OFFICIALS FIGHT POSSIBLE POLIO IN CORYELL COUNTY

TO THE PEOPLE OF GATESVILLE AND CORYELL COUNTY
There now is in several Sections and Counties adjacent to Gatesville and Coryell County many cases of poliomyelitis (Infantile paralysis). There is a possibility of this disease spreading into Coryell County and the County Judge and Commissioners' Court of Coryell County, the mayor and City Commissioners of Gatesville, the City Health Officer, County Health Officer and the Directors of the Central Texas Health Department desired that steps be taken to combat this menace.

Until recently it was thought that the poliomyelitis was conveyed by discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis is primarily another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must emphasize clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Strict sanitary measures must be observed in all communities. Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the house-fly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitoes and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Safe water supplies must be assured. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to promote and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should, under rigid supervision, maintain those standards approved by the Texas State Department of Health. This necessarily includes maintenance of proper chlorine level. Where such standards are not maintained, those pools should be closed immediately.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from flies, filth and insects. All eating and food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State Law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. In the present emergency, those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation should close one or two hours a

NYLON AND SILK HOSE CAMPAIGN OPENED THURSDAY

Ladies, they're after your nylon and silk!
Not the good ones, if any, but those discarded.

Mrs. Turk Brown is the local chairman for the drive and these will be used to make parachutes and powder bags for the big guns. The reason they're so useful, and why they can't be beat for this purpose is they burn completely, leaving no ashes.

And, too, there's no limit on this, no rationing, and you can deposit as many pairs as you may have, or if you haven't pairs, the singles will be O.K. The drive is continuous, but the Army, Navy and Marines need them now!

EARL HUDDLESTON IS IN AUSTIN WORKING ON AGED ASSISTANCE

A note from Representative Earl Huddleston is as follows:
"I was called to Austin this week by Committee on Old Age Assistance of which I was author in the last session. The purpose of this committee is to try to see that the aged people and taxpayers are given a fair deal in the state.

"The committee had the State Welfare Board Members before committee and also Mr. Murchinson who is acting as Director. The House of Representative members and quite a few members of the State Senate are of the opinion that a new Director should be selected and have requested the Board, but up to date this has not been done. They said Monday that this should be done soon. It is fair that the Social Security Board in Washington has some regulations which they claim have not been complied to by the Legislature but we are doing all we can to get to the root of the trouble and then have it corrected. This committee is still working and will have a statement later I am sure. I assure you that I will do all possible to see that justice is done for all concerned.

Sincerely,
Earl Huddleston,
Rep. 94th District."

Mr. and Mrs. Howard are vacationing at Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Aubrey Collins was operated on Wednesday morning. She is in the hospital convalescing.

Mrs. E. T. Mayes, Sr., and daughter, Louise, went to Waco shopping last week. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Mayes, Jr., and daughter, Kay.

Witt was on vacation. Burnard Lauderdmilk of Waco is here transacting business this week.

40 CIO OIL WORKERS TO VISIT CAMP HOOD

Forty members of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) will go to Camp Hood Thursday on the invitation of Lt. Gen. Brehon Somervell, commanding general of the Army Service Force.

Purpose of the visit is to "show the workers how the oil and gas they produce are being used by the Army and to develop a closer relationship between the battle front and the home front," O. A. Knight, union president said.

The visitors will be there Thursday.

Pfc. L. Z. Edwards who is stationed at Kelly Field, recently was a visitor in the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Comer.

Tom L. Robinson Dies "In Action" In Court Room

Tom L. Robinson, 52, of Gatesville, died of heartfailure at 3:30 p. m., Wednesday while reading a paper before a jury in the district court room.

Mr. Robinson about two weeks ago had had an heart attack and had been in only fair health for a year or more.

He was a practising attorney here for many years, and had been district attorney, court reporter and a teacher. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Gatesville and a member of the Masonic Lodge, Gatesville.

