Two "Cub Reporters" Join News: Are Nationally Known

We've always wanted Winchell, also Drew Pearson and Robert Allen. We've hired them! Believe it or not, in Tuesday's issue of the News we'll have none other than Walter Winchell, widely known:—

daily newspaper columnist and radio commentator. This only brings one disappointment, we can only get Winchell once a week. So, to save our sorrow, we've also hired two other "cubs", Robert Pearson and Drew Allen, also features of the high powered dailies, and radio commentators. They will be in our Friday editions of the News with their well known:

And, that ain't (Webster says it's a good word) all. Tuesday's, we'll have S'matter Pop, well known cartoon by C. M. Payne, and then on Friday's we'll have Mescal Ike, by S. L. Huntley. And, that still ain't all. We'll have "But it's True" by Walter Gali, a "You Don't Say"? sort of a feature.

"Course, we'll have all the other regular features with which the readers of the News are already familiar.

Any others who would like to contribute to this fund may leave their donations with either newspaper, or with Mrs. Flentge.

"Lookout, Rats", The Pied Piper For Rats Is Here

"Rat killing" is now in progress in the business section, and it has proved so successful that on Thursday of next week, October 17, the project will be extended into the residential section. This will be done through the school children. Each will take home some poison, which is harmless to dogs, cats, etc. but which is highly effective on rats.

In connection with this picture, entitled "No Good On Earth", dealing with rats will be shown to the local high school students the first part of next week.

This work is being carried on through the Fish and Wild Life Service of the Texas Extension Service in cooperation with the City Council. For the last several years there have been quite a few cases of typhus fever, which is the main reason for killing of rats, since the rat is the only known carrier of this disease as well as the bubonic plague.

J. T. Kitchens of Jonesboro spent Saturday night with his sister, Mrs. Guy Williams.

Uncle Sam's just about ready to "get in motion" here with all the committees, boards, and other agencies named, and the first step in this important defense movement will be "R-Day" which is October 16, Wednesday of next week.

At this time, all citizens between the age of 21 and 36 will be registered at the various polling boxes throughout the county, under the direction of the Election Judges listed below.

SOME SCHOOLS WILL CLOSE

Announcement has been received from County Superintendent W. D. Stockburger that all schools of the county will close, except possibly the independent districts, which at this time have not been heard from and are not under the jurisdiction of the County Superintendent. However, Oglesby is one of the schools which will close, and Superintendent Ercell Brooks stated yesterday that the decision of closing the Gatesville schools had not been made yet.

COUNTY BOARD NAMED

Governor O'Daniel, Tuesday announced the nomination of Texans to be local draft board members, subject to President Roosevelt's approval, which is expected this week. For Coryell County, R. H. Miller, Gatesville, T. P. Rucker, Oglesby, and Evant Brooks, Evant were named.

The Governor said the nominees would have an opportunity to render "a distinguished service to their country by administering the selective service program in the spirit of impartiality, fairness and justice which the Congress intended."

THEY CAME, THEY ATE, THEY SAW THEY HEARD: YES, THEY LIKED THE CONVENT'N

Anyway, if they didn't, they put on a terribly good act!

And, if they were acting, they've got no business in Coryell county—they ought to run some of the stage celebrities on the New York stage off, and get on themselves. That's just the way we wanted it. It was "happy day" for the News, too. We're glad they had a grand time.

First off, badges were given to the Community Correspondents when they arrived at the News office. They were then taken thru the News shop and shown the route of the news from their respective community, until it became news in the News.

Then, about 10, we all went to the City Hall Auditorium where were were all greeted by R. D. Foster, President of the Gatesville Lions Club, and also, Mr. Foster spoke in behalf of the Gatesville Chamber of Commerce.

In his talk, Mr. Foster emphasized the fact that "as Coryell county goes, so goes Gatesville" and visa-versa. We are one, just like the preacher says when we get married.

Mrs. Tom Mears, Executive Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce on being asked to speak her piece, did a nice job of it, and also thanks goes to her for two nice vases of flowers which decorated the stage.

Following these two appreciated welcomes, a round table discussion of problems of the Correspondent were discussed in their relationship to the newspaper of which they are an important part, and also, visa-versa.

