Between 1 and 5 o'clock the Red Cross will issue materials for sewing and knitting to all who'll come after them.
Ladies of Gatesville and Coryell county are urged to call for these.
It was thought they would actually do sewing in the WPA sewing room, but the Red Cross is advised this room will not be available at this time, since it will be used by the WPA.

FIRST SCHOOL IS AGAIN OUT: IT'S BROWN'S CREEK

Usually the "first out" school in the county, Brown's Creek again holds up its reputation, and will close Friday, according to the County Superintendent's office.
A school celebration will be held Friday, which will be followed by more celebration, probably on Saturday. The bad feature of schools closing this year is that nobody's running.

You can find the details inside the News, this issue, and this reference is made to Mr. Foster's Rexall Advertisement announcing the four big days of the Rexall 1c Sale.
We don't need to go any further in this business. You all know what a Rexall sale means, and the reason to look at the advertisement is that you might see something you needed that you didn't think would be listed, or something you needed that you didn't think you would. Look!

FT. WORTH MARKET EXPERT CONFERS WITH STOCKMEN

Louis Gudde of Fort Worth, connected with the Texas Livestock Marketing Association is here looking over possible stock for shipment to the Fort Worth market, with County Agent Guy Powell, in an effort to stop the ones that shouldn't go from going, and to help make up what might be called "package" shipments of cattle, sheep and hogs.
This, according to Mr. Powell, will eliminate useless or costly freight, and will insure a better "per pound" price for cattle or other livestock sent not only to the Fort Worth, but other markets of the country.

CORYELLITES ATTEND FT. WORTH DAIRY SHOW SAURDAY

Attending the Fort Worth Dairy Products Show last week were, Elmo King, Danny Lee Taylor, Bruce Hollingsworth, Milroy Powell and County Agent Guy Powell.
No Coryell dairy cattle were shown, but the visitors were sold on better dairy stock.
Two organizations showing in Fort Worth were the Wharton Dairy Association, or Club, and the Dairyland Producers, and the main point stressed was the use of an outstanding bull with the idea of increasing the value of the calves, milk and the herd itself. This was stressed as the best way to raise the herd quality.
This plan is now in prospect, and everything is ready if the local dairymen and cattlemen are sufficiently interested, Mr. Powell added.

'Wendell Willkie' Joins Mama Cat And Her Kitten

Given the name, "Wendell L. Willkie," a young squirrel has been taken over by a mam cat owned by Jimmie Mildred Alford who lives in the Schley community.
There were at first, several kittens, and all of them died except one lone black one. Then the young squirrels were found, two of them, and they have been "adopted" by Mrs. Cat.
Maybe they're "evacuees" from over in war torn Europe, but anyway, they're at the Al-fords and take part in the "eats" just like the kitten.

Three Gatesville Men Injured In Accident Sunday

J. R. Saunders, Truman Blanton and Charles Baker were injured and J. R.'s car badly damaged, when they crashed into a car pushing another a short distance from Austin, after coming up over a hill.
Saunders were shaken up and bruised, Baker received a gash on his forehead which took ten stitches to close and Blanton has a cut lip as a result. Injuries of the occupants of the other cars are not known.
The men are stationed at Fort Ringgold, near Rio Grande City, and were enroute to Gatesville for a week's furlough.

IT'LL HAPPEN ON THURSDAY NIGHT: LIONS CARNIVAL

Every conceivable contraption will be available, it is said, for the customer's fun and amusement when the First Annual Lions Club Carnival swings into motion in the gym, Thursday night of this week.
Delineation of the events on tap have been "shushed" and the "press" has been censored, and only "propoganda" is being released, and we know you've got a bad taste of that, so, we're not going to give you that.
Anyway, the entire affair is calculated to give the most for your money, and in every conceivable way, and when the final curtain rings down, we know the consensus of opinion is going to be: "We had a grand time at the Lion's First Annual Carnival."

Mann Announces For U.S. Senate Place: Others Too

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann announced Saturday his candidacy for the United States Senate seat vacated Wednesday by the death of Morris Sheppard, according to the Associated Press.
In a statement, Mann said he thought he could be of more service to Texas as a senator than as attorney general.
Mann has made an outstanding record as Attorney General and has made decisions as attorney general which have not always been popular, but which were according to how he saw it, in line with the law and the constitution. Texas don't have too many men like Mann in public office today.
Others angling for this coveted position are A. E. Harding, Fort Worth attorney, and Virgil E. Arnold, Houston attorney.
A report from a source close to Congressman Dies was that he intended to run regardless of who might oppose him.
More "others" are reported to be Amon G. Carter, W. Lee O'-Daniel, Carr P. Collins, J. M. West, Maco Stewart, and Lyndon Johnson.

