FIFTEENTH STREET IS "PUT OUT" WAS ON FIRE: GRASS

North Fifteenth street is out! Firemen put it out at 11:40 yesterday. It was afire.
It's one of Gatesville's dead end streets that runs just east of North 14th from East Main street to East Saunders and that is all. South 15th's an alley until it gets to Bridge Street then it turns out to be Andrews Street.
Well, city unplanning makes things like that. And grass, right now, is causing the fires. Better watch out. North 15th isn't the only street that could have grass, either.

Earl Worley and Wade Sadler attended the Marlin-Franklin football game in Marlin, Friday night.

See's First Gin: No, Cotton Gin; In Coryell County

A man was in Coryell county and Gatesville this past week, who hadn't seen a gin, the cotton kind.

He had his camera and was taking pictures inside and out and was very interested in watching it work.

The name was S. E. Bostwick.

Mr. Bostwick is an executive of the Gillette Tire and Rubber Company of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, and has just moved to Fort Worth.

"PIPE THIS ONE", IT'S NOT A "PIPE DREAM" THO IT'S ABOUT PIPES

Yes, and this is the same Arnold Pipes, the Snake Killer. This is No. 47.

Mr. Pipes gives us the low down with statistics that would do a government expert to shame. Date killed: Wednesday; Weight, 8 lbs., Circumference, 11 inches; Length 6 feet; Length when coiled, 13"; Rattlers 13, and a button, and the rattlers were biguns.

Wake up, Adolf, Arnold's out in front.

DEPENDENT CHILDREN PROGRAM TO ACCEPT APPLICATIONS

The State Department of Public Welfare announced today that it would start accepting applications for aid to dependent children at its local offices thruout the state, beginning Friday, Sept. 19.

Parents or relatives of dependent children should call at the local office in the county in which they reside and talk with the worker who will be prepared to explain the eligibility requirements and assist in filing the application. Children do not have to be brought to the office.

Beneficiaries must be citizens, lived in Texas one year, under 14, deprived of parental support or care, from one of these causes (a) death of a parent, (b) continued absence from home on the part of a parent, (c) physical or mental incapacity of a parent.

Must be living with a relative; must be in need.

$3,000,000 is provided annually for this.

Two School Busses Get Okeh: 35 Others Have Minor Defects

G. W. Modisette and Edwin Majors, State Highway Patrolmen examined Coryell county's school busses here Thursday of last week, and gave a "clean bill of health" to only two out of thirty-five they examined.

Doctors Modisette and Majors found the following complaints on some of them: no chauffeur's licenses, bad tires, no hand rails, no cushions, no signs, short tail pipes, no fire extinguishers, emergency doors in bad condition, or none, and a few more complaints.

Probably the worst complaint was no license plates, and, ladies and gentlemen, these are free.

Regardless of what seems bad about it, the 'doctors' said the tires were in unusually good condition, when compared to others they'd examined in the state.

Charts or records were made, and according to the County Superintendent's office, everything has to be done (repaired) and all the examiner's complaints complied with before bus transportation will be paid. Looks like the garage men will get a break here, and there were some bad brakes.

MRS. RUSSELL DAVIS IS NEW EMPLOYEE AT ETHMA BEAUTY SHOP

Mrs. Russell Davis has accepted a position at the Ethma Beauty Shop and assumed her duties there Monday morning. She was formerly employed at the Liberty Beauty Shop in Waco.

Mrs. Davis, an experienced beauty operator, invites all her friends to visit her at this place of business.

36th DIVISION REUNION IN FT. WORTH TO BE OCTOBER 4 AND 5TH

Veterans of the "last one" will be glad to know that in Fort Worth on October 4th and 5th there'll be the annual reunion of the 36th Division, of which a good many from Coryell county were members.

Saturday will be registration, get together assembly, buffet lunch and annual Banquet and Dance.

Sunday, Memorial services and annual business meeting will be held in the Municipal Auditorium.

Of course, the ladies auxiliaries will meet too.

Population to Drop Again: Four More Boys Leave 30th

The trend of population is not back to the farm; it is to the cities and large centers.

Some of these centers right now are training centers, and the next "loss and their gain" will be four Coryell County Boys who will answer Uncle Sam's September 30th call.

They are Marvin Lee Jones, Elbert Lonny Bradley, Ezra James Richardson and Benton Price.

