feature.

The News is glad to present the coupons (inside) which entitles the bearer from 5c to 25c savings, depending on how many paid admissions are brought in each Thursday and Friday nights.

Clip out the coupon, as it is worth 5c on every adult ticket you buy on these nights.

The News is glad to be able to present these coupons to its readers and they may be gotten out of your Coryell County News if you are a subscriber. Savings on these coupons would pay for a subscription in a short time, if you are not on the list of subscribers now.

GATESVILLE, PIDCOKE, PLAINVIEW COP COUNTY TITLES

Gatesville's Hornettes, both seniors and juniors won the county championship of 11 grade schools by marching thru all opponents without a setback.

The seniors, paced by the uncanny goal shooting of little Madeline Patterson, romped thru a weak Flat sextette 33-19 in their opener, then eked out a close over a hustling Ireland club, 21-19, and clinched the title by smothering a fine Evant club 35-16.

Patterson was the individual star of the tournament. Besides looping more points than any of her mates, she played a fine floor game, and had it not been her hustling, the Hornette offense would have been embarrassingly impotent. She peppered the mesh for seventeen points in the Flat contest, looped 12 to win scoring honors in the Ireland tussle, and then tallied more in the championship contest. She was high scorer in all these games, and had the greatest total points of any tournament performer.

Odell James played an outstanding defensive game thruout the tourney. In fact, Gatesville's defense overshadowed their supposedly high-powered offense, which did not begin clicking until the final contest.

The junior Hornettes, led by Capt. Virginia Brown, Doris Patterson and Linnie Fae Turner, three fine forwards, won their division by a 23-18 victory over Turnersville in a game that was tight until the last quarter, when Gatesville pulled away for a fairly comfortable win.

Plainview annexed the nine-grade junior championship by taking a close from a hustling Ewing outfit, 12-11. Ewing led until the closing seconds of play when Moore, speedy Plainview forward, broke loose and sunk a crisp that put Plainview on top. Moore and Shoaf, also from Plainview, were the offensive leaders, while Apel, Plainview guard, played a fine defensive game.

The Pidcoke quint, coached by county junior title by whipping Plainview, Ewing and two Gatesville teams. They had a tough time disposing of Plainview, 15-10, but took a decisive victory over Ewing. Then they took Gatesville's high school juniors, who had previously defeated Flat and Pearl by large scores, by a score of 23-18 in a close game. Then in the county finals they came from behind to decision Gatesville's Junior high juniors, 25-20 in the best game of the tourney, Fry was Pidcoke's main offensive threat, while Kindler was an outstanding defensive man.

He who is afraid of being too generous has lost the power of being magnanimous.—Mary Baker Eddy.

THE SPORT SCROLL

By POST

Now that the county basketball tournaments are over and spring is here, high schools over the county will turn to America's national game, baseball. There seemed to be a great revival of high school baseball in this county last spring, and it is hoped by diamond fans over the county that there will continue to be an upswing of interest in that sport this year. Gatesville high, last year's county champs, have been working out for the past week despite the prevailing bad weather, and with the addition of Bowman and Newton, two Pidcoke boys, prospects are that Gatesville will have a better nine than the one that breezed thru all opposition last year. There are several gaps in the club's line-up, however, that need to be filled. According to reports, Jonesboro, the only team that beat Gatesville last year, will begin working out this week, and in all probability, several other clubs will begin.

Track, however, will still be in the limelight until the county meet three weeks hence. Judging from the present situation, it seems as if this year's county track and field meet will be a two-way affair between Gatesville and Pearl. For the first time in county meet history, Gatesville's track supremacy will be seriously challenged. Pearl is pinning its hopes on the fleet Jack Petty, but Gatesville still seems to have the better balanced squad.

