

POLITICAL RALLY ON E. SIDE OF COURTHOUSE TUES. 23rd.

NEWS-WESTERN AUTO RALLY AT 7:30 P. M. ALL FREE

We present "Candidates of 1940" to the voting public on Tuesday evening, July 23, on the courthouse lawn. Thru the cooperation of W. T. Hix of the Western Auto-Associate Store, who will "enlarge the speaker's voice", you will not have to "get in close, boys". You can have the solid comfort of your automobile, lounge on the grass, and, in general, make yourselves at home. The News is cooperating jointly in bringing you this, "Candidates of 1940".

This is in keeping with a custom inaugurated two years ago when the Coryell County News and the Western Auto Associate Store brought you the "Follies of 1938."

For your protection, and for that of the principals, we are making this a "blitzrally" (well, don't they call everything a "blitz- something these days). Each and every candidate will be allowed 5 minutes (five), and FIVE only. We'll have it fixed so that there'll be absolutely NO fudging. The noise that will stop the respective speakers will make a dive siren look like a piker.

No offence will be meant or implied in reference to this time limit, as with the tremendous lists in Coryell county, it'll be absolutely necessary to "do something about this".

No state candidates will be invited, and are not. No special edition of the News will be made, or sold. This rally will be confined to County candidates, those for State Representative and Senator, Congress, and all District offices. We think you, and the candidates will have enough by the time this is over.

Time will be counted from the time the candidate's name is called, and the time consumed in getting to and from the "mike" is his own loss. It would give the candidate a better break if he was in the hallway of the courthouse, or on the steps—at least nearby.

Complete plans for the rally have not been worked out and any additional plans for this ONLY political rally in Gatesville in 1940 so far, will be announced in successive editions of the Coryell County News, and other papers in the county.

As was the case two years ago, we turned the "Announcement Column" in the News upsidedown, and began at the top—this, because the "top" name has had the break all the year up to this time. This year we're going to start with the only lady on the list, Mrs. Lucille Preston, who is candidate for Public Weigher, then, take the list as it comes, upsidedown.

Don't plan anything for this big night in Coryell County.

You owe it to yourself to avail yourself of this FREE privilege of hearing briefly, the announcements of ALL these, citizens of this vicinity who want to serve you as public servants. They, everyone, deserve your "kind attention and careful consideration".

We, The Western Auto Associate Store and The Coryell County News will be pleased to have you attend this rally. It's the 23rd!

Contract For 36 Is Let: Work to Start Soon

Contract for 3.6 miles of dirt work and the Leon River bridge on Highway 36 was awarded to Dean Word, this week according to advices received by County Judge Floyd Zeigler.

This contract, which was tentatively rejected was brought before the commission for reconsideration, and was let on the original bid of approximately $142,000. The bid had previously been received by the commission on June 25.

It is anticipated, according to all local highway authorities that actual construction will start on this project in from two to three weeks.

This will leave, after it's completion, only the distance from the Leon River bridge to the Coryell County line in the southeast part of the county of highway 36, which is not complete.

Looks hopeful now, folks that we'll soon have a way to get to the southeast part of the county, and, very much faster, and easier. Thirty-Six IS going to be completed.

IT'S DRY, NOW, AND SO IS COURT: HERE'S RESULTS

District Court which opened Monday morning has disposed of the following, in a dry, civil week. The Grand Jury has not reported so far, and is still working. Something's liable to come of that.

Here's the score: Marjorie Seward vs. E. J. Jones et al, partition, dismissed at plaintiff's cost. W. H. Lovejoy et al vs. S. O. Lovejoy, partition, dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

R. E. Powell vs. Marvel Chaney, debt, judge for plaintiff, Lewis L. Chandler vs. Oliva Chandler, divorce, granted, Nannie Lee Fish vs. Richard Fish, divorce, granted.

R. E. Powell vs. W. H. Williams, debt, judgement by default for plaintiff, Elton Forrest Keener vs. Edith Keener, divorce, granted. Mella Dee Altom vs. Lee Altom, granted custody of child.

Robert W. Brown vs. John H. Isbell, suit to try title, judgement for plaintiff, Mrs. Lela Mires vs. O. B. Mires, divorce, granted, and plaintiff granted custody of 3 minor children.