And that ain't all. Uncle Sam is going to reach down and take 9 more on October 14. With the high cost of clothing and food, right now, this looks like a pretty good deal, so much a month, clothing, room and board, and medical-dental attention.

Hooray! Tax Rate Still $1.50: New Trustee: Grader

That's good news, the City Tax Rate, according to City Secretary Eiland Lovejoy will remain the same for next year. Now, you can figure on your county and state, and income taxes, and see how much you'll have to get together.

Dr. Clyde Bailey too, Monday night was named to the School Board, replacing the late Edgar Franks.

And, three, the city's bought a new "cat", no not what you think, but a caterpillar grader, for about $1800. The defense program is armyzing most of these, so the city bought a second hand one, and was lucky to get it.

W.P.A. RECREATION CENTERS REOPEN ON REGULAR SCHEDULE

For the past two weeks, leaders have been taking a course of instruction in the WPA Recreation Program, and the "centers" have been closed.

Both will be open again, afternoons and evenings only: 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. each day, and on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings 7 to 10 p. m. The evening program is for adults only, and October 6 the program will operate morning and afternoon.

AUCTION NOW RUNS TUESDAY AND AGAIN ON SATURDAYS

Stock's moving, and it now takes more than one auction a week to do it.

So, to solve this mystery, Luther Scott Auction Pens hold a sale each Saturday afternoon, so if you missed selling or buying yours on Tuesday, you can get 'em or dispose of 'em on Saturday.

Always, too, there is plenty in the meat line to buy and sell, and plenty of sellers and buyers.

Chapter One

Ricky Morgan was bad. You didn't have to be a strict moralist to decide that. But he wasn't vicious. There was something about Ricky's blonde good looks, his clear eyes and the smile that played about his scraggly mustache that convinced you of that.

Ricky had fallen victim to the easy moralizing of post-war youth. Fresh out of school and with a bleak world staring him in the face, he chose the easiest way to make money — bootlegging.

The adventure appealed to him, too, and now he found himself in some sheltered cove, helping to unload a weighted down vessel. He tossed the bags up from the hold, while big, stupid Chuck lumbered off with the wet-goods to the cafe where they were sheltered. Jim Dial, their partner, was collecting for the delivery in a house behind the shed.

Ricky completed his work, and went in to see Jim, who was alone now. "Have a drink, Ricky." Jim invited him. While he drank, Jim examined him with a curious intentness from under his bushy brow. The money, in crisp new bills, was stacked in three equal piles on a

Ricky. "Give it to me. I'm on my own now." Jim held him off with a bulky arm. "Not while I hold this little keepsake, sweetheart," was his ominous answer. "I've got a five-year plan . . ."

Ricky had no choice but to string along with Jim. The latter planned boldly, shrewdly and Ricky carried out his daring thefts with aplomb. On the day that marked the end of their five years, Ricky executed the master coup of their criminal career, holding up an airplane full of passengers and descending by parachute to meet his accomplices below.

Safe in their hotel hideaway, Ricky asked Jim to keep his part of the promise, to return the ring. Jim demurred, Ricky shouted, "You've held it over my head long enough. I'm through."

"Ricky, don't be a chump. I've always played square," Jim spoke. But Ricky paid no attention to him, went searching for his coat. Jim followed him to the door, arguing, started to take his coat from him. Then with a swift, unexpected motion he caught Ricky under the jaw and felled him.

In a minute, Jim had gathered their loot into a bag. He stopped at the door to grin down at Ricky with unconcealed malice. "Thought you'd fool the old maestro, eh?" he table before him. At last he spoke.

"Three is an odd number," he said. "Two's company, three's a crowd. Chuck makes a crowd." His last words were drawn out with a peculiar significance.

Ricky smiled. "Uh-uh, no likum double cross," was his answer as he sauntered out.

Three minutes later she had occasion to remember Jim's insinuation as he felt a bottle bump off his shoulder and whirled in time to meet Chuck's blind attack.

Ricky knew who had put the big ox up to his treason, but he had no choice but to meet the onslaught with a stinging rain of punches. A right caught Chuck under the chin and he crumpled. Then Ricky turned on Jim. "You crossed me, Dial. I'll . . ."

Jim was all ready with his bland excuse. "He must have heard us and got in first," he spoke. Ricky was bending over Chuck, and with a pounding shock he saw that the man was not breathing.

