FOOD STAMP PLAN GIVEN GREEN LIGHT IN CORYELL: DIRECTOR HERE TODAY TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS: CONGRESSMEN WIRE

Coryell County made the grade as far as the Food Stamp Plan is concerned, and in a telegram to County Judge Floyd Zeigler, Regional Director James S. Allen, said N. P. Dodge would be here today to confer with officials to get the plan in motion.

GENERAL MEETING IN COURT ROOM TODAY AT 2:00 O'CLOCK

In line with this, there will be a general meeting in the courthouse at 2 p. m. today, to explain the Food Stamp Plan to anyone interested, and those who think it will effect them. At this time an explanation of the workings of the plan will be made.

Here are some telegrams:

Ft. Worth, Texas.

Hon. Floyd Zeigler,

Gatesville, Texas

Happy to be able to advise Coryell County has been approved for food stamp program. Hope to be present at General Meeting tomorrow afternoon. Regards.

W. R. Poage, 11th District, Tex.

Another:

Hon. Floyd Zeigler,

Gatesville, Texas

Department of Agriculture today announced that Mr. N. P. Dodge, representative of the Federal Surplus Marketing Administration plans to be in Coryell County on Twenty eighth of March to discuss Food Stamp Plan for Coryell County.

Tom Connally.

The Food Stamp Plan is an agency for handling surplus food which has been bought up by the government. Instead of having outlets, these food stamps can be used at the local grocer, and are good for the same items at the grocers which were gotten from the relief office. Only certain clients are eligible for these stamps, and these have to be certified, in the usual or a similar manner, and are then issued stamps.

NO BODY WANTS THEIR JOBS, AND THEY CAN'T GET RID OF THEM: ANYWAY, THEY MUST BE GOOD ONES, OR ELSE

Gatesville is to have a city election, come April 1, and to date, there's no competition.

Evidently, no one wants the jobs or no group wants anybody to run, and these poor men are going to have to "take the rap" for another year or more.

But then, we've got a war on, and who can worry about a city election.

You can't even get rid of the job, even if you want to, and— So, here are the men who'll be re-asked to reserve us for the next year or more:

For Alderman, Ward 1:

R. L. (Bob) SAUNDERS

(Re-election)

For Alderman, Ward 2:

J. O. BROWN

(Re-election)

For City Treasurer:

DAWSON COOPER

(Re-election)

Now, those are the men who have been in the harness for a long time, and know what it's all about.

They know the good part (who ever heard of a city father being complimented) and they also know, "how to take the raps".

Too, there isn't much in it, our information is, they get a buck a meeting, and that's about one a month, and more, if something more important turns up.

Regardless of all that, you'll have only ONE time this year to get your money's worth for your $1.75 poll tax. This is it! Go VOTE!

8 Leave Monday: 5 Leave Wednesday: 56 Gone All Told

Eight boys will wear khaki or O. D's after Monday, and they are Eddie Fritz Miihouse, Alvin Menard Taylor, Willie Denver Kays, Willie H. Haack, Rafael Evara Castillo, Sam Houston Gribble (volunteer), Joyl Herman Hamilton, Grover Wittie. That's 2 Haacks recently.

Leaving here Wednesday are O. C. Turner, William Galen Allen Jr., Choyce Wyley Robertson, Joe Williams (transfer from Schleicher county), Curtis Garmon Watson.

Totals for Coryell County so far, are 56 called, 48 accepted, 8 rejected, and replacements sent. Also, notice has been received by the Selective Service Board that 23 have enlisted voluntarily, 1 additional registrant has been received, John Elgin Rankin, bringing the total registrants up to 2,215 in Coryell county.

Gatesville and Arnett. It happened Wednesday night around 10 p. m. The rear of the car was badly damaged, but no one was injured.

"PEACE: WAR ENDS: GERMANY ACCEPTS ALLIES CONDITIONS"

We wish we could transmit this news to you today!

We can't.

Frank Nunn brought us a copy of "The Houston Post" dated November 11, 1918 (Monday) and that was the headline, that day.

An advertisement says "United States Railroad Administration, W. G. McAdoo, Director General of Railroads", also 57th Infantry Minstrels at a Houston show, and "Who's Afraid of the Hun", at another.

It goes on, "Daredevil to Jump from Aeroplane over city."

Then there's that "killed in action" report, and this includes "Missing in Action", a Waco boy, and "Died of Wounds," Pvt. Dennis C. Dugger, Moody.

Old papers are always interesting, but those with Killed in Action or Died of Wounds, are going just a little too far. We faintly hope, we'll never have to run any lists, like those.

Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Tippit had as their guests over the week end, Mrs. Bryan Agan, Mrs. O. E. Skinner and son from Pensacola, Fla., and Miss Esthar Emerson from Magnolia, Arkansas.

Number? What's Your Number? No, This Dave!

That noise you hear around, is really the "numbers racket" And, the Scouts want your old number. That new number, D. H. C.'ll take care of, that is, if you've got the necessary.

