ENLISTED MEN'S WIVES VISIT NEWS OFFICE TO SEE HOW

At their regular Wednesday's meeting, members of the Enlisted Men's Wives Club after a short business session, adjourned to visit the News office, where the details of getting out a "country sheet" was shown them.

Several got lost in the shuffle (not in the News) and missed out on the trip, but it was interesting to the uninitiated, and to those who for various reasons, could not visit us, the latch string is still out, and you don't have to have a special occasion.

Those who did visit the News were Mrs. Carl Perins, of New York City, Mrs. Wm. Damm of Glendale, L. I., N. Y., Mrs. Mike Jordanek of Cleveland, O., Mrs. Rudy Spiller, Jr., also of Cleveland, and Mrs. M. E. Gray of Bridgeport, Illinois. Visitors are always welcome at the News office!

"Newspapers We've Had Copies Of: Your Fault If Not Yours

Yes, and they've had, or, are going to have copies of ours, because we're sending a copy of the News to each and every one of them.

Some of the recent editions we have had are: The Maxey Times, of Camp Maxey, Texas; "The Volunteer" from Drew Field, Fla., "The Benning Bayonett of Fort Enning, Ga.

And, from the "civilian" end of the newspapers, we have the "Traverse City Record-Eagle, of that city, Michigan, which came to Nick Bickler, who most likely is in the Army at Camp Hood, and it's a grand newspaper. It's daily.

Cpl. and Mrs. Edgar Burnett stay at our house, and have a copy of The Western Star, of Mt. Vernon, Ind., which they gave us, and "The Republican-Courier" from Findley, Ohio, was given us by Mrs. H. F. Lauck's daughter-or son-in-law who is at Camp Hood, and they also gave us the "Mount Blanchard Journal, of Mount Blanchard, Ohio.

Then, in Pennsylvania, comes the Coatesville Record of Coatesville, Pa. and we don't know who to thank for this one, which is a daily.

That's nice, and after the war, when we've got plenty of help and lots of time, we're going to paste all these mast heads on boards, and re-paper our shop, which really needs it now.

Let's have a newspaper from YOUR hometown.

These county and community committeemen were elected by the farmer's of the county and will assist in administering the '44 AAA program, which will consist of soil-building practices only as all acreage restrictions have been removed. The most needed and probably the most extensively used practices for this county will be the construction of standard terraces, eradication of cedar, prickly pear and other noxious growths, and the construction of earthen dams and drilling of pasture wells for better and adequate livestock water. The '44 AAA Handbook is now in the process of being approved and as soon as copies are received they will be distributed to all committeemen so that they may familiarize themselves with the provisions of the 1944 program and assist the farmers in their communities in planning their soil building work.

MRS. LEE TELLS US THERE WERE 10,863 BALES GINNED TO 14th

Ten thousand eight hundred, sixty three bales of cotton were ginned in Coryell County from the crop of 1943 prior to Nov. 14, 1943, as compared with 10,980 to the same period last year.

We're still looser, but that's not so bad, considering how much land has been taken from the county by Camp Hood. The rest of the farmers must have considerably larger crops than usual which we think there's a lot of sense in. But, we were not asked!

BURLINGTON BOMBS—These bombs, bought by citizens of Burlington, Iowa, just before they were loaded in a United States Army Air Forces B-17 Flying Fortress somewhere in North Africa for a journey of destruction over Leghorn Harbor, in western Italy. Money for these bombs was contributed by 350 members of Burlington, Iowa, American Legion Post No. 52. When they reached North Africa, First Lieutenant William A. Whitmore, commanding officer of an Army Air Force ordnance company, and a resident of Burlington, took a personal interest in the contribution from his home town. The bombs were used on a successful raid against the Italian mainland on May 24, 1943. Lt. Whitmore, (left), and Sergeant [name obscured], also a Burlington man, were the last to load the bombs just before the raid.

