Might Get Your Next Year's Kindling Here

Here's a part of a letter to Congressman W. R. Poage, regarding kindling from scrap lumber at North Camp Hood. The letter is quoted only in part, and was written by Major General E. Reybold, Chief of Engineers, War Department, Washington.

Incidentally, a lady, Mrs. A. B. Rogers of Gatesville wrote Congressman Poage asking if she could get scrap lumber, if available at North Camp Hood.

This part of the General's letter, might be informational, too. "Your action in advising Mrs. Rogers that the Army does not destroy scrap lumber is appreciated, for it is the consistent policy of the War Department to make every effort to dispose of scrap lumber before it is burned. As you know, the policy of the Department is to have all waste lumber at Army Posts and Stations sorted and separated from lumber having salvage value. Lumber which has a salvage value is used or sold in accordance with existing regulations. Scrap lumber which can be used for kindling on the project is turned over to the Commanding Officer or is given to charitable organizations or individuals without cost to the Government. Scrap wood which cannot be disposed of by any of these methods is then burned.

"If Mrs. Rogers will contact the Area Engineer at Camp Hood, it is believed that she will be able to obtain such scrap lumber as is available for use on her farm. A copy of communication has been sent to the Area Engineer, Camp Hood, who will be glad to cooperate with Mrs. Rogers.

It's nearly Summer, and we're sure the Army would like to move whatever "scrap" they can't use, and now'd be a good time to get it before it gets cold, and you run out of gas and tires.

Little, But Loud! Local "MP" Is Double Champ

The "loud" part of this particular MP is not the noise kind. No, he's not noisy, but he "noze" his way around with the gloves.

Friday night, in a bout with a boy who'd won 148 professional fights, he won the Featherweight title of Camp Hood on a 3-round decision.

Earlier he won the Bantam-weight title of the Camp with a 1st round KO.

This man, who patrols Gatesville's streets in the interest of law and order among the service men is Cpl. Bill Devoto, who comes from St. Looie.

Our guess, is he's just about 5 feet tall, and don't weigh too

Coryell County Boy Jap Prisoner In Philippines

Not a scratch in 15 month, until Saturday, when Adjutant General Ulio wired Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Whatley of Pidcoke, that their son, Pvt. Willard H. Whatley was a prisoner of war in the Philippines.

The telegram read: YOUR SON PVT. WILLARD H. WHATLEY REPORTED A PRISONER OF WAR OF THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT IN THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS. LETTER FOLLOWS.

That's still not good news, but it is considerably better than not hearing at all, and thinking something worse. A squadron in the last war used a slogan, "Where There's Life, There's Hope", which is always the case.

And, even THEN people hesitate to buy Bonds!

Lt. Steve Lindley Honored Twice, Says Odessa

He isn't theirs, and then, guess he is, since his mother, Mrs. Lee Simpson lives there.

Anyway, Lt. Stephen H. Lindley Jr., in the Ft. Worth Star Telegram was credited with being from Odessa, and here's what they say about him.

"White" Bonnets Are Coryell Co. Specialty

Texas' State Flower is the Bluebonnet, and we guess Coryell County's will have to be the "Whitebonnet".

Yes, there are WHITE bonnets, and they grow in Coryell County.

Mrs. Bill Manning brought them in to Mrs. J. B. Graves, Florist, and they are WHITE and they grew wild near Gatesville.

Now, if there ever was a different county, and a county with the "difference" is in Coryell county, and even yesterday, via air, it was announced that 170,000 acres now compose Camp Hood, and the Army selected most of it out of THIS county, and they're to have 100,000 men in the camp all told. This according to Col. C. M. Thirkeld.

Gosh, what a County!

much, but he can really "throw" Buny Shaffer was a Killeen visitor Wednesday.

Camp Hood, Texas

Another company of WAACs is scheduled to report for duty at Camp Hood this week-end. Ninety five members of the 164th company, which arrived two weeks ago, were sent this week to Camp Bowie to be attached to the Tank Destroyer Basic Unit Training Center, which will be moved into North Camp Hood in May.

A company of WAACs also has been assigned to McCloskey General hospital but will not be sent until quarters have been erected for them.

