Amateur Nite Is Success at Grove

Saturday night at The Grove's Amateur Nite, under the Auspices of W. J. Dube, approximately 1,000 people gathered for the entertainment. The stage was erected in the streets, and the crowd stayed in the open to watch the performers go thru their paces.

Burris and Hershaw Clawson, two local boys, won first prize with their imitation of a Coryell county "fox chase" and Doyle Taylor, of Owl Creek, sang his way into second money, after a lot of close competition from other contestants.

James Evans, popular baritone and one of Dube's original Mascots, sang a couple of bass solos that probably cracked a lot of mirrors there about, but drew a roar of applause from the audience.

Excellent performances were turned in by the Cross Quartette, which tickled the Lions club in Gatesville, recently, and the Happy Harmonizers, Clawson Sisters, Dick Watts, and Sara Nell Smith and a number of others whose names were not learned, pleased the crowd.

The programs, presented by the progressive merchants of The Grove are presented each Saturday night for entertainment of the customers of the trade area.

Schools Begin To Open, Eleventh

Schools will be popping open, like cotton bolls are in the fields, soon.

The opening, however, is more regulated than the cotton, and Evans gets "hot" first, opening the 11th, and their 6-man grids-ers opened yesterday.

Following this lead, will be Gatesville on the 15th, Murrell, Belcher, and Mountain will be on the 18th.

County Superintendent W. D. Stockburger, says State Aid Applications must be made, completed and in his office by the 23rd of this month, as they must be in Austin, October 1.

Officers To Be Installed

On Thursday evening, September 7 at 8:00 p. m. there will be an installation of Boy Scout Troop No. 72 in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church.

A special invitation is extended to the parents of the boys in this troop, to all boys interested in Scouting and to the business men of the city to attend.

The program will be in charge of Mr. George W. Powell, District Scout Executive of the Heart O' Texas Council.

Invitations have been extended to other troops in this and surrounding Chamber of Commerce, and one of these troops will assist Mr. Powell in the installation ceremony. It is planned to have a Swimming Tournament beginning at 6:00 p. m. at the local pool and out of town troops have been invited to spend the night camping in the City Park.

$3,000 In Farm Checks Received

Following the $21,000 pay off for the farmers received last week, the AAA office announces 253 checks were received in addition to this amount, the amount being $3,000.

These checks are going to be a welcomed addition to farmers' pocket books in this region, due to the bottom falling out of the cotton market, and other produce markets, which are now going at relatively low prices.

Some farm products, however, it is said, are showing slight advances due to the European war.

Evangelist Dennis Kellogg

Evangelist Dennis Kellogg has begun a revival meeting at the Church of Christ for the Straw's Mill congregation, services being held near the Turnover school under an old time arbor.

Good crowds are coming, according to Evangelist Kellogg, and more are due to attend as more and more interest is created.

Minister Kellogg is widely known here and is very eager to have his many friends hear him in these inspiring lessons. A hearty welcome awaits all who come and hear plain gospel truths.

James Evans of The Grove was a business visitor in Gatesville Monday.

With the opening this week of District Court for Hamilton county by Judge R. B. Cross, interest naturally centers in the "mills of justice", and in "those who grind".

District Clerk Clarence E. Edmiston is rather of the turn of nature of one who finds particular pleasure and gratification in "digging" up records and bringing to light that which is remarkable in the way of achievements, whether they be personal or otherwise. So, District Clerk Edmiston is responsible for the following statistics showing the perfect record made by Judge R. B. Cross as District Judge in a period of six years of service in Hamilton county.

People all over the District as well as in other parts of the state will be interested in reading the following data given the Herald-Record by Mr. Edmiston:

With Judge Cross on the bench the total number of cases tried and otherwise disposed of in the six years are 811. Of these there were 314 criminal and 497 civil cases. Out of all the cases appealed to the higher courts, not one opinion or decision of the trial judge has been reversed. Every case appealed from Hamilton county has been affirmed.

His records as District Judge in Coryell and Comanche suffer nothing when compared to the statistics of cases in Hamilton county.—Hamilton Herald-Record.

Mayor Clark Is Visitor Here

Mayor Henry Clark of Stephenville was a visitor here Sunday, when he was in conference with Mayor C. E. Gandy.

While here, according to City Secretary Eiland Lovejoy, the men looked over the improvements on the streets, the water plant, the curbs and gutters, and the school equipment, including the new athletic field.

Mayor Clark was accompanied by Lorenzo Riggins, formerly a member of the Stephenville City Council and Street Commissioner, and who is a member of the staff of the Stephenville Empire-Tribune. Also, Oran Ferguson, Grady Littleton, President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and George Wood of the Western Auto Associate Store of Stephenville.

These men were callers at the News office, and were interested visitors to our shop, where Mr. Riggins took special interest in the new linotype recently purchased by the News.

Mrs. Sam Hassell and son, McKie Walker, of Waco were Gatesville visitors Monday. Mr. Walker is the Justice of Peace in Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Honeycutt of Houston spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Brown and other relatives and friends here.

Visitors in the R. H. Rauschenberg home Sunday were Ernest Rauschenberg and family of Port Arthur, Doris Smith and family of Turnersville, Lonnie Shepard and family of Temple, and John Rauschenberg and family.