"Chuck! Chuck!" he cried. Jim came to his side. After a moment's examination he turned to Ricky and spoke. "You're in a tough spot, Ricky. He's dead. Your ring did it. Here let me see it." He took the ring from Ricky's finger and pointed to the cameo, broken across now with one-half missing. That half was presumably in Chuck's jaw.

There was a low mechanical wall in the bay, and in an instant, the searchlight of a police boat swung around and pointed toward him. Jim pushed Ricky ahead as they raced for the shelter of the cafe. There was a hastily whispered conference with the manager, and Jim donned an apron and proceeded to act as if he were a waiter. Ricky seized a violin and fell in with the two-man orchestra.

The puzzled police did not stay long, and when they were gone, Ricky raced off to find Jim. He was in the back-room of the cafe examining the ring with a look of cunning on his face. "Looks as though your lucky ring has gone back on you," he ventured.

"What do you want it for?" spoke and slammed the door. He paused in the lobby just long enough to phone the police. "If you're looking for the man who committed that airplane robbery," he began.

Ricky regained consciousness to hear them pounding on the door. And, just as he swayed to his feet, the door began to crack. He knew it was the police, and he knew who had sent them.

With a swift motion he pulled open the windows leading to the balcony. There was a forty foot jump to safety. With one backward glance for his pursuers, he sailed off into space and landed safely, agilely to rise and sprint off like a cat.

Ricky roamed the world and picked up a living with criminal skill. He came to London and while he stood on a corner one afternoon a Rolls Royce hurried by and splashed him. He glanced with annoyance at the occupants, a man and a woman. He could never guess that he was fated to fall in love with that woman.

She was Glory Howard, irresistibly lovely and totally unscrupulous. The man was a peer and her current fiancé. They were bound for Monte Carlo where she would finish the systematic ruin that she had begun on him.

Over the chemin a fer tables she would squander his last remaining pounds, while a bland, smiling scoundrel, who called himself "Colonel Fane", won them. Ricky would have recognized the colonel as Jim Dial. But Glory, impressed by his good manners, decided that he was fair game. She murmured a few words about a ring he was wearing—one with a broken cameo. And he proffered it to her with all the gallantry of which he was capable.

At that moment Glory's fiancé had just shot himself dead in the office of the syndicate. He had been threatened with arrest unless he made good for the worthless checks.

SCOTT'S FUNERAL HOME

SPORT SCRAPS

By JONES

There's going to be a ball game here Friday night. Get your girl, a flower, a ticket, and see the Hornets' opener with Coach Butter Lauder milk's Rockdale Club.

With a lot of "if" the GHS club will suit up and see if they can suit you. When the girl, or boy, comes around to sell you a season ticket, don't say no, Get out the dough.

Rehashing for the down-town quarterbacks, here's what's happened last week end: West 7, Waco Kittens 0; La Vega 39, Whitney 9; Rockdale 12, Caldwell 6; Clifton 0, Lorena 0; Moody 20, State Home 6; Marlin 19, Franklin 0; Valley Mills 0, Hearne 34; Hamilton 37, M. E. Home 0.

That makes it look tough in some sections, and a push-over in others. But for the '41 edition of the Hornets, there won't be any pushovers . . . ?

Well, that remains to be seen. Coach Pruitt is roughing off the kinks, and they're going to look like something yet, if he keeps on this roughing process. Right now, they look about 100 per cent better than two weeks ago. You ought to see 'em.

Yet, there's no certainty about any positions, and ALL the boys still have something to scrap for, and, that'll be the same up until the last game of the season. Hit the dirt, Buddy.

College and University boys haven't taken anything but scrimmage yet, with the exception of SHSTC 51, and Lamar Jr. College 6, Temple Junior College 62, Mexia Junior College 0.

In big time High School Wonderful Waco edged out Forrest of Dallas, 12-6. Jinx says it was a walkover, as usual. Milby (Houston) 0, Port Arthur 0, Hillsboro 14, Denton 6, Ennis-Corsicana 6-6; Fort Worth Polly 6, Bryan 14.

Those Junior Hi Hornets, we've never gotten away from the shop early enough to see them work. They start every 8 ayem, and work til 10. Keep going, boys. We'll see you yet, if that makes any difference, and, we hope it does. Coach White, you got a schedule?

