Cogitations & Aphorisms of Jodok

I sure was more fortunate than a lot of the other "old-timer" street corner men Monday morning when it was so cool, and I came down town with the old sweater on, which I had worn out three years ago, but had not thrown away.

It sure felt pretty good on me even if the wristlets were all frayed at the edges and a good sized hole in each elbow and a hole in one pocket where the corner of the tobacco can had rubbed through, for the back and the front and the sides were in fair condition.

The rest of the bunch, it appears, had thrown their old sweaters away when they were able to buy another about two years ago, thinking that the "depression" was over, and they would have no more need to wear old clothes, and they sure did look at me with envious eyes and made insinuating remarks about me as they shivered in the damp chilling breeze.

It just appears that a whole lot of people thought just like these old timers did two years ago, that "old man Depression" was getting his trotters knocked from under him and would soon be knocked clean out of the ring, but for some reason I did not think so, and just hung up on a nail all the old clothes I had then and they are surely coming in handy now.

As I have said before, I did not think any one man nor small group of men were entirely responsible for this depression, and neither did I think any one man nor small group of men would be able to get us out of it, and I further thought that it would take more than few newfangled political tactics or change of political officials to solve the problem, and from what I can hear on the streets and elsewhere there are a mighty lot of people that have joined my way of thinking.

I hear lots of restless criticism and many "wise-cracks" from individuals, and read many of the same in various newspapers and they are all at the expense of the Administration, which leads me to think that perhaps people are not all satisfied with what they are getting.

Well, now! I enjoy a joke (when it is on somebody else) just as well as anybody, and I laugh at their "wise cracks", most of which are humorous, but why disparage the Administration? It has given us just what it said it would give us, and a whole lot that it did not say it would give us. We are getting what we voted for and a whole lot that we did not vote for.

Yes! It is all right to have a little celan fun, but nevertheless, anything we may say will not relieve the pressure on it. It is like Mark Twain or some other wise man, said about the weather, there is lots of people talking about it, but on one seems to be doing anything about it. So why chaff or safe or grow testy, especially when we are getting all that was promised us and a lot more besides.

I see quite a number of our boys have been collecting postage stamps of any and all kinds and denominations they can find and some of them have quite sizeable collections, which include some very old and rare stamps and dinstamps of foreign countries.

I do not know just what they expect to do with these stamps only for the novelty of collecting them; unless they expect to keep them until they become valuable on account of their age or scarcity and which may be a means of bringing in quite a sum of money at some time in their lives.

Marvin (Sam) Weir brought his collection and showed it to me one day this week and I noticed quite a number of foreign stamps and some rather old ones as well as many that will be hard to find even within a comparatively few years, all of which was rather interesting to me.

However, I shall not enter into competition with the boys in their stamp collecting enterprise, for after a man get to be "eighty" it would be useless for him to think of stamps becoming old enough to be of any value. But Marvin has a right to look forward to many, many more years during which his collection of stamps will have a chance to ripen into a good old age which will tend, as the boys go by, to enhance their value.

Well, as I am penning these lines our school is apparently getting off a good start for another term of hard work and worthwhile accomplishments, although I have seen

WILL DRIVE SCHOOL BUSES

The Board of Trustees of the Friona Independent School District has employed seven men to drive the school buses during the coming term of school.

Most of those hired are the men who drove the buses last year and their names are: Mr. Schmitz, Otha Stevick, J. D. Curry, Arloe Green, Howard Mayfield, E. L. Elliott and Jim Ritchie.

Henry White will serve again this term as bus supervisor and W. C. Osborn has been re-elected as school janitor.

TEACHERS OFF FOR SCHOOLS

Quite a number of Friona's young people will be away again the coming winter at the various places where they are employed as teachers.

Misses Floy and Margaret Goodwine departed on Friday of last week for their work, each returning to the positions they filled during the last term—Miss Floy to Deer Park near Houston and Miss Margaret to the Vernon schools.

