H-D Agent Teaches Negroes Mattress Making

Miss Sidney Gayle Gibson, local H-D Agent for Coryell county, yesterday at Lincolnville school for Negroes, held a mattress making demonstration, according to County Agent Guy Powell.

This is probably one of the first instances, according to Mr. Powell, where mattress demonstrations have been carried on with the negroes.

This work has been going on in Coryell County for several months with the white people, but this is the first instance of this kind in this county.

RELATIVE OF G'VILLE MAN WINS WRITE-IN AT SAN SABA

Campbell K. Ford, of San Saba county won a write-in election as a county official, County Attorney. He had just received his right to practice law on Saturday before election day.

Mr. Ford is the grandson-in-law of Harry Dillashaw of Gatesville.

Two Days Set: One Turkey Day, Other, Dairy Day

According to County Agent Guy Powell, two more days are coming, Turkey Day, December 2, and Dairy Day, November 25.

On Dairy Day, dairymen will exhibit their better dairy cattle. Classes have been arranged for bulls under 1 yr. old, bulls over 1 year. These are open only to registered bulls. Papers must be shown.

Except on calves under 1 year old, papers on both sire and dam must be on hand. Females may be grade or pure-bred.

Classes: Calves born in '40; Females born in '39, dry, in case a yearling has freshened she will show in the cow class; Females born in '38; Females born before '39.

Olin Sydow will be superintendent of the show and the cattle will be assembled at Powell's gin lot. Judging will be confined to Coryell county cattle, and ribbons will be furnished by the Livestock committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

TURKEY SHOW
Gatesville's second annual Turkey Day will be with the idea of assembling quality breeding turkeys so that prospective purchasers may select needed breeding stock.

Broad-breasted turkeys, or baby beef turkeys, both toms and hens will be shown, also bronx, nargansite, black spanish and burbon reds.

Exhibition coops will probably be available for showing purposes for those who exhibit.

Armistice Day To Be Celebrated: Legion Services

Service will be held by the Knox Curtis Post No. 42 of the American Legion at the First Baptist Church, Monday morning at 11 o'clock with Dr. C. D. Johnson of Baylor University bringing the principal address.

A special section will be reserved for all ex-service men and their wives.

Other features will be on the program of this Memorial Service and the general public is cordially urged to attend.

On Monday, the stores of Gatesville, for the most part will be closed.

JOE PAT BUTH TO SING WITH CHOIR IN DALLAS

Joe Pat Buth, a student of Baylor University, will be with the A Capella Choir from Waco, when they put on a program over radio station WFAA, Dallas, Saturday morning from 10 to 10:30, according to information received here.

Joe Pat lives in Coryell county, and is a member of the choir.

President Roosevelt Still Leads Nation: McDonald Wins

EVERYBODY'S CHIEF

President Franklin Delano Roosevelt crashed another old custom discarding the "third term hang-over" along with many other of his "innovations" since he began his presidential career in 1932.

Latest reports, 3 p. m. Monday, gives President Roosevelt 468 electoral votes out of a possible 531. The popular vote gives President Roosevelt 24,363,798 to Wendell L. Willkie's 20,282,049. President Roosevelt was some 10,000,000 votes below his margin of 1936.

In the House and Senate, Democrats still have control of both houses. In the Senate 21 seats out of the 36 at stake, and 11 to the Republicans. In the House, there was a net Democratic gain of 12, the Democrats losing 10 seats and in turn, winning 22 seats.

In the State, President Roosevelt has a more than safe 81 percent margin, with 662,173 to 162,755. Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald won over his write-in opponent, W. N. Corry, 285,949 to 168,127.

Back in Coryell, without the benefit of two boxes, here are the unofficial totals: Roosevelt 2848; Willkie 532.
O'Daniel 3222; McDonald, 1527; Corry 1759.

Amendments: (all carried in state) Legislative Appeal: For 574, Against, 471; Notaries: 464 for, 471 against; Term Mimitation: For, 359, Against, 616; Red River Tax: 337 for, 647 against.

Both presidential candidates have, following the decision of the voters, given out a plea for unity in the United States, which is very necessary in the uncertain and perilous times confronting the nation.

Coryell's Draft On First Call to Get Only Four Men

According to Roger Miller, local Draft Board Chairman, only four men will be on the first "draft call", and these four places have already been filled by volunteers (if they pass the various examinations which will be given).

These men will be in Dallas, the examining headquarters the 19th.

In the local office, they're getting the Order Numbers ready, preparatory to sending out the first questionnaires.

Only one Serial Number has come in since the Tuesday issue of the News: 2214, Charles Clarence Shepherd.

Announcement from the Governor's office is that the state is divided into twelve Selective Service Boards of Appeal, each board having approximately 70,000 registrants. The boards are composed of five members, including one from labor, industry, a physician, a lawyer and one agriculturist. This board reviews any decision concerning the classification of a registrant by any local board, and to modify, affirm or reverse any decision, provided an appeal has been filed with the Local Board. Any decisions by the Board of Appeals is final, unless modified or reversed by the President.

Headquarters for this, the twelfth District is Waco, and the men named are John Maxwell, Dr. H. F. Connally, Albert Clifton, J. M. Patillo, and Pat M. Neff.

CITIZENS OF COUNTY MEET AT COURTHOUSE CONSIDER PLANS FOR "RE-BEATING" CO.

It might, or might not be called an "indignation" meeting, but nevertheless, some 150 citizens from all over Coryell county met in the district court room Wednesday at 3 p. m. to work out some plan for rearranging the beats of the county, with the view of getting a more equalized distribution of road money thruout the county.