Funeral services will be held this morning at 10:00 a. m., at the First Baptist Church, conducted by Reverend Lawrence Hayes, and interment will be in the Masonic Cemetery.

His immediate family besides his wife are Miss Harriett Robinson of Gatesville, Tom L. Robinson Jr., of Seattle, Washington, Joe Reese Robinson, who is in the U. S. Army in New Guinea.

He leaves, also two sisters, Miss Annie Robinson and Mrs. John Alexander, both of Gatesville and two brothers, Charlie Robinson, who lives in Baird and Miller Robinson of Abilene.

Mr. Robinson was an excellent lawyer, a quiet and unassuming family man, and a leader in civic and church activities. His passing leaves the local bar without one of its outstanding members. He was well known thruout Central Texas as a brilliant lawyer, especially in criminal law.

Mrs. J. D. Cole and son visited last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Marshall.

Mrs. Fred Mika and daughter, Judy, of De Leon, are visiting her grandmother, Mrs. R. L. Suggs. Mrs. Mika was formerly Miss Mildred Pattillo of this city.

Mrs. Grace Barber of Denton is visiting Mrs. R. L. Suggs.

Miss Katy Bell is visiting in Marshall, Texas with her neices, Mrs. Cary Faust and Mrs. M. A. Greene.

J. C. Graham of Chicago visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gartman, of Purlmela and his sisters in Gatesville.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF LEGION THURSDAY NIGHT: CAN DRIVE

Post Commander, J. D. Brown, Jr., calls a meeting of American Legion and ex-service men for Thursday night, August 12 at 8:30 p. m. at the district court room in the courthouse.

A proposition is before the American Legion to collect tin cans for copper salvage. It has been suggested that the proceeds be used to finance the Legion's program for service to soldiers in our midst and in the battlefields. Our post is not doing its part and this is our chance. We want volunteers to look after collecting the cans and getting them to collection points, according to Mr. Brown.

"Don't pass this up and let George do it. George is just as busy as you are. We need a few real workers in every community in the county. The tin cans going to waste in Coryell County will furnish enough copper for a Flying Fortress every 30 days and there is an acute shortage of copper. The collection and disposal of these cans will help the clean up drive as most of the trash is cans. Save your cans, but come to the Legion Meeting next Thursday night, August 12, and do your best in this drive.

If you can't come, drop a card or letter, Legion Member, to Carl McClendon, Post Adjutant and tell him that he can count on you."

TD OFFICER DIES SUDDENLY AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Lt. Col. Daniel W. Smith, commanding officer of the 653rd tank destroyer battalion at Camp Hood, died suddenly at McCloskey general hospital Tuesday, after a very brief illness.

Colonel Smith was one of the original tank destroyer officers, and previous to his recent command was with the 894th tank destroyer battalion, one of the first.

A U.S. military academy graduate in the class of 1933, Col. Smith was the son of Major Gen. Frederick H. Smith. His wife and three children have been living in Temple, at the Ramona courts.

Services were held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at Christ Episcopal church, with interment to be at Arlington National cemetery at Washington.

Miss Betty Jean Rutherford returned home Tuesday night. She has been visiting in Plainview.

NORTH EAST WEST SOUTH

A SUMMARY OF WORLD, NATIONAL AND STATE NEWS

PROBE PRODUCTION LAGS

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP).—Members of the Truman war investigating committee, beginning an aerial twing thru the south and midwest to visit Aircraft modification plants, projected today an inquiry to determine whether the current failure to reach war production quotas can be charged to over-confidence or changeover in equipment. Or, we might say, just plain loafing.

SONLON WANTS DRAFT ORDER MODIFIED

Belton, Mont. Aug. (UP).—Congress will be asked to end its summer recess and reconvene immediately unless War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt modifies a new order, permitting drafting of fathers after Oct. 1, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, democrat, Montana, threatened tonight.