Miss Mary Reeve departed for Pampa Thursday of this week, where she has been chosen as a teacher. Hadley Reeve also departed Thursday, returning to his former position in the Snyder schools. Miss Mable Wimberly will go to Littlefield, where she will be a teacher in one of the schools near that city.

Friona has yet other people who are engaged in the teaching profession, but The Star has not been informed as to where they have been employed.

WILL TEACH IN BORGER

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Johnston spent a part of last week here visiting in the home of Mrs. Johnston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Welch, and meeting their many Friona friends. Mr. Johnston was formerly one of the teachers in the Friona school during which time he made a large circle of friends and was one of our most popular teachers. He resigned his position here during last term to accept a position in the Borger schools, where he will teach again this term. Mrs. Johnston was formerly Miss Estella Welch, and is a graduate of the Friona High School.

HOME FOR FEW DAYS

Hadley Reeve, who has been attending the Texas Tech. College at Lubbock during the summer vacation, returned home last Friday for a few days vacation before departing for Snyder where he will teach again the ensuing term. Hadley found it necessary to have his tonsils removed before leaving Lubbock and was too ill to drive home, so was driven home by Albert Conaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lange, who is also attending college at Lubbock.

Albert returned to Lubbock Monday to be in readiness for his college work when the school opens.

VISIT HEDLEY AND MEMPHIS

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Beckner spent a part of last week visiting relatives and friends at Hedley and Memphis, returning home the latter part of the week.

They drove over to Hedley with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Nesbit, who spent the first of the week as their guests. Mrs. Nesbit was formerly Miss Minnie Beckner and she and her husband are now located at Midland. After their return home Mr. and Mrs. Beckner had as their guests, Mrs. L. C. Pearce, of Hedley, and CoCmev Beckner, who has been visiting in Fort Worth.

MAY MOVE TO FRIONA

Mr. M. W. Moody, of Hammon, Okla., is a business visitor here this week, he having come over to look after his interests on a farm which he owns three miles south of town. Mr. Moody favored the Star office with a short visit Wednesday morning and stated that he contemplates moving his family here this fall, when he will take personal possession of his farm here.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

The Baptist Church extends a cordial invitation to the Superintendent and faculty of the public school and any of the young people who are planning to be away the year to attend a reception at the Baptist Church Thursday evening September 5. Members of the church are urged to be present.

TO STRAIGHTEN FRII DRAW

A WPA project has been accepted for straightening, broadening and deepening that part of the channel of Frii Draw which passes through or just south of the city limits.

Surveyors have been busy on the busy project for several days and it is reported that the actual work of moving dirt will begin in the near future. The work comes under soil erosion prevention and water conservation projects.

Panhandle Press

Clarendon News: Rumor has it that a swimming pool for Clarendon is under consideration. It is said that plans are being made to convert the old concrete foundation on the junior college grounds into a swimming pool. In connection with this plan, beautification work on the football gridiron is anticipated.

Wellington: Prospects for surfacing work on Highway 4, north from Wellington to Salt Fork, indicating that the work would probably begin around October 15, following reports that the project had received the approval of state and federal authorities.

The strip will be approximately seven miles in length and will be surfaced with concrete just as the surfacing from here into Childress.

White Deer Review: Rainfall in White Deer, according to E. H. Grimes, local volunteer weather recorder with standard government gauge equipment, was over the following periods as follows:

From July 1934 to July 1935—9 and 1-4 inches. Showing a deficiency of 11 and 3-4 inches for the twelve month period.

From May 25, 1935 to Aug. 27—1.96 inches. This is perhaps another record for this period. August and the summer months usually show a heavier rainfall than any other part of the year.

With an annual average rainfall of 21 inches, folks now realize just why the wheat crop around White Deer this year was such a short crop.

Brisco County News, Silverton. Tell a person to set down his age; multiply it by 2; add 5; multiply total by 50; subtract number of days in the ear (365); count any change in your pocket under $1.00; then set down total. Regardless of the total, add 115. The total will be the person's age in the first two figures and the amount of change in the latter two.