Farm News

The County Agricultural Agent will prepare within the next few days the yearly plan of work for 1944. This plan of work is submitted to headquarters at College Station. As a guide in making such a plan of work a card was mailed to every farm home in Coryell County in order to get an expression of the farmers regarding phases of Extension Service work thought to be most needed.

A summary of replies indicates a need for a diversified demonstration program with emphasis on parasite control for both livestock and poultry, orchard work—spraying and pruning and soil conservation.

Parasite Control

Keeping livestock healthy requires a study of preventive methods rather than curative.

Since eggs are listed among the foods most needed for the army and since they are selling at a good price every flock of poultry should be protected against disease and parasites which take a very heavy toll of production. Proper housing, proper feeding and proper management pay in big dividends. Assuming hens possess the laying qualities the burden of production is upon the person handling the flock.

Briefly I would like to list the following outline for successful egg production.

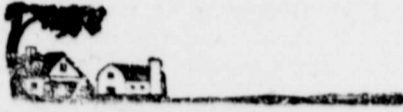

1. Keep the hens comfortably housed at night—don't crowd 200 hens on a roost for 100.
 2. Keep house in proper sanitary conditions.
 3. Supply proper and adequate feed and mash—always having green feed or alfalfa hay for hens.
 4. Control parasites—mites, lice, fleas and worms.
 5. Proper adequate nests.
- Every poultry raiser should have the extension service bulletins on his desk as a guide to Successful Poultry Production.

A slogan for 1944 should be to get the highest production out of every animal or acre of land—both pasture and crop land. This can best be done by keeping animals healthy and land fertile.

The County Agricultural Agent has been in this county long enough to make an inventory of farming situation. Briefly the picture of what is and what it could be are very different. One production per unit of livestock and per acre of farm and pasture land is too low. The production could easily be doubled. We should not be satisfied with half measures when our happiness and economic life would be promoted by this increased production.

FROM THE HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT Pressure Cooker Rationing

Now that increased numbers of pressure cookers are on the market, it's possible for individuals to obtain them as well as groups. Rationing regulation recently have been relaxed in this respect, the war food administration has notified the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Even though group use is not a prime requisite for eligibility to purchase, individuals who buy new cookers should be patriotic to share them with their neighbors.

Texas has received an additional allotment, there still aren't nearly enough to go around.

Persons who need pressure cookers should apply directly to their County Farm Rationing Committees for a certificate of eligibility. Or they may ask that previously filed applications be reviewed under the new ruling. On a state level, rationing of pressure cookers is handled by the Texas USDA War Board.

Applicants need no longer locate a cooker for sale before the application to purchase is approved.

Commenting on the war-time models of pressure cookers, Miss Christie cautions that these need special care, otherwise the cooker may be damaged and food may be lost. Follow the manufacturer's directions on the care of these cookers.

No excuse for being dirty!

Contrary to current rumors, there is going to be enough soap for everybody in this country during the next 12 months.

Sufficient quantities will be manufactured for each man, woman, and child to have 22 pounds of toilet and household soap, according to information received by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. That is the equivalent of 16 large packages of soap chips or flakes, or 35 bars of laundry soap, or about 94 cakes of toilet soap.

In addition, three and one-half pounds of soap per person will be available to commercial laundries, institutions, and factories. Extension workers say, however, that it's still important not to hoard soap and to use it carefully without waste.

REA Co-Ops Expand

Four Texas rural electric cooperatives recently were allowed funds by the Rural Electrification Administration to provide power for farms producing livestock, dairy and poultry products to meet war needs.

According to the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, Co-ops obtaining these REA loans include cooperatives at Gilmer, Upshur County, Denton, Denton County, Mercedes, Hidalgo County; and Karnes City, Karnes Co. The Karnes City organization received $5,000 for installation loans to members. Largest loan went to the Mercedes Association—$60,000 for 46 miles of line to serve 141 members.

MARSHALL'S MEMORY

For a long time, Jim Farley and Mrs. Henry Wallace were supposed to have the best memories around Washington. But they have a rival in the chief of staff, General Marshall.

