Miss Frankie Mae Blair, one of the riders in the mounted "quadrille" which is playing the Bear Club Rodeo in Waco, and making a big hit, was uninjured Wednesday night, when her horse slipped in the wet arena and fell on her. There are 2 more night of the Waco show, and it's a grand show; we saw it.

NORTH EAST WEST SOUTH

A SUMMARY OF WORLD, NATIONAL AND STATE NEWS

EARL HUDDLESTON WRITES ABOUT SOME THINGS WHICH THE PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED

I am sure most of you know that the Legislature passed a Tax Bill which will raise something like Twenty-Three Million Dollars. This bill has been signed by the Governor and has recently gone into effect. I stated in the last article I wrote that I was going to vote for the best proposition we could get through under the circumstances, and I feel after consulting with the Governor, and other officials who are interested in taking care of the Social Security Problem along with our other Institutions, that this will take care of the situation fairly well. Of course, as you know, the last Legislature did not appropriate any extra money to take care of the Social Security Program, so you can see that this Legislature has really accomplished something along this line.

I regret that pensions will have to be cut this month. I have just been down to the Welfare Department and talked to them and they say that it will have to be done. The House passed a bill which provided to borrow over one million dollars so that this cut would be prevented, however, the Senate failed to act on this measure. I think I can say that Senator Karl Lovelady is not to blame because he has tried in every way possible to take care of the Social Security Problem, however, there are thirty one Senators in the Senate, of course, I am not condemning the Senate for this action, but I do feel that this bill should have been passed in the Senate. The Director of the Welfare Department informed me that by June some of the money which will be provided for by Tax Bill No. 8 will be available. I do think pension checks should be raised and I am doing all I can to assist the old people in this matter. He did state that it would take until about September before the program will be working as it should, under the new tax bill.

I am glad to give you these facts from the Welfare Department. I do not have to make any alibi because the records will show that I have voted for everything possible to assist the old people, to take care of the Teacher's Retirement Fund, and the Needy Blind of our State.

I do not know just when the Session will close. The House voted this week to recess in June until July 15th, and then come back into Session. I did not vote to recess the Legislature until July 15th because I feel that the Governor should have a right to call the Legislature back in Session if he sees fit. However, I feel like that whoever the governor is will have the interest of the people at heart and will call a Session of the Legislature if necessary. I have taken this attitude toward every Governor which I have served. I do think however, that before we leave we should attend to all the business that needs to be attended to.

There is some farm Legislation which is not complete at present. There is a bill known as the Cotton Laboratory Bill which I think, should be passed by the Legislature, because I believe this will stimulate the price of cotton and be of great benefit to the people of Texas. This Bill has passed the Senate but has not come to the House as yet, then there is a Constitutional Amendment that would give the Legislature a right to set up a State Land Bank whereby citizens could purchase homes on a long time rate of interest. This amendment has passed the House but has not passed the Senate. I am doing all I can to assist in the passage of this Legislation.

I really feel like this Legislature has accomplished something for the people. I have worked hard to do my part as I promised the people when they elected me, and I appreciate the cooperation of the people of my district, in this matter. I feel like all of us together have really accomplished something worth while.

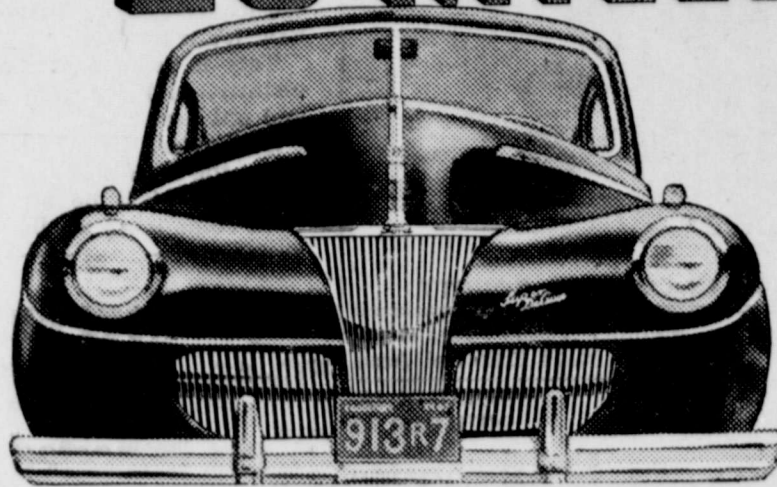

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Culberson for Mother's Day were, Mrs. C. P. Smith and children of Honey Grove, Mrs. Joe Whigham and daughters of Avoca, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler B. Schley and daughter, Jerry, of Kilgore, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Culberson and daughter of Temple.