The "session" however, didn't last until about 11, when everything was adjourned until noon, when everybody "put on the nose-bag" at Peyton's Cafe, and a chicken-fried steak dinner was "consumed" without any "after-dinner speeches" or other nuisances.

Then, there was another hour to shop, fiddle and visit, and then, there was the choice between the Palace and the Regal Theatre, with a grand show at both. After "They will lay aside pride and prejudice and partisanship to help their country select for military training men best fitted to receive it," he added. The County Board, as well as all "R-Day" officials serve without pay.

County Clerk Charles Perry Mounce who has been forwarded all the necessary registration cards, instructions and other material, conducted a "school" for the "R-Day" registration boards, who in turn will have a "precinct school" to instruct those assisting in the registration.

Those in charge of each precinct in the county for the Registration are: Gatesville, Ward 1; C. W. McConneaughey, Otis Beard, W. E. Hayes; Coryell City: W. L. Rabbe, Jacob Hodel, Monroe Beene, Bill Dunn; Mound: Hollis Davidson, S. J. Barnard, Curtis Bomar.

Purmela: Mrs. Homer Laxson, C. A. Parsons, Jno. Baskin; Pearl: Olan Kelley, W. A. Shook, R. A. Manning, R. W. Oney; Harmon: J. W. Reese, B. C. Patton, Emmett Rhoades; Evant: Evant Brooks, I. F. Elam, R. C. Campbell; Eliga: Milton Graham, Jess Webb.

Sugar Loaf: James Shults, W. W. Carroll; Brown's Creek: P. T. Brookshire, Lawrence Graham; Ewing: Cicero Cummings, J. T. Price, M. E. Powell; The Grove: H. A. Winkler, B. L. Carlisle; Hubbard: Bud Shelton, Louie Turner, R. A. Dixon, Jr.; Eagle Springs: E. G. Toliner, Owen Ford.

Oglesby: Jim McKelvain, C. H. Graham, Marvin Rucker, F. A. Morris; Osage: C. C. Etchison, W. A. Tubbs, J. B. Foster, Otha Allison; Turnersville: J. R. McMinn, I. D. Tharp, John Hobin, Truett

Garren; Hurst Springs: Earnest Taylor, H. C. Lippe, W. A. Gardner.

Jonesboro: E. P. Berry, Bert Haines, Jno. Roebuck; Ames: Carl Hinson, Tom Quicksall; Copperas Cove: C. W. Clements, Orin Beverly, G. J. Teinert, Henry Dewald; Levita: Stanley Miles, Dock Rogers Jr., Dan Coward.

Pidcoke: Alf Lockhart, Gip Waddill; Spring Hill: Jno. G. Morse; Gatesville, Ward 2: Jim Hunt, T. V. Freeman, Andrew Kendrick, D. R. McClellan; Hillsdale: Roy Hammack, Bunk Conner; Leon Junction: Ollie Thornton, Chas. Whigham.

Whitson: Geo. Lynn, C. F. Jones; Slater: J. W. Scott, Lloyd Williamson; Ireland: Billie Robinson, D. D. Grubb, Mrs. L. M. Adams; Arnett: Leander Guggolz, Joe Rubarth, Archie Necessary; Flat: Will Carroll, O. Clawson, Thomas Glass; Cave Creek: J. R. Blankenship, Ed Hardie.

These precinct officers will select all the way from 8 to 60 helpers in signing up the men on the 16th, and it is estimated it will take from twenty to thirty minutes per man to get the necessary information on registration day.

Already, the News has carried a lengthy questionnaire with the answers on registration and selective service, and Tuesday, will have all the questions and answers on the particular cards which the men between 21 and 36 will have to answer. This comes to our readers as "a public service of the Coryell County News in cooperation with the Selective Service Boards and Administration Officials."

T'ville Pure Food Show in Progress: Big Program

Last night, Turnersville's Annual Pure Food Show opened in that little city, sponsored by the First Methodist Church, with a program furnished by the Gatesville Lions Club, following which, the Clifton Lions, College and High School put on a show.

Friday night, there'll be an old-fiddler's contest and amateur contest, and liberal prizes will be given for the winners of these contests.