STRIKE VOTED, 1ST BALLOT

Springfield, Ill. Aug. 4 (AP).—In the nation's first election under the Smith-Connally law designed to forestall work stoppages in wartime, a majority of the employees of two Allis Chalmers manufacturing Company plants here voted today in favor of a strike. Now, we vote in favor of lowering the "Selective Service" boom on them.

TAX MEASURE DISCUSSION STOPPED

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP).—Postponment of House ways and means consideration of the new and bigger war time general tax bill until the law for renegotiation of war contracts has been reviewed for possible amendments, was agreed Wednesday by congressional tax leaders, a reliable source reported.

NAZI SEND ARMY TO PO AREA

London, Aug. 4 (AP).—Reports emerging from the Italian press and radio and from neutral observers in Switzerland and Sweden indicated Wednesday that Marshall Pietro Badoglio's regime was binding Italy closer to the Axis and was stiffening the will to fight on.

ALLIES ADVANCE WEST OF ETNA

N. Africa, Aug. 4 (AP).—Under cover of a shattering fire from naval artillery, hundreds of planes and massed field guns, American, Canadian and British forces again have torn mile-deep holes in the crumbling Mount Etna line across the tip of Sicily.

GERMANS EVACUATE OREL

London, Aug. 5, (AP).—The Germans admitted Thursday that Orel, Nazi keystone defense city on the Russian front, had been evacuated.

ALLIES TAKE CATANIA

(via radio)

Yesterday morning's radio announced the British 8th Army had taken Catania, one of the tougher spots in Sicily. Meanwhile warships off the coast shelled the mountains north of Catania, causing avalanches, which cut off the retreat of the Nazis. Canadians and Americans also shelled by artillery fire other roads running north from Catania, leaving the Nazis bottled up, and they will have to surrender, or die.

FROM

North Camp Hood

SNAKEROI

One of the most popular men in North Camp Hood's Headquarters Company Personnel Office is Sgt. Lawrence Marino, master of the payroll and keeper of the keys (to an enlisted man's happiness).

But Marino is more popular than ever now because of his display of intrepidity. This Goliath of the DEML, man amongst men and peer of Headquarters' soldiers, has red a commendation from the men in Barracks No. 10335 for his great feat of strength and display of bravery above the line of duty one night last week.

"Said Marino," reads the citation drawn up by T/Sgt Bill Barry, sergeant major of the Personnel Section, and signed by every man in the barracks, "did with no malice aforethought toy gently with a beautiful serpent, a varicolored model with alternate bands of black and orange. Only after he had tired of the sport and thoughtfully dispatched the 'wiggler' with a rock did Marino discover he had been playing with a deadly coral snake, one of the vipor family.

"This citation for bravery is issued because Marino, while turning ghastly pale and blanching for the balance of the night, did not faint; more than that, the following morning he was able to sit up and take light nourishment—his usual quota of four packages of cereal, three fried eggs and seven pieces of toast.

All hail to Marino, king of the coral snakes!

HABBER DABBER NIGHT

Habber Dabber night, instituted by 1st Lt. John L. Slezinger and Sgt. George Hall of the Replacement Training Center special services office, has proven to be a howling success and will be continued as a regular Monday night feature at the Central Recreation Hall, 11th and Park Avenue.

The second show in the series was held last night, spotlighting the 138th Bn. band, formed by Lt. Francis Coonan. This band is a variety show in itself and features some fine instrumentalists. Among the other artists were Pvts. Pikulski, Dubalde, "Sgt. Swami", Cpl. Hines, Pvt. Rodiki and Sgt. Hall. Sgt. Beverly Cletcher and T/5 Louella Nichols, WAACs, were enthusiastically received, and Jean Cates of station hospital personnel sang blues and ballads.

The show played to a packed Rec. Hall and a most enthusiastic audience.

Any North Camp soldier, WACs included, and civilian employes interested in participating in future Habber Dabber nights may contact Lt. Slezinger or Sgt. Hall at the Central Rec. Hall, 11th St. and Park Ave.