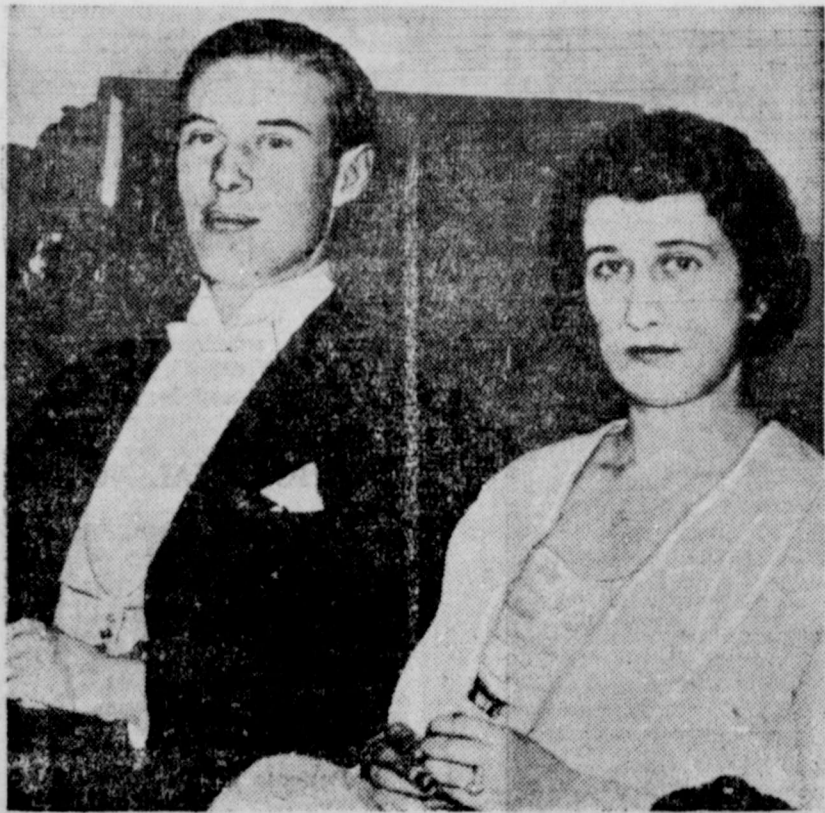

Plainview, little community west of Gatesville, can point with pride to their '39 basketball season. They won the nine grade senior championship, both boys and girls, and their junior girls copped the title in their division. This little school, which too often goes unnoticed in the eyes of the fans, has been turning out consistently good basketball teams for the past several years.

THE FIVE ISMS

Socialism: You own two cows, you give one to your neighbor.
 Communism: You give both cows to the government, and the government gives you back some of the milk.
 Fascism: You keep both cows, but give the milk to the government, which sells some of the milk back to you.
 New Deal Ism: You shoot one cow, milk the other and pour the milk down the sink.
 Texasism: You give both cows to the government, who in turn uses the milk to make biscuits, and the government then sells the biscuits to you charging a 1.6 transaction tax.—Exchange.

GLEANED FROM SOCIAL SERVICE INVESTIGATOR REPORTS

If you want a guest conductor some week why not use one of the recent "Here and There" columns of Editor Jim Rockwell of the Murphysboro (Ill.) Independent. For the past year Jim (in collaboration with others picked the best answers from reports of Social Service investigators. Whether or not they all came from Jackson county, Jim does not state. Nevertheless they're all gems. Here they are:

Woman and house neat but bare.
Man has ulcer on his stomach.
Man supported parents before marriage.
Woman has no job to be mentioned.
Woman is saving up for illness.
Couple breaking up home, friends helping.
Milk needed for baby and father is unable to supply it.
Delivered ice and was a man of affairs.
Couple have been completely stripped. Now are barely able to get along.

These people are extremely cultured. Something should be done about their condition.
Since Christmas family has been living on a Democratic club basket.
Man has diabetes and is insulated twice a day.
Couples only source of income is four boarders all out of work. They owe $600.
Man aggressive—has nine children.

Applicant's wife is making little garments through the kindness of a neighbor.
Applicant took job as janitor in home for working girls—lasted three weeks.
Nice quite home family. Dorothy has been out since July.
Applicant and wife are illegally separated.
Roomer pays no board as he usually acts as godfather.
The people have religious pictures all over the place, but seemed clean, however.

Man recently had operation but is able to hold any position he assumes.
Woman ailing at present—eye sight poor—does housework when able to find it.
Apartment crowded and untidy. Saw evidence of girl in clothing.
Woman says they are a delicate family and must have steamed apartment with eggs and oranges.
Applicant has one child, Lillian, who is three months old and owes 12 months rent.
Spoke to the wife and applicant who was straining to make ends meet.

Say woman. She has seven children. Husband a veteran.
Applicant is typical real American. He is the father of 8 children.
Woman still owes $45 for a funeral she had recently.
Woman in a quarry, too old to work, too young for pension.
Man hit by automobile—speaks broken English.
This woman is ill. She is being treated. The gas has been turned off.

This family seems to be just sitting around waiting for grandmother to get old enough for pension.
The daughter, Mary, is active mentally and otherwise. She has advanced herself but not at home.
Woman says husband has illness that sounds like arithmetic. I think she means arthritis.

Applicant says he is an Eagle. He and his wife have been living on a brother Eagle for the past two months. Last week wife fell and sprained a leg.

Woman says that no matter which way she looks at it, she has nothing.
Woman was deserted five years ago. Had it broadcast over radio. Family's savings all used up—relatives have helped.

Applicant's wife is a lady and hardly knows what it is all about.
Woman taught bridge and suffered broken leg.
Applicant worked in children's underwear. Let out recently.

Applicant and family got $15 from neighbors for moving from former address.
Saw mother and a child—evidence of a father.

Good type of American family—appear refined, but intelligent.
Woman is willing to struggle if given an opportunity.

Woman badly bruised—furniture man took bed springs.—Publisher's Auxiliary.

PURMELA H-D CLUB

"Samples of My Orchard or Garden Soil" was the answer for roll call when the club met with Mrs. J. N. Weeks March 2nd. Miss Gibson told us how to care for an orchard, its planting and how to combat various pests by the use of different sprays, samples of which she had. In answer to a question we asked about mildew on roses, she told us to use Bordeaux mixture as a spray.

At this meeting there were 12 present. Mrs. Blackstock and daughter, Clara, nieces of the hostess, were our visitors.

At our next meeting with Mrs. Q. F. Adams March 15th, each member is asked to bring a sample of her garden and orchard soil.

Baptist S. S. Class Has Meeting Wednesday

Officers and group leaders of the Young Matron's Class of the First Baptist Sunday School, taught by Mrs. Dan E. Graves, had a business meeting and luncheon at the church Wednesday, March 1. Plans for the revival meeting and enlistment for the class were discussed.