Saturday night, Peck Tharp's orchestra and Comedians will be the center of attraction, with their home talent show.

It's a good plan to drive out and see one of these good shows.

R.R. Stopping Is Now Indefinite: Wire Says "Deferred"

Dame Rumor has it that the Hamilton-Gatesville railroad line will be discontinued with the last run coming October 12, Saturday of this week.

Local Cotton Belt Officials have received a wire from the Superintendent at Tyler as follows:

"Abandonment of the Gatesville Hamilton line has been indefinitely deferred."

So far, this the most definite and authoritative information that has been received here, and many rumors are circulating, but this is the fact of the matter at this time.

DAVIDSON BROS. & CO. HAVE OPPORTUNITY SALE OPENING TODAY

Davidson Bros. & Co. are making you a generous offer. Opening today is their Opportunity Sale, and the opportunities in this sale are legion.

Also, they have a legion of circulars, which you probably already have. Read 'em, come in to Gatesville, and to Davidson Bros. & Co., and in "Injun talk", buy'em. No foolin' folks, they've a great many bargains on good, standard merchandise that are going to look good. See for yourself. Of course, the prices are "sale" prices.

Willkie Drops On This Report, Out Of Sight

If Wendell L. Willkie, candidate for President for the Republican Party depends on Coryell county to be President, he's apparently out of luck. Since our last issue, he's almost got a goose-egg.

A "newcomer" is in the race, probably, some prankster, but probably not. Anyway, Congressman W. R. Poage has received one vote for President, here, if no where else. It's either a compliment, or funny, one.

THREE COLORFUL SIX-MAN FOOTBALL GAMES SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY

Three colorful six-man football games are scheduled for Coryell County rural sections this coming Friday as six promising squads square off for the second week of play.

OGLESBY PLAYS PEARL

The Oglesby Tigers, rated as the top contenders for 1940 six-man football crown will journey to Pearl Friday afternoon and tangle with the Pearl Dragons. With the edge in weight and experience the Tigers are expected to annex the contest but not by too large a score. McKelvain, Griffin and Terry will form the spearhead of the Tigers attack while Nabors, Moseley and others will be out in front for the Dragons.

FLAT MEETS TURNERSVILLE

The Turnersville Buffaloes who suffered a 61-6 defeat at the hands of coach Magg's Copperas Cove half dozen will try to redeem themselves Friday afternoon when they play hosts to the Flat Yellowjackets. With two victories already to their credit, the Jackets are likely to prove hard to stop and it looks like another victory in their favor. Tharp, Vandiver, and Jacques will lead the Buffaloes while the Jacket's attack will be sparked by Poe, Blackshear and Taylor.

Copperas Cove Plays Ireland

The Irish of Ireland who were mowed down by the Oglesby Tigers at Ireland last Friday will face another strong Copperas Cove team. Usually a slow starter, Ireland is expected to drop this contest but they will probably leap in to the thickest of competition later on down the schedule.

Lometa Meets Pottsville.

In the "dark horse" contest of the week the Lometa crew and the Pottsville team are due to meet but the place of combat has not been announced at this time. Both teams are new comers to the Coryell county league and goes to show the amount of interest that the '39 six-man league kicked up.

Anyhow, the football spirit is tops in these rural sections of the county and each team has quite a huge number of followers. They would appreciate your presence at any or all of these games.

BAYLOR ACE

Jack Anderson, Baylor's big 220 pound will lead the way in Fayetteville Saturday when Coach Morley Jennings' Bruin gridgers go up against the University of Arkansas Razorbacks in their opening conference tilt.

Anderson was one of the leading Baylor line performers last year and this fall he is shooting for all-conference berth. The Plano gridder has looked good in all of the Bear's games so far and Line Coach Bill Henderson thinks he's the top lineman on the team.

Lometa Enters 6-Man League

According to Coach Pruitt Shults

Hornets-Eagles To Tangle In Colorful Conference Tilt Friday Night

The annual Gatesville-Valley Mills football tussle, usually a colorful contest between two scrapping teams, will be unreel on the Valley Mills gridiron Friday night starting at about 8 o'clock.

