'FATS WIN!' 'LEANS WIN' ONE'S CORRECT

The game was last night, so we're writing an account of the game before it happens.

At the outset, there was considerable argument as to who was on each side. The Leans said the Fats leaned, anyway, and should have been on the "leaning" side.
So it is, Moe, or something. The Fats said the Leans used to be Fats, but due to rationing, no meat, and dam little of nothing, it was a bureaucratic development that made any Leans at all.
The argument is still on.

Anyway, Dr. Otis C. Ray, all-egged, a Fat, did the hurling, but like Babe Ruth, was off "form" and it is said, during the time he hurled he got one over. It didn't matter, tho because the Leans eyes were so bad they couldn't tell whether they were over or not.

The Leans, with their "top form" pitcher, no picher, or however,
"Mitch" the Mitchell, flung 'em over so fast, they sometimes hit the Fats, and bounced, rebounded or and ricocheted (?) clear back to the center fielder. It was impossible to get either side out, and the "grunds" committee called the game at 12:01 Tuesday a. m., because they knew it was "Choose-day" and some of the workin' executives had to appear around neun, at least, at their joints.

It was conservatively estimated the Fats lost 6,978 red point's worth of the stuff they make glycerine soup, and other explosives of, and then immediately went home ad took baths that caused the recent run for "Rins-Ox" "that Q-B soap, and many other scarce elements, not to mention Turkish towels, men's shorts, and other supercarce according to the OPA, items.

Now, the Leans, on the other hand, were already boiled down of

AMERICAN HEROES

by WOODY COWAN

BUYING War Bonds to support such men as Sgt. Walter D. Ehlers is little enough. Acting as spearhead against an enemy strongpoint, he killed four in a Nazi patrol, put a gun crew out of action and put to flight a mortar section. Again he advanced on a machine gun and knocked out its crew single-handed. All that he did while machine gun bullets and mortar fire poured upon him and his men.

With the 5th Army, Italy—Capt. Price Neeley, Gatesville, recently was awarded the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action in Italy.

He served on the 5th Army front as battalion executive officer of the 643rd Engineer Combat Battalion, under II Corps.

Personally leading a platoon, related the award citation, Neeley emplaced a 155 pound charge of explosive designed to prevent the movement of enemy vehicles on a road several hundred yards within enemy territory.

Before the charge could be detonated, however, enemy artillery became so intense as to force the withdrawal of the platoon.

By crawling thru a circuitous route, along mined ditches, the Captain on his second attempt succeeded in setting off the charge. He remained to ascertain the effectiveness of the crater as a barrier and made certain that his mission had been fully accomplished.

His wife, Mrs. Nell Routh Neeley lives in Gatesville. Sorry we don't have his picture. It would cost nothing.

Cpl. Bill Maxwell of Gatesville, is with the 3506th Medium Automotive Maintenance Co., which is headed for the USA thru the Hq., Assembly Area Command.

They weathered enemy bombings and strafings to insure the steady rolling of vehicles to the ports for the D-Day invasion, maintained "Red Ball" Highway, prepared for the Bulge days ahead of schedule, and then assumed charge of automotive maintenance for the Western French forces and many of the Seventh Army's. Since V-E Day, they prepared vehicles for the Pacific at the rate of 500 a day.

They kept, for D-Day, every Southern England convoy intact to the port of embarkation. Fourteen patrols provided road service, shops handled any job requiring 24 hour service, and new vehicles were substituted when necessary.

T/Sgt. James P. (Jack) Simpson son of Mr. and Mrs. Polk Simpson of Copperas Cove has recently returned from the ETI where he served with the Ninth air force. He received his discharge last week with 113 points to his credit after making 59 missions as a navigator-bombardier on a B-26. A brother, Bob G. Simpson, marine since 1940 writes from the Pacific that he is fine and expects to be home soon.

