SIX CORYELL FARMERS HAVE DEBTS REDUCED $6153.00 BY F.S.A.

Coryell County thru its Farm Security Administration office in Gatesville, reports the satisfactory adjustment of excessive indebtedness of six farmers during the month of May. This service was performed by George C. Moore, Rural Supervisor in cooperation with the County Farm Debt Adjustment Committee, composed of Geo. J. Fritz, C. H. McGilvray, and J. Frank Blair. These adjustments involved a total of 1534 acres of land with a total indebtedness of $12,554.00, which was reduced to $6,153.00, or approximately 50 per cent of debts adjusted. This achievement places Coryell County among the leading counties of the East Texas Division in debt adjustment and reflects the efficiency with which the affairs of the Farm Security Administration are being handled in the local office of Gatesville.

The Farm Security Administration, thru its Farm Debt Adjustment service, working in cooperation with the County Committee-men of each county have devised many effective means of adjusting excessive debts of farmers. This service is free to all farmers, whether they are Farm Security borrowers or not. The underlying principle in adjusting excessive indebtedness of farmers is to bring all of the debts of the farmer within his resources and ability to pay.

The County Farm Debt Adjustment Committee holds its regular monthly meeting on the first Monday of each month, at which time, Mr. W. V. Hanover, District Farm Debt Adjustment Supervisor, of Waco, Texas, will meet with the Committee. Any farmer who is in need of this service should make his application during the committee meeting or contact Mr. George C. Moore, County Rural Supervisor. Mr. Henry L. Gantz, State Farm Debt Adjustment Supervisor, who was present in the last meeting of the Committee on June 5th, will meet with the Committee upon any occasion where his services are needed in the satisfactory adjustment of farmers' debts.

G. A. (JERRY) SADLER R.R. COMMISSIONER VISITS RODEO

Among the many celebrities visiting Gatesville and attending Gatesville's Rodeo and Frontier Celebration was G. A. (Jerry) Sadler, firebrand member of the Texas Railroad Commission.

He was accompanied here by H. H. (Hick) Halcomb, his campaign manager, during the heated political campaign last summer.

At Friday evening's performance Mr. Sadler was introduced as "Cowboy Commissioner" Sadler, and "did his stuff" riding into the center of the rodeo arena.

JUMBLED NUMBERS IN CAUSE OF ERROR FOR LEAIRD'S

In Leaird's Department Store's advertisement Friday, we made a blunder.

A price of $159.50 was inserted in the ad at the wrong place. The General Electric Refrigerator pictured has a price considerably more than the $159.50. This particular G-E, the $159.50 one is the "Special General Electric Model LB-6 Thrifty Six" The model illustrated is Model B8-39, approximately $225.00.

This is one of the necessary corrections, which any newspaper is glad to make for its patrons.

COURTHOUSE, CRADLE? LOOKS LIKE IT! MOUNCE & ZEIGLER

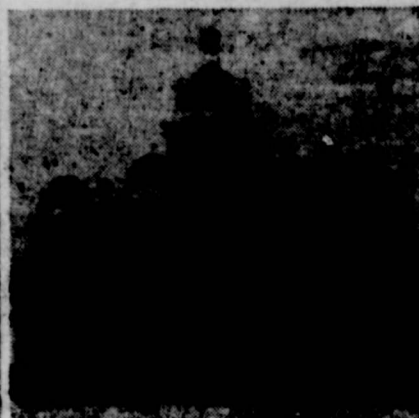

Two of the "courthouse faculty" have become "pap" during the past week.

Already, you have read about Miss Barbara Fay Zeigler, young daughter of Judge and Mrs. Floyd Zeigler. She was born May 29.

Next day, in the local hospital, Charles Perry Mounce Jr., made his appearance, and—it looks like there'll be some sleepless nights for two members of the courthouse staff.

Mrs. Mounce returned to her home Sunday, and Charlie said he got the boy to sleep around 9, but that he "got him up again at 5," which, he seemed to think wasn't so bad.

CLOSING DATE FOR BIDS IS SET AT JUNE 20

From the local office of the State Highway Department announcement is that bids are being asked on U. S. 84 (old Highway 7) from Gatesville to Star, and the bidding will close June 20.

This will complete the paving on this highway in Coryell county, and will include topping between these two points.

As yet, a part of this highway has not been finished as to drainage structures and grading, but will probably be completed in plenty of time for the contractor who will be awarded this new job to start to work on.

This will make the first completed highway thru Coryell County, running from Evant to Ogesby.

Highway 36 will be completed from Gatesville to Hamilton shortly, since already a contract has been awarded to Thomas & Ratliff, and work is expected to start on this sometime in June.

"SMILIN' BOB" SAUNDERS EVEN ADMITS THE RODEO AND FRONTIER CELEBRATION WAS AN UNMATCHED SUCCESS

GRAND FINALE INCLUDES "PERSONALITY PARKER" AND DOUGHBOYS

It's history! But, WHAT history! Gatesville's Third Annual Rodeo and Frontier Celebration has already been pronounced an all-round success even by such tactful men as "Smilin' Bob" Saunders.