Due to the fact that the Eagles have already annexed one district victory this season by defeating the powerful Itasea Wampus Cats by a 33-12 makes them a top-heavy favorite to win over the Hornets in this important conference tilt. Valley Mills, though not a large school, has made quite a bit of progress in football in the past several years and are rated as one of the top contenders for the district championship.

The Gatesville Hornet, heavy and willing but inexperienced, have failed to break into the win column in two starts this season, dropping their opening game to the Methodist Home team by a score of 13-0 and playing the West Trojans to a scoreless tie at West last Friday night. Coach Pruitt has worked diligently with the Hornet squad this season, overcoming many early season difficulties, and the fans may see a different team on the field when they swing into action against the Eagles Friday night. Inexperience in the backfield will be the Hornets main drawback this season as it takes time and experience to make a great backfield star and the Hornet backfield is practically new. The linemen have improved with every game, however, and it may be that they will be able to throttle the Eagles' attack to a certain extent.

We haven't received the Valley Mills lineup as yet but here's the probably starting lineup for the Hornets:

Oldham	LT
Gribble	LE
Sydow	LG
Cross	C
White	RG
Bone	RT
King	RE
Sexton	FB
Davis	HB
Walker	HB
Crow	QB

Undaunted by the defeats already handed out to the Hornets this season, the band, pep squad, and hundreds of Hornet fans will join the calvacade to Valley Mills Friday night to boost for the local team. Why not join the parade.

of Oglesby, Lometa High School, located near Lampasas has entered the Coryell County six-man football league and will fill in the vacant places on the schedule where the teams now entered have a bye.

Nothing is known of the strength of the Lometa team but their entry into the Coryell County loop is apt to make the race more interesting.

Sports announcers handling the play-by-play description of these games are Cy Leland, Dave Young, Dan Riss, Ves Box, and others.

Humble Broadcasts Football Games

Radio followers of the Southwest Conference football will have their choice of six broadcasts to listen to on Saturday, five to be sponsored by the Humble Oil & Refining Company and one on a sustaining basis.

First in the point of time they will broadcast SMU's invasion of the lair of the Pittsburg Panthers.

From the cotton bowl in Dallas they will broadcast the game between the Texas Longhorns and the University of Oklahoma. At 2:30 p. m. will be the broadcast of the Baylor-Arkansas fray. At 4:20 p. m. the important intersectional game between the Texas Aggies and the University of California will be broadcast from Los Angeles

BRACKETED

By BRACK CURRY

Politics and war make strange bedfellows. Expediency impels man to adopt inordinate courses of action.

August, 1939, found Soviet Russia and Nazi Germany embracing one another in the interest of mutual territorial expansion, at the expense of hapless Poland. Years of national antagonism which had its genesis in the ago-old conflict between Teuton and Slav, was accentuated by the bloody 1914-1918 conflict, and culminated in the ascension to power in Germany of the (supposed) No 1 enemy of Communism, Adolf Hitler, were forgotten in the gluttonous urge of the Berlin and Moscow dictators to rape Poland.

From the standpoint of immediacy, the alliance was a fortuitous one for Germany. After annihilating Poland as a sovereign entity and dividing the spoils with the Soviets, the Nazis were assured of the protection of their Eastern frontier against Soviet attack for the duration of fighting on the Western Front.

I say purposely and specifically that protection of East Prussia was insured only for the duration of fighting on the Western Front. For I believe that before the denouement of this war is reached, Germany's Eastern boundary will be the scene of fighting between Russians and Germans.

No more, boasted the Nazis after the conclusion of the treaty would they be impelled to dispatch needed divisions from the Western theatre to Prussia to repel advancing Slav hordes. They could concentrate with vigor and elan upon the attack upon France. Again they were right. Freed of the Eastern menace, they concentrated upon the French attack so heartily that they crushed France and the remaining free states of Western Europe.

The Russo-Germany treaty of 1939 is the prime example in modern history of an alliance of strategic and diplomatic advantage entered into without supporting ethnic, military and economic factors.

The national interests of the Nazi and Communist states are directly antithetical in every discernible respect. That works to the advantage of one works to the disadvantage of the other.

