16TH ANNUAL HIGH DAVIS REUNION HELD APRIL 12TH

Nature did its own decorating in furnishing multi-colored wild flowers for the grounds in the High Davis pasture, where the 16th annual picnic was held Saturday, April 12.

Early in the morning a slow rain detained the previously planned events but ere the day had passed when most of them had been crowded in. Among the new games that went into the usual merriment of the afternoon was the they' been home. Others had time table and results of any of the winners for the goat-roping or other contests but I assure those of you who were not present the Ft. Worth and Madison Square Garden rodeo sponsors would like to have some of the goat ropers enter their ranks this year. Billy Parks Walker of Oglesby received minor injuries when his horse fell during the roping act.

As has been mentioned before in print relative to our previous annual affair, the renewing of old acquaintances and seeing old friends are the most important and most beautiful factors of the occasion. Personally I overheard several persons admit that it was a real homecoming for them; some said it'd been thirty years since they'd been home. Others had not been away from Coryell community anything like that long.

Gerald C. Mann To Open Campaign For U.S. Senate Seat.

Caravans left Sulphur Springs this week inviting towns, cities and counties to send delegations to that city Saturday when Gerald C. Mann will open his campaign for the United States Senate to fill the place left vacant by the death of Morris Sheppard.

Gerald Mann was born in Sulphur Springs, went to school there, worked there on his grandfather's farm and in the local hotel, and there launched in '38 his successful campaign to become Attorney General.

The day's program will climax with Mann's speech from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. which will be broadcast in its entirety over the Texas quality network and over KRLD in Dallas.

The speaking program, held on a large platform in the Sulphur Springs public square, will begin at 8 p. m. Justice Clyde Grissom of Eastland of the Eleventh Civil Court of Appeals, will introduce Gerald Mann. Several other five-minute speakers will be on the program.

Twenty-five high school bands will open the program officially at 3 p. m. and will give concerts thru-out the afternoon and until 7 p. m. At this time the bands will lead a parade of all visiting delegations.

Thirty boys with their various calves left Monday afternoon for Fort Worth where they will market their calves.

Starting Monday morning about eleven o'clock the boys with their combed and brushed calves were on exhibit. The calves which had been fed since November were one of the largest exhibits ever to be held in Coryell County according to reports from the officials in charge of the event.

Before the calf judging contest several bulls were brought on exhibit and judged. After this event the calves were brought forth and the judging got underway, but with one of the largest fields in history and also with such keen competition it was nearly 2:00 o'clock before the results were given.

The first five winners in this event were: Lloyd Brown, first; Joe Hanna, second; Gayle Franks, third; Sam Dyer, fourth; and T. Yows, fifth.

The special showmanship awards offered by the National Bank were awarded to the following boys: Gayle Franks, first; Dickie Harmon, second; and Lloyd Brown, third. Besides these places there were eight other places in the money.

After the judging the calves were led to the scales and weighed and loaded on trucks bound for Fort Worth, where each boy will market his calf.

At Fort Worth the boys with their dads will make a tour of the Stock Yards, and then will stay all night as guests of the Stock Yards. Today they will again make a tour of the yards and other places educational, including the packing houses, and then start for home in time to arrive before six o'clock tonight.

Calves fed by local farmers were also shipped to Fort Worth along with the others. Hill Deorsam brought his Angus Bull, which was ranked high last year, to the exhibit yesterday.

Prizes for the exhibit were offered by the Gatesville Chamber of Commerce, and the Showmanship medals by the National Bank of Gatesville. All of the calves at the event were bred and raised in Coryell County by Coryell county Four H Club and Future Farmer boys.

Evant Students To Entertain Lions Club

A group of students from the Evant School will be here to entertain the Lions Club at the regular luncheon Wednesday at noon.

Reports are that these students are very talented and featured on the program will be musicals, solos, duets, readings, and other specialties.

Mr. and Mrs. Craik Pierson of Hamilton were here Sunday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Chapman and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fraizer and Miss Martha Jane Farr of Houston spent the week end with Mrs. W. W. Hollingsworth.

GATESVILLE TWINS TO ATTEND CONVENTION AT BAYLOR

Waco, Texas—If double portions are appropriate for twins, then everything is in tip top shape for Baylor University's third annual Texas College Twin Convention April 25 and 26.