Lieut. Col. C. E. Frederick, commanding officer of the Officer Candidate School department at Camp Hood has returned from a course, at the General Staff and Command School at Fort Leavenworth.

Major W. H. Badgett, post administrative officer, left Thursday to attend the same school. During his absence his duties will be handled by Lieut. Col. E. A. Dunnam, post billeting and construction officer.

A spring baseball program reminiscent of the big leagues is being prepared by Lt. Murrell Miller, athletic director of the student regiment, Camp Hood. The lieutenant and his assistant, Corp. Alan Rose, will select the squad from among 800 men, bringing the student regiment team around in top shape in the next three weeks.

OCS regiment promotions last week were: Lt. Howard Bradbury, Jr., commanding officer of the 2nd company to captain; from 2nd to first lieutenant, John Quinn Jr., Maurice Hill, Robert Ross, Hadley E. Ray, Harold Chapman.

Tactics department officers, TDS have chosen titles worthy of their eight volleyball teams, telescoped into four when baseball or football is played. The four large teams and their captains are: "The Seekers," Lt. Col. J. R. Freyer-muth; "The Destroyers," Major L. J. Mansager; "The M-10's," Major L. W. Seeton; and "The Super-Dupers," Major C. G. Koellner.

Lt. Wayne Eubank, who majored in public speaking and sociology at three educational institutions presents current events to TDS personnel, discussing war trends and news developments. He has his BA degree from West Texas State Teachers college, his master's degree from Northwestern, and his PH.D. from Louisiana State university. The lieutenant toured Europe in 1938, studying social and political conditions and visiting Europe's outstanding universities.

Cpl. and Mrs. Henry Bowie of Camp Hood, are the proud parents of Miss Mary Margaret, born Tuesday, April 6 at McClosky hospital, Temple. They are making their home in Gatesville.

Capt. Shull Irvin, who will be Post Adjutant, it is said, at North Camp Hood, is the proud papa of another little daughter, also, born in McClosky Hospital, Temple.

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts—it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives—you lend your money.

BUSY DAYS AHEAD

For Your Electric Refrigerator

Better Check it Over Now!

All winter long your refrigerator has been loafing along using only a fraction of its cold-making capacity, but the coming of warm weather means it will have to work longer and harder to protect your perishables. Food spoilage is taboo in these days of rationing, so give your refrigerator the care it needs to operate at peak efficiency. Don't let neglect rob you of vital food protection!

FOLLOW THESE POINTERS ON REFRIGERATION CARE

- Defrost whenever frost becomes 1/4-inch thick.
- Cover all liquids. Keep defrosting tray dry.
- Don't set cold control any higher than necessary. Use quick freezing sparingly.
- Make sure door gasket seals tightly. Keep free of grease.
- Don't crowd shelves. Air circulation is vital to efficiency.
- Don't store hot foods. Let them cool first.
- Don't open door oftener than necessary. And close it quickly.
- Keep refrigerator clean, condenser coils dust-free.
- Oil open unit models periodically as instructed. Sealed units need no oiling.

WINGTON
NEWS

CONGRESSMAN

W. R. POAGE

April 16, 1943
Dear Friends:

At the time this is written the House is still working on the Agricultural Appropriation Bill. This measure is of vital interest to the people of our section. As this is an appropriations Committee. This is prepared by a Sub-Committee of the Appropriations Committee on Agriculture of the House. There has been considerable dispute in regard to the action of this Sub-Committee. Personally, I feel that the Sub-Committee has exceeded its power in a number of instances and has done substantial injury to the interests of agriculture. The Sub-Committee greatly reduced the total sum appropriated for agricultural purposes. In fact, this bill involves a reduction of approximately 45% of the amount appropriated for the same purposes last year. Undoubtedly many of these reductions are justified, but I feel that some of them go much too far. For instance, the bill undertakes to completely wipe out "parity payments", crop insurance and a number of other items that have been very helpful to our farmers in the past. Most of us have long realized that it would be impossible to continue to get these payments. In the long run, the farmer must in my opinion get the value of his products in the market places and not from the government. If some of the "experts" here are given their way, they will keep the price of farm products down and give the farmer so-called incentive payments for the moment in an effort to get production that way rather than allowing fair farm price. Some farmers seem willing to accept this proposal, but I want to warn every farmer in Central Texas that if this is done, his prices will be disastrously low the day the war ends.