PICNIC NCH GIGGERS

A woman walked out of the cafeteria at the North Camp 12th St. Service Club with a tray filled with food. The waitress who saw her ran and reported the matter to Miss Hallie Lindsey, assistant hostess, who promptly instituted a search which finally brought her to the far side of the adjacent Guest House. There, blithely seated under a large shade tree was the young lady and her soldier husband, feasting away picnic fashion. It seems that inasmuch as soldiers in fatigues are not allowed in the club, this dutiful wife served her hubby al fresco.

Miss Lindsey promptly retrieved the tray and left the picnickers to themselves. All's well that ends well—chiggers notwithstanding.

NCH DOWNS FLYERS

North Camp Hood's boxing team the Tank Destroyers, visited Waco last Wednesday night to meet the Waco Air Field boxing team, much to the latter's regret. The Air force has finally met something that can stop them, for the TD's returned to camp with one knockout, three technical knockouts and one unanimous decision under their belts, while the Wacoites had to be satisfied with one popular decision, one very unpopular decision—the match where Pvt. Dick Cook, Hq. Co., RTC, weighing 135, went up against Pvt. Virgil Yates of WAAF, who weighed 160; Cook bored in and carried the fight all the way, but the decision was awarded to Yates—and a 3rd decision which seemed a little raw.

To wind up the card Corporal Joe Muscato, ranking heavy-weight contender in the United States, who coaches the Tank Destroyers, put on a three round exhibition bout with Pvt. Kid Tilly of WAAF. It was obvious that Muscato was holding back—if he had ever let go Tilly would still be in the clouds.

Fight fans saw one of the best fight cards ever given in Waco. The Tank Destroyer team will return to Wright's Arena in Waco this Wednesday night to take on the Blackland Army Air Field team and next week, August 11th, the TDs will fight a suit match, with four boys of WAAF and a like number of WAAF.

MISS CHAMLEE HONORED AT DINNER

Mrs. Annabel Chamlee entertained last Thursday evening with a dinner to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Dorothy, to Lieutenant Earl Wilson of Richmond, Va. The table was laid with an exquisite Madeira luncheon and Belleek china vases filled with dwarf dahlias were placed at points about the reception suite. Folded place cards decorated with wedding bells rested in Dresden holders and inside was written the announcement "Teeny-Chuck, August 13".

A menu of fried chicken, hot rolls, tomatoes stuffed with cottage cheese, buttered asparagus, potato chips, olives, pickles iced tea and pie was served.

Those enjoying this affair were Misses Mary Jane Slone, Harriette Robinson, Martha Lou Philips, Josephine McClellan; Mesdames C. L. Kirby, Jr., Sam Robinson, Hal Anderson and the honoree.

The wedding will take place at the First Baptist church on August 13, at 10:00 a. m. and friends of the family are invited to be present.

GOVERNOR STEVENSON'S PROCLAMATION URGES RETURN OF DEPOSIT BOTTLES. In the proclamation, just issued by Governor Stevenson, Texans are urged, during the month of August, to conserve the existing supply of returnable deposit bottles by returning them promptly to the dealers. Governor Stevenson's proclamation points out that the general public, by returning idle milk, carbonated beverage, and beer bottles, which can be sterilized for civilian re-use, will permit the glass industry to re-use even more of its facilities for the manufacture of glass containers for food, and other items, required by the armed forces at home and abroad. Mrs. Margaret McDuffie, the Governor's personal secretary, was photographed with him at the time the proclamation was issued.

YOUR ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

is working harder than ever now

MIDSUMMER heat means extra duty for your electric refrigerator. The hotter the weather, the longer and harder it works to protect your perishables and provide you with extra quantities of ice cubes, frozen desserts and cold drinks.

No matter how high the temperature soars, you can depend upon your economical electric refrigerator to provide constant, food-saving cold. And although it may be using a little more electricity now, the small added cost is far outweighed by the food savings it makes possible.