Louis and Louise Bailey, who jointly hold the post of presidents of the host Baylor Twin club, said that this year's correspondence from twins anticipating attendance is as large as the combined stacks for the first two conventions. In fact, there are 200 prospective sets—double that to get your total number—and 100 of those sets have written they definitely plan to attend. Among them will be Misses Pauline and Sophie Voss; Mrs. Robert Earl McCurry also plans to accompany her young son and daughter, Bob and Ann.

President Pat M. Neff of Baylor will call the convention to order in the regular Friday morning chapel service. A period of introductions, a luncheon, tests and varied acts by talented twins will follow. Waco Lions club will entertain with a reception Friday night.

Saturday's program will include play in the Baylor gymnasium, varied contests, and election of new officers.

A SUMMARY OF WORLD, NATIONAL AND STATE NEWS

KING CALLS GREEKS TO DEFEND NATION

Athens, Greece, April 20 (AP)—King George II, in the dual role of monarch and premier, called upon all Greeks Sunday night to defend their nation to the very end as British and Greek troops fell back before the massed charges of German blitzmen. The King indicated he would continue in his twin capacity only temporarily and urged all Hellenes to help perform their supreme duty to the country.

WEYGAND STANDS ON DECISION

Algeria, April 20 (AP)—Gen. Maxime Weygand, commander of the French forces in North Africa, expressed the belief Sunday that the war had entered a very grave phase and reaffirmed his determination to defend North Africa against any invader. He declared also that the unity of both empire and the French motherland remains constant.

JAPAN SEES WAR WITH U.S.

Tokyo, April 20 (AP)—A portion of the Japanese press declared Sunday that "It no longer is a crazy dream to expect a great war with Japan, Germany, Italy and Soviet Russia on one side, and the United States, Britain and China on the other." The newspaper Miyako, which was joined in this line of thought by other papers, said possible war between Germany and the United States necessarily would lead to war between Japan and the United States and that this war might come before June.

O'DANIEL MIGHT RUN FOR U.S. SENATE

Austin, Texas, April 20 (AP)—Declaring he burned with desire to serve where he could do most good, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel Sunday asked the advice and prayers of the people of Texas in deciding whether to run for the United States Senate. He made the request in his regular Sunday radio talk from the executive mansion.

NAZIS VAINLY HIT TOBRUK

Cairo, Egypt, April 20 (AP)—The Germans still vainly are trying to take the fortified Libyan city of Tobruk from its British defenders, a general headquarters communique said Sunday, and in the latest assault lost four dozen tanks which penetrated the outer defenses. The other 8 tanks retreated, the communique said.

RUMANIA NEAR BREAK WITH AXIS

Budapest, Hun., April 20 (AP)—Hungarian circles said Sunday that German-occupied Rumania was dangerously near a new outbreak of civil strife and interpreted a strongly worded patriotic message by Rumanian Premier Ion Antonescu to his people as indicating a clean break with the Axis. The Rumanians were reported in a Transylvanian dispatch to have halted traffic along the Bulgarian and Hungarian borders, with shots heard day and night by guards shooting anyone who attempted to leave the country.

75 HOMES DESTROYED BY FOREST FIRES

Lakewood, N. J., April 20 (AP)—Forest fires swept over Central and southern New Jersey Sunday, the most serious destroying approximately twenty-five homes in Lakewood before desperate soaking backfiring and dynamiting turned it to either side. Many persons suffered from smoke inhalation, and fifteen of thirty Fort Dix soldiers en route to another forest fire in an Army truck were hurt when the van overturned.

GATESVILLE INVITED TO DUBLIN RODEO, APRIL 25, 26, 27TH

The spirit of the old West was revived last Tuesday when fifty-two cowboys and cowgirls from Dublin invaded Gatesville and invited our city to the World's Championship Rodeo.

The delegates arrived at 3:10 p. m. and a cowboy orchestra led by Benny Thompson entertained the crowd as the gaily dressed good will trippers passed out folders and souvenirs.

