TOM FREEMAN HAS SCS WORK

A complete conservation farming program brings extra profits to the tenant as well as the land owner according to E. R. Johnson, who operates the 88 acre Tom Freeman farm 7 miles southwest of Gatesville.

"The program which Mr. Freeman installed on this farm has increased the value of the farm to me because it has enabled me to get greater yearly returns from the farm as a whole," Johnson said. "This extra profit is gained in several ways. In the first place my crops will yield more, are easier to cultivate and will not suffer during summer months. The system of terracing, strip cropping and contour tillage will prevent any further losses of seed and young crops during heavy spring rain. Another source of additional income will be from the proper use of land which was idle under the old plan."

Before the Soil Conservation program was installed on the Freeman farm two large gullies had already appeared thru the cultivated field. The new plan, which was made with the assistance of Soil Conservation Service technicians, eliminated one of the gullies by terracing. The other was fenced out and sodded to serve as a waterway to outlet the terrace system. This strip is connected to the pasture and will furnish additional grazing area on land which heretofore produced no income.

Mr. Johnson is well pleased with the new system and agrees with many other tenants on conservation operated farms thruout the country that soil conservation pays both the renter and the landlord.

They raise cocoa, coconuts, nuts, sugar cane, and of course the Pitch Lake is one of the few wonders of the world. Large groves of bamboo trees make beautiful sights and they call a certain spreading tree the Salmon Tree. It looks like the Banyon tree of Hawaii, a very beautiful blooming hedge here is called the Hibiscus. I'm not sure about the spelling of that word but it is pronounced like that.

Yesterday I went on a sightseeing trip to the one and only Pitch Lake in the world. It is a volcanic substance commonly known as tar or pitch and asphalt. For forty-five years this project has been in operation and to look at the place they are digging in, one would think they have only been working it for a couple of days. Why? Because this hard black substance that famed geologists from all over the world have puzzled over, continues to rise at night and fill in the hole where pitch is removed at any time. There is a slight rise in elevation between this lake and the ocean. On this elevated or higher ground is located the large plant where this material is boiled down and put in barrels and containers and shipped all over the world. The streets of Gatesville came out of this lake just like all other running from the plant or machinery down to and out upon the lake. All-metal cars about the size of an ordinary wagon bed are run to and from this lake by means of a cable system. Strange as it may seem, a circular system of buckets is run out into the ocean where ships tie up and take on this raw and crude pitch just like it is from the lake. You can stand near by and watch the buckets pass: coming and going, these going are loaded and those coming from the ships are naturally empty. I took several camera shots of this whole thing and trust that they will come out in such a way that I can show you what I am taking about and you can get an idea of the whole thing. Even though the lake was the climax of our trip we saw lots of nice scenery along the way. It reminds me of Hawaii to a great extent with the many groves of palm trees aid all the green vegetation and jungles which is true of practically any tropical countries. All these peoples are of mixed blood

McCoy teach canaries to whistle complete songs, like "Yankee Doodle" and "Grandma's Advice." Twelve finished "graduates" a year is a good average, she says.

Captain Boycott was a much despised English landlord's agent, because he reduced wages of the Irish tenant farmers. In a mass meeting, the rebellious tenants decided to have nothing more to do with him or members of his family. Thus, this effective method of disapproval first got its name — the boycott.

Reception Presents Mrs. Putman and Fetes Mrs. Lee

A society affair of dominant note was given on St. Patrick's Day in the afternoon hours by Mrs. Edward Albert Perry at her home on west Ross street, complimenting her sister, Mrs. Lena Lee of McGregor, who was visiting in Hamilton, and presenting Mrs. Electra Putman, a charming new resident of this city.