Clovis News-Journal: The schools are the closest things to the heart of the nation—molding the future citizens, guiding thoughts and inflaming ambitions, emphasizing morality and arming the mentalities to cope with the battles incident to the achievement of success and the status of productive and honorable citizenship.

RECEIVED PAINFUL WOUND

Tuesday morning while W. O. Thompson was assisting L. D. Cummings at his filling station, and while filling the fuel tank of a car with gasoline, truck drove up behind the car and struck Mr. Thompson, cutting a deep and painful gash in his leg.

County Home Demonstration Club Notes

Miss Ritzelle McKenney STORES QUANTITY OF PICKLES

From cucumbers growing over superabundance in the garden of E. A. Hromas of Oklahoma Lane community. Mrs. Hromas has brined cured 25 gallons of cucumbers and given almost as many to her neighbors to cure.

Each day the vegetables are gathered and placed in a brine of 1 lb. of salt and nine pints of water. About 14 to 21 days after the last vegetables are added the brine becomes clear and still, then more salt is added to the brine, a 1-2 inch layer of paraffin is poured over it to seal the container and the vegetables are left to cure for from six weeks to one year. This process which is described in Farmers Bulletin Number 1438 meets Pure Food Law regulations; it does not require the use of alum or copper salts which are not healthful.

Mimeographed copies of recipes for making varieties of sweet and mixed pickled and for determining the acid strength of vinegar may be obtained from the home demonstration agents office.

Vegetables which may be cured for pickling are cucumbers, onions, red or green sweet peppers, string beans, cauliflower, green tomatoes, melons and carrots.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Clifford Crow, who has been in the hospital at Lubbock for the past several days recovering from an appendicitis operation, was so far recovered as to be able to be brought home Wednesday forenoon apparently nearing complete recovery.

H. T. Magness, who also was in the hospital at Lubbock for the removal of hemorrhoids, was able to return home Wednesday.

BASEBALL HOT SHOTS

The Cards hope to add another victory to their list of 17 won while losing 11 for the season. This may be the last game of the season. Wilson is leading batter for the setson, with Leach leading in base

WHITE HOUSE APPROVES OF AAA PROGRAM

Added Power Given Secretary of Agriculture

Amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act have met the approval of both houses of Congress and have the signature of President Roosevelt.

The amendments have two major purposes. One is to give the Secretary of Agriculture added powers in carrying out the farm program and the other is to erect bulwarks around the program against the time when provisions of the Act will have to meet the crucial test in the Supreme Court.

"The new amendments," Secretary Wallace commented, "will permit increased 'adjustment' of production by permitting benefit payments for increased production." Wallace was careful to point out that there is little likelihood of this provision being put to use in cases of grave emergency.

On the most controversial point, the section barring suits by processors to recover processing taxes in event the levies are held unconstitutional, a compromise was reached. Processors can sue for recovery, but only after they have submitted their claims to the commissioner of internal revenue. However, the processors must show they have not passed the taxes along.

The amendments also permit the Secretary of Agriculture to draft marketing agreements with the consent of the majority of producers or processors for the following: milk, fruits, tobacco, vegetables, soy beans, pecans, walnuts and naval stores.

The recent act of Congress also extends the Bankhead cotton control act and authorizes a similar program for potatoes. It also permits start of the "ever normal" grainary plan under which the government could make loans to producers to induce them to hold surplus crops on farms. Other provisions in the amendments authorize use of 30 percent of customs receipts to finance export of crop surpluses, except cotton, under the export debenture plan; and authorize use of part of the $4,000,000,000 works fund to buy up submarginal farm land.

CROW-JOHNSON WEDDING

The wedding rites of two more of Friona's young people were solemnized at the Baptist parsonage here Sunday night, when Miss Hazel Crow became the bride of Roy Johnson.

The wedding was a very quiet one and attended by only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties and was held in the parlor of the pastor's home, the ceremony being performed by the pastor of the Baptist church, Mr. David E. Moore.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Crow, whose farm home is some eight miles southwest of Friona. Mr. Crow, with his sons, Clifford and Wilmot, being proprietors of the L. M. Crow & Sons, grocery store and meat market here in Friona.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnson, who live between Friona and Black, and holds a good business position in Amarillo to which place he took his bride soon after the wedding and where they will make their home.