This is all by way of preface to what I am now to say about the foreign policy of the United States. We all know that some aspects of our foreign policy during the last seven and one half years have been brilliantly successful under the guidance of Mr. Hull. Other phases of our foreign relations have failed miserably, to the extent that the United States now has only one friend in the world capable of extending any military or naval help and that friend is besieged in every part of the world.

Despite the fact that our government has violated every tenet of diplomacy in refusing to placate one of our potential enemies in either the Atlantic or Pacific, it is not now too late to mend our forces in preparation for what is to come during the remainder of this year and during next year!

Most of us in the United States fervently hope that the British eventually will win this war. But we are aware of the fact that the totalitarian states have aligned themselves in a bloc designed to destroy democracy not only in the British Empire but in all parts of the world.

Arrayed against this bloc are the United States, the British Commonwealth of Nations and those peoples now living under Nazi control who still cling to the principles of democracy.

If our government pursues the usual diplomatic methods of strengthening itself in such a situation—a method employed by the British time and time again in their glorious history of successful diplomacy—it will enter into terms of understanding and agreement with any and all powers whose interests correspond with its own.

There is but one major power which meets this qualification from the American and British point of view: Soviet Russia.

Of course, Joe Stalin may not be prepared to take decisive action yet against the Nazis. But the odds are that he will, now or later, perhaps when the Nazis have been weakened further by a prolonged war. And if he were made aware at this time that the government of Washington and London are prepared to aid him in any conflict in which he may engage against Hitler, Stalin might be induced to take action, as least at some future time.

This is a critical hour that calls for action, decisive action, action that may not suit our instincts. But an alliance which aligned the Soviet Union, the United States, and the British Empire would be a formidable one for the totalitarians to buck.

Methodist Union Meets At Gatesville Church

About 38 young people were present for the monthly meeting of the East Side Gatesville district union at the Methodist Church in this city Tuesday evening.

An interesting program, which included a talk by the Rev. Bennett of Moody and music played by Mrs. Bennett, accordionist, was presented.

The recreational period in which folk games were played followed the regular business meeting. At the conclusion, refreshments were served.

Churches represented were Oglesby, Moody, Turnersville, Pan- cake, Ames and Gatesville.

Former Gatesville Girl Weds Nolanville Man

Miss Julia Dee Hollingsworth, of Nolanville, formerly of Gatesville, became the bride of Leighton Earl Roberts of Nolanville Tuesday evening in the First Baptist Church at Temple, with the Rev. L. B. Parks of Temple performing the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a soldier blue ensemble with black accessories.

Miss Elizabeth Huggins and Ray Cox of Nolanville and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hollingsworth of Gatesville were the only attendants.

Mrs. Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hollingsworth, formerly of this city, attended the Gatesville schools, and was graduated last year from Belton High School. Mr. Roberts, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roberts of Nolanville, attended Belton High also.

After a brief honeymoon trip, the couple will be at home in Nolanville.

OCTOBER LOYALTY MONTH. METHODIST CHURCH

The month of October has been designated as "Loyalty Month" at the Methodist Church. The Pastor announces that every service during this month will be given this special direction.

Many important church events are planned for this month. Next Sunday evening Dr. D. K. Porter, the District Superintendent, will preach and hold the fourth quarterly Conference for the year. This is the last Conference and the most important.

"Childhood and youth" week will be observed the week beginning Sunday October 20th. During this week special emphasis will be given to the place of children and youth in the church and the relation of the home and the church. Home visitation will be emphasized for this week.

The financial program for the year will have special attention by the stewards and the Missionary Committee during this month.

Sunday School next Sun. morning at 9:45. Morning church hour 10:50. Evening church hour 7 o'clock. Note the change in the evening hour.

The pastor will speak at the morning hour on "Christian Loyalty". What does it mean? What is its place in the church life today?

All members and friends of the church are urged to join in this "Loyalty Month" program. Begin by attending Sunday School and both morning and evening church services next Sunday.

All church members are expected to be present, visitors and friends cordially invited.

THREE CORYELL COUNTY BOYS ARE MEMBERS OF R.O.T.C. BAND

Glen Shane of Evant, Douglas Pollard and Thomas Richardson of Gatesville have been selected as members of the John Tarleton College ROTC band. Selection of sixty musicians was made recently after extensive tryouts.