Returning from a warfront town, Marshall held a press conference. Twenty-one newsmen were present. Marshall said he would answer one question from each newsmen.

He turned to the man nearest him on the right and said, "All right, what's yours?"

The question proved to be rather elaborate. "I will answer that in a minute," said Marshall. "But let's go ahead. What's yours?"

And before answering any questions, he went the rounds of 21 men and got their 21 questions. Then he proceeded to answer the questions one by one.

Not only did he remember the question which each of the twenty-one had asked, but he remembered who asked it. Pointing to each man, he said, "Now your question was—" And then he named it and proceeded to answer it.

This was more than a feat of memory. It gave order and body to the answers, and eliminated the confusion of most press conferences.

Note: Other competitors for the "Memory Club" are Nat Howard of the Cleveland News, formerly U. S. press censor; and Erwin A. Holt of Burlington, N. C., who can tell you the day of the week you were born on if you give him the date.

CONGRESS DOWN ON DOCTORS

Despite the dangerous shortage of doctors and dentists, the house appropriations committee slashed a $1,000,000 request by the U. S. Public Health service from the supplemental defense bill.

However, what most observers missed was the fact that this same committee less than six months ago disapproved a $175,000 request for medical relief on the ground that the request should have been bigger!

The $1,000,000 fund was to enable the relocation of 600 doctors and dentists in areas where they are desperately needed, and was vetoed despite warnings by War Manpower's Dr. Frank H. Lahey, the American Medical association, the American Dental association, and the war and navy departments that in some areas there was only one physician to every 3,000 civilians.

But the committee butchered the $1,000,000 just the same.

In contrast, here is how the same committee ruled last May on a $175,000 request for relocating 70 physicians:

"The committee is well aware that the shortage of physicians in many sections of the country is acute, but considers that any program which would provide for the services of only 70 physicians is so ineffective as to be unjustifiable.

"The committee is willing to give consideration to any type of program which the Public Health service may suggest to meet the need in a more adequate manner."

But the United States thinks there should be some bountiful giving, as a pump-priming operation to get the war-torn countries back into production.

Martha Fay O'Neal Celebrates Birthday

Martha Fay O'Neal was the guest of honor at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Pat O'Neal, Monday afternoon at their home on Saunders Street.

Celebrating Martha Fay's fifth birthday, the guests played games and enjoyed little pin-wheel favors, which were distributed from a miniature Christmas tree.

Punch and cookies were served as refreshments. The birthday cake, truly a masterpiece of culinary achievement, was in the perfect image of a little lamb, complete with shredded coconut wool, raisin eyes, a cherry nose, and a tiny silver bell. On its back was a row of five candles.

Following refreshments, the little guest of honor opened her many lovely and varied gifts.

Guests at the party were: Beverly Ann Robinson, Kay Kirby, W. Mat Jones, Joe Kermit Jones, Patsy Coward, Lou Ann Rutherford, Joe Carroll Orbeck, Charlie Powell, Jack Barneburg, Johnnie Franks and Nancy Franks.

Grown-ups who called during the afternoon were: Mrs. Lloyd Burch, Mrs. Aubrey Nulley, Mrs. Arthur Stearns, Mrs. Harry Flentge and Mrs. Sam Robinson.

Mrs. C. E. Gandy was a Waco visitor last Tuesday.

WITH THE COLORS

Sgt. Sammie F. Huff, of Newfoundland, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Huff of Gatesville is visiting his wife and parents on a 30 day furlough. All the family met him Sunday at dinner at the home of his parents, and the Cozy Cafe furnished the nice dinner. Out of town visitors were his sister, Mrs. J. C. Griffith and daughter Francis. Mrs. Huff's great grand daughter, Bobbie Jean of Denison. Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Huff and family of Waco, C. L. Huff and Mrs. Lee Griffith of Osage, Hugh Evetts and son of Pidcoke, Roy Evetts of Hubbard, and the Sgt. and his wife of Brownwood.