Miss Evelyn Hensler, instructor in SHSTC at Huntsville was a guest of her father over the week end.

Miss Gladys Marie Phillips, C. H. Wallace Jr., and James Hair, all students at SHSTC in Huntsville, spent the week end with their parents.

★ 29 MILLION!

A record never before approached!

★When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set. 29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world!

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience.

As you read this, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on light-weight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, staff cars and bomb service trucks.

In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work.

The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937.

It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way!

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

Prince Ghul, younger brother of the ruling Khan of the North-west Frontier Province of India, plots an uprising which will drive out the English and leave him ruler of all the Frontier Provinces. To that end he murders his brother, but the twelve-year-old Prince Azim, heir to the throne, escapes and hides in Peshawar. Captain Carruthers of the British garrison there, and his young bride Marjorie, niece of the Governor, win Azim's eternal gratitude by saving him from one of Ghul's spies. Ghul becomes ruler of the Province, and Carruthers, accompanied by Marjorie, is sent by the Governor to the provincial capital at Tokot to establish a British outpost there and try to dissuade Ghul from his war-like plans.

Chapter Four

"We bring great news, Your Highness! Wonderful news from Tokot!" Wafadar and Rajab had burst excitedly into the little hut in Peshawar where they lived with and watched over Prince Azim.

"The tribesmen are gathering in Tokot for the feast of Muharram," they continued. "They are massing for war — preparing to kill all the people of the Residency — Carruthers, his wife, and all the troops."

"But is this good news?" demanded Azim.

"It is good news indeed! Look you — when the people of the Residency have been slain, the English armies will come up to Tokot to avenge them. They will kill Ghul, and give to you your rightful throne."

But Azim, who should have rejoiced, was made wild with alarm and anxiety for his English friends. Captain Carruthers and his wife had saved his life — he could not profit by their death.

"When will the signal for the uprising be given," he asked.

"On the fifth day of the feast of Muharram — seven days from today."

Without another word, Azim ran out the door and sped away. He ran to the barracks, sought out his good friend, drummer-boy Bill Holder, poured out his tale of an imminent native uprising, and asked to be taken to the Governor. But all Bill could do was to take him to the sergeant. From sergeant to the Captain, from the Captain to the Colonel, from the Colonel to the Governor progressed Azim, each time telling a story which they half believed, half scoffed at. How could such a little boy know so much about big affairs?

"I know you want to save Mrs. Carruthers," said the Governor kindly. "She is very dear to me too. But I can't send an expensive expedition on the long march to Tokot just on your unsupported word. Stay in the barracks over night, and we'll see if we can get confirmation."

But the boy leaped through a window, jumped on an army horse that was tethered outside, and dashed away toward Tokot. And scarcely half an hour later the truth of his story was confirmed by an army secret service man, who burst into the Governor's office with the news that the Tokot garrison were to be murdered on the fifth day of Muharram. Within a few minutes an expeditionary force was being formed to march over the mountains to Tokot.

It was an ideal day for the polo match at the Residency, and Ghul, a splendid rider, decided to play on the native team himself. As one of the members of his team he brought Muhammad Khan, Carruthers' old schoolmate, who had refused to join Ghul in his uprising. It was Ghul's surest way of keeping Muhammad from Carruthers' ears.

The English won the hard-fought match, receiving many compliments from Ghul on their skill. But as Ghul and his men were leaving to return to the Palace, Muhammad managed to whisper to Carruthers:

"I must tell you something. Meet me at the watergate...midnight."

Carruthers, deeply concerned over the obviously serious import of this message, waited anxiously for the hour of the meeting, then armed himself, and accompanied by an officer went out to the watergate. The night was moonless, the shadows pitch black. He looked about uncertainly, then suddenly spotted a white form standing in a nook in the wall by the gate.