MAYES STUDIO NOW HAS FAMOUS PHILCO REFRIGERATORS

One of the novel and useful refrigerators we've seen in recent months is the new Philco electric refrigerators, which are now handled by Mayes Studio & Radio Shop.
This refrigerator has a number of new features, which you can see for yourself by looking "inside the main tent" and, the show's going on now, there's no waiting, but that's another story, and we were referring all time to Mr. Mayes' advertisement inside these pages.

"YOUNG FELLER" IN BUSINESS HERE: HUMBLE STATION

D. I. Campbell, Jr., better known as "little D. I." is in business here.
He's in business with Mr. Humble, and is handling Humble Oil & Refining Company products, and good ones.
He's even changed, since he grew up, if he's like most of the boys. He wouldn't even wash his face, and now, he washes cars.
Drive in the station and give the "little feller" a break, and some business.

New Mail Service, G'ville To Camp Bowie, April 21

Postmaster J. Hurl McClellan announced Monday there would be a Gatesville-Brownwood mail route started Monday, April 21, and this service would handle first class mail, "special handling mail" and newspapers, parcels and other items will not be carried.
The route leaves Brownwood in time to catch the regular Gatesville 2 o'clock mail, and returns immediately to Brownwood.
As erroneously reported in a Waco newspaper, the route will not be from Waco to Brownwood, but only an extension from Gatesville to Brownwood.
Requests for this extended services, we are told, originated with James L. Power, editor of The Four County Press, Evant's newspaper, and much work has been done on this by Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage, and it was thru their efforts that the extension was finally made.

Food Stamp Plan Has Completed "Routine" In Texas

According to L. K. Thomson, chairman of the Grocers-Wholesaler's local committee, the proposed Food Stamp Plan has already "passed" its first "tests" in Texas and is now on its way to final okeh in Washington along with sixteen more petitions for other localities in this state.
Coryell's "papers", however, were the first completed, and will probably receive first consideration. They were delayed briefly while the Food Stamp Plan people were working on the other sections.
Mr. Thomson said it was expected that the plan would be ready to get underway by the middle of May, and that "crews" would be here shortly after final okeh from Washington to work out further details.

CORYELL BOYS LEAVE FOR INKS DAM N.Y.A. RESIDENT CENTER

Ira W. Wiggins of Gatesville and

G. W. Kinsey of Flat left Friday for the NYA Inks Dam Boy's resident center where they will get work experience in their chosen trades of electricity and auto mechanics, respectively.

Located near Burnet, the NYA Inks Dam project gives vocational work experience to more than 400 boys a year.

has been some talk of getting the league started before that date if possible.

The Flat Yellowjackets are again one of the top high school baseball teams of the county. The jackets won the High School baseball trophy last year and are one of the favorites to win again this season.

It is about time for the County High School league to start. Last year there was high interest in that sport and this year is expected to be no exception.

Several of the six-man football teams of the county have started Spring Training, and from various reports from over the county it seems that the interest in that sport will be high again this season. The Oglesby Tigers won the title last season from the Flat Yellow Jackets. This year the champ may come from practically any part of the county since many players have been lost due to graduation. Flat is one of the many teams who have started training and a report from that part of the county says that the jackets will have a good team next season. The Oglesby, Copperas Cove and Turnersville teams are others who are expected to have a say in the championship next season.

Four baseball teams will go into action Sunday when the second games in the Coryell County baseball league get under way. Meeting Sunday will be the Copperas Cove nine for the first time when they go to Pearl. Little is known of the strength of the Cove team but they are expected to be a strong contender for the title this year. The other game Sunday will be between the Pidcoke Cokers and the Ireland nine on the latter's home field. Pidcoke is defending champion of the league and the Ireland team is a new entry in the league so this game will probably be one of the most outstanding of the day. Blackfoot has an open date for Sunday.

Reports from the Gatesville Hornet football spring training is satisfactory. The boys have been at training for only a short time but have rounded into fair shape during what time they have been out. There are six lettermen back from last seasons team, and there are also a good number of squadmen from last seasons team.

Tonight at Waco the Fort Worth Cats and the Dallas Rebels of the Texas League will play in Katy Park in a Texas League game. The reason for this is that the Rebel Park is under construction and since Waco was once in the League and has a good park they transferred some of their games there.

