NASHLEY JONES IS KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT THURSDAY

Nashley Jones, son of Mack Jones of Gatesville died from injuries received in a traffic accident on US 84 about 11 miles east of here Thursday night about 9:30. He was most severely injured in the head, chest and shoulders.

Jones was in a Chevrolet by himself and crashed into the rear of a truck driven by Grove Wittie, which was being towed by Robert Logan. Logan was knocked out temporarily but quickly recovered. Wittie was uninjured. The car driven by Jones was a total loss.

His wife was the former Miss Go'die Smith, and he was a son of B. M. Jones, and his mother was the former Miss Carrie Hagans both were from Missouri.

Surviving besides those named above is a sister, Mrs. O. H. Rice of Gatesville.

Funeral Services were held at the Pentacostal Church of God conducted by Willie Terrell, and interment was in the City cemetery.

SPANISH MOSS GATHERER NO ROLLING STONE

BATON ROUGE, La.—Spanish moss, the streaming gray plant decorating trees in Louisiana's bayou land, may become a raw material for a huge industry if a new curing process discovered here can be operated on a commercial scale.

The inner, hair-like strands of the pendulous growth have long been used to pad upholstery, but production has been limited because of the "natural" process used to remove a useless outer bark—eight to twelve weeks of decomposition by rain, air and heat.

Now, however, Leonard M. Jeffrion announces that he has found a way to remove the fibers outer covering "chemically" in a few minutes, and has started operation of a pilot plant to check on its commercial possibilities.

If it works Jeffrion is confident that production of the fiber will grow to 50 or more times its present 12 million pounds a year greatly benefitting the hundreds of moss-gatherers over the state.

HOLLYWOOD :

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD—HOLLYWOOD—HOLLYWOOD—HOLLYWOOD—HOLLYWOOD—HOLLYWOOD—

HOLLYWOOD — Gumshoeing around the "Dressed to Kill" set, I found Sherlock Holmes and Doctor Watson engaged in fittingly British pu.suits.

Holmes, a tall, electrically nervous man known to some as Basil Rathbone, was sitting in his dressing room reading a speech of Churchill's.

Watson, a stodgily distinguished looking gent with silver hair combed straight back, a gray suit, a wing collar and an alias of William "Willy" Nigel Bruce, was telephoning the property department to see if he could buy the sketch of King George V that was being used on the set. The property department said it would see. "Best sketch I've seen of him," said Bruce, referring to the late king. "A fine old boy. He stopped in my dugout in France in 1914. I was a full-blown private."

THAT was shortly before an enemy rifle bullet shattered Bruce's leg bone, an injury that has required several operations since and for which he receives a pension of eight shillings—about $2—a week. He leaves it in England to pay his Garrick Club and Middlesex County Cricket Club dues.

Rathbone won the Military Cross for a daylight patrol in World War I. Bruce, like Rathbone, is charged with nervous energy. They continue their movie and radio association off the screen in golf games once or twice a week. I asked how their partnership began. Rathbone's tense, hawk face lighted.

"It was a party at Darryl Zanuck's," he said. "Gregory Ratoff said to Mr. Zanuck, 'why don't you produce the Conan Doyle stories?' and Mr. Zanuck said, 'Why don't we?' Somebody asked, 'Who could play the parts?' and somebody suggested us."

Now they're on their fourteenth Holmes-and-Watson detective movie and their seventeenth year on the air.

BROADWAY :

By Jack O' Brian

NEW YORK—Bill Stern, the radio player, is reading a play called "A the End of the Trail," by Maxwell Anderson, which George S. Kaufman will direct on Broadway.

This young Stern guy, a handsome fellow with loads of talent and a voice full of regular-fellow good nature is a leading possibility for the role of a returned veteran who has a tough time adjusting himself to prewar normalcy because he is minus a leg.

The role interests Bill more than a little since he himself has managed to overcome the handicap of losing a leg, and now gets about on an artificial limb with the most agile of his friends. It will not be his first crack at acting, since he has made many sports shorts and was one of the principals in an inspiring Army documentary film made for the instruction and encouragement of service guys who lost legs during the war.

