PIG CLUBBERS END TWENTY-TWO HUNDRED MILE TRIP TO MID-WESTERN PIG FARMS

The Pig Club boys who made the trip to the corn belt returned Tuesday afternoon in excellent condition from such a long trip. Having traveled 2249 miles, with 34 people in the party without an accident was one of the high lites of the trip.

This trip, which was conceived as an educational opportunity for a group of boys who had done outstanding work with pigs, was in no way a disappointment in that every opportunity was presented for educational benefit. Visits were made to hog farms of national repute, farms on which a large portion of the income is from hogs. Along with the hog division of the respective farms, the boys were privileged to see other types of livestock, such as milking Shorthorns, horses, poultry, and associated farming operations.

The Iowa State Fair at Des Moines naturally was the high light of the entire trip. Three and one-half days were spent at this, one of the major agricultural shows of the entire country. 1107 pigs were in the Club show along with 650 calves in the Club calf division. Approximately 10,000 people were camped in the camp grounds, which is set aside for farm people who come and spend one week viewing their great state fair. The impression was very forcibly gained that things are done in a big way in that state. The boys visited the great Iowa State College at Ames, which stands without a peer in the agricultural field.

On the return trip a most profitable stop was made at the Oklahoma A. and M. College, as also was the stop made at an outstanding farm near Oklahoma City. In accordance with the schedule the boys returned to Gatesville the afternoon of August 29th.

On arriving home, the trippers were greeted by their families and others who gathered as the truck circled the square. Conduct of all members on the trip was extra good, according to Mr. Powell, and in behalf of all those who made the trip, the Gatesville Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Swine Breeders Association are sincerely thanked for their part in making the trip a success, as well as Bobby Melbern, chauffeur for the trip.

Boy Scouts Will Make Final Hike

All scouts and all boys interested in scouting are invited to go on an overnight hike to Coryell Creek Bridge tonight. The boys will meet at the Methodist church at 3:00 p. m. and bring bedding and enough food for two meals. Meals will be prepared over an open campfire by the boys themselves.

Any scout wanting to pass merit badges will be given an opportunity to do so on this trip and it is extremely important that they do so as this will be the last trip before school starts.

Transportation will be furnished both ways for the boys and their equipment.

Paving Starts On City Streets

According to J. O. Brown, City Alderman, paving has been started on city streets, after purchase has been made from Thomas & Ratliff of paving materials.

The material was what was left over from the Jonesboro Training School paving job on Highway 36, northwest of here.

Mr. Brown stated he didn't know how far the material would go, but the streets would be paved as far as the material went. It might be possible sometime later to make another "good buy" of paving materials, and more streets then would be topped.

How To Keep Out Corn Weevils

County Agent Powell advises that many requests have been received for a method of controlling weevils in stored corn. The following release has just been received from the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company.

"The farmer who stores his corn at this time of the year will be interested in learning that sulphur may afford him some measure of protection against weevils.

The South Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station demonstrated that corn in cloth sacks and tight containers, when dusting with sulphur at the rate of two ounces per bushel, was completely protected against weevils. One lot of corn on test for three years was perfectly protected while the check sack was completely destroyed by weevils.

However, tests of sulphur as a control for weevils proved unsuccessful in open type containers."

Mrs. J. C. Porter left Wednesday for Granbury, where she is a guest of her mother and other relatives and friends.

Farmers Get $21,000 This Week,

Twenty-one thousand dollars of the $130,000 1939 Cotton Parity Payment has been received by the County AAA Office and is being delivered to cotton farmers this week. The remaining checks are expected to arrive in two or three week intervals.

This Payment is the 1.6c per pound of the individual farm lint yield multiplied by the farm cotton allotment and is paid to farmers who do not plant in excess of their farm cotton acreage allotment.

Cards have and will be mailed to farmers as their applications are ready for signature and then when checks are ready for delivery.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

THEY still have grass on the lawns in some parts of the world.

So a tramp came to the door and looked awful downcast.

"Lady, I'm hungry," he says.

"Gee, that's terrible," says the jolly housewife.

"Well," says the innocent tramp, "I'd like to cut your grass. Just for a meal. You ain't got no idea how hungry I am."

"Go to it," says the hard-boiled lady of the house. "But if you're as hungry as you say, and want the grass for a meal, you can chew it off and save time."