The officers and group leaders of this class are: Mesdames Cyril Hudson, Ernest Huey, B. K. Cooper, Joe Walker, Frank Brazzil, Merle Carroll, Allen Graham, Troy Jones, C. L. Bellamy, E. L. Boynton, Mattie Davis, Vera Richardson, J. L. Jensen, Donald McKinney, E. G. Rutherford, C. E. Cantrell, Gurtha Campbell, E. C. Bauman, R. J. Reynolds, S. L. Ashby, and John Hodges. Guests for this occasion were Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Spalding and Mrs. W. A. White.

This class will have a "tacky" party Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the adult assembly room at the church. All members and prospective members are urged to come.

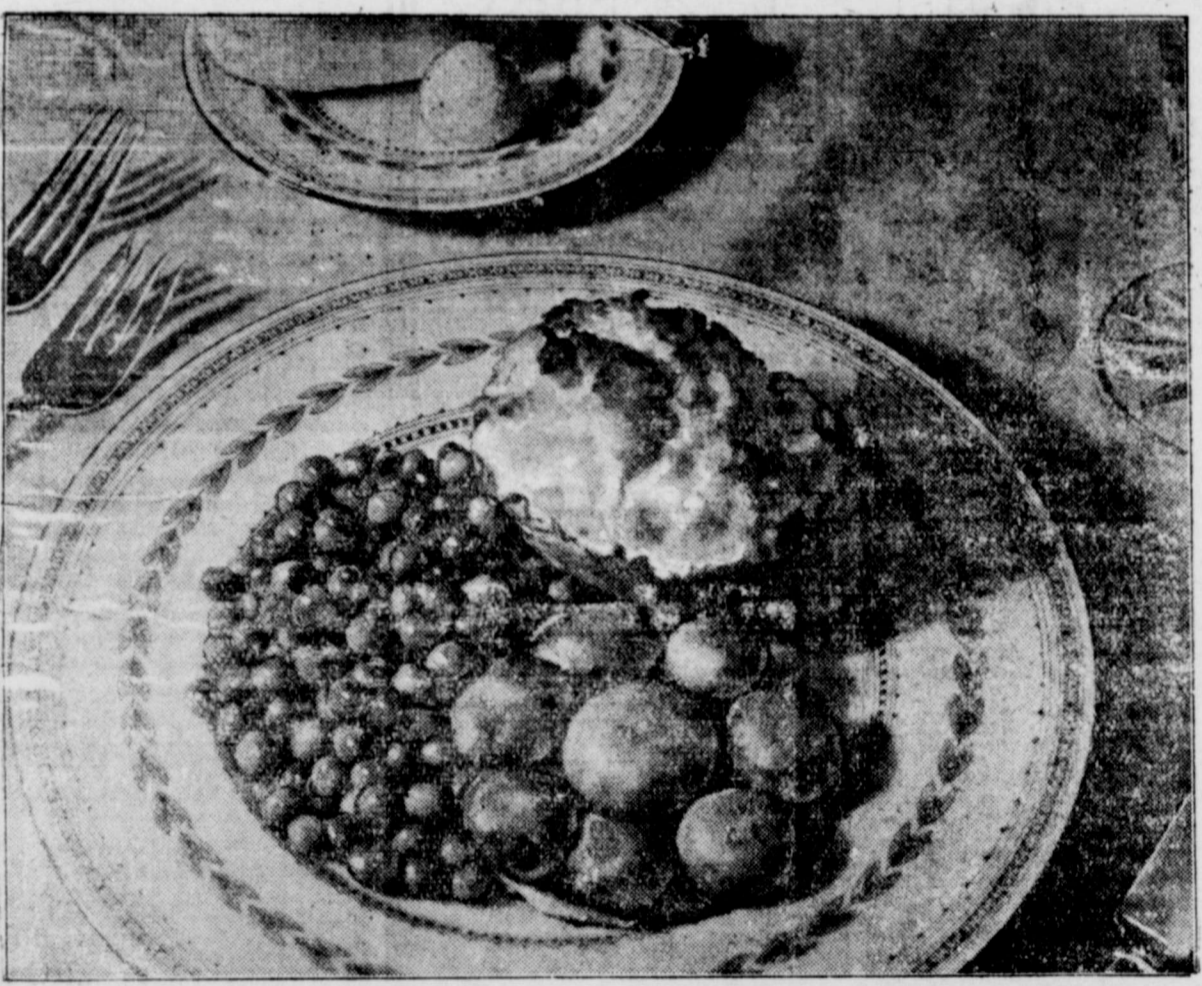

Truth never falters or fails; it is our faith that fails.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Meatless Dinners Need Extra Careful Planning

Says Dorothy Greig

Broiled mushrooms, green peas and rosy baked potatoes make a savory vegetable plate.

THESE tag end days of winter we all get tired. Tired of our winter clothes. Tired of getting up in the morning and pushing the members of the family out and on their way. Tired of heavy winter meals.

Some things we can't change. And some we can. Meals are among the changeables.

If you like to change off from meat occasionally, here are a couple of simple menus for meatless dinners that are substantial and nourishing and well balanced.

