FLORIDA BOUND

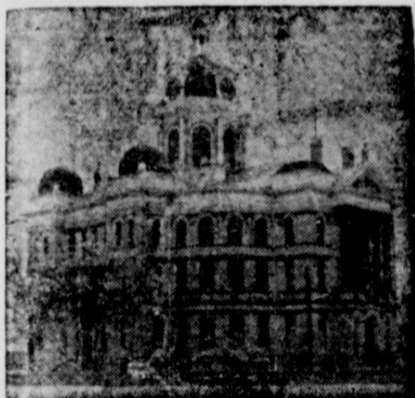

AND BACK

Where'd we leave off. It was two or three days ago, and we believe just before we got into Pensacola, or after. Anyway, the way from Pensacola to Jacksonville, is so many miles and so much time, and the state improves with each mile, and has plenty of room to start. It is really the backdoor of Florida.

We got into Jacksonville Saturday evening, and "the fleet was in" "the marines had the situation in hand", and so did the "ahmee". Adding to that, Uncle Sam is spending plenty of U.S. $'s here, building bridges, naval air bases first one thing and another, and Camp Blanding where 55,000 soldiers are stationed. Imagine what happens in Jacksonville, a city of nearly 200,000 when all this quits work Saturday afternoon. Jacksonville brags about how much they've gotten appropriated here, and are asking 5 million more. No city or town ever gets enough, now that they're putting out so easy.

Well, the "raison d'etre" if that is French, or the reason for being here. The 56th annual convention of the National Editorial Association, of which the News happens to be a member. The convention opened in the Mayflower Hotel, Monday morning with the usual conventions formalities. Special trains came from California and another from Chicago. Many came down by boat from New York, and quite as many came in their own cars from points as far away as Oregon and Washington. Thirty-six states are represented with the largest party from California, the home of the President of the association, and ten are from Texas. The Texans besides the "News" are representatives of The Mission Times, The Wellington Leader, The Mesquite Mesquiter and The Bryan Daily Eagle.

Saturday night, we investigated hotel prices, and they think quite a lot of their hotels, and the least we could get a place for was $6 a day, for the bunch, which we all agreed was a little steep. We found a dandy tourist home, consisting of one large room with a bed and the kitchen in the far end of the room and around the corner. We have a bath, lavatory and all the necessities, and to tie it all, a garage or shed, and screen-

Three Prisoners Escape From Local Jail

Three prisoners escaped from the local jail Sunday night by using window weights. After breaking out the trio stole an automobile belonging to County Judge Floyd Zeigler and made their get-away.

One of the escapees was a soldier who was being held for authorities at Camp Bowie on an AWOL charge. The other two men, one a negro, were being held in custody on suspicion of theft.

The men dismembered a window of the jail and used the weights to break a hole in the concrete, and then made their escape by crawling through the hole made by the weights.

The title of the place is Phoenix Park Motor Court, and it's six blocks off the main drag, and out at 44th street, which makes it nice and quiet, when Mat Jr. and Joe Kermit are quiet.

Back to the convention, in handing out the prizes, The Temple Daily Telegram received Honorable Mention in the General Excellence contest, as did the Mission Times, in the weekly bracket. The Times also received Honorable Mention in Production Contest, Pictures, and 3rd in General

ANNUAL RODEO AND FRONTIER SHOW TO BE BEST IN GATESVILLE HISTORY

Plans have been made with Mr. Everett Colborn for Gatesville's 1941 annual Rodeo and Pioneer Celebration, which will be held here June 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th. Mr. Colborn will be here with his famous stock which has performed in the New York famous rodeos.

This year the purse for the cowboys have been increased so as to bring many of the nations top ranking cowboys together. Along with this year's show there are many new features which will be added attractions for the rodeo fans. A cash purse will be offered to cowgirls who enter the Flag Race, which is one of the many added attractions in this year's show.

Mr. Colborn needs no introduction in this part of the nation as he has put over some of the best rodeo performances ever to be witnessed by southwest rodeo fans. He is said to have gathered together during the past year some new stock which made their names while on his eastern tour last fall.

Last year the Gatesville Rodeo went over big, and from all indications this year's show will be the biggest in this city's history, for with all these added attractions it is due to be a great Rodeo and Frontier Celebration.