Here's a letter from Pvt. Roy B. Wittie at Ft. Ord, Calif., written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wittie

"Well, we got your letter today, and the picture looked pretty good, the only thing, we didn't have our caps on just alike it would have been better if we had.

You asked me if we stopped in Marfa, we stopped there about 5 minutes, but didn't see anybody. Tell old Herman to stay in the Cavalry and don't get in the infantry because I know where he will go. Raymond said he wish he was having to go. I hope he hits it lucky, and don't come to California . . ."

Part of Roy's letter was personal, and naturally, we omitted it, and another part might be information somebody else would like to hear, so we left that out.

Believe this is the Wittie family that has six boys in the service, or the latest one going will be six.

Here's a letter from Pvt. Billy G. Manning, who's "overseas" and he writes: "Everthing is doing fine, and we are having lots of fun. I got Pat's knife on the 9th of November and was I proud to get it. I got a letter from you today, which was mailed the 29th of October.

Boy, that football team you have is really going to town. Sure would love to see "em" play McGregor and Hamilton, but most of all I would like to play in the game with those Bulldogs.

We got a paper with the picture of the square, and boy did it look good. Send me the clippings of the football games if you can.

Send me some home-made candy and tell Granny to make me some and let her think she is getting all the credit. Tell her I am thinking of her all time and I really am counting on that little house to put my English wines in for anyone can get from one to a dozen.

Well, this is about all the time I have for you at this time.

Lots of Love, Billy.

And, would Billy like to have been here when we played the Bi-District with Corsicana State Home, and that next one, the Regional with Taylor, I guess. Billy was on last year's Hornet football club, and wasn't bad at all.

WARTIME SAVINGS SUGGESTIONS for Electric Appliance Users

Seven Ways to Eliminate Waste in Home Lighting

- Turn off lights in unoccupied rooms. Wasting light not only wastes electricity but critical materials used in manufacturing lamp bulbs as well.
- Watch lights in closets, attic, porches, basement and garage. It's easy to forget and leave them burning.
- Rearrange furniture so one reading lamp can serve two or more people at the same time. But be sure lamp is not too far away from either person.
- Eliminate use of wall brackets and other strictly ornamental lighting.
- Switch three-light lamps to lowest level when not being used for reading, sewing or other close visual tasks.
- Use low-wattage bulbs in closets, halls and other places where bright light is not needed.
- Keep bulbs, shades and diffusing bowls clean. Dust and dirt waste light.

Uncle Sam Says:

Waste of anything in wartime is a crime. Don't waste electricity just because it isn't rationed. Wasting electricity involves a waste of fuel, transportation facilities, manpower and critical materials needed elsewhere in the war effort. Use all the electricity you need—but need what you use.

NEWS

FROM

North Camp Hood

When GI Joe goes overseas, he immediately starts to pine for that "good ol' home cookin'"—that is, until he sits down to a meal of tomato juice, pea soup, hamburger steak with brown gravy and hashed brown potatoes, buttered carrots and beets, cole slaw, gelatin, coffee or milk, and bread and butter. His eyes wide with surprise Joe wades in and eats a meal almost like mother used to cook, but the only thing that hasn't come out of a package is the bread. That is baked daily in the various Army camps. The rest of the meal accompanied Joe across the ocean in dehydrated form.

Staff Sergeant John J. Blatnick of the Headquarters School for Cooks and Bakers at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, spent the period from November 15th to November 23rd at Camp Hood and North Camp Hood, demonstrating the proper preparation of dehydrated foods for serving. Mess officers, dietitians, mess sergeants and cooks have been attending these demonstrations to learn how to prepare nineteen different standard foods which have been dehydrated.

The sample meal described here is no pipe dream, according to Sergeant Blatnick, but is an actually on many foreign battlefronts today.