BILL moves about much like a person who isn't handicapped in the least. He says that his loss even has been a boon at times, for it has led him to turn his attention to his job to defeat the preying thoughts of being an amputee. Then he discovered idiosyncrasy. Then he discovered it was only a fraction of the difficulty he at first dreamed. Now his vocal gymnastics more than make up for his inability to attempt the pole vault or high hurdles.

Lew Brice, brother of Fanny of "Baby Snooks" and Zeigfield Follies fame, opened his own Broadway night club this week . . . It's called the 800 Club . . . Incidentally, Fanny's "Baby Snooks" character noted its 25th anniversary a few days ago . . . most fans thought it was a fairly recent brainchild of the antic Fanny.

STERN GETS A LEG UP

drama critics . . . and a pretty torrid one, too . . . Random House's successor to "the Lost Weekend" is Mary Jane Ward's "The Snake Pit," a story of a woman's year in a state hospital for the insane.

Eugene O'Neill is the only playwright in America whose published dramas hit the best seller lists . . . "Strange Intended" sold 125,000 copies; "Mourning Becomes Electra" sold 80,000 . . . Bennett Cerf's Random House has had a script of "The Iceman Cometh" securely stacked away in a safe for many months . . . not even employees were permitted a look-see . . . the telephone operator threatened to quit when she had to say nothing doing to Spencer Tracy's request to see it . . . The "iceman" of the title is, incidentally, Death . . . The action transpires in a waterfront saloon . . . several persons who have been permitted an exclusive reading report that the play is one of O'Neill's greatest.

WASHINGTON :

By Jack Stinnett

SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE FOR SO MANY IS HOUSING PLAN

WASHINGTON—The one great difference between National Housing Administrator Wilson W. Wyatt and a tornado is that the tornado blows houses down. The former Louisville (Ky.) mayor proposes to puff them up—2,700,000 of them by the end of 1947.

In order to do this, it is estimated that we will need 70 billion feet of lumber. The country's total lumber stocks these days look about like Aunt Mamie's kindling pile. We'll need seven billion bricks—and bricks are so scarce they are still practically hot from the oven when the masons get them.

We'll need about 1,500,000 construction workers. And the building trades unions, for various reasons, are among the toughest to deal with when it comes to forced expansion, overlapping work, etc.

THIS COULD GO on forever, as for example an average of one and a third bathtubs or showers per building unit or an extra million tons or so of pig iron. As Christine Sadler, housing expert for the Washington Post put it, the only thing we have plenty of to meet this program is "need and money." Wyatt figures those two things and plenty of sweat will put it over.

He has asked Congress for price controls; for financial backing to get the production expansion under way and convert surplus war plants to producing prefabrication units; and for several other controversial things, including ceilings on building materials. He knows he's in for a scrap in some cities on zoning regulations. He's convinced that the housing crisis can't be met by building as usual.

Wyatt's long face, made longer by a rapidly retreating hairline, ordinarily beams geniality. His amazing energy creeps into his conversation. He doesn't mince words or duck questions. What he doesn't know he tries to find out even if it requires back-breaking hours of studying and listening.

COMPARATIVELY unknown nationally a few months ago, he already is being boomed by Kentucky friends for a bright political future. Since his battle with all the polyglot armies on the housing front is just beginning, that may be a bit premature. But, as Baby Snooks says, "Could be".

He is no political tyro. He fought the war as mayor of Louisville with a Republican dominated board of aldermen and eventually lost the bitterly waged battle for city acquisition of the Louisville Gas and Electric Co. Political wisdom teeth are cut that way.

1946—The Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department today urged a Texas motor vehicle owners to see that the titles for vehicles to be registered in 1946 are in order. The law provides that before a vehicle may be registered, the owner must present to the tax collector the prior years registration receipt and must have a title.

Many people do not understand and value the importance of the Title Act, and do not realize that the Certificate of Title Act was passed to improve the validity of titles on motor vehicles thereby making such title comparable to an abstract on real estate.

Motor vehicle owners who have acquired used vehicles, and who have received assigned titles from the previous owners, are urged to apply at once for their titles in order that the transactions may be recorded and the new owners shown on the title records of the Department. Motor vehicle owners are also urged to register their equipment by purchasing the 1946 license plates as soon as possible. It is a common practice throughout the state for owners to wait until the last week in March, thereby creating congested conditions and long lines of applicants in the various Tax Collectors' offices. The County Tax Collectors are experiencing difficulty in obtaining temporary help, and you will be helping them and yourselves by obtaining 1946 license plates during February or in the first part of March and not waiting until the last day or days.