Anyway, just to be brief, the last chance for your new number without a penalty is March the thirty-worst!

Calf Show Is Postponed: To Be April 21

Space doesn't allow— For that reason, we're boxing it. The proposed calf show has been postponed until April 21, according to Guy Powell, County Agent.

The aims of the shows from here out, Mr. Powell said, are to be raising and feeding calves for "commercial" instead of "show" use, which will be more appreciated by the packer-buyers and will also net more for the boys. Another feature is that there will be a real show HERE, instead of the "big time" in other points.

A SUMMARY OF WORLD, NATIONAL AND STATE NEWS

YUGO'S HAVE NEW KING

Summarizing events of daily newspapers and radio, Yugoslavians have rioted and kicked out the Nazi-Lovers who "signed" with Adolf and have installed a new 17 year old King and an anti-axis cabinet.

Rioters, for the most part in the disturbance were children from kindergarten up to college students who were prompted by older people who thought they would not be dealt with as harshly. Finally, all the anti-Nazi populace joined in the demonstration. Looks like Adolf has a "bad egg" in Yugoslavia, if any "egg" at all.

8 AMERICANS NABBED BY JAPS

Tokyo, Thursday, March 7 (AP)—At least 8 Americans were among 15 persons reported today to have been arrested in Korea on charges of plotting a campaign in Korea against Japan's war in China.

Most of those arrested were said to be missionaries.

3RD TERM FOR W. LEE?

Austin, Texas, March 26 (AP)—A prediction that Governor W. Lee O'Daniel will run for a third term unless the house reverses itself and passes his $26,820,000 social security appropriation bill was made on the house floor today by Representative Ennis Favors of Pampa.

A REPORT to America

The Ford Motor Company's business has always been to serve the needs of the American people. In providing them with low-cost transportation for the past 38 years, we have developed one of the country's largest and most useful industrial units. During a national emergency, we feel that these facilities should be devoted without reserve to our country's needs. Toward that end we started rolling months ago, with these results:

- 1 A $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine factory, started only 6 months ago, is nearly completed. Production will start with an initial order for 4,236 eighteen cylinder, air-cooled, double-row, radial engines.
- 2 We are building a new $800,000 Ford magnesium alloy foundry, one of the few in the country. It is already producing lightweight airplane engine castings.
- 3 Army reconnaissance cars — military vehicles of an entirely new type — are rolling off special Ford assembly lines at the rate of more than 600 a month. We have produced Army staff cars and bomber service trucks.
- 4 The government has given the "go-ahead" and work is now under way for the fast construction of an $11,000,000 Ford plant to produce bomber airframe assemblies by mass production methods.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

5 Several months ago work was started, on our own initiative, on an entirely new 1500 horsepower airplane engine especially designed for mass production. This engine is now in the test stage and plans are being developed for producing it in large quantities when and if needed.

6 A Ford aircraft apprentice school has been established, to train 2000 students at a time.

That is a report of progress to date.

The experience and facilities of this company can be used to do much of the job which America now needs to get done in a hurry.

Our way of working, which avoids all possible red tape, enables us to get results and get them fast. This benefits users of our products and workers who produce them.

We are ready to make anything we know how to make, to make it to the limit of our capacity if need be, to make it as fast as we can go, and to start the next job whenever our country asks us to. And to this end, we know we have the full confidence and loyal support of the workmen throughout our plants.

Marriage of Miss Lola Hearn of Interest Here

Of interest to many Gatesville and Coryell county people is the marriage of Miss Lola Hearn, daughter of Mrs. W. R. Hearn and the late Mr. Hearn, who were former residents of Gatesville. The following account of the wedding appeared recently in the society column of The Houston Chronicle:

"The marriage of Miss Lola Hearn, daughter of Mrs. William Reece Hearn, to Ernest Haertig, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Haertig of Woodsboro, took place at 7 p. m. March 15 at the First Methodist Church. Dr. Paul Quillian performed the ceremony and the wedding music was given by Abner Lewis Jr., who sang "Because", and Herbert Rohloff, organist, with Norman Dye, violinist.

"The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John Dudley Hearn wore ivory satin trimmed in lace with a veil of illusion held by a halo of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried orchids surrounded by yucca blossoms.

"Miss Reece Hearn, maid of honor, wore aqua satin, and the bridesmaids, Misses Mary Lou Hearn, Grace Haertig and Mrs. Garland Rodenberg of Woodsboro, wore coral satin. They carried nosegays of sweet peas and gladioli. The latter two bridesmaids are sisters of the groom.

"Norman Haertig was best-man and the ushers were Garland Rodenberg of Woodsboro, J. K. Matheny III, Manfred Haertig, Edward Duffy, Tom Jones and J. H. Freeman.

"A reception at home followed the ceremony. Mrs. C. J. Huckabee and Miss Fannie Mae Howell, both of Waco, were in charge of the cake and the punch, and Miss Adeline Dickinson registered the guests. Others assisting were, Mrs. J. D. Hearn and Miss Dorothy Bransford of Ingleside.

