Food Stamp Office To Be on E. Leon: To Start, About 16

Announcement was made yesterday that the Food Stamp Plan Office will be located in the I. O. Scott building on E. Leon Street, next to Pat H. Pott's Tin Shop.

Furniture and fixtures are being arranged for and it is thought, according to County Judge Floyd Zeigler, that the issuing will begin about May 16.

Client investigations are now underway, and other routine matters necessary to the starting of this plan.

Clients buy so many stamps of one color, and are given a like number of stamps of the other color, orange or blue, and this represents additional purchasing power which can be used at local grocery stores.

County Teachers To Meet 10 A. M. Sat. At GHS Junior High

No place was named in the story in Tuesday's issue of the News, as to where the Coryell County Teachers Association would meet, unless it was the courthouse, and if it was, that was an error.

Well, the fact of the matter is, they're going to meet at 10 a. m. Saturday in the GHS Jr. Hi school.

These meetings, as you've no doubt been reminded, replace the former week long drag of the teacher's institute which was held sometime back.

GATESVILLE LADY IS WINNER OF $50 IN ADMIRATION CONTEST

You can't be lucky, unless you work at it, and that's what Mrs. A. T. Ray'll tell you, we'll bet. She is just now the proud possessor of 50 good Admiration Coffee dollars which she won in a recent contest carried by the Duncan Coffee Company, the manufacturers.

Personally, if that'd been us, you'd have to call us Morgenthau.

Cecil Earl Moore and Lynn Baker left Tuesday for Sonora, where they have accepted employment.

Red Cross Work Progressing; More Workers Needed

The request which the local chapter of the Red Cross made last week through the newspapers for machines and workers was met with a good response and the work is progressing nicely.

Today the world is seeing the greatest example of unselfishness yet demonstrated in modern times and even in times previous to the modern period. This is another way we can help those who are already experiencing the horrors of war and who have had their homes and property destroyed by bombs.

We want to get our garments to them as early as possible and you can help by sharing your time on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week between the hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. The office is located in the Brown building, across the hall from Dr. Clyde Bailey's office.

Many have asked to be taught to knit, and beginners will be given instructions by experienced knitters in the afternoon, starting today.

Don't wait to be asked—the Red Cross needs YOU.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Yates the past few days were, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hatcher and daughter, Janis, of Port Arthur and Mrs. R. F. Yates of Houston.

A SUMMARY OF WORLD, NATIONAL AND STATE NEWS

ROOSEVELT ORDERS FREIGHTERS

Washington, April 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked the Maritime Commission Wednesday night to obtain service of at least 2,000,000 tons of merchant shipping to be used to supply all-out aid to the democracies.

Mr. Roosevelt said also the American merchant fleet must be expanded faster than was planned "so that ships and more ships will be available to carry the food and the munitions of war to the democracies of the world."

BRITISH GET AWAY

London, April 30 (AP)—Valiant rear-guard fighting against the Germans by a few thousand British imperial troops has enabled 45,000 of the original 60,000 in the expeditionary force to escape from Greece by sea, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told a cheering House of Commons Wednesday.

Britain lost 3,000 dead and wounded in and around Mt. Olympus.

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann Was Brief Visitor Here

GERALD C. MANN

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, and now, candidate for U.S. Senate, replacing the late Morris Sheppard, was a brief visitor in Gatesville, Wednesday, accompanied by one of his campaign assistants.

Attorney General Mann, who has made an enviable record during his tenure of office in that position, opens his campaign tonight in Waco at 8:15 on the Courthouse Square.

Before the rally, Mr. Mann will speak over the Texas State Network from 7:45 to 8:00 p. m.

Central Texas headquarters have been opened in the Raleigh Hotel and Powell Gibson, president of SMU Ex-Students in Waco is in charge of arrangements for the rally.

He speaks also at 2 p. m. Saturday in Glenn Rose, at the premier of that resort's summer season. Last Tuesday Mann visited Luling, Gonzales, Cuero, Hallesville and Lockhart and Wednesday campaigned in Georgetown, Belton, McGregor and Temple.

Attorney General Mann stated that he would return to Gatesville in the near future and that further announcement would be made of this date. He was just passing thru Gatesville, Wednesday.

Pat Bone and Kenneth Anderson returned to their homes in this city Tuesday after a few days' visit in Bryan.