HOT WEATHER TIPS ON REFRIGERATOR CARE

- 1 Defrost whenever frost reaches 1/4-inch thickness. Frost forms faster in hot weather.
- 2 Open door only when necessary and close it quickly.
- 3 Do not store hot foods. Let them cool first.
- 4 Cover all liquids. Moisture drawn to freezing unit speeds formation of frost.
- 5 Keep cold control at lowest setting necessary to assure safe temperatures.
- 6 Use fast freezing sparingly. Return to normal setting promptly.
- 7 Don't overcrowd shelves. It hinders air circulation.
- 8 Don't use refrigerator as a pantry. Store only perishables and foods requiring chilling.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF TEXAS NO. 8029

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:

WHEREAS, the conservation of deposit bottles, like the conservation of all other materials these days, is of vital importance to everyone; and

WHEREAS, millions of these empty deposit bottles are known to be in homes, garages, business places and industrial plants; and

WHEREAS, the return of these idle bottles which can be sterilized for civilian re-use would permit the glass industry to use even more of its facilities for the manufacture of glass containers for food and other items required by the Armed Forces at home and abroad;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Coke Stevenson, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby request that every person cooperate in this—DEPOSIT BOTTLE CONSERVATION PROGRAM which opens August first, and ask that they search their homes, garages, business places and industrial plants and promptly return these containers to the places from which they were obtained.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of State to be affixed hereto at Austin, this 19th day of July, A. D., 1943.

(Signed) Coke R. Stevenson,
Governor of Texas.

Here's a letter from Robert Routh who's at TCU in Ft. Worth. He's a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Routh of Gatesville.

"Dear Mat and family: I have been intending to write you but I haven't had time. I want you to know how much I enjoy a newspaper like the Coryell County News from a city like Gatesville while I am staying in a "village" like Ft. Worth. When I read the news, I feel like I am home again.

How are the boys? Are they still getting around as much as they did, or is it too hot for them?

I hope everyone is alright. Tell Mr. and Mrs. Graves hello for me.

I guess that is about all for now. I'll write again when I have time.

Your friend,
Robert Routh.

Thanks, Robert, and we know you're busy, if they "pour it on" there like they do in other schools. Yes, the boys the still "milling and grilling" but the "madam" has the whip lash on 'em, and they're kind of good. You know too, that Johnny take some of the time and a lot of the attention we use to give them. Write us another.

Here's a letter from Cpl. John C. Bunnell, now in Australia. See for yourself, what he says.

Dear Mat:

Just a word to the editor in appreciation from 2 Gatesville boys. We are quite a distance from home and we appreciate that little news paper that tells us how things are going back there. Up until the time we left the states we were getting the news regular, but over here it is kinda slow. We understand tho, and it just makes each copy worth more. When there's a sudden commotion and general up roar in the vicinity of the mail orderly tent everybody knows that it's either Jack Moore or myself racing to show the other that he's just received the home paper.

Moore and myself are two of about half dozen Southern boys in the outfit, but since Moore is first sergeant we don't have much argument about the Civil War!

Well, Mat, don't figure on sending us mail overseas too long, because we expect to pick up the old home address just as soon as we finish a little job over here.

Sure, He likes it!

Dear Mother,
How does this find you all? I'm O. K. I guess.

We finally arrived in Oklahoma. We were two days and nights coming. What I mean it's hot weather here. I would give $5.00 for a drink of cold water. We are in the woods and the flies and mosquitoes are killing me. Wish I was back in Texas just now.

I'm off shift this afternoon and I still haven't found a cool place.

I haven't heard from any one since I've been here. They are talking about taking us back to camp for a bath and a shave. Gee it will be good to have a bath and shave again.

How are the girls? Guess Dad is still working hard.

Mother, send my mail to my old address it will be sent here by plane.

I'll close be sure and write soon and often.