- Cream of Asparagus Soup
(to the condensed soup add milk instead of water)
- Macaroni and Tomato au Gratin
- Buttered Spinach
- Glazed Carrots
- Pecan Muffins
- Deep Dish Apple Pie
- Coffee

- *Macaroni and Tomato au Gratin
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 3 cups macaroni, cooked
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 can condensed tomato soup
- 3/4 cup grated cheese

Melt butter in saucepan and add the cooked macaroni. Heat well and then add the milk. Cook the macaroni in the butter and milk until all liquids have been absorbed by the macaroni. Then add the tomato soup and grated cheese. Heat until the cheese is well melted and the flavors blended. Serves 6-8.

- Celery Soup
- Broiled Mushrooms on Toast
- *Rosy Baked Potatoes
- Green Peas
- Bran Muffins
- Cheese Cake
- Tea with Lemon

Rosy Baked Potatoes
(these actually are a rosy color. They taste as good as they look.)
Bake the potatoes. Scoop out the shells and mash well or put through a ricer. For each medium sized potato add:
2 tablespoons condensed tomato soup
1/4 teaspoon salt
Pinch of pepper
2 teaspoons butter
1 tbs. sharp grated cheese.
Mix all together thoroughly and put mixture back in potato shell. Brown in hot oven or under broiler.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

PLAY SECOND FIDDLE TO FEMALES?
'NOT ON OUR LIFE,' SAY HOME EC LADS AND COOK A MEAL TO PROVE IT

Denton—Forty high school boys enrolled in home economics classes at the North Texas State Teacher's College this fall are demonstrating that the male doesn't have to play second fiddle to women in anything—including cooking.

When the Demonstration school FFA chapter gave its annual father and son banquet recently, home ec boys, under the supervision of Miss Editha Luecke of the Teachers College staff, stepped in to the home economics laboratory kitchen and cooked the meal.

The boys working under the supervision of Miss Luecke and a group of student teachers, prepared and served everything with the exception of the meat, barbecuing of which was donated by a local restaurant. The menu included fruit cocktail, creamed potatoes, buttered carrots, spiced pickles, hot rolls, cake, coffee, and ice cream.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN

Austin.—If the people of Texas want to assume a new tax burden of $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 a year in order to pay liberal pensions to aged people, school teachers, dependent persons and those with impaired eye-sight, they are going to have to say so with votes at the ballot box, sometime this summer.

That appeared to be the consensus of informed opinion in Austin this week end, as the House of Representatives sent all of the various tax bills it has received to a subcommittee with instructions to bring out recommended legislation without delay. Whatever tax plans are submitted to raise the social security money, they will, in the opinion of those closely in touch with the situation, be incorporated in one or more constitutional amendments.

A Taxless Session

This Legislature appears at this time entirely unwilling to heap that much tax burden upon the citizens without a direct mandate at the ballot box. So the prospect at this writing is that this will be an entirely taxless session of the Legislature.

Whether the constitutional plan incorporating a tax program will be a series of amendments, offering alternate proposals, such as a sales tax, a "use" tax, a transaction tax, an income tax, a gross receipts tax, and increased natural resource tax, or whether it will be a single "omnibus" amendment, including several of these tax plans, depends entirely upon the prevailing sentiment among members of the House committees on taxation and revenue and on constitutional amendments.

The familiar arguments against each of the tax forms mentioned have been heard by the legislators from spokesmen from each of the affected groups. The sales tax, obviously is a burden upon the lower income group—the farmer, the laborer and the small salaried worker. The transaction tax is a multiple sales tax, with its evils and burdens multiplied. The gross income and "use" taxes are but sales taxes, with the collection method simplified. The natural resource people claim they are approaching the breaking point in their ability to pay further taxes. The protests from representatives of almost every economic group, including, farmers, labor, manufacturers, retail merchants, oil men and consumers have poured into Austin until many of the legislators are convinced that the best way out of the maze is to check the problem back to the people.

May End Santa Claus Era

They think that the voters who are at work, trying to make a living, educate their children, pay their taxes and carry on a normal life, may be shocked into backing the legislators in a sane and sensible social security program that will take care of actually needy people, and not attempt to play Santa Claus to everybody in the State. They point out that this type of citizen still outnumbers the group who want "something for nothing," many predict that if the legislature checks it back to the people as a whole to write the formula for extracting $30,000,000 to 40,000,000 of additional taxes from their depleted incomes, they may go to the ballot box and turn thumbs down on the "pensions for everybody" program of the demagogues and professional pension agitators.

Meanwhile, conservative sentiment in both houses is proceeding on the theory that if the tax problem is submitted to the voters for solution, the way will be cleared to effect some governmental economy, achieve an improved fiscal setup for the State government, abolish some useless bureaus and commissions, and pare down the excessive operating costs of some departments. The regular appropriation bills will be given the most careful scrutiny this session, and present plans call for the taking of plenty of time to consider them, instead of rushing them to conference committees the last 48 hours of the session for hasty and ill-considered action.

Whatever the outcome of the referendum plan on taxes when the people finally pass on it, the legislators feel that they cannot go wrong politically by leaving it to the voters. If the voters voluntarily assume the huge tax burden, the solons have a perfect alibi; while, if they reject it, no one can accuse the members of House and Senate of "failure" to take care of the old folks.

PRISCILLA CLUB

The Priscilla Club met at its regular meeting March 1st at the home of Mrs. Bob Alford. As the hostess had no work to do, the afternoon was spent in playing 84. At the business meeting, the contest that is being put on by the Cameron Lumber Co. was discussed. We decided to enter and use the money we earn in our club house. We asked our friends, and friends of other clubs if they did not register, to register for the Priscilla Club. This contest is held sometime in March or April. Our visitors for the afternoon were Mrs. Raymond Mayberry and Jimmie Alford. Refreshments of popcorn, cookies, and apples were served.