Another item of general interest to our section is the provision in regard to Rural Electrification. The bill cuts the funds for this purpose by 33 percent compared to last year. The last year's funds were only a fraction of what they had previously been because of necessary reduction in the construction of R.E.A. lines due to the shortage of cooper. Most everyone knows that the R.E.A. operations have been responsible for the great development of electrical service in the rural areas of our country. Prior to the establishment of the R.E.A. very few private power companies would supply electricity to farm houses at any price, and when they did, the cost was too great for the average family. The private companies said there was no profit in rural business. As soon as the R.E.A. was established, the private utilities began to offer service in the most thickly settled rural areas. At the same time they began to reduce their rates. As R.E.A. developed, the rates of the private companies were further reduced. With the creation of the Brazos Transmission Coop, the private utilities cut their rates to rural cooperatives by approximately 60 per cent throughout Central Texas. To my mind these rate reductions clearly justify the work of the R.E.A. and of the Brazos Cooperative. Incidentally, the R.E.A. makes no grants to anyone. It only lends money to farmer cooperatives. These loans are being repaid. Unfortunately the war effort needs all the copper we can produce; therefore, we cannot, until the war is over, expand or even complete existing R.E.A. Systems, but we do need to keep this agency in operation both to hold down the price of electrical energy and in order to be ready to carry on the program of conveying cheap electricity to all farmers as soon as the war is over.

The House is still in session (p. m.) and we are still considering the bill; so it is impossible to state at this time just what action will be taken on the various items involved. I sincerely hope, however, that those of us interested in the welfare of the farmers will be able to protect the reasonable interests of agriculture.

Yours for Victory,
W. R. Poage.

Aid to Enemy

"Any American who wilfully neglects to pay his taxes on time or to invest every cent he can in War Bonds is surely giving aid and comfort to the enemy . . . We have a job to do and we are all called for service to our country. Our dollars are called to service too. Let us all ask ourselves, 'Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?'" — Secretary Morgenthau.

HILDA --:-- ALIVE

By SAMMY LILLIBRIDGE
An Original Story

What Has Gone Before

Jack Tobin and the Kid are touring the country exhibiting a "Geek" or fake wild man. The Kid as warned by an old timer, when he first joined Tobin, to go home, but chose to stay.

They have had many adventures and met quite a few strange characters, some good, some bad. The Kid is beginning to believe that the old timer knew what he was talking about.

In the preceding installment the Kid met a pick-pocket and a few other shady characters.

We find Jack and the Kid still at the Fairs exhibiting "Hilda", world's strangest creature alive.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

Business was going on as usual at the Geek show, Jack and the Kid and the Geek working every day, but the Kid found plenty of time to visit the different shows and rides, and at every fair there was a new one or so, as well as the ones he'd already seen, and of course, it didn't cost the Kid anything to see them, or ride the rides either for that matter, (and the latter sure was a big help in picking up a girl, just spot one, take her for a ride or two and she was all yours; of course you had to know by looking at them which ones to pick, but you soon learn which ones to pick after seeing all kinds of people all the time). He spent lots of time in the shows, of course the girl show is barred to all the Carnys, but that didn't bother the Kid, anyhow what's the use of just looking at a girl when there are plenty you can have just for the asking and you don't have to ask twice and sometimes not at all.

The Kid had always been attracted to midgets, since he had seen Mike and Ike, years ago, so naturally he spent quite a bit of time around the midget shows, whenever there happened to be one playing the same fair he was. He became friendly with quite a few of them; one in particular was a colored midget named Henry. Henry was a little man with big ideas, at least he was married to a large woman at least three times his size. He was a whisky drinking man and when he was lit up he must have thought he was nine feet tall, because he'd pick out the biggest person he could find and try to pick a fight; and could that little rascal eat, he'd put away as big a man sized steak as any lumber jack with the possible exception of Paul Bunyon, who ever lived.

The Kid and Henry went thru a rather peculiar experience together one time, sort of victims of circumstances, as it were.