Everyone was pleased. Each and every performance brought more and more people here, and at the final performance, soda water bottle cases were even used for seats. There were none!

From Fur and Near

That just about expresses it—they really did come from "fur and near"

We don't know whereall from but, just for instance, Friday night, Waco Day, brought some 35 cars, and an estimated 200 Wacoans to the city, and they saw one of the top performances of the entire show. With this delegation was Ralph Reginald Wolf, Ralph Buchanan, rodeo promoters of the Bear Club Roundup, and Lynn Shaw, Secretary of the Waco Junior Chamber of Commerce, as well as many other well known Wacoans.

Friday night's show, probably the highlight of the entire four, brought injuries to Norman Pierson, who while bulldogging a steer missed him, but not the fence, and suffered a cut over the eye, which it took 8 to 19 stitches to sew up, in addition to bruises and lacerations. However, he bulldogged Saturday night.

Also, the worst injury of the show was "Wildcat" Rogers, who was hemmed in the chutes by a bronc and received injury to 3 or more ribs which were broken loose from his chest. His back was also bruised. No other injuries of consequence occurred during the three days.

PARKER WILLSON AND THE LIGHT CRUST DOUGHBOYS DRAW, SATURDAY

In addition to the rodeo, Parker Willson and The Light Crust Doughboys of Burrus Mill & Elevator charmed the crowd on the square at 4:30 to 5:30 Saturday afternoon, and for a short time just before Saturday evening's performance opened.

"Personality Parker," who usually hides his talents behind the microphone, is anything else but just another announcer.

Imitating Stephin Fetchit, Lionel Barrymore, W. C. Fields and Popeye, Willson out did the four he imitated, and by just closing your eyes, you would have sworn those imitated were present in person.

"Cecil" the "fiddler" was tops in the musical aggregation, which kept the folks "in the rain" during the performance, and wound up with Tiger Rag which "Cecil" literally took apart.

Many other popular, cowhand, and hillbilly tunes were dished up for the fans in the way they can be dished by the Light Crust Doughboys.

Also, the folks all met Bashful, Zeke, Snub, Abner, Junior, Buck and Knocky.

Charles Burton, youthful songster, sang two popular selections, "My Buddy" and "Peggy O'Neal" which took well.

That just about winds up Gatesville's biggest event in history, but the talk, sidelines, visitors and officials will all remember how rainclouds seemed almost certain to spoil the fun nearly every hour.

Ooooh! What A Light!

The largest lamp ever manufactured has amazed many a visitor to the General Electric Co. display at the California World's Fair as well as little Miss Beverly Ann Rheder of Oakland, Calif., a 3-year-old who looked over the Exposition with her mother. The huge lamp of 50,000 watts is two and a half feet high and Beverly just can't see-MAG-ine who'd use such a whopper.

ARE YOU ONLY A 3/4 WIFE?

MEN because they are men can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness for three weeks of the month—but a hell-cat the fourth.

And make up your mind men never will understand. There are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport.

No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

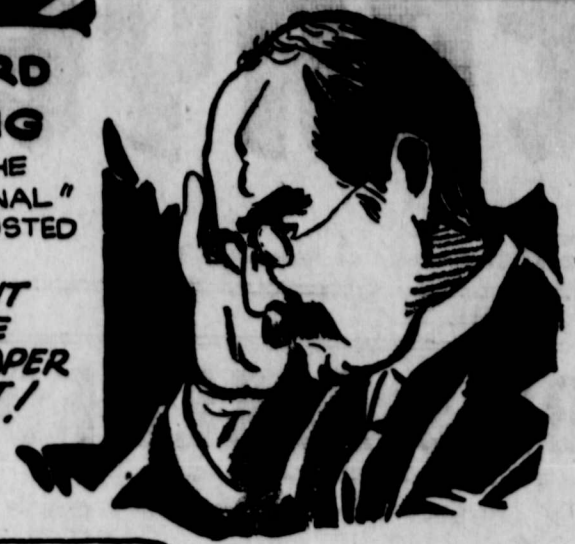

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood into womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and go "smiling through." Over a million women have written in reporting benefit. Why not give this world-famous medicine a chance to help YOU?

Lady birds have been bred commercially to successfully fight the destructive mealy bug. Necessary to the breeding of the lady bird in large Los Angeles insectaries, is the exact temperature control possible with gas—the same modern fuel universally accepted for cooking, water heating, house heating and refrigeration.

Rudyard Kipling, English poet and novelist, whose work will endure long because of its message of courage, was discouraged after he wrote the incomparable "Recessional." Disgusted, he threw the manuscript into the waste basket. Later, Mrs. Kipling found it and sent it to the London Times, where it was first published.

