COMMANDER OF ALL GROUND FORCES WAS HERE FRIDAY

Lieut. Gen. Leslie McNair, commander of all ground forces of the U. S. Army, and Maj. Gen. Richard Moore, chief of requirements division of the operating staff of the ground forces, were visitors in Gatesville Friday, while they were looking over Camp Hood and vicinity. They arrived in Temple at the municipal air port, and left Saturday morning.

That probably explains the "hurry-up" plane that swooped low over U. S. 84 in the heart of Gatesville early Saturday morning.

They went by car to Belton, Killeen, to Sugar Loaf Mountain, then via Copperas Cove to Gatesville, and then returned to Temple.

Inspection was made of the unit training headquarters under Col. Richard G. Tindall, the school training regiment under Lieut. Col. G. S. Beatty, the tank destroyer board under Col. Fay Ross, and the tank destroyer school under Col. Hugh T. Mayberry.

It was understood that Gen. McNair was particularly interested in the range facilities, and was highly pleased with the training ground and reservation and with the plans initiated for Camp Hood.

He was accompanied from Washington by Capt. J. W. Lansing, Capt. H. L. Jones, and Lieut. D. D. Duskin.

ANOTHER "EX-NEWS" EMPLOYEE IS WITH THE SERVICES

Latest addition to Uncle Sam's services of those who were formerly with the News, is Cloyce Brazzil-Key, who has joined the U. S. Army this last week.

Others among our "stars" are: Pat Bone, Emil Lee, Erle Powell, James Bradley, Kenneth Anderson, Truman Blanton, and J. R. Saunders that we know about. There may be some others.

Miss Loraine Thomas of Dallas, formerly of this city, where she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raylives here during the week end. was a member of the GHS faculty.

Charles Smith was a week end visitor in Dallas.

CITIZENS SEEK NEW BUS LINE TO CAMP HOOD IN AUSTIN

Some 20 citizens of Gatesville in a chartered bus were Austin visitors Friday seeking a bus route for the proposed Killeen, Copperas Cove, Pidcoke, Gatesville highway that is being surveyed. Of course, nothing definite was announced, but reports brought back were that the proposition looked good.

Those making the trip were Elbert Slone, Raymond Ward, Supt. Ollie Little, Eiland Lovejoy, C. C. Sadler, Howard Franks, J. O. Brown, Wade Sadler, Tom Freeman, Harry Jones, Reid Powell, Eric Sharp, Tom L. Robinson, J. H. Brown, Dr. H. M. Haynes, Dr. M. W. Lowrey, Harry Flentge, Ernest Cummings, and Bill Ament.

'OFFICIAL' NUMBERS OF THIRD DRAFT ARE NOT AVAILABLE

Only unofficial draft numbers for the third draft have been, or can be published, according to Mrs. T. K. O'Neal of the Selective Service Board.

It will be about the first of April before this list will be ready, she said, and May 1 is near the date for the sending out of the questionnaires.

For this reason, and to avoid mistakes, the News will not publish these numbers until the official list is released. It avoids confusion.

COMMANDER CLAUDE BAILEY, USN. RET., VISITING HERE

Commander Claude Bailey, USN Retired, is visiting with his brother, Dr. Ralph Bailey, and other relatives.

Commander Bailey came to see us, and told us a few things about the eastern part of the USA. Says they're awfully busy over there, and seemed like the factories were there, and most of the "military" in the south.

Commander Bailey lives in Burnt Hills, N. Y., near the capital, Albany.

EAST COAST IS NOW ONE OF OUR MAJOR FRONTS

John L. Culp, Jr., of Coryell City, is a victim of the East Coast U-Boat menace.

He was killed by U-Boats last Tuesday or Wednesday—the Navy report didn't state definitely which nor did it give the name of the ship—when the ship he was on was torpedoed.