That's all!

ALREADY 16 SCRATCHED OR MISSED: VOTING 'TIL 24TH

July 24th, is the last day to cast your absentee vote. Before you leave town, do so!

Already, sixteen poll tax payers or others have dropped by Charlie Mounce's office, and "had their say".

However, they don't give out any information as to how things are going.

July 24th is the last day, if you will not be here the 27th, election day.

Mrs. Clarence Jameson of Meridian spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Henson. She was accompanied home by three of her nieces, Elizabeth Ann, Mary Lou, and Betty Jo Hale.

JUDGE ZEIGLER IS NAMED PREXY OF CEN-TEX HWY. ASS'N

A distinct honor, and recognition, has been bestowed both on County Judge Floyd Zeigler, as well as Coryell County and Gatesville, by the naming of the judge as President of the Central Texas Highway Association in its meeting Tuesday at Spring Lake Country Club in Waco.

More than 140 county judges, commissioners, chamber of commerce representatives and citizens from some 29 counties joined in the meeting organization of this organization, which was highlighted by a brief talk by Harry Hines, a member of the State Highway Commission.

Horace K. Jackson was named vice-president, in line with the custom of naming a vice president from each county represented, and Mr. Jackson was named on the nominating committee, which submitted the names to the body, after which they were elected. The other members of the committee include M. F. Placke, Giddings, Judge H. L. Stewart, Comanche; R. W. Knight, Corsicana, Lee Conally, Groesbeck.

C. H. McGilvray also attended this meeting.

W. H. Vandiver Bit By Rattle Snake

W. H. Vandiver, of near Oglesby is suffering from a rattle snake bite he received Thursday morning about 8 o'clock while threshing for Broce Moore, just beyond Coryell Creek on the highway. The snake was 4 feet long and had 7 rattlers.

Mr. Vandiver received medical attention by a local physician, and late Thursday he was still suffering a great deal.

He is the brother of Mrs. J. H. (Jim) Brown of Gatesville.

APPLES IN CORYELL? YES, SIR, AND BIG'UNS

We saw it, and believe it now! Apples are raised in Coryell county, and big-uns, too.

Charles Baker brought one to us this week, and it's in our window.

That's diversification, we call it, and originality. Just what it takes to make a good farmer.

This particular apple, we don't know the brand, but we'll call it a "Baker", and you don't buy any better looking ones. We haven't tasted it yet, but if it tastes as good as it looks, it'll be good.

What else can Coryell raise? There's no telling.

$37,100 SAVED IN NEW F.C.A. LAW ON FARM LOANS

Farmers in Coryell County will save about $37,100. a year as a result of legislation just enacted by Congress affecting interest rates on Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commissioner loans.

The temporary rate of 3 1-2 per cent on first mortgage Land Bank loans will be continued for two years ending June 30, 1942. During this period the interest rate on first and second mortgage Land Bank Commissioner loans will be reduced from 4 to 3 1-2 per cent. Land Bank and Commissioner loans were originally written at contract rates averaging about 5 per cent.

At present about 805 Coryell County farmers have Land Bank and Commissioner loans outstanding aggregating $2,474,540. The difference between the contract rate and the temporary rate thus effects a substantial saving for farmers.

In a statement from Washington, A. G. Black, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, said that the saving to farmers through the reduced interest rate will have the same effect as an addition to the farmers' net income.

"The ultimate purpose of the reduced interest rate on Land Bank and Commissioner loans is to help farmers keep down their fixed charges and thus leave more income for the retirement of debt principal, or to meet necessary operating and living expenses," Governor Black said.

"Money saved on interest charges will thus be reflected in increased purchasing power, benefitting both industry and agriculture, and also will help in a measure to raise farm living standards and safeguard farm ownership."

COUNTY BOARD STUDIES TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM

The Coryell County School Board met in regular session Monday, July 8th for the purpose of making a more complete study of the school transportation system of the county. A map consisting of all transportation lines in the county has just been completed. This enables the County Board to study the system as a whole and as individual units. This study is preliminary to future plans and it is hoped that by the end of another term it will be possible to give to the public accurate and complete information on the cost of transportation, in individual districts, in terms of the cost per mile to run a bus, the cost per pupil, and the cost per bus. Such information would enable the Board to bring about greater efficiency and better service.