Dehydrated foods have received special treatment to eliminate the water in them, and retain only the food pulp. When a cook wishes to serve a tasty meal from one of these products, he soaks the powder or dried pulp in water, and as the water is absorbed the food assumes its normal size and characteristics.

Such foods are practically imperishable, and occupy much less space than treated foods, effecting major economies in space. Six transports are required to carry as much untreated food as can be carried by one transport when the food has been dehydrated. One man can carry in his arms enough food in this concentrated form to feed 600 men!

Another popular feature of dehydrated foods, Sgt. Blatnick said is the ease with which they can be prepared. A maximum of two hours is all that is required to prepare a full meal from the dried products.

Among the nineteen standard food products available for overseas mess halls are cranberries, bananas, cabbage, beans, peas, mashed potatoes, milk & coffee, pork sausage, eggs, meat loaf, carrots and other wholesome and appetizing foods.

One of the most surprising developments in this process, which has been used commercially since 1904 and has been used effectively in the Army since the Civil and Spanish-American wars, is the dehydration of butter. The Quartermaster Corps has developed a concentrate which can be turned into plates of creamy, golden butter or into the "Army spread", a butter product which in its prepared form can withstand a heat of 120 degrees without harm. This product has been found particularly suitable for desert use.

At the present time dehydrated foods are used in overseas camps only, and it is not planned at present to use them in continental mess halls on any wholesale scale.

Mess officers at the two Camp Hood cantonments were enthusiastic about the possibilities of dehydrated foods after Sgt. Blatnick's wares last week.

Two new trainees in the 141st Tank Destroyer Battalion at North Camp Hood's Replacement Training Center had some of their training problems licked before they even started their basic training.

Long marches are a cinch for Private Merle F. Burkhart of Wheeling, West Virginia, who was a mail carrier before he was a soldier, and the Army rifle holds no terrors for Private Lester Ormerod of Chicopee Falls, Mass., since he spent his working hours prior to induction assembling thousands of these same rifles in an arms plant!

A certain regimental plans and training sergeant of the Sixth Army Specialized Training Regiment at North Camp Hood built a fire in a "space heater", the Army stove, in his barracks the other night. After the lights were turned out he decided to check on the fire.

So he went to the heater and carefully shined his flashlight in to see if the fire was still burning! How about that, Sergeant?

The Army Specialized Training Program Basic Training Center at North Camp Hood has been activated effective November 20th.

The ASTPBT has taken over the headquarters and area recently vacated by the former Basic Unit Training Center.

Colonel Maurice C. Bigelow, Infantry, who has been with the ASTP since its inception last July will head the ASTPBTs.

The new Center will provide basic infantry training for the thousands of new young soldiers who, after completion of this phase, will go on to attend the hundreds of colleges and junior colleges participating in the Army's educational program to provide highly trained specialists for specialized service with the Armed Forces.

Camp Hood

Major General John H. Hester, commanding general of the Tank Destroyer Center, will address members of the 50th Officer Candidate School Class in graduation exercises to be held at the 24th Street Theater Friday.

This will be General Hester's first address to an OCS graduating class at Camp Hood. A large audience is expected to hear Gen. Hester and to see members of the class receive their commissions as second lieutenants.

Hornets Eke Out Turkey Day Win Over Bulldogs, There, 19-7

HORNETS PLAY WAS LIMITED TO ONE AND HALF QUARTERS

They did it! And were the Gatesvilles glad when the last whistle blew. McGregor was cocked and primed, and for two and a half quarters it was their ball game, with the count at the end of the half being a bleak 0-7 in their favor.

It was a grand day, and a grand game thruout, and the fans with the yell sections added to the festivities, with a little of that bottled stuff which loosened the boys tongues, as well as their pocketbooks.

We only give you the first 2 1/2 quarters to keep the record straight, because as far as the Hornets are concerned, they didn't start much until after that.

So, here goes! The Bulldogs received at the north end of Wood Field, the Hornets kicking from the south. Whittenburg kicks, Lengefeld holds, ball goes to Arbuckle on the 20, returns to 35.