Captain Shultz stated: "I could see that a number of men did not appear on deck. When it was apparent the submarine had no intention of firing on us again, I sent three men below to make an inspection. They reported back to me that eleven were dead and four injured, one very seriously. We got him in a lifeboat. We abandoned ship about 25 minutes after the torpedo struck. I never saw the submarine. It fired only one torpedo, no shells."

Culp's father, John L. Culp of Coryell City, received a telegram Saturday that his son was missing, and so far, nothing else has been heard except what was released in Monday's daily newspapers.

According to reports, Culp was on a tanker, and had visited his parents briefly at Coryell City in January.

This East Coast is just the same as Bataan, Java, Australia or any other front. The only difference—these seamen are not in uniform, but, they are doing their part, and do not have half the protection enjoyed by naval vessels, or men on the other fronts.

There have been, according to reports, some 60 American ships sunk off this coast and nearby waters since January, and more than 100 vessels of ours and our allies.

In our feeble mind, it looks like we have another "front" there!

SINGING TO BE HELD AT TURNERSVILLE SUNDAY, MARCH 29

The Fifth Sunday Singing Convention will be held at the Turnersville High School auditorium Sunday, March 29th.

You are urged to be present with your song books and a well-filled basket, and enjoy the day.

Clarice (Jack) Wiggins and Jesse Lee Wiggins of Corpus Christi were visitors in Gatesville over the week end.

"Red" Smith of Waco visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Evan J. Smith, of Gatesville Sunday.

Old Homes ARE TURNED INTO
Beautiful.. Convenient.. Modern Homes

Through the magic of modernization, old homes are changed into beautiful, comfortable, work-saving modern homes. New conveniences are added, and wasted space is utilized to provide maximum enjoyment of the home.

Your home, too, can be converted into a cheerful, well arranged, more comfortable home through modernization. Both interior and exterior can be made to rival the newest and most modern home in your neighborhood.

IT'S A WISE INVESTMENT

Aside from the added convenience, work-saving features, and increased comfort which is imparted to your home, modernization is a wise investment. Reliable statistics show that approximately $3.00 added value comes from every $1.00 spent on modernizing a home. In some phases of modernization, insulation and weatherstripping for instance, the cost is offset in a few years by the savings they bring about. Upkeep cost is also cut to the minimum. In the case of rent property, increased income is usually an immediate result.

WASHINGTON NEWS
FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
W. R. POAGE

The house has just finished work on the Agricultural Appropriation bill. In short, I feel that we must give the larger portion of the past two weeks. I feel that as passed it was a very fair bill. As reported to the House by the committee, the bill carried only about 60 per cent of the amount carried by the same bill last year. I agree that very deep cuts must be made in all non-defense expenditures, and I have voted to make such cuts. I think, however, that after the appropriation for so vital an activity as agriculture has been cut 40 per cent by the committee, then an additional cut of 50 per cent of what is left is reasonable. I did not vote for the additional cuts proposed to the Soil Conservation Service budget. On the other hand, I felt that the migratory labor camps, the land utilization projects, etc., of the Farm Security Administration could be cut still further than the figures recommended by the committee, and I so voted. I also voted to cut all travel appropriations in the bill by 50 per cent. At the same time, I felt the committee had reduced the money allotted to subsistence loans and for the purchase of homes for tenants as much as it should. I, therefore, voted against further cuts in these items. This bill has serious consideration to each item. We cannot adopt some arbitrary rule and cut all appropriations by the same per cent as many people, and some members of Congress, would have us do. Our duty is to save every dollar we can without injuring the necessary functions of government, and at the same time to know why we cut one item more than another.