The city softball league will be under way soon, but each year it a hard matter to get started since the annual rodeo is held in June each year. However this year there

WASHINGTON, D. C. ITALIANS BITTER AGAINST DUCE

Official and uncensored U. S. reports from Italy tell an amazing story of resentment against Mussolini. It is so strong that, according to U. S. observers, the present Fascist regime could not remain in office without the support of German troops.

Most significant of all is the fact that most of the Italian army is heartily out of sympathy with Il Duce, and Field Marshal Badoglio, ex-chief of staff, does not even attempt to conceal his criticism. Apparently Badoglio is so popular that Mussolini cannot touch him, for no attempt has been made to jail or exile him.

The sentiment of the Italian army explains in large part the recent failures in Albania and North Africa, where thousands of Italians have surrendered. On the other hand, fighting in Ethiopia has been just the opposite, with the Italians putting up a fierce resistance. This is explained by the fact that the Italian army in Ethiopia has not been in touch with conditions in Italy.

There are now more Gestapo officers (German secret police) in Rome than in Berlin. Together with about 136,000 Nazi troops, the Gestapo are also stationed in every other key city in Italy.

It is the Gestapo which has been particularly active in isolating the American embassy, with the result that Ambassador Phillips at present is able to see few people. If found talking to Phillips, his old Italian friends are warned, then arrested. Even other foreign diplomats in Italy have received Gestapo warnings not to communicate with American diplomats.

Americans, however, are extremely popular with the Italian people, who remember the efforts of President Roosevelt to prevent the war in the first place, and to keep Italy from entering the war. Also, the state department has facilitated the passage of certain Italo-Americans back to Italy. Their work has been effective.

Meanwhile, food scarcity in Italy has increased to the point where even the upper classes feel the food pinch. Poorer people are starving.

All the reports indicate that when the break finally does come in Italy, it will be an explosion of major proportions.

AAA CORN BATTLE

Inside the agriculture department a savage row is raging between AAA advocates of acreage control and apostles of larger farm production. This time the battle is over corn.

A referendum has been set for May 31 to permit farmers to vote on wheat marketing quotas, and the dispute is whether to conduct a similar election on corn. Some of Claude Wickard's boys say corn is threatened with a price decline due to the loss of export pork markets in embattled Europe, but experts contend that pork is in for a big boom under the defense and lend-lease programs.

Inside fact is that Secretary Wickard has just about decided to call off a plebiscite among corn-hog farmers, unofficially scheduled for next fall, despite the loud demands from Triple-A boss Rudolph M. Evans, that one should be held. Evans, spokesman of the big "cash-income" farmers, has been arguing that it is just as important to control corn as wheat.

For a time he seemed to have Wickard convinced. Up to a month ago, Wickard was planning to slap a 10 per cent curb on this year's corn crop by declaring marketing quotas, with stiff penalty taxes on excess production. The matter was to be put up to corn-hog farmers in a referendum next fall.

However, Wickard now takes the position espoused by small farm champions, particularly Milo Perkins, aggressive chief of the Surplus Marketing administration, that rising meat, poultry and dairy prices will prevent a surplus this year, since farmers always fatten up their stock when prices justify it.

Also, it is certain that a considerable portion of the huge 700,000,000-bushel carryover of corn from last year will be bought for foreign shipment under the lend-lease program. The Commodity Credit corporation, which owns, or has under loan, about 500,000,000 bushels of the carryover, is strongly banking on this.

So it looks as if Evans, who has been warning farmers of a corn quota election this year, will have to eat his words.

DIVIDENDS VS. WAGES

More altruistic than most big business leaders is Dollar-a-Year Man Edward Stettinius, chairman of the giant U. S. Steel corporation, which maintains cordial relations with SWOC, a C.I.O. union. Last year U. S. Steel paid stockholders $100,000,000. This year it should pay about $156,000,000.

But now the Steel Workers union is demanding a wage boost.

Stettinius wants to pay the additional dividends. Labor wants to get the additional pay.

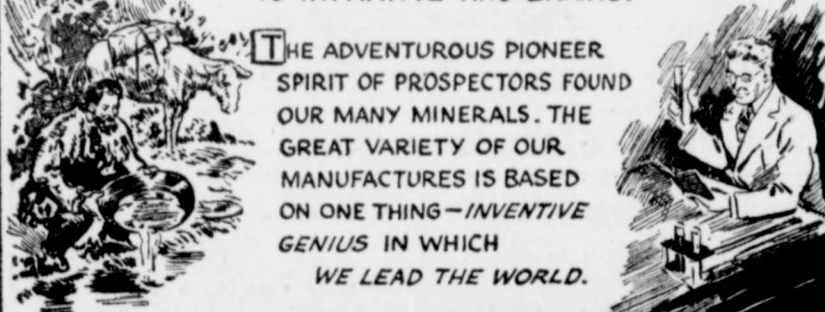

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wittie of the Purlima community announce the arrival of a baby daughter, born Wednesday at 3:20 p. m. The little miss, who weighed eight and one-half pounds, has been given the name Janetta Claudett. Mrs. Wittie was the former Miss Claudia Giddings.