We Salute  LABOR

Labor Day SEPT. 4th

Building a nation was not accomplished by a piec eof paper, a contract, a constitution, a speechmaker. Quite the opposite. America first knew prosperity because honest enterprise, desire for freedom and hard work were the impelling forces that brought this land from a desolate wasteland to the greatest country on the face of the globe. This is labor's part . . . we must honor it!

Now! if you take a trip Labor Day, do be careful. We don't want any headlines!

BAPTIST CHURCHES ATTENTION!

The attention of all the Baptist Churches, and church clerks in the Leon River Baptist Association, is directed to the fact that the annual meeting of the Association will take place at the First Baptist Church of Gatesville, October 26-27, and that all church letters to the Association should be in the making and soon be ready for the meeting. It is the hope of the moderator and the associational organizer that every church will have a letter and messengers present at the meeting. Blanks are being mailed to every church in the association and request is made of the church that the letters be mailed in to Brother A. Loper, Moderator not later than the 15th of October. Of course, it is understood that we can not get information concerning the churches and their work through any other source than the associational letter. If, therefore, your church does not send its letter we can not include any information from the same, in the minutes. You will not forget that the information compiled in the minutes does not stop with the association but these associational minutes from all the associations in the state furnish the information for the Texas Baptist Annual and for the records that go to make up the Texas section of the Southern Baptist Conventional Annual. This then in turn furnishes Baptist information for the world. So if your church does not get its letter in it will not be included in these very important records. So please give this matter your undivided attention.

Buckner Orphans Home offering that is usually taken up at Thanksgiving will be received from all churches at the meeting of the association referred to above. Please pass the word around to all so that they can make ready now to have a large offering of various commodities etc., for this meeting. The usual plan will be followed. All feed stuffs, etc. will be received by Bro. Ed Melbern as heretofore.

(Signed) A. Loper, Moderator
C. M. Spalding, Asso. Organizer

Fiery Itching Skin Gets Quick Relief

There is one simple yet inexpensive way to ease the itching and torture of Eczema, Itching Toes or Foot Rashes and many other externally caused skin eruptions and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil night and morning and people who suffer from such embarrassing or unsightly skin troubles would be wise to try it.

Just ask any first-class druggist for an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and refuse to accept anything else. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that a small bottle lasts a long time and furthermore if this clean, powerful, penetrating oil that helps promote healing fails to give you full and complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.

NAGGING BACKACHE

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes — a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Double-Header In Pidcoke-Indian Championship Series Sun.

GAMES TO BE PLAYED ON BLACKFOOT DIAMOND, 2 P. M.

Fans of Coryell County have a great baseball treat in store for them, for Sunday on the Blackfoot diamond the Pidcoke Cokers and the Blackfoot Indians will tangle in a double header to decide the 1939 champion of the Coryell County Sunday Baseball League.

This doubleheader plan was the edict issued by Prexy Bob Arnold, capable and energetic executive, the Kenesaw Mountain Landis of the county league. The season, due to various causes, is behind its schedule about two weeks. And President Arnold felt that it would be a bad thing if the baseball and football season overlapped. If a third game is necessary, it will be played on the Pidcoke grounds the following Sunday.

Both teams are in fine fettle, and ready for the championship battle. The Blackfoot nine kept in trim by engaging the Mound club, which finished fourth in the County League Standings, in a practice benefit game for Sam White last Sunday. Boog Jones, hurling his first game for the Indians, worked a beautiful game, allowing only one single scratch hit as his cohorts eked out a 2-9 win over their hard-fighting opponents.

Pidcoke, of course, proved their strength by knocking over a capable Pearl nine twice last Sunday, 9-2 and 11-2. The Cokers are confident that they have a club which can take the Indians, a feat that has been accomplished only once this year, and that by a Gatesville nine that was defeated a week later by the Cokers, 3-1.

According to these comparative scores, the Cokers should be the favorites in Sunday's affair, but the Indians have added strength since their Gatesville defeat.

For the Cokers, Bill Smith and Pat Olsen will possibly split the catching duties, while Lyndell Trammell, a great fielder, will be on first base. Cecil Newton, a timely hitter and a consistent though not flashy, defensive man, will hold down the keystone sack, while the veteran Virgil Lockhart, manager of the Cokers will steady his infield from his third base position. Sonny Hair, brilliant fielder and also a heavy hitter, will be at his regular shortstop post. Eric Wiegand, Mutt Perryman and Cliff Curry will patrol the outer gardens for the Cokers. Schoolboy Rutherford and Tooter Hall will be in Lockhart's pitching selections with Eric Wiegand around for relief work.