Plenty of thrills, spills, and action is promised at the World's Championship Rodeo in Dublin April 25, 26, 27th in the largest outdoor arena in the Southwest. Everett Colborn's World Championship Rodeo Stock will be rounded up and brought in from the Lightning C ranch thirteen miles from Dublin. The Lightning C. operated by the World's Championship Rodeo Corporation which supplies stock to the Boston Garden and Madison Square Garden Rodeos, is the largest ranch in the world devoted exclusively to rodeo stock, brahma bulls, bucking horses, brahma cows and calves, mexican steers, and longhorn cattle.

The Texas Legislature unanimously passed a resolution last week setting aside April 25, 26, and 27 as "Pioneer Days of Texas" in recognition of the revival of the spirit, folklore and sport of the pioneer cattlemen of Texas. These dates were selected because of the Dublin rodeo, which were endorsed by the state representatives as the dates on which the roughest, toughest rodeo stock performs in practically their native surroundings.

Mayor C. E. Gandy of Gatesville has been invited to attend the rodeo Friday night and to ride in the parade before the first performance in recognition of Mayor's Day at the rodeo contests. Other performances will be held Saturday afternoon and night, and Sunday.

The Coryell County Baseball league will get its games off Sunday for the third round. The Pearl Dragons will get another test when they invade the Ireland nine. The other game of the day will be played at Copperas Cove when the Blackfoot Indians invade the Covers. Pidcoke draws a bye for the day.

The majors got started off last Tuesday. This year the opening games were full of surprises; among which were the defeat of Bob Feller, who started the season off last year with a no hit no run game.

The Hornet Spring training is coming along in fine shape and from the looks of the boys it seems that they will have a fine team in '41. Along with the six returning lettermen and several squadmen who will plug in at the places left by last season's starting eleven.

Friday the basketball girls and boys were awarded for their services during the basketball season. It is interesting to note that several of the lettermen will be back on the Hornet team next season. The returning lettermen for the boys will be: Kenneth Fry, Billy Manning, Eugene Blanchard and Edward Schonewolf.

County Meet softball will be played this week end at the old athletic field here. Coryell City won the county play last year in this event.

Softball season will soon be here. There has been great interest in that sport and this season is expected to be no exception. Last season there were several entries in the league just as the year before. Champions in that sport in the past have been the Coca-Cola Bottlers and the Arnold Electric team.

We noticed where Jack Wilson, Baylor's great football star was stopped for speeding and fined $15.50. Wilson hocked his watch and rings, but now he is borrowing money to get his things back.

The Houston Buffs, last season's champs and favorites to repeat, are again up at the top of the Texas league ladder, but are being pressed by Shreveport and Oklahoma City.

The National and Americans are in full swing. In the senior league the St. Louis Cardinals are again on the move, and in the American League the Boston Red Sox are leading.

One of the most colorful social events of the season was a nuptial shower at the home of Mrs. Evant Brooks last Friday afternoon with Mesdames Brooks and M. W. Colé as joint hostesses honoring Mrs. Emil Lee, the former Miss Rowena Blackwell.

The house was very artistically decorated with a profusion of spring flowers in a patriotic color scheme. Bridal wreath, blue bonnets and red verbenas were formed into a huge bouquet which centered the dining table on which blue and red tapers burned.

A very appropriate program was rendered after which little Ben Burney, dressed as a soldier, delivered an "Army Truck" of gifts to the honor guest.

After the packages were opened and passed around and admired, the guests were ushered into the dimly lighted dining room, where refreshments of cookies and punch were served with Mrs. Cole presiding at the punch bowl. Many beautiful gifts were received by the honoree.—The Four County Press.

D. A. HULCY

To Employees of
Lone Star Gas System:

These are unusual times. At no other period in many years have we had the problems we face today.

No matter what other demands are made upon us we must work together faithfully, loyally, and with unity of purpose to render all possible assistance toward national defense. This is the Number One Job of every American citizen. Whatever is necessary, we are ready to do our part so that America's defense program will go steadily forward.

No other industry is more important than ours in the national program. Therefore, a full spirit of responsibility will serve each of us well in the demands which the national crisis is making and will continue to make on the natural gas industry collectively and individually. Let it be the firm resolve of each of us that whatever it takes we are ready for our responsibilities. When it is all over let it be said of you and Lone Star Gas System that we did not fail our country and our people in time of trouble.