BOLL WEEVIL AND FLEA-HOPPER CONTROL
By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

It is one of the ironies of nature that soil and rainfall conditions which are most favorable for the growth of the cotton plant are also most favorable for the multiplication of insect pests. The more luxuriant the growth the better the boll weevil, the flea hopper, and the leaf worm like it. It is not uncommon for a casual observer to remark on the promising appearance of a field of cotton, in which a close examination will show that the flea-hopper is destroying the fruiting buds, the boll weevil is laying eggs in the squares, and the leaf worm moth has deposited her eggs on the lower side of the tender foliage—the more luxuriant the better she likes it.

None of the insects will attack slow-growing, drouth-stricken cotton by preference, but may do considerable damage on any kind of cotton it that is all they can find to feed on. What we are here trying to say is that when cotton is growing fast it is mighty important to watch for the insects and see that they do not destroy the fruit to such an extent that "weed" is all that is left.

At this stage cotton should rapidly set squares and the squares become blooms. If rank-growing cotton doesn't look "like a flower garden" every morning there is something the matter. Every cotton grower knows that cotton naturally "throws off" a part of the embryo fruit, but natural shedding and insect damage are two quite different matters. The early and mid-season blooms and bolls are most important in the yield, and must be saved from insect damage in order to insure a normal yield.

With the greatly reduced acreage in cotton under the AAA it becomes the more important to secure good yields from the acreage we have, and controlling insect depredations is one proven means of so doing. Besides, insect control which permits the "weed" to hold all the early fruit it can carry brings the main crop to maturity earlier in the season and a higher percentage of it is harvested at the first picking, when the grades are better than later.

A good many people do not get excited about insect pests until the leaf worm appears, and yet the leaf worm destroys far less cotton than either the flea hopper or the boll weevil. By the time the leaf worm becomes numerous enough to do real damage the flea-hopper and the boll weevil have already got in most of their deadly work.

The fight against cotton insect pests is greatly simplified by the fact that a good dusting machine will handle all four—flea hoppers, boll weevils, leaf worms and boll worms—is used properly at the proper time. Dusting sulphur and calcium arsenate are the only insecticides necessary, if the campaign begins on time and is continued until the insects are under control. If no early dusting is done, heavier dusting, or extra arsenicals in the mixture may be needed to handle a heavy infestation of leaf worms, but it is both less effective and more expensive than a program which begins while the cotton is comparatively small and is followed up at regular intervals.

It is all right to make a count of the pests present if one knows how and wants to do so. The safest, surest, and in the long run, the cheapest plan is to prevent rather than cure. When the flea hopper begins to destroy the little fruit buds use sulphur. When the boll weevil comes out of hibernation, or begin to sting the squares which have escaped the flea hopper, a one-to-two mixture of calcium arsenate and sulphur is best. When leaf worms appear calcium arsenate alone will handle them if properly applied. No wet spray is necessary.

Gatesville Folk Attend Wedding in Waco

The marriage of Miss Catherine Odell to Toxie Cathey took place at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of the bride's parents in Waco with Dr. J. M. Dawson reading the ceremony.

Nuptial music was played by Billy Bloodworth of Gatesville, cousin of the bride, who offered "Liebestraum" and "Traumerei" before the ceremony and "Lohengrin" as the processional.

Immediately following the ceremony, which only close friends and members of the immediate families attended, a reception was held. Mrs. Jack Odell of Gatesville and Miss Martha Johnson presided in the dining room.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Prewitt of Gatesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Odell of Gatesville.

Mary Carolyn Kelley Weds Otha Minor

A wedding of great interest to people of Gatesville was that of Miss Carolyn Kelley and Otha Minor both of Fort Worth which took place Friday evening at the Grace Lutheran Church at 8 o'clock with the Rev. Johnson performing the ceremony.

The bride wore a lovely white lace dress over slipper satin which was styled with a shoulder length veil. Her bride's bouquet was of carnations and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Thor and Miss Halbrook gave the prelude, and the wedding marches were given by the three. Chas. Becker, tenor, sang "O Promise Me". The usher were Mr. Pearson and Mrs. Precure.

Mrs. Minor has been a teacher in the Fort Worth schools for the past three years. She has visited several times in the M. W. Lowrey home as a guest of Miss Halbrook, and will be remembered to Gatesville people as an accordionist.

Miss Halbrook left last Tuesday for Fort Worth, where she was a member of the house party. The rehearsal dinner was given Wednesday evening and was attended by 25 guests. As a post-nuptial courtesy Mrs. Walter Pearson and her mother, Mrs. Seigmeier, entertained last Saturday evening for the bride.

MRS. AMERICA BUYS A DRESS

AFTER hours and hours of planning her spring wardrobe, Mrs. America—call her Mrs. Graham—decides what she needs most is a new dress. Not just any dress, but something new, something different, something entirely her own creation. She expects, of course, to spend days looking for it, for hardly a shop in town will carry it. Mrs. Graham, however (it happens every year), is in for a surprise; for in every shop she visits she will find exactly what she had in mind; and in her own size, too, and at the very price she feels she can pay.