There are some persons operating motor vehicles with Out-of-State license plates who may legally operate under 1946 Out-of-State license plates, and these persons are cautioned to obtain such 1946 plates and apply same on or before the expiration of their present plates. There are others operating motor vehicles with Out-of-State license plates who must legally re-register in Texas, and these persons are advised to purchase Texas license plates immediately to avoid having to pay a penalty in addition to the registration fee.

Particular attention of the owners of trucks, truck-tractors, trailers, semi-trailers and buses was called to the fact that they must be prepared to furnish the Tax Collector with a complete description as to size, type and serial number, et cetera, of equipment to be registered, and must be prepared to register for the actual weight of the empty vehicle plus the heaviest load to be carried, which under the law cannot be less than the manufacturer's rated carrying capacity. If in doubt as to the actual weight, the owners of commercial vehicles should have them weighed and present the weight certificate at the time of registration.

MORRIS FEDERATION MEETING HELD IN METHODIST CHURCH

The Morris Federation met Saturday, February 23, in the Recreation Room of the First Methodist church with Mrs. W. C. Guggolz, Mrs. C. E. Alvis and Mrs. W. C. Bradley as hostesses.

A very interesting program was enjoyed by Mrs. Albert Crain, Mrs. Ross Woodard and nineteen members of the Morris Federation. Jack L. Berry, Sales-Manager of Waco Coca-Cola Company, presented a vis-o-matic film on "Flower Arrangements". He was assisted by Woodrow Hall, the Gatesville representative of the Waco Coca-Cola Company.

At the conclusion of the formal program the hostesses served coffee and a delicious salad plate with yellow jonquils as plate favors.

During the social hour, Mrs. Byron Leaird, Jr. gave several piano selections.

Build It Yourself Ends Housing Problem

RICHMOND, Va. —(P)—Major William F. Tucker, who served 27 months in the transportation corps in Europe, came to Richmond to enter the Medical College of Virginia. He couldn't find a house or an available contractor.

So Tucker himself, applied for a building permit.

"Have you ever built a house?" he was asked.

"No," replied Tucker, "but I can learn."

Today, the house to be a story and a half with five rooms downstairs and three rooms upstairs, is well underway, being built by Tucker and three GI helpers, all still dressed in uniform. Tucker drew the plans from ideas he found in magazines.

Mailmen Thread Way Uniformly Distressed

LOWELL, Mass.—(P)—Those patches on the mailman's uniform are not the fault of unfriendly dogs along the route. Uniforms are impossible to get according to Assistant Supt. of Mails George L. Hunt. Reporting that substitute carriers were already delivering mail in Lowell with nothing but a borrowed cap to identify them, Hunt said: "Unless conditions improve mailmen will be wearing civvies."

Life's Darkest Moment: To Know All Jokes!

NEWARK, N. J.—(P)—Leopold Fechtner of Newark has been collecting jokes in several languages for 15 years. With 170,000 in the dog-eared joke collection books he has made, Fechtner said there just aren't many funny stories left for him to hear. He's heading his hobby toward cartoons now.

Swiss Can Have Money And Fat It, Too

ZURICH —(P)—Swiss nature protective societies have figured out a new wrinkle to raise money for the preservation of the beauties of Silsersee, a lake in the upper Engadine valley. To entice contributors they issued a Silsersee dollar, made of milk chocolate to be given to each donor to the fund. Chocolate was still rationed, but the Silsersee dollar, minted by special permission of rationing authorities, was coupon free.

DEADLINES FOR TAKING OUT COTTON CROP INSURANCE

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Feb.—(AP)—Federal all-risk cotton insurance is being offered Texas farmers again this year by the Federal Crop Insurance Corp.

In Texas, because of the wide variance in times for planting, five areas with different deadlines for taking out insurance have been set up, according to Donald L. Cothran, state crop insurance director. The closing date for the Rio Grande Valley was February 15. In the other four areas closing dates extend from March 10 through April 25. The producer must take out insurance either before the closing date for his county or before ever is earlier.