Pfc. Marvin C. Kindler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Kindler of Copperas Cove, is somewhere on Luzon and wears the Combat Infantry Badge; Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with one campaign star the Philippine liberation ribbon and the good conduct medal. Pvt. Kindler has been in the service since '44 and overseas since March, having recently been promoted to Pfc. He met recently with his brother-in-law T/Sgt. Bill Steward on Luzon after 2 1/2 years of separation.

Abrey Lack has been discharged from the service after 5 years and 8 months. He has been in England, France, and Belgium and was a paratrooper. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lack of Osage, and is making his home in Brownwood.

Gets Combat Infantryman Badge

With the 32nd Infantry Division, Northern Luzon — Under enemy fire for the first time during the fighting along the Villa Verde Trail in Northern Luzon, Pfc. Cecil N. Copeland husband of Mrs. Mary Katherine Copeland of Gatesville, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for satisfactory performance of duty in combat.

Employing every type of weapon and using TNT, dynamite and flame throwers veterans of the famed 32nd (Red Arrow) Division have blasted 9000 enemy troops from their cave positions high in the Caraballo Mountains.

Serving in Co. K. of the Division's crack 128th Regiment, Pfc. Copeland has been overseas since March, '45. He is also entitled to wear the Philippine Liberation Medal. His mother, Mrs. Lydia Copeland lives in Coryell City.

Here's a letter from Pfc. E. B. Donaldson, who's in the Pacific in the U. S. Marines. He says:

"Hello Mat,

"TASK FORCE 30" AT McCLOSKEY FRIDAY

Task Force 30, a War Department program aimed at bringing a first-hand factual study of the war in the Pacific to weekly newspapers, daily newspapers and radio stations in towns and cities of the Eighth Service Command, will be presented at 10:30 a. m., August 3 at McCloskey Hospital in Temple.

Newspaper editors and radio executives of the Temple area have been invited to attend the meeting.

The three-hour program will include discussion of military strategy in the Japanese war, redeployment of forces to the Pacific, logistics, war production, Army demobilization plans, showing of combat films, question and answer periods, and luncheon of Army K-rations.

Veterans of the war in Europe and the Pacific will present the program. They include Colonel Robert L. Bacon of Harlingen, Commander of the 359th Infantry, 90th Division, when it closed the Falaise Gap after the German break-through at Avranches, and who later commanded the task force which took Metz and captured the only remaining bridge across the Saar River; Lieutenant Colonel Teddy H. Sanford of Pawnee, Oklahoma, commander of the 325th Glider Infantry of the 82nd Airborne Division, first regular organized American Infantry Battalion ever to fly into combat; First Lieutenant Ernest Davis of Dallas, who lost an arm in combat over Europe and was captured by the Germans; and two enlisted veterans of Okinawa, Technician Fifth Grade James W. Pratt and Pfc. Jessie L. Pennington.

Major Thomas F. Carroll, chief of the officer procurement branch at Eighth Service Command headquarters, accompanies the group as public relations officer. Similar task forces are covering all other service commands simultaneously.

Economic Security

Back in 1865 senators and representatives in the Congress of the United States began drawing $5,000 a year; $100 a week. That was good pay 80 years ago but a first-class welder can do better now. Congressmen have had two raises in salary since then. The last one was 20 years ago when they started earning $10,000 a year which was, at the time, a comfortable living for them.

A great many executives in private enterprise earn more money than senators although they do not claim superior ability. Why do our legislators not earn more? Because their salaries are fixed by law and they themselves are the gentlemen who make the laws. They could vote themselves a raise in pay but there is always reluctance to introduce such a bill.

Throughout Government

There are politics in it, of course. Revenue measures never are popular. Congressmen who vote for a dip out of Mr. Taxpayer's pocket come to regret it on election day sometimes, even when the expenditure was a wise one. That's exactly why employees in the Post Office Department haven't had a boost in pay since the congressmen did, a matter of 20 years ago.

Wage rates in private industry have advanced from 42 cents to $1 an hour in the last 20 years. They have more than doubled. Informed authorities say that living costs have gone up 30% or more during that time. Doubled pay for workers in private industry offsets the living costs that are about one-third higher, but what about government people from mail clerks to senators?

