Completes Recruit Training At San Diego, Calif.

Russell Martin Ridling, above, son of J. A. Ridling, Rt. 1, Gatesville, Texas, has just completed his recruit training at the Marine Corps Base, San Diego, California. While undergoing this training, he won several badges for his skill and ability with the rifle, the pistol, and the bayonet.

Private Ridling was born February 8, 1914, at Gatesville and attended the Mt. Zion School, where he studied a general course of subjects.

When asked to comment on his enlistment in the Marine Corps, Private Ridling said: "I enlisted in the Marine to travel and further my education."

Mrs. J. A. Hicks and granddaughter, Patsy Morris, of Alba are spending the week with their daughter and aunt, Mrs. R. L. Routh, in this city.

Dr. Otis C. Ray is attending the Nation Dental Convention in Houston this week.

TRUMAN C. BIGHAM IS NAMED SECRETARY OF INVESTIGATION R'S'RCH

Dr. Truman C. Bigham, formerly Professor of Economics at the University of Florida at Gainesville, a Gatesville High School and Baylor University graduate, and son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Bigham of Brown's Creek has just been made Secretary of the Board of Investigation and Research of the Federal government.

This board was created by the Transportation Act of 1940, and the selection of the secretary was made by appointees appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Board is located in Washington, and Dr. Bigham will move to Washington where he will continue his work in this position at a reported salary of $7,500 a year. The Board has some 300 people at salaries from $6,500 down for the various positions.

Two Accidents This Week End: No One Injured Except Mule

Gatesville and Coryell county keep up accident record—at least one a week end, average.

In this week's "results" the only damage done, besides automobiles and trucks, was to a straying mule which was killed about 4 miles west on U. S. 84 early Friday morning, with Sgt. Chas. E. Fortune's Buick ran into it in the fog. The front end of his car was damaged, and the mule, well, he was ruined. Fortune lives in Brownwood.

In the other, a Deputy Sheriff of Hamilton about 1 a. m. Friday was said to have had an accident with a truck near Greenbriar creek on U.S. 84 east of Gatesville about 6 miles.

No one was injured in these accidents, the damage being only to the machines. Fog was thought to have caused this accident.

City-County Peace Officers To Attend Safety Council Meet

City Secretary Eiland Lovejoy and Chief of Police Preston Jones will attend the meeting this week in Waco of the Texas Safety Council.

The Safety Council is an organization for the promotion of safety in Texas, and is affiliated with the National Safety Council with headquarters in Chicago. The organization is sponsored by many of the various departments of the state government, in addition to many private organizations as the American Legion, chambers of commerce and others.

Sheriff J. H. Brown indicated he would attend the conference as well as Deputy Sheriff Rufus Burleson.

chosen profession, and in the big city.

The Board has as a fund to work with, $1,000,000.

HALLOWEEN

FRIDAY NIGHT
OCTOBER 31
"LOOK-OUT"

Anything's liable to happen, any October 31, that's the evening the Ghost Walks, and plenty of untied-down things do too, and it's often in a mysterious way—the way of mischievous little boys, like which everyone of us were once.

Come on, in this time of strife and uncertainty, let's have some fun, and make it innocent fun, the kind that won't hurt you, and won't hurt the one you're having fun out of. If you follow that formula, it will be FUN and not FURY.

State Highwaymen Assigned To This Town and County

Two State Highway Patrolmen have been assigned to Gatesville, in line with the stepped-up policy of state highway patrolling and policing. One, State Highway Patrolman Edwin Majors is an old timer, in service, and Fred D. Holland, has just completed an intensive training program at the State Highway Department's training school near Austin.