It is the intention of the Board, to make it possible for every child above the grades taught in his home District to have access to an affiliated High school.

Although there is $4.00 per capita yet to come from the State this is less than the amount due a year ago.

A. Yes, anytime that the people wanted more tax money, the Governor could call a special session for that purpose.

Q. How much would SJR 12 tax the average family of five?

A. The six million people of this state paying 36 of the 42 million dollars would amount to six dol-family.

Q. How much would House Bill 340 tax each family?

A. House Bill 340 had a tax on oil estimated to raise eleven million dollars. Since we consume only 15 per cent of our natural resources, then we would pay only 15 per cent of the eleven million dollars; which means we pay only one million, six hundred fifty thousand dollars annually on natural resources tax. By adding this to our luxury tax of three million dollars would then give us four million, six hundred and fifty thousand ($1,650,000) that would actually fall upon the people of Texas to pay. This means the average family of five would have paid $3.85 annually.

Coca-Cola Downs Hamilton 11-7

Peyton Morgan's Coca-Cola Bottlers, one of the outstanding teams in the city softball race, journeyed to Hamilton last Wednesday night and defeated a softball team in that city by a score of 11-4.

The score was reported to be close during the opening innings and up until the Hamilton squad went to pieces and allowed the Bottlers to drive in more than a half dozen runs in one inning.

Holt pitched for the Bottlers, and as usual turned in a great performance.

Blackfoot Defeats Plainview 17-11

Last Sunday at Plainview the Blackfoot Indians with Jack Barton doing the greatest portion of the hurling, mauled the Plainview crew by a count of 17-11. Both teams were out on a slugging spree as the score indicates, and the heavy hitting didn't let up even in the final stages of the game.

Lanky Jack Thornton who heretofore has been an outstanding baseman during the many seasons that he has played baseball on the Coryell county diamonds was in the box for Plainview.

The Indians are scheduled to play Turnersville at Turnersville next Sunday while Plainview is billed to meet the Jonesboro Eagles at Jonesboro.

Turnersville Meets Indians Sunday

The Turnersville Buffaloes who went down to a 11-3 defeat at the hands of the Pidcoke team at Turnersville last Sunday will go to Blackfoot Sunday where they are billed to clash with the powerful Blackfoot Indians. To come thru with a win the Turnersville crew will really have to turn on the steam as the Blackfoot squad has some of the hardest hitters in the league. The Turnersville team, however, is capable of putting up a stiff battle for early in the season they downed the Pidcoke Cokers and were considered one of the best bets in the race.

Young Bailey McCallister, Turnersville high school boy who hurled for the Buffaloes last Sunday will probably start again on the

Pidcoke-Mound Play Sunday

The Pidcoke "Cokers" will play hosts to the Mound baseball team next Sunday in what promises to be one of the hottest contests that remains to be played this season. These clubs have been arch rivals every since there has been a county baseball league and Sunday's game is due to create an unusual amount of interest.

Early in the season these two clubs met on the Mound diamond with the Cokers driving ahead to a hard earned victory. Mound will be striving to even the score in Sunday's game and have made several changes in their lineup since that date. Just what the results of this all important game will be, remains to be seen but boosters for both teams are expected to be plentiful.

Plainview to Play Jonesboro, Sunday

The league leading Jonesboro Eagles are scheduled to take on the Plainview aggregation at Jonesboro Sunday in another league contest. The Eagles got a well earned rest last Sunday and will be in tip top shape for the Plainview crew. Plainview has also shifted its lineup recently and is said to have added much strength to their team.

Hall or Bell is expected to start on the mound for Plainview while either Drake or Liljebled is likely to get the call for the Eagles.

TIMELY TIPS ON THE CARE OF YOUR ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

from your electric service man

Follow the suggestions below and you will enjoy even more economical and efficient service from your always dependable and inexpensive-to-operate electric refrigerator.