D. A. Hulcy
D. A. HULCY

ALREADY natural gas is playing an important part in national defense activities in the Southwest, where army cantonments, airplane factories, and numerous other defense projects are dependent upon natural gas fuel service. Whatever it takes to get gas to these army camps and national defense plants, we will do it! Out goes the word to more than 3,600 employees and Lone Star Gas System rises to the occasion of the national emergency. Being accustomed to emergencies our employees with one accord subscribe to this policy of preparedness, "Whatever it takes— it shall be done."

Throughout the 4,800 miles of interconnected pipeline system and its associated facilities for dependable service—engineers, foremen, construction gangs, compressor station forces, drilling crews, supply depots, executives and personnel—all are alert to their newest responsibilities of public service.

Mound, Flat And The Grove Win At Flat

The softball meet at Flat last Friday developed into seven and nine grade tournament since no eleven grade schools showed up.

The Grove boys eliminated Dunn to take the boys title, after Longview sacrificed their position as leader in order to tangle with the Flat high school team.

In the girls division the Mound girls won first place by beating Flat Ward school and Leon Junction.

The highlight of the afternoon was the game between the Flat and Longview boys, resulting in a victory for Flat with a score of 11-5. The Longview boys led by Thomas, outstanding player of the day, were slated to take their division, but readily abandoned it in order to make their game with Flat possible. Time did not permit their contesting The Grove for the title.

CHAPTER SEVEN SYNOPSIS
When General Ling disappears in Singapore with $300,000, his beautiful daughter Kim Ling, and her lover Captain Chang Tai, suspect Gregory Prin, a crafty Burasian. They win Prin's confidence. Kim uncovers the money in Prin's room while Chang Tai locates the father deep in the jungle. Before they can get away from Prin's jungle hide out Tex Ballister an American gangster arrives from Singapore tells Prin of the real identities of Kim Ling and Chang Tai, and demands a half share of the loot.

CHAPTER VIII
BALLISTER'S knuckles whitened as he gripped the rifle. "Don't pull that on me, Prin!" he snarled. "But the money was in that chest," Prin protested. "And the chest wasn't even locked," Ballister snarled. "What are you trying to make me swallow?" "No one would dare come into this room—except Herbert," Prin was thinking aloud. "Except Herbert—"

"He wouldn't touch it," Prin insisted. "He's a thief like the rest of you," Ballister insisted. Prin hurried into the other room. Kim Ling, Professor Sen and Herbert faced the furious half-caste. He approached Herbert.

"Where is that money you took from the chest in my room?" Prin snarled.

Herbert's face blanched and he stuttered incoherently. "Money? I didn't take no money," he protested.

Kim studied the terrified face of the Cockney. Ballister raised his rifle and pointed it at Herbert's heart. "Talk fast!" the adventurer snapped.

Herbert looked pleadingly at Kim Ling. "Ma'am, you sees how it is," he blurted.

"I understand," Kim said quietly. She turned to Prin. "I took the money."

"Well, snell it out," Ballister cut in.

"It belongs to my father. You'll never get it," Kim said.

Prin smiled sneeringly at Ballister. "Well, my gallant one," he said softly. "You know why I saved her," Ballister answered. He faced Kim Ling. "You want to go back on that river?" "It isn't what I want that matters—it's what I must do. That money represents my father's honor," Kim Ling answered proudly.

The buzz of the short wave signal interrupted their talk. Prin crossed to the instrument and switched it on. "Hello," he said into the microphone.

"This is Sammis in Singapore," the voice in the loudspeaker said. "A squad of International Police has started up the river to your plantation."

Prin was startled and did not quite manage to conceal his reaction. "What do the police want here?" he said at last.

"They've found out that General Ling has disappeared and that his daughter went up the river with you."

Now it was Kim Ling's turn to be surprised.

"Have they a warrant for me?" Prin asked.

"No. They want to question you—first," the Singapore agent answered. "That's all now." Prin hastily shut off the machine.

"You're in a jam right up to your ears now, Prin," Ballister said. "With Chang Tai and the General up the river, and Kim Ling in this house, those cops will have plenty evidence when they get here."