We have received no report as to what the complete Blackfoot lineup will be, but it is certain that Boog Jones, after his sterling performance last Sunday, will hurl one of the frays. Either Jader or Jack Barton will work the other one.

Van Chamber will catch both games, while the first-base selection of Manager Barton is unknown. Troy Long will be on second, Slim Long on short, and Willard Long, the Indians' heavy slugger will be on third. Paul Martin, P. C. Martin and Chick McCallister will probably be the outfielders.

Since this is the final series, neither club has anything to hold back, and will be shooting the works at every move. These should be two great games, and both clubs have plenty of that old college try and hustle. Both clubs boast great pitching staffs, so the contests Sunday are liable to be close affairs, rather than old-fashioned slugging bees.

There is due to be a great crowd on hand, for there will be fans from Pidcoke, Blackfoot and Gatesville. Baseball lovers from Mound will be there too. They will see what thrills the heart of every baseball sportsman, whether played on the sandlots or the biggest major league stadium—two closely matched clubs playing to the limit in a championship game.

THE SPORT SCROLL

By POST

Football season is upon us. Today at the local high school gym Coach Worley will issue equipment to about twenty-five aspirants, while the same thing is going on in every rival district camp.

Worley stated Wednesday he would bring his youthful charges up to the field Friday and send them through some light workouts. The full squad will not be determined until school opens, because boys who live in the rural districts will not be able to come in till then, and these rugged lads annually make up a large part of every Hornet outfit.

This year's club is due to receive some heavy work, before the Hornets are at their best form.

Worley's club has the hardest opening night assignment of any club in Gatesville's modern gridiron era. They face the Methodist Home club, which is said to be one of the toughest Class A outfits in the State, and they battle this club after the Badgers have had two hard games under their belts, for on September 15, the Orphans will tangle with the Temple Wildcats, semi-finalists in last year's state race, and then on September 22 they play the Hamilton Bulldogs, who always have capable club. After this opening night game, the Hornets plunge right into their round-robin conference schedule.

Baseball fans may get their final glimpse of county league action Sunday, for the Pidcoke Cokers and the Blackfoot Indians will square off in a doubleheader that may be the final league contests.

If one club wins both these frays Sunday, it will be acclaimed champion without further ado. It seems to us that Pidcoke has the better all-around club, but Blackfoot may have a slight edge in pitching strength, and pitching is 70 per cent of the battle, according to diamond experts. So the chances of the two clubs stack up as being just about even.

The golf tournament is just about over, the finals in both flights having been reached. This year's tournament has been one of the most successful ever staged in this city, and if the present interest in the old Scotch game carries over till next summer, there may be a bigger and better one next year.

Interest in the bowling alley has failed to decrease, much to the embarrassment of some wiseacres, who, having watched the decline of this sport twice previously, predicted the same fate for the Queen Bee. The management of the Queen Bee, however, has managed to keep things going around his establishment.

Several boys will make the annual trek to Independence, Kansas this year, where Texas footballers annually make a large part of the Independence Junior College eleven. Among those making the trip this year are Lowell Holt, Joe Baker, Garland Holt, Rooster Rogers, R. D. Meyers, Tom L. Robinson Jr., and Zack Fore.

Sonny Hair, whose Dead-eye Dick passing won him little All-American mention there last fall, will return soon to Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville for another year of competition.

The local football field is in the best shape it has been in since it was first built. The field has been receiving great care this year, and as a result, the grass is fine and it seems that the dust will not be swirling after every play, as was the case last year.

The spots where the grass was worn down on the softball diamond have been filled over with good black dirt, and Coach Worley has been watering this spot heavily in the hope that the grass will get a good start before the first game.

We have here some information concerning the coming dove season. The season opens Sept. 1 and runs to Oct. 31 in Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Wise, Denton, Collin, and Hunt counties, and all counties to the north, and also the counties of Parker, Tarrant, Dallas, Rockwall, Kaufman, Johnson, Hopkins, Ellis, Delta, and Franklin. For the rest of the state, the open season is from September 15 to November 15.

Shooting hours are from 7 a. m. until sunset. Doves may not be shot with anything but a shotgun, and shotguns larger than 10 gauge are prohibited. Repeating of automatic shotguns must be permanently plugged to a three-shell capacity. The daily bag limit is 15, and the possession limit is the same. Baiting of the doves is prohibited.

Golf Finals To Be Played Sun.