Our next meeting will be March 15th at the home of Mrs. N. P. and Miss Estelle Cooper with an all day meeting.

JOHN P. REESING IS NAMED "PREXY" RETAIL MERCHANT'S ASSO'N.

On Tuesday night, Retail Merchant's Association, enjoyed a very profitable meeting, in the office of that organization. A brief history of the accomplishments of the organization, since its inception, some 18 months ago, was given by Evan J. Smith, local secretary. Mr. John Reesing, manager of The Gatesville Drug Company was elected president and up taking the chair, nominated a committee of four to recommend a board of directors to be elected at the next meeting. Those serving on the committee are, Chairman Morton Scott, with assistants as Byron Leaird Jr., Will Guggolz, and Dr. Otis Ray. Following this nomination the new president refused to make a speech, but appointed Dr. Ray to make the speech for him at the next regular meeting. Several subjects of much interest to the local merchants were discussed, one new member obtained during the meeting, and with all a very enjoyable time was had. The first Tuesday night in each month was selected for the regular meeting night, but due to that date falling so near the last meeting, the next regular meeting will be held the first Tuesday night in April which falls on the fourth day of the month.

LEVITA SCHOOL NEWS

Teachers, pupils, and parents are working on county meet work. The Junior Boys lost a game of basketball to the Jonesboro Eagles last Friday night, and being the last game for both clubs, there was some real fire, the game ended in a tie and four extra periods were required and the Eagles won by a 2 point margin.

Play ground ball is well under way, with Sam Pendleton, "Sheriff" Roedler and Esteen Snoodly being heavy on the bat.

Don't miss the big play Friday night, the 10th entitled "Ten Nights in the Bar Room," a real theatre play with a modern temperance lesson, good novelty between act numbers, a wonderful cast and stage setting. Don't miss it. A small admission will be charged.

Well-Planted Is Half Made

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

The best time to cultivate the crop is before it is planted. All the things that go into the making of a good seed bed for the particular crop affect the harvest months ahead, and no amount of cultivation afterwards will overcome the lack of proper preparation before the seed goes into the ground. Besides, putting the bare land in good tilth ahead of planting time is easier to do than to worry with cloddy, trashy fields in the first cultivation when the little seedling are so easy to cover up.

You cannot make a full yield without a full stand; you cannot get a good stand without a good seed bed and good seed; you can not hold a full stand in a rough field without wasting a lot of time at the first cultivation; and you can't give the tender seedlings that extra boost by an early working with harrow or fine-tooth cultivator in rough land. Add it all up and it is better to delay planting a few days to prepare a good seed bed than to "nigger it in" and hope of "luck"

All the work that goes into building or repairing terraces, plowing, bedding on the contour, re-bedding (and pulverizing where needed) is done more rapidly and can be done with a greater variety of implement than the work of planting and cultivating. The work of preparation also has wider limits in time since (except for the final operation just prior to planting) it can be done as well one week as another. This is not true after the most favorable date of planting comes around on the calendar. From that time until the final cultivation every operation must be timed to the needs of the crop if best results are to be had.

The seedling stage is the most critical in the life of the plant, and the quicker the seedlings are able to establish good roots and and shoot up a vigorous stature the better the prospects of a crop and the easier to cultivate. If they have to struggle against poor soil conditions for germination and root formation they may never entirely overcome it, and if they do, they will be puny at the time they should be healthy. Whoever has painfully and slowly struggled to keep from covering up the little plants at the first cultivation knows how slow it goes, and wishes for the upstanding seedlings which spring from good seed in a good soil.

All seeds carry the food for starting the seedling on its way, but the food stored in the seed is soon exhausted. If soil conditions encourage rapid and vigorous root formation the plant is drawing food from the soil before the supply in the seed is exhausted, and grows off without delay. In a poor seed bed some plants die after germination for no other reason than that they were unable to establish roots quickly enough; others struggle along with

No Soil, but Presto! Cucumbers!

"Everyone could have a garden in his bathtub," says Miss Teddy Price of Abernathy, amateur biologist at Texas State College for Women, as she points proudly to her prize specimens in a "Water Culture" experiment. This cucumber and tomato vine are two of a whole greenhouse full of plants and vegetables which have been cultivated without soil, in clean sand and a chemical solution.

With the aid of Miss Willie I. Birge, head of the biology department, Teddy prepared a culture solution containing potassium, calcium, magnesium, nitrogen, sulphur, iron, borax, copper and zinc, a line-up which seems a far cry from plain dirt. Plants can be grown in water tanks, but the sand gives support, and solution is applied to it at regular intervals. Water culture is now used in a small way commercially.

SYNOPSIS

When bank robbers threaten to kill her brother unless she gets a truck in which they can make a getaway, Jane Hartman, beautiful bank secretary, hires Tony Andrews, independent trucker to the gang's hideaway. The truck is barricaded and Tony is forced to drive across the county line. When police get too close for comfort, Tony is ordered to swerve off the highway toward an abandoned barn where a plane is hidden. Gibbs, leader of the gang, decides to kill Jane. Tony and her brother and leave in the plane. Tony thinks fast and tells them of an ideal hideaway his ranch near the border. The leader relents and they all pack into the plane as the police arrive on the scene.