Documents of 40's Photostated For Relative Here

Documentary evidence in the form of photostat copies "of an affidavit and claim to the State of Texas for military services rendered and materials furnished the army of the Republic of Texas by John Murchison", great-grandfather of Mrs. E. H. Schloeman have been received by her.

Mr. Murchison took part in this transaction in 1836, over 100 years ago, and this photostatic evidence is in the Archives of the State of Texas.

Among the papers, is a check for $200 for military supplies, and what wouldn't $200 buy in those days. A part of the papers are sworn before one Robt. H. Foote, possibly an ancestor of some more Coryell County folks we know of.

All of the "forms" used were written in long hand, and only the check had any printing, or engraving on it. It'd be starvation now for printers if everything was still done that way. But then, there were not too many newspapers and printing shops in Texas.

"Defense Bonds" are "Slow" Here: $1,940 Sold Opening Day

"Defense Bonds" went on sale in Gatesville yesterday, as all over the United States, and after closing time the banks and post office only totaled approximately $1,940 in sales.

The Post Office, according to Postmaster J. Hurl McClellan sold "about $1,000 worth of bonds", and the Guaranty Bank & Trust Company $275, and the National Bank of Gatesville, $650.

These "Defense Bonds" can be bought just like the "Baby Bonds" in denominations of $25, $50, and $100, $500 and $1,000, but these are "maturity figures", and the price of the $25 bond is $18.75. The interest rate is 2.9 per cent.

Also, there is a "Stamp" issue, similar to War Savings Stamps, which can be bought at 10c, 25c, 50c, $1 and $5, and are exchangeable for $50 and $100 bonds. Pocket albums are provided, and one filled can be exchanged for a bond maturing at $25.

Lyndon Johnson To Open U.S. Senate Campaign Saturday

LYNDON JOHNSON

Lyndon Johnson, formerly State NYA Director, and now Congressman from Texas, and ardent New Deal Supporter, will open his campaign for U.S. Senate at San Marcos, Saturday evening, March third.

Congressman Johnson has been an ardent supporter of President Franklin D. Roosevelt since the first of the New Deal policies were announced, and has made an outstanding name for himself as a Congressman.

Congressman Johnson has chosen as his campaign slogan: "For Roosevelt and Unity".

He speaks, also, over the Texas Quality Network and the Texas State Network 8-9 p. m. Saturday evening.

Former Columnist Of News Now With Associated Press

Brack G. Curry, until the last few days, editor-in-chief of the SMU Campus, semi-weekly newspaper of Southern Methodist University has just accepted a position as Junior Editor with the Dallas office of the Associated Press.

Brack is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Curry of Dallas, and formerly of Gatesville, and was the former columnist for the News who wrote the column, "World Comment". He is to be a journalism graduate of SMU in June, and will receive his degree "en absentia". He is the first journalistic graduate of SMU to become affiliated with AP, the world's greatest newsgathering organization.

His record as SMU was one of the most outstanding in the history of the institution. He was elected editor of the official student newspaper with the largest vote ever accorded a candidate for that office. He participated in a wide field of student activities while making a scholastic average in the top brackets of the University.

Curry was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" this year. He received wide recognition as a student editor for his early advocacy of all-out aid to Britain in his editorial columns and for his analyses of current world happenings as related to the welfare of today's college generation.

Now, that Brack's gone places, and the above, for the most part is quoted, but however, we'll say "Amen" to the whole thing, because for six or seven years, we have been familiar with the kind of journalism, or better "news work" Brack has done, thru his column, "World Comment", and have tried to help him get his column syndicated.

Washington, April 30 (AP)—A plan to help small taxpayers save up for big income taxes was proposed Wednesday at House ways and means committee hearings on raising $3,600,000,000 in new taxes.

It was suggested that $1, $3 and $5 tax stamps be placed on sale at post offices, the stamps to be used March 15 as tax payments instead of cash.

SUPERBOMBS USED R.A.F.

London, April 30 (AP)—Britain's Air Ministry announced new superbomb blows at Mannheim and successful forays by American made bombers on Nazi continental bases Wednesday night.

Also, oil stores at Rotterdam were attacked by bombers, and successful attacks were carried out against three airdroms in Northern France.

WHY ON EARTH DO THEY DO IT?

... insure the other fellow's car ... and not their own

Sure, you ought to insure yourself against any damage your car may do to the property of others. But what about your property... your car? Unless you have collision insurance, you're paying money to protect the other fellow and leaving yourself out in the cold.