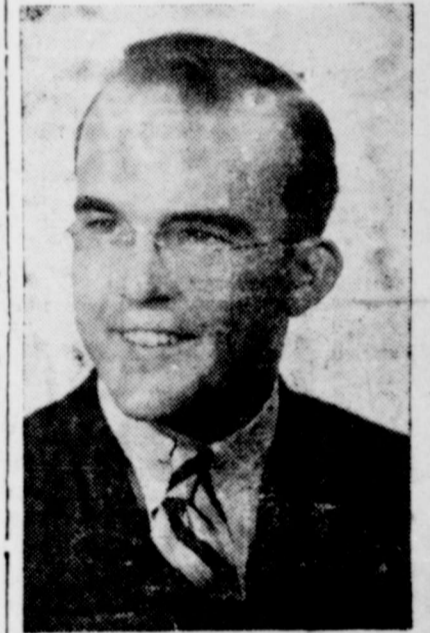

Both these newcomers to Gatesville will bring their families to Gatesville, and will be welcomed by all citizens of Coryell County and Gatesville.

CORRECTION!

Oliver Edwards, was not in the accident reported in October 21st issue of the News, as our informant said, it was Albert Edwards Jr.

We're glad to make this correction. In handling names, in fact, anything, we've found out, we make 'em, and don't mind admitting it, and like to make the corrections. Thanks, whoever called our attention to this; it's always better to straighten things out. Thanks again.

Addresses Future Home-Makers At State Convention

Stephenville, Texas—Raby Alford of Gatesville, pictured above, a senior and a special student in both the Speech and the Agricultural Departments of John Tarleton College, addressed the State Convention of approximately 1,200 Future Homemakers of America on Saturday, October 25th, at Brownwood, Texas. He spoke on the subject of "Agriculture and Its Share in the National Defense."

Mr. Alford has been very active in the Future Farmers of America, being chairman of the Executive Committee of the chapter at John Tarleton, and he has appeared on many FFA programs over the state as well as winning intercollegiate honors in Oratory in connection with the Texas Junior College Speech Association, of which his coach, Miss Lillie V. Lillard of the Tarleton Speech Department, is a state official.

DARK JOURNEY

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE: Madeleine Godard, beautiful young spy operating with the German Intelligence in Stockholm, under Major Schaffer, runs a fashionable dress shop on the side as a mask for her activities. Karl von Marwitz, retired German officer, becomes infatuated with Madeleine. After a few meetings he takes her out to dinner and confesses his love. She is about to reply when police approach and inform her that Anatole, her porter and accomplice in her spying work, has been murdered. Madeleine is questioned by Stockholm police, is released, and reports to her superior, Major Schaffer, who informs her that the information she has been securing for him has been incorrect. He orders her to Paris to find out what is wrong with her sources.

Chapter Four

Baron von Marwitz, entering his hotel, paused at the desk to receive his mail. One letter caught his eye—he recognized the handwriting, and tore open the envelope feverishly.

"Madeleine Godard, you are under arrest."

"My dear Karl: I am running away to Paris on urgent affairs for the shop . . ."

He stopped to read no more. "What time does the boat train leave?" his tense voice rapped out. "In fifteen minutes, Baron," replied the clerk.

"Call me a cab," he growled. The taxi hurtled full tilt into the railway station—just in time for von Marwitz to alight and dash wildly after the train as it was pulling out of the station! Reaching the end of the platform, he stopped, realizing that it was no use, and stood staring gloomily after the receding train in which sat Madeleine.

But she was not without company on the train, though she was oblivious to the fact that any one whom she knew was traveling her way. For in another compartment, silent and watchful, sat the English operative Faber, detailed by his office to take the trip with her and find out as best he could what this lovely, mysterious young woman might be up to!

On the boat, one night out from Stockholm, Madeleine again went through the same familiar, weary routine of stoppage by a German U-Boat, turning out on deck for inspection, facing out the questioning of the U-Boat commander with her story that she was traveling for a dress concern. The officer accepted her story, passed up the other travelers, and allowed the packet to proceed.

In the customs shed at Le Havre, amid the hurly burly of French and British soldiers on leave, American detachments recently landed, and the hodge-podge of war-time travelers coming and going, Madeleine coolly stood on line along with her fellow-passengers, awaiting her turn for the inevitable questioning. At last she stepped up to the inspector's table and showed her passport.