Henry, his wife, the Kid and Joe, an itinerant sign painter, and a fellow the sign painter had picked up, were sitting drinking in a beer garden together one night, and as it was getting late, they all went their different ways. The next morning the Kid was awakened by three policemen who had the sign painter in custody, and had a man's coat, he was asked to identify, not being able to identify it the Kid went back to sleep. Later he found out that the fellow, he and the painter and Henry and his wife had been with him the night before had gotten into trouble, the fellow who had no connection with the fair was caught and properly sentenced to a long term.

Then there was Little Tom, a midget who was married to a normal-sized woman, and who had two sons, both normal. When the youngest was six years old he was bigger than his father.

Another was Major Jackson, he and the Kid became great pals and it always amused Jack when the Major, who only came up to the Kid's waist, would come over to the Geek show and ask: "Jack, where's the little fellow who works here?"

Also a great friend of the Kid's was John the Ossified man; a man who had in truth turned to stone, but he was still alive and could move one of his arms a very little bit, his teeth were locked shut and the only nourishment he could take was liquid such as broth, milk, etc.

He had been a driller in the oil fields until this strange malady came on him, and to judge by his two brothers, with whom the Kid became acquainted, must have been a big, strong fellow at one time, but now he was absolutely helpless, but not complaining, in fact he was one of the most cheerful fellows the Kid had ever been around. It was a pleasure to sit with him. It seemed to the Kid that those whom Fate had dealt the most cruelly, were the happiest and most content with their lot.

One of the first things he would say to the Kid when he would visit him, would be, sing me a song, Kid, and many a pleasant hour would be spent with ossified man when all the show folks would congregate in his tent and sign and play music and he would join in maybe not as loud but as heartily as the rest.

He wasn't above taking a drink now and then either, and one of standard jokes was: I never get drunk, cause no one ever saw me stagger. There he was flat on his back, no hope at all, and joking about it, if everybody did as this fellow did, not just give up when the going got tough, man what a fine world this would be.

The Kid never tired of visiting the different shows and talking to the people connected with them. The one man band was always a source of amazement for him. How one man could play a trumpet, trombone, accordion, violin and about twenty other instruments at one time was beyond him; sure the fellow had them fixed upon a truck, but he had to fix all the instruments so that a slight move here and a twist there would play them. The Kid was ready to make book that if the fellow ever tore the gadget down he couldn't put it back together himself.

The tattooed man was another one of his favorites. That fellow was really a walking, talking art gallery. He didn't just have a lot of little tattoos like sailors, he had real pictures of art on him. He had a neck band tattooed around his neck, and arm bands around his wrists, and everywhere else he was tattooed. He had the Battle of Bunker Hill on the front of his big torso, and the Reincarnation of Christ tattooed on his back. His legs and arms were covered with snakes, pirate girls, flags, and almost any kind of a picture you could think of. When he had it done he told the Kid he couldn't get very much put on in one day; sort of had to take it easy, and when the fellow tattooed his chest it sounded to him like a freight train sounds when it goes over a bridge.

Business was pretty good this season, it seems as though most people were afraid of losing or forgetting their social security numbers, so they got them tattooed onto themselves.

Yes the Kid got a tattoo, but a little one, no Battle of Bunker Hill, or Eagle flying across the chest for him, the little one hurt bad enough.

This fellow could draw some fine pictures too, by getting a white thing covered with soot and making lines with his fingers.

There was the jig show or Plantation Show, the colored review, with colored singers, dancers and end men, all the Carnys liked to visit this show as often as possible as negroes are fine entertainers and like nothing better than to show off in front of other show people; and on Saturday night they put on the big midnight rambles, the Carnys never missed this one, it was really red hot.

Those people seemed to really enjoy life and a crap game or card game was always going on in the jig show; and if anyone wanted to find anything out, such as where a bootlegger was, they went straight to the jig show as it seems the dark members of this race we call human, has a genius for finding things like that out.

The Kid was friends with the Albino people in the Albino Village. Albino's why they're people with white hair and jink eyes. No there's no whole race of them or a country named Albino, it's a Latin word meaning white. They are handicapped too, you see, they can't see so very well, their eyes are weak, and the people who ran the mechanical village and all the other show people too for that matter, everybody was his friend, but there was one fellow in particular he liked almost as well as he did Jack Tobin, and that is saying a whole lot, he was Al Simmons, and if opposites attract, here was indeed proof.