Each of these splendid young people have a wide circle of friends in and near Friona, who wish for them a long life of happiness and prosperity, in which wish the Star most heartily joins.

Dr. R. R. Willis, who has been in Chicago for the past two weeks, returned home Monday.

MANY BINDERS SOLD HERE

Judging from the number of broadcast and row binders that have been sent out from our leading implement dealers this season there must be a good prospect for fairly good feed crops.

It appears that the broadcast binders are in the lead in demand, which suggests that there has been a considerable acreage of broadcast crops grown this season as well as a large acreage of row crops.

EAST FENCE IS RAIN DEAD LINE

H. L. McLain, of Black, was a business visitor here Tuesday afternoon and stated that they were still needing rain in his locality.

While it has been reported that good rains have fallen recently all the way from Hereford westward to Black, Mr. McLain said it had gone no farther than the east fence of his farm and that the east fence of his farm was the "rain dead line," and that it had been unable to get across the fence yet, the bars on the east side of the fence having been dripping wet while those on the west side of the fence were perfectly dry. Anyway it appears the are still needing rain there.

RHEA CLUB ENTERTAINS

Friona Home Demonstration Club was entertained by the Rhea Club Tuesday afternoon, August 27. Guests were received at the door and served punch by Charles Schlenker and Mrs. Hart.

The visitors were invited to take an airplane ride and the following cities were visited: Rovina, Canyon, Fort Worth, Galveston, San Antonio, Los Angeles, Reno, Horseshoe Falls, Chicago, Detroit, New York, Atlanta and Little Rock.

The good ship "Rhea," was piloted by Misses Rosella Dixon and Helen Schlenker, who also directed the games played on board. Miss Ruth Brown furnished the music and at the end of the ride refreshments of pink ice cream and white angel food cake were served by Mrs. Chas. Calloway and Mrs. R. H. Bonds, to the following guests and members.

Misses Cranfill, Chiles, Elroy Wilson, Watkins, Hamlin, Bruner, Chas. Schlenker, Floyd Schlenker, Brown, Ralph Wilson, Alderson, Fowler, Beardain, Hart and Dixon, and Misses Dorothy Bonds, Ruth Brown, Helen Schlenker, Genoyce and Rosella Dixon.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK PROCLAMATION

By Mayor F. W. Reeve

FIRE control is one of the most serious problems that confronts us today, by reason of the fact that it has taken a heavy toll in the number of people burned to death annually and by reason of the further fact that this form of waste has proven to be a heavy financial burden to each of our citizens.

FIRE, to a very large degree, is preventable by the proper application of education in fire prevention and fire protection.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, F. W. Reeve, Mayor of the City of Friona, do hereby proclaim the week of October 6 to 12, as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, during which week I most respectfully urge our civic and commercial organizations, our school officials and teachers, and our citizenship as a whole, to cooperate and work with the Fire Chief, Fire Marshal and city officials in an effort to control this useless loss of life and property by fire. Every home and place of business should be inspected carefully and all fire hazards removed.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I herunto sign my name and affix my seal of office on this 11th 2nd day of September, A. D. 1935.

(SEAL) F. W. REEVE, Mayor

LAKEVIEW NEWS

Miss Marian O'Brian, who has been attending the summer term at the W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon, came home on Friday of last week.

Roy Eastep is visiting friends here. Prof. and Mrs. Van B. Boston have returned to begin their seventh term of school here. All the people of the entire community are glad to have them back with us again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. W. Alexander and son, Lex, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gugin and son and daughter, Allen and Margaret, and John Charles spent Sunday in the Dave Mosley home.

Messrs. "Kenne" and Russell O'Brian and Misses Marian and Julia O'Brian were Amarillo visitors Friday of last week.

TRADES DAY LAST THURSDAY

One of the largest crowds that has attended a trades day in Friona was present at the one held last Thursday and everybody present seemed to be in the best of humor, although the sudden decline in the temperature made the weather almost too pleasant to be agreeable.