SYNOPSIS

Sam Bennett, one time big name in the Rodeo world, has fallen to a pretty low state, when Roy Rogers decides to give him a helping hand. Roy and his pals have left the Calvert Brothers Rodeo because Jim Calvert has proven himself a crook. The boys have saved enough money to buy a ranch—they go there, taking Sams with them. Sam's daughter Sue, whom he hasn't seen for years is expected for a visit. Roy and his pals concoct a scheme to install Sam in their newly acquired "One-4-All" ranch and let Sue believe him to be the owner. Roy and Pat, thinking Sue to be a little girl of twelve years of age, meet the train, justified with lollypops and a big doll. Their consternation knows no bounds when, instead of a twelve year old child, a ravishing beauty of nineteen years arrives, accompanied by her equally attractive friend, Hildegarde.

CHAPTER TWO

Sue and Hildegarde came down to the ranch just after Jim Calvert pulled out. Sue's lovely eyes looked pretty serious this morning. And she wanted Roy to come up to the house with her right off, to go over a few questions about the ranch. Hildegarde would excuse them for a few minutes. There was nothing to do but string along, for Sam's sake.

"Dad depends a lot on you," Roy knew Sue was watching him close as a chicken hawk, as they climbed the hill. "He couldn't even find the insurance policies on the barn and the equipment we lost last night."

"Insurance?" Roy frowned. "We don't have any."

Sue exploded. "What! That fire might have burned all the buildings and stock on the place! Dad's getting too old to start over!"

In the ranch parlor, Sam sat, looking apologetic. Sue perched on the arm of his chair, he shot his host a glance that spoke volumes. "She always was an inquisitive brat! Sue, you shouldn't bother Roy."

"It won't take long," said Sue. "I'd better look at the books."

"Books?" Roy blinked. "Accounts? We don't exactly keep accounts."

"But you must! How do you keep track of your bills?"

"We just sort of pay 'em when they come in and forget about 'em."

Sue snorted like an angry filly. "The company I work for in New York has a monthly turnover of one-half million dollars. And I keep the books."

Roy groaned. He use trying to bridge a girl like that. So he began explaining. Whatever they made, they put in the bank; and whatever they needed, they drew out again. At the end of the year, maybe there was a balance.

"Maybe you're right." But there wasn't any smile in those dark eyes. "No sense talking book-keeping if you don't understand, is there?"

San Antonio was all dressed up for company that week-end. A banner across Main Street read: First Week With The Calvert Brothers! Biggest Rodeo In The West! It sort of set a mood that spread as Saturday drew closer. Out at the One-4-All, all was peaceful.

The only tinking of anything wrong, so far, had been when Sue and Hildegarde—out of a clear sky—decided not to pull out for Calvert's after all. But, tonight, as Roy and the boys were having a heart-to-heart talk, they started like this.

"I don't mean to be so..."

was insisting, as Roy started to turn back, "But, Dad, it's your money they're handling. The way the boys act sometimes, you'd think it was their ranch instead of yours!"

That seemed to hit Sam hard. "Maybe—maybe it is."

Unconsciously, Roy had paused. Sue was saying fondly, "But you ought to be a little more firm with them. If it weren't for you—"

"Maybe I should have kept you with me when your mother died," Sam interrupted gruffly. "I thought I was doing what was best. But a man makes mistakes. And when he gets older, they're not so easy to fix. All those letters I wrote you, telling you how fine everything was—that I owned a big, prosperous ranch— Sue, they weren't true."

"I guessed that a long time ago," Sue answered softly. "Rockefeller couldn't show a profit with your kind of bookkeeping. Dad, why don't you sell out and live with me? Wouldn't you like to come east?"

"Sell?" Roy heard the older voice quaver. "I—why, I—"

"If you could find a buyer, you would sell?" She sounded triumphant. Poor Sam needed help, and needed it bad! Roy strode up the trail before his one-time boss could get in any deeper.

"I've been looking for you," he hailed Sue. "Thought you might want to start my business lessons tonight."

It wasn't easy to get her away from her Dad, but somehow he did it. Saddling a couple of horses and heading her out across the silvery range, he felt as if he'd prevented an Indian raid.