Six-man may be started, so far, we've no dope, and we'd like to get it on a post card or letter from the HOME coach after each game. We can't make 'em all, you know. The '41 season opens October 3, with Pearl at Lometa; Turnersville at Copperas Cove; Flat at Pottsville, Oglesby at Ireland.

We've got some "state sports-writer" dope on SW Conference teams, but haven't had time to look it over, and too, our guess is just as likely to be good as anybody's. You know football, by now.

Watch for the Season Ticketers, and buy, and, don't ask me why?

IN OUR

Gatesville, Texas
Sept. 18, 1941

"Coryell County News, Gatesville, Texas Dear E:

"We have lived in Gatesville for the past 18 or 20 years and have enjoyed the association of the best type neighbors during that time. We have deemed Gatesville as the ideal town in which to live and rear our children, feeling that all Gatesville people were the friends of our children and the children of their other fellow citizens.

"It has only come to our notice recently that there are enemies of our children and yours within the city limits. People without the milk of human kindness within their souls and who are actually going to expense and trouble to injure and effect the entire lives of these little boys and girls. We are speaking of the meanest man in Gatesville or any man's town, the poisoner of childrne's pets dogs. This thing has been going on for about six weeks in the neighborhood of the writer.

"Within this time we have seen the bodies of six pet dogs which have died at the hands of this poisoner, and have heard of several other children who have also lost their pets in the same manner.

"Only this morning we experienced the sorrowful sight of having two little neighbor boys come into our yard hunting for their pet which had failed to come for his breakfast and to have them find it dead in our flower bed. They carried the little dead dog home in their arms bathing it with their tears at every step. These children and others, who have lost their comrades will forever remember the heartache which they felt when they saw their little friend lying at their feet, dead. And, while they will have apparently forgotten for months afterward they will suddenly remember and tears will come anew to their eyes and they will suffer anew for the loss.

"It is the opinion of the writer that if the person who is doing this thing were apprehended he should be forced from our midst, ON A RAIL, and forever be exiled from the ranks of decent people.

"Please publish this in your paper, and we hope that the person who has been poisoning our pets reads it, and if there is a spark of humanity within his being, he will cease his nefarious and cowardly killing of little children's pets.

Sincerely yours,
EVAN J. SMITH"

Note: That's bad business, and them's strong words of Mr. Smith's. We do think, ourselves, there ought to be some other sport this poisoner could find to entertain himself or herself with than poisoning little boys' playmates.

MR. WINSHIP SPEAKS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY

R. N. Winship, Superintendent of the State Training School for Boys, spoke Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour in the First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Winship, who has expressed himself as eager to reclaim the boys committed to this institution for useful American citizens spoke on the program and plans of the school, as well as of its problems.

How to become A SKILLED DRIVER

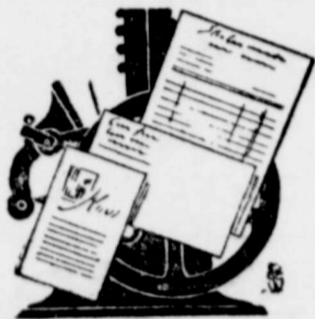

BE A GOOD SPORT

A good driver has to be a good sport. When he notices another car trying to pass him in traffic, he lessens his speed and lets the other fellow in. Why not let him pass? It's evident he is driving faster than you care to. But that's his business, not yours. Safety requires that you give a little.

If the light turns green, you theoretically have the right of way, but don't take it for granted. Maybe that fellow coming up the street has poor brakes. Maybe his eyesight is bad. In any event, make sure he's going to stop.

If a pedestrian decides to cross the street in the flow of traffic, the driver must know how to handle the emergency. To a skilled driver, only one person has the "right of way" and that is the "other fellow." Be a good sportsman.

Is it not unreasonable to expect good grades under such conditions? Give your children and yourself too, the benefit of this wonder light. Every member of your family old and young will get a far greater heap of enjoyment than you can buy for Aladdin's small cost.

"KIPS" SUNK, ADOLF BLAMED: WAR IS ALREADY HERE

"Kips" has been sunk, and Adolf Hitler's Wolves on the North Atlantic did it. Them Nazi bombers, or U-boats.