Moral: Give yourself a break. Let us fix you up with protection for your OWN car.

Cove-Ireland Meet Sunday At Cove Field

Sunday the Copperas Cove nine will play their initial game of the young county baseball season when they meet the Ireland Cards on the Cove diamond. The Copperas Cove team has not played a game as yet in the league, as they had an open date on the opening day of the league and then forfeited to Pearl the Following Sunday. Last Sunday their game with the Blackfoot Indians was rained out, so the Cove nine will officially open the season Sunday against the second place Ireland nine. A large crowd is expected to witness the contest as both of these teams are new comers to the league.

Pidcoke Nine Invade Indians Sunday

Probably the most interesting contest that will be played Sunday will be at Blackfoot when the Pidcoke Cokers invade the league leaders. This game is due to draw a large crowd of fans since these two teams have been great rivals since the organization of the league. Last season these same teams met to decide the county play-off on the State Training School field.

The Indians are now riding in first place with one game won, while the Pidcoke Cokers are in second place tied with the Ireland and Pearl nines. Pitchers for Sunday's game will probably be veteran Jack Barton for the Indians while either W. A. Barry or Knox Trammel will hurl for the visiting Cokers.

Two top games will be played Sunday in the Coryell County league when the Copperas Cove nine try to break into the win column against the second place Ireland Cards, and the Pidcoke Cokers engage the leading Blackfoot Indians on the latter's home diamond.

The Waco Dons open their season Sunday when they meet the Austin 7-up team in Waco. The Dons are said to have a very good team this season, and are due to go far in the Semi-Pro race.

Today and Saturday the Texas Interscholastic League state meet is to be held in Austin. Several records are due to fall in the keen competition which is expected to take part in the meet.

The County league standing at the present time shows that the Blackfoot Indians are in first place with one game played and one game won. The Ireland, Pidcoke and Pearl teams are tied for second place with one game won and one game lost. Copperas Cove is in the cellar with one game lost.

The Gatesville High School football team are in good shape now. They played a regulation game Wednesday afternoon when Coach Pruitt divided them up into two teams.

Softball season is coming on. This sport has been an interesting one during the past seasons and this year is due to be no exception. Several teams are expected to enter the league this year, but we have received no official entries as yet.

Waco Dons Open Semi-Pro Season In Waco Sunday

The Waco Dons open their Semi-Pro season Sunday when they meet the 7-up team of Austin in Waco. This game is due to draw between 5,000 and 6,000 fans, and bleacher seats have been erected in left field to take care of the overflow crowd.

This season the Dons have several well known players on their team. Among whom are Kemp Kaiser, of Rice Institute; Don Haley, first baseman; Lloyd Russell, manager and assistant football coach at Baylor; Pete Layden, outstanding outfielder for Texas University; Jerry Feille, veteran professional player and for the past two seasons with the Dons; and many other well known stars who you probably have seen at one time or another.

Another outstanding feature of the day will be the field event, including two selected player from each team, who will compete in circling the bases, and the catchers of the teams in the accuracy contest.

Dear Wardie:

I'm worn to a frazzle from that Fiesty yesterday. I caught a cold, too, and today I guess I'm made wrong—my nose runs and my feet smells.

I was a goin' to ride in that 20-30 float, 'till they ruled us off the track.

I think they ought to adopt baseball rules for the defense industry—three strikes and yere out. Or maybe they ought to apply that rule to some of the labor agitators who never labored much in their lives.

They say they got a new car out now with a liquid drive. They've been a lot of cars with liquid drivers.

I think the British, Greeks, etcetera, better call in some football coaches to figger out a defense fer Hitler's flanker attacks. Some coaches what's good at throwing up a defense against off-tackle smashes from the "T" formation should be a big help, and I don't mean maybe, perhaps. The spearheads wouldn't get past the line of scrimmage if they could be scouted onct.

I'm a going to give you some inside dope on the Kentucky Derby. I'll take Porter's Cape, Our Boots and King Cole. You take Whirlway, Dispose, Robert Morris, and the rest.

Well, Chum, I aint got no ambition at all hardly much today, so I'm a goin' to shuffle this off, get me a short beer and go to bed.

I'll be a seein' you, Pal,

Yourn,

"QUADRILLE" SQUARE DANCERS TO "SHOW" AT BEAR RODEO

Gatesville's now famous "Quadrille on Horseback," which has "danced" at several important Texas rodeos has been selected as a special feature of the Bear Club Rodeo in Waco, May 13-17.