Receiving with Mrs. Perry and her honorees were Mrs. A. T. Jones, Mrs. Johnnie Johnson and Mrs. W. Ewing Sikes. The house party included, Mrs. Henry W. Weiser, Mrs. Harold H. Stroud, Mrs. J. Virgil James Sr., Mrs. M. Brents Witty and Mrs. J. G. Walker. The floral adornment of the reception suite thruout was suggestive of Spring in every detail. The seasonal idea was featured in the music and living rooms with great bowls of paper white narcissi and lace fern fronds, and floor baskets of peach and plum blossoms placed on either side the fern banked fireplace, where the mantle held a vase of white carnations and ferns in the center with English ivy trailing gracefully from the vase the length of the board and reaching to the floor on the opposite sides of the hearth. The refreshment table, lace laid, was graced by crystal punch bowls at either end, and in the center cluster of white narcissi and lace fern reflected on a mirror plaque, flanked with silver candleabra holding tall green candles. The group of beautiful and gracious tea girls included Miss Mary Sabrina McKelvain, Mrs. Arthur Searcy, Miss Wilhelmina Petty, Miss Charline Chandler, Miss Kate Poston. The plate held green and white sandwiches and mints, shamrock cookies and toasted pecans. Lime punch was served in crystal glasses.

During the afternoon talented musicians of the city in the persons of Mrs. Hary Boynton, Miss Eulalie Williams, Mrs. Craik Pierson, pianists, and Miss Winifred Williams, violinist played for the entertainment of the seated groups who remained for short visits with Mrs. Putman and Mrs. Lee.

A large number of friends were bidden to the home and were privileged to call and meet Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Putman.

Mrs. Electra Putman arrived last week from her former home in Oglesby, Coryell County, and is residing with her nephew, Ed Wollard and little daughter, Peggy Louise. This newly formed family circle occupies a Harelik apartment on south Rice avenue. Mrs. Putman is a sister of Barney Wollard of Gatesville, and the members of this well known family have many friends in Hamilton and this section, as well as the friends of Ed and Peggy Wollard to welcome the charming matron to Hamilton.—Hamilton Herald-Record.

Soil Conservation Club Entertained Friday

Members and additional guests of the Soil Conservation Club were entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Porter, club hostess, on west Bridge street.

Purple and white flags decorated the party rooms, and vases and bowls of japonicas were placed at vantage points about the rooms.

Players included the following members: Mesdames Richard Dickie, Doyle Singleton, Emmett Stewart, Ray Scruggs, A. T. Ray, Paul Hardie, Joe Faulk, Sam J. Nixon, and E. W. White. Guests were Mesdames John Neubauer, George Spindle of Dallas, and H. H. Spodie of Waco. Mrs. Ray Scruggs was recipient of the high score award.

WHEN you view the night club sequence in "Second Fiddle," Sonja Henie's next picture, you'll be seeing the real thing. Sensationally popular, although it was opened only about four months ago (Dec. 26), the Earl Carroll Theatre-Restaurant rapidly has become an institution in Hollywood. The fact it'll be used in the film is significant of the cinema capital's acceptance of it as the nation's number one glamor spot—and if you see a slight, gentle looking gentleman in the picture, it'll be Earl Carroll—who may be contracted to play himself in the scenes!

We have it on good authority that Bob Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck will say "I do" on May 1.

Competent radio dramatic actresses aren't to be found as easily as stage and screen troupers. That is why the airline producers wear broad smiles when they secure the services of PAULA WINSLOWE, who is heard regularly on the Wednesday oil programs (CBS) and "Big Town."

Jean Blondell was backstage when her hubby, Dick Powell, made his debut on the "Tuesday Night Party" program, March 21, but she was so nervous she couldn't sit on one spot for five minutes at a stretch. If Dick was jittery, it wasn't apparent.

By the way, Kate Smith has become the first private citizen to be awarded the Army and Navy Legion of Valor medal for outstanding Americanism.

What is American music? If you think you have the right answer to that question you'd be wise to listen to Phil Spitalny's network program on Mondays to see how you can enhance your bankroll by writing a letter which will be instrumental in determining what type of tunes we enjoy most in our country.

Meet the new announcer of Edward G. Robinson's "Big Town" program, JOHN CONTE, whose engaging personality has won him a host of fans. John announced the Al Pearce program when it was broadcast from Hollywood and has had many other important network assignments in the past few years.

Add Americanism note: Marlene Dietrich can quote more passages from the Constitution than any actress in Hollywood because she had to study it diligently to gain her citizenship.

Hold everything! The Jones Family was slated to appear in a screenplay with a World's Fair setting, but Twentieth Century-Fox biggies have decided to give that ever-popular group a trip to the Grand Canyon to see what kind of domestic comedy can be born against such an awe-inspiring background.