Taffie Yongue of Brownwood was a week end guest of friends and relatives here.

Miss Zelma Scott began her work as a teacher in the Ozona Public Schools at Ozona, Texas yesterday.

Sunday, Britain and France went to war against Germany.

Nations which have declared their neutrality are: Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Belgium, Netherlands, Switzerland, Lithuania, Estonia, Latvia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Roumania. Also Russia and Japan.

British ship, Athenia, with 1,400 passengers was sunk off the coast of Scotland. 300 Americans were aboard. 21 Texans were aboard. Some were killed by the explosion. All others were saved. Who sunk it is not known.

Germany claims, 120 Polish planes were brought down, and they lost 21. Poland claims 64 German planes were brought down and they lost 11. We wouldn't know which are lying. Maybe both.

Roosevelt said in speech at 8 o'clock Sunday night, there would be no "black-out of Peace in the United States."

Britain is blockading German North Sea ports and the Mediterranean at Gibraltar and the Suez Canal.

Italy remains a question mark, but so far, has given the news that it will take no part in the conflict.

Violation of neutrality of The Netherlands has been charged against both England and Germany. English planes have been reported to have dropped "propaganda" intended for German consumption in The Netherlands, and German ships have since then been reported flying over the country.

Censorship is so severe in all countries concerned it is difficult to say what is news and what is propaganda.

Twenty-five thousand Czechs have joined Poland under the command of their own general.

The British Admiralty denied report of the Bremen's capture. It is a $20,000,000 German liner.

The U. S. Cabinet was summoned yesterday, an announcement from the White House, said.

HOW DO YOU ACT AT A FIRE?

In every small town, where volunteer fire departments instead of aid firemen fight blazes, they are bothered by sight-seers who follow the trucks, or lead them, and get in the way. The Hamilton Volunteer Fire Company heartily endorses the following article which appeared recently in a newspaper, The Texas Fireman.

Someone who evidently was at Pecos the other day when that town's fire department, after being troubled with public reaction to fire alarms, distributed a tongue-in-cheek "What To Do In Case Of Fires," this morning and tacked a copy of the pamphlet on the bulletin board of central fire station in Lubbock.

It read:

"As soon as the alarm starts sounding, jump into your car and get it started.

"While you are backing out of your yard have your wife look for smoke so you will know which way to go.

"If you have two cars have some other member of your family bring the other one with all possible speed. Thus, you can park one on each side of the street at the scene of the fire. This will enable your neighbor, who should be right behind you, to park in the middle.

"Whatever you do, don't fail to get to the fire before the truck does. (This is imperative).

"In case you are late and cannot get right up to the fire dash madly back and forth on the street in the vicinity.

"In case you are the first one there and find yourself hemmed in by the cars of other idiots it is wise to suddenly decide you have to leave there.

"This can be easily done by going ahead, and madly backing up a few times until you finally run over the hose. This important move should always be accompanied by continuous blowing of your horn.

"Don't pay any attention to the firemen. If they get in your way run over them. They are just there through curiosity, while your presence is important.

"At a recent fire, there were 46 automobiles assembled at the scene. A section of hose was ruined by one or more half-wits driving over it. That's the good old spirit.

"And before you leave, don't fail to make some snooty comparisons of thfire department with one you saw in some other city you may have once visited."

It goes without saying the above message to the public was by a volunteer fire department.—Lubbock (Tex.) Avalanche, June 29, 1939.

INSULATION A "MUST" ITEM FOR WINTER

It pays for itself in savings on fuel and adds to home's livability.

The value of insulation is twofold: it invariably results in considerable savings on fuel and makes a home more comfortable in both summer and winter. These two arguments have been proven in so many cases that they are irrefutable.

If your home lacks insulation, investigate the merits of this item now so that in case you are convinced of its value you can have it installed before cold weather arrives to stay.

Insulation is available in several forms and in a variety of materials. Each has its strong points and some are particularly adaptable to certain specific types of homes.

Fill and blanket insulation consists of loosely packed fibers or grains which resist the transmission of heat in much the same way that a sweater or woolen blanket does.

Reflective insulation, as is indicated by the name, are bright-surfaced materials which reflect the heat back into the house instead of allowing it to leak thru the walls . . . its action is similar to that of a mirror reflecting light.

Rigid-board insulation is made of the same fibrous materials that comprise the fill and blanket type. It differs only in form—the fibers are pressed together and form boards, similar to wallboard. In addition to providing insulation this type also offers a certain amount of structural strength. This factor definitely enhances its value.

Fireplace Will Add to Interior Beauty

In response to an ever-increasing demand, fireplaces are rapidly becoming standard fixtures in modern homes, rather than "extras".

This demand has taken place because the fireplace, which is a throw-back to the old open hearth, gives about as much day-in-and-day-out enjoyment as any other single unit of the home.

This is especially true in winter, when an open fireplace is at a premium because it imparts an air of snug coziness and friendly hospitality to the living room. They are appropriate in practically any type of home.

What Is Pasture Worth?