The consensus of opinion seemed to be that each beat should come into Gatesville, and should "take the roads or highways from the county seat all the way to the county line, so that they would not be divided by Beat lines.

John Scott was named Committeeman to present the proposition to the Chamber of Commerce, after more details have been worked out.

Robert Brown, President of the Chamber of Commerce was at the meeting and in addition, a number of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

President Brown stated the matter would be brought up at the regular Director's meeting, and thoroly discussed, and would then probably be referred to the Highway Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which usually handles matter of the nature.

Motion was made to appoint delegates or committeemen from every school district to work on this proposition, and the following were named: Flat, A. A. Harper, J. F. Clawson, Less Tippit; Clear Creek, J. C. Journey, Milton Graham, Liberty, J. Frank Blair, Jim Jones; Ater, Ollie Little, Ike Pruitt; Tama, Jim Shultz, Jesse Keener; Harmony, Charlie Hill, Craig Thomas; Harmon, W. W. Storm, Frank Hermann.

Topsey, Vick McBride, Homer Scott; Pearl, Robert Manning, J. H. Nabors; Copperras Cove, Hans Leonhard, Jesse Clements, Will Wallace; Antelope, Albert Kindler, Sam Henson; Ewing, Carl Brown, Jim Bates; Coryell City, Ernest Gohlke, Joe A. Tubbs; Peabody, John H. Conner, J. L. Whitley; Bee House, T. L. Conner, S. E. Comer; Purmela, Geo. Thedford, J. B. Sanders.
Arnett, S. E. Pendleton, Harmon White; Evant, Floyd Barkley, J. H. Hudson; Ireland, Ed Huckabee, O. P. Patterson; Levita, Frank Hanes, Walter Miles, Maple, Ike Bay, Jim Shultz; Pidcoke, Dewey Lovejoy, Bill Garrett; Leon Junction, J. M. Gilbreath, F. J. Jackson, Bush Kearney; Mound, S. J. Barnard, W. F. Green; Hubard Roy Botkin, L. J. Turner; The Grove, W. J. Dube, Herman Winkler; Turnersville, A. T. Humes, Sam Whitley.

Altho this is not all the school districts, it is probably other member will be named from the other districts.

A meeting will be held soon for all these delegates or representatives to meet, and a probable smaller committee will be formed to work the idea out to present to the proper functionaries, so that the proposition may be started.

The main idea behind the proposition seems to be to get "trunk" highways maintained to every community in the county, and then, join them with "feeder roads", all of which are to be "travelable" during all kinds of weather, and to get more equal distribution of the tax money.

Xmas Lights Have Seen Too Many Christmases

Gatesville's annual Christmas parade for 1940 will be on December 6 at 11 a. m. and the Chamber of Commerce has contracted for one of the Gainesville Circus Units as a special feature of the parade.

About ten years ago, the last year Xmas lights were bought, and they've been spliced, put up, taken down, etc., etc., until they are dangerous as a fire hazard, and unsatisfactory as a lighting feature, according to reports.

This will necessitate a "collection" for the purchase of new lites it is said, and the money so accumulated will be used for this lighting equipment solely, and not for the "individual brilliance" of anyone's. This canvass will be conducted thruout the city, whether you're "on the square" or where, as this is a city-wide proposition, and is not confined to any particular section. The collection will be under the direction of Dr. Otis Ray, chairman of the Civic Improvement Committee.

Back to the parade—there'll be gorgeously decorated floats, bands, girls and boys in beautiful costumes and uniforms, clowns, story-book characters, Shetland Ponies, a calliope playing Christmas carols, and in Addition—

SANTA CLAUS will be there to greet all the youngsters from every nook and corner of Coryell county, riding in a beautiful float drawn by prancing ponies, guarded by an escort of eight young men.

You'll miss it, if you miss it!

FIRE CAUSES SLIGHT DAMAGE AT PAT POTTS HOME TUES.

About 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Pat Potts home the hose of a gas stove caught fire, burning it in two pieces.

Fortunately, the place where the hose burned was on the tile floor in front of the fireplace, and no serious damage was done.

Spain produces annually about 5,000 tons of honey and 1,000 tons of beeswax.

Thirty Calves To Be "Fed-Out": Banks Finance Deal

According to County Agent Guy Powell, some 30 Hereford calves will be fed-out by boys of Coryell county, from now until April 1.

The Livestock Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will at the end of the feeding period offer $20 first prize, $10 and $5, for the best calves at the end of the period of approximately 150 days.

A start on this was made Wednesday, when a number of the boys went to Ireland to the Brooks ranch, numbers were drawn for "choices" and then the cattle were selected in order, Joe Hanna Jr., Melton Wiegand, Danny Lee Taylor, Dickie Harmon, J. D. Wolf, Gayle Franks, Edwin Turner, Cecil Turner, Tommy Thomson, Burney Winkler, 2, Wayne Curry and Harold Loesch.

Other feeding calves are Wesley Chaney, 5, Cloyce Parsons, 2, Loyd Brown, Jack Saunders, Jim Voss, 2, and boys of the Oglesby FFA 7.

Edwin and Richard Thomson are also feeding, or will feed calves along with other boys.

The calves were financed by Guaranty Bank & Trust Co. and The National Bank of Gatesville.