"After a wedding trip to Monterrey, Mr. and Mrs. Haertig will be at home in Houston at 1818 Marshall. Additional out-of-town guests, included with the groom's parents, were Mrs. Maude Hearn Smedley, Miss Mary Elizabeth Hearn and C. J. Huckabee, all of Waco; Mrs. C. M. Crawford of Gatesville; Bert Lindsey of Orange; and Harlan Haertig of Woodsboro."

Also the following item appeared in the same issue of The Houston Chronicle: "Miss Mary Lou Hearn, the bride-to-be of J. K. Matheny III, was honored Wednesday night at a crystal shower given by Mrs. C. Osborne Moyer and Mrs. E. Elliott Childress at the Moyer home. Pink and white were combined in the decoration." Miss Mary Lou Hearn's marriage will take place April 2.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY
By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

HOW A DONKEY SAVED THE CRONKS

With the passing of the Indians as a significant force in the development of America, there passed out of its life a historical source which for romance and color could hardly be surpassed. Take the Karankawas, for example.

The Cronks, as early Texans affectionately called them, used to inhabit the Gulf coast regions of the state. One old Texan, Noah Smithwick, whose memoirs are in the University of Texas Library's Texas Collection, described them this way:

"They lived on fish and alligators, with a man for fete days when they could catch one. They were the most savage looking human beings I ever saw."

Well, although the Cronks mysteriously disappeared from Texas after 1836, in pre-Revolutionary days they gave the colonists a lot of trouble and on the whole were a pretty fearsome bunch of neighbors. Yet their history is full of humorous little incidents, too, and one of the best is the story of Martin De Leon's famous expedition against them, which Smithwick tells in his memoirs.

In This Corner, De Leon

De Leon was one of the colonizers of the territory, and his settlement, whose capital was Victoria, was the favorite playground of the mischievous Cronks. It seemed so to him, at least, and he didn't like it a bit. So one day he decided he'd put an end to his troubles once and for all by wiping them out—methodically, completely, to the last man. He got his settlers together, saw that they were all well armed, strapped a four-pound cannon on the back of a donkey, and set out to call on his Indian friends.

Things went along fine. According to Smithwick's story, the settlers somehow managed to get all the Cronks rounded up and cornered after a time. Then they brought up their heavy artillery. They maneuvered the donkey into position, loaded the cannon on its back full, aimed it, and touched off the fuse. It looked bad for the posterity of the Karankawas.

In a moment there was a tremendous explosion; grape shot flew every which way. And when the smoke cleared away, there was the donkey flat on his back, and there was the cannon under him.

Br'er Donkey Rebels

Immediately, seeing that the first cannonade had done little damage, if any at all, the expeditionary force struggled to get its artillery back into action. But the donkey, as Smithwick puts it, "Philosophically declined to rise."

In the ensuing confusion, the poor insulted Cronks got together in a council for tribal defense and decided not to play any more. After a while the colonists noticed with heartfelt regret that their benighted friends had left the field in a huff—uteely unharmed.

That was too much. Disgusted, De Leon and his men finally tugged their cannon out from under the donkey and carried it home, turn about. Smithwick says no more, and University Library workers think they must have resolved then and there somehow to bear with their neighbors; at any event, they seem never again to have gone out en masse to annihilate them—certainly not with a donkey.

WASHINGTON NEWS
FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
W. R. POAGE

The outstanding event of the week has been the passage of the seven billion dollar appropriation bill providing funds for the aid of Great Britain and other Democracies. Of course, many people thought that the "Lease-Lend" Bill provided an appropriation, but this was not true even though most of its opponents spoke of it as a "blank check". It did keep the power to make appropriations in the hands of Congress just as the President said it did and the passage of the great appropriation Wednesday should prove this to the most doubtful. It also proves to the world that the United States of America means to act. That we are determined not to let the cost stand in the way of our effort to fully arm the Democracies. The vote on the appropriation bill—the largest ever passed—was 336 to 55. Of course, I voted for the bill.

I am, however, afraid that there are still large groups of American citizens who do not realize the seriousness of the situation. I am afraid that in some instances, at least, that some people are trying to take advantage of the situation and to use it to their own personal profit. We have all along held a mental picture of the typical wartime "profiteer". We are so accustomed to think of him as one who is manufacturing some essential implement, or who has a contract to construct some vital work for the government that we have for a long time failed to realize that "profiteering" was not confined to any one group. In fact, I feel that the masses of the men who are today blocking the production of needed goods in vital defense industries do not realize that their action is just as dangerous to their country as the unjust and indefensible actions of those who, like the aluminum trust hi-jack the government and refuse to extend cooperation in an hour of national peril. The people of France and of England refused to recognize the seriousness of their situations until the enemy was actually upon them. Certainly such stoppages of work as at the Allis-Chalmers Plant and other key defense industries are not only delaying our ability to aid the Democracies and to protect ourselves—they are in fact just as definitely aiding the Axis dictators as are the maneuvers of the Japanese in the South Pacific.