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Associate Editor
Farm and Ranch
Breeder-Feeder Association

It has been comparatively easy to learn how many pounds of meat a pasture would produce per acre in a season, but data on the cash value of pastures for dairy cows have not been so plentiful nor so accurate. The annual report of the Central Plains Dairy Herd Improvement Association issued last spring brings out the cash value of a year round pasture in a forcible way, and the results are based on accurate records.

J. E. Rigler, with thirty-one registered and grade Jersey cows, was one member of the Association who maintained pasture the year round. He sowed wheat in September, at about three times the normal rate of seeding for grain, to supply winter pasture. With summer pastures the rest of the year, ensilage, grain sorghum and alfalfa, his herd produced an average per cow 6,254 pounds of 5.2 per cent milk. This was not among the highest records in the Association, but was well up in average production among the large herds.

The interesting fact is that Mr. Rigler got nearly half—49 per cent—of his production from pastures. In calculating costs each kind of feed is charged at a uniform price by D. M. Carroll, official tester. Pasture is charged at 75 cents per cow per month. But Mr. Rigley's pasture, after deducting the energy therms which were supplied by grain and roughage, paid off at the rate of $3 per cow per month as compared with the cost of roughage, and at the rate of $4.50 per cow per month, calculated in terms of grain feed. To put it another way, each productive unite (technically 'therms') cost 2.3 cents in the form of grain, 1.5 cents in the form of roughage, and only four-tenths of a cent from pasture. Of course it required grain and roughage to complete the balanced ration. The point is that the cost of production would have been considerably higher without the pasture.

This record, it should be remembered, was made on the Plains of West Texas. A longer growing season and more regular rainfall in other parts of the Southwest make it easier to have a year-round pasture than in the west. Winter pasture is relatively more valuable than summer pasture, and may be provided either in permanent pastures or planted fields.

The common cereals are the favorite stand-by for winter pastures in the Southwest, since the seed are cheap and easily available, and everybody knows how to plant them. Rye grass is becoming increasingly popular, and supplies more grazing per acre than either wheat, oats, rye or barley alone. Where grain is sown solely for pasturage, a good many farmers prefer a mixture of two or more kinds and a heavier seeding than for grain is preferable. The reason is obvious—they each grow better at different seasons, and a mixture therefore gives a longer grazing season. The mixture may be cut for hay in the dough stage.

For fall and early winter barley usually provides more pasturage, while wheat, oats and rye produce more grazing during the winter and early spring months. Rye grass continues to provide green pasture later in spring than the cereals.

Grain for harvest may be pastured without reducing yield. In fact pasturing under proper conditions tends to increase the yield by encouraging stooling. The Denton (Texas) experiment station found by measured tests that grain yields were increased by pasturing up to March 1, and grazing for another twenty days did not reduce the final yield of grain.

Electric fences are coming into wide use for confining animals on temporary pastures, where a permanent fence is not desired. Pastures give better results when grazed in rotation, and the electric fence offers a cheap and convenient means of resting one part of the pasture while grazing on other.

Treasure Hunt-Picnic Given Younger Set

Cards reading as follows, "Attention! On Thursday evening, August 31, at 8 p. m. meet on the Gatesville High School porch. At this time you will obtain further information. Bring the following: ..." were mailed by Wendell Lowrey, Emil Lee, and Jack Straw to a large number of the younger set last week.

On the appointed evening, approximately 30 boys and girls assembled at the high school, and each couple received slips of paper containing clues, which led to the M. W. Lowrey farm, located southeast of Gatesville. The last clue was a map showing the way to the farm.

When the entire group arrived, a picnic supper was enjoyed.

Out-of-town guests were: Miss Dorothy Nell Baker of San Marcos, Miss Ednaearle Cook of McGregor, and George Pearce Jr. of Pilliam, La.

Popular Bride-Elect Complimented

Concluding a number of pre-nuptial courtesies tendered Miss Martha Foster, bride-elect, last week was the bridge party and personal shower given by Mesdames Kermit Jones and Dean Jones at the home of the latter of South street Friday afternoon. Vases and bowls of queen's wreath and crepe myrtle decorated the party rooms throughout. Tiny corsages of lilies-of-the-valley were placed on each refreshment plate.

A series of contract games terminated with Mrs. Harry Flentge holding high score and Miss Martha Foster low; each was given an attractive prize. Miss Foster, the honoree, was also presented a large number of beautiful gifts.

Sharing the compliment were: Misses Grace Richards, Joyce Baker, Ellen Douglas Brooks of Evant, Jacquelyn West, Bertha Lillian Stewart, Nell Routh, Leah Dale Franks and the honoree, and Mesdames Harry Flentge, Peyton Morgan, Mat Jones, Sherrill Kendrick, B. K. Cooper, Bill Nesbitt, H. K. Jackson, and Earl Heath.

Mesdames Bob Arnold and R. D. Foster called during the afternoon.

Featherston-Benner Nuptials

Miss Iva Featherston and Andrew Benner were married Saturday afternoon at the home of Rev. Henry C. Summers, who performed the ceremony.

They are making their home in Gatesville. The bride's parents live on the Frank Wilson place, located northeast of this city.