The usual number of presents were given away and their value to the average citizen under present economical conditions make these presents well worth coming for.

The next trades day will be held on Thursday, September 12, and all the people are cordially solicited to do their trading in Friona and thus make it worth their while to attend on that date.

BEAUTIFYING COUNTRY HOMES

The interest in a state wide movement to improve the farm and ranch homes of the state has caused eleven farmers to begin work on a landscape plan of shrubs, trees and flowers for their homes.

Cooperating with the home demonstration agent these people have made a detailed farm planting and arrangement plan which includes wind break plantings, screen plantings for out buildings, a smooth unbroken grass lawn, a background of trees and foundation plantings that tie the house into its surroundings. A work schedule has been made to propagate plants and complete the plantings planned at the end of three or four years. Plans are being made for a land exchange in early spring.

Those who have completed their yard plans are: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carroll, John Gammon and Roy Daniels of Lazbuddi, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Todd and Mrs. Ella Lipham of Homeland and Mr. and Mrs. G. Cranfill of Friona. Five others have listed their homes to be planned in the near future.

RHEA SINGING SCHOOL CLOSSES

A two weeks singing school closed Saturday night, August 31. The school was directed by Prof. Luther Rudd.

An average of 40 persons attended the school. A class organization was formed with Earl Bates as president, Miss Ruth Brown, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Genoyce Brown, leader.

STORK-O-GRAM

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jasper at their home here, a son, Thomas William.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

The Junior Woman's Club had their first meeting of the year at the home of Nat Jones with Mrs. F. B. Rayborn as hostess. There was a very interesting program given and then several guitar numbers given by the members. After the program refreshments were served to twelve members and the two guests.

familiar faces that have formed our faculty for the past few years. I shall try, however, to learn the new faces and associate the correct name with each face as they pass me upon the

to cultivate the acquaintance of each for somehow I seem to have a kind of a "feller feelin'" for school teach-to teach school away back in the old

"Dees Treek Schule" days; but Milady says no one would ever accuse or sus-butcher the English language like I do. But, be that as it may, I like to

And I hope they will all like Friwill enjoy their work and their stay

In the Poultry Yard

Shade is essential for all chicks during the hot season.

Check every nest late at night, so that no eggs will be overlooked.

Late chicks need artificial heat but a short time and can be turned out early.

Late chicks have to compete with older stock for range and sometimes mash.

Direct sunshine is cheap insurance against rickets in young chicks.

A lot of chicks are lost because they do not learn to eat, consequently they starve to death.

Poultrymen say eggs laid in spring keep better in cold storage than those produced in winter.

Tape-worms and flies frequently come together, and late chicks have a harder time to meet the problem.

read it off to the waiter."

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

For Sunday September 8, 1935

General Topic: LYDIA AND PRIS-CILLA (CHRISTIAN WOMEN IN INDUSTRIAL LIFE)

Scripture Lesson:— Acts 16:11-15; 18:1-3, 24-28.

Acts 16-11. Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis.

12. And from thence to Philippi, which city is of Macedonia, the first of the district, a Roman colony; and we were in this city tarrying certain days.

13. And on the sabbath day we went forth without the gate by a river side, where we supposed there was a place of prayer; and we sat down, and spake unto the women that came together.

14. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one that worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened to give heed unto the things which were spoken by Paul.

15. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

Acts 18:1. After these things he departed from Athens, and came to Corinth.

2. And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart Rome;
and he came unto them;

3. And because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tent makers.

24. Now a certain Jew named Anollos, an Alexandrian by race, an eloquent man, came to Ephesus; and he was mighty in the scriptures;

25. This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spake and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus, knowing only the baptism of John;

26. And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more accurately.

27. And when he was minded to pass over into Achaia, the brethren encouraged him and wrote to the disciples to receive him; and when he was come, he helped them much that had believed through grace;

28. For he powerfully confuted the Jews, and that publicly, showing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

Golden Text:— Give her of the fruit of her hands; And let her works praise her in the gates. (Prov. 31: 31)

INTRODUCTION

In modern American life we find a great host of women who are in business. The industrial group makes up a large part of our church family.
How may we provide a definite place for them? What part can these women have in the work of the kingdom? We may learn much from the characters of our lesson today. They rank high in the list of helpers and associates of Paul. Each made her contribution to the work. Each will be remembered as long as God's word continues to be read. Lydia and Priscilla are among the immortals because they answered Christ's challenge and consecrated themselves without reserve to his service.