"Muhammad Khan!" called Carruthers softly. The figure stepped out into the open and spoke.

"You were expecting Muhammad Khan, I believe?"

Carruthers pulled out his flashlight and threw its beam on the man's face. It was Ghul!

A lot of people guess at the value of their property in buying insurance. Building costs change. Depreciation should be figured somewhere near right. Improvements may have been made. Insurance ought to fit like a glove . . . not like Mahatma Ghandi's sarong.

UNCLE JAKE SEZ

Copyright 1927 by
Oswin K. King

They wudn't be so miny men broke t'day if th' girl had broke th' engagemint 'fore be married ber.

It's nature fer wimmen t' love. If they can't git th' kind o' dog they want they'll love a man.

WELL, SIR, I is kinda feelin' sorry like fer th' high school football players. Th' Southwest coaches met in Austin an' formed a agreemint regardin' salary an' wurkin' hours fer th' athlete frum here on an' it 'peers th' boys is goin' t' have t' give up silk underwear, ten-cent seegars an' convertible coupes.

No more bringin' high school players t' th' college campus an' buyin' 'em nue suits o' clothes etc. An' once they do enter th' college all th' pay they'll git is tuishun, room, board an' laundry. Their pay fer campus jobs will also be jist th' same as th' ordinary run o' students.

This aeshun was taken by th' coaches as a agreemint o' honor. Th' fellers decided t' trust each other: an' talk each other's wurd fer what's goin' on at their schools. They figgered it was better t' do this then have th' conference appoint a czar or policeman as they has done in other parts o' th' U. S.

This move by th' coaches is a fine thing but they'll still be ex-students on th' outside. 'hat'll see that high school football stars will git t' their almie mater if th' colleges wants 'em. No rule kin stop innybuddy frum givin' a boy a summer job at enuff salary t' guarantee him havin' eruff spindin' money durin' th' fall an' winter.

Even with a former G-man as czar th' Pacific Coast Conference had t' rule five Texas high school stars ineligible t' play at Stanford University 'cause a Stanford alumnus in Oklahommie contacted 'em. Th' boys air Hans Neumann o' Port Arthur; Jack White o' Paris; Myrle Greathouse an' Otto Payne o' Amarillo an' Bentley Jones o' Cleburne. Th' boys ain't t' blame. They answered a letter an' got a catalog an' sum forms t' fill out.

Th' fact remains that if they hadn't bin all-state p'ayers last year they wudn't o' got a letter in th' first place. I ain't in favor o' bringin' good, honest country boys t' th' big towns an' practically ruinin' 'em fer life. Th' eddycashun they git I don't think hurts 'em very much but as football stars they git used t' a easy life what maiks 'em lazy an' no account fer farm wurk.

I has seen sum fine young fellers cum int' big college towns t' play football an' in two years they was completely changed. Whin they cum t' town they didn't know ya cud git inn'ything in a restaurant 'cept ham an' eggs an' chill. After six months they'd turn up their nose on inn'ything 'cept a big thick steak with mushrooms an' fancy fried taters.

Sum o' 'em what never owned mor'n one pair o' drawers at one time in their life wud git real mad like after beln' at college a veer if they didn't have a pair o' silk p'ammies fer each night in th' week. They also git fancy pants an' wear pinch-back suits with them Hollywood collar shirts an' carry two handkerchiefs—one in their upper coat pocket as a spare.

After four veers o' that kinda stuff do ya think a farm boy is goin' t' be satisfied back on th' farm with turnip greens an' sow belly, one night shirt, a rick-up truck t' ride in an' one handkerchief—a red bandanner? Sum is but th' majoritv ain't, so they cum back t' town an' git a job drivin' a milk wagon.

Don't think I is agin boys gittin' way frum th' hard wurk on farms. No sir, if they kin git a eddycashun an' use it fer better jobs an' a easer life I is fer 'em. Rut, a fraternity pin an' a football sweater ain't no help in plowin' a straight furrow.

So, after all, I figger th' coaches with their nue rules will help th' high school boys what cum t' colleges t' play football. Th' nue rules will at least keep 'em frum fergittin' all t'gether what wurk is like.