That's what happened to this English film which was due to show at The Palace Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Now, we don't particularly dislike what Hitler sinks, but when he starts sinking our entertainment, we get right vexed about that, don't you. That's just one of the by-products of war, and then, too, ours, or Hitler's shells can't see films and don't mind at all disposing of them. If they keep sinking our films tho, we're just liable to start a real "shootin' war".

The Palace, tho'll have another, as you'll see when you look at their advertisement in this issue, or have you already looked?

Nine out of every ten women enter this profession before they are 40 years of age. This often undervalued profession is homemaking.

When great-grandmother began homemaking the task of keeping the family going was an all day's job. She baked the bread, did the canning, made the clothes, milked the cows, churned the butter. She had no electrical gadgets to help her sweep, wash and iron.

Today, dozens of the tasks that our great grandmother did are done outside the home. This doesn't mean homemaking is a simpler job than it was a hundred years ago. While science has relieved the homemaker of the tedious tasks, it has greatly increased her responsibilities.

A modern homemaker must study long and hard, just as members of other skilled professions must apply themselves, in order to stay abreast of new scientific discoveries, dealing with child care, meal preparation, food preservation, home management, home care of sick, clothing selection and construction, budgeting and buying. Every girl who intends to be a stenographer, nurse, or teacher realizes that she must have special training. Many believe the knowledge of making a home comes natural. This is not the case in our modern world today.

The schools of our nation do much to prepare boys and girls for successful homemaking. Our high schools offer homemaking courses for boys as well as girls. Students should think seriously of their need for such training and avail themselves of it while they are in high school.

Note: This little girl got this published in an agricultural magazine, the occasion, we do not know.

CABBAGE, BROCCOLI
BRUSSELS SPROUTS

To cook without odor and improve flavor, color and digestibility of the vegetable start in boiling water and leave the kettle uncovered. Do not put a lid on. Wash and cut up on green, loose head of cabbage in quarters with stalk cut out leaving leaves free. Put all leaves in bowl of cold water. Put two pots of water on the stove (one should be an enamel-ware pot) and bring them both to a boil. Now, into the enamel-ware pot put a teaspoon of baking soda, and into this boiling water and soda put the cabbage; let it boil in this for 3 minutes, no longer. Then strain the water off and refill the pot with the fresh boiling water from the other pot or kettle. Add salt, 1 level tablespoon to the quart of water, and allow the cabbage to boil till tender. Then drain all the water off and cut into small pieces with a sharp knife. Serve.

HOMEMAKING

The largest profession in the United States is one that is often overlooked. It is not listed in the United States census reports because those who follow this profession are not paid daily wages.

MR. GUIN INSTALLED AS REGULAR PASTOR IN HAMILTON CHURCH

Mr. Walter Guin, who for three years has served the First Presbyterian Church of Hamilton as student supply, was installed as regular pastor of that church in an impressive ordination service Sunday morning.

Mr. Guin, who has preached in the churches of this county and is known by many in this section, was ordained by a Commission of Central Texas Presbytery, also composed of ministers known to the people of Coryell County. Dr. T. W. Currie of Austin preached the sermon. Rev. J. P. Kidd of Burnet, former superintendent of Home Missions, presided. Ruling Elder Carl L. Moore of Austin delivered the charge to the congregation, and Rev. Edward S. Bayless of Gatesville the charge to the pastor. Ruling Elder E. A. Perry of Hamilton was the fifth member of the Commission.

A Presbyterian minister is ordained to the ministry only after the completion of his academic work, which includes four years of college or university, and three years in an approved theological seminary. Mr. Guin completed his work during this summer.

Want to know HOW...?

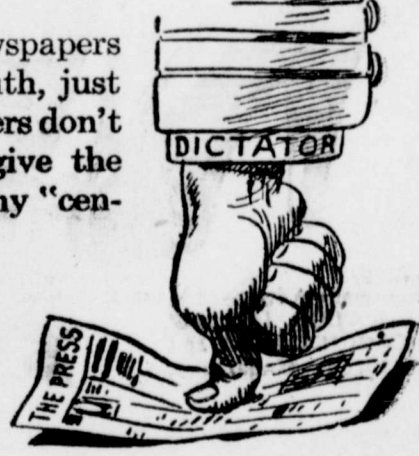

There's a book of instructions on how to be a dictator, in case anybody WANTS to be an international leper. The book is called "Mein Kampf," and Adolph Hitler is the author.