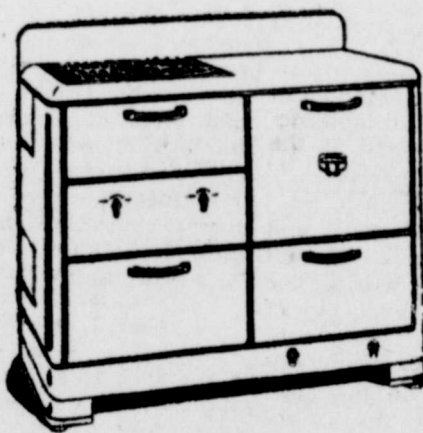

Jesse L. Lasky's "Gateway to Hollywood" program (Sunday, CBS) starts a search for unknown singers April 9, and MAESTRO WILBUR HATCH will write special musical arrangements for all contestants.

Hildegard, comely vocalist on the "Raymond Paige, 99 Men and a Girl" program, is under the scrutiny of Hollywood's picture talent scouts.

The County Meet isn't over yet, tennis and track finals come Saturday next.

Success, is the opinion of all who have been taken to about the meet, and so far, with no finals in track, one record has fallen; the 880 yard run, and the new record we are told is 2 min, 8 and 7-10 seconds.

It's time to start unlimbering the soft balls, and getting ready for the City Soft Ball League, which was won last year by Coca-Cola Bottling Company, with the Highway Department running them a close second.

Also, we'd like to hear something about the County Baseball League—you know it's that time, and the boys ought to be limbering up. There's a cup also in our window, which was won last year by Jonesboro. Who'll win this year?

Folks, the real show in the county meet comes Saturday of this week, with the Tennis Finals beginning at 9 a. m. at the school courts, and the track finals start at 1:00 p. m. on the old athletic field. Both events are going to be worth the money!

THE BEACHCOMBER

A Story in Pictures of Charles Laughton's Great New Picture, "The Beachcomber" - Based on a Novel by W. Somerset Maugham

(CHAPTER FIVE: To Another Island.) During the three days they spend together in the native settlement, Ginger and Miss Jones relax their former hostility to each other for the first time. In spite of herself, Miss Jones admires his calm in the face of the greatest danger, while Ginger admits, to himself, that Miss Jones has her good points.

A strange noise outside their hut brings Ginger out into the jungle to investigate. The natives are on the verge of violence! As he feared, Miss Jones' courageous act of taking the chief's sick baby under her care has brought the natives to the point of revolt. Gun in hand, Ginger searches the vicinity. The hut is surrounded by armed natives, watching, waiting! Their signals in the stillness; the tense atmosphere, tell him that there'll be trouble if the child dies.

All through a nightmarish vigil, Ginger and Miss Jones sit huddled together in the hut, waiting for the ailing child to take a turn for the better—or worse! Outside, the natives pace restlessly. Loneliness and fear make the two confide in each other. With death hanging over them, their friendship grows. They hold hands. They talk of their early lives in England. Then, with the dawn, comes a smile from the child! It—and they—will live!

The scene switches to the "Fox and Rabbit Inn" back in England, where the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, formerly known as Ginger Ted and Miss Jones, go over their accounts. A frown appears on Ted's face. He asks his wife if her new gown isn't cut rather daringly low about the neck. Mrs. Wilson changes the subject. . . . (THE END)

About two o'clock after I had just about finished all my work and gotten my weekly reports finished, the boss came in and asked me if I would like to go to town (Cucuta) of course I jumped at the idea. I certainly enjoyed the trip! It was my idea to put off writing the letter and sent a cable but when I got in town the office was closed and I knew of no way of getting it sent. We came back out Sunday afternoon and was real late getting here.

Then this week has been a nightmare for everyone! In fact it still is, but then we hope to get back to normal this afternoon or tomorrow. The big shots and what I mean big shots have been here yesterday and today! All this week we have been preparing for them. The whole outfit, the Texas Co. and Standard Oil Co. came down to see us. Talk about one crowd of men who control millions, boy that was probably the biggest gathering that has ever taken place at one spot!! They chartered a whole boat just for the party from New York (a party of about fifty men). Just imagine taking a whole passenger boat for about a three weeks cruise. They arrived in Barranquilla and there they met with five big passenger air liners and brought out here. Forty seven in all stayed here over night. We moved out of three of our new houses and let them have our rooms and we doubled up on camp cots in the other houses. Mr. Reiber, Chairman of Directors spent the night in my bed!! It has really been a day in the history of Petrolea. Five plane loads of Millionaires!!