I do not mean that even the irresponsible and repudiated leaders who insist to keeping these men from working even after the responsible heads of the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. has asked them to return to work actually realize this. But the effect is just as bad as if the purposes were malicious. I do not mean that workman should not have a right to strike. But I recognize that the unwise use of this right is certain in the long run to result in a public reaction that will in all probability take from him rights which would not be questioned in normal times. Fundamentally, this nation must protect itself. It can not and will not allow either capital or labor or both of them to stand in the way of national defense. I think the more far-seeing labor leaders realize this. Unfortunately, some of our law enforcement officials do not seem to realize it. If our existing laws against violence and interference with private property were enforced, there would be a minimum of delay in our defense work. Of course, there are corrections and adjustments needed in regard to our labor laws. They should be made. The disloyal elements in labor—and these disloyal elements are in the minority in labor—just as they are in industry and other professions should be dealt with sternly. No man, be he day laborer, bank president, or industrialist, should be allowed to stand in the way of national defense. Dead defense plants today mean dead American soldiers next year. The law—the existing law—should be enforced. Violence should not be allowed. But on the other hand, we should not assume that organized labor as a whole in favor of violence. Labor through organization has over a long period of years won some very outstanding and very just victories. It should not be deprived of its rights. It should not ask for more than its rights. I am convinced that the great majority of the laboring men I know are just as patriotic as any other group and that they will unhesitatingly place their country's safety before their personal gain. We must therefore all realize that our country is in real danger—that this is no time to carry on a fight over "jurisdiction" or "seniority". That the law must be enforced impartially. That all of us must try to restrain our passions and our natural tendency to condemn our neighbor. That we need and must have national unity. This unity can not be obtained by taking advantage of the danger confronting our country to either stamp out labor unions or to promote the interest of one of the great labor groups as against another. I am encouraged to note that the President has recognized the necessity of acting fairly but firmly to bring these disputes to a stop. He has just appointed a board representing both labor and industry as well as the public for the purpose of seeing that no injustice is done any worker and at the same time to see that there be no delay in production of defense goods.

Ira Sullivan R.A.F. Ace Speaks At T'ville Sat. Night

First hand report from the Battle of Britain can be heard Saturday night at Turnersville, when Ira Lee Sullivan, formerly a Royal Air Force Pilot tells of his experiences. Sullivan has appeared at a number of Central Texas points and has held audiences spell bound throughout his tale of experiences. J. M. Allardyce To Open "Free" Series of Lectures, Sun.

Mr. J. M. Allardyce, retired business man and lay officer in his San Antonio church, will begin a series of seven free lectures in the First Presbyterian Church Sunday. Speaking on various topics of practical Christianity, Mr. Allardyce will lecture at the church Sunday morning and evening, Monday through Thursday night at 7:30. A prayer service will be held Monday through Thursday mornings from 10 to 10:30.

Topic of the Sunday morning lecture is "Prayer". The speaker is a great believer in prayer and, according to word received from advance lecture points, speaks with the enthusiasm of a convinced practitioner of the art.

The Sunday evening hour is 5:00 p. m. and since this time does not conflict with any other church worship, special invitation is extended to the general public for this, as well as the week night engagements. Topic for this hour is "Personal Evangelism".

Monday night Mr. Allardyce will speak on Home Missions. He has visited mission fields in the mountains of Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia; and also the slums of New York, Chicago, and Washington, D. C. He speaks on this subject from careful personal investigation.

"Power of the Blood" is the Tuesday topic. This lecture is a layman's discussion of the personal significance of Christianity.

The lectures series continue on thru Thursday, being concluded the last night with an old fashioned candy pull at which the lecturer himself is the host.

Morning prayer services, according to Mr. Allardyce, last "only thirty minutes, but they must be on time". The doors will be shut each morning at 10:00 o'clock.

If John Henry Worker is fully insured under the Social Security Act at age of 65 or thereafter, he will be entitled to a monthly income when he retires. When his wife is 65 years old, there will be additional benefits for her. The law does not provide for payment of these benefits until age 65 is reached. Therefore the Social Security Board office must have proof that John Henry Worker has reached 65 years of age before it can pay his retirement benefits. The same is true when his wife claims benefits. In the case of the latter, the Social Security Board, under the terms of the law, must require proof that the persons claiming benefits is the wife of the insured worker.

Notes of an Innocent Bystander:

The Front Pages: Some of the generals of Lindy's war college took hope that Moscow's note to Bulgaria promised Bolo opposition to the Ratzis in the Balkans. But Arthur Krock chilled the hope in his Washington column. Every time Stalin pouts at his best girl in Berlin, warned Krock, they make up the tiff with a deal at the expense of a weak neighbor . . . Rob't Minor, who replaced Browder as Comrade Big, used to city edit the Daily Worker. Once, when a Rolls and flivver came together, Minor flipped the item to a rewrite man. "Here," he said, "write that from the Class Angle" . . . There is a class angle to the boss tracks, too. Take George F. T. Ryall's account of the opening day at Tropical Park, following the closing of blue-blooded Hialeah. Biggies from Hialeah, reported Ryall, visited Tropical "to see how the other half bats" . . . Irving Hoffman's report to the Hollywood Reporter: "Honeychille Wilder went out with Rags Ragland Saturday night, and on Sunday was seen at the Stork with Bob Ritchie. In other words, Honeychille's gone from Rags to Ritchie."