POMEN AND WAGES

For many years women have demanded "equal pay for equal work", yet in most cases their earnings are still less than seventy per cent of men's. Women seek more individualistic than men, and many expect to work for only a few years. Yet single women often have to support aged parents, or younger brothers or sisters. Of all women workers 28.9 per cent are married.

PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

In 1882 Oberlin College opened its doors to women and since then many others have become available. Pioneer educated women overcame many of these obstacles. The first woman physician in the world was Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, who secured her degree in 1858. During her three years of study the women at her boarding house refused to speak to her, and, meeting her on the street, drew aside their skirts in contempt.
Today there are 1,400,000 professional women, of whom one-fifth are school teachers, one-fifth trained nurses. Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, is the first woman member of the Cabinet. Hattie Caraway, of Arkansas, was elected in 1928 as the first woman United States Senator.

LYDIA A BUSINESS WOMAN

Luke had given us a picture of Lydia in Acts 16. There is no further mention of her anywhere. In that chapter we are introduced to a woman who had come to Philippi from Thyatira, a city of Lydia. Though a stranger from Philippi she gradually built up a good business, employing a number of workers. Her city was famous throughout the Roman world for the fine purple cloth manufactured there.

LYDIA'S CONVERSION

While Paul preached, something happened that was more important than Alexander the Great's campaign in Macedonia. A decisive battle was fought and won, for the Lord has opened Lydia's heart and she listened to the message of the preacher until she knew enough to surrender her heart to Christ. It was God's part to open her heart. It was hers to listen to the message and let it sink into her heart. It was a great moment when she turned to Christ as Saviour and Lord. Life was changed for her and Christianity had won a foothold in Macedonia.

THE FAITHFUL PRISCILLA

In Paul's travels among the churches he found many workers who proved faithful to him. Among all if these Aquila and Priscilla take their place among the foremost of the faithful. It is probably that Priscilla was converted while in Rome and that she and Aquila were driven out from the great city under the order of the Emperor Claudius. These two faithful Christians fled to Corinth about the year 50 A. D. and had been about six months there before Paul came to Corinth from Athens. They were pleased when they heard Paul preach in their adopted city and immediately invited him to live with them and to become a partner in their business.

PAUL IN CORINTH (Acts 18:3-4)
For eighteen months this happy partnership continued. Paul preached and worked at the trade and enjoyed the fellowship of these fine people and friends. His successful ministry in Corinth was due in a large measure to the blessed help of Priscilla and Aquila. It was great training for them and they offered Paul the companionship, assistance, and strength that he needed so much during those trying months in Corinth.

WITH PAUL IN EPHESUS (Acts 18:18-21)

When the Jews made it too hot for Paul in Corinth he journeyed back to Jerusalem by way of Ephesus, with Priscilla and Aquila. They left him at Ephesus to establish a home there, and he journeyed the rest of the way alone. The Church at Ephesus met in the home of these friends, where it was probably established, and continued to meet there until it became too large to meet in a home.

PRISCILLA AN EFFICIENT
TEACHER (Acts 18:26)

As a teacher of Anollos this good woman demonstrated her ability as an instructor. The young preacher was eloquent and talented. He needed to know some things more accurately before he could become effective as a preacher. When Priscilla finished her work with him he was a powerful preacher of the Gospel.

FAITHFUL MISSIONARIES
THROUGH LIFE

After Paul left Ephesus we later hear of this couple in Rome again.
They went about a great deal but they always took Christ with them.
Whether in Rome, Corinth, or Ephesus, they always used their time to witness for their Saviour. They were successful in business and were able to preach Christ in the midst of their activities.