DEFROST REGULARLY. When frost becomes thick on the freezing unit, it acts as an insulator, preventing efficient cooling and also resulting in extra running of the motor. Frequency of defrosting depends upon atmospheric humidity and moisture content of foods stored. A good rule is to defrost whenever the frost on the freezing unit becomes three-eighths of an inch thick.

KEEP CONDENSER CLEAN. The condenser looks like a finned radiator. In some some models it is housed with the motor and compressor; in others, it is behind a removable shield on the back of the refrigerator. Use a long bristle brush or the suction hose from your vacuum cleaner to clean off all dirt and lint. This will permit quicker condensation of the refrigerant and result in more economical operation.

OIL PER INSTRUCTIONS. If your refrigerator has an open type unit, it should be oiled regularly in accordance with manufacturer's instructions. If it has a sealed unit, it does not require oiling. In case you do not know how to oil your refrigerator, consult the dealer from whom you purchased it.

DO NOT CROWD STORAGE SPACE. Since free circulation of air inside the food cabinet is necessary to maintain proper temperatures economically, dishes and other containers should not be crowded too closely together on the shelves.

WATCH TEMPERATURE SETTING. To keep down operating cost do not set control for colder than necessary. Food compartment temperatures should not go below 38 degrees or above 48 degrees.

SPECIAL NOTE TO VACATIONISTS

Before you leave on your trip, be sure to turn your temperature control to the vacation setting, or if no vacation setting, to the lowest setting. This will protect any food left in the refrigerator and keep operating cost at a minimum. Excessive heat and lack of air circulation in a tightly closed house will cause an unused refrigerator to run as much or more than it would in normal use, so leaving it on a high setting wastes electricity.

If you plan to be gone for a considerable length of time and wish to disconnect your refrigerator, be sure to consult your dealer for instructions on proper adjustments to be made. Otherwise the refrigerating cycle may be thrown out of balance. This applies only to open unit models. No adjustments are necessary on sealed units.

SYNOPSIS: Four new friends of Miss Ellen Fortune's had met her on a train after being expelled from a Riviera home because Colonel Anthony Carleton, an actor, head of the family, couldn't explain an unusual run of poker luck. George-Anne Carleton had quarreled with her admirer, Duncan MacCrae, although she was in love with him. Her brother, Richard, had lost his chances with an heiress because of his father's cheating. Their mother, whom they called "Marmy," didn't mind their status of society hoboos — in fact she didn't mind anything very much. Then the train was wrecked. Richard and George-Anne carried Miss Fortune to safety.

Chapter Three

After her rescue, Miss Fortune was so grateful to the Carletons that she hesitantly asked George-Anne if the family wouldn't be her guests for a while.

George-Anne held her breath, and said she'd try to persuade her father to accept the proffered hospitality. Of course he did, but a certain difficulty arose when they arrived at her large Victorian home then the Sahib said it was time Richard saw life in the raw. So they walked over by a big construction job.

"Interesting problem," commented the Sahib. "Capital...labor...classes...masses...no jobs...no leadership. Wish I were younger, my boy."

The noon whistle blew. "Lunch!" exclaimed Richard.

"High time, too," his father agreed. "It's been a long morning."

They sat down by a "Men Wanted" sign, took sandwiches from their pockets and began to eat.

Meanwhile, George-Anne, at home was surprised by a call from her rejected suitor, Duncan MacCrae. He had seen a "Position Sought" want-ad bearing the Sahib's name in the paper that morning, and had called to investigate.

George-Anne was glad to see Duncan in spite of herself, but he enraged her by demanding why the Sahib had advertised for a job.

"Because he wants one!" she replied. "He's out all day looking for one — every day!"

Just then the Sahib himself came in.

"I understand you've been looking for a position," said Duncan.