The most important single item in the bill did not involve a direct appropriation. It was the limitation enforced by the bill on the sale of government owned or controlled commodities at less than parity. This was an appropriation bill, and under the rules of the House no provision could extend any further than to limiting the expenditure of the funds appropriated. It therefore provides that — "none of the funds made available by this paragraph shall be used for administrative expenses connected with the sale of government owned or controlled stocks of farm commodities at less than parity —." Certain exceptions were allowed in regard to the sale of damaged grain sold for livestock feed or industrial alcohol, and of cotton for new uses. A very strong effort was made to strike this provision out of the bill. To have done so would have been equivalent to an outright invitation to the Department to sell these stocks at a price that would break the market. I have no desire to force farm prices up to unfair levels, but I do believe that the farmer is entitled to simple parity.

Another matter that is often overlooked in regard to the question of parity is the fact that if we allow the farmer to get parity for his crop as this bill proposes, we will save the government many millions of dollars in parity payments that will not be made, but which would be payable if the farmers' prices were not allowed to reach parity in the markets. I am, therefore, very happy to report that all efforts to strike this provision out of the bill failed.

Early in the week work on this bill was suspended to pass a resolution extending the Dies Committee for another year. I believe that the information already accumulated by this committee may be of great value during this war, and that the country could ill afford to stop this work just now whether we agree with all of Mr. Dies' actions or not, I therefore voted for the extension of the committee.

Another matter of great importance which received consideration in the House this week was the extension of the limit on the national debt, which was raised from 65 billion to 125 billion dollars. This war costs such tremendous sums that a substantial portion of the cost must be provided by borrowed money. At the same time, I believe, and most of the officials here believe, that we must pay for as much of it as we can with current taxes. This means that next year's Federal taxes will be the highest this nation has ever seen. Of course, it seems to most of us that we are now about to that point. (I have just paid my income tax. Congressmen do pay all the taxes that anybody else does, in spite of the belief on the part of some people that we are exempt.)

Washington is going to have a notable blackout tonight. The cooperation of the people here is still very good, just as I know it is in Texas. In fact, I feel that there are very few groups of Americans today who are not willing to sacrifice their personal conveniences, comfort or profit to help win this war. As for the small groups who still put their personal advantage above the needs of the nation, the sooner we crack down on them and make them do their part the better.

IRELAND COMPLETES BEST CAGE SEASON IN HISTORY

IRELAND'S CARDINALS, DISTRICT CLASS B BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

The scarlet-shirted Cardinals of Ireland, with the swift play of Werner Lemmer leading the way, climaxed a most successful cage season this year by edging past Jonesboro in the county play-off, running roughshod over a capable Meridian for the district crown, and then advancing to the semifinals of the regional meet before being eliminated by the squad that eventually became state champions, Slidell.

Lemmer was the captain and the wheelhorse of the most successful quintet in Ireland's basketball annals. He was the top scorer in the large majority of the Redshirts' contests and his floor play was dazzling. He was given great help by mates Cofer, Russell, Watkins, and Pearson. Cofer, a lanky boy who played forward most of the time, was a high scorer in his own right and always shone under the basket. Russell was a great passer and defensive man, often stealing the ball from the enemy forwards and firing it to one of his fast-breaking cohorts for a cinch crip. Watkins was a fast breaking little forward who turned in consistently good games throughout the entire season. He had a good eye for the basket, and was dangerous from any point on the floor. Pearson was a sterling defensive performer, and ably assisted Lemmer with his ball-handling chores.

Newland, a tiny little sophomore starred for the Cardinals when given the chance. In the final playoff game at Hamilton, Coaches Robinson and Stiles slipped him in the game early in the third chunker, and the little lad roped seven points before the bewildered Jonesboro cagers realized he was playing. He is due to make Ireland a valuable man in the next two years. Faubion, Tubbs, and Schumann, other members of the reserve corps, did well while in there.

The Cardinals played 34 games this season, and won 24 while dropping ten. Two of these fracas were with Class A teams, and won one while losing one with the larger schools. They scored 797 points, as compared to the enemy's total of 640. This is an approximate average of 24 points per games to opponents' 18.

All hail the district champs of '42. They were a gallant crew, and represented their home town and county well in the state race.