Martha Foster And Dan Weatherby Wed

In a quiet ceremony performed by Rev. Leslie W. Seymour at the Methodist Church in Georgetown Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Miss Martha Elizabeth Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Foster of this city, became the bride of Dan A. Weatherby, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Weatherby of Hillsboro.

The bride was attired in a lovely navy suit, trimmed with squirrel, with navy accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of asters.

The bride, a graduate of Hamilton High School in '35, has attended Southwestern University at Georgetown for two years. The groom is a former resident of Hubbard, Texas.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for a short honeymoon trip to San Antonio and Kerrville. They will make their home in Lometa, where Mr. Weatherby is employed.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Foster and son, Bob.

Miss Mary Evelyn Eubanks and Bobby Patterson went to Hamilton Saturday night to get the latter's brother, Ralph Patterson, of Randolph Field, who is visiting in this city.

Mrs. Earl Vaughan and daughters, Ella Frances and Sallie, of Bay City have been visiting their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Ben L. Morrison.

Is it really football weather? It's more like baseball!

Now that Pidcoke has the News Championship Baseball Cup, and Sanderson won the News Golf Tournament Championship, and Arnold's by virtue of no playoff, and being highest in the percentage column, of necessity, wins the News Softball Cup,—what else is there to think about except football, and, bowling, two winter sports.

Over at the alleys, we see a large number of ladies, and, they are beginning to throw the hardwood, and the hardwood is beginning to fall in bunches. They're getting just about good enough to form a league.

Too, the other opposite sex, are beginning to run up some nice scores, and the high for last week was 212 by Walter O'Neal, and Sasse.

These men just better start a Bowling League—we don't know a better way to reduce the "figger", and have a lot of fun. Need to try it ourselves, Yeah!

Coach Earle Worley said he was going to set on the bench and watch his hopefuls work, Monday afternoon, that is, if any of them show up. With the temperature probably over 100 outside, looks like they all ought to set in the shade—they might work out in the swimming pool.

Many of the football fans were in Dallas last night for the Pro-Amateur football promotion. Guess it was good, but our opinion is we'd rather see high school or college football.

So dry are certain parts of the Arabian peninsula that the natives were surprised when told that water actually comes from the clouds.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Pidcoke And Sanderson Win News Championship Trophies

SANDERSON WINS 6 UP OVER STEWART IN GOLF FINALS

Charley Sanderson officially annexed the city golf championship as he shot par golf the first round, and continued his sensational play during the first five holes of the second to round to defeat his capable second round opponent, Emmett Stewart, 6-4.

The winner birdied two holes, No. 2 and No. 6, and shot an eagle on No. 4 the last round. This marvelous shooting was too much for Stewart but played a fine game of golf, shooting a 38 on the first nine holes.

Kermit Jones won the second flight championship by annexing his match with Leonard Milner, 2 up. Jones' total score was 82, while Leonard's was 87.

Following is a hole-by-hole account of the Sanderson-Stewart match:

FIRST HOLE

Sanderson tee shot went to within fifty feet of green, but his approach shot fell to the right of the green. Stewart sent his tee shot screaming to within twenty feet of the green, and followed with a nice approach shot which stopped four feet from the cup. Sanderson's second approach shot put him about five feet out on the grass but he sank his putt. Stewart failed by inches on first putt, thus they split the hole 4-4.

SECOND HOLE

Both drove over trees on doggy second hole and landed in the middle of fairway. Sanderson's second shot went to right and Stewart's slightly to the left of green. Both approached to within same distance of cup, but Sanderson holed out in one shot, while Stewart required two. Sanderson went into lead, 1 up.

THIRD HOLE

Sanderson drove one straight down the fairway 225 yards. Stewart had too much altitude on his shot, and it landed in the No. 2 fairway about 251 yards from the tee. Both approached to within the same distance of the cup, but Sanderson dubbed his first putt while Stewart calmly sank his to even things up.

FOURTH HOLE

Stewart drove three off No. 4, two of them going in Mrs. Wigg's Cabbage Patch. Sanderson's tee shot was long, and to the left of the green, about 50 yards away. Stewart's approach, after a fair third drive was 15 feet short of the cup, which called for a second approach. Putts were conceded after Sanderson approached within a couple of feet of the hole.

FIFTH HOLE

Sanderson hit under his tee shot and went high, but straight down long 5. Stewart got slightly better drive a little to left. Sanderson topped second wood shot for about 100 yards. Stewart's 2nd went across into the tall grass, just short of No. 5 Sanderson's 3rd nearly rolled off the green. Stewart's approach landed within 1 ft of cup. Putts were conceded. Sanderson pitched from edge of green.

SIXTH HOLE

Both shots from tee went over willows, Sanderson's landing on green, and Stewart's about 10 ft. away. Sanderson sank his putt for a birdie 2, and Stewart picked up, taking a 3.

SEVENTH HOLE

Both got good long fairway drives, Stewart's being better by about 20 feet. Sanderson's second with a brassie, lacked 1 foot being out of bounds over the fence, and just east of the green. Stewart with an iron shot, went short and in a drainage ditch on the west side of the fairway, which put him in the fairway. Sanderson's approach went to 5 feet of the cup. Stewart's to edge of green. Stewart putted left and 2 ft, past the cup. Sanderson putted left of the cup, and past 2 inches. 2nd putts conceded, and hole halved.