As she did so a young man standing a little to one side and watching her, gave a slight, almost imperceptible nod of his head to a few companions who stood with him. The young man was the Englishman Faber, and his companions were French agents of the Surete. One of them stepped forward and spoke a word under his breath to the customs official.

"Madeleine Godard," spoke that worthy: "please step into this room." Madeleine, taken aback but maintaining her "poker face," shrugged her shoulders and walked into the room without a word, accompanied by two of the French secret service men.

"Mademoiselle Godard, what made you come to Paris again?" "Business," she answered briefly. "Difficulties with my firm, Cotin's."

"What difficulties?" "Their prices are too high, even for war time."

"Couldn't you write?" "I did—without much success."

"Madeleine Godard, you are under arrest. You will go to Paris under escort."

And to Paris they took her, for further questioning at the General Headquarters of the Surete. There the officials, still not satisfied, decided to hold her in custody. But with true French courtesy, they permitted her to send a message to her firm—Cotin's.

The message worked magic. Twenty-four hours later Madeleine was free of her bonds, was being received by the eminent M. Coutin.

"Madeleine! I'm delighted to see you! I've got lots of new models to show you, and—" he smiled significantly—"I'm sure our little business difficulties can soon be smoothed out."

Taking her into his private office, he summoned another gentleman—a distinguished-looking man whom he introduced as the head of the Fifth Bureau of France. "Madeleine, my dear child," pursued M. Coutin, "I'm afraid your reception in France was scarcely what you had a right to expect."

The Bureau Chief then took a small leather case from his pocket and presented it to Madeleine with a courtly bow. She opened it, mystified.

"The Medaille Militaire!" gasped Madeleine.

"Yes—and how well you have earned it! This expresses the real feelings of a grateful Government."

Madeleine then proceeded to give her two superiors a report on her work in Stockholm as a member of the French counter-espionage. The German spies with whom she pretended to work there, she revealed, had sent her to Paris because some of the pseudo-information she had given them had proved inaccurate. They had begun to suspect her—either of incompetence or of dealing with the French Government! The work of counter-espionage, she told them, was difficult and dangerous—and degrading besides. Spying on one's enemies and one's friends alike—trusting no one—worthy of no one's trust. "Don't send me back to Stockholm," she ended by pleading.

"But we need you!"

"Haven't I done enough?"

"Too much—to fail us now," rejoined the Bureau Chief. "One last effort, and you can return to France for good. But now—go back and find out who is the head of Section Eight of the German Espionage!"

"But isn't that Dr. Muller?"

"I don't know. Find out—and then we can smash their organization—not only in Sweden, but in all neutral countries! You must not fail us!"

Madeleine drew a long breath. "I'll leave tomorrow for Stockholm!" she said quietly.

How's your judgment?

Your freedom isn't FREE. There's a price tag on it. You EARN the right to liberty by KNOWING how to vote, what to buy, which rules of conduct to favor.

How is YOUR JUDGMENT? Can you tell the difference between:

1. FACT
2. OPINION

This newspaper, and every newspaper, brings you both. For example:

1. Yesterday's weather report is fact.
2. Tomorrow's weather forecast is opinion.

Maybe you didn't LIKE yesterday's weather. Maybe you think tomorrow's forecast is going to be wrong and, for example, you can ignore the expert's warning. You are FREE to have your OWN OPINION. But if your judgment isn't good enough to let you separate fact from opinion and good enough to follow the SOUND opinions, you'll end up by buying all the gold bricks in the brickyard.

How to pick them

In this country of free speech, no one can hide facts very long. Your newspaper doesn't try. Look through it.

The battles, births, weddings, market prices, fires, meetings, crimes and ball games all HAPPENED—about as reported. They were FACTS, good and bad, but easy to check up and prove.

The editorials, the speeches, the claims and persuasions of this or that man, the name calling and the accusations—those are various peoples' OPINIONS, some right, some wrong, for you to accept or reject according to YOUR JUDGMENT.