No one knew Mrs. Graham wanted this particular dress—no one, that is, except thousands of manufacturers, designers, button-makers, saleswomen, buyers, stylists, cutters, advertising people, and all the others engaged in creating fashion. Through their combined efforts and knowledge, through their analysis of the market and study of the purchasing power of the people, they are able to anticipate Mrs. Graham's (and millions of other Mrs. Graham's) every desire.

In the April Good Housekeeping, Selma Robinson, noted writer, points out how Mrs. Graham subconsciously had been led to think in terms of the dress she thought was her own creation. For months the fashion world was busy preparing her for it and making up her mind, long before she started planning her spring wardrobe.

The myriad of details involved in the making of a dress, or any other piece of apparel, is somewhat bewildering. But, as Miss Robinson says, "once you assemble all the tiny, baffling pieces of the whole fashion picture, you find a degree of law and order that is amazing in a field so far-flung geographically, artistically, and economically. By trips to Paris and New York, by cabled advices and trans-Atlantic telephone calls, by telegraph and radio and wireless, by honest designing and nimble adaptation, a oneness is achieved that makes it possible for a whole nation to appear simultaneously in cactus green or stone blue, in collarless necks and full skirts, if it so chooses."

BEAUTY EXPERT DEFENDS "UPSIDE-DOWN" TREATMENT

THE ladies, bless them, are practically standing on their heads.

According to Dorothy Cocks, Beauty Editor of Pictorial Review, the topsy-turvy method is entirely practical and sound.

"The head-down, feet-up beauty treatment is based on the theory that bringing blood to the facial tissues, to nourish them from within while you cream them from without, ought to make creams work to best advantage," writes Miss Cocks in the October issue.

"Circulation does two things that contribute enormously to good looks and vitality. It brings fresh food and energizing oxygen to every tissue and cell of your body. And it carries a way from every cell and tissue the accumulated wastes that are a drag on its activity, that choke its functioning and dull its bloom.

Dorothy Cocks

"In much the same manner as a furnace, your body burns up food and fresh air to keep alive, to work, and to replace worn parts. It is a complicated system, but a dandy one, provided the blood keeps on its job as the carrier of food, oxygen, wastes. When the blood stream lags, brings supplies lazily to the tissues, or is indolent about carrying wastes away, your fire of youth burns lower and lower. You feel sluggish, tired, old. And you look it.

"In summer you are more active. You swim, hike, make camp, golf, ride, garden. Even if you don't conscientiously do regular exercises, you do things that make arms and legs and waist muscles work. You are active, and so you activate your blood stream. Jumping around a tennis court, pushing a lawn mower, both make you red-faced and hot because they both use up physical energy, and so create a demand in your muscles for new supplies of food-fuel and oxygen. The blood speeds to carry the supplies round and round. And you feel fine, look glowing.

"Ever fresh supplies of nourishment, fresh impetus of energizing oxygen, quick removal of functional wastes—they are what keep tissues young, cheeks firm, eyes bright, hair strong and shining. A busy blood stream is a grand beauty tonic."

THE TRUTH SIMPLY TOLD

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions.

These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for functional kidney disorder and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be warning of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

FAMOUS WOMEN TALK ABOUT SILVER

Mrs. Borge Rohde (the former Ruth Bryan Owen, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Denmark) has had thirty years of enjoyment from the flatwear you see pictured here. Bought before her marriage, this simple pattern has never failed to give Mrs. Rohde that little glow of pride that we all associate with our fine possessions. "One does not tire of simple things," says Mrs. Rohde, in speaking of her pleasure in her silver.

Her silver flatwear has seen lots of important duty—in such varied places as Jamaica in the West Indies, London, Cairo, and Washington, through to diplomatic duty in the American Legation in Copenhagen, where Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde did her official entertaining.

She has a service for eighteen, although in some pieces that are necessary for state dinners she has as many as five or six dozen of a kind. Mrs. Rohde does not remember the name of her pattern, and considers it irrelevant to its beauty.

Dorothy Kilgallen, star reporter who is famous for racing by air round the world against two masculine competitors and for her syndicated column "The Voice of Broadway," has an interesting point of view about her silver.

"I see so much of the tinsel and make-believe of Broadway that I probably appreciate more than most people the beauty of sterling silver."

Miss Kilgallen is acquiring her silver by the place-setting method, periodically buying all the pieces for setting one cover. Different kinds of pieces can be grouped to make a place setting, but Miss Kilgallen has chosen to include a dinner knife, dinner fork, salad fork, butter spreader, oval soup spoon, and teaspoon in her place settings.

When asked why she chose the pattern called "Greenbriar," she said: "I was choosing the silver for a future household and not an existing one. So I chose a pattern that would look well in almost any type of decorative scheme."

Cattle shipments by rail from Llano in April totaled 51 cars, or about one-third of the movement recorded in April 1938. The falling off is attributed to sale of calves as feeders last fall and this spring.

Approximately 30,000 deer were legally killed by sportsmen in Texas during the season 1937-38.

The foundation to most skyscraper buildings is usually set from 30 to 50 feet deep, which accounts in part for the fact that they stand so remarkably well.