Practice has started, and they are cutting all kinds of figure eights, and promises to be a more colorful exhibition than ever before.

The Bear Rodeo this year, features Colborn's World's Championship Rodeo Corporation Stock, and the fans'll know what they'll see at this show. All shows are night performances.

20 YEARS IS A LONG, LONG TIME, EVEN AS A GROCER

Yes, 20 years is a long, long time, but that's exactly what E. G. Beerwinkle of the Red and White Grocery has been doing. And, with that, Mr. Beerwinkle is celebrating, May 1, 2 and 3.

Mr. Beerwinkle, started in, if you remember, when everything came in bulk, or most of it. The era of the pickle, cracker, and other kinds of barrels, and when the "farmer-stockman" would come in and get the merchant to "carry him 'till Fall". That plan has really fallen thru, and died, probably during the last war.

Now, in the "cellophane era", even the spuds in some cases are individually packed, dry kilnmed, dehydrated, and processed several times after they leave the "grower", the fruits are sized, stamped, graded, okehed by the US inspector, and then, there are the "frozen foods".

It's a long time from the coal-oil can with the "spud" in the spout. And, in most instances, it's cheaper to buy'em, than raise'em.

Times have changed in these 20 years.

Joe, the monkey matinee idol of Central Park. Every afternoon his trainer trots him out on the green where his humantics draw a Standing Room Only crowd. . . . The warped walk along the Brooklyn Bridge worn by the tread of age old Hope, Dreams and bitter Tragedy. . . . The set faces of the homeward bound business men that seem to have in them some of the granite of which the city is made. . . . The Western Union messenger boys, holding down the most overworked job in the city. Walking Madam's dog around the block.

The mounted policemen in the W. 40's making the traffic behave. Modern knights without armor. . . . The wisps of femininity that enrich the decor of the plush supper clubs as they enter on the arms of middle-aged men. Between canapes they enjoy a little flirting—as they pull the silk over their escorts' eyes. . . . Those yellow carts in Central Park loaded with colored balloons, candies and all kinds of goodies—a little piece of Heaven for tots.

The frosty doormen at some of the snooty night clubs, who glance at strangers with a machine gun look. . . . The delivery boys for the airlines, who look like commodores in their blue uniforms. . . . The human wrecks drifting alone in the night. They seem to be an extension of the shadows they hug, come to life. . . . The green magic, blooming in the park, and the bewitching florists' windows all around the town.

New York Heartbeat:

Sallies in Our Alley: George Kelly was telling the bunch at the 48th Street Tavern about the time Joe Frisco turned down a job at one of those joints "where a guy was killed every night!" . . . "Yeah," said Frisco, "b-b-but what happened to the g-g-guys that k-k-killed them?" . . . A feller asked Joe E. Lewis how he did at the track. . . . "I bet on a horse," said Joe, "that if Paul Revere rode him—we'd all be talking with a British accent today!"

Big Town Vignette: He's a Wall Streeter and his face is redder than ever these midnights. . . . His wife has pestered him for a mink coat. . . . He decided he'd raise his own mink coat on the bit of property he owns in New Jersey. . . . and so he started a mink farm—to save money instead of "squandering" it in "those expensive 5th Avenue stores!" . . . Well, sir, after a full season of hard work and an investment of $2,000, he got enough skins to make half a jacket, worth $400. . . . His wife is so sore she's practically chewed the last of her bottom lip, and his pals are laughing hysterically.

New York Novelle: He's well known in the advertising business. . . . Handling due bills for night clubs and cafes. . . . Some time ago he decided to expand. He needed $10,000 extra capital. No way to raise it. Then an idea almost floored him. He'd marry for money! . . . He went through a list of gals he knew and came across a likely prospect. . . . A Bronx girl, getting on in years, whose folks had moolah. . . . A whirlwind courtship followed. Took her to every joynt in town, signing tabs and playing the big-shot. . . . Went in the red for $600 in seven weeks. The girl soon capitulated. A quick ceremony. . . . That was two months ago, and still no dough. Every time he mentions the subject to his father-in-law, the old gent is amused. . . . "If you love my daughter," he heckles, "you won't feel cheated if you don't get any money. And if you don't love her, why should I give it to you?" . . . Moral: Two's company. Three's safer.