Think of the millions of people who are reading of this quiet couple today because they thought it worth while to give their best in witnessing.

Taking Action

"Has Crimson Gulch done anything about the crime wave?"

"Yes, sir," answered Cactus Joe.
"We law-abiders are being overworked.
Notice has been given that anybody who makes any more trouble for the grand jury is goin' to be socially ostracized."

Mutual Destruction

"National parties have always selected animals as their emblems."
"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum.
"I'm afraid that if candidates get into the habit of quarreling, the elephant, the donkey and all the rest of them will have to stand aside and make way for the Kilkenny cats."

SATISFACTION

"How do you like your new neighbors?"
"Great. We've lived in this apartment seven months now and none of them have bothered us yet."

Improbable

"I want to tell you of an adventure
I had last night."
"Is this a true story?"
"Of course."
"Then go ahead."
"I stopped to pay a bill, and—"
"I thought you said it was a true story?"

Too Much to Hope For

Daughter—My teacher is going to teach me domestic science.
Mother—You mean domestic science,
don't you?
Daughter—Maybe that is right.
Mother (sighing)—But I wish you had been right the first time.

Wary

"What you need is a press agent."
"No, sir," replied Senator Sorghum.
"I had one once. Folks found out about it; said they were beginning to like his ideas better than mine and maybe it might be a good thing to give him the job."

Too Long to Wait

Week-End Guest—I've made up my mind not to retire until I am seventy.
Sleepy Host (whose hints have been ignored)—In that case, old chap, I hope you won't mind if I turn in now.

NONE SUCH

"Do you know a party here by the name of Derbyshire?"
"No! There's no parties but tea parties an' bridge parties in dis town."

Good Explanation

Stranger—How does it happen that your name is Fisk and your mother's name is Perkins?
Boy—Well, she married again and I didn't.

THE HAUNTED ROOM

The guest was being shown to his bed in the haunted room by his host's faithful, but rather sinister-looking, retainer.

At the door of the room they paused. "B-b-by the way," said the guest, "has anything—er—unusual ever happened in connection with this room?" "Not for over 50 years, sir," said the servant hollowly.

"And what happened then?" asked the guest, with a sigh of relief.

"A gentleman who spent the night here appeared at breakfast the next morning," came the reply.—Answers Magazine.

SO WHAT

"I'm troubled with a buzzing noise in my ears all the time." "Have you any idea as to the cause?" "Yes, my wife wants an auto."

Appeal of Old Garments

The Sewing Center has been putting on a clothing drive this week.

Invitations were sent out to a tea the other afternoon. Each invitation bore the postscript: "Will you please bring an old garment?"

One of the ladies, accepting the invitation, wrote the committee:

"I shall be very glad to bring the old garment you require. But I regret to inform you that I shall be wearing it."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not Quite Ripe

Four-year-old Suzanne went to call on her aunt the other day and found that the pet cat had just had a litter of kittens.

Suzanne was entranced with one tiny kitten, and asked if she could take it home with her. Oh, no, the aunt explained—the little kittens weren't old enough to eat yet.

"I don't want to eat it," protested Suzanne. "I only want to play with it!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Good Salesman

"Yes, Jones is the most successful salesman I know."

"What's his latest success?"

"Yesterday he sold Mrs. Brown two dozen stair carpet rods."

"I don't see anything very wonderful in that."

"Neither did I until I realized that the Browns live in a bungalow."—Pearson's Weekly.

Absolutely No Risks

"This new airplane we are building in our factory is to be a honey," enthusiastically pronounced the young business man who was promoting it. "And it will be absolutely safe."

The older business man looked up and asked dryly: "Why, got it fixed so it can't leave the ground?"—Indianapolis News.

LOW BRIDGE

"So the doctor said that, outside of your leg, you were sound as a dollar?" "Yes; I had previously told him that that was all I had."

"Yes, mum," replied the convict. "Tempted by a handbag, and fell over a dog."—Stray Stories Magazine.

Enough Exercise

"From what you tell me you appear to lead a very sedentary life, and yet you're not flabby. You look, in fact, pretty fit."