Ask for Consideration

One of the biggest newspapers in my state published an advertisement recently, calling the attention of the people of Arkansas to the unhappy plight of the postal employees who serve them. The display advertisement was bought and paid for by the postal workers themselves. In a diplomatic way they are asking their neighbors to help them ask Congress for better wages.

I want to see the postal people earning more money. I favor the passage of currently proposed legislation to boost the pay of senators and representatives 25% or better. I hope to see the day when a self-respecting poor man can afford to represent his state in costly and wealthy Washington. These are details however. It is wrong in principle that government employees wait 20 years for a raise.

Dangerous Bureaucracy

The important thing is that every workman who quits a job in private industry to enter government employ gets his wage scale frozen. The change of work may bring more pay but that's temporary. Whoever works at that job a generation from now will probably be earning the same amount and spending a lot more to live. Remember that the laborer of today is earning senatorial pay for 1865.

These facts are understood well by men of industry and leaders in labor movements. It is encouraging to observe how the Labor-Management Charter, signed in Washington last March by labor union executives and prominent men of business, deals with the subject. In brief it states: Private enterprise is the necessary foundation for the welfare of labor as well as management.

was cutting the tails off four tiny black cocker spaniels, while the owners, a WAC Captain and Lieutenant, waited outside, when he said, "Don't know why women don't want to tell a Vet how long to cut the tails on their dogs—they always tell the barber just exactly how long to cut a kid's hair."

His voice is as soft as velvet and his tall, lean body would make one think he might be a Texan rather than an Ohioan. In civilian life he lived in Cincinnati, Ohio. He served two years in the last war, but then he said, "We had a great many horses which added a greater load to our already heavy responsibilities."

"A Station Veterinarian has, as his principal duty, the inspection of all foods of animal origin intended for consumption as food by army personnel located at his post," Colonel Gest went on to say that all meat and dairy hygiene inspection reports were broken down into six different classes of inspection all of which are conducted by the veterinarian and his assistants.

Colonel Gest estimated that if an average of meat consumed per day at Camp Hood was figured, it would amount to 1000 pounds of pork, 1000 pounds of beef and almost 10,000 eggs. "You see," he explained, "the foods are inspected prior to purchase and then inspected again when they arrive. Everything is bought on an inspection-at-arrival basis, which assures us that perishable foods will be shipped more carefully."

"During the last war, a veterinarian did food inspection work, but the principal duties at that time, when the artillery was entirely horse-drawn, was, naturally, the practice of medicine."

"In 1918 and 1919 I was at Fort Sill and was the first veterinary on that post. We had our own dairy and a herd of more than 50 head of cattle. Fort Sill was the training base for the field artillery and they used two-horse field equipment. You can see from that, that veterinarians were busy men. Of course, in my case, it was even greater because Fort Sill served as a remount depot and had, also, about 1500 horses assigned to that depot all the time."

"In this war, however, the practice of medicine plays a secondary part to food inspection. The change would come under the head of progress—or mechanization."

"Here at Camp Hood, the practice of medicine came about the long route. The provost marshal decided to have guard dogs on the post and came to me about building kennels. It began at that and we have since enlarged our services to the pets of the men on the post."

"I supervise the care, feeding and, if necessary, the treatment of eight war dogs. Many small animal pets, including dogs, cats, squirrels, skunks, civet cats and opossums have been vaccinated against rabies during the time we have had the kennels."

"In 1944 we destroyed eight animals as suspected of having rabies; their heads were sent to the Pasteur Institute in Austin, Tex., but all specimens were negative. Ninety stray dogs were impounded, oh, yes, we have a dog pound, during 1944 and these dogs were then held for five-day period in conformity with camp regulations and, if no owner was located at the end of that time, the animals were either vaccinated and given to some one who would care for them or, in some cases they were destroyed."

Colonel Gest issues a license to dogs brought to him for vaccination. "It's a small tag similar to most vaccination tags used by civilian veterinarians. Dogs without the Camp Hood tag or some civilian tags are picked up for our pound. Even the civilian tags must be registered at our office where we in turn, register them with the state."