An', 'nother thing. Mebbe so by cuttin' down th' pay o' th' football players th' colleges kin reduce th' price o' admishun t' th' college gaims.

But, I don't think they wanta bring that up.

The Blackfoot Indians and the Ireland Cardinals will open the second round of play in the county league Sunday when the two teams meet on the Indian diamond. The Indians licked the Cards in their first meeting this season, but the Cards have a much improved team since then, as they defeated the Pidcoke Cokers 7 to 1 after losing to the Indians.

The other contest of the day will take place at Pearl where the Dragons take on the Pidcoke Cokers, the latter who is now in the cellar. The Dragons are in third place with a 500 percent average.

The Copperas Cove nine made good in their appearance in the county league last Sunday when they defeated the Cokers at Pid-

THE FOOD STAMP

THE BRIDGE BETWEEN THE NATIONS OVER PRODUCTION AND UNDER CONSUMPTION

"What is the Food Stamp?"—That's what most people will ask you first. You can answer this by saying that it is a plan devised by the government to do what some of their other agencies has failed to accomplish. The primary purpose, you might say is to take the surplus commodities and distribute them in a manner so as to help as many people as possible. First it will help those people that need a little assistance and do so in such a manner that will remove the nation's surplus foods and in consequence raise the Dirt Farmer's income. This should prove to be the Government's most perfected agency.

Last Thursday night approximately one hundred Retail and Wholesale Grocermen met in the District Court Room to discuss "The Food Stamp Plan".

The meeting opened with a short explanatory talk by an official from the Food Stamp Regional Office, who discussed in detail the proposed plan.

Mr. Kidd, another official then went a little further and showed the bulletin cards that will be used in every grocery store that uses this plan going still further he told of violations that might arise in the handling of the stamps, and how to cope with them.

A committee of local and county

CHIEF ADMINISTRATOR

Milo Perkins

grocermen had been previously picked was introduced by its chairman, Mr. Lewis Thomson. They are: Mr. Thomson, chairman, Mr. Jap Laird, secretary, Bill Huggins, Jim McClellan, Tom Rucker, Joe B. Walker, Oran Clawson and Harry King. You'll notice these men were picked from localities scattered throughout the county and will act as a permanent aid in introducing this plan to the people and will also aid in ironing out any wrinkles that might arise later on.

CONGRESSMAN POAGE WAS GREAT HELP IN GETTING FOOD STAMP

The honorable W. R. "Bob" Poage who is representing this eleventh Congressional District in Washington, D. C. was one of the main causes for Coryell County to secure this Food Stamp Plan.

It is very fortunate indeed that we have a man of this caliber working for us because he usually knows a good thing when he sees it, and always works unceasingly for everything that might benefit the people he is representing.

As If You Were Paying Cash!

JOE B. WALKER, Mgr.

The House has devoted most of the past week to the passage of a bill which authorizes the United States Government to take over any ships that we need that can be found in our harbors. There are a large number of ships—especially Italian ships—that have been in American harbors for a long time. We have not detained these ships. They were at liberty to go anywhere they cared to, but in most instances they were afraid that they would be captured by the British if they ventured out of American ports. They have, therefore, remained in our harbors. The Danish Government is completely controlled by Hitler, and the British have announced that they would consider Danish ships as enemies, and this country has tied up their ships along with other assets of all the conquered countries to keep them from falling in the hands of their Axis conquerors.

We have never desired to take anything from anybody without paying for it, and the bill recently passed expressly provided full payment for all ships taken over by the American Government. Before we authorized the taking of these ships the Italian and German crews began to destroy their own vessels. In many instances they had completely wrecked the machinery before they were discovered at this work. Such action not only destroyed the usefulness of the ships but made them become active menaces to navigation in our harbors. It was a violation of both American and International law. Of course the crews guilty of this sabotage were taken into custody, but that leaves the ships in our harbors taking up needed room.