The Story Tellers: William L. Shirer's adventures in Naziating Germany are running in the Atlantic Monthly, and make very enlightening reading . . . Jan Valtin's "Out of the Night" has set an all-time record at The Book-of-the-Month Club, beating Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" by 3,000 copies . . . Phyllis Brooks of Hollywood and "Panama Hattie" is in Screen Guide . . . She avers: "A man is a chump to marry an actress, and who wants a chump?" . . . When Scribner's Commentator reprinted an interview given by Benny Goodman on the radio, it failed to include the maestro's statement that Democracy is necessary if America's type of free improvised music is to live. Goodman made quite a point connecting Democracy and Swing. But Scribner's took pains to blot it out . . . Fortune has a timely article entitled: "Eddie Rickenbacker Looks Ahead" . . . Margaret Case Harri-man has been commissioned to write a book on New York wits . . . The only objection to that is Margaret can't include herself. Hers is the kind you can mow lawns with.

Typewriter Ribbons: Fiorello LaGuardia's: We are not offering England help because of our military strength, but because of our military weakness . . . Cal Tinney's: Ambassador John Winant doesn't have nine children like Joe Kennedy, but he has ideas for making this a better world for what children he does have . . . Illinois State Journal's: All the world's a stage, and it is just too bad that its very worst actors are forever crowding to the front of it . . . Robert Quillen's: There won't be any "big push" in the Balkans. The python doesn't push a rabbit while swallowing it . . . Anon's: When two women suddenly become friendly, it's a sign that some third woman has lost two friends.

Man About Town:

One of the few lady "newspaper men" among the interviewers at a recent Mrs. Roosevelt press conference was Mrs. Maybelle Manning of Miami . . . While asking Mrs. President something or other Maybelle began powdering her nose and the compact fell to the floor . . . It was a red, white and blue compact, on which was prominently inscribed: "We Want Willie!"

A fact high Naval authorities relate to intimates: About the five Americans piloting as many "Eagles" over Norway, who returned safely to London after knocking off forty-five Messerschmitts . . . The Commander is last-named Taylor.

New Yorkers Are Talking About:

The sleuths studying the numerous soldiers and sailors who patronize Yorkville grills . . . That Ass't Navy Secretaryship rumored for Thomas G. Corcoran which can go to Mr. Warner, vice president of Pure Oil, who spurns it . . . When Secretary Frank Knox saw Jack Alexander's swell writeups in Life he intoned: "Oh, boy! Wait! My wife sees those pictures with my mouth open!"

The Federal Communications Commish, which just ordered the fingerprinting of all workers in shortwave foreign newsrooms. All will have to show their U. S. citizenship records . . . Yamanaka & Co., a Fifth Avenue store, which shipped considerable stock back to the Orient recently. How come—if Japan "expects no immediate trouble with the U. S.?" . . . Joan Crawford not embracing Christian Science as reported recently. She is a convert, they say, to Unity, in which a secretary is a High Priestess,

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

AN ENGLISHMAN RIDES A TEXAS RAILROAD

"The old order changeth," and it is lucky for railway travelers that it does."

Such was the observation of an Englishman, R. H. Williams, after his first and last experience with a Texas railroad, in 1866. Read the story of that experience in his book of American adventures called "With the Border Ruffians"—a copy of which is in the University of Texas Library's Texas Collection—and you'll have to agree.

One Wednesday in February, '66, Williams landed at Port Lavaca en route from New Orleans to San Antonio. Thursday at 2 o'clock, he learned, a train was to leave for Victoria—at 2 on the dot. So, as the Texas railway system was thought to be pretty well developed by the mid-1860's, in due time appeared at the station—or, rather, at "the shed that did duty for a station."

There was no train. He waited. An hour passed, and still there was no train. What was even more annoying, there was no station-master—that is, not at the station. Williams "at last unearthed him in a saloon, taking his ease, and his drinks, in a rocking chair," only to be rebuked soundly for presuming to inquire about the schedule. So he returned to his hotel.

DELAY FOR A CELEBRATION

Late Friday night the train pulled into town. Williams was then slightly encourage to hear that it would leave the next morning, Saturday at 9—at 9 on the dot. However he soon learned that such promptness was possible only if the engineers could be kept sober, and in the morning the engineer, the conductor and the station-master in chorus were proudly proclaiming to the populace "Hooray! The Railroad's drunk!" Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the train finally rolled out of town, with the engineers still wobbling a bit. Victoria was thirty miles away.