Cpl. Eurie M. Davis, is also now, Mr. and arrived from Maxwell Field, and AAF base, where he was discharged. He formerly was with Western Auto Associate Store.

PETTENGILL
 "The Gentleman from Indiana"
 Inside our Congress
 TIME FOR RE-APPRAISAL

President Truman has dedicated himself to the preservation of the American way of life. Will he succeed, or will he find that he can do no more than momentarily check the forces now loose in the world and here which are moving toward national socialism — the complete management of the people by government?

Thomas Jefferson said: "The natural progress of things is for liberty to yield and government to gain ground."

Certainly the powers of our federal government have been rapidly expanded during these recent years. Since Pearl Harbor part of that growth has been temporarily unavoidable. Modern war requires almost total mobilization under central control. The question is whether the controls will be demobilized when fighting ends.

Newton Baker once wrote me that in 1919 the advocates of a planned economy tried to persuade President Wilson to impose the war controls upon peacetime America. The Big Government planners, however, were not strong then and certainly had no friend in Woodrow Wilson. He said: "I do not want to be taken care of by the government, either directly, or any instruments through which the government is acting. Give me right and justice and I will undertake to take care of myself."

Believing this, Mr. Wilson gave freedom back to America. He did so voluntarily. He was not compelled to do so by an adverse Congress. The railroads, telegraph and telephone lines were restored to private management. Government controls over a thousand items of our national life were lifted, and we had a free country. Taxes were reduced. Ten billion dollars of national debt were soon paid off, and for eight years we had a greater degree of prosperity than this or any other country ever knew.

It finally went into a disastrous tailspin due to the backwash of the war, due to unwise tariff policies, due also to a nation-wide gambling craze. It is a fact, however, that the per capita real income of the American people was greater from 1920 to 1929 than from 1930 to 1939.

Let us look at the present situation. The forces of the Left are stronger now. The vested interests which have fattened on deficit-spending are enormous. Millions of people have been told to look to Washington for economic salvation. Pressure blocs are the strongest in history.

Never before have so many millions of our people been led to believe that although the people can not support the government (that is, it must always run in debt) nevertheless, the government can support the people. Deficit-spending has become a national narcotic. Its victims have rationalized the government printing press by saying, "We owe us," and therefore why worry about a debt which will soon average $10,000 per family.

The spokesmen of the Left say that the war has taught us how to solve unemployment, that the war is making us rich, that the government can create wealth, and similar jackassery.

The war has not solved our domestic problem. While performing a service of very great importance, our 12 million men in uniform are not employed, in an economic sense. A city does not solve unemployment by putting everybody on the payroll of the fire or police departments. The federal government now owns an area almost as large as all of the land east of the Mississippi River. It has 20 billions invested in munition plants. It has a major interest in our Merchant Marine. Through its lending agencies it holds the mortgage on billions of other property, privately owned.

We have already gone far down the European trail. Neither President Truman nor any other public official, unless aided by the great majority of the citizens can arrest the momentum of collectivism. Now, more than ever before, a nation-wide, nonpartisan educational campaign is needed to show how our Constitution and free enterprise system made America the most prosperous and freest nation in the world. Only if so informed and aroused can citizens reappraise and successfully resist the forces enmeshing them in serfdom to the state.

SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Baited Hooks

Two years ago when national legislation affecting schools was proposed (S-637) nobody who favored the bill ever called it the "federal school control bill." That alone would have defeated it. No sincere friend of America's public schools wants them bossed by the national government. The thing was referred to always as "federal aid to education." That sounded much better.

But a great many people were not fooled at all. They had seen bait used to hide hooks before by political as well as practical fishermen. Although the bill stated, right in Section One, that it would be a nice little law if passed and not help any government man, or group of men, grab the schools and run away with them, the platitude was ignored by our sage and seasoned Senate.