Principal changes in the program is that out this year will be in succeeding years; the FCIC or written notice cancel the policy. Crop insurance and flax, plus various other crops, are authorized by Congress a year's lapse which started in 1945. The insurance FCIC protects the all unavoidable

WEDNESDAY IS DAY FOR 4-H AND FFA FAT STOCK SHOW IN GHS STADIUM

The Fat Stock Show for 4-H and F. F. A. boys will be held at the local football stadium next Wednesday, March 6. Judging of calves will start at ten o'clock, and Judging of hogs and sheep will start at eleven. R. B. Tate, well-known Texas Fat steer judge, will judge the calves, and Lt. Turner of North Camp Hood will judge the hogs. At this time it is not known who will judge the sheep. All contestants will be asked to assemble at 1.15 for the presentation of money prizes. J. B. Martin and W. W. Bamburg, members of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, will assist local business men in making the individual presentations. Eiland Lovejoy has promised to act as broadcaster of the show. This feature of the show is a ways interesting since the spectators are kept informed as to contestants and positions won. Something like one hundred animals have been fed for this show, and the quality of livestock promises to be much better than ever exhibited. Some of the calves entered in this show will weigh 1050 pounds. These calves will be in the Senior or heavyweight division, and calves weighing under 900 pounds will be in the Junior or light weight class. There will be two classes of hogs also, the heavy, 220 pounds and over, and the light 190 to 220 pounds. There will be only one class of sheep. All sheep are judged on the basis of fat lambs. No emphasis is placed on wool. The judging of all classes should be completed by 12:15 or 12:30, and will be kept on the grounds until two o'clock, at which time they will be loaded out for the Fort Worth Stock Show.

SWISS MISS MISSES GUESS ON WASHINGTON

VISP, Switzerland—The editor of the local newspaper, the Wallister Bote, has a theory that Americans know more about witzerland's hero, William Tell, than the Swiss know about George Washington.

To prove his point the editor asked fellow-townsmen, "Who was George Washington?"

Here were some of the answers as reported in the newspaper's A store proprietor: "Let's see, seems to me I've heard that name. Oh, yes, that was the town where Roosevelt lived."

A railway employee: "He was President of the United States. He was very famous, but I can't recall just why. Didn't he build the Panama Canal?"

A school teacher: "Only two weeks ago my pupils were required to write a composition on 'The War of Independence and Its Influence Upon European History'. My dear fellow, I know all about the man."

A girl who had been running after American furloughees: "Was not he a jazz-band director?"

A politician: "George Washington—why that's the chap who fought against slavery. He freed America from the British yoke and was one of the spiritual leaders of the French Revolution. Finally he was assassinated in a theater."

Now You Can Paint Your Gloves On

NEW YORK—(P)—A new chemical glove, that is merely smeared over the hands and forearms is described in the Review of Scientific Instruments.

The glove is a special protective cream, with some unusual propene ties. A thin film affords protection for several hours against strong chemicals that might be poisonous on the skin. It also prevents staining of the skin.

The glove is said not to be noticeable and sheds water, although water is used to wash it off.

Rock-Throwing Boys Get Target Handicap

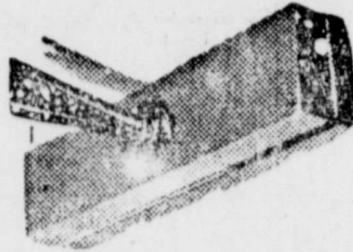

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(P)—School windows shattered by rockthrowing kids have cost Louisville taxpayers about $2,500 annually for years, but at last something is being done about it.

Maintenance men now install 12-section glass windows in replacing broken old-fashioned sashes containing a single expensive pane.

This doesn't stop rock tossing, but it limits to about 50 cents the damage one rock can cause.

REV. AND MRS. KEENER CELEBRATED GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Since this was written Rev. Keener has passed away. The story was carried in a recent edition of the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram. An account of Rev. Keener's funeral was carried in the News.

Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Keener of Gatesville celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary, January 12, 1946 at their home near Gatesville.

Their son-in-law, Ira Graham, husband of their youngest daughter played the wedding march as the couple entered the room accompanied by their grandson, H. P. Brookshire and granddaughter, Billy Yvonne Keener.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Geo. Siler, who has been their pastor for 20 years.