London, April 27 (AP)—The tremendous decision of the United States to patrol the wide waters of the western hemisphere was hailed by Prime Minister Winston Churchill Sunday as vital to the battle which Britain must win to survive—the battle of the Atlantic. In a grim thirty-minute review of the entire war situation, broadcast to the empire and to America, Churchill acknowledged the German victories in Yugoslavia and Greece.

RED TROOPS MOVE NEAR FRONTIER

Vichy, France, April 27 (AP)—Diplomatic circles here expressed belief Sunday that Germany's next thrust would be toward the Russian Ukraine—Europe's breadbasket. BRITAIN'S BOMBS FALL ON HAMBURG

London, April 27 (AP)—The RAF dumped cargoes of Britain's powerful new bombs on Hamburg, Germany's biggest port and second city, Saturday night in a raid which one pilot said left a half-mile area a huge, heaving mass like a volcanic eruption.

ATTEMPT TO SQUEEZE BRITISH FROM MEDITERRANEAN

Cairo, Egypt, April 27 (AP)—Two motorized columns believed made up mostly of Italians were reported Sunday night advancing into Egypt south of the Salum escarpment with light British forces harrying their every step. (The new thrust coincided with the occupation of Athens by the left wing of the Axis forces which seemingly were bent upon a grand encircling maneuver to squeeze the British out of the eastern Mediterranean and Suez.)

PROUD ATHENS BOWS SILENTLY BEFORE NAZIS

Athens, Greece, April 27 (UP)—

Adolf Hitler's green-gray conquerors occupied ancient Athens at 10 a. m. Sunday, three weeks after the launching of German's Balkan blitzkrieg, and hoisted the Nazi Swastika over the crumbling columns of the Acropolis.

SOUTH AMERICA SEEN AS PRO-NAZI

Washington, April 27 (AP)—William C. Bullitt made this statement in an address prepared for a China relief meeting.

SPORT SCRAPS

By NORRIS

Sunday two games which will draw much interest in the county will be played on the Copperas Cove and Blackfoot diamonds when the Ireland and Pidcoke teams invade those teams respectively. The Pidcoke-Blackfoot contest will probably be the feature game of the day, since these teams have long been great rivals, and last season the Cokers and the Indians played for the title in the county playoff. Records give the Indians the edge, since the Pidcoke nine lost to Ireland, a team which the Indians won from by the heavy score of 23-5. Laying all records aside the game is due to draw many fans from various points over the county.

The other game of the day will bring the two new teams of the County League into action. The Ireland nine lost their initial game of the season to the Blackfoot Indians, but conquered the second game from the defending champions, the Pidcoke Cokers, and have been improving ever since. The Cove nine will be out to meet its first big test of the season when the Cardinals arrive to take them on their home diamond.

The other baseball leagues are going in full swing. In the American and National Leagues the pre-season favorites are beginning to show up, while in the Texas league the Houston Buffs are again setting the pace, but are closely followed by Oklahoma City and Shreveport.

The Waco Dons will play the 7-Up team of Austin in Waco Sunday. The Dons are said to have a much better team this season than last year, and with Lloyd Russell as coach of the Waco team they are liable to go far in the Semi-Pro race this season.

There has been some talk of when the local softball race was going to start. The only things that are keeping them from starting at the present time are, too cool nights and no field to play on. The latter reason will probably hang on for several more weeks.

The County softball meet which was originally scheduled to be played last Friday and Saturday was postponed until the 9th and 10th of May. Softball is a growing sport, and interest in this county has always run high.

Washington, D. C.
NAZI LAKE

Tell-tale signs accumulate that the next big Hitler drive is to make the Mediterranean an Axis lake. The most obvious, of course, is Hitler's unconcealed plan to launch submarine and bombing raids against Suez from his new base at Salonika and from the Greek islands. Secret plans for closing the other end of the Mediterranean have been evident for some time along the Spanish border, where big guns are ready to be rushed against Gibraltar. Most significant of these preparations, however, has not leaked out. It shows how extensive are Hitler's ambitions around the Mediterranean. For some weeks now, Nazis have been busy dismantling the airplanes of General Weygand in North Africa. Every morning the French wake up to find a magneto missing from one machine, a carburetor from another. Gradually, the essential parts of this air fleet have evaporated.