My roommate is a German engineer named Snyder, no it is spelled Schnieder. He is not one of the Hitler germans, he has been in this country for about 12 years, he is well educated and can speak Spanish perfectly along with English more correctly than I speak it. We get along fine and he is going to help me out on my Spanish.

The photography bug has really bitten me but is something I am enjoying more than any hobby I have ever had. This is a wonderful country for it and maybe I will get something out of it. I have gotten me a movie camera and when I bring back these pictures then you will really get an idea of all that I have been writing about. I have certainly gotten some good pictures of this bunch of big shots and the airplanes and all.

One of the boys just came in to show me a new arrival of cats. We have a great big Tom cat here and a mama cat and they bring into the world a batch of kittens about as often as often comes around, this is the second bunch to arrive since I have been here! Four each time, they are certainly cute little things, born last night. They certainly get preferred attention and they are good to have around a warehouse, we haven't a mouse or rat around here. Rats and mice could play havoc if it weren't for them, probably have several thousands of dollars worth of rope in stock and items such as packing, etc. that could be ruined by mice.

I have the filing work about completed but haven't gotten started on the New Kardex system yet. It is on it's way here and we will get started on it in a few weeks. The work is still as interesting as ever and now the time flies so that I hardly know where it goes and it seems that I have so little time but that is what it takes to get along and enjoy it.

We are having really beautiful weather. This must be the ideal time of the year, we are now in the really dry season for a month or so longer. Work has been going unusually well here due to the good weather. We have just completed a big new power plant (electric) and everything is going along fine.

Just then one of the Colombian workers came in to ask if he could leave early, he wants to go deer hunting this afternoon, I told him to go and just as he left a big bunch of big shots came by on speeders headed for the airport.

He grabbed off his hat and came back to work, but took off again as soon as they went by. He is really funny, just as if they would know that he was leaving, he wanted to know if that was the last of the hejes to leave.

MANSFIELD TIRES

● Mansfield Tires are 3 Ways Safer because they are built three ways differently from other tires.

Mansfield Cord-Lock construction puts more tough cord fabric into the sidewall. Their wide, flat treads are made of Duro-mix rubber that wears longer in grinding service. Their high tensile piano wire beads are seven times stronger than actually needed.

Mansfield Tires equip thousands and thousands of cars and trucks in every part of the country today because wise motorists wanted Mansfields and bought Mansfields—they did not get them as equipment tires.

IN SOUTH AMERICA—

one inch gray border and panels. The window frames and on down to the floor is painted gray. It is really nice and fresh. We have enlarged it about three times the original size since my arrival here, it is divided into two offices. My boss has the other office. I will have to take some more pictures of the office and show you just how nice and comfortable a place it is to work.

Last nite I had movies in my room. I told you about my new movie camera. As I get the films developed and all ready to show, then when there is anyone going back to the states I can send them home to you all. That way you all will see and enjoy my work and living in these different and interesting surroundings.

It will soon be six months since my arrival here. It really hasn't seemed that long. You know it hasn't been so much different from my being in South Texas as few times as I got to go home when working there.

Things are really beginning to take shape here, it is growing so fast that it is hard to realize the change in it all. We have started the construction of a refinery here. It will not be a very large one but to cover our needs here.

One thing that I have failed to write about that has become a common place thing here to me but is outstanding to anyone not having become accustomed to it, is the beautiful flowers, one of which is the orchid. If we could only take them back to the states, one could load up enough to make a fortune at the rate they sell there. Here they are plentiful and their beauty is beyond my description. When our directors were here on the inspection trip, we had the dining room all decorated up with them. That would be something to someone who really appreciates the value of an orchid, not much more than noticeable to us here.

One of the fellows here got a pair of gold cuff links from his girl friend of what earthly use he has for them here, and they are really not worth more than five dollars and the duty, etc. amounted to 18.90 pesos. He could not refuse to pay it and return them so he was just stuck. Another fellow got a pair of leather boots sent down. The duty ran around fifty pesos and then he was fined and he figures the boots cost him about fifty good old American dollars, some boots, no?