CALLING ALL BAPTISTS OF LEON RIVER ASSOCIATION

There will be no Monthly Workers meeting this month. The next meeting will be December the 11th at the Baptist church of Gatesville. This meeting is to be sponsored by the State Sunday school board, and the Sunday School board of Nashville, Tennessee. During this week 110 such meetings will be held in the different associations of Texas in the interest of Sunday School enlargement.

There will be at least three visiting speakers for this occasion. Watch the papers for the program which will be arranged by G. S. Hopkins, Supt. of Baptist Sunday School work for Texas. Keep the date in mind, and announce this meeting each Sunday included in this month, and the first and second Sundays in December.

Remember also that our associational wide offering for Buckner Orphans' Home including everything that can be used in your home, and on your farm is to be gathered up and brought to this meeting, or Mr. Edd Melbern will receive it at his Feed Store anytime you bring it.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"The Timeless Christ" and "The Mind of Christ" are sermon subjects for Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church. The pastor will preach on both occasions.

The sermon at the eleven o'clock hour will launch a series of pre-Christmas studies designed to present the Christmas message and story as not confined to the two thousand years since Christ's birth. "The Church of God is one", says the pastor, "both in point of time and constituency. Salvation for Adam, Abraham, and us is the same and ever has been. This series of studies beginning Sunday morning is planned to develop this idea, presenting as it does the Christian message of the Old Testament as well as of the New".

The vesper topic will not be a part of the series, which will continue on Wednesday night and Sunday evening for six weeks.

Hours of worship for the day and week are as follows.

Sunday School, 9:45. Mr. Frank Kelso, Superintendent.

Morning worship, 11:00. Sermon by the pastor.

Vesper Worship, 5:00. Sermon by the pastor.

Tuesday, 7:00 Boy Scouts.

Wednesday, 7:15. Midweek worship. Topic for study, "The Christ in Genesis."

THE METHODIST CHURCH JONESBORO CIRCUIT

(A. R. Corn, P. C.)

There will be no preaching services on the Jonesboro circuit Sunday, November 10. The pastor will be at conference.

Some things we believe about the Bible:

1. That, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." (Tim. 3:16).

2. That, "Without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifested in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory." (1 Tim. 3:16).

3. That, "The testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy." (Rev. 19:10).

4. That, "If any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book." (Rev. 22:19).

5. That, "The wages of sin is death: but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." (Romans 6:23).

6. That the theme of the whole Bible is stated in these words, "Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus." (Romans 3:24).

7. That, "Ye were not redeemed with corruptable things, as silver and gold . . . But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot: Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you." (1 Peter 1:18-20.)

PRAIRIE VIEW SERVICES

Regular worship is announced for Prairie View Sunday. Sunday School begins at 10:00 with Mr. Sam Leach, superintendent.

Evening Worship begins at 7 o'clock. Rev. Ed Bayless, pastor, will preach.

HARMON SERVICES

The public is cordially invited to services at Harmon Sunday afternoon. Sunday School begins at 2:30. Edward Bayless, pastor, will preach immediately after Sunday School classes meet.

SCOTT'S FUNERAL HOME

NOVEMBER

SAGITTARIUS, THE ARCHER

FIDELITY AND FRIENDSHIP. PREVENTS BAD DREAMS

TEA-SHOWER IS COURTESY EXTENDED TO MISS FRANKS

Miss Leah Dale Franks, whose marriage to Joe Ricketts will take place Sunday, November 10, was named honoree at a beautifully appointed tea and miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. J. O. Brown on East Main street Monday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. Receiving with Mrs. Brown were her co-hostesses, Mesdames Pat Holt, M. W. Lowrey, Jeff Bates, and Ola Mae Parks.

Mrs. Lowrey greeted the guests at the door. In the receiving line were Mrs. Holt, the honoree, Mrs. Edgar Franks, and Mrs. Sam Ricketts.

Mrs. Parks arranged the delightful program for the afternoon and included piano numbers, vocal selections by Mrs. A. W. Ellis and a group of readings by Mrs. B. K. Cooper.

Fall flowers decorated the reception suite throughout. Lavender chrysanthemums were placed advantageously about the living room while yellow and white chrysanthemums adorned other rooms of the home.

In the dining room an all-white color scheme was featured. The table was laid with a madeira cloth and lighted by tall white tapers in silver candelabra. Its centerpiece was a miniature bride and groom placed on a satin altar, surrounded with a garland of white chrysanthemums. White ribbons, showered with pompoms, were suspended over the table from the large white wedding bell. Orange blossoms adorned the center of the wedding bell.

Mrs. E. W. Jones Jr. and Mrs. Johnnie Bradford, sisters of the bride-elect, presided at the silver services. Assisting in the dining room were, Mrs. Q. A. McIver, Eugene Alvis and Clarence Shepherd.

Presiding at the Bride's Book, where over one hundred guests registered, was Mrs. Jeff Bates. Mesdames G. G. Ricketts, C. M. Spalding, Will Powell, C. L. Bellamy, and Durward Findley of Waco were also members of the house party.

The honoree received a profusion of lovely gifts.

Woman's Forum Meets At Wiegand Home

Mrs. Wm. Wiegand was hostess to the Woman's Forum when it met last Monday afternoon at her home on South 10th. "The Family in the Nineteenth Century" was the subject of the program, and topics for discussion were "Changes in Economic Organization of the Family", which was given by Mrs. Kermit Jones, and "The Independent Business Woman", given by Mrs. J. C. Porter. Mrs. Clay Stinnett gave Steps in Voice Training.

The next meeting will be November 18 with Mrs. Byron Leaird Jr.