Charley Sanderson and Emmett Stewart, by virtue of victories over Roger Miller and Horace Jackson, semi-finalist opponents, advanced into the finals of the first flight of the city championship golf tournament, while Leonard Milner and Dr. Kermit Jones will square off Sunday morning for the second flight championship.

Milner had quite a tough time defeating Bill Nesbitt, winning one up. Jones beat the portly Doc Ray, 2-1, in his semi-final match.

The finals in the first flight will be played Sunday afternoon, the contestants due to tee off on the first hole at 2 p. m. sharp. This Sanderson-Stewart match is expected to draw a large crowd.

It has been a great tournament, and local club officials are looking forward to staging a bigger and better one next summer.

NEW KIND OF TIRE SWEEPS WET ROADS SO DRY YOU CAN LIGHT A MATCH ON ITS TRACK

ACTS LIKE A BATTERY OF WINDSHIELD WIPERS... Sweeps the dangerous film of water from under your car—dries the road as you drive.

Just look at the row upon row of never-ending spiral bars on this new Goodrich Life-Saver Tread. Then you'll understand why it acts like a battery of windshield wipers, sweeps the water right and left, forces it out through the deep grooves, making a track so dry that you can actually light a match on it. That's why a "Silver-town Stop" can easily be a life-saver to you on slick, slippery roads.

And another exclusive Goodrich feature that's mighty important to your family's safety is the Golden Ply found only in Silvertowns. This famous invention resists the terrific blow-out-causing heat generated inside all tires by today's high speeds. By resisting this internal heat, the Golden Ply protects you, and every one who rides with you, against dangerous high-speed blow-outs.

Take our tip. Unless you make your next tires Silvertowns you'll be cheating yourself and your family out of the greatest tire safety ever offered.

RAFT IN 'JEKYLL-HYDE' ROLE
FOR 'I STOLE A MILLION'

Something quite akin to the role that won Fredric March his Academy award—his "Jekyll-Hyde" portrayal—is that enacted by George Raft in his co-starring Universal picture with Claire Trevor, at the Regal Theatre Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

At the peak of their careers, Raft and Trevor both were said to be intense in their desires to give to this picture their very "all" in performance. They said they believed in it because they foresaw a mass understanding of its theme.

"I Stole a Million" is based upon the fact that there is a little bit of Jekyll-Hyde in all of us and that it is possible for destiny to tangle the skeins sufficiently to give the Hyde influence a shade too much power.

As the man who stole the million—Joe Lourik—George Raft has the outstanding role of his career. There were really two Joe Louriks. Just one man, but two characters.

One was warped by fate. The other tried to hide him and live straight—that he might enjoy life, and love.

The compound interest that usually follows a debt we owe society, however, mounted in Joe Lourik's case to such huge proportions that he found the wrong side of him far outdoing his Jekyll nature.

The crash that was inevitable is the basic story of "I stole a Million", directed by Frank Tuttle under the associate producership of Burt Kelly.

Dick Foran as the romantic third party, Henry Armetta as the comedy relief, and Victor Jory as the menace, head the superlative cast which Universal provided for this unique theme of a man's fight for

It reaches its great heights, according to the critics, because of its simplicity of understanding and naturalness.

NUMBER 73

Will Display Texas Crops at State Fair

The map illustrates the wide diversity of county farm exhibits which will be an outstanding feature of the Fifty-first State Fair of Texas in Dallas, October 7 to 22. Every element of soil, climate and rainfall will be in the showings, which means that every agricultural product successfully grown in Texas will be on display. The exhibit will afford a handy meeting place for county reunions.

CORYELL COUNTY IS INCLUDED IN FAIR EXHIBITORS IN DALLAS AT STATE SHOW

Space has been allotted in the agricultural building of the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, October 7 to 22 to Coryell county. This is one of 64 counties to be represented in this display of farm life, which because of the geographical distribution of counties will show every form and variety of Texas farm products.

Counties from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande Valley and from the Louisiana line to the trans-Pecos are represented.

A prominent feature of the agricultural building also will be the individual showing of 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers of America and individual growers.

Each county passing the standard test of a "sifting" committee will be awarded $125 cash to assist in defraying the expense of installing the exhibit.

The exhibit of Coryell county will be a gathering place for those now living in the county, as well as for former residents who have moved away. A special date for a homecoming of former residents at the exhibit will be arranged.

State Fair officials have announced that the agricultural showing for this year will be perhaps the greatest in the 51 years of this All-Southwestern event. More applications for space were received than could be arranged.