During the current year they will make several trips with the band, including the one to San Antonio for the Fiesta in the Spring. They will also assist in several radio broadcasts to be given over WBAP and KGKO by the Tarleton Band.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
 ROLL CALL DAY IS OCTOBER 20

October 20th has been designated as roll call day for the congregation of the First Baptist Church. The last roll call observed by the church covered a period of one month. This time it covers only one Sunday. It is hoped that every member who is not providentially hindered will be present at the morning service on the 20th to answer the call. A roll call list will be prepared from the names of those who answer the roll call.

BAPTISTS TO OBSERVE ONE DAY INCOME PLAN IN MISSION ROUND-UP

The month of October with Texas Baptists has for many years been designated as the "Fall Round Up Month" for missions. October closes the State Convention year and is naturally the last opportunity to reach the budget which has been adopted by the Convention one year previous. The final report is then made at the Convention which meets in November. Last year there was an extra Sunday in the calendar year. The plan used by many was to give the equivalent of one day's income, extra, for missions during October. This year is leap year which gives us an extra day but gives the regular number of Sundays hence there are two more working days this year than last. Many will give the earnings of one of the two extra days for the cause of missions.

ATTENTION BAPTISTS OF LEON RIVER ASSOCIATION

Attention is again directed to the Annual meeting of the Leon River Baptist Association at Pidcoke the 24-25 of this month. It is hoped that every church cooperating with the association and with the state convention will have a good number of messengers present for the meeting.

Convention in November

It is further noted that the Annual State Convention will be held in Houston the week of November 11. Every church should send messengers to the convention and every church should see that its pastor is sent to the convention. Churches need the help and inspiration and information which can only come to them through their pastor and members who attend.

Twenty-two churches on Mission Record in the month of August. Only two churches in the Leon River (Missionary) Association failed to give something. We are looking for September to be equally as good in the number giving. While the amounts have been smaller in some instances there have been more churches giving to missions this year than ever before. We look forward to making a goal of every church making an offering to missions every month. Be sure to see that you do your best in the Round-Up for missions this month (October). Texas Baptists hope to go to the Convention in Houston with their goal for 1940 realized. You can help in a great way by doing your best this month.

Like to have run into Frank Blair at the ball game Friday; all dressed up in overalls, Frank gave us that usual grin. Last Friday afternoon under a sweltering sun that made the play of both teams listless at times, the Gatesville Hi Hornets defeated the Lampasas Badgers 13-0. In the first quarter the locals started a drive with Dickie and Culberson lugging the leather than ended with Culberson going over for the touchdown. A pass Hair to Clark was good for the extra point. Mid-

LAST RITES HELD OCT. 3 FOR JOHN W. WEBSTER

Funeral services and last rites for John W. Webster, age 76, were held at the Ruth cemetery Thursday, October 3, at 4 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Joe Sproot of the Church of Christ of Killeen, assisted by the Rev. E. D. Shelton of Gatesville, Scott's in charge.

Mr. Webster had been confined to his bed about two months during which time very little hope was held for his recovery.

John W. Webster was born in Kentucky October 1, 1864. In April 1901, he was married to Miss Irena Farmer, of the Ewing community. The first two years of their married life they lived in Pueblo, Colorado. Late in 1902 they moved to Texas on a farm owned by his wife at which place they have lived until his demise.

Mr. Webster represented the highest type of citizen, having worked consistently for the betterment of the community in which he lived. He was an active member of the Church of Christ at Ruth to which fact was attested by a spray of flowers in the name of the church to which he was so devoted.

Surviving besides his companion is one son by a former marriage, M. Roscoe Webster, of Lubbock, who, with his family, was present when the end came.

Pallbearers were: Guy Hord, Troy Melton, Andy Smith, E. C. Farmer, Wess Farmer and Jay Farmer.