So at last, though "an ox wagon could have beaten us in a race," as Williams wrote later, it was something that they were on their way. For a while, at least. Two miles out of town the train stopped. There was a pause. Then suddenly it started backing up and struggled laboriously back to Port Lavaca, no water, the conductor explained. The engineers hadn't thought to fill the boiler.

About noon they made a fresh start. Twelve miles this time, then another halt. The passengers sat and waited for another backing up, but nothing happened. At last they noticed the engine rocking along in the distance with out them.

A WAIT IN THE WILDERNESS

Water trouble again, the conductor said. The engineer was going on ahead to a water hole. If he had no luck there, he'd have to go all the way into Victoria.

This was too much, and after two hours the passengers, with terrifying threats, dispatched the conductor to "fetch that engine back and quickly too". After all, it was mid-afternoon, and they'd had no lunch, it was blistering hot—so hot that they had to lay under the cars to keep even slightly cool. And thus the afternoon went by out in the wilderness. Still no engine appeared, and no conductor.

At last, Williams wrote, sometime after dusk "those who had energy enough left to keep a lookout saw the cause of all our woes come puffing and rocking along the wretched line." Afraid of another breakdown, the engineer hooked up only one car, and everyone crowded into it. Once more they started and this time managed to reach Victoria at 10 o'clock.

Williams' remark about an ox-cart is an obvious exaggeration, but a covered wagon could travel thirty miles a day—and might well have beaten his train into Victoria.

100 YEARS AGO IN TEXAS

"As this is the proper season for planting the Pine Apple, we again remind our Planters that the soil and climate of the counties bordering on the Gulf will admit of the culture of this valuable plant."

"His excellency David G. Burnet, is now President of the Republic; Gen. Lamar having obtained leave of absence, for the benefit of his health, it is not expected he will resume his station during this presidential term,"—Telegraph and Texas Register (Houston) March 24, 1841.

"The Grand Jury of this County were discharged without having made a single presentment. Not a case of the violation of the peace and good order of society was brought to their notice."

"Notice: I hereby give notice that I will not be answerable for any debts that my crew may contract during the stay of the Brig City of Perth in this harbor. John Holliday, master."

"The accounts from Florida still continue to make favorable representations of the prospect of a final determination of the long continued and vexatious hostilities there carried on."—San Luis Advocate, March 23, 1841.

CHAPTER I
SINGAPORE, cross-roads of the Orient, minds its own business. No one in crowded Cash Street paid the slightest attention to the two grim-faced Chinese who were staring at a photograph and placard on the front of a cheap cabaret.

The photograph revealed a young and attractive Chinese girl in her early twenties. Beneath it the caption read:

Now!
Appearing Nightly,
CHINA LILY
THE SONGSTRESS OF
THE ORIENT

The elder of the two Chinese spoke softly. "The daughter of General Ling staging in a place like this!"

"And calling herself 'China Lily!'" the other whispered.

The two men padded softly down the alley which led to the rear entrance of the cabaret. A Chinese waiter directed them. In a moment they stood before the door of the China Lily's dressing room. The elder knocked softly. A girl's voice bade them enter.

Kim Ling was applying the final touches to her make-up as the two men entered. But as she recognized her visitors her breath caught in her throat. Hats in hand, both men bowed politely.

"Miss Ling! Our felicitations," the first man greeted her.

With a visible effort, Kim Ling recovered her composure. "You've found me at last, gentlemen. There is no need for ceremony."

"Our respects are for the honor that once belonged to the house of Ling, dear lady."

"My house still retains its honor," Kim Ling retorted.

"But its master is gone," the elder Chinese declared.

"And so is the three hundred thousand dollars entrusted to him—"

Kim Ling interrupted. "My father is not a thief!"

"We, too, find that hard to believe, Miss Ling," the elder man agreed. "Governor of a province, a man high in the councils of his nation, deep in the hearts of his friends. Yes, it is hard to believe. But five months have passed since he left China on the most important errand of his career—and he has vanished."

"Where is your father, Miss Ling?" the younger Chinese asked.

"I do not know."

"Then what are you doing in this place?"

"I am looking for my father. I've travelled through the East for three months, searching. Here and there I found clues that led me to this place—and disappointment. I've been forced to take employment here." The girl's voice broke.

The two men exchanged glances. The elder bowed. "We understand," he said. "Our personal funds are at your disposal."

"Thank you."
"Your father, Miss Ling, must be found," the elder Chinese continued, "or, if not that, the reason for his disappearance."

"We are sorry to tell you this," the second man added, "but no member of the house of Ling may remain in China and those that are not there can never return."

Tears welled up in Kim Ling's eyes but her voice was steady. "I understand," she said softly.

The elder Chinese crossed to the dressing table and picked up a on his fingers and as Kim worked closer to his table she was startled to discover a small round medal covered with Chinese characters which dangled from a ribbon in the man's buttonhole.

The half-caste had been watching Kim. Now he summoned the manager of the cabaret and demanded an introduction.

As Kim joined them, the manager grandiloquently proclaimed: "May I present to you King of the River—Mr. Gregory Prin."

The half-caste smirked but did not rise. "Sit down," he said to Kim. "Your name?"