ONE OF THE REASONS FOR AMERICA'S STRENGTH IS VARIETY-DIVERSIFICATION. — MUCH IS DUE TO NATURE... EVEN MORE TO INITIATIVE AND BRAINS.

Chairman
Newspaper Publishers Committee

NORMAN CHANDLER

IN MOST PARTS of the world today, if an editor happened to hold views which differed from those of the government, he would change his views—or have to change his occupation.

This is because the people of other lands have been taught to believe that there is only one side to the news. We have been taught differently.

Let's take a beauty contest. When the local Miss Special is nosed out by Miss Extra, from a neighboring state, the local newspaper writers find many reasons to blame the eyesight of the judges. The writers for the papers which will appear in the winner's town are just as sure of the clarity of vision and the sound judgment of the committee. But both sets of writers will agree on one thing: the fact that Miss Extra won.

Or take two merchants. Today one of them will have a set of bargains to offer, and he finds himself crowing over his less fortunate competitor. Tomorrow in the columns of the same paper it is his competitor's turn to cheer.

We see all this and approve or disapprove according to our own convictions.

The important thing is that the newspapers report the facts in any case. They don't report that the home town won when it lost and they would not let any erring merchant—even if he were so shortsighted as to want to—advertise his yard goods as 36 inches wide when they were only 27.

This sticking to the facts is possible only in a nation where the citizens have been given the right to choose for themselves. We have all been taught that everyone has a right to his own opinions. But we have also been taught that such a system is possible only if people are given the facts on which to base their opinions.

It is this right and duty of your newspaper to bring you facts which makes it so important a part of your life! Of course, you couldn't be trusted to vote or to make your own free choices in the stores if you were given a lot of phony news, lies, propaganda. Dictators know that the way to hold a whole nation in chains is to see that the nation gets only one sugar-coated side of the story.

Here's what Mr. Hitler says on this subject:

"As soon as one's own propaganda admits a semblance of right on the other side, the basis is laid for doubt of one's own right."

NOTE: The Newspaper Publishers Committee, composed of over 350 leading American newspapers, publishes these messages simultaneously each week. The force which unites these newspapers is their recognition of their responsibility to you, the reader.

CHAPTER FIVE SYNOPSIS
When General Ling disappears in Singapore with $300,000, Kim Ling, his beautiful daughter, suspects the self-styled "King of the River," Gregory Prin. She wins his confidence and Prin takes her to his headquarters deep in the jungle where she is surprised to find her lover, Captain Chang Tai, on the same mission. Kim finds her father's money in Prin's room. Chang Tai tricks Prin into sending him to Kim's father. Meanwhile, Tex Ballister, an American gangster, arrives on the scene and informs Prin that the International Police are on his trail. He also tells Prin of the true identities of Kim and Chang Tai.

CHAPTER VI

"FROBENIUS' head!" Prin whispered. In spite of himself, he was shaken.

"Evidently the natives didn't believe you yesterday, Prin, when you put on that friendship act," Professor Sen said significantly.

"Where . . . where did you get it?" "It came in a canoe which just floated in to the dock."

"Take it away!" Prin ordered.

"I guess Frobenius didn't get up to Tanwack," Sen said, "whatever that means to you."

Ballister's eyes narrowed as he caught the import of Sen's words. He faced Prin. "It looks like your days are numbered," Ballister said.

Prin stared straight ahead. "Chang Tai will be returning from Tanwack," Ballister continued, "and then . . ."

"You forget this is my country!" Prin interrupted.

"If those police come up the river, it won't be your country very long. Cut up that dough with me, now, and I'll go back to Singapore and put you in the clear," Ballister said. "I'll spread the word that you've disappeared."

"How do I know you'll keep your bargain?" Prin was suspicious.

"I can be pretty square for a hundred and fifty thousand dollars," Ballister answered. "Well, what say?"

"No," Prin decided, the price is too high. I can get through to Tanwack myself and take care of things. I'll leave at sundown."

At about this time, Chang Tai's canoe headed for the shore. This was Tanwack. Gun in hand he approached a native shack. As he pushed open the door, two natives, armed with curved knives, leaped to their feet. Chang held them at bay with his revolver.