Opinions can be either frank and open like a good sermon or an honest advertisement—urging you, in the light of facts as sincere men see them, to live a better life or buy a good product. Or opinions can be hidden and sugar-coated, as when an evil-intentioned person makes promises he doesn't intend to keep.

You might ask why this NEWSPAPER doesn't decide for you whether certain opinions are right or wrong, and print only those IT THINKS are right. You might wish the paper would pick out only NICE FACTS to print.

But, Mr. Citizen, your paper hasn't any RIGHT to decide such things for all of you. The government hasn't that right in America, NO other person has.

YOU are the one who has the final right to decide between the good and the bad, the right and wrong. This right to your own opinion, backed up by your votes at the ballot box and by your choice of how to spend your own money, is what democracy is!

And God help this nation if your good judgment ever fails you.

In Germany, Italy, Russia, Japan, a government agency decides what the people shall read and hear. Not so in America. Do your part to preserve the American way of life.

King of the Rackets... he switched "our town" to "My Town"—and gives you the thrill of a lifetime!

0-168, With a Count of 0-14 was Hornet Intersectional Clash

IT WAS A "COOK'S TOUR" THAT ITASCA-HORNET GAME: SAW COUNTRY

Eighty-four there, and 84 back, total, 168 miles! Crops in that part of the country are just about harvested and there was plenty of traffic on the highway, with McGregor, South Bosque, Waco, West, Hillsboro, and all the others having ball games Friday night. Everything looked prosperous going, but coming back, up to about 12:30 this morning, things looked pretty bad, especially with what the Hornet brought back from that little cotton milling town, Itasca. They brought back even nothing, but a twenty-yard-line penetration, all for 168 miles.

Oh, yes, the game! They did play, maybe that was the reason, they just played. Giving due where it's due, the line functioned, during a lot of bunching operations, and the Itascans were unable to do anything thru the line, around end, they were a little better, and via air mail, they were stukas. There's were the sad story was: in the air, just like the Hornet aerial defense.

That 2nd counter for the Itascans was a gift. Late in the last quarter Fry punted from about the 15, some Hornet player, standing too close was hit by the ball, just below the back, a linesman attempting to block the punt, caught the rebound and ran the few yards necessary for the other touch.

The first counter, was made as a result of a pass, to that little pass snatcher, Whitfield, who's a dilly.

Here's how it happened: Hornets kicked to 30, Whitfield returns to 50, after a few line tries, Arthur kicks from 45 to Davis on 15. Perkins makes 3 at rt. end, another play and Davis kicks from 10 to outside on the 35. Gholke for Roberts who a knee hurt.

Arthur don't at C. Arthur passes to Alley who makes it now on 45 and 1st down. Fry stops Arthur for 2 yd. loss. Pass, Arthur to Wiley goes to 15. Whitfield makes 9 around L end. Cross, Caruth and Gilmore for Brown, Wittie, and Davis. After another play, ball goes over on downs.

Fry makes 4 at rt. Perk makes it 4 more, and on 4th Fry kicks out on 45. Arthur passes to Alley for 6 as quarter ends.

2nd Quarter
With ball on 35, Alley makes it first. Gilmore for Gholke. White stops Arthur, no gain. Whitfield fools around back of line, passes, incomplete. Hornets lose 5, holding. Whitfield, faking pass, runs for 8. Arthur makes it 1st D. Arthur to Wiley in end zone, pass, for touch from 10 yd. line. Attempted drop-kick fails, but Itasca player carries over for extra. Itasca 7, Gatesville 0.

Lee for Cross, Wittie for Gilmore. Upchurch holds, Whitfield kicks to Perkins on 20, returns to 35. Fry attempting to pass, drops 6, when line fails. Fry to Wittie over C makes 6. Fry kicks from 30 to 25. Arthur, passes to Morrison for 1st D.

Brown and Morgan stop Arthur for 0. Whitfield attempting to punt, passes incomplete. Caruth for Fry. Whitfield punts from 30 to Fry on 35, returns to 40. Post makes 3. Fry muffs ball between legs and fails at C. Fry passes over Perkins. Gilmore for Post. Fry punts from 40 to Itasca on 33. Arthur passes, intercepted by Perkins on Hornet 39. Fry passes, intercepted by Morrison, returned to 40, stopped by Morgan as half ends.