He says that to be a dictator you have to USE PROPAGANDA, and he tells how to use it. He says the important thing is to block out everything but the CENTRAL IDEA in the minds of the masses. He says it doesn't matter whether the central idea is the truth or a lie—if it's told to us often enough, we (the "Masses") believe it.

Most of us think we're a little too smart for that. But whether we are or not, what puts a crimp in his system, as far as this country is concerned, is that he CAN'T block the truth out of people's minds by screaming lies or half truths.

Hitler has a controlled press—newspapers that spread lies or withhold the truth, just as he tells them. American newspapers don't work that way. Their job is to give the people FACTS, not a dictator's phony "central idea."

American newspapers report what our government is DOING, not what some propaganda chief orders them to say. They give us news—facts that make it possible for us to govern ourselves. They give us advertising facts, too, so that we can get the best values for our money.

It wasn't just to fill up space that the founders of this nation guaranteed us a free press in the Bill of Rights. They knew that as long as we have free speech—and a chance to print it—nobody in this country is EVER going to learn to be a dictator.

Coryell County News
Gatesville, Texas, USA.

Dear Friends:
I am writing you from Hawaii and would like for you to put this in the paper.

I am in the army and like it. But I wish I could see all the folks back home.

I am just a lonesome boy that needs a lot of good "chummy" letters.

I take the Coryell County News and like it.

Please print this for the sake of those that I can't write.

My address:

Charlie R. Dossey
3rd Engineers, Co. A
Schofield Barracks
Territory of Hawaii.

Note: Folks, if you really want to do something to help the Defense Program in a big way, and Charlie Dossey, in a much bigger way, write him a "gabby, chummy" letter, with the gossip and all the other things the "News" can't print. This boy's lonesome, and, we know what that means. Have YOU ever been further away from home than Waco, and lonesome? Come on, now, write this boy! He needs it. It's just plain Hell, if you ask us.

Foods Freshed Longer

The whole principle of modern ice refrigeration looks to the preservation of food—not to freezing it. Food can't turn dry when you use ice—nothing wasted. With the new ice refrigerators you get natural air-conditioning. The modern ice refrigerators are filled once or twice a week and that is the entire cost of ice refrigeration. Does your child SQUINT?

When you find your child squinting and groaning over his homework, maybe the best thing you can give him is better light. You may not realize that the lighting in your home is unsafe for young eyes. Yet science has discovered that one out of every five school children suffers from defective vision. A child can "see to read"—and yet be risking a serious case of eyestrain.

TWO WAYS TO PROTECT YOUNG EYES

Put an I.E.S. study lamp on the table where the children do their homework. Or use a pin-to-wall lamp if the study table is against a wall. Both are scientifically designed to give enough light and the right kind of light for safe seeing.

Mr. Ward Burris,
Sports Editor, The Express,
San Antonio, Texas.

Dear Wardie:

Looks to me like Hitler ain't got no flockin' tackles and half-backs. Now he's tried to skirt the ends and buck the line, and he's been perty good in midfield, but when he got in scorin' position he got held fer downs by the Rushians. He tried to forward pass and couldn't find no receivers. He tried buckin' the line and runned into two All-Rushian guards whats now pros. When he tried to go around end there was a rovin' defensive center what caught him at the line of scrimmage. I think he better call the game off and schedule 'em again next year, or leave 'em off the schedule entirely would be better. In fact, he ought to've never scheduled them Rushians in the first place, but he thought he was bookin' a setup. Now they may knock him out of a bid to the Rose Bowl. Life is jest full of little disappointments.

I seen where Dana Bible had shifted a end to guard, a guard and a tackle he shifted to center, shifted a fullback to center and shifted a halfback to fullback. Perty soon they'll be accusin' him of usin' the Natre Dame shift.

I heard the Southwest Conference is a-goin' to be a playin' Texas with every thing to gain and not much to lose. If some of them teams has anything at all to lose, it ain't come to light.

Baseball has been a craftin' players fer many years, a payin' several thousand dollars fer 'em. Now, Uncle Sam drafts players and don't pay no draft price fer 'em. I bet that makes Judge Landis mad. Uncle Sam is the first guy ever to tell Landis to move over and make it stick. Thank goodness fer that.