It requires 78 days production from the average Texas oil well to pay one year's taxes and royalty interest, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association reports. An average producing well pays $1,222 in these items.

Fiery Itching Skin Gets Quick Relief

Home Treatment Eases Unbearable Soreness—Distress

There is one simple yet inexpensive way to ease the itching and torture of Eczema, Itching Toes or Feet Rashes and many other externally caused skin eruptions and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil night and morning and people who suffer from such embarrassing or unsightly skin troubles would be wise to try it.

Just ask any first-class druggist for an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and refuse to accept anything else. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that a small bottle lasts a long time and furthermore if this clean, powerful, penetrating oil that helps promote healing fails to give you full and complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.

JONES STOPS JONESBORO EAGLES WITH 4 HITS 8-0

Gatesville's newly entered county league baseball club soundly thumped the defending champion Jonesboro 8-0 in their initial outing Sunday to establish themselves as one of the teams to beat for the championship trophy.

Big Bugg Jones, working coolly and deliberately, handled the Eagles for nine innings with the greatest of ease. The steadiness and ease with which Starr pitched was astonishing, in view of the fact that the Eagles are ever held to less than three runs in league games. Bugg allowed only four hits and all of them were singles. He was given errorless support by his mates.

The Hornets scored regularly thruout the game. The outcome was never in doubt after the first three innings, during which the locals garnered four tallies. They pushed across two more in the fifth, and finished up the job with a couple more in the seventh when Sonny Hair, who played a fine defensive game, slammed out a round-tripper with a mate aboard.

Miller, chunky moundsman, went the route for the Eagles. He was not touched for many hits, but errors behind him cost him several runs. Miller's work last year was confined mostly to relief pitching.

From the lack of reports we gathered that the other four games were rained out.

SPORT SCROLL

By POST

Preparations for the opening of the softball race have really begun in earnest, now that the annual rodeo is a thing of the past. Six teams are straining at the barrier, ready to embark upon what is likely to be the liveliest campaign the city softball league has ever battled, thru.

The Highway team, which entered last week, is going to have a championship contender this year. Sonny Hair, the best short-stop in the league who did his chores for the Coca-Cola Bottlers last year, is going to shift to this Highway club, according to Butter Schley, local softball big-wig. This will leave a big gap in the Bottler infield, one that will be difficult to fill. With the addition of Hair, the Highway inner defense is all set, with Bugg Jones at first, J. L. Rogers at second, Hair at short, and Tackett at third. This would probably be the best infield in the circuit. They have a fine pitcher in Truman Bianton, a veteran who has always been a winner.

It seems as if the Gatesville club is going to be in the thick of the fight for the county Sunday league championship. They set down the Jonesboro nine 8-0 Sunday in the season opener. Hazen Ament, local manager, has been hard at work the past three weeks signing up capable players. It looks as if his labor is going to be rewarded.

The golf season is now coming into full swing, although the work improving the course is not yet finished. The old mower used to cut the tough needle grass on the fairways is not in working condition, and the course officials are trying to obtain a new one. When they cut this grass, the course will be in the best shape it has been in for five years.

Plans for a tournament are already being discussed, with the week of July 4 set as a temporary date. A tournament would be a great boon to golfing in this city for there is nothing like competitive play to increase interest in any sport.

Buddy Whigham, astute baseball man who is well known in diamond circles all over this county, was in the News office Saturday, and after looking over the eligibility lists of the county league teams, picked Gatesville, Mound, and possibly Jonesboro to be the chief contenders for the county title. From what he said in a conversation with your correspondents, we gathered that he figured Pidcoke did not have enough pitching nor a steady team, two prerequisites to a championship ball club. As for Blackfoot, he stated that they have a few fine ball players, but the club was not well balanced. He seemed particularly enthusiastic about the Gatesville club, saying that they undoubtedly had the best material of any club. Which puts the local nine very much in the favorite spot.

It's Spoon For President

A Treasure Island souvenir silver spoon direct from the California World's Fair site, was mailed to President Roosevelt by Tanya Widrin, who is pictured affixing the mailing tag. The spoon was sent to the White House by the designer, and there will be shown to the President's guests. On the spoon is the Tower of the Sun with the Bay Bridge in the background.

JOHN GARFIELD PROVES HIS RIGHT TO STARDOM IN "BLACKWELL'S ISLAND"

John Garfield, undoubtedly the most impressive newcomer to the screen of the past year, who gave further indication of his rise to stardom in the recent "They Made Me a Criminal," has the starring role in "Blackwell's Island," a Warner Bros. picture based upon the fantastic jail scandal that shocked New Yorkers several years ago, which opens next Saturday at the Regal Theatre.

It is Garfield's third motion picture. Brought to Hollywood after having won considerable acclaim by a series of brilliant performances in New York stage productions, Garfield made his film debut in the unforgettable "Four Daughters." Technically his was a mere supporting role but his portrayal was so compelling and so moving that he was immediately acclaimed the screen "find" of the year.