Patriotic Theme Featured At B & PW Meeting

The patriotic theme prevailed in all table decorations and other appointments when the Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular monthly meeting at Peyton's Cafe Tuesday evening. Centering the dining table was a bowl of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Louise Hall acted as toastmaster. Under the general subject of "Our Government", Mrs. Pearl White gave a Comparison of Two City Governments and Miss Thelma McGilvray discussed "County Government and Its Reform". County Attorney Eugene Alvis gave a very interesting illustrated talk on "Forms of Municipal Government."

The group was also favored with a reading by Miss Ellen Johnson and a zythophone solo by Mrs. Norma Hodson.

Former Gatesville Girl
Weds San Antonio Man

Miss Anna Mae Andrews, daughter of Mrs. Zula Andrews, became the bride of Randolph J. Klipstine of San Antonio at 8 p. m. on Thursday, October 31, at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. P. T. Welch, in San Antonio. The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. H. B. Gist, minister of the South Flores Church of Christ, before an improvised altar of white chrysanthemums. Only close friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony.

The bride wore an imperial blue chiffon velvet frock with an antique gold locket. Her accessories were black, and she wore a corsage of large yellow mums. Her only attendant was Mrs. P. T. Welch, who was attired in a soldier blue alpaca frock.

P. T. Welch served as best-man. Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The three-tiered wedding cake was adorned with a miniature bride and groom, and was served from the lace-laid dining table which was decorated with red radiance rosebuds.

Mrs. Klipstine attended high school at Gatesville, and for the past two years, she has lived with her mother in Waco. She visited frequently in San Antonio. Mr. Klipstine attended school in Newton, New Mexico and at Wyoming State University. He is a non-commissioned officer in the U. S. Army and is at present stationed at Camp Bullis, Texas.

The couple are residing in San Antonio.

Courtesy For Bride

A courtesy for the bride will be given Friday afternoon when Mrs. Paul Ross opens her lovely new home in San Antonio for a party and miscellaneous shower.

YELLOWJACKETS AND BULLDOGS CLASH AT COPPERAS COVE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Flat Yellowjackets, only undefeated and untied team in the six-man football league will "shoot the works" at Copperas Cove Friday afternoon of this week when they try to down the only team between them and the championship crown, which in none other than Coach Maag's Copperas Cove Bulldogs.

In high spirits after handing the Oglesby Tigers a 40-30 defeat at Flat last week end the Jackets, barring injuries in scrimmage, will be keyed to the highest notch for this contest which is to be the most important event in the history of the team. The Bulldogs, knocked from the ranks of the undefeated by the Oglesby Tigers several weeks ago, will be out to down the Jackets and get another crack at the six-man crown. Should they win this important contest the results would be a three-way tie for the championship, with Oglesby, Flat and the Bulldogs furnishing the competition.

The Bulldogs pin their hopes on Adams and Fabian to lead them to victory, while the Jackets are resorting to no particular individual but the whole team as a unit to bring them out of the game undefeated. Both teams are excellent football machines who play the game for all they're worth and accept victory or defeat as it comes. They have gained the admiration and support of their schools and communities and neither is apt to be found lacking in active support when the teams line up for the kickoff Friday afternoon.

If you have never witnessed a six-man game, you'll never have another opportunity to see two classier teams in actions. Make it a point to be on hand for the kick-off which will take place at approximately 2:30 p. m. Friday at Copperas Cove.

Legal forms, at News office.

Oglesby Meets Pottsville Friday At Pottsville

Coach Truett Shults takes his Oglesby Tigers to Pottsville Friday afternoon to meet the Pottsville half-dozen in their next to the last game of the 1940 season.

Demoralized but still fighting after their defeat by Flat last Friday the Tigers are favored to return victorious but they are in for some rough sledding.

Pottsville is playing its initial season in the Coryell county league and we haven't, as yet, become familiar with the coach or the team. However they have annexed several victories in encounters with some of the county's six-man teams and are due to give the Tigers a battle.

Turnersville To Battle Dragons At Pearl

Turnersville and Pearl, two rural rivals in Coryell County sporting events will meet at Pearl Friday afternoon in a six-man football game.

Pearl has been hampered by injuries this season and Turnersville has been handicapped by inexperience so it is doped to be comparatively close with the Dragons having a slight margin.

Mosley of Pearl, all-district man last season will lead out for the Dragons while Tharp and Clary will spark the Turnersville aggregation.

The traditional Armistice Day pigskin tussle between the Hamilton High School Bulldogs and the Gatesville Hornets has for some unknown reason been moved up a couple of notches and will be played in Hamilton Friday night, November 8, under the lights.

The Hornets, armed with their best knockout punch will take the field against the Bulldogs in a determined effort to bring home the bacon, while the Bulldogs will put on their stubbornest front, hopeful of sending the Hornets buzzing for home in defeat. It's a duel old as the hills that never fails to bring out the best in both teams, and a game that both teams will be out to win. Barring injuries in practice session this week, both teams will be in the best of condition for this important tilt and fans can be assured of plenty of action.

The Bulldogs sporting a stubborn line but a weak offensive attack will have their hands full if they attempt to stop the Hornets' drives down the barred green, and off-handed we're picking the Hornets to win. With Fry sparking the backfield and receiving the amount of support justly due him by his mates, the locals will be tough to handle.

No official lineup has been received from Hamilton and practically no information concerning the players and their respective positions is available at this time. However, three lads, namely, Thompson, Babbitt and Young are said to be sparking the Bulldogs on defense.