Harold Mercer, manager of the Firestone Cotton Mills, Gastonia, N. C., one of the largest tire fabric mills in the world, will be interviewed over Station WFAA on the Voice of the Farm program Saturday at 12:00 n. Everett Mitchell, noted farm commentator, will conduct the interview with the manager of one of the nation's largest cotton consuming industries.

A comparatively small but interested crowd was present last Tuesday evening when the Little Theatre met in the district courtroom for the purpose of outlining plans for the coming year. Ayres Compton tendered his resignation as director of the Little Theatre, which became effective immediately and the group went into a re-organization with permanent officers. Jack Wollard was elected President; he named L. R. Ables, Hazen Ament and Eugene Alvis members of an executive committee.

The Raye Rayford school of dancing will open the latter part of next week with the registration of pupils on September 5, from three to five o'clock at the studio, according to Miss Rayford.

Recent developments in the way of preparation for the new school year include the definite decision of the School Board to run a school bus from Jonesboro through the Ames, Mt. Zion, Hay Valley, and State Training school districts to the Gatesville schools. Other proposed routes to run from Purmela and from Flat thru adjacent districts to Gatesville have not been definitely determined.

The Morris Federation will meet Saturday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. J. O. Brown, at which time plans for the new year will be made.

With two wins to their credit and no losses thus far, Gatesville advanced into the semi-final round of the Cen-Tex Softball Tournament by defeating Bellfals in the last game, 11-1. Three teams remain undefeated.

There will be no formal opening programs but an assembly will be held in the auditorium of each building for the purpose of advising the students of the procedure for the day when the Gatesville Public school open officially, September 8 at 9:30 a. m. A formal program will be held with the opening of the new gymnasium-auditorium building sometime in October.

Mr. L. B. Brown, owner and manager of the Regal and Ritz Theatres, has just installed the very latest type sound system in his Ritz Theatre which makes it the same as in the Regal—Opera radio High Fidelity.

Society: Misses Bess Faris and Ruth Younge were co-hostesses to an early breakfast at the City Park last Thursday morning at 6:30.

ALEXANDER KORDA presents FOUR FEATHERERS IN TECHNICOLOR

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

When Lieutenant Harry Faversham resigns his commission on the eve of his Regiment's departure for Egypt to join General Kitchener's army, his three brother officers, Durrance, Willoughby and Burroughs, send him each a white feather as an expression of their scorn. He plucks a fourth white feather from the fan of his fiancée, Ethne Burroughs, when she withholds her approval of his action. Anxious to redeem his cowardice, he goes to Egypt, disguises himself as a speechless Sengali, and rescues Durrance from death after the latter has gone blind from the intense sun. Durrance, who is also in love with Ethne, returns to England, and Ethne decides to marry him. While Durrance is relating the story of his rescue by a "dumb native", Ethne discovers that the "native" returned his white feather to him, and realizes that it must have been Harry Faversham, whom she thought dead.

Chapter Five

In the dirty, unkempt market place in the town of Omdurman, stronghold of the Mahdi, great

"If I had my hands free for ten seconds," grated Burroughs, "I'd strangle the little blighter."

sport was in progress. Two English prisoners, brought from an outpost for incarceration in the Mahdi's dungeon, crouched in a wooden cage on a low platform wagon, waiting until it pleased their guards to throw them into the prison. Around them surged and pranced a yelling, jeering crowd of natives, prodding them with sticks, spitting at them and screaming imprecations.

The prisoners, ragged, bruised and exhausted by months of ill-treatment, bore it with the stolid endurance they had learned.

"Good of them to entertain us for nothing!" muttered Willoughby under his breath.

"If I had my hands free for ten seconds," grated Burroughs, "I'd strangle that filthy little blighter with the flute!"

The "filthy little blighter" was indeed one of their worst tormentors, capering up repeatedly, spitting at their faces, blowing derisive little swirls of music under their noses with his instrument. But suddenly Burroughs pricked up his ears and looked at the fellow amazedly. He was playing a snatch of "Rule Britannia!"

As the two looked at him, he again blew his flute in their faces, holding it directly under their eyes. And then they saw the inscription, rudely scratched upon the side of the instrument: "DAWN TOMORROW. WATCH FOR ME BY RIVER."

At dawn the fifty or more prisoners of the Mahdi's dungeon—ill, miserable, half-starved men of many nations, fettered with stout chains—were released under heavy guard and driven down to the nearby river to drink. Scampering in and out among them, on the pretext of begging a crust of bread from the guards, was the grinning imbecile of a wandering flute player with the scar of the Sengali on his forehead. Burroughs, lying prone on the river bank and pretending to drink with the other prisoners, kept their eyes on the strange fellow, scarcely able to contain their excitement.