"Miss Lily," Kim Ling said as she seated herself. "We do not have full names around here."

"You are a clever girl," Prin smiled. "You have heard of me, of course. Everyone in the Orient has heard of Gregory Prin, King of the River."

"Of what river?" Kim asked.
"To the North—the river that no man dares to travel, unless Gregory Prin gives him permission."

"Your diamonds are beautiful," Kim said admiringly, "and that odd medallion? A decoration, perhaps?"

"Not a decoration, just the seal of some Chinese house. I got it from an old man, one of those rascally merchants. I met him here in Singapore. He found it expedient to become my guest a boat's ride from here."

Prin's monologue was halted by the advent of a bronzed and hard-boiled American answering to the name of Tex Ballister who halted Prin jovially and insultingly. Prin's smile of welcome was forced.

"When are you coming up to my place?" Prin asked.

Ballister's eyes narrowed. "You'd love to get me up there, wouldn't you? But you're not going to do it. I'm inside the law and I'm staying there. I'll never need to hide out in Gregory Prin's domain."

As Ballister staggered away, Kim said, "What did he mean?"

"It's no secret," Prin explained. "Those who go to my place are running away from the law. And the law cannot reach them there. Mountains, jungle, rivers, the power of life and death over every living thing—" Prin held out one of his ring-bedecked hands—"is here."

Kim made a quick decision. "I am running away from the law," she said softly. "It has almost caught up with me."

Prin's eyes blazed. "We will send the law back a thousand years—a thousand centuries."

Kim nodded.
"Be ready to leave at daylight," the half-caste added.

GAS COMPANY TAXES ARE $378 EACH HOUR: AND THAT'S TAXES!

Tax collectors throughout this territory have received checks from the gas company in payment of city, county, state and district taxes. The 55 different kinds of taxes paid by the Lone Star Gas system make a total of $3,268,995 for 1940 according to company officials.

This amount equals to the net revenue of the company for 183 days of the year, and this then, does not include state and Federal gasoline taxes and other hidden taxes in the cost of all supplies purchased.

Figured a little further, that's 91 cents for every customer's gas bill rendered every month, even though during the summer, many of the bills are little more than a dollar. 1939's taxes were only 68 cents per bill, and this shows a substantial increase.

JAMES BRUCE DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Word was received here Sunday morning of the sudden death of James Bruce from an acute heart attack. He lived 5 miles from Copperas Cove on the Killeen highway. He was 52 years of age, and was a World War veteran. His wife preceded him in death in 1938, since that time he has lived alone except for hired help, who found his lifeless body at 5 o'clock Sunday morning.

He is survived by one brother, Mance Bruce of Killeen; three sisters, Mrs. E. A. Elmore of Killeen, Mrs. John Story of Seagraves; Mrs. Joe Pace of Littlefield.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Killeen Monday afternoon with Rev. A. C. Lloyd officiating. Interment was in Killeen cemetery—the American Legion participating.—The Copperas Cove Crony.

J. J. GULLEY BURIED AT ATER SUNDAY

Funeral services for James Jackson Gulley, age 70, who died Saturday, were held from Scott's Funeral Home Sunday at 3 p. m. with Mr. E. D. Shelton conducting. Interment was made in the Ater cemetery, Scott's in charge.

Mr. Gulley was born in Tennessee June 19, 1870, and had been a resident of Gatesville since a small boy. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Surviving are: one brother, John Gulley of Gatesville; and one sister, Mrs. Missie White of Levland.

Pallbearers were, Clyde Edwards, Red Chamlee, Johnny Gulley, Bill Gulley, Andrew Jones and Elden Stephen.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE CLEVON MARIOTT

On March 17, 1935, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mariott was blessed with a sweet, bright-eyed baby boy who was the joy and pride of his parents' and grandparents' lives. He was a sweet, bright flower to bloom in their life but a few short years, for on October 15, 1940, the death angel suddenly entered our home and took our little darling from us.

Oh, how hard it is for us to know and realize that our little Clevon is gone. Oh, how we do miss his bright, smiling face, his little footsteps and sweet voice—these we hear no more, but his sweet precious memories will linger on to be cherished always.

It is hard to understand why a little child as Clevon who enjoyed life so well and was so much pleasure and joy to his family had to be taken away, but God does all things well and so it is comforting to know that some day we will see our precious little loved one again in that home above where there will be no sorrows and heartaches.

DISERENS IS APPOINTED TO POST OF COLLEGE BAND MANAGER

The following news story appeared in the "Yellow Jacket", published by Howard Payne College in Brownwood:

"Replacing Ned Perkins, junior of New Gulf, who enlisted in the Army this week, Harold Diserens, freshman from Gatesville, was appointed manager of the Howard Payne band Monday by Director W. R. Parker.

"Perkins has served five semesters in the cornet section and as manager of the band. Diserens' father is director of the Gatesville High School band."

Almost $9,000⁰⁰ PER DAY FOR TAXES...