CHAPTER IX

TONY had not lied to Mr. Gibbs: the abandoned farm to which he helped Randall pilot the plane was an ideal hide-out—isolated and far off the beaten track. Mr. Gibbs was delighted. Despite the strain of the situation, Jane and Tony found it pleasant. Only Randall fretted at the delay and drank as much whisky as Mr. Gibbs would bring him from the nearest store, using Tony's battered old car which he kept at the farm. Charlie, convalescing from his wound, was not happy with his thoughts either.

Lying by the window of the farmhouse one afternoon, Charlie overheard Tony enthusiastically planning the future of this farm. He would grow everything—cattle, grain, vegetables. And Tony's delight knew no bounds when he discovered that Jane was the daughter of an Ohio farmer; she, too, loved the soil.

"In all the planning I've done for this place I always thought of it for myself alone," Tony told Jane as Charlie listened. "Now I don't think it even would be worth doing, unless—" As Tony attempted to take her hand, Jane pulled away.

"It's no good, Tony," she said. "It's not fair to you. I have a little problem of my own named Charlie."

"You can't sacrifice your whole life for him," Tony protested.

As they talked, Charlie reached under his pillow and withdrew the pearl-handled gun which Jane had taken from the bank. Although Mr. Gibbs had extracted the clip, he had overlooked one cartridge in the firing chamber.

Mr. Gibbs and Randall strolled up. The former was completely at ease; Randall was nervous and irritated. "Sorry to interrupt this charming little tete-a-tete," Mr. Gibbs said, "but I want you to drive me into town for supplies, Tony. We'll fill up the gas tank of the car again, too, and then siphon it into the fuel tank of the plane. We don't dare buy too much gas at one time; might make these hill-billies suspicious."

Mr. Gibbs turned to Randall. "I'm going to get a couple of gallons of paint also," he explained. "Every cop in the country has a description of that plane as it is: you can work off your bad temper by giving it a complete new paint job."

As Mr. Gibbs and Randall walked toward the car, Tony whispered to Jane: "I'm going to try to get a message to the store-keeper while I'm in town today."

"Be careful," Jane whispered back. "Oh, here's something I found in the kitchen cupboard. Maybe they'll come in handy." She gave Tony a handful of shotgun shells. Tony eyed them dubiously. "They're not much use without a shotgun," he said ruefully as he dropped them in his pocket and followed Mr. Gibbs to the car.

When the trail of the bank bandits ended with the takeoff of the plane into a black sky, Captain Gonzales and his men went back over the ground in town, searching with redoubled vigor for a clue to the plane's possible destination. It was the woman who ran the lunchroom where Jane had met Tony who eventually supplied them with a tip.

In reply to Captain Gonzales' questions she happened to mention that Tony had purchased an old car which he announced he was going to convert into a tractor. A tractor meant a farm, obviously. Had Tony Paused only to lock his store door, he raced down the street to the Sheriff's office. As the storekeeper dashed in, Captain Gonzales and Sergeant Bosen were questioning the local representative of the law.

"Are you sure there have been no strangers around here?" Gonzales repeated for the third time.

"Nope—and I told you before I ain't seen any planes going over either."

"Hey, Sheriff! I been robbed," the storekeeper broke in. "Some fellers came in and stole six watches right off my counter. They were strangers I never saw them before—"

Captain Gonzales interrupted. "Strangers? What did they look like?"

"Get this plane started," Charlie ordered, "or I'll blow you right out of the front end of it!"

mentioned the locale of his place? Yes, somewhere up in Mungo County, the woman remembered.

Within ten minutes Captain Gonzales and Sergeant Bosen were in a police car speeding northward in the direction of Mungo County and its county seat.

Try as he might, Tony could not escape Mr. Gibbs' eternal vigilance. At the gas station he insisted on Tony remaining at the wheel while the car's tank was filled to the brim. In the general store he kept Tony close beside him as the provisions were purchased. In vain Tony sought a chance to get a word or two with the proprietor or to scribble a brief note.

The food supplies consisted of cheese, bread, butter, cold meats and similar articles. Mr. Gibbs had ordered that no fires should be built to avoid calling attention to their hide-out. Nor did he forget the paint for the re-finishing of the plane.

Only as they were packing the purchases from the store to the car did Tony get a brief moment alone. There was no time for note-writing. Tony looked around desperately. On the counter was a card displaying a half-dozen cheap watches. Working swiftly, Tony tore all of the watches from their places and crammed them into his pocket.

As Tony and Mr. Gibbs drove away the storekeeper reentered and immediately noted the missing watches.

"One o' them was a young feller and the other was a little bird about 50 with a derby and an umbrella—"

Again Gonzales interrupted. He had heard enough. "Which way did they head?" he demanded.

"West—toward the hills," the storekeeper replied.

The two police officers raced for their car and started in pursuit.

Clutching the gun, Charlie dragged himself painfully toward the plane. From within came the sound of a radio. Randall was listening to police reports of the search for them. He was aroused by Charlie's voice. "Turn that thing off and start the plane!" Charlie ordered. Randall stared at Charlie and the gun in amazement. As Randall failed to move, Charlie repeated his order.