Jimmie Allen

"The SKY PARADE"

Serialized by Wallace West from the Paramount Picture of the same name

SYNOPSIS

After the war, Scotty Allen, Speed Robertson, and Casey Cameron, flying pals in France, form an air circus to barnstorm the county fairs. Jerry Croft, pretty parachute jumper, and Flash Lewis, attach themselves to the troupe. Casey deserts the troupe to fly for Gat Billings, a gangster. The others form an air line with the help of Tommy Wade, a friend. Scotty is killed when he attempts a transatlantic flight before Lindbergh. Jerry takes care of his young son, Jimmie, who grows to manhood and is crazy about planes. The air line prospers through the years. Speed decides to give the boy, who comes to visit him, an intensive flying course as a tribute to Scotty, who wanted him to be a flier.

CHAPTER VII.

"WHAT does ceiling 'two hundred' mean?" Speed was quizzing Jimmie several days later.

"Don't you know?" grinned the boy.

"None of your cracks, now! What does it mean?"

"It means there are 200 feet between the ground and the clouds. Gee, Speed—I know all this is necessary, but why do I have to wait so long before I fly?"

"Because you're not going to start flying the way we did. You're going to be a great flier. Now you can go home and study some more. I've got other things to do."

"What, for instance?" inquired Jerry, who had just entered the office.

"I'm taking you to dinner," was the startling reply.

"Why—what about your work?" she teased as Jimmie departed.

"Listen, Jerry," Speed answered her seriously. "You're been seeing a lot of Casey Cameron, haven't you?"

"Oho! So that's it. . . ."

"Nothing of the sort, but I don't like it."

"He's amusing company. Much better than no company at all."

"I see. Well, I'd like to change all that. That's why I suggested dinner."

"Oh—you were just suggesting. What do you do when you insist?"

"Let's call off the battle. I surrender. But I want to talk to you. There's a place I know that always makes me think of the old days."

"Come on before I break down and weep," sniffed Jerry. Then, as Speed gave her a quick look, she added: ". . . from hunger."

They dined in style at a Chinese restaurant nearby and for a while were happy in recalling the old days when Jerry learned parachute jumping out of a book and when the air circus was touring the county fairs.

"Jerry," said Speed at last, "you must know how I feel about you."

"I'm afraid I don't, Speed. I thought I did once, and . . ."

"You were wrong. You thought I cared only for Jimmie."

"Jimmie! I'd forgotten all about him. Is that very bad of me, Speed?"

"No, Jimmie's grown up now. There's no need for you to . . ."

"He loves you, Speed. It would be a fine thing if he could grow up with you. We could adopt him and if everything goes well with the business we could afford to give him a real education and . . ."

"Listen, Jerry, is it me or Jimmie you're thinking of?"

"Why, Speed, you're not jealous of Jimmie, are you?"

"No. But I can't help wondering, is it only because I'd make a better father for Jimmie than Casey would?"

"Speed!" She jumped to her feet.

"I'm sorry, Jerry, but I've thought of you and missed you for so long

. . . will you . . . will you promise not to see Casey again?"

"No. There shouldn't be any need for a promise like . . ."

"Jerry, does Casey mean . . ."

"Take me home, Speed," she answered coldly. "All the fun has gone out of things."

"It is Casey then." The pilot's voice was bitter as he helped her on with her coat.

Casey was about to climb into a new plane for a test flight the next morning when Jimmie came running up.

"You're Mr. Cameron, aren't you?" asked the boy. "Jerry sent me to tell you she couldn't see you today."