The bride carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrisanthemums and acacia tied with a large yellow satin bow. She wore a black alpaca dress trimmed with gold sequins and wore a lapel watch given to her by her husband as a wedding gift.

She was born in Tarrant County near Jacksboro, May 21, 1875, and was the daughter of Rev. W. T. Pickett, a confederate veteran and a Methodist Minister.

The groom was attired in a bankers gray suit. He was born near Montgomery, Alabama, August 9, 1859, and came to Texas at the age of 9 settling near McKinney in Collin County.

They were married at Farmer-ville, and to this union 7 children were born, 6 of whom are now living. They are, Mrs. C. L. Beane of Gtessville, Willie Keener, Gatesville, Arthur Keener, Dallas, Jesse Keener, Gatesville, Mrs. H. P. Brookshire, Gatesville and Mrs. I. A. Graham, Gatesville.

There are 38 living grandchildren and 32 living great grandchildren.

Rev. Keener has three children by a former wife who are, Jim Keener, Gatesville, Mashe Keener, Gatesville and M. S. James Maxwell, also of Gatesville.

The couple who are both Methodist ministers have been preaching the gospel for over 50 years wherever they have made their homes, and have established churches and Sunday schools at these places.

The first three years of their married life was in Collins County and they moved to Colorado county where they lived until 1916, moving then to Tom Green county near San Angelo, staying there one year, and then moving to Coryell county, near Gatesville.

At present, they are living in West Gatesville and there is a small white church in a half block of their home which their friends have named "Keener Chapel" in honor of the ones who have spent their lives establishing churches.

Both are still able to attend services every Sunday.

Some 300 people called to pay tribute to this couple and wish them many more years of service.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Ada Jones and Mrs. Lou Purcell, Dallas, both sisters of Mrs. Keener.

of the mail order business in a hurry!

Since a newspaper story announced that a man in Hagers-town, Mo., had called on Mayor Holt for help in locating a spouse, numerous women have written or called to say they are "available."

But Mayor Holt is tired having his office confused with a matrimonial agency.

"Finding a wife is personal business and the next time someone from far away wants a wife from Burlington, the best thing for him to do is to come here, and look around a few days," he says.

Telephone Brings Voice From The 'Dead'

NEWARK, N. J. —(AP)— City Fireman George W. Vetter, Jr., heard a voice on the telephone say cheerily, "Hello, George Old Pal, how are ya?"

George's hand shook and he was speechless. The voice was that of Felix Martinez, a buddy whom Vetter himself had listed as dead in his duties as a sergeant in a French forest in August, 1944.

Martinez, a Mt. Vernon, N. Y. resident, assured Vetter he was very much alive even though a hand grenade had exploded in front of him in full sight of his company. He had not returned that night in France, but was rescued by another outfit.

Tempting Variety of CANNED GOODS

And, Besides, Variety, Convenience is the "Canned Story"

Yes, times are, when friends, or relatives drop in for a meal, and you're right there, the store's closed, the Old Man's off with the car, and you can't get a thing fixed—in fact, there's nothing in the pantry what-so-ever!

Ever get caught that way? 'Course you have!

Now, here's our new Policy, "Surprise Insurance"! Just phone and take out a "policy" on surprise insurance, and stock a tempting variety of canned foods that'll assure that Gargantuan appetite of Uncle Charlie, or that fickle, finicky appetite of Aunt Harriette.

Just reach up and grab a can to "suit their personality," and they'll love you to death for that lovely or grandioso meal, which-ever.

HORNETS DROP FINAL REGIONAL GAME TO BOWIE 39-19

Better passing and floor work took the Gatesville high school Hornets out of the State Class A Basketball Tournament at Austin, Saturday night when Bowie eliminated them by the count of 33-19.

Bowie flashed nothing, either, except fair floor work and passing. The Hornets were badly off on field goals and free throws, the defensive play of the Bowie club breaking up their offense. At the half three Hornets were tied for high point with 5 points each. Cleveland for Bowie was high point for the evening.

The local boys have done well considering everything, but the same thing might be said about Bowie, which we don't think will win the first game at the state meet, and if it does, there won't be much class to the meet.

HORNETS TAKE GAME FROM BIRDWELL 39-35; SEMI-FINAL

It was the semi-final game Thursday night, when the GHS Hornets took a close one from Birdwell of Ft. Worth in none too easy style, 39-35.