It was another one of those nights, sure enough. Roy started singing, while they rode along side by side. The trail led along the rim of a canyon, winding into the night like a ribbon, and Sue listened well.

"Very nice," she said, smiling, between songs. "But off the subject."

"How can you talk bookkeeping on a night like this?"

"Evidently I can't!" She was mighty pretty, sitting so straight in her saddle. "But tomorrow morning, we're going to have a serious talk."

Roy figured from that it was all right to forget about cash books. So he talked about the west, instead. Not that Texas couldn't speak for itself, tonight, with the moon casting shadows down the gully below them, and the flat plains stretching endless as time on beyond.

Just when it was he reined in hard, he couldn't tell. Or even if Trigger hadn't stopped first, of his own accord. But either way, Roy was taut in the saddle suddenly, and listening hard. Sure as shooting, that dull far-away thunder was stampeding hoofbeats!

Sue heard it, now, too. She cried out: "What's that?"

Instead of answering, Roy spurred Trigger forward. From a point that commanded a long view up the canyon, he could see them coming. A madly charging herd of horses, with other horses—horses and riders—galloping behind and urging them on.

Sue demonstrates her business ability when she has papers legally drawn and signed, making Roy and her father, Sam Bennett, equal partners in the "One-4-All" ranch.

Someone was stealing the stock from the All-4-One corral! Someone had stampeded those rodeo ponies!

Roy was racing Trigger along the trail before Sue could follow. He knew what the game of those rustlers would be. Once the horses were herded through the canyon, they would scatter on the wide plain beyond. It would take Montgomery's Eighth Army to round them up again!

Nothing for it but to lose their stock—or stop the stampede, somehow, in that narrow ravine! That urgent thought kept drumming inside Roy's head as he spurred on toward the spot where the canyon opened out onto the trackless plateau. Stop them now, or kiss them goodbye!

And to kiss them goodbye meant losing the ranch and rodeo, too.

His jaw was squared off hard as he flung himself to earth above the bottleneck through which his herd must pass to freedom. Out of his holster his gun slid. He took quick, expert aim—dead on the sheer, rocky ravine wall opposite—and began to bang away. His lead plowed into the bare perpendicular shale—bullet after bullet, at the bases of several good sized boulders balanced there. Re-loading took more seconds.

First some shale started slipping, then a couple of rocks. Within minutes of that first beat of hoofs, a small-sized avalanche was tumbling down into the bottle-neck. Dust kicked up in a dense cloud out of the roar of sliding rock. The racing herd was almost directly below. But its lead animals saw danger coming. They reared back, pawing and screaming.

"Landslide!" one mounted figure shouted as the backward milling got under way. "Can't get through! I'm not gonna get caught in here!"

The others, all to the rear of the herd, followed him in headlong flight. Straight up Roy's side of the canyon, not so steep as the other, they forced their straining mounts; men who'd been paid for a dirty job, but who had no intention of facing avenging guns or churning hoofs.

Roy would have been able to head them off, too, if it hadn't been for Sue. Trust Sue! She couldn't lie low, like he'd shouted for her to do. She had to ride out, right into his gun's range, to get a good look at the excitement. And, naturally, the rustlers took her in tow and kept her for a shield until they had vanished in the brush.

Roy picked her up, thrown from her pony, a little later. But, by then, chase was out of the question. All they could do was throw up a barricade, aided by the boys from the ranch who had been on the rustler's heels; and wait, in helpless certainty of who had been back of this new attack, for sunrise to crawl in over the vast empty range.

There was plenty to do at the One-4-All, when morning came. The hoofs of all the stock had to be treated, after the beating they'd taken. It was a mercy they hadn't been cracked clean through, racing across rock like they'd been. And there wasn't a bit of proof against the Calverts!

Sue came down to the corral just as Roy was finishing his job there. After the hostile terms on which they had parted, it was hard for either one to do well by a smile. But Sue managed a pretty fair imitation.