Amended by Senate

On the floor of the Senate the "federal aid" bill underwent some changes. As changed, no part of the federal funds therein provided nor any part of the local funds thereby supplemented could be used to make or maintain any distinction between races. That's federal control, beyond dispute. I am not discussing the merits of the amendment. I am saying this: Federal control will follow federal aid as night follows day.

The subject is alive again now. A committee in the House and another committee in the Senate are once more considering legislation that flies the flag of "federal aid to education." Once more I am emphasizing that financial aid to local schools from far-away Washington will bring federal control of local schools in spite of all the protective clauses ever built out of words.

It Is Federal Law

The Supreme Court of the United States, the most powerful tribunal on this war-cursed earth, has established a precedent in favor of federal control. The Supreme Court has ruled that the federal government can control that which it subsidizes. Little, protesting sentences in the preamble of new legislation figuratively fade away in the light of this Supreme Court ruling.

Some people may want to argue that federal aid to schools is not federal subsidy of schools. I maintain that any distinction between the two things is a distinction without a difference. I have learned quite a little about these twin bills recently and about people who advocate their passage. The bills are practically alike and they point to government control like a compass points to the north.

The Entering Wedge

Both bills call for a 300 million dollar annual outlay of federal funds, and it's only a start. Testimony of people who journey to Washington boosting the idea is very clear. It translates the handwriting on the wall. They expect federal aid to grow rapidly after the first bill is passed. I also think it would grow in less than ten years from federal subsidy to federal control.

I am opposed to federal aid therefore for several reasons: (1) It will lead directly to federal control of education. (2) When the national government controls the local schools, the children's parents have nothing to say about what takes place at school. (3) If it happens, popular education, so dearly bought, will be nothing but a handy stepping stone toward political dictatorship.

PIERRE, South Dakota, can be proud of Lt. Robert Pershing Williams. Decorated with the Navy Cross and the Distinguished Flying Cross, Lt. Williams, spotting a German sub while piloting a Navy Torpedo Bomber in the Atlantic, attacked the enemy without supporting fighter planes. He released four depth charges, all of which exploded close, sinking the sub and throwing enemy personnel into the water. For his heroism and extraordinary achievement Lt. Williams received the Gold Star. War Bonds buy depth charges for our heroic service.

THE Army Answers

Your Personal War Problems

Your questions on allotments, insurance, legal problems or other matters as they relate to Army personnel and their dependents will be answered in this column or by letter. Write Headquarters Eighth Service Command, Dallas 2, Texas.

Q. May a veteran name a friend as beneficiary for his National Service Life Insurance?

A. No, a friend does not come within the permitted class of beneficiaries. The insured may designate: (1) Wife (Husband); (2) Child (including adopted child, step-child, illegitimate child); (3) Parent; (4) Persons who have stood in loco parentis (In place of a parent); (5) Brother or Sister; including those of the half-blood.

What is the official designation of the so-called G. I. Bill?

A. Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, Public Law No. 346, 78th Congress, June 22, 1944.

Q. Do the National Service Life Insurance Policies have cash, loan, and paid-up values after the policy has been in force a year?

A. The permanent converted policies do, but the five year level premium term policy initially issued does not.

For how long a time will the Veterans Administration give an ex-serviceman vocational training to fit him for suitable employment when he has a vocational handicap resulting from service?

A. For such time not exceeding four years, as is necessary to restore him to employability. No course may, however, extend beyond the expiration of six years after the present war.

Q. If a man is released from the Army on a dependency discharge, does that bar him from compensation or other rights under the G. I. Bill?

A. He would not be barred from such benefits.

Q. Is a retired officer receiving retirement pay eligible to receive disability pension?

A. Such officer may make application for pension and if a pension is awarded he may elect to receive the greater benefit, but he may not receive both.

Q. In order to obtain a loan under the G. I. Bill to set up a small business must a veteran have had experience in the business he wants to undertake?

A. The law provides that a veteran in order to obtain Government guarantee of a loan to establish his own business, must have "such ability and experience as to provide a reasonable likelihood that he will be successful."