"There's one cartridge left in this gun that Mr. Gibbs overlooked," he said. "Get this plane started or I'll blow you right out of the front end of it!"

There was no mistaking the grim determination in Charlie's voice. Randall shrugged and stepped on the starter. Slowly he taxied the plane out onto the meadow as Charlie took his place in the rear seat where he could see Randall's every move.

The sound of the plane's motor brought Jane to the door. As she watched, the ship climbed steeply and circled to the south.

a partial root system and finally survive, but are they never as strong, as large, as fruitful, as those which grow naturally. Climatic hazards affect all plants of the same kind alike, but the vigorous ones recover quickest from cold, excess moisture, or other uncontrollable hazard.

Every farmer knows what constitutes a good seed bed in his particular soil and how to make it good. He also knows the different seed bed requirements of the crops he regularly plants, and that some are more tolerant of unfavorable soil conditions than others. This tolerance, however, is no excuse for placing the burden on the plant. Everything that can be done to make its start in life easy pays off in the long run, and controllable factors properly attended to reduce the danger from the uncontrollable factors—weather etc.

Ask the most successful farmers you know and they will agree that a crop well planted is half made.

MACHINES AND FARM LABOR

For four days and nights last month, hundreds of ragged sharecroppers camped forlornly along two main highways in southeastern Missouri. Their object, they said, was to call attention to the poverty of a large class of farm laborers.

Although the demonstrators themselves blamed the Federal government and their landlords, it was said in some quarters that their plight could be traced in part to the increasingly widespread use of farm machinery. Last week, holders of this view were backed up by a 114-page report from the National Research Project of the Works Progress Administration.

Called "Changes in Farm Power and Equipment: Tractors, Automobiles and Trucks," the report disclosed: (1) that between 1930 and 1938, the number of tractors in use on farms had increased 66 per cent, with 13.5 per cent of the nation's farms now owning one or more tractors; (2) that in 1930, the last year of which figures are available, there were 4,134,362 autos on farms—an increase of approximately 100 per cent in 10 years; and (3) that in 1930, the number of motor trucks in use on farms was 900,385—an increase of 300 per cent in 10 years.

As a result of this increased farm mechanization, said the report, about a million man-hours of agricultural labor has been wiped out in the last 10 years. Also as a result, more than a billion man-hours of work have been created in the industries producing and servicing the machines. Although increased farm mechanization has not added to unemployment as a whole, the report stated, it has added to employment among farm laborers, because "the new jobs created, generally, are in cities hundreds of miles away from the farm laborers homes and call for skill and training which few farm workers possess."

DEBT ADJUSTMENT NECESSITATED BY LOW FARM INCOME

Because farm income was greatly curtailed last year by low prices and widespread drought during the growing season, farmers of Coryell County now have a great need than ever before for services of their county farm debt adjustment committee, H. L. Gantz, Dallas, State FDA supervisor, said today.

The Coryell County committee will meet on Monday March 6th at 10:00 A. M. at Gatesville, it was announced by W. V. Hanover, Waco, district supervisor.

"Foreclosure of their farmstead is facing many people of this area, according to George C. Moore, Gatesville, Farm Security Administration supervisor, whose agency has charge of debt adjustment work. "Many Farmers who own their own team and tools are going to lose them if we can't help with the mortgage holders," he added, pointing out that tenants who have encumbered livestock and equipment are also welcome to the service.

"This service is free and confidential," Mr. Moore continued. "The committee seeks to work out an agreement between debtor and Care is a very important factor in having a good orchard. The main essentials in the care of the orchard are cultivation, including intercropping and cover crops, pruning and spraying.

Three new members were added to the club list. Those were: Mrs. Henry Gatlin, Mrs. Jim Spray, Mrs. Buddie Lang. Visitors present were Miss Zell Kinsey of Gatesville and Miss Pauline Ditto of Ireland. The next regular meeting has been changed from March 14 to Tuesday, March 21 for a meeting with Miss La Grone, Hamilton County Home Demonstration Agent. This meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. C. Barron.

Three kinds of cake and coffee and cocoa were served to: Mesdames L. C. Perryman, Jack Billingsly, Eldon Harris, Joe Glaze, Bessie Brown, J. B. Sanders, J. C. CRIME ODDITIES

In the realm of crime, almost anything can happen. Last week's criminal news was dotted with such oddities as these:

In 1934, Sylvester Warner, a Kentuckian, was sentenced to die for murdering and 82-year-old man for $11 loot. On the eve of his execution, Governor Ruby Laffoon granted him a stay. Thirteen months later, when Laffoon handed over the office to Governor A. B. Chandler, Warner was still in his cell. The case came up several times, but Chandler took no action, and Warner sat in the death house watching 25 other men march to the chair. Last month, Governor Chandler finally reviewed the slaying and set an execution date. Last fortnight, after a wait of nearly five years, the 29-year-old "forgotten man" walked to his doom.

While he was serving a term for robbery in the Missouri State Penitentiary at Jefferson City, in 1934, 22-year-old Robert West was put to work helping to build a new lethal gas chamber. To fellow convicts, he voiced a gruesome hunch—that some day he would die in that chamber. Last week, convicted of murdering a 20-year-old girl while he was out on parole, West was awaiting execution by the instrument which he helped construct.