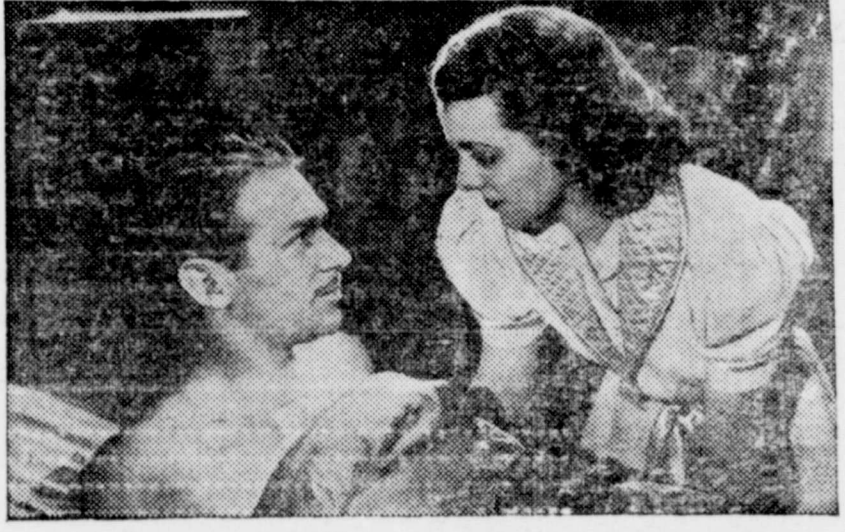

"Not ashamed to admit it. No stone unturned. Difficult times, my boy. Today for example. Interviewed by any number of presidents of this, that and the other. All in London.

George-Anne called a midnight conference.

Felix Anstruther, Miss Fortune's attorney, thought the transaction a bit odd, and told her he intended to investigate the Carletons.

Meanwhile, however, the old lady didn't take Anstruther's warning seriously, and made the Carletons feel perfectly at home. So it became apparent to the sensitive George-Anne that a permanent solution of the family difficulties was at hand. She called a midnight conference in her brother's room.

"Since Mr. Dickey was good enough to leave Miss Fortune this big house," she said, "wouldn't it be selfish of us to leave in two week's when our invitation is up?"

"You mean — just stay on — and on — perhaps for another fortnight?" asked Marmy.

"We can stay on forever. All we have to do is to go on being what she thinks we are."

"Charming, you mean?"

"No! Decent. Honest. Sober. And hard working."

The Sahib gasped, cringed.

"Just what do you mean by that?" he asked anxiously.

"I mean, darling, no funny business with cards. No bills. No brandy."

"But — " panic shook the Sahib's voice — "wouldn't that be paying too high a price?"

George-Anne turned to Marmy. "And you, angel, will have to get up for breakfast, and keep things tidy, and stop harping on that fake royal forefather."

"Give up my fake royal forefather? My own flesh and blood?"

"And you, Rick, will have to look for a job, and take the Sahib with you."

George-Anne explained they didn't have to find jobs — just spend their time looking. If they made a good impression, she told them, maybe Miss Fortune would leave them all Mr. Dickey's money!

That was such a cheerful thought that Rick and his father left the house the next morning in a happy frame of mind.

They visited the British Museum, the zoo, and the National Gallery;

... nice chaps, eager to help — but what can they do? Makes one wonder.

"Then maybe I can be of service," Duncan said. "I have found you an excellent position."

The Sahib gave a startled bleat. "I beg your pardon?"

"You see, I happened to run across your advertisement."

The Sahib gazed accusingly at George-Anne, who had inserted the "Position Sought" want-ad.

"That's wonderful, Sahib," she said. "Simply splendid." To Duncan: "What is the position?"

"It's with a motor car company, run by friends of mine. They sell the Flying Wombat — and they want salesmen. Your father seems to qualify. The ad says, 'no previous business experience — finest social references.'

"But my capacities are entirely unsuited; been having a touch of my old wheeze lately," he wheezed.

"Remember, Sahib," George-Anne interrupted, "the doctor said it was pure hysteria." To Duncan: "He's always hysterical when he starts a new position. He's afraid he won't be good at it. But he will!"

So Duncan told him to report at the Wombat salesroom next morning.

"I'm terribly grateful, Duncan," George-Anne.

Duncan was skeptical. "I do not believe your father has any intention of taking the position at all. I do not think you are amused — nor grateful."

George-Anne's face blazed. She told Duncan he'd better stay away from her altogether.

Nevertheless, next morning, she insisted the Sahib go to work to prove to Miss Fortune he was "on the level."

So Richard accompanied his father to the Wombat office, and their farewell at the threshold of industry was a sad one.

"Feed the penguins for me if you get to the zoo again," the Sahib said.