JONESBORO HAS ANOTHER FINE RECORD

Jonesboro's hustling Eagles, perennial and oftentimes successful contenders for the county cage title, boasted another aggregation of polished stars this year, and relinquished the championship which they won in 1941 to the Ireland team only after one of the most gruelling Play-off series Coryell County fandom ever witnessed. They defeated the Cardinals twice in the regular schedule, but could not overcome Lemmer and Co. in the play-off. They lost the title series opener at Ireland, then defeated the Cardinals at Jonesboro before a rabid home town crowd, and lost out in the torrid championship contest by the slim margin of a single point.

Lacking the devastating offensive power of last year's club, Coach Lemmons drilled his team well in defensive maneuvers, until they had a stout defensive crew that rarely let the opposing team score over twenty points. They scored a grand total of 563 tallies this season while holding their opponents to 403. The average game score of the Eagles was 18 plus, while that of their opponents was 13. These figures show just how good the Eagles were as a defensive unit.

They played 31 games this winter, and were victorious in 27 of these contests. They lost early season battles to Pearl and Evant and then dropped two contests to Ireland in the title play-off.

The Eagles' offensive standout was little Roland Drake, who was their high point man for the season's play. He was a smooth ball-handler and was always at his best when the going was the toughest. Just as Drake led the offense, Sellers was the defensive star. His was the thankless job of shackling the enemy's hot shot, but this task was his chief stock-in-trade. The Eagles tangled with Ireland seven times this season, and Sellers held Lemmer, admittedly one of the most dangerous shots in this section of the state, to an average of five points per game. Lemmer's best effort for a single game was eleven points, and seven of these were free throws. Sellers was the "ballplayer's ballplayer"; his value was often overlooked by the bleacherites.

Weaver, the team captain, was a steady and dependable performer and has one more year of eligibility. He is at his best under the backboard, but conditions forced Lemmons to use him chiefly as a ball-handler. Jim Voss developed rapidly this season and was one of the Eagles' chief offensive threats toward the last of the year. He has two more years of eligibility and should be one of the county's leading cagers next winter. Bud Anderson, lanky pivot man, ably handled his post and was a tower of strength on defense.

Taylor Young, a hustling youngster, finished out his high school career as a guard — he subbed for Drake — and the brilliance of the little star kept Young on the bench most of the year. He had a great spirit and was one of the best hustlers on the squad.

Coach Lemmons states that the star of his squad was a lad whose name never appeared in the box score. Cloyce Box, star of the 1941 championship crew, was seven days too old to play, but he was the hardest worker on the squad. He suited up for every game and warmed up with the boys. He was Lemmons' chief assistant and his spirit and fire caught the boys in its fierce flame and made them play harder.

The Eagles have glowing prospects for another stellar crew next year. Weaver and Voss of the regulars will be back and one or two others if they decide to take another year of eligibility. Lemmons boasts two great prospects in Bullman and Musick, both of whom improved greatly this year. Added to these four boys are Earl Derrick, Hayden Young, Oscar Neel, Herman Lynch, Douglas Myers, Charlie Jackson, Avery Smith, Billie Watson, and others. Under the able tutoring of Lemmons, these boys will make up another good club next, perhaps a great one.

ABOUT THE CARE OF YOUR CAR

Do you keep a written record, showing just what your car will need, and when, to keep it in top condition? Your Humble service man will do that for you, and remind you, when the time comes, about battery check-up, chassis lubrication, spark plug cleaning—all the things that mean more miles of better service. This is no time to take chances on car or tires, you'll agree. That's why Humble service—planned, complete and thorough, will appeal to you.

Ask about "20 Ways to Get Longer Life from Your Car" at your Humble station. That's the plan thousands of Texas motorists are following to get more miles of better service. Talk to your Humble service man about it. You'll find him experienced, capable, and anxious to help you. Many of the things he suggests are free—and when your car needs service which requires time and the use of equipment, his charge is nominal.

Give your car a chance to do its best — with regular Humble service.