EYE OPENERS—by Bob Crosby

The PONY EXPRESS

WAS FOUNDED BECAUSE A SICK STORE CLERK DECIDED TO GO OUT WEST TO REGAIN HIS HEALTH!

QUIZ for TODAY

How DID THE TERM "PIN MONEY" ORIGINATE? (see below)

With the dual purpose of regaining health and instituting a cross country express service, W. F. Harnden "came west" in 1839. He died at 33, yet his pony express had made history in America and the idea had spread to Europe.  By wrapping each vegetable in cooking parchment, using a half cup of water, Booth achieves an "economy cooker"; each vegetable retains its individual flavor.  Long ago, husbands gave their wives an allowance to buy pins which were so valuable manufacturers were allowed to sell them but two days a year.

Hitler is taking no chances on letting what remains of the French air force get into British hands. There now seems to be little question that Hitler plans to take over French possessions in North Africa, together with French naval bases, as soon as the time is ripe. Note—U. S. military observers believe the Mediterranean will be ripe first, next Russia. That is the way the Hitler time-table looks today.

IRISH ARMS

The visit to Washington of Irish Defense Minister Frank Aiken, on an arms purchasing mission, was no boon to congressmen of Irish descent who voted against lend-lease. He has pointedly avoided them, and instead gone out of his way to hobnob with the members of congress who supported the bill—particularly House Democratic Leader John McCormack, who sponsored the measure, and Rep. Jim McGranery of Pennsylvania.

The tall, genial Irish minister has been eloquent in praise of British courage and President Roosevelt's policy of making the United States the "arsenal of democracy." He wants to draw on that arsenal to arm Ireland against the Nazi menace.

The Irish are as adamant as ever, Aiken says, against turning over their urgently desired bases to the British. But he points out that Ireland is Britain's "breadbasket," having provided one-third of its food, considerable clothing, and other necessities since the war began.

Ireland proposes to mobilize an army to battle off any Nazi attacks, if the necessary equipment can be obtained from Britain and the United States. Britain has agreed to furnish some, and Aiken hopes to get the rest here. He says he has "several hundred million dollars" to spend for anti-aircraft guns, tanks, rifles, ammunition; also for wheat and food.

Note—Ireland has an army of 250,000 volunteers, but only 25,000 are properly equipped and garrisoned. Most of the men are local "security guards," who train only once a week.

LEND-LEASE KINGPIN

Kingpin in directing the lend-lease program is Harry Hopkins, gaunt intimate of the President.

Living and working in the White House, Hopkins is Roosevelt's personal spokesman on all lend-lease matters and holds all the reins. No move is made without his knowledge and approval. In inner circles Hopkins is referred to as lend-lease "coordinator," but actually he is the boss-man for the President.

Hopkins' chief assistant is Maj. Gen. James H. Burns, one of the army's procurement aces.

The test in passing on allied requests for supplies is whether they will also be useful for our own defense. The government's policy is to provide all equipment and materials possible, but not to disrupt our own defense program.

An example of the emphasis on standardization of the armament of the U. S. and Britain was a recent request for 37-mm. shells. It was turned down because 75 mm. is the caliber of the guns now chiefly in use in our army. Production of 37 millimeter shells would have required extensive retooling, only to turn out ammunition of no value to us.

The actual placing of lend-lease orders is being handled through three offices; munitions by the navy's bureau of supplies and accounts and by the bureau of ships; and army supplies by Under Secretary of War Robert Patterson.

A man convicted of a felony, but who receives a suspended sentence, is still eligible for induction into the military service if otherwise subject to the Selective Service Act, it was announced at State Headquarters today.

General J. Watt Page, State Director pointed out that this rule applies in those cases in which the suspended sentence is still pending, as well as in those cases in which the suspended sentence has been set aside.

"All Texas Selective Service boards have today been instructed to check their classification records, and to reclassify and induct in the order of their order numbers all registrants heretofore placed in Class IV-F as felons who come within the purview of this ruling," General Page said.

Members of the Civilian Conservation Corps who have been placed in Class I for Selective Service training prior to their enrollment and assigned to a CCC camp, will be permitted to report to the local Selective Service Board nearest their camp for physical examination, General J. Watt Page, State Director of Selective Service, also announced.