How to Treat a Fish

There are many ways to serve this appetizing food

By Dorothy Greig

WE once met a man whose hobby was fish. He regaled us with such glowing tales of fish, their habits and personalities that it was a long time before we could eat fish without a guilty feeling of having done away with one of nature's noble efforts.

But there's no denying that fish is good eating however it is served.

Take baked flounder fillets. The flounder is a fish with no fighting spirit whatsoever. When caught there's not even a flop of protest. But be that as it may, it does have sweet delicate flavor.

Fillets of Flounder Baked in Tomato Sauce

- 1½ pounds fillets of flounder
- 1 can condensed tomato soup
- ¼ cup of water
- Salt and pepper

Arrange the fillets of flounder in a baking pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Combine the tomato soup and water. Pour over the fish fillets and bake in a 375° oven for 25-30 minutes. Serves 5-6.

Halibut likes cold northern seas and it is one of the finest of food fishes. As individual fish puffs, stirred to a froth and baked a light toasty brown, it is feather light and fairly melts in your mouth.

Halibut Puff

- 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 2 ounces velveeta cheese
- 3 eggs, separated
- 2 cups soft bread crumbs (2-3 slices bread)
- 1½ cups flaked cooked halibut

Individual halibut puffs are suggested for luncheon or supper.

Empty a can of cream of mushroom soup in a saucepan and mix well. Add cheese and heat until the cheese has melted in the sauce. Stir in one egg yolk at a time and mix thoroughly after each egg yolk is added. Remove from fire and add the soft bread crumbs and flaked fish. When mixture is cool, fold in the beaten egg whites. Then turn into individual buttered ramekins and bake about 50-60 minutes in a moderate (350°F.) oven. Serve with lemon wedges. Serves 6.

Salmon loaf is ever popular and this one has an original touch to it. (The salmon as a tiny tad swims out to sea. But it hasn't sense enough to stay there. Years later back up stream it comes—to wind up its career in my salmon loaf!)

Salmon Celery Loaf

- 1 can (16 oz.) salmon
- 2½ cups soft bread crumbs (4-5 slices bread)
- 1 can condensed celery soup
- 2 eggs

Drain salmon and remove dark skin and bones. Flake the salmon and combine with the soft bread crumbs and mix well. Then add the can of celery soup, just as it comes from the can and the two eggs, slightly beaten. Mix thoroughly and put into a loaf pan 8½" long and 3-4" wide. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for one hour or until firm. Serves 6.

Serve with "Egg and Relish Sauce."

Egg and Relish Sauce

Melt 1 tablespoon of butter in a saucepan; add 1 tablespoon flour and cook until frothy. Then add 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt and pinch of pepper and cook until thickened. Add 1 hard-cooked chopped egg and 3 tablespoons of relish and cook 3-4 minutes to blend the flavors. This makes approximately 1½ cups of sauce.

Menus

Summer is the time for informal entertaining and "refreshments" should be light and dainty, just enough to satisfy the appetite, not at all like the richer fare of winter.

ORANGE MERINGUE SHELLS

3 egg whites
1-6 tsp. salt
3-4 cup powdered sugar
2 tsp. grated orange rind
Beat egg whites with salt until stiff. Add the sugar a little at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add orange rind during the addition of sugar. Drop by spoonfuls on a baking sheet covered with several thicknesses of dampened ungreased paper. Press meringue thru a pastry bag to make nest shapes. Bake in a very slow oven about 50 minutes or until they are brown and quite dry on the outside. Baking on dampened paper makes moist centers easy to scoop out. This will provide 8 to 12 large shells. Fill with ice cream.

MARBLE ANGEL FOOD

3 tbs. cocoa
1 cup cake flour

1-4 cups egg whites (10 or 12)

1-4 tps. salt

1 tsp. cream of tartar

1-4 cups granulated sugar

1-2 tsp. almond extract

1-2 tsp. vanilla extract

Add cocoa to 1-2 cup flour, sift 4 times. Sift remaining 1-2 cup flour 4 times. Beat egg whites till foamy, add salt and cream of tartar. Beat until mixture peaks; fold in sifted sugar. Divide this mixture in half. To one half add 1-2 cup flour and almond extract fold cocoa mixture and 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. Put light and dark batters by tablespoons alternately into 1-inch tube-pan. Bake in slow oven about 1 hour. Invert on cake rack until cool.

COUNTY FARM DEBT ADJUSTMENT GROUP TO MEET JUNE 5TH

Problems of debt-distressed farmers whose harvesting machinery may be in danger of foreclosure and who otherwise are not in financial condition to bear expenses of harvesting or carrying on their summer's operation will be considered at the monthly meeting of the Coryell County farm debt adjustment committee.

The group meet Monday, June 5th, at the Farm Security Administration office in Gatesville.

"While the committee has no money to lend, it possibly can work out agreements with farmers' creditors preventing interference with harvesting operations," said George C. Moore, rural supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, which agency has charge of this work. "It is not the purpose of this committee to ask forbearance on any part of debt, but in many cases creditors will realize more on their accounts and mortgages if they will permit farmers to harvest their crops unhindered."