EIGHTH HOLE

Sanderson drove 175 yards into the right rough. Stewart drove 200 yards. Sanderson's 2nd, with wood good distance, but still in the rough. Stewart got too much dirt on second, but made about 75 yards. Stewart's third was just south of No. 8 and a little short. Sanderson's approach barely made the green. Stewart approached to 1 foot of cup as did Sanderson. Putts were conceded.

NINTH HOLE

Both got good drives, Sanderson doing better by about 50 ft. Stewart topped his brassie, getting about 75 yards. Sanderson's 2nd, iron shot, sliced slightly to right of green. Stewart's 3rd shot, with iron, was 30 feet short. After approaches, both dropped their putts, the first round ending with Stewart 2 down.

SECOND ROUND, FIRST HOLE

Sanderson drove out of bounds on 1st. Second went next to green. Stewart topped tee shot, getting about 50 feet in tall grass. His 2nd shot, with an iron, went 125 feet into fairway. 3rd, approach went out of bounds, and he picked up. Sanderson's 2nd lay in close. Approach put him 4 ft from cup, and putt was conceded.

SECOND HOLE

Stewart topped tee shot into grass, but made a nice "out" well up on fairway, 100 yards from green. Sanderson's tee shot went well over the trees into the fairway of this dog leg hole, just in about as good position as Stewart's second shot. Stewart's approach was short of the green, and south about 10 feet. Sanderson's was about the same position north. Next approaches of both were close in, and putts were conceded.

THIRD HOLE

Both got good drives, but Sanderson's was about 50 feet better. Sanderson approached to identically the same place as in the first round, on green bank. Stewart went a little to right of green on his 2nd shot, and in rough. His 2nd approach was muffed. Their pitches to green were close in, Sanderson sunk his putt and Stewart picked up, losing hole.

FOURTH HOLE

Stewart on tee shot barely got over the Cabbage Patch, and the lie was not so good, being under the trees, about 200 feet from green. Sanderson's tee shot went to within one foot of cup, nearly a hole in one. Stewart got on with a nice approach from under trees, but the "heat was on" and he dropped the hole, conceding Sanderson's short putt for an "Eagle" on this par 4 hole.

FIFTH HOLE

Sanderson's tee shot went near tee box on No. 3. Stewart's went down the center, 200 yards, distances of both being about the same. Stewart's spoon shot went high. Sanderson's second shot went close in, and an approach put him in a few feet of cup, and Stewart conceded the match, Sanderson winning 6 up and 4 to play.

JONES BEAT MILNER IN CONSOLATION 2 TO 1 17 HOLES

In the morning, Sunday, Dr. K. R. Jones got "hot" and beat Leonard Milner 2 to 1, the match ending on the 17th. Jones, on the first round made a 44, and on the second, a 38, with a total card of 82. Milner's was 42 on the first and 45 on the second for a total of 87. This was the championship match in the second flight. Winner got six golf balls and consolation paid three.

Stewart's card on the first round read 38 and Sanderson's 34, the first 5 holes of the second were, Stewart 23, and Sanderson 19.

RUTHERFORD AND HALL PITCH COKERS TO CHAMPIONSHIP

Schoolboy Rutherford and Tooter Hall again collaborated in two sterling pitching performances Sunday to hurl the well-balanced Pidcoke Cokers right into the 1939 Coryell County Sunday baseball league championship. The Cokers captured the first place bunting by whipping a nervous Blackfoot Indian squad twice on the Indian's home diamond, 6-2 and 2-0. Rutherford and Hall has previously pitched two victories over the Pearl Tigers to advance the Cokers into the finals with the Indians.

Rutherford turned back the Indians with seven hits in the first battle Sunday, holding the Blackfoot batsmen scoreless during the first three innings, while his mates were amassing a two-run lead at the expense of a shaky Blackfoot infield. These two runs came in the second frame when the Blackfoot infield committed three glaring errors, and these three mis-cues, along with two clean hits, were responsible for the two tallies.

The Indians, fighting hard, tied the score in the fifth, adding a marker with one they pushed across in the fourth. Their valiant efforts proved to be in vain, however, as the Cokers tallied once in the eighth to take a slim lead, and then shoved in three more in the ninth when Bugg Jones, Blackfoot hurler, encountered a wild streak and bad support.

Jones allowed only eight safeties, one more than the Schoolboy, but his shaky backing proved his undoing. He struck out nine men, while Rutherford fanned only six.

Slim Long, Indian shortstop, was the leading hitter of this first fray, poling out three clean hits in four jaunts to the plate.

Tooter Hall then clinched the pennant by working a beautiful three-hit shutout to knell a death bell to Blackfoot's championship hopes, which were soaring so high only two weeks ago after two victories over Mound. Jack Barton, veteran moundsman, hurled creditable ball for the losers, allowing only four hits—three singles and a double—but the magnificent twirling of Hall was too much for his mates, and he tasted bitter defeat.

Pidcoke scored their only two tallies in the third frame. Smith opened the round by striking out, but Hall worked Barton for a base on balls. Newton then tapped a grounder down to shortstop, and both runners were safe when the Indian shortfielder booted the ball. Lockhart struck out, but Wiegand jolted Barton for a double to send Hall and Newton scampering across the plate with what proved to be the winning runs.