I'll be a seein' you, P. L. and

SPRINKLE TREATMENT FOR SMALL GRAINS FOR RUST, GIVEN

Farmers planting fall grains are advised one pint of formaldehyde with water, some say 40 gallons, to every 50 bushels of oats, will take care of the rust.

Sprinkle the grain, stir, pile and cover with canvas for 2 hours, and then plant immediately.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. J. P. FLEMING HELD SUNDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. J. P. Fleming, age 83, who passed away Saturday morning at 2 o'clock at her home near White Hall, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at White Hall, conducted by the Rev. Ray Stephens. Burial was made in the Turnersville cemetery, with Scott's in charge.

Mrs. Fleming, who was born near Coryell City in 1857, had resided near White Hall for 59 years. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving are: two daughters, Mrs. Jim Thomas of Gatesville; Mrs. Jno. Crow of Ogleby; three sons, Frank, Roy and Preston of Gatesville; one sister, Mrs. Alice Hoover of Stamford; one brother, Ed McGee of Phoenix, Arizona; and 9 grandchildren.

Pallbearers were, Roy Fleming, Preston Fleming, Alvin Fleming, John Holland Crow, Jim Spurgin, and Gene Spurgin.

Farm Notes—AAA & Otherwise That'll Be Useful If Used

Save Leaves and Straw—they're valuable, as they create humus in the garden which keeps moisture in the ground and decay and make more soil. Don't burn 'em.

Plant More Winter Legumes—These are "for the land's sake" if you understand that. These put into the ground, what other crops take out, and bur clover and Austrian winter peas and vetch are good ones.

Don't stop on Turnips and greens in fall gardens—No, carrots, beets, English peas, radishes, beans, collards, cabbage, mustard and lettuce, the experts say, we wouldn't know.

Here's a good one, and the best reason known why you don't get more for your products—they lack "eye appeal." College Station has just found this out. For instance, butter wrapped in gold cellophane, pecans in colorful cotton sacks, buckets of sorghum or honey with nice labels, jared homade jellies, pickles and preserves. Make 'em look pretty, label them, and they will sell better, they say.

Cover Crop Increases announced—these cover crops supply nitrogen and supplements nitrates used in commercial fertilizers, and if you don't use these, you might have to buy commercial fertilizers, and that would be awful. These cover crops will increase your land's production, 'tis said.

Food processing centers to be set up. It's another one of those "set ups", and is done with the REA in your community, and using the school houses or other public buildings, and they'll be equipped with small mills for grinding whole wheat flour and other whole grains or with electrical cooking, refrigeration and dehydration equipment. My how these folks want you to 'buy' equipment from manufacturers. REA says they'll lean the money at low interest—you know, that's your money.

Our school (Turnersville) will start the 22nd.

Mrs. Tom Box and son, Francis, went to Ater one day last week to see Mrs. Elmer Watts, who has been ill. Mrs. Watts is a sister of Mrs. Box.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Latham and family visited Grandma McCandless Sunday.

Mrs. Sam Cook of Fort Worth has been visiting relatives here.

Mrs. D. J. Hollingsworth spent Sunday with Mrs. Sallie Whitley and Bernice.

PERFECTION SALAD

- 1 pkg. Lemon gelatin
 - 1 pint boiling water
 - 1 dessert spoon vinegar
 - 2 dessert spoons sugar
 - 1 cup shredded cabbage
 - 1 cup celery
 - 1-2 cup pimentos cut fine
 - 1 cup diced pineapple
 - 1 tsp. salt.
- Add vinegar, salt, sugar and boiling water to gelatin. When beginning to set, add remaining ingredients. Turn into molds and allow to become firm. Serve on lettuce leaves with salad dressing.

CAULIFLOWER

Buy cauliflower with all green leaves on. Remove outer stems and leaves, but do not remove the smaller stems and leaves next to the flower. These are delicious when cooked with the flower. Remove the green from the remainder of the stalks, except the extreme outside leaves. Throw away stalks, but cook the greens with the flower until tender, and test stalk with fork. When soft drain off all water and serve with Hollandaise sauce.

PEA SALAD

- 2 cups chopped celery
 - 2 cups boiled carrots
 - 3 tbsp. green peppers chopped
 - 2 cups freshly cooked peas
 - 3 hard boiled eggs
- Oil dressing
Mix all ingredients with oil dressing to which whipped cream has been added.