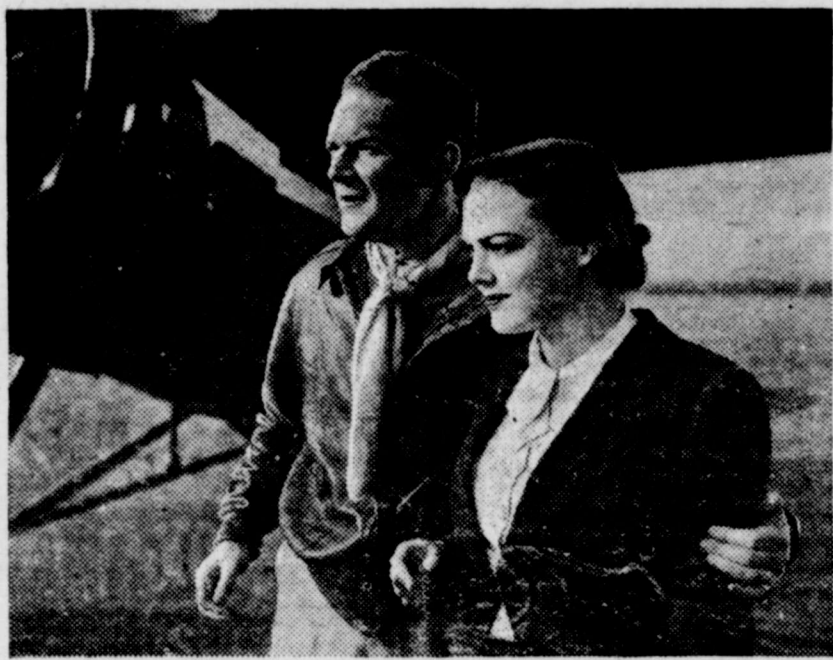

"Oh, I'm sorry." Casey started putting on his flying helmet, then

Back at the Continental offices Jimmie's failure to show up for his lessons was worrying Speed and Flash.

"It's not like him to play hooky," the mechanic muttered as they stood at the window watching a Marvia plane stunting in the sky overhead.

"I wish that dizzy guy wouldn't take such chances so close to a passenger airport," Speed was muttering when the phone rang and Jerry's agitated voice reported that Jimmie had been sent to the Marvia port but had not returned.

"Flash! You don't suppose . . ." gasped Speed. He reached for a pair of binoculars and focussed them on the stunting plane. "It is! It's Casey! And Jimmie's in the other seat. Come on."

"I wish that dizzy guy wouldn't take such chances so close to a passenger airport," Speed was muttering.

stopped. "You're Jimmie, aren't you? Jimmie Allen?"

"Yep." Jimmie was studying the plane.

"I used to know your father." Casey's eyes narrowed thoughtfully.

"Listen, sonny, I was just going to take this new double-seater up for a test. Want to come along?"

"Do I? Gee!" Then the boy hesitated. "But I can't. Speed doesn't want me to fly for a year."

"Oh, Speed! Speed's an old woman. He and Tommy have both lost their nerve. They're jittery."

"That's not true, Mr. Cameron." Jimmie's face flushed.

"Why else do you think they're going in all for these new safety devices: the automatic pilot and . . ."

"Because they want to have the safest line in the country."

"They are working on the pilot, aren't they?" Casey pumped him.

"Yes. And it's nearly perfected—and when it is, it'll be the greatest thing . . ."

"For them, yes." Casey became persuasive. "They'll never have to fly any more. They can sit in their swivel chairs and push buttons. You don't want to be a swivel-chair flier, do you. Or are they making a softy of you, too?"

"I'm not scared to fly. That isn't it."

"Of course not," was the sarcastic reply. "If you weren't scared, you'd prove it."

"All right then. Come on." Jimmie started climbing into the spare seat. Grinning to himself, Casey jumped into the pilot's chair and gave the idling motors the gun.

Hardly had they reached the field when the plane went into an inside loop, failed to come out of it, went into a slip and fell.

"Get the crash wagon," yelled Speed. "And the doctor."

He found the new plane lying on its back. From the steel cabin Casey and Jimmie were extracting themselves, badly shaken up but unhurt.

"Jimmie," snapped Speed. "Go to my office and wait for me." Then to Casey: "I suppose you're going to pull that old crack about any landing you can walk away from is a good landing. Well, I've heard it too often. That boy's the same as my son, understand?"

"Is it only because of the kid you're so riled up, or is it because of Jerry?" grinned Casey as he dusted himself off.

For answer Speed landed a right hook on his enemy's jaw. Casey went down like a log . . . and stayed down.

"I've been wanting to do that for a long time," beamed the victor.

He hurried back to the office to find the whole place in an uproar.

"It's come," cried Tommy as he waved a telegram. "The government has canceled our contract and the Army takes over flying the mail. It means the end of the business, maybe."

"No, we can't let it," Jerry exclaimed when she arrived and learned the news. "Speed, I'm sorry about Casey. I won't see him again and neither will Jimmie. We've all got to fight this thing through together."