The committee, he explained, will work out a repayment schedule which the farmer can meet and which is fair to all creditors, saving them expenses of collection and litigation. Services of the committee are free and confidential. Committeemen are Frank Blair, C. H. McGilvray, and George Fritz.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES E. ROTH

OH, FOR THE GOOD OLD DAYS

GRANDPA BUTLER was 84 when he died, but he held out to the very last for what he affectionately called "the good old days."

He liked to tell about them. Life was simpler then, said he. We didn't hurry so fast. We had more time to read and to enjoy our friends. And the cost of living—say, you could live for a third of what it costs a fellow these days.

Charles Roth

Where Grandpa Butler's logic fell down was in confusing the standards of living when he was a boy and when he was an octogenarian.

When he was young you could live for less—but you had less in your life. You put up with discomforts which would be unthinkable today. You ate unbalanced meals, lived in uncomfortable homes, had no radio sets, automobiles or electric servants.

As a matter of fact—but we were never able to convince Grandpa Butler of it—the cost of living today, dollar for dollar of value considered, is far less than it was in his young days.

Your dollar actually buys more, brings you more value, than any other dollar in history.

Anyone who understands simple economics will tell you why. Few words will do it. The words are mass production.

Mass production is impossible without mass distribution, which is just another way of saying that when a larger number of things are made a large number of people must be made to buy them.

There wasn't any mass distribution until advertising was developed, and there wasn't any of the things in our lives we call modern until advertising put them there.

In many foreign countries even today you have to spend weeks scouring the markets for what you want. Farmers bring their cattle and produce to market. They stay in town two or three weeks disposing of it. Consumers have to go from stall to stall and dicker for everything they want.

If you have the time and enjoy trading, that sort of thing is fine, is fun; but most of us have other things to do. We find it simpler to do our trading by reading the newspaper advertisements, decide what we will buy and then go down to the store or telephone.

It saves time. It saves more. It saves money. Without advertising to smooth the route of goods from seller to buyer, the cost of everything is higher than when advertising is in the picture.

HERE ARE SOME POINTS YOU SHOULD CONSIDER BEFORE BUILDING

Many home owners think they are practicing economy when they postpone modernization and repair work on their homes. They consider themselves as being exponents of real thrift, much as when they deny themselves a haircut for another week, or a movie.

In most cases, this view results in false economy. Homes that should have been painted deteriorate because of the alternate soaking and rying they receive in summer, sometimes a few dollars spent for a paint job would have saved many dollars in depreciation. Sometimes home owners let their roofs ride for another year, only to find out too late that a few dollars for repairs would have saved them many dollars spent to fix up the damage caused by leaks.

In addition to actual losses due to postponement of repair bills. There is still another angle to consider: are you overlooking any comfort, beauty, or convenience that your home might offer for a little fixing up?

Air conditioning offers another excellent opportunity to make your home more comfortable. It should be thought of before the really hot weather sets in. The great number of models and sizes makes it possible to find a unit to fit every purse.

The Willarette meteorite, weighing 15 1-2 tons, actually was stolen in 1903, and moved almost a mile from the spot where it originally rested.

THERE was a kid looking for a job, and he went around to the neighborhood butcher shop where his family bought meat and asked for one. So the butcher talked to him for a while and said he could use a boy to run errands and such stuff. Then he asked the kid a lot of questions.

"Are you in the habit of telling lies?" the butcher says.

"Well, no, I ain't," says the kid. "But I been talking to Mom about that. She said that anybody that worked for you would have to be an awful liar to keep up with you. Maybe I can't ever keep up, but I'm not dumb, and I'll learn fast if you give me the job."

ADOLPHE MENJOU
KING of the TURF

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:
Goldie Smith, young jockey with a passionate love of honest racing, and Jim Mason, one-time wealthy "King of the Turf" whose addiction to liquor has made him a penniless tramp, meet and become loyal friends. Attending a racehorse auction with $2 as their sole capital, they bid that amount on Red Gold, a horse of excellent lineage but uncontrollable behavior, and acquire him on a technicality when no other bids are offered. Mason, determined to make a comeback, carefully tames Red Gold, while Goldie teaches him to run on a track—and gradually they make him a racehorse to be reckoned with.

Chapter Four

"Come on, Red Gold!"
"Go it, Red Gold!"
"Come on, Red Gold!"
"Red Gold! Red Gold! RED GOLD!"
It was Red Gold's first big race—the annual handicap for the Gold Cup. Most of the small bet-great horse, but we're going to have a stable full of great horses. We're going to win the Belmont and the Preakness and the Santa Anita and the Kentucky Derby—

"Gee! Honest?"
"Yes," Mason's tone changed. "There's just one thing. I'm worried about you. A boy like you should have dreams—ambitions. He ought to go to school—a gentleman!"
"Boss, don't say things like that. I don't want to be a gentleman! I want to be like you! Why, if I was to go to school, we'd have to bust up."
"Yes," muttered Mason. "We'd have to bust up."