We have not been informed of any changes in the Gatesville lineup and the starting eleven will probably be as follows:

G. H. S. HORNETS

60 Oldham LE
99 Gribble LT
57 Sydow LG
77 Anderson C
55 White RG
51 Bone RT
00 Manning RE
61 Sexton B
88 King B
44 Fry B
59 Crow B

LOONY LUCY

Mr. Ward Burris,
Sports Editor, The Express
San Antonio, Texas
Dear Wardie:

I am about fed up with these politishuns. They put too much fire in their speeches and not enough of their speeches in the fire. They used to call the U. S. the promise land. It still is. Most of the promisins' is done ever four years.

I been a-trying to get two more tickets to the Aggie-Texas football game, but they're scarcer than a Willkie button in the Chicago city hall.

I stayed in San Antone a Sunday after the Baylor game. Sunday I went around to see the Zoo and I met a lot of old friends.

I ain't read the Democratic platform yet but I wonder if there is anything in it where they plan to change the freezing point from 32 degrees to go along with the new Thanksgiving?

I see where the government ordered 701 ships for a two-ocean navy. What is the extra one for, a fishin' boat for F. D. R.?

I see where some of them rulers is a abdicatin'. I'd like to abdicate. When they abdicate it means they is chased out of the country with two automobiles, a yacht, a red-headed gal and $50,000 a year living expenses. WOW!

What this country needs most is less admonishun and more amushishun.

I see they's a lot of marriages because of the draft. I wouldn't marry one of them draft guys, I'd be afraid he'd give me the air.

Maybe this is the year to upset tradition. F. D. R. goes for a third term, and the Aggies go fer a win in Austin. I'd rather have F.D.R.'s chances as of today. I think the Aggies will get beat.

Well Chum, take yer toddy regular and don't ketch cold. An ounce of pervenshun in a cup of hot water with a little sugar in it, is worth a pound of cure in capsules later.

I'll be a seein' you Pal.

Yourn,
LOONY LUCY

Ireland vs. Lometa In Six-Man Tilt Friday

Lometa, another new team playing their first year in Coryell county six-man football circles, will be pitted against Ireland Friday afternoon of this week. Place of the contest was not reported.

Ireland is having quite a struggle getting into the spotlight this year but they are doped to take the Lometa team, but not by a wide margin.

Pigskin fans are anxiously awaiting the annual Hamilton-Gatesville football game which will be played under the lights in Hamilton Friday night. This non-conference tilt is usually played on Armistice Day but an exception was made this year and the date of the game was moved up to November eighth.

If the Flat Yellowjackets can manage to defeat the Copperas Cove Bulldogs at Copperas Cove Friday afternoon, they will practically have the six-man crown in the bag. The Bulldogs will undoubtedly furnish them some tough competition and should they win, the result would be a three-way tie between Flat, Oglesby and Copperas Cove for the championship.

Last year the coaches of these teams bought a cup which was presented to the winning team at the end of the season. We haven't heard anything about one this year but this year's champions whoever they might be, richly deserves one.

Oglesby goes to Pottsville, Flat goes to Copperas Cove, Turnersville goes to Pearl and Ireland plays Lometa in the six-man loop this coming Friday. This week is likely to decide the issue to a certain extent and if you haven't witnessed any of these six-man games, now's the time.

McGregor, Gatesville's Turkey Day Rival, is having a bit of tough going it seems and they meet the undefeated Mart Panthers Friday night.

King Peter I of Yugoslavia, when crowned in 1904, wore a bronze crown made from captured Turkish guns.

The last census of New South Wales, in 1938, showed roughly 1,380,000 males and 1,356,000 females.

Humble to Broadcast Football Games Saturday

The football eyes of the Nation will be turned toward Dallas Saturday when the 1939 Champion Texas Aggies meet Southern Methodist University's undefeated, but one-tied, Mustangs; and throughout Texas the ears of radio followers of the teams will be tuned to the Humble Oil & Refining Co.'s broadcast of the game. Kern Tips, assisted by Tee Casper on color, will handle Humble's broadcast description of the game. Tune in at 2:20 p. m. to WFAA-WBAP, Dallas-Fort Worth; KPRC, Houston; WOAI, San Antonio.

But the Aggie-S. M. U. game is only one of three to be broadcast by the Humble Company Saturday afternoon. Competing with it for the interested ears of fans will be the Company's broadcasts of the Baylor-Texas game from Austin and the Rice-Arkansas game from Fayetteville.

Humble's broadcast of the latter game will begin at 1:50 p. m. with Cy Leland handling the play-by-play and Ves Box the color. It will be heard over stations KGKO, Fort Worth; KTSA, San Antonio; KRGV, Weslaco; KFDM, Beaumont; KXYZ, Houston; and KRIS Corpus Christi.

The Baylor-Texas broadcast from Austin will begin at 2:20 p. m. The Humble Company has arranged for Hal Thompson to handle the play-by-play description of this game with Dave Young on color. Tune in on stations KNOW, Austin; WRR, Dallas; KGKL, San Angelo; KRLH, Midland; WACO, Waco; KMST, Big Spring; KRBC, Abilene; KABC, San Antonio; KTRH, Houston.

Don't Miss the REGAL
NEXT TUESDAY NITE

WE'LL BE CLOSED

This day commemorates the termination of a period of great trial for America . . . the end of the World War. While giving deserved tribute to those who died then, let us make Armistice Day a day of peace . . . a day in which to resolve that another Armistice Day will never be proclaimed in America. Let us observe peace on Armistice Day, and let nothing swerve us from the course of right.