"Yes, the situation is delicate," Prin agreed, speaking slowly. He was thinking fast. "Police may find plenty of evidence; they may also find Mr. Tex Ballister—and that said as he crossed to the door and walked out on the porch. The others followed him.

"What are you going to do?" Ballister demanded.

Prin pointed with the rifle to the idol of peace, guarded by its native chieftains. "See that idol? That's my treaty of peace with the tribes. Prin said. "Well, I'm going to tear up that treaty, so to speak."

"The native chiefs are just waiting for a reason to break peace with you, Prin," Professor Sen cut in.

Ballister attempted to seize the rifle. Prin stepped back and leveled it at Ballister. "You'll turn the river country into a slaughter-house. Ballister protested. "And that will be the end of all of us!"

"Leave it to me, Ballister. We're partners now," Prin whirled suddenly and sent a bullet crashing into the idol. The chiefs leaped away in fear. Prin continued to pour bullets into the idol shattering it beyond recognition.

Professor Sen leaped on Prin and attempted to wrest the rifle from him.

"Easy, my dear professor," Prin said as he swung the rifle so that it covered the group. In the distance the natives could be heard screaming in their rage.

"There they go!" Ballister said. He rushed to the rail of the porch. He watched the natives pouring out of their huts and disappearing into the jungle.

"Now we'll see who is king of the river," Prin boasted.

Professor Sen stared gloomily at the half-caste. "Who was King you mean," the Professor suggested.

As Prin strode back into the living room, Duke, the monkey, terrified by the screams of the natives scuttled in and cowered beside Herbert.

"Dukie, go 'way," Herbert pleaded, as he tried to urge the animal out of the room.

"No, no, don't chase him away. Prin said. "I want to give him a medal for saving the life of my dear friend, Ballister." He sighted the rifle on the quaking monkey. The animal stared fearfully up at him.

"Nice little Dukie," Prin murmured softly. The rifle spat and Duke dropped, a huge hole torn in his side. Herbert whirled on Prin.

"I could tear your heart out with me hands although I've never laid finger on a human being in my life," he whispered. "But you ain't human—you ain't like nothin' that crawls the earth—"

Prin raised the rifle butt and brought it down on Herbert's head. The Cockney dropped, unconscious.

Herbert's face blanched and he stuttered incoherently. "Money? I... I didn't take no money," he protested.

might be embarrassing for Mr. Ballister." Prin pointed to Ballister's rifle. "Aren't you wasting time playing soldier?"

Ballister eyed Prin for a moment, then placed the rifle on the table. "Okay, Prin; go ahead. Add my corpse to the other details you'll have to explain away," he said.

"Come Ballister, you insult my intelligence. Why should the only two strong men in the place be fighting each other when they might combine forces and find that money?"

"And split it fifty-fifty?" Ballister demanded.

"I'll accept that, as a working agreement, anyway," Prin agreed. "Okay. Now what about the cops and Chang Tai? Those police are getting closer every minute."

Prin smiled and picked up the rifle Ballister relinquished. "The police will never reach this plantation and Chang Tai will never get down from Tanwack alive," the half-caste keeps white houses WHITER!

NEW DUPONT HOUSE PAINT

Painters, home owners praise this new Du Pont House Paint

THIS brilliantly white Du Pont House Paint keeps white houses whiter because it cleans itself. Here's how:—

Du Pont Prepared Paint forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it, and exposing a fresh white surface. This "self-cleaning" process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Its economy lies in the fact that it stretches the time between paintings. Remember — Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. Ask your painting contractor to use it!

EGGS AND STEEL

The senate could learn a lot from the house about brevity in public address. Members of the house have learned to express themselves without taking two hours—in fact, some of the best speeches last for only one minute.

The other day Congressman William L. Nelson of Missouri rose in the house and said, "Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to speak for one minute." Then he delivered himself of the following, within exactly 60 seconds. The gavel fell in the midst of applause from the other congressmen:

"Mr. Speaker, headlines and footnotes are always interesting and thought-provoking. In the metropolitan press I note such headlines as these:

Indiana Standard Clears $33,597,342.

Record Breaking Backlog by Republic Steel.

$20,076,739 Earned by Eastman Kodak.