The Hornets had a comfortable lead during the three-fourths of the contest and the half-time score was 27-20 with Gatesville leading.

Starting for the Hornets in the "looping" division was Ward and Necessary, with Ward getting 14 points and Necessary 17, and he tied with Heatherly of Birdville who also got 17.

College Scouts were on hand looking for basketball timber, it was reported. Officials for the game were Jimmy Cloyd and Johnny Mo:row.

Lineup for the two teams are as follows:

- | | | |
|-----------|----------|---|
| | HORNETS | G |
| Ward | | G |
| Gilbreath | | C |
| Davis B. | | C |
| Necessary | | F |
| Bone | | F |
| | BIRDWELL | G |
| Parr | | C |
| Taylor | | C |
| Heatherly | | F |
| Knapp | | F |
| Stewart | | F |

Hornet substitutions were Patterson, Anderson and Graham.

JONESBORO DROPS GAME TO THEIR NEMISES 42-33

Jonesboro was unlucky on the draw at the Regional Tourney at the SMU Gym in Dallas last weekend, and drew a team that had hounded them all season, beating them at John Tarleton Tournament. It was one of the few teams that have polished off the Jonesboro boys.

This team was Perrin, and, in the game, which ended 42-33, Lynch was high point for Jonesboro with 11, and Jones got 10.

Jonesboro did, however, win over another club in the preliminaries, or eliminations, and won 37-27, with Lynch getting 16, and Bramlett 12. If PT told us the listening.

COPPER AND ASBESTOS

Arizona's Gila County has become the principal source of asbestos in the Nation. The gold rush of 1858 has been followed by development of copper. Between 1880 and 1929 the State's production jumped from 800,000 pounds to 830,626,411. Vast stores remain to be excavated to contribute to the Nation's wealth behind Victory Bonds.

WITH THE ARC

The home nursing classes taught by Miss Gordon in Copperas Cove ended Friday, February 22, and pins were presented the evening of February 26, by Mr. Ollie Little, Schneider, Frances Schwausch, Faye Smart, Doris Urbantke, Sable Vann (Kempner, Tex.), Velma Weiser, Betty Sue Walker.

Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, chairman of home nursing, advises that home nursing classes for the adult women of Gatesville has been scheduled to begin March 18. As in the six lesson plan, the number attending must be limited; consequently it is urged that all those who are interested should call immediately the Red Cross office.

Mrs. Hamilton also reports that the first adult course, six lesson plan, for the negro women began February 25. Plans are now under way for two additional classes for the colored women.

FACTS FOR THE VEETERAN

(Archie T. was inducted into the service when he was 34. Prior to service, he was a layout man for a mail order house. His income was not large and he did not like the work. He is unmarried. After four years of service, he was discharged on points, but, being unattached, he decided to settle in a small city where he eventually wanted to go into business for himself.

Because of his specialized industrial background, he was not able to find work easily and, besides he wanted some new type of employment more consistent with skills developed in service. He tried for a job, but was unsuccessful.)

There are a number of avenues open to Archie. He can contact the Veterans employment representative of the U. S. Employment Service, who can make available a qualified person for job counseling. He can arrange for job registration and assist the veteran in applying for "readjustment allowance," the formal name for veterans unemployment compensation under the G I Bill. If he is interested in a job in the ranks of skilled labor, arrangements will be made for the training on the job, with possible supplementation to his apprentice salary through the educational provisions of the G I Bill.

If Archie wants employment only and the U. S. Employment Service is unable to help him immediately, he will be certified for unemployment compensation and will receive at least $20 a week while unemployed.

Another avenue open to Archie is to take advantage of the educational opportunities offered under the G I Bill. Archie can only apply to the Veterans Administration for vocational counseling, thus enabling him to plan his future with experts. He can then qualify himself for a job as a skilled craftsman in many fields and receive all of his educational expenses (not exceeding $500 per school term), plus a subsistence allowance of $50 a month. If Archie wants to supplement those living expenses, he can obtain part-time employment and still retain his $50 per month subsistence allowance.

Your local Red Cross chapter (headquarters, City Hall) is prepared to give you counsel and assistance with reference to benefits available to veterans and their dependents.