Three thousand miles away a woman still young, perhaps even more beautiful than when she had married some sixteen years ago, stared incredulously at a newspaper photograph. She was Eve Barnes, Goldie's mother.
"This is what has haunted me," she whispered, "for fifteen years. That some day, somewhere, they would find each other. Oh, Bob, I've got to bring him back before it's too late!"
Barnes smiled patiently, sympathetically. "It's going to be aw-

"This is what has haunted me for fifteen years."

tors, the two-dollars-across-the-board fraternity, seemed to have got wind of something new in the racing world, with the emergence of this unknown animal under the aegis of Big Jim Mason. Their money was on Red Gold as he galloped around the track, fighting it out with the two big favorites.

In a luxuriously furnished pool-room Grimes and some of his "business" associates sat listening to a broadcast description of the race—listening with forced nonchalance, but tensely anxious nevertheless. The announcer's voice came over, with rising excitement as they neared the finish.

"Turning for home...it's Wooden Indian by a length...Fire Ball is second, and Red Gold..."

A great shout drowned him out momentarily. His voice came over again, more rapid, more breathless.

"It's the last hundred yards... Wooden Indian is fading...Red Gold is coming fast on the outside running like a house afire!... Fire Ball is first by half a length on the rail...it's Fire Ball and Red Gold! It's Fire Ball and Red Gold! They're neck and neck... It's Red Gold going away! It's Red Gold...and he's OVER!"

While Mason, holding the coveted Gold Cup, peered at the finish line with his horse and his jockey, Grimes' sheet writers totaled up the losses in their betting joints throughout the country—a figure running high into five figures.

To celebrate the winning of the Gold Cup Jim Mason gave a party in the luxurious apartment which he and Goldie shared. It was an exclusive party indeed; in fact, only two people were present: the host, and the guest of honor, Goldie.

The boy, resplendent in his first dress suit, enjoyed every minute of it hugely. They reminisced about the days when they had washed dishes to buy oats for Red Gold—and the morning, before that, when both had been kicked out of a freight car as a couple of bums.

"It was exactly three months and fourteen days ago," mused Mason.

"You mean," asked Goldie eagerly, "you've counted 'em?" Mason nodded.

"Every one. And I wouldn't give one of them up for all the money we've made and all we're going to make...You know, Goldie, we haven't started yet. We've got one fully difficult, Eve, to make a father understand why he should give up his own son."

"Oh, what shall I do?"

She burst into tears, leaned against his breast, as if hoping to find the answer in the steady beating of his heart. He smiled down at her, smoothed her hair. "I guess we'll just have to wait."

A portentous council of war had been held. Nick Grimes and his satellites had reached what was, to them, the inevitable conclusion. Since Red Gold and Goldie threatened to go on winning big races, and since Grimes only won when the races were fixed, and since Mason was not only honest but proud of it, there was only one thing to be done. Red Gold's health must be attended to—by Grimes' own "doctor". It was as simple as all that!

It was late in the evening when two hard-bitten gentlemen, one of them carrying a professional-looking black bag, appeared at the door of Red Gold's stable and introduced themselves to the watchman as a veterinarian and his assistant.

"I think you're a couple of phonies," announced the watchman. But the words were scarcely out of his mouth when he was floored by a blow, bound and gagged. The black bag proved to contain a jumpy, and soon the two "doctors" were inside, making for Red Gold's stall.

It was Goldie's habit of hanging around the stable of an evening that saved Red Gold. The horse's first questioning, indignant whinny brought Goldie and a stable boy on the run from the nearby tack room. The battle was unequal and brief: both boys were laid out with spectacular black eyes. But so loud was the commotion they raised that the tamperers scrambled out of the stable, into their car, and drove away for dear life.

Mason, returning a few minutes later, listened thoughtfully to the watchman's description of the two men.

"I recognized 'em just when they clipped me. I know them guys—I saw Nick Grimes talkin' to 'em at the track yesterday."

"Thanks, Tom," said Mason. "I'll send some one to look after you—I've got to go somewhere right away!"

COUNTY AGENTS DISCUSS POULTRY RAISING AT WOOL, MOHAIR SHOW

Discussion of poultry and turkey raising formed the chief part of the afternoon program of the Wool and Mohair Show and the Poultry Improvement Day, held Friday in Brown's Gin Shed. This display concerning two of the major agricultural interests of the county attracted about seventy-five interested spectators.

In his opening speech, Guy Powell, county agent, stated that the poultry interest had grown by leaps and bounds during the past year, and that now, in Coryell county alone, there were over 200,000 laying hens. Mr. Craddock, county agent of Hamilton County which has the highest egg production per hen of any county in the state, gave a brief address of the raising of poultry, stressing proper ventilation of the brooding houses.

Mr. Ralph Lawrence, county agent of Bosque county, next discussed the raising of baby beef turkeys, and placed on exhibit some of his live specimens.