The best way to send things is to send them to the company in New York and then they will send them down by someone and the company can get them thru that way without any cost to us.

March 5, '39

My trip in and out on my permis was by plane. I took some movie shots, but haven't gotten them back from Bogota yet, so I don't know if they are good or not. I have had very good luck so far, in three rolls that I have taken, all of them have been good. One fellow out on the pipe line has been making pictures of the use of various equipment and selling them to the manufacturers. When I have more time to get out, I intend doing the same, possibly I can at least make part of the expenses of film etc. However, for this type of work, my equipment is far too inadequate.

Spent more of my time sight-seeing than anything else, and incidentally more of my money, but it was worth it. Took a trip over into Venezuela to a border town name San Antonio, very clean little town with the usual plaza, flower gardens and old missions and churches. Between there and Cucuta is a place called the Rosario de Cucuta. At this place way back about four centuries ago, all the great men met after defeating the Spanish rule and created the country of Columbia which then included Venezuela, Bolivia, Ecuador and Columbia. It is quite a historic as well as beautiful spot. I didn't get so much of the history because of my poor knowledge of the spanish language, my chafeur didn't speak any English but I could understand him fairly well. It was not a bit of trouble going thru the customs, less than even at Larado.

The night was very cool over there, in fact cold, but not nearly so much as up at Pompoloma where overcoats are worn most of the year around and always at night. I spent the night in a small "Pension" which is Spanish for hotel, it was some night to remember. To describe the place, the building came flush with the street and was just one room deep but then it was about a block long. At the ends of the building a high wall ran back and circled a large yard. The yard was filled with flowers, trees and very picturesque. In one corner was my quarters, a small building of two rooms not much larger than the room I had at West Columbia. It was late when I went to bed and was very tired otherwise I could never have slept. The beds are terrible, honest, the native beds are boards and the mattress is nothing but a straw mat about

Firestone CHAMPION

The Only Tire Made with the
NEW SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY and NEW GEAR-GRIP TREAD...

NEVER before in our experience has a tire met with such instant and unanimous approval as the new Firestone Champion Tire. It's the Safety Sensation of 1939! Our customers have started a word-of-mouth campaign that is making this the biggest selling tire we've ever had. Motor car manufacturers have been so impressed by its superior performance that they have adopted it for their 1939 models.

Why? Because the Firestone Champion Tire is an entirely new achievement in safety engineering.

Stronger Cord Body. This is accomplished first, by the use of a completely new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to assure cooler running and provide greater strength. Then, the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves, are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping which provides amazingly greater strength. And greater strength means greater safety.

More Non-Skid Mileage. The new Safety-Lock cord construction provides the extra strength needed for the use of the new, thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip tread which delivers remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design — it has more than 3,000 sharp-edged angles which grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and assure a safe stop.

Drive in today and equip your car with a new set of Firestone Champion Tires — the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

CHAMLEE'S GARAGE

was worth it all, a grand view. It is flattering the way these people look upon us, and surely it must be amusing to them. One would think they are extremely happy, and it would be an injustice to look down on them. Their families are centuries old. The full blooded Spaniards are really fine looking people, are more blond than I am. So much for all this. Back to the bed, I was up at dawn (due mostly to the bed) and on my way back. I never eat or drink of the native foods unless certain of their preparation. Water is usually the most dangerous thing, but plain soda is always available.

The dry season is almost at an end. We have had a couple of good rains in the last few days for the river transportation they are certainly needed. The river has been so low that nothing more than a canoe could travel them, and with an outboard motor, there is usually trouble dragging on the sand bars. The most ideal weather I have experienced is during the last of January and first of February.

Could you imagine a place this near the equator where the temperature is 32 degrees BELOW zero? Well such a place exists! There is a peak just east of Barranquilla and north of here where this is true. The Santa Marta Mountain which rises 19,500 feet. On the top of this peak is a glacier that is there the year round. Our head of Geology department is making an expedition to the top of this peak. Along with him the Nat'l Geographic Magazine is sending several men. Our plane has taken several trips around the peak taking pictures and from these they will map their trail and camps, etc. I will write you more about it as I hear about it. One of the fellows here was along on one of the plane trips and she'd have some pretty interesting pictures. They have found that the peak is higher than heretofore known.