"Roy, why didn't you tell me last night that you and Dad were partners?" He started to say something, but she rushed on: "You don't have to pretend. He told me all about it. I had a few changes in mind, after last night, so Dad finally broke down and told me."

There was something in that voice a little too sweet for Roy's money. The girl was after something. And when a female got after something—

"He told me you were so valuable he had to make you a partner," Sue drawled. "But I'd like to have a copy of your partnership papers—just in case something should ever happen."

"We—" Roy gulped. "We don't have any. Gentleman's agreement."

"I think for your own protection you ought to have it in writing," Sue insisted. "Just something informal, between friends."

Well, she couldn't be shaken loose from her idea. And, after all, a little paper didn't much matter. He and Sam could tear it up, as soon as her train back east left town. So Roy didn't balk nearly as much as her father did when she herded them both to town and the notary's office that afternoon. It was over in a jiffy. Just scribbling two names under a short paragraph beginning, To Whom It May Concern.

And then there was the whole rest of the afternoon to spend at the Fiesta San Antonio's adobe street was gay as a flower garden. The outlying ranchers had come to town to the last man. Their women-folks were dressed up in Sunday clothes, and the street bubbled over with Mexican music. A block had been roped off for dancing, and Hildegarde was showing Pat some big city steps.

POLIO FIGHT . . .

 day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness and high sanitary standards.

Every effort should be made to secure approved milk. Rats and mice should be eliminated. Every effort should be made to maintain in the home the same sanitary standards that are necessary in community life. Particular attention should be paid to personal hygiene. Excreta from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children should not visit homes where there is a sick child. Cases should be quarantined for 14 days and adults who work in food establishments should be particularly instructed in personal hygiene. Early reporting of poliomyelitis affords the opportunity for investigation at the stage when such efforts productive and affords the opportunity for early treatment by Kenny or other methods and use of orthopedic appliances made available through the Crippled Children's Service, State Department of Education. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches, and theaters be closed.

25 YEARS IS A LONG TIME

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO, WE purchased the W. A. Schley store in Gatesville. For a number of years Mr. Schley had handled with great success the WELL known CURLEE CLOTHES. We have throughout these twenty-five years in Gatesville continued the SALE of CURLEE SUITS and O'COATS.

25 YEARS IS A LONG TIME

CURLEE DESIGNERS and manufacturers have kept abreast of the times, each year showing marked improvement in design, tailoring and patterns, until today they stand foremost in clothing satisfactor.

We have sold approximately TWENTY THOUSAND CURLEE SUITS and O'COATS over this period. Every suit has been sold on an unequivocal guarantee of satisfaction. Over this long period out of the more than twenty thousand SUITS and O'COATS, we have had only THREE REPLACEMENTS, WHAT A RECORD.

THERE IS A REASON. Every CURLEE SUIT and OVERCOAT that we have sold, has represented the very finest workmanship, 100 percent pure wool fabrics, made in models to fit the individual the STOUT, the SLIM, the SHORT and the REGULAR. In fact a suit well fitted, well tailored and of the finest all-wool materials always gives satisfaction. THAT IS THE REASON, that OVER this period of TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, we have had only THREE REPLACEMENTS.

WE HAVE SAID, That if you would turn back the lapel of every coat being worn in CORYELL COUNTY, That SEVEN out of TEN would be a CURLEE.

BECAUSE of the great volume of business that we have given CURLEE CLOTHING CO. During these stressful times we have been able to procure almost as many suits and overcoats as our trade has demanded.

MR. CURLEE, as we call him, HAS PROMISED that we will have that same high grade workmanship. THAT 100 percent wool FABRIC, and many exclusive patterns in our FALL SHOWING and to that EVEN NOW, that EVERY CURLEE SUIT and O'COAT WOULD be unequivocally GUARANTEED.

OUR FALL STOCK was selected early, has already begun to come in. Make your selections as early as possible. We do not know what may take place in the future.