Our Government needs ships. It is building ships and buying ships from anyone who has them to sell. Many of these ships will require much repair to make them serviceable, but I can see no reason why we should not use them. We have the unquestioned right to take any property (ship or anything else) belonging to our own citizens when the Government needs it. I can not believe that the Government has a right to take the property of American citizens and at the same time does not have the right to take the property of aliens that happen to be in this country when we need it. Of course, I recognize the duty of the Government to pay for all property taken. In case property is taken from American citizens, the Government of course pays in American money, but if the citizen owes the Government, the General Accounting Office will offset the citizen's debt against any payment. So, in the case of the German and Italian ships. These two nations owe the United States vast sums of money—nearly $4,000,000,000.00. Neither Germany nor Italy has paid anything on their debt for years. This bill provides that the value of these ships shall be credited against the sums these nations owe the United States, and that the private owners shall settle with their own governments.

It was therefore hard for me to follow the reasoning of the great majority of the Republicans and those Democratic appeasers who voted against taking those ships. I voted for the bill, which passed the House by about a two-to-one majority. The time has passed when we should allow anything to stand in the way of our defense—certainly we should not let the Germans and Italians who sought to destroy those ships and block our harbors keep us from using the vessels. Neither should we allow either labor or capital at home to sabotage our efforts. To this end, the House this week passed a bill authorizing the Army and Navy to establish priorities so that every factory in this land would be compelled to furnish our military forces the things they need before selling their products in the regular course of trade. Of course, this only applies where there is a shortage of a certain article like aluminum.

Just this afternoon the House has passed a bill known as the Defense Housing Bill. Actually, its chief purpose is to provide aid to the local schools in communities where defense works have created a situation which makes it impossible for these schools to properly function without help. This bill is, but another illustration of the far reaching effects of our defense economy on even local institutions all over the nation. These effects are bound to become more and more evident as time goes on. In many cases, there will be readjustments that will be painful, but I know that the American people will make any sacrifices needed to assure the continuation of our Democratic way of life. And I know that they will agree that we can not make a real "All Out" defense effort and continue to do "business as usual".

Mrs. P. H. Permenter, cors

The weather is fair. We have had plenty of rain for a while; the weeds and grass are taking the gardens and fields.

The Mother's Day program was put off until the third Sunday on account of rain Sunday.

Mrs. Kate Permenter had her granddaughters, Mrs. Zelma Dyer, and husband and two sons of Navasota come Saturday afternoon and stay until Monday morning; Mrs. Alfreda Dayton and daughter, Bettie Maud, and Mr. and Mrs. Edd C. Moody and Bill Moody of Fort Worth came Saturday afternoon and returned back home Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Mat Rogers had some of her children, Mr. and Mrs. John Rogefs and son, J. L., and his friend of Fort Worth. Mrs. Ethel Rogers and son all took Mother's Day dinner with Mrs. Permenter and Mrs. Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Anderson spent Monday with Mrs. Mat Rogers, Mrs. Anderson's mother. Mrs. Anderson came in home Saturday morning from a ten days' visit with her two sons and families, Travis and Ersel, in Bay City. While there they went to Port Arthur to visit her sisters, Mrs. Zula Russel and Mrs. Lora Kelley, and reported having had a fine time.

Mrs. Bertha Huckabee had most of her children with her Mother's Day, Ermany and family and one of the boys of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Boss Anderson had their two daughters, Edith Cox and Syble Jones last week. They returned Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nealy Rogers and Mrs. Permenter were in Gatesville Friday afternoon on business. While there they called in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Rogers.

Mrs. S. A. Dickie is improving, and we hope she will soon be all right, able to be out and around again.

Mrs. Jocie Dutton is still very ill. She has a Miss Catherine Herring staying with her now.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Miles and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miles went to Brownwood Sunday to visit W. C.'s daughter, Grace, and had a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Dyer called on Mr. and Mrs. Tom Campbell, Mrs. Dyer's aunt, and Mrs. Permenter accompanied them.

The last report Mr. Bailey Timmons was still very ill, but we hope he will soon be up.

"Snow" in May is hard to believe. Last night, you could blow your breath and it would steam. Some change from "mesquito Louisiana" to "cool Maine". The cool weather sure goes good. This is really a good climate and I should gain some weight.