During 1940 the tax bill of Lone Star Gas System amounted to $378.00 for every hour the clock struck, day and night... or $8,956.15 for each of the three hundred and sixty-five days of the year. This means that an amount equal to our entire net revenue for 183 days of the year went right back to the public in the form of taxes for School, City, County, State and Federal purposes. This does not include such additional taxes as state and federal gasoline taxes and other "hidden" taxes in the cost of supplies we must buy to keep your gas service dependable. Nor does it include the thousands of additional dollars that go to tax funds from the wages of more than 3,600 Lone Star Gas System employees who pay individual taxes in the communities where they reside.

91¢ OF EVERY CUSTOMER'S MONTHLY GAS BILL GOES FOR TAXES

It requires an average of 91¢ of every customer's monthly gas bill to pay the 55 different kinds of taxes assessed against Lone Star Gas System. To meet this responsibility, 15 cents of every dollar collected for service rendered our customers goes to the payment of your gas company's taxes.

Pioneers in the development of natural gas for more than three decades, Lone Star Gas System brings to homes and industries a dependable gas service recognized as one of the world's finest and at a low cost to its customers. Year after year it has been a large taxpayer helping to provide civic advantages for the public it serves as well as to lighten the tax burden of every citizen and business.

The attention of Congress has again been focused on the Old World conflict. As you all know, the House concurred in the Senate amendments to the "Aid to the Democracies" Bill early this week and the President signed it immediately. The House acted with speed in sharp contrast with the delay of some isolationist Senators. It took the House only two hours to accept the amendments and practically all of this time was consumed by the Republican, Hamilton Fish, and a few of his followers, who took advantage of the opportunity to again give utterance to their dislike and distrust of President Roosevelt. In contrast to the action of this group, the Republican Leader, Hon. Joseph Martin, took the floor to urge a united front. He stated that the majority had decided that our safety would be best served by aiding the democracies and that as a good American he would go with the majority and urged his fellow Republicans to do likewise. I feel that this was a fine and patriotic attitude to take. Previously the Republican Leader in the Senate, Senator McNary, had voted for the bill. I am sorry that all of the minority could not have taken the same attitude, but on the final vote there were 71 members—mostly Republicans but including some Democrats—who voted against accepting the amendments and letting the bill become law. There were 317 voted in the affirmative.

No one knows just how grave the risks are that we have taken, but it is certain that had this decision been made sooner the risks would have been immeasurably smaller. On the other hand, had the decision been delayed any longer the risks would have been proportionately greater. As it is, the only way in which we can reduce the risks is to proceed to implement the policy of aid as rapidly as possible. The risks are already large, but they are not as large as a policy of isolation. Nor are they as large as they will be a little later on if we should stop at a declaration of policy without carrying out that policy. Our safety and possibly our very national existence depends on how quickly this country realizes that the more powerful its action the least costly it will be in the long-run. We all know that this is true of any trouble whether it be a physical disease that is destroying our body, a fire that is destroying our home, a run on a bank that is endangering our savings, or a war that is threatening our civilization—the longer we wait to take action to stop the trouble the more burdensome and drastic the action necessary becomes, and the less likely we are to succeed. Probably in war, more than anywhere else, to be too late and to do too little is to multiply beyond all calculation the necessary risks and sacrifices. We have already wasted much precious time. We have made our involvement more likely but I sincerely hope that there is yet time if we will but act as a united people devoting our every effort to strengthening the democracies who are now standing between the United States and danger. But the announcement of our decision to aid the democracies will be more hurtful than helpful unless we furnish real and substantial aid at once.

Had we passed H. R. 1776 when Hitler destroyed Czechoslovakia I do not believe that he would even have attacked Poland. In fact, at that time Hitler did not believe that France and England would respect their treaty obligations and come to Poland's aid. When France fell Mussolini did not believe that England would fight on. Therefore he took Italy to war without regard to the wishes or the welfare of the Italian people. Had the United States served notice at that time that we would supply Britain with out resources do you suppose Italy would be in the war today? Had we made it plain at that time that the Battle of France could not end the war those Frenchmen who wanted to fight on for freedom would have been in a position to command the support of the French Empire and the French Navy, and today there would have been no Mediterranean front. We have at long last taken the decision in the slow and costly way which the democratic processes demand, but we will only justify those democratic processes if we are able to demonstrate that a free people can not only consider carefully but that they can also act swiftly and efficiently. This is indeed a critical but I do not believe an impossible test for America.

The President and the Congress have, I believe, realized the need for speed. Almost immediately upon the passage of the bill the President began to actually move supplies to Great Britain. The next day he proposed a Seven Billion Dollar production program. The House Committee is already considering the appropriation to make this program possible. Later in the week the House passed a bill providing for $150,000,000 for defense housing, and today passed a bill involving three and one-half billion dollars for the maintenance and enlargement of the U. S. Navy. Our country is determined to do in a few months what it took Germany seven years to do and what Great Britain had not done until she was in war. It is a great task, but upon its prompt and successful completion depends our safety and our only chance of peace.