Manhattan Murals: Tito Guizar swears this oldie happened in a swanky restaurant. The owner instructed a waiter to tell a patron to remove the napkin stuffed in his collar. "Tell him as tactfully as you can," added the boss. . . . So the waiter went over and said: "Well, sir, what'll it be? Shave or haircut?" . . . Then there's the one about the guy in a midtown place who called over the waiter and said: "Which did you pour into this drink first—the scotch or the soda?" . . . "Why, the scotch, of course," said the waiter. . . . "Oh," nodded the patron, "then I guess I must be coming to it."

Sounds in the Night: At Lum Fong's: "Is he tight? Say, that guy's pockets close up earlier than a bank!" . . . At the Beachcomber: "It was a case of love at second-sight. The first time he didn't know she had money" . . . At the Stork: "I dunno where I met her. I just opened up my wallet and there she was" . . . At Copacabana: "No matter how high you rise on Broadway—you can't rise above suspicion" . . . At the Castleholm: "They have a chorus of forty—but I understand a couple are younger."

FLORIDA BOUND

AND BACK

We thought by this time we could tell you about the very high prices for everything in Florida, and we could have, had it not been for this time of year. Practically "everyone that matters" (to themselves) is going back east now, and everything is emptying up. Therefore, the hotels, motor camps etc., are shading their prices. Many of them run only during the winter season, and then close down for the season until the New York jews get back down. . . . Most of the cars we've seen are from the New England states, Michigan, Ohio, California, Wisconsin and other mid-western and eastern states that have severe winters. Not many from Texas. New York, Ohio, and Pennsylvania are all well represented. Starting back at Jacksonville, we left about 8:30 a. m. and went down the coast to San Augustine, where we visited the oldest house in the United States, and it looked like an old English house, even tho it was in a Spanish town.

From there, we went on down to Marineland and the party looked over the big fish aquarium again. From Marineland, we cut over to De Land, a small interior town where Stetson University is located, and seemed to be the principal thing of interest there. Then, thru the turpentine and then the Orange Groves from then on via Orlando, and other points. Just like in both Texas and California, there were orange joints all along the highway where they peddle oranges, orange peel jellie, orange blossom honey, Guava jelly and other delicacies. From Orlando, we cut back over to U. S. 1 and again started down the coast. But, first, we went thru Christmas, Florida, and of course we mailed some post cards from Christmas. There's a Santa Claus in Indiana, or Illinois, or some state like that, and maybe some day we'll get up there. This orange and grapefruit country is in the Indian River section, and nearly every orange grower advertised along the highway "Indian River Oranges." We didn't see the river, but suppose it was there. It's 350 miles from Jacksonville to Miami on U. S. 1, but by our cut over, we made it considerable farther. It's lots cooler along the Atlantic seacoast, and you see just as much or more. The only thing you miss going inland is the heavy traffic on U.S. 1, which ends somewhere up in Main, and most of the easterners take this

$1,390,000,000 Worth of New Steel Mill Equipment
The steel industry's plans to spend $282,000,000 for new equipment this year will raise such expenditures since 1935 to a total of $1,390,000,000.

Steel Is 3 1/2% of Cost of Refrigerator
Less than 3 1/2 per cent of the sales price of a $220 electric refrigerator represents the cost of the nearly 200 pounds of steel used in its construction.

Steel Rubbish Cans Mean Fire Safety
In a recent test, a fire lighted in a steel rubbish can rose only two feet above the top while flames from the same type of fire in a wooden barrel jumped nine feet.

700 Steel Wires Thru the Eye of a Needle
A steel company employee threaded 700 steel hair spring wires, each less than one-thousandth of an inch in diameter, through the eye of a small needle.

really are taking out. They certainly don't use this ocean much. We've traveled about 100 miles along where we can see the horizon, and haven't seen a sign of a ship until now, and it looks like a fishing boat or a coast guard cutter and is so far out on the horizon you can't see much of it.

Well, we then got to W. Palm Beach, and then Palm Beach, and took a shore route down to Ft. Lauderdale. Millionaires homes, big shots, and of all the pretty things, they are between these places, and are climaxed in Fort Lauderdale. The swank of California and Texas coast resorts can't hold a light to these. You can't describe them, so we won't try either, except to say, colors are predominant, and white, too, if that's a color. The "developments" have one street for automobiles, and one back of this, wet, for boats. They've got the new corner windows, tile roofs, and everything else modern. Trailers, and trailer camps are everywhere. Station wagons and Fords get a great play. Sun glasses, and towell material beach robes are plenty good, and still the convicts work the highways.