They met us at Rockland last night and brought us here by motor launch, and it really felt good riding the waves at a fast rate. Just like a horse in a trot, only a lot smoother. They have a bunch of row boats and about 5 motor launches here. About all they do here is rescue work and lighthouse, bell bouy and light beacon up keep. There are only 19 men here counting our five that came last night. That is counting officers and all, so you see there is not much military etiquette around here.

We dug some clams—look like those Leon Muscles only a lot bigger. We caught some lobsters too. They look like crawfish, and their pinchers were about two inches long and eighteen inches apart. They say they can cut a finger in two with these pinchers.

We went boat riding too. The launch goes ashore everyday to get the mail. It is 7:20 here, now, and 5:20 there. We are in daylight saving time here. We are about 200 miles north east of Portland, and 20 south of Rockland. So you see I am quite a way from home, about 2800 miles, or about 60 hours by the fastest train.

Oh, yes, we really got a fast train from Washington, D. C. to Boston. It averaged 85 miles an hour. It was streamlined, electric.

It took us about an hour and one-half to go "under New York City" We stopped there five minutes, and didn't get to see any of it. We went under it all the way, and via the Grand Central Station. We saw the Brooklyn Bridge. It is really some bridge. I guess I had better close and write me soon and tell me all the news.

Love to all,
"Hoots"

"WITH THE COLORS"

Here's an interesting letter from M. R. Derrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Derrick of Turnersville who is in the U.S. Coast Guard and is now located at Spruce Head, Maine.

Wed. Eve, 7:00
May 7, 1941

Helow Everybody:

How are you all? I am O.K. I really like this place. We got here last night about 11:30. This place is at Spruce Head, a town about the size of Turnersville or Jonesboro. The station I am at is on an island about 2 miles from shore. It is White Head Station. This island is about 3 miles long and two 1-2 half wide. It is covered with spruce trees. There is a bay between here and the shore on the north. On the south is the Atlantic. It is really breaking on the rocks around the island now. You have heard of the waves and the white caps and foam of the ocean, well, don't mind believing it, for it's the truth. The water was calm this morning and it was really clear and pretty. The tide went out today, and left the water line about 10 feet lower than it was. About two hours later it came back in and rose the ten feet back to normal. It really is funny. It is hard to believe, but it is the truth.

It's really cool here. We got here last night and almost froze. We put on our overcoats and it was still cold. Everybody still wears overcoats here. We found several piles of snow on the island today.

Our community was saddened by the news from Glen Rose of the death of Mr. Linton, who used to live near Hurst. He leaves a host of friends and relatives who mourn his death. In the Educational displays showing how to do one thing well will be made, including wool covers, feather comforters, tomato juice canning, etc. One exhibit will be shown from each club.

In Canning the list is one quart of each of these: tomatoes, english peas, snap green beans, pickled beets, pickled cucumbers, carrots, peaches, berries, plums, pineapple, pears, and grape juice. One pint of these: fig, pear or peach preserves.

In the Hobby Show, this may be any receipt collection, wood craft objects, scrap books, what-not collections, fancy work, or other hobbies of interest. No judging will be in this division.

Awards will be given to each club entering all three divisions, and three prizes will be given in the first two divisions each.

Local Minister To Attend General Assembly in N.C.

Edward S. Bayless, local Presbyterian minister, will leave Monday for Montreat, North Carolina, to attend the annual meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States which convenes Thursday.

The General Assembly is the highest in a series, or graduation, of "courts" in the Presbyterian system of church government. The Session is the governing body of the local church; Presbytery is composed of the several churches in a geographical unit; Synod is made up of a number of Presbyteries, usually comprising a state; and the General Assembly is the unifying group made up of all seventeen Synods.

General Assembly is made up of commissioners, elected on the basis of church membership, by the various Presbyteries. Central Texas Presbytery, of which the Coryell County churches are members, is represented by four commissioners; two ministers and two Ruling Elders.

All matters pertaining to the plans, program, policy, and government of the Church come before this body. Of special interest this year due to world conditions will be the reports of the Foreign Mission Committee. Pertinent also will be the report and General Assembly's action on, the Committee on Co-operation and Union, a group appointed to study plans and possibilities of union with the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. (northern).

The Assembly will sit approximately one week. Dr. T. W. Currie of Austin is the other minister-commissioner from Central Texas Presbytery.