The entire Pidcoke club again performed like the closely-knit, well-balanced organization they are. Hair played an especially flashy defensive game at short for the new champs, once racing way over on the left field foul line and executing a beautiful catch to rob a Blackfoot batsman of a certain hit.

The 1939 county baseball season is over. It has been a great season, and a great team won. We salute those hustling hard-hitting Pidcoke Cokers—1939 champs!

The plebiscite form of voting, called by Hitler to justify his country's annexation of Austria and re-occupation of the Saar basin is not an invention of the Nazi dictatorship, as many people believe. This method of legalizing conquest was introduced by Napoleon I in the vast territories he acquired. And Napoleon III also made use of it.

In New England, such objections as increasing drunkenness and frightened horses, were arguments offered against gas lighting, which was the first use made of this superior fuel in the United States. To-day, gas serves some 5,000,000 American homes as the one fuel for cooking, water heating, refrigeration and house heating.

GINGER ROGERS AND DAVID NIVEN CO-STARRED IN "BACHELOR MOTHER"

Heralded by advance preview reports as one of the season's most sprightly and original comedy romances, "Bachelor Mother" makes its local debut at the Regal Theatre with Ginger Rogers and David Niven in the stellar leads. Film plays Saturday.

Miss Rogers in the role of a department store sales girl displays her flair for comedy which she recently employed in "Vivacious Lady" and "Stage Door". Niven's characterization as an adamant store executive is a refreshing departure from his roles in "Wuthering Heights" and "Dawn Patrol".

A hilarious mix-up over a baby forms the axis about which "Bachelor Mother" revolves. Holding a temporary job in the store during the Christmas rush, Miss Rogers—on the lunch hour—finds an infant on the steps of a founding home, and is instantly mistaken for the child's mother.

The more Ginger protests the more she is disbelieved, and the home authorities report the matter to the store executives. Niven, a vice-president and the son of the store's owner, investigates for himself and he, too, is convinced that Ginger is the mother. He immediately shifts her to the permanent staff and gives her a raise. This only infuriates Ginger who is at her wit's end to shift the care of the child to others.

Horrified, Neven lectures her, and under threat of dire consequences forces her to bring up the youngster. But his interest in the girl arouses the jealousy of a young stock clerk in the store, who anonymously misinforms Niven's father, Charles Colburn, that Niven is responsible for Miss Rogers' child.

Colburn, anxious that his son shall marry and settle down is greatly interested in the report. He shadows Niven and concludes that his report is true. The situation becomes even more hectic when both Miss Rogers and Niven learn that Colburn is planning to adopt the child as his grandson.

What happens from here on is a series of mirth-packed complications, developing the film into one of the season's most entertaining offerings.

Farmers now pay city people something like $1,500,000,000 annually for power and power machinery, whereas, before the world war, they sold power in the form of work animals worth several hundred million dollars annually.

FAMILY RELATIONS PROBLEM TO TEENS

"FAMILY bickering, even when it is fundamentally affectionate, is a bad habit," says Henrietta Ripperger in her column, Tips to the Teens, in July Good Housekeeping. She goes on to say that young women should avoid it because it may lead them eventually to becoming nagging wives. A family is a distinct asset and can be an added attraction to any young personality. She advises her readers to study the unusual traits and habits of their families and "press-arent" them.

KARAKUL COATS MAY BE GROWN IN THIS COUNTY

Wouldn't that be something! If instead of your wife, sweetie, or otherwise, needed a fur coat, you wouldn't have to go to Dallas, St. Louis or New York, or even Waco to get it. You could get it right here in Coryell county! At least, the Karakul pelts.

Over in Wells Addition, in the south part of Gatesville they've the nucleus of a real fur business "fur the womin".

Karakul Sheep!

Recently, George Kiosseff, president of the Southwest Karakul Association was here visiting the local NYA house. Mr. Kiosseff is a well known Fort Worth furrier, and has laid the ground work for this industry in Texas. He is formerly of Bulgaria, where he grew up and was closely associated with the Karakul flocks and furriers of that country.

Boys at the NYA house, thru a "co-operative fund" have been recipients of a pure bred ram in order to get the Karakuls started and they have purchased 30 Rambouillet ewes for a starting foundation, crossing them with a Karakul ram.

In addition, three Karakul rams and one ewe has been purchased in Coryell county, and other ranches are investigating the possibility of starting Karakul flocks in the country.

Pelts from these range from $6 to $7.50 for the recond cross or three-quarter Karakul and $12.50 for top crosses and purebred lambskins.

Climate here, according to Kiosseff is most suitable in the world for raising these animals, as it is almost identical with the climate in West Central Asia where the breed originated.

Karakuls, he says, are the hardiest breed of sheep known and produce lambs up to 14 years of age.

Thirty years ago, raising Karakul sheep for fur protection started in what was then German Southwest Africa. Today, the fur farmers of that country produce more than 700,000 lambskins annually, while breeders in this country produce less than 5,000 skins a year. The main reason for this is that only four importations of Karakuls have been made into this country.