General Motors has Sales Record with $1,794,936,640 in 1940.

Anaconda Copper Earns $35,052,699.

United States Steel Reports 26 Per Cent Business Rise.

And so on.

"Then, in contrast, I notice this footnote in a country weekly:

"Eggs, strictly fresh, 14 to 15 cents a dozen,"

LABOR SHORTAGE

A totally different labor problem than strikes gives increasing worry to defense chiefs. Some even consider it more serious—eventually—than disputes between management and unions.

It is the problem of securing trained workers for vital defense occupations.

The Army-Navy Munitions board has just completed a confidential report listing 661 occupations in which serious labor shortages are likely soon. The report warns that the tremendous increase in production, as high as 60 per cent in some industries, is certain to aggravate the problem.

The training program of the National Youth administration and others will afford some relief, but the labor shortage is so urgent that authorities have quietly taken steps to cull skilled workmen out of the draft.

Over 500,000 men are slated to be called to the colors by July 1. And although the Selective Service laws "group deferments" so desperate is the need for trained labor that draft boards have been advised to exercise the greatest care in inducting certain groups.

Among these are experienced merchant seamen, also apprentices in highly skilled occupations—lens grinders, toolmakers, chemists, aircraft mechanics, and other crafts which the Army-Navy Munitions board calls "occupations that have special significance in the national defense program."

AMERICAN RUBBER

When a government bureau moves fast, that's news. A bureau of the department of agriculture, beginning last August, has completed a survey of potential rubber production in 11 Latin-American countries and is now moving into two more.

But more important than speed, the survey is the first step in an important long-range plan to make this country independent of East Indian sources for rubber, and increase trade between the Americas. Earlier this year, congress appropriated $500,000 to the department of agriculture "to develop rubber production."

First objective is to establish two permanent experimental stations, one for Central America, the other for South America. It is almost certain that they will be located in Costa Rica and Brazil.

Brazil originally produced most of the world's rubber, but the seeds were smuggled out of the country by the British, who set up their own rubber plantations in Malaya. The present drive is to restore to Latin America her birthright in this essential product.

THRILLED A FARMER

A home town farmer friend was kidding homely Claude Wickard, secretary of agriculture, about sitting next to Clark Gable at the President's defense "fireside chat."

"You know, Claude," the friend said, "there are a lot of young ladies back in Indiana whose hearts fluttered when they heard you were palling around with a movie star." "Well," replied Wickard ruefully, "that's just about the closest I ever came to getting the ladies excited."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

In the caste-bound British navy enlisted men can rise to the rank of lieutenant commander, but the U. S. navy does not permit enlisted men to take examinations for permanent commissions except in one branch—the supply section.

Dr. George A. Buttrick, former president of the Federal Council of Churches and a supporter of Herbert Hoover's plan to feed Nazi-occupied Europe, claims that Secretary of State Hull also approves the idea.

The World is Flat!

By NORMAN CHANDLER

Chairman
Newspaper Publishers Committee

NORMAN CHANDLER

YOU BELIEVE what you read and hear. Don't deny it—because if you do, you're admitting you can't learn anything!

If you had lived all your life in a place where you were told the earth was flat, you'd know no differently. You'd say the world is flat.

But if you lived in a country where all the facts, all the ideas, all the opinions were brought to you in a handy everyday package, you'd be able to make up your mind about the shape of the earth or the worth of a law or the value of a certain kind of shirt.

And you do live in the latter kind of a country. You live in a democracy—a place where people, making up their own minds, can govern themselves, make a living for themselves and convert their money into bread and butter and permanent waves.

Where do they get this knowledge, this power to decide for themselves? Just where you are getting it now—from your newspaper.

Don't let anyone ever tell you you don't need news about people and laws and events. And don't let anyone tell you that you can get along without the advertising news you read.

Just watch a man or woman who reads the ads make a dollar do its full job. And watch the well-read man support the right kind of government. Watch him guard his freedom. Watch him increase his security and protect his liberty.

Isn't it strange how few people stop to realize that America's newspapers are the very key to America's freedom?

FLORIDA BOUND

AND BACK

We finally took off, four Jones and Grandma along with 48 small cans of Carnation and 16 big ones, two baby buggies, nearly 100 kid britches, two suit cases, shoes, etc, about 9:30 Wednesday and headed out.