DAILEY BROS. CIRCUS TO BE HERE SATURDAY AUSPICES OF FIREMEN

After much trouble to find a fit location for it, the Gatesville Fire Department was able to arrange for the coming of a real circus to this city.

The location is the hill-top, west of town on highway 84, just a short mile from the court house. The title of the Circus is Dailey Bros. The date will be Saturday, Nov. 9th, the show coming here from Lampasas where it will exhibit the day before. Dailey Bros. is an old circus, with an excellent reputation, but it is new in this part of Texas. It does not claim to be the largest tented institution in the world, but it does boast of being high class, clean, modern and progressive, away ahead of the old style circus. "When you have seen one circus, you have seen them all" is a saying that does not apply to Dailey Bros. as they dispute that statement by proving they have much that is new under the sun in the circus line.

One pleasing allurements about this show is the predominance of youth and beauty in the two circus rings. More young people, agile and clever with this attraction than is generally found under the tent.

The circus will be here only one day, Saturday, Nov. 9th, and give performances at 2 and 8 P. M. The program lasts one hour and a half. There will not be any parade as all big shows have eliminated the march due to the expense and danger.

LAST RITES FOR REYNOLDS GREEN HELD OCTOBER 31

Funeral services for Reynolds Green, who died Wednesday morning, October 30, were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Mound Baptist Church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. O. L. Bryant, and assisted by Dr. L. L. Carpenter of Baylor University. Burial was in Mound Cemetery with Scott's in charge.

Reynolds was the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd F. Green, teachers in Mound school, and was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Green of Oglesby.

Reynolds Johnson Green was born at San Marcos, Texas August 18, 1930 and departed this life on October 30, 1940 after an illness of four weeks. He came with his parents and sister to live at Mound in July, 1936.

He was a fine young Christian lad. He was converted and united with the Baptist Church of Mound this past August. He was a member of the Junior Boys' class at Sunday School and was always in regular attendance.

To know Reynolds was to love him. He had made scores of friends since moving to Mound who now mourn his going.

He was a member of the Fifth Grade in the Mound school which

ARMISTICE DAY

May our PEACE be Everlasting

Let us Cherish ARMISTICE DAY

"Why does everyone face to the East for one minute today, daddy?"

"They're paying their respects to the men who died in a war that ended twenty-two years ago today, for this is Armistice Day when all Americans look back to that time in 1918. We cherish Armistice Day as a symbol of gratitude to those who fell, and as a symbol of hope to the living that war will never again come to America."

"But dad, why are the soldiers marching today? Teacher says we must grow strong, and that the President intends to make us strong. Why must we be so strong if we don't want war again?"

"Well, son, there are forces loose in the world that don't recognize anything but strength, and we must be strong to discourage attack and to repel it if it should come. But even more important than that, is unity. The spirit of this family, mother, you and I, must be extended to the nation so that every American feels himself a part of a great whole, part of a great national family that takes things as they come . . . that meets trouble with a united faith that all will be well . . . that will work together for the common good with courage and determination. Nothing could succeed against that spirit."

"What is that bugle playing, daddy? Why is everyone so sad?"

"That is 'Taps', son, the end of the Armistice Day ceremony . . . the final tribute to the dead of the Great World War. It brings up memories that make people sad, but these memories should stimulate hope and determination for the future . . . hope that our peace may be everlasting to the benefit of you and mother, me, and mankind."

the tip.
Web, Rib: That part of a rib which prevents it from bending vertically.

Wings: The main supporting surfaces of an airplane.

Panel: Any wing, or portion thereof, which is constructed as a unit.

Wing Loading: The weight carried per unit area of supporting surface.

Wing Rib: A fore-and-aft member of the wing structure used to support the covering and to give the wing section its form.

Wing Spar: An athwartship member of the wing structure resisting tension and compression.

Wires, Anti-drift: Wires which neutralize the tension of drift wires.

Balance: Wires passing between ailerons of opposite wings but not to the pilot's control mechanism; used for transmitting the motion given to the ailerons on one side to those on the other, in a reverse direction.

Cross-bracing: Wires connecting diagonally, counteract the effect of air resistance.

Flying or Lift: Interplane, wires extending upward and outward from the body, which carry the weight of the machine in flight.

Interior Drift and Anti-drift: Wires running diagonally between the spars within the wing surfaces.

Landing: Interplane wires running diagonally downward and outward, which transmit the weight of the wings to the body when the machine is on the ground.

Safety (or locking): Wires passed around both the fittings of a turnbuckle and through the turnbuckle barrel, to prevent its unscrewing during flight.

Snake: Light wires wound round other wires to prevent them from flying out and becoming entangled with other parts of the plane in case of breakage.

Stagger: Interplane wires, running in a fore and aft direction and used to adjust stagger.

Woof or Weft: The threads running crosswise in a piece of woven fabric; also called "filler."

Yaw: To swing off the course about the vertical axis, owing to gusts or lack of directional stability. Angle of, the temporary angular deviation of the fore-and-aft axis from the course.

Zoom: To climb at an extreme angle of attack for a short distance and resume a level course before the machine stalls.

Thrust Deduction: Due to the influence of the propellers, there is a reduction of pressure under the stern of the vessel which appreciably reduces the total propulsion effect of the propeller. This reduction is termed "Thrust deduction."

Tractor: A type of airplane with the propeller or propellers in front of the wings.

Triplane: An airplane composed of three superimposed main sustaining surfaces.

Truss: The framing by which the wing loads are transmitted to the body; comprises struts, stays and spars.