Four years ago, 52-year-old Clifford Shephard of Newark, N.J., was arrested for the first time in his life, convicted of forgery and sent to prison for 28 months. He always claimed innocence, blaming his conviction on the fact that he closely resembles one Eugene Sullivan, known to police as the "phantom forger". Last week, accused of passing a bad check for $39, Shephard was on his way to seek aid from his "phantom double" now serving a long term in the state prison at Waupun, Wis. "The check was passed by my double," Shephard declared. "But I am afraid I will go to prison again unless he will give me an affidavit."

With Shephard on his odd mission was his clergyman, who intended to "appeal to decency and the humanitarian spirit of Sullivan."

EVERYTHING TO BE READY FOR FIRST RODEO
APRIL 21-22

Things are taking shape down on the Lampasas Fair Grounds for the first rodeo days of the year which will be April 21 and 22, when four performances will be started the afternoon and night of each day, with the opening big parade at 10 a. m. the first day.

The Lampasas Rodeo Association is spending a lot of money in preparing the grounds for the occasions of the year which will bring here some of the finest rodeo stock to be had anywhere. Something like $2,500.00 will be the cost of the work done, according to some of the directors and the management. The large arena is 180 by 345 feet and is as fine as can be found anywhere. This is fenced completely and has all new cedar posts. There are four large rest reserves built with cedar ports and strong oak lumber, eight turnout shoots, a calf shoot, four large catch pens, and the judges' box. This is the old box entirely repaired and new posts put in to make it substantial.

Besides the bleachers of the regular fair, which need some attention, there will be some five hundred seats on the southeast side of the arena. Everything is being done to make room and ample facilities to accommodate the outstanding rodeos which will be held here during the year.

Blacky Johnson knows his stuff when it comes to rodeos, the same as when it comes to auction sales. His long experience fully equips him for the management of this rodeo association.—Lampasas Record

The Safety Sensation of 1939!

Firestone CHAMPION

The Only Tire Made with the
NEW SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY and NEW GEAR-GRIP TREAD...

NEVER before in our experience has a tire met with such instant and unanimous approval as the new Firestone Champion Tire. It's the Safety Sensation of 1939! Our customers have started a word-of-mouth campaign that is making this the biggest selling tire we've ever had. Motor car manufacturers have been so impressed by its superior performance that they have adopted it for their 1939 models.

Why? Because the Firestone Champion Tire is an entirely new achievement in safety engineering.

Stronger Cord Body. This is accomplished first, by the use of a completely new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to assure cooler running and provide greater strength. Then, the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves, are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping which provides amazingly greater strength. And greater strength means greater safety.

More Non-Skid Mileage. The new Safety-Lock cord construction provides the extra strength needed for the use of the new, thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip tread which delivers remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design — it has more than 3,000 sharp-edged angles which grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and assure a safe stop.

Drive in today and equip your car with a new set of Firestone Champion Tires — the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

REFUGEES RESCUE BEGUN

Last August, 70 year old George Rublee, a Washington, D. C. lawyer, became executive director of the 32 nation Intergovernmental Committee for Political Refugees. His was a monumental task: that of rescuing persecuted Jews from Germany.

Not until the middle of last month was Rublee received in Berlin. Not until last week, when the Committee resumed its meetings in London, did the world learn that he had achieved a surprising success.

In London, Rublee read an important document, initialed by Dr. Helmuth Wohlthat, personal advisor to Hermann Goering, Nazi economics dictator. Entirely unprecedented, it expressed in concrete form the Nazi government's willingness to cooperate in evacuating Jews from Germany.

By the statement's terms, an exodus of German Jews was to be finished within five years. Some 150,000 Jews between the ages of 15 and 45 were to migrate first; as soon as they were established abroad, they were to be followed by their wives, children and other closely related dependents, numbering about 250,000.

Some 2,000,000 Jews over 45 were to be left behind to live out their days "quietly and without persecution." Jews in Germany were to be allowed to go back to work. Many Jewish businesses were reopened.

Migration was to be financed from a trust fund amounting to "at least one-fourth" of all Jewish wealth in Germany. Jews were to be allowed to take with them transportation tickets, personal property and equipment for earning a living; nothing was said about cash.

Not solely a personal triumph for Rublee, Germany's offer seemed even more to be an admission that Nazi international trade had been cut severely by boycotts that followed the wave of Jewish persecution last November. Convinced, nevertheless, that rescue work was well begun, Rublee resigned.

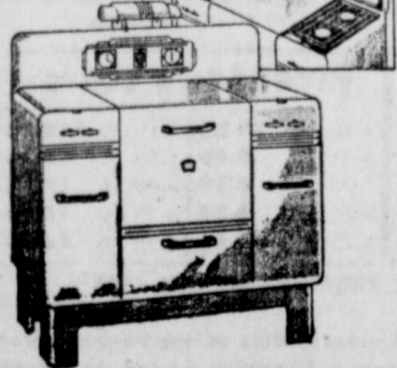

Succeeding to the American's place, British Sir Herbert Emerson still had two tough nuts to crack. First was to get somewhere about $300,000,000 to help Jewish emigration. Second was to find new homes for Jews.

Promptly American delegate Myron Taylor delivered assurances that the United States, under its present immigration laws, would continue to receive 27,000 German immigrants a year. The Australian delegate declared that his nation would take 15,000 Jews over a three-year period. Even from the delegate of the little Dominican Republic came a big offer: his country would accept 100,000 Jews.