The idea is, going to the National Editorial Association Convention in Jacksonville, Florida, and of course the trip. Why we're going, doesn't make any difference, or sense, either, but the little 60 is on its way.

First we passed thru Coryell County's Bluebonnet Trail out past Coryell Creek on the way to Waco, and I want to tell you, it's just about as pretty as that which we finally came to in and around Navasota, Marlin and other bluebonnet parts of Texas. They were all out in full flower, and looking pretty. We didn't miss the Indian Paint Brushes and many other beautiful flowers. This is about the right time to see South east Texas, and all the rest of the country, before it burns up.

Everything went by in a hurry, except us, and we saw everything we could, and just traveled, reaching Houston at about 4 p. m. The next was Beaumont. Needless to say, the defense program has made things extremely good in this part of the country, what with ship yards, big government contracts of all kinds, and they were building ships at Beaumont and when we got to Orange, they're building one new ship yard, and repairing an old one. In Beaumont, they were working at night, and we could see the outlines of an unpainted rusty new ship in the glare of the flood lights and the welder's torches going.

At Orange, we asked about some place to stay and they said the hotels were all full and the prices were going higher and higher. Two hundred men came to Orange with in the last day or so to work in the ship yards, and they're from every part of the country. The town looked more like Waco on a busy Saturday than a town of 4 or 5,000 people.

So, we went to Lake Charles, getting in there about 9:30 and tied up at a tourist camp, and by that time, anything looked good. The boys were yelling a little, and if we'd been that little we'd been yelling too.

Today, Thursday, we are down in the "dedau" country. Down with the Theriots, Prudhommes, Thibodaux, Heberts, Melancons, and those folks who came over with Mr. La Salle and the others, when Louisiana was a French possession. Some of it is just about the same. We drank coffee this morning—it might have been Admiration, but it was put in the coffee urn when La Salle was here. And, the man said it was not French Drip! We're going to try some of that French Drip—it couldn't be any worse.

From Lake Charles, we're going via Rayne, Jennings, Crowley, and other towns. This is the rice milling center of the world, they claim, and we didn't see any reason why it should not be. In fact, as far as most of us are concerned, they can keep it all too.

At Jennings, we talked to a newspaper man, and said cotton was just about the same as their rice, only cotton farmers around Coryell had learned to diversify more than the rice men. The rice growers he said, were hard to get to diversify. Of course, they are large investors in equipment, labor and implements. The fields grow so many years, and then they have to "lay out". They are planting, or just have planted the rice, and the fields are either covered with water, or have just been harrowed, and probably sewn, and they are waiting for their "time" to get the water.

We are taking the southern route to New Orleans, thru the Iberian district, and the muskrat country. That's the part that is thickly populated and covered with rice plantations, lumber mills, oil, and the "natives do a big business in shrimp, frog legs, and other Louisiana peculiarities. The towns are fairly close and look like those around Corpus Christi are flat and low. We are just now coming into Rayne, Louisiana. As in any "coast" country, where the country is low and flat, the buildings deteriorate, and run down in a hurry due to the rains, rust and winds.

Just as we past Rayne, we saw the Louisiana State Rice Milling Company plant, which claimed to be the largest rice milling company in the world.

Yesterday we passed along the railroad track between Beaumont and Houston, and it happened a big freight passed, and the big Jones Boys, Inc., got a big kick out of it. We were going too fast to stay along side it, but the engineer waved and Mat Jr. put up a howl to stay with the freight, so we stayed a while. Joe Kermit couldn't be bothered.

Now, that we've passed the rice milling business, or are gradually passing it, we'd better tell you about the next sight of interest we'll see enroute. That's the largest frog leg market in the world. We haven't eaten any frog legs yet, we're going to, just as soon as eating time comes around again.

Lafayette, probably the "french" capitol of Louisiana is the next town, and we've signs of nearly every french name on Deladier's list already.

One thing we've not mentioned so far, are the highways a la Huey Long. He did a pretty good job of it, anyway, after we passed Lake Charles. Maybe he thought everything west of Lake Charles was in Texas.