Director Page also pointed out that a recent War Department ruling enables CCC enrollees to report for these Selective Service examinations without loss of CCC pay and also protects their status in the CCC should they be rejected at an Army induction station.

He said: "If a CCC selectee for military training was classified and placed in Class I by his local Selective Service Board prior to enrollment in the CCC, but had not received notification to report for physical examination until after he had been assigned to a CCC camp, upon receipt of such notice he may request his Local Board for permission to report to the local board nearest his CCC camp for the required examination. Also, the War Department has ruled that his CCC company commander will grant him leave of absence with pay for whatever time is deemed necessary to report to the Selective Service Board."

In addition, Director Page said, if a CCC enrollee has been passed for Selective Service training and discharged from the CCC be subsequently rejected at the Army induction station, he may be reinducted. .99wBX5ip THTARO stated in the CCC camp from which he was discharged upon application made within 15 days of the date of his rejection. If he does not wish to return to the CCC, he may apply in person to the commander of the CCC company from which he was discharged who will give him the authorized transportation to his home.

Meats from Murray's Market

er this and every other democratic capitol of the world. This is Cherry Blossom season in Washington. The weather has been perfect (the local people say that it has been a long dry spell—there has been no rain for ten days.) There are great crowds on the streets and in every public building, particularly the Capitol Building. It seems as if everyone who comes to Washington tries to visit the Capitol Building, and I for one think they should, even if it does at times make it most difficult for members to get through the masses of people.

I have often stated that the famous Cherry Blossoms were not nearly so pretty as the displays of flowers in Central Texas, but they have been so publicized that thousands upon thousands of people come here to see them, and Washington is a beautiful city, particularly in the Spring. I believe that this Spring many people are trying to go somewhere—anywhere—to more or less forget about the European situation. But those who come to Washington can not get away from it. In every government building there are evidences of the seriousness of the crisis. For instance, I have just come from the War Department Building. Before one can enter the building he must go to a clerk, introduce himself, explain his business, state who he wants to see, etc. If you can show that you really have business there you will be given a badge and a messenger will take you to the office you want. When your business is completed you must surrender your badge, receive a receipt and give the receipt to one of the guards in order to get out of the building.

Everywhere there are buildings going up, and in all of the existing office buildings there is moving and remodeling in order to take care of new personnel. It is next to impossible to find a place to live, and living costs, always unreasonably high, are rapidly advancing. Most of the new employees are coming from the Civil Service lists—clerks, typists and stenographers on the one hand, and skilled craftsmen, machinists, metal workers, etc., on the other. Most of the better positions are being filled from promotions of people already in the government service. In fact, it is still necessary to have either Civil Service status (which is required in most agencies) or at least be on the Replacement List (composed of those who have heretofore worked for the government) to secure a position.

Superficially, all this activity seems to mean good business, employment and better times, but we all realize that it is all done in fear of war. We are resolved that America shall not be again caught entirely unprepared, and she will not be. We still have a long, long way to go to reach the total of German war expenditures (approximately one-half of the national income for ten years), but definitely the United States is today far better prepared than we were in 1917. Most important, we have developed productive capacity. We are now in a position to turn out quantities of most of the things we need to supply our armed forces, and this is of utmost importance as we can not now look to England and France to produce our equipment as they did to such a large extent in 1917 and 1918. On the contrary, if we are to avoid war we are going to have to supply the Democracies with the munitions they need. Had Yugoslavia been equipped with the modern implements that we are producing, that nation would doubtless still exist as a free and independent land. Quite probably, the fate of England, Greece and China likewise depend on our ability to get supplies to them quickly. Under international law we have a perfect right to ship goods to these nations. In the case of China, Japan has not ever declared war, and in the case of England and Greece, the Axis can claim nothing more than a blockade of doubtful legality, which could give them the right to do no more than capture munitions if they can. Certainly, they have no right to kill the crews of neutral ships as they are attempting to do. As I see it, the United States is going to insist on our rights because in so doing we will be protecting our own country. The fight is shaping up here in Congress, but I believe we will use whatever force is necessary to get American supplies to the Democracies.