3rd Quarter
Itasca kicks to Fry on 20 returns to 44. Fry makes 4; Hornets, off-side. Post fails to block, Fry trying to pass, loses 10 yards. Fry attempting to punt, doesn't Davis carries and loses 1. Fry passes to Wilkinson over C making 8. Fry punts from 25 to 50 yard stripe to Alley. Arthur makes 2 thru line stopped by Wilkinson. Whitfield passes, knocked down by Fry. Whitfield punts over end zone from 40.

Lengefeld for Post. Fry passes to Perkins, incomplete. Fry punts from 15 to 42. Whitfield tries line, stopped dead by Jack Fry. Then he picks up 7 around end. Alley makes it 1st D. Morrison makes 6 at end, left. Whitfield to Allen on 40 goes to Hornet 18. Cross for Wittie, Arthur passes, incomplete and end run fails as ball goes over.

Fry makes 1 at C. Fry weaves thru for 30 yards to 39 yard line. Fry makes another nine. Brown picks up fumble and makes 1st D. as quarter ends.

4th Quarter
Line working, Fry makes nearly 1st D., 9 yards, Fry and interference makes another 11 and a 1st D. Fry "burns" over left side for another 1st D. He makes 7 more, and then another 1st D. Perkins makes 1 at rt. end. Fry, 2 more. Bad pass from C, and Fry loses 15, back to 39. It's 4th, so Fry to Perkins pass, brings ball to 20, but it goes over.

Davis stops Whitfield no gain. Whitfield was slightly injured. Whitfield punts from 20 to 45. Perkins makes 3. Pass, Fry to Davis loses 4. Alley knocks down pass from Wilkinson intended for Fry. Fry punts, ball hits Hornet, Johnson for Itasca recovers and runs for touch. Drop-kicked point added. Caruth for Lengefeld.

Perkins takes kick off on 25 and returns to 52. Fry to Perkins, pass, incomplete. Sexton for Brown. Fry trying to pass, can't find receiver and drops 10 yards. Fry passes, intercepted, after dropping by Morrison, Gholke takes Whitfield for 1 yd. loss as game ends.

Flat, in one of the wildest games in six-ette history, District 14 stayed in the undefeated ranks of the district by defeating the hustling Pearl Dragons 20-18 at Pearl Friday p. m.

The first 2 periods were Flat's, and late in the second, Fetner intercepted a Flat lateral and went 50 yards to tie the count; Flat had counted 6 previously. Waking the sleeping Dragons, they came back and scored 2 touchdowns, one on a fumble, and one on an end run.

Flat playing with 3 regular out with injuries, looked behind the 8-ball, but cut loose two long scoring drives of 65 yards each and swept to victory.

Lloyd Thomas of Flat played a great game, both on the offense and defense, as did Poe and Love of the Jacket backfield. In the line for Flat, Webb, Geiselbrecht and Young never quit fighting.

For the Dragons, their entire backfield, especially Fetner and Smith really went to town. Pearl has one sweet backfield, and their line showed well.

This is another week!
There's a lot to forget that happened last week. Hornets lost 0-14; and, this week, they take on Valley Mills here.

Local Men Attend Clover Farm Gro. Convention

Dave McCallister of the local Bauman's Clover Farm Store and E. Price Bauman, owner of the chain store here and also owner of a grocery firm in Waco, accompanied by Otto Lengefeld of Hamilton, returned Thursday, October 16th, from Cleveland, Ohio, where they attended the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of the system of Clover Farm Stores.
The group, who left on October 11 met the owners and managers of 27 other Texas Clover Farm Stores and made the trip together. At the annual banquet on Tuesday evening the Texas group dressed in cowboy boots, ten-gallon Stetson hats, "loud" shirts, and carried guns, shooting blank cartridges, which, they said, captured the attention of the convention.