We are on the last stretch to Miami, and off hand, we have an idea we haven't seen anything yet. We'll be here the rest of the day and night, and will then start down hill, and what we mean is we'll start home.

The country down here, is flat. Flat, just like it is in South Texas below San Antonio. The way they close up down here, and take out, is, they just board up the windows, lock the doors and drive off and leave it. Many of the tourist camps and other things are locked up now, and there'll be lots others that will be locking up soon. Real estate dealers are still busy, and building is going on here still.

Didn't get to finish yesterday morning, on account of "boy trouble," and too, we got into Miami. We drove thru the town and out to Miami Beach, taking in everything, and then found a nice camp, rested and unpacked some of the junk and then, rode around the town.

Miami Beach is the rich man's paradise, that is, hotels, night clubs, expensive joints of all kinds and Lincoln Road. We did that too, and all the New York style shops have shops here. They need them for the Jews that come down from New York. Most of these tourists or gunin's that come south are Jews. They don't know anything but these joints and far be it from these shop owners not to give them what they want. Miami Beach is across a lagoon from Miami, and they have real estate developments fixed up with one street for automobiles and the next for boats. Boats of all descriptions and sizes are tied up there, as well as automobiles. Swanky used car lots are everywhere, the hottest one we saw, however, was in Jacksonville, and is all lit up with the new tube lighting and with the cars all shined fit to kill, they really put on a good front.

It seems, that's the main thing in a resort town, to put on a front, and be just as swanky as possible.

We were not able to put on the swank, altho we didn't feel out of place with the V-8 60. There are plenty of Fords and especial station wagons of all kinds.

Last night, we again went to Miami Beach, and after looking up Bryan Hanks' address in the telephone book, found his home, but it was late, and not being too well acquainted, we didn't "call". He lives on one of the "island developments" and in a home which we have been told cost $85,000, and from the location, the home, and the neighbors, we don't doubt it. It has everything, probably but the "home" atmosphere in homes like we have in Gatesville, but maybe it has, too. Anyway, it was a grand home. He's "Counsel" as we understand it, for the Florida Power & Light Company, which is no small job, and probably rates a home like that.

But enough for that. Just imagine the swankiest hotels you've seen in any city, and we mean, any city, and then add one hundred percent, and you'll just about have the Miami Beach hotel situation. Neo lights, corner windows large lobbies, with marble sides steps, banisters around the outside "front porches", windows 20 to 50 feet high, and every other thing you can think of to include toniness. Our guess would be there are 250 of these ultra modern hotels in Miami Beach alone, and that don't take in any second raters, or thirds, either. Even these, tho small, still carry out this "umps". Rates at these places were not so bad, and we got folders on some of the nice ones giving "summer rates" at $1.00 per person with free parking and breakfast, a day. Others range to $1.50 and up. Of course, all these rates are doubled and sometimes tripped during the winter when the "gyp" season is on. Many of the larger hotels operate about 4 months in the year, and everyday more of them are closing. This being between seasons, things are not so good, they say, but summer tourists from Virginia, Alabama, Mississippi, North and South Carolina and Georgia keep the Miami pretty full during the summer. It's beginning to get too hot down here for the eastern sun worshipers, and they're already brown as Mexicans and I think that's what they came here for anyhow. Some of the women are so blackish-brown, and their lips are painted, but you have to look close to see this paint, on account of the "dark meat".

Probably the best little town in the section to spend a little while, reasonable, and have just about the same as in the "big shot" places, would be Ft. Lauderdale, which is a grand little town, and there are plenty of everything there, if you want them. They have the canals or lagoons, beaches, highways and everything, including nice hotels and everything.

There are two routes down the coast, one of them, most of the time, is a view of the Atlantic, and the other some of the time. We took 140 (ocean view) down and U. S. 1, the other, back. However, in this swamp land, there is always plenty of water. Going down the ocean was rather rough and the wind fairly high, but this morning it was especially beautiful with very little, if any breeze, and it was almost dead calm. The clear water, light green had not been muddied up, and with the clouds making shadows it was beautiful to watch.

Well, I'll have to stop now, and mail this, so the "Boys" and Annie can make the "dead line" while we open up Florida's only traveling closeline.