Seated in a chair, staring straight ahead, was an old Chinese. It was General Ling.

Chang advanced and snapped to attention. "Captain Chang Tai reporting to General Ahn Ling!" he said as he saluted.

Weakly the older man answered his salute. Chang dropped to his knees beside the General. "General Ling, what have they done to you, sir?"

The old General's voice was weak. "I . . . will . . . try . . . to . . . tell . . . you," he murmured, "but . . . first . . . my daughter . . ."

"She is well, sir," Chang answered. "She has been searching for you."

"I knew she would," the General said. He patted Chang Tai's hand.

"This man, Prin, stole the money."

"I know, General. But Kim found the money. It will be returned."

The General's face brightened. "Then my name will be cleared."

"Yes. We will leave here immediately."

"But I am a prisoner," the General gestured toward the two natives.

"I will tell them that Prin has sent for you. They will believe me."

Chang spoke a few words in Malay. The natives nodded and began the preparations for the return trip down the river.

Meanwhile, a bottle of brandy half-emptied, Ballister dozed in the living room of Prin's bungalow. Prin revolver in hand, tip-toed quietly into the room and stood beside the unconscious adventurer. Softly Prin worked Ballister's revolver free of its holster. Ballister awoke with a start, to face Prin's gun.

"Be calm, my friend," Prin said softly. "There's no need to be alarmed."

Studying the unwavering tip of Prin's revolver, Ballister knew he was caught. "All right. What's the program?" he said.

"I'm going to lock you up while Miss Kim Ling and I take a ride to Tanwack tonight," Prin answered.

"You're going to take care of everything" — Ballister snapped his fingers—"like that!"

"Precisely," Prin agreed. "And by the time I return you, too, will be out of my way," he gestured with the gun. "This way, please."

The two men walked out on the porch. Still covering Ballister with the revolver, Prin raised a trap door in the floor. "Down here, please," Prin again gestured with the gun.

Ballister glanced down into the opening. Water could be seen below. A ladder lead down to the water's surface.

"Just a little invention of mine," Prin explained, "It's a sort of cell. It lets the water in gradually. When the current is flowing north toward Tanwack it is quite empty but when the flood tide reverses and flows south, as it is now, it fills up."

"Very neat, Prin," Ballister said coolly. "It would take you to think that up."

"I believe you're not even afraid," Prin said admiringly.

"Sure I am," Ballister admitted, "but I'm not dead yet — that's the idea."

"Well, au revoir, dear one. Down, please."

Ballister descended the ladder. As his feet reached the water level, Prin bent down and pulled a rope. The ladder came apart and Ballister landed in two feet of water.

Prin grinned thinly. "Rather cute, eh?"

"Yeah," Ballister agreed, "but it must use up a lot of ladders."

"What a rollicking sense of humor," Prin said. "Of course you could call for help. Not that anyone would come but it would give me an excuse to put a few bullets into you."

Prin closed the trap and re-entered the living room. He crossed to Kim Ling's door and knocked.

"What is it, please?" Kim asked as she opened the door.

"We are going for a little boat trip," Prin explained.

Kim's eyes narrowed as she realized the significance of this. "You'll have to excuse me," she said.

The two faced each other. Prin spoke softly but there was menace in his voice. "You make me insist, then," he said coldly. Kim understood that it would be useless to argue. "You will be ready shortly?" Prin went on. Kim nodded. "Very well," she said.

As Prin turned away, Herbert, entered accompanied by Duke, the monkey.

"Get me a drink," Prin ordered. He noticed Duke; "I told you not to bring that beast in here!" he snarled. "Ere, Duke! Get out!" Herbert hastily shooed the monkey out on to the veranda.

Kim Ling, dressed for river travel, entered.

"Ready?" Prin asked.

"Yes," Kim answered steadily.

"Then we'll go. I know you'll enjoy this," Prin said sardonically.

Herbert watched them leave with misgivings.

NEW HOUSE PAINT

stays whiter!

STARTS whiter—because it's made with titanium oxide, whitest paint pigment

STAYS whiter because it's "self-cleaning" (see below)

Easy and fast to apply . . . has excellent hiding

Saves money because it looks better longer

New "self-cleaning" light colors, too.

BRILLIANTLY white at the start, Du Pont House Paint keeps houses whiter because it stays cleaner! Here's why:—

Du Pont Prepared Paint forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it, and exposing a fresh white surface. This "self-cleaning" process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Its economy lies in the fact that it stretches the time between paintings. Remember: Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. Ask your painting contractor to use it!