Well, we've got to see more, to tell you more, and since so far, we haven't seen it, we'd better wait until we do. Until then, it'll be so long from the five of us to the 5,000, no, 20,000 of you.

NATURAL GAS IS AIDING U.S. IN NATIONAL DEFENSE

Gas helps put bombers in the sky. In its own efficient way, this fuel is doing a bang-up job of helping Uncle Sam to roll armament production into high gear, according to discussions scheduled for the national convention of the natural gas section, American Gas Association, in Dallas May 5-7. This and similar topics will be presented under the general theme of "The Part Natural Gas Is Playing in National Defense."

The natural gas industry of the nation, with several thousand visitors, will be represented at the convention.

From hardening the intricate parts of machine guns to the final heat treating of tiny parts for gigantic bombers, specially designed gas furnaces are speeding national defense production at an ever increasing pace. Equipment developed for peace-time uses through cooperative research and engineering under sponsorship of the American Gas Association, is rapidly being put to work to speed production in war industries.

North American Aviation, Inc., warplane plant between Dallas and Fort Worth, is an example of natural gas service to national defense projects. Supplying all fuel requirements at the $7,500,000 factory, the Lone Star Gas Company's 4,800 miles of interconnected pipe lines assure an adequate supply of gas under all conditions short of general disaster. Another example is at Camp Barkeley, 8 miles southwest of Abilene, where 19,000 officers and men of the 45th Division depend upon natural gas for all fuel requirements, from heating water for shaving to generating steam for heating the 66 buildings that comprise the 710-bed hospital area. The problems overcome in supplying these national defense plants and camps are to be studied at the Dallas convention.

FLAT HIGH SCHOOL
SENIORS TO PRESENT
ONE-ACT PLAYS

The Seniors of Flat High School will present several one-act plays at the school auditorium Tuesday night, April 22. Proceeds will be used for the senior gift to the school at graduation exercises.

Among the plays are, "Macha Code", with C. J. Powell, Violetta Wolff, and Sarah Nell Brazzil in the cast. Another play is "The Hat Shop" with Clara Dixon and Martha Smith. Others taking part in what will be one of the most outstanding programs ever presented at the Flat school will be Jane Williams, Wanda Stovall, Dorothy Evans, Joe Taylor, Milburn Wall, Joye Cross, Ray Clawson, Grace Clawson, Anne Harper, Earline Sydow and Jeanne Clawson.

This program was originally scheduled for Friday night, April 18, but was changed to Tuesday night in order not to conflict with a program at The Grove.

16th ANNUAL REUNION—

Buster Morris and others, McGregor; Uncle Johnny Hearn and others, Gatesville; Miss Barbara Rankin, Bynum; Misses Frances Knornegay and Norma Knight, Denton; Mrs. Glenn Henson, Ames; Mr. and Mrs. McGhee, The Grove; Mrs. Winnie Morris, sister of Mrs. Davis, Corsicana State Home matron; Mrs. Morris was accompanied by Mrs. Paul Morris and son of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shomell, also of Dallas; Mrs. Eugenia Fletcher of Frisco; Mrs. Julia Burleson of Los Angeles, California; and Mr. and Mrs. Bloomer McMullen of Sonora.

The bountiful spread at the noon hour hasn't even been mentioned, as has always been true though that part of the routine was perfect, and I do mean perfect. One cannot mention the heavily laden table of good food, the barbecue, the salads, the vegetables, the fruits, the cakes, pies and good coffee and all without thinking of the two beautiful bouquets of cut flowers from Mrs. Childress Buford's (Jane Vandiver to you, maybe) yard in Bay City. Still wondering why she didn't transfer her flower garden to the giant flower show recently in Dallas.

Accompanying Mrs. Buford were her husband and the following from Bay City, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Lee, Carter Jones and W. B. Vandiver, Dick and Mrs. Aline Buford.

From out-of-state were, Dr. and Mrs. John Davis of Seminole, Oklahoma. Dr. Davis is a brother of Mr. High Davis and with them from Oklahoma City were Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Davis. Of the near relatives absent were, Mrs. Bert Davis of Arnett, who was kept away because of illness, and Miss Olive Humes of Dallas, who was the only grandchild unable to attend.