Q. Is it true that self-employed veterans engaged in their own business can also receive Readjustment Allowance?

A. Yes, if a veteran is in business for himself, but where net earnings are less than $100.00 per month.

Dear GI & GILL:

Boys are still going in service, and as you might get this quicker, than our regular News, here they are:

Army: Willie V. Manos, M. H. Shepherd, Jr., Emmett C. Brinegar, Johnnie Knight, Loyd L. Whately, Francis M. Wolff, Wm. M. Hopson, J. P. Beach Jr., Allen E. Painter, Verna L. Hammack.
Navy: Michael M. Solano.
Marines: Otice B. Dickie and Lloyd M. Allen.

They've already feworked Old Main, and the Texas State Highway Department, suppose is footing the bill, because it was taken over along with the part of 36 by them sometime ago, and 84, that pass thru town.

Got a nice looking street, this main stem, now, and the Texas State Highway Department has spent about a week on it, and has put two layers of material on, and it's really looking grand. You can now drive down it more than 35 mph without having to hold in, or be in fear that you're head'll try to go thru the top of the car. This is no urge for speed, and with the tires going out like they are right now, it's not good practice to speed anyway. Seems like most folks have forgotten about the "proposed" and never enforced much 35 mph limit on highways. They pass us, when ever we dare get on a highway, so fast, it seems we're going backwards. Ours is still running, at least from shop to shop.

Did you know there were at least three families in Coryell county with six sons in the service? We knew there were two, the Teinerts and Witties, but we didn't know, or hadn't thought until our last issue that there also were the Berrys. Sorry we overlooked that, and if there are any more, won't you please let us know? These folks rate anything we can give them.

Well, Prime Minister Winston Churchill is out. The Labor party did it in England, and evidently, they didn't want him. So, why should we say anything about it. It seems to us, Churchill was one of the finest men, most forcefull, and a scrapper for the English people and we suppose Mr. Attlee will be as well. We don't believe there IS an indispensable man, ANYWHERE, ANYTIME, ANYHOW or for ANY reason. Even from the lowest to the highest.

If Mr. Attlee can do as good a job for his country as we think Pres. Truman is for his country, we think both countries will get along okeh. Some of the commentators, editorialists and such like are going to say, with England more "leftest" you can expect the same in the USA, and according to our idea, we can expect nothing —we've already got it and have, since 1933. That there revolution is growing by leaps and bounds (not the fighting kind of revolution) or, we might have said "evolution" but that's a much worse word. In fact, these are being some changes made and we're not used to changes, and don't like some of them much. Say you like them? Then, you like rationing, social security, etc., etc. They're all a part of "changes that are being made." But, we'll let the "world writers" the "experts" take care of all this.

Well, the Fats-Leans lean on the fat soft ball, or did, Monday night, in the first "sporting" event in these parts in months. It won't be a game—it'll be a catastrophe. Such diamond stars as A. H. (Red) McCoy, H. K. Jackson, Toogood Cone, and then there is the lighter side composed of those live "wires" like Robert Scott, Rev. E. R. Stanford, and some of the other skinny ones, displayed their arts (if any.) Morton Scott should have his black hack there in case of accidents, (if one of them accidentally hits a ball) and some official or nurse from the Coryell Memorial Hospital should be there so that if ANY picher ever threw one over that wasn't grooved, the smelling salts could be applied to said picher. They won't be games, no, no, and "any similarity to a ball game will be purely coincidental." Just you'd better be there.

And now, Congressman Poage is in the vicinity, and it's high time, those who benefit from his work, and or don't like it, threw a party for him. Congressman are only human, and all humans have more or less vanity, and well, Bob Poage should be invited out to some sort of an entertainment by the "beneficiaries" in this neck of the woods to show their gratitude, if any. And, believe you me, there are many, many of them, and this young buck Congressman has been an outstanding member of our largest national governing body. He's not sensational, but is level headed, and a hard worker for you and I. By gosh, we ought to fete him and DO IT NOW? Others do, and do often, and our beneficiaries, so far, never. It shouldn't be so.