Veering: The win "veers" when it shifts in a clockwise direction, that is, W-N-E-S.

Velometer: See "Air-speedmeter".

Vet: To test the alignment of a machine by sight.

Vol-Pique: "Nose-Dive".

Vol-Plane: See "Glide".

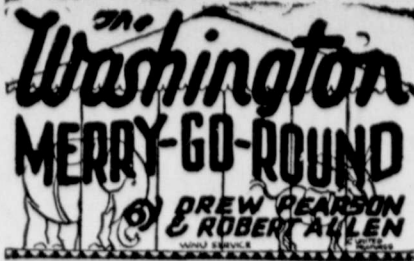

Wake Gain: Due to the skin friction, eddying, etc., vessel in moving forward produces a certain forward motion of the fluid surrounding it. The effect of this is to reduce the effective resistance of the hull, and this effect, due to the forward motion of the wake, is termed the "wake gain". In addition to this effect, the forward movement of this body of fluid reduces the actual advance of the propeller through the surrounding medium, thereby reducing the propeller horsepower.

Warp: To change the form of the wing by twisting it, usually by changing the inclination of the rear spar relative to the front spar.

Warp: The threads running lengthwise in a piece of fabric.

Wash-in: Increase in the angle of incidence of an aerofoil toward the tip.

Wash-out: Decrease in the angle of incidence of an aerofoil toward

GERMAN MORALE SUFFERING

U. S. observers acquainted with the morale of the German people are getting bullish about Britain, in view of the heavy R.A.F. bombings of Germany.

These officials point out that German conquests on land, even if they should be extended beyond the Balkans into Egypt or even to India, do not relieve the problem of the 80,000,000 Germans who must continue to take punishment from British bombing.

It has been proved already that the military genius of the Germans is in land movements. They have no strength at sea, and they have failed to gain complete mastery in the air, though at times they have come close to it. This leaves the British with an air force growing daily stronger by arrival of Canadian and American planes, to bomb the great German cities in an attempt to break civilian morale.

German conquests abroad do not relieve the distress of people in such heavily populated centers as Berlin, Dresden, Leipzig, Hamburg, and Munich. So long as these people must spend cold winter nights in the cellars, with no rest, there can be no real victory for Germany.

ROOSEVELT BORROWS

The other day Postmaster General Frank Walker called at the White House with William Knudsen and other defense commissioners to sell the President the first 100 new "National Defense" stamps, which come in one, two and three-cent denominations.

"This is a strictly cash on the line proposition, Mr. President," said Walker. "Have you got six dollars?"

Roosevelt reached for his billfold. It contained one five-dollar bill, no more. "Hmmm—short a dollar," he mused.

Borrowing, as Shakespeare said, may "dull the edge of husbandry," but on the other hand not everyone gets the chance to lend the President of the United States a buck. Everyone in the room grabbed for his wallet simultaneously. But Walker was the first to produce the dollar.

Grinning, Roosevelt promised to repay Walker on "my next pay day."

NEW ARMY TANKS

The United States army is now building a tank which will be the equal of any which the Nazis sent against France with their famous panzer divisions.

These new war monsters each will carry one 75-mm. gun. This is the famous field artillery piece which the French army used during the World war, and which the American Expeditionary force later adopted. It has now become the standard field artillery for more than half the armies of the world.

However, not until the German divisions rolled into Flanders, did modern armies conceive of mounting guns as heavy as this in tanks. But from now on, even the medium tanks built for the U. S. army will carry one French 75, plus a 37-mm. gun, plus four machine guns. This tank will weigh between 25 and 30 tons.

Note—It is impossible to estimate the cost of the mobile fortress carrying a 75-mm. gun, and the war department is not even troubling to ask for estimates. At least three of the companies will proceed with production on a "cost plus fixed fee"

JEFF DAVIS VS. LINCOLN

Of all his predecessors, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson has chosen the portraits of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, and Robert Todd Lincoln, son of the martyred President, to adorn the wall facing his desk. Both Lincoln and Davis served as secretary of war.

Mr. Stimson sits at a great, flat carved red mahogany desk, which has been in the war department more years than anyone can remember, and which is ornamented by two round globe lights on either side, designed to burn kerosene in the days before gas and electricity. These have now been revamped for incandescent bulbs.

A grim note is Stimson's side table, a somber black piece used by Gen. Phil Sheridan as a court martial desk. This supports a huge silver cup, a tennis trophy won in previous years by Mr. Stimson, and a mantel clock, which is wound by a key, and strikes the hours and half hours in deep sonorous tones.

GARY COOPER · MADELEINE CARROLL

CHAPTER FOUR SYNOPSIS

The Canadian North West in 1885 faces bloody civil war, when the Metis, a nation of half-breeds, rebel against the authority of the North West Mounted Police and the British Crown. Into this wild country comes Dusty Rivers, Texas Ranger, looking for Jacques Corbeau, one of the rebellion's ringleaders, who is wanted for murder in Texas. At Fort Carlton, Dusty meets April Logan, frontier nurse, sweetheart of Sergeant Jim Bret of the Mounted, who has just left the Fort with a patrol to capture Corbeau. Dusty, April and Tod McDuff, a half-breed deputy, are on their way to the settlement of Batoche when they learn that Corbeau has just looted the town.

CHAPTER V

Tod McDuff toward Batoche, Jacques Corbeau, escaped murderer, harangued the leaders of the Metis in the looted trading post. Louis Riel, the idealist, a man with a cause, looked on. He did not approve of Corbeau, but the man was a necessary evil.

outskirts of the town he found Corbeau. The fugitive was ready to go to the camp of Big Bear with the Gatling gun. He listened impassively to Riel's account of Dusty.