"It's the exercise I get tossing about my business."

One Too Many

Teacher—How many sexes are there, James?

James—Three.

Teacher—Three? What are they?

James—Male sex, female sex and insects.—Capper's Weekly.

Scraps of Humor

COLD FACTS

In the dimly lit conservatory Herbert had asked Elsie to marry him. She had consented with fitting modesty.

"Bertie, dear," she murmured, "am I the only girl—"

"Now, look here, dearest," he interrupted, "don't ask me if you are the only girl I ever loved. You know as well as I do that—"

"Oh, that wasn't the question at all, Bertie," she answered. "I was just going to ask you if I was the only girl that would have you."—London Opinion.

Involuntary Servitude

"Are you going to assist in the distribution of relief funds?"

"As much as I can," answered Senator Sorghum.

"But without getting into politics?"

"My friend, out where I live anybody who has a say concerning three or four billions of dollars is in politics whether he likes it or not."

Put Out

Johnnie was gazing at his one-day-old brother, who lay squealing and wailing in his cot.

"Has he come from heaven?" inquired Johnnie.

"Yes, dear."

"No wonder they put him out."

GET GOING

Jimmy—Which of yer two fellers 'y gonna marry, sis?

Sister—Why do you want to know?

Jimmy—Well, I don't wanna waste my valuable time bothering with the wrong one.

Heaven Help Us!

Small Boy (visiting the senate chamber at Washington)—Does the chaplain pray for the senators?

Father—No, he comes in, looks around and then prays for the country.

Strategy

"Father," said the small boy, "what is psychology?"

"Psychology, my son, is a word of four syllables that you ring in to distract attention when the explaining gets difficult."

Apprehensive

"Has your boy made any progress in his studies?"

"Yes," answered Farmer Cornrossel; "he's doin' so well in his studies that I'm kind of afraid he's neglectin' his tennis an' horseback ridin'."

A Suitable Job

Collegiate—Father, I've decided to settle down and start raising chickens.

Father—Better take my advice and try owls, son. Their hours will suit you better.

HIS GOOD TURN

A long-haired man was accosted by a little bootblack: "Shine your shoes, sir?"

He was disgusted by the dirt on the lad's face.

"I don't want a shine, my lad," he said, "but if you'll go and wash your face, I'll give you six-pence."

"Righto, gov'nor," replied the boy, as he made his way to a neighboring fountain. Soon he returned, looking much cleaner.

"Well, my boy," said the long-haired one, "you have earned your sixpence; here it is."

"I don't want your sixpence, gov'nor," replied the boy. "You 'ang on to it and get your 'air cut."—Tit-Bits Magazine.

NO CHAIN LETTERS

She—You promised me when I married you that I could have everything money could buy.

He—Yes, and I thought you had the money.

THE ROMANS

Had A Phrase For It

"CAVEAT EMPTOR." meaning "Let the buyer beware." This was not used as a bit of balm to ease the ancient conscience nor, yet, was it placarded in the booths and stalls of the market-place. It was a piece of every-day knowledge, born of dear-bought experience.

A shopkeeper knew little about the source of his merchandise. This tunic he bought from a trader, who said it came from Byzantium. So he sold it as the latest Byzantian style. The trader told him the dye was pure Tyrian—it wouldn't fade. So he sold it as Tyrian dyed. But the buyer knew the responsibility was his own. If he guessed wrongly, or his judgment was poor, it was HIS hard luck.

Today, fortunately, there are safer guides than the blanket-warning to "let your eyes be your market."

These guides are the newspaper advertisements. In this newspaper, they are a catalog of the best values in town—signed by responsible firms. If the goods are not all that is claimed for them, their sponsors would need to "beware." For no business can thrive on a one-time sale, or on dissatisfied customers.

A signed advertisement is, in a way, like a promissory note. The advertiser has made a statement, and affixed his signature as a sign of good faith.

So, read the advertisements before you start out on a buying trip. Make this habit, and see how much you save . . . in time, in temper, in money, in shoe-leather.