My friend Koppel that I have written you several times about we have an agreement to remind each other when to write home to our Mothers, if one of us fails to write, we keep asking each other if we have written and we usually come down to the office at night and I write Mother and Koppel writes his Mother in Bogota. It struck me as very odd that all the stationery that he used to write his mother on was trimmed in a black bordered, even the envelopes, so he explained to me. When there is a death in a family, then for two years there is a sort of customary mourning. All the letters written must be written on this type of stationery. He explained that his father had died two years ago, but the two years is past now and they are now using plain stationery. It is much the same as people wearing black clothing while in mourning. Rather a morbid subject to talk about but I thought it interesting in that the observation even goes so far as to control the type of stationery.

Never have I had such an appetite as I have here, I think more than anything it is the regular hours, for if there is anything regular, it is the hours we have here. At five-thirty in the morning a blasting whistle blows at the power house to awaken us. Then at 6:15 another whistle blows twice this time (I forgot to say the first whistle blows three times) and by the time of the two whistles, I am dressed and have eaten breakfast. Then at 6:30 there is one long whistle and by that time I am usually at my desk working.

At eleven then the noon or lunch whistle blows, we all go eat, after eating I usually go to my room and lie down for a few minutes until the whistle to return to work at 12. Then our next whistle is at 3:30 at which time we have a mid-afternoon lunch of lemonade and sandwiches, etc. Dinner is served from six o'clock until 8. The camp is getting pretty large now, almost twice as many here now as when I first came here. There are about 80 Americans but we are more often referred to when speaking of our camp houses or our mess hall, as the Gold Roll.

Sooner or later you will be hearing the tales about the wild indians in this country, so I had rather tell you about them than let it scare you when you hear of them. I am in no danger of them. They exist alright, but not in anywhere near here and much farther back into the jungles. These indians are very few and it is greatly exaggerated as to their number, but really no one knows. In fact, no one has ever been able to contact them, once a member leaves their tribes, he never is allowed to return. They are shy and probably much more frightened by seeing a white man than they ever scare anyone else. They are very crude and backward, not at all progressive. You must remember that where they have been seen and where all these tales of their existence is that they are back in country where no white man has ever set foot before. The pipeline which will carry the oil from here to the coast is thru parts of the country that has been considered as impossible to penetrate. Further back into this country is where these indians are found.

One of the geological parties came in contact with one of these tribes. I say contact, it was more of an encounter. You see these geological groups are men out exploring and studying the formations of the ground to find oil. They have to go back into the real interior! Several weeks ago they came upon a group of these indians and had a short skirmish, with none hurt among the group of geologists, but several of the indians were injured but escaped. You see they just live in temporary houses and move to higher and lower levels with the game which they live off of, and in the various seasons migrate with them. A little indian boy about six or seven years old was captured, or rather not captured but he was just left behind and so brought back to camp at Rio de Oro. He has become quite a topic of interest and I thought that if such news reached the papers in the States no telling what you would imagine about this country around here. The tribe of indians are known as the Motelones. No one has ever learned their language but it is possible that some few words may be learned from this young boy. He has been named Martin Seay, Jr. The field Supt. of that district is Mr. Seay. He has taken action to legally adopt the boy. The company has put him on the regular pay roll at one peso a day, and is supposed to be the assistant to the cashier. He was very frightened at first and completely bewildered. Now he has practically taken over the camp. They have dressed him up every way imaginable with all kinds of suits, even a sailor suit, but he seems to prefer his customary method of going in the nude. He shows a great deal of intelligence, in fact, when he was at first frightened by machinery, trucks and so on, but now he shows all interest in them. There is no effort to keep him in camp and he is free to go if he wishes, they are making every effort to make a friendly contact with these indians and this may be their way. One of the fellows from that camp was thru here the other day and has some pictures of the little fellow, as soon as I see him again, I will try to get some of them to send you all.

Will write more about the little indian as I hear more about him but since at first they tried to keep it a secret and the news has just gotten out, we really don't know a lot about him yet. We talk with this camp every day by radio and they usually have something of interest about him.