Texas, it is estimated has some six thousand cross bred and about 1,500 purebred animals. A few registered Karakuls are still available at prices ranging from $100 up, but as much as $1,000 has been paid for the use of a tested ram.

Karakul lambskins are classified into four main types. Persian lamb, Broadtail, Broadtail Persian and Caracul are trade Especial interest by the State Youth Administrator is evident in the local NA Karakul pioneering steps. Since May, there have been crossed 27 ewes with the karakul ram in addition to their original foundation flock.

Persian lambskins have a tight curl and high luster; Broadtail applies to premature lambskins; Broadtail Persians are very young lambs somewhat more developed than Broadtailed; Caracul is a trade name given to the more open type of fur with a wavy pattern and high luster. The furs are usually a deep silky black, but often run to shades of tan and brown.

G. W. DALTON FAMILY REUNION

Tuesday, August 29th, the children of the former G. W. Dalton, deceased, met at the home of M. V. Dalton, of Oglesby, for their first annual reunion.

G. W. Dalton was born in Tennessee in 1843. He served the two last years of the war between the states under Gen. N. B. Forrest, the famous Confederate cavalry leader. He married, in 1867 Miss Cordelia Highsmith and the day after their marriage he and his wife left Robinson County, Tenn., to make their home in Kentucky. In 1882 the family moved to McLennan County where they remained ten years. In 1893 the family moved to Coryell County where a farm was purchased four miles north of Oglesby. Mr. Dalton died in 1912.

Of the ten children, Alice, M. V., M. P., T. M., Crate and Tiecy, were born in Kentucky. G. W. Jr., Gilbert, H. W., and Len. were born in McLennan County.

This family has made an outstanding record for religious and intellectual pursuits. Len Dalton is a Primitive Baptist Minister. Also Gilbert Dalton is a minister in the same church. T. M. is a Methodist minister; and all of the other brothers are deacons in the Primitive Baptist church.

T. M. and Crate are practising attorneys in Dallas, and Crate has won distinction as a writer of fiction.

M. V. Dalton is a deacon, and Justice of the Peace in Oglesby. M. P. for many years a school teacher and banker, is now in the insurance business in Elgin, Tex.

G. W. Jr. farmer and Baptist deacon of Plainview.

Gilbert Baptist minister of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Tiecy Edwards, of Plainview, is a minister's wife.

H. W. of Post, farmer, rancher, and Baptist deacon.

Mrs. Alice Hunt, deceased of Plainview, had four husbands all of whom are deceased save Mr. Hunt. Mrs. Hunt passed away in March 1936.

Len. is a Baptist minister of Hamilton, Texas.

Forty-four relatives and a friend former Justice W. A. McWilliams, of McGregor were present to enjoy the day, which was spent in song and prayer, and scriptural discussions, and pleasant family reminiscence.

While they were together a fund was raised to erect a concrete curb around the Dalton burial lot in Post Oak cemetery, with Len Dalton as supervisor of the work. It was further agreed that the Dalton Reunion should be an annual affair, the date for each yearly reunion to be any agreed date between March 15th and April 15th.

The 1040 reunion will be at the home of G. W. Dalton Jr., in Hale County.

The many friends of the Daltons were glad to meet the entire family gathered here to renew old friendships, and family ties. May they have many more happy reunions.

The dude ranch craze, it seems has spread to the southward. In the south, however, it's "guest plantation" which offers live oaks, magnolia trees, slow moving streams, pecan orchards, mocking birds, fox hunting and quieter horseback riding than the west usually enjoys. It sounds like a good idea. Southern life ought to appeal to many northerners wanting rest, or merely wanting change. And it's always good for people from one part of the country to sojourn for a while in another.—Exchange.

FOUR FEATHERS
 IN TECHNICOLOR

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:
 Lieut. Harry Faversham, resigning his Army commission rather than go to Egypt to fight with Kitchener, receives three white feathers from his brother officers, Durrance, Burroughs and Willoughby. A fourth white feather he voluntarily takes from his fiancée, Ethne Burroughs, and leaves her. To redeem himself from the charge of cowardice he goes to Egypt, disguises himself as a native, and rescues the life of Durrance, who had been his rival for Ethne's love. He then goes to the aid of Burroughs and Willoughby, who have been taken prisoner and chained in the Mahdi's dungeon. Harry brings them a file with which to cut their chains and those of their fellow prisoners, while Kitchener prepares to attack the Mahdi's forces by land and water.

Chapter Six

At daybreak the three Englishmen in the dungeon heard the distant booming of guns begin. Hours ago they had severed their fetters and those of their other prisoners. Now they were impatiently awaiting their chance to lead an attack on their guards. The sound of the guns grew louder.
 "How near are they, I wonder?" said Harry.
 "Can't say—five miles, ten miles," ventured Burroughs.
 "I'd rather they were a hun-chains of all their co-prisoners through hours of patient work, found it an easy task with the help of these men to overpower the few prison guards, seize their guns, and barricade themselves in the adjoining Arsenal. For awhile they seemed fairly safe; but reinforcements from the Mahdi's castle came swarming out, surrounded the Arsenal, and kept up a steady fire that brought down any man who showed his head.