"Delay him," he growled then. "Then send him to Big Bear's camp with his warrant. What the Indians do to a man . . ." He smiled cruelly. "I will be there."

Louis Riel went back to headquarters. He delayed Dusty and Tod McDuff. It took a long time, it seemed, for the Metis Legislature to issue the warrant, long enough, at any rate, for Corbeau to be well on his way to Big assembled, as the drum began to beat faster. Big Bear raised his arm.

"Let the gun speak!" he intoned, his eyes flashing.

"Big Bear!" cried Jim. "Even though the gun speaks, the great white Queen's might is unbroken. Even though the redcoats fall, others will come and others—" "Let the gun speak!" thundered Big Bear.

Corbeau smiled in triumph. A wave of excitement ran through the Indians. Others crowded to the door of the lodge and from everywhere went up shouts. Corbeau moved toward the gun, but

Through the lodge door, shoved by angry braves, their wrists bound to poles that lay across their shoulders, came Dusty and Tod McDuff.

"Strangers!" cried the braves. "Spies!" snarled Corbeau, pressing his advantage. "Spies sent by the redcoats." He smiled cruelly at Dusty, then said to Big Bear: "He—" indicating Jim Bret—"has a forked tongue. He said he came alone."

"These are no spies," shouted Jim. "This man—" he pointed at Dusty—"was sent by the great nation to the south to arrest Corbeau, the murderer. They will hang Corbeau."

"Does Big Bear, then, listen like a child?" said Corbeau. "These men are spies! Kill them!" Big Bear stared stonily at the Ranger and Dusty Rivers spoke.

"Big Bear is a great chief," he said, and Jim Bret interpreted. "In the great country to the south we have heard of him. He is a just chief. Well, then, Big Bear, listen to me." He paused a moment. "This Corbeau is a great killer. He says so. Very well then, let him kill!" The assembled Indians leaned forward in wonder. "Unbind my hands, restore my guns to my holsters and let him draw. That is just, Big Bear. We will see, then, how great this Corbeau is."

The Chief looked at the Ranger without expression, but his eyes flashed. The murmuring of the tribesmen grew, their eyes lighting with anticipation. For this was just, dramatically just. They looked at their Chief.

"Unbind him!" said Big Bear. Restore the guns!" It was done. Tod McDuff was also loosed, but his guns were withheld. Dusty flexed his wrists to regain circulation, then dropped his hands to his sides. He looked at Corbeau, who watched him like an enraged cat. The halfbreed's face was contorted with his rage. Dusty grinned at the fugitive and the grin was cold, the blue eyes cold. He faced Corbeau.

"Command him, Big Bear," said Dusty.

Jim Bret drew in his breath sharply; the scores of braves grew silent and motionless, frozen in their tense attitudes like statues. Tod McDuff took his knitting from his pocket and began to work furiously, and Corbeau crouched slightly.

They waited, and then the word came from Big Bear, vibrant and clear.

"Kill!" he said to Corbeau.

Dusty flexed his wrists to regain circulation, then dropped his hands to his guns.

"Riel, here," growled Corbeau, "can tell you how this new government sets up. But I'll tell you how she's goin' win." He paused. He was a big man with a coarse face and beady eyes. "Ten thousand Indian' turned loose on Saskatchewan! There'll be nobody left to pull down government when Corbeau is finish." He drew his index finger across his throat expressively, smiled wolfishly as they cheered him. "Now you," he said with some contempt to Louis Riel, "can talk."

So saying, Corbeau strode out, and Louis Riel began to talk to his leaders. They would be famous in history as the Metis Legislature, a curious body of men, hybrid and fanatic. He told them of their cause, of the justness of their demands, of the ideals he had, the hopes he entertained for their future. And it was at this juncture that Dusty Rivers, spurs jingling, strode into the place, followed by Tod McDuff. They looked at him in hostile surprise and he said quickly:

"I've come to the seat of government," and when the assemblage had swallowed that flattery: "for a warrant for the arrest of Jacques Corbeau, murderer!"

The resultant uproar was tremendous. The halfbreeds rose in their seats, menacing the Ranger. But Dusty stood there calmly and Louis Riel calmed his followers.

"You will wait," he said quietly to Dusty and went out. On the ing carefully.

"Once," Corbeau was saying "the Cree warriors were free men. Canada was yours and ours." He spoke in the Cree language. "Then let it be ours once more. Take the warpath with us, fight as once you fought and not one of the redcoats will be buried with his scalp!"

At the entrance to the lodge the warriors listened. Within the big structure, scores of them, some leaning on their spears, others carrying rifles, some in headdresses of feathers, others with the heads of animals covering their skulls, listened in savage absorption. Somewhere, outside, came the slow beating of a drum. Jim Bret felt the interest, felt the menace, knew that he must speak.

"Big Bear," he said quickly, "the Queen, the Great White Mother sent food to you when your people starved. Big Bear is too wise to let a liar make bad blood between us."

Big Bear turned his eyes on the Mountie, his face immobile.

"It is said," Big Bear spoke slowly—"that the Queen is no longer our friend, that redcoats no longer our friends."

"That—" began Jim Bret, but he went no further.

"This is our friend!" shouted Corbeau. He slapped the Gatling gun. "It bites with a thousand teeth of fire!" His excitement was infectious. A murmur went up from the braves