The Kid was short and talkative, and Al was tall and silent, hardly ever talking to anybody. The Kid and the Kid got to be real friends. He had the Mickey Mouse show, now you've seen one of those, haven't you? Where a bunch of people around a little merry-go-round and see-saws, and bunnies, and things? Not just see-saws but white ones and red ones, and all colored ones. Well the show Al had and he was making money with it too. He hadn't always been making money, no sir, he'd lived for a few days on fire. He bought a new coat of red and drank a bottle of wine, but he told the Kid about the third or fourth day he began to feel a little of funny. He said, at least I don't little money and bought a lot of cheap jewelry and sold it at fairs, sleeping in his car and saving every penny he could until he could buy a machine to engrave the Lord's Prayer on a penny. This in turn bought him the Mickey Mouse circus and he was saving all the money he made with it, so that he could buy an animal show.

This seemed to be the way with all real show people, the Kid met, always trying to get something better than they had, trying to improve their present circumstances, asking no one for anything, depending wholly on their own resources.

Here was this fellow who'd been desperately hungry, but too proud to beg. A self-respect like that was worth having, thought the Kid.

CORYELL CO. WAAC
QUOTA 15: COME ON,
GIRLS

Sgt. Robert Hodges was in the News office last week and said the WAAC quota for Coryell county for the period April 1 to June 30 was 15 WAACs.

As far as we know, Coryell county is only represented in this organization by 2 WAACs, and one more going in soon.

Sgt. Hodges will be here Friday of this week to talk it over, and if you girls are interested, he'll be at the post office between 1 and 4 o'clock.

Too, if there are any prospective aviation cadets, construction men or mechanics who want in the service, you can get yours then, too.

Workers in a Michigan refinery fixed up a very low, false door leading to the pay office. On it is inscribed, "You will learn to duck lower if you don't buy a Bond."

Hershal Williams, and brother, Charles Williams, two little colored boys, put on a Harlesem zoot zuit act, and demonstrated the local Harlem's idea of the dance routines. They were paid by coins being thrown on the floor, which really brought forth the rhythm.

Also, there was singer, Pvt. Louis Simon, of the Quartermaster D. M. L. 18 48 of North Camp Hood, and was aided and assisted by his "manager" Cpl. Mark Tibbitts, after his agent's fee of 10 per cent which he got, and which was nothing. Anyway, as the songs came past our bed time (old folks) we didn't hear them.

Also, there was the usual "jive session" with the Camp Hooders furnishing half of the contortions and the local USO Club girls the better half. Refreshments were served in The Gren Room.

THE 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

Come on,
Let's WIN this war!

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

If we should lose the war, life would not be worth living.

"But we won't lose it," you may say.

Listen, brother—in this world nothing's sure, unless you make it so.

This month it's up to us here at home to do our part, and then some, to make Victory surer—and quicker! To do it, we've got to lend Uncle Sam 13 billion extra dollars.

It isn't easy—but war isn't easy and Victory isn't cheap. It takes money—and more money—to buy planes, ships, tanks, guns and a million other things our boys must have to deliver that final, paralyzing knock-out punch.

And it's a whale of a lot easier for us at home to lend our money than for our boys to fight through the hardships and dangers of deserts, swamps, jungles, ice-fields and sub-infested seas!

There are 7 different types of U. S. Government securities—choose the ones best suited for you!

Just think! Every extra bond you buy will help provide the weapons to save the lives of many American boys! Isn't that alone worth every effort, every economy you can make? You bet it is!

There are 7 types of U. S. Government securities to meet the needs of every purse. They offer the finest investment in the world—liberal interest, plus securities guaranteed by Uncle Sam himself.

A volunteer worker for the 2nd War Loan Drive may visit you soon. Welcome this unselfish patriot—and buy all the bonds you can. But don't wait for that call. Go—today—to your bank, investment dealer, broker, post office or bond booth and invest to your uttermost limit. Even if it hurts, it's nothing compared to the agonizing impact of a bayonet thrust, a flesh-tearing torpedo fragment or a bone-crushing bullet.

So dig deep, brother, and do it NOW!

THEY GIVE THEIR LIVES... YOU LEND YOUR MONEY!