 Then the Arabs trundled a field piece up to the very door of the Arsenal and began pounding away at the heavy barred door.
 "They'll be in here in a minute," groaned Faversham. "Looks bad!"
 A shell came screaming in from the direction of the river and burst in the Arsenal square.
 "Its that blasted gunboat of ours," cried Burroughs. "They're firing at the Mahdi's black flag."
 Faversham rushed up to the tower to haul down the Mahdi's flag and run up a white cloth. But on his way he found a pile of ragged banners and flags—trophies captured by the Dervishes. Among them was the Union Jack taken when poor John Durrance's company was annihilated in the desert. Harry seized it, climbed to the top of the tower in plain view, and while the shells from the British boat whistled by him and the Mahdists fired at him from below, he hauled down the black flag of the Mahdi and ran up the Union Jack. The last shell from the gunboat burst on the Arsenal roof below him, and Harry went hurtling down the tower steps, falling unconscious at their foot. A few minutes later Kitchener's dred. If the Mahdi loses he'll cut our throats, and worse. He'd do it now, but he's probably out leading his men against Kitchener at this moment."

"Front rank—kneel! Take aim!" The command, repeated from platoon to platoon, went around the British square in the desert near Omdurman as the Dervish line surged forward under a rising cloud of dust. With wild, shrill yells, brandishing guns and spears aloft, they pounded forward on galloping horses and camels, the white-robed Dervishes and the half-naked, bushy-haired "Fuzzy Wuzzies."

Nearer and nearer they came . . . three hundred yards . . . two hundred yards . . . one hundred fifty yards . . . The British Tommies stood their ground with rifles leveled, waiting for the word to fire. But the word did not come. The Mahdists swept on . . . a hundred yards . . . eighty yards . . . now, among the mass of black shapes and white shapes, individual figures became clear.
 "Fire!"

A volley crashed out like a single tremendous shot, followed by a continuous frenzied crackling as the English troopers fired their repeating rifles with frantic haste. Their fire was devastating . . . no living thing could withstand it. The Arabs broke and ran, leaving hundreds of dead and wounded on the ground.

Again and again they reformed their lines and savagely charged; again and again the British waited until they were almost at point-blank range, then unloosed their withering fire. And at last the Mahdi knew that this was a British square which could not be broken.

Gathering the remnant of his warriors, the native potentate galloped back toward Omdurman, fiercely intent on avenging himself upon his prisoners before he fled from Kitchener's advancing force. But the day's surprised were not yet over for the once-dreaded Mahdi.

Faversham, Burroughs and Willoughby, having filed asunder the victorious troops swept into Omdurman, driving the fleeing Dervishes before them. The besiegers of the Arsenal threw down their guns and ran, and the prisoners were saved.

It was a great day in London when the newsboys ran through the streets crying Kitchener's victory at Omdurman and his capture of Khartoum. John Durrance's joy was boundless when Dr. Sutton read to him a war correspondent's despatch revealing that Burroughs and Willoughby were alive after all, and describing their exploit in the Omdurman prison. And when he learned, too, that Harry Faversham was alive and the true hero of the affair, he bravely renounced his claim on Ethne and departed for a long tour of the continent.

Burroughs, Willoughby and Faversham, furloughed home from Egypt, came to the Burroughs mansion for a happy reunion dinner, at which Faversham presented his two comrades with the white feathers they had so scornfully given him. General Burroughs made a booming speech in his most grandiloquent style, ending with: "And now, as Harry's made you two young rascals take your feathers back, he'd better marry the girl and be done with it!"

"It's not as easy as all that," put in Ethne. "What deed of reckless daring are you going to do, Harry, to make me take back my feather?"

Harry, summoning all his courage, proceeded to stand up to the pompous old General (the first time any one had ever done so), and tell him that the military exploits he habitually boasted of in "the good old days" to the detriment of the modern officers were in reality only child's play—and proved it.

"And now, Ethne, here's your feather," announced Harry, while the General sputtered, too amazed to answer him.

Ethne accepted the fourth white feather from Harry and went to his outstretched arms.

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read The American Boy Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "The American Boy seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in The American Boy."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in The American Boy Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

NEW KIND OF TIRE SWEEPS WET ROADS SO DRY YOU CAN LIGHT A MATCH ON ITS TRACK

ACTS LIKE A BATTERY OF WINDSHIELD WIPERS . . . Sweeps the dangerous film of water from under your car—dries the road as you drive.

Just look at the row upon row of never-ending spiral bars on this new Goodrich Life-Saver Tread. Then you'll understand why it acts like a battery of windshield wipers, sweeps the water right and left, forces it out through the deep grooves, making a track so dry that you can actually light a match on it. That's why a "Silvertown Stop" can easily be a life-saver to you on slick, slippery roads.

And another exclusive Goodrich feature that's mighty important to your family's safety is the Golden Ply found only in Silvertowns. This famous invention resists the terrific blowout-causing heat generated inside all tires by today's high speeds. By resisting this internal heat, the Golden Ply protects you, and every one who rides with you, against dangerous high-speed blow-outs.

Take our tip. Unless you make your next tires Silvertowns you'll be cheating yourself and your family out of the greatest tire safety ever offered.