Soon he had worked his way to their side and lay down next to Burroughs. Keeping his face near the water, he stealthily drew a steel file from his sleeve and slipped it into Burroughs' tunic. "Take this," he whispered. "You have the night to cut away your chains."

"Who are you?" muttered Burroughs.

"I am here to help you," said the mad beggar. "Do as I say."

He rose to go—but not in time to escape the inquisitive eye of one of the black guards. The guard, having seen Harry speak to one of his comrades, beckoned to one of his comrades. Both stepped forward and seized him. They dragged him away to the Mahdi's castle—this tongueless man who could speak to their enemies!

No amount of lashing, the Mahdi found, could make the spy whom his men had caught betray the secret of who he was or what were his plans. The Mahdi knew of other tortures than whipping; but he decided to reserve a more subtle kind of punishment for his new prisoner—a punishment that would be shared by all the others who were already languishing in his dungeon.

"Have him thrown into the prison," he ordered his interpreter. "And tell him, so that he may tell the others there, that if Kitchener dares to attack this city, every one of them will have his eyes burned out with a hot iron, and his arms cut from their sockets."

At nightfall the bleeding, half-conscious Faversham was flung into the cell. Lying prostrate on the floor, he sank into a heavy stupor. The prisoners, to whom this was a common occurrence, paid little attention; but Burroughs and Willoughby recognized him as their benefactor, crept over to where he lay, and scrutinized his face.

"Willoughby, look!" cried Burroughs in an excited undertone, as he lifted the man's turban from his forehead. "Look—it's Harry—Harry Faversham!"

All during the night, while the other prisoners slept, the three friends feverishly filed away at the chains that bound their hands together. And while they worked, out on the desert beyond Omdurman preparations were under way for the decisive battle whose outcome would mean either the end of the Mahdi's rule or the annihilation of Kitchener's expedition in Egypt. The Dervish warriors were massing, ten of them to every one of their enemies, for the supreme effort to smash the British forces.

But they did not know that Kitchener's fleet of gunboats, hauled by manpower along the banks of the river, were slowly, quietly creeping up along the Nile to within shelling range of the Mahdi's stronghold of Omdurman!

Menus

Now that vacation days are over you will want to keep the youngsters in the fine health long days out of doors have brought. If your children can come home for lunch the mid-day meal problem is simplified. If a lunch is carried you have to do some special planning to see that lunch boxes are filled with wholesome food. This should include one hot dish or drink. For the child who comes home the following suggestions will be helpful in menu planning.

LIVER BALL SOUP

1-2 lb. butter creamed well add 4 unbeaten eggs and continue to cream
3-4 lb. ground calf liver
1 tbs. salt and pepper to taste.
Few grains nutmeg
A bit of ground thyme
2 tbs. minced parsley
2 1-4 cups bread crumbs made from hard dry bread

Mix all ingredients together thoroughly. Form into balls and drop into boiling bouillon or meat broth of any kind and cook ten minutes. Serve three or more balls (about the size of a hickory nut) in each bowl of soup. Garnish with parsley.

Serve with toast, junket, cookies and milk.

SPINACH AND EGGS AU GRATIN

1 pint cooked spinach
4 hard boiled eggs
1 pint cream sauce
1-2 cup grated cheese

Place chopped spinach in flat baking dish cover with sliced eggs and cream sauce to which has been added the cheese. Brown in oven or under broiler and serve with toast triangles.

Serve with apple sauce, ginger snaps, hot chocolate or cocoa.

She will know no more suffering and sorrows but all will be joy and peace. She leaves to mourn her going four daughters, Mrs. Eva Autry, Mrs. Lena York, Mrs. Essie Autrey, and Mrs. Bennie Woodson, the four sons-in-law, and a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren, a host of other relatives and friends. The entire community extends its sympathy to the bereaved ones.

At the cemetery working Friday an association was organized for the purpose of having someone care for the cemetery. Mr. Henry Autrey was elected chairman,

Mr. Thomas Shults, treasurer, and Mrs. Lee Powell, secretary. It was decided that each family having loved ones laid to rest here, to pay a fee of one dollar each, or more if needed to pay someone to care for the cemetery. Mr. Lee Ray was the one selected to care for it. We will still have our regular meeting twice a year. The last Friday in April and the last Friday in August.
