KANSAS FIRM LEASES UNIT AT MCGREGOR

McGREGOR, Texas, May 5. — Ammonia nitrate fertilizer, a war-born, commercially-manufactured product, will be produced at the former Bluebonnet Ordnance plant here by the Military Chemical Works, Inc., of Pittsburg, Kan., it was announced here Saturday.

The Kansas firm has leased a unit of the plant and production will start within a few weeks, Robert Lemon, industrial relations director for the chemical company announced on behalf of C. Y. Thomas, general manager. The unit is being leased from the War Assets Administration and the company will ship ammonia nitrate in liquid solution from its Kansas plant to the McGregor unit in tank carloads.

Here it will be made into fertilizer by a dehydration-crystallization process.

The local operations will have a capacity of 300 tons of 32.5 ammonia nitrate daily and will employ about 200 workers, Lemon said. Similar plants will be opened in Kansas and Nebraska.

George Frey, a former Texan, will arrive in McGregor Monday to take over his duties as plant superintendent. From four to six weeks will be required to condition the plant for operations.

JOE WALKER DIED OF HEART ATTACK FRIDAY NOON

Dear Friends:

As Mr. Poage is in Texas this week, and inasmuch as I am a new addition to the office personnel, he has asked me to write the weekly news letter. Accordingly, I thought that possibly some of you would be interested in a few impressions that I gained in Japan, while with the army, concerning that country and its people.

When we landed in Japan, contrary to all expectations, we were treated very well by the Japanese

Texans 'n Washington

By L. T. (TEX) EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

Soon after Congress ends its Easter recess it will take up the very rizzling question of expanding the Southwest Power Authority—which bids fair to become as widely known as the TVA.

Personalities will enter into that scrap as in the case of the Tennessee Valley Authority, where the late Senator George Norris of Nebraska and Kenneth McKeller (D-Tenn.), president pro-tem of the Senate, figured so prominently. With the SPA the key individual involved is speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham.

A long range program envisioned by SPA sponsors calls for eventual development of hydro-electric energy on streams and rivers throughout an area of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas greater than the area served by the TVA.

The budget bureau sent to the House a recommendation that $23,000,000 be appropriated for expenditure by the SPA during the fiscal year beginning July 1. The money would be spent for various types of construction, including erection of power generating stations which would use oil or gas for fuel, and transmission lines throughout the South west.

The SPA item was taken up by the House Appropriations Committee as a part of the fiscal 1947 willingly under an imperialistic government can in a few months develop the deep sense of feeling for the responsibilities that each individual has to have in a democratic form of government. The Jap has been a slave to an emperor so long that it will be impossible for him to change in any short time. My personal opinion is that we should keep an army of occupation in Japan for many years until we know for sure, without any doubt, that he is capable and willing to live in the democratic manner, and we cannot afford to be suckers for their present attitude and friendliness.

They have to a certain degree, modern civilization, but here in this country, where our civilization has been developed gradually and has been established and built as our country has been built, all these things which we call modern civilization seem to fit in, but in Japan one gets the impression that certain parts of modern civilization have literally been crammed down their throats to such an extent that they have it but they hardly know how to take advantage of it. Every day you can see a modern train passing a Jap peasant who is plowing with an ox and wooden plow; an automobile passing a man threshing rice by stomping on it; and electric lights in homes heated by a small charcoal pot. Incidentally, I might mention that as far as I know, there is not a house in Japan, rural or urban, that does not have electric light. When I think of the many rural homes in our country without electricity, I begin to wonder if we haven't slipped up somewhere down the line ourselves. I am glad to know that Mr. Poage is one of the foremost exponents of the R. E. A. here in Washington. Undoubtedly we are exceedingly negligent in rural electrification.

Japan of course, will have no opportunity to start a war again in many years. The first thing we did when we got there was to destroy all their war materials and war factories that could not be converted into civilian use. We exploded their ammunition, blew up their weapons, and even collected civilian weapons of all kinds. By now there is probably not a factory in Japan capable of producing any warlike materials.

Yours very sincerely,
"NEAL G. GRIMLAND"
Office of W. R. Poage, M. C.

Interior Department supply bill. Appearing before the committee urging approval of the Budget Bureau's recommendation was Speaker Sam Rayburn. It was the first time since he had become the presiding officer of the House back in 1940 that he had asked that committee to provide funds for any cause whatever. Not even during the committee hearings on measures providing money for construction of the $54,000,000 Denison Dam on the Red River had he gone before the group. This gives one an idea of the importance he attached to the SPA expansion program.

The old, old fight of Public versus Private utilities is at the heart of the debate on SPA, which raged behind closed doors of the Appropriations committee and may break out on the floor when the Interior bill comes up for a vote. It was this SPA issue that prompted Speaker Rayburn verbally to lambast the lobbyists. His attack was followed by introduction of a House resolution to investigate all lobbying activities around the Capitol. The resolution is pending now before the rules committee.

While no one knows just what the Appropriations committee will do regarding the SPA request, the feeling of those keenly interested in the matter is that the agency will get a sizeable sum largely because of the stong personal plea made by Rayburn. The amount probably will be considerably below the figure sought.

AROUND TH CAPITOL

Former San Antonio mayor and congressman Maury Maverick, now practicing law in Los Angeles, must be getting to be a real Californian. He came back to Washington the other day on private business, and this reporter cal'ed him up at his hotel. Aroused suddenly from a nap by the phone, he heard his caller's voice and responded: "Well, what are you doing out here?"

President Harry S. Truman has signed these bills in settlement of claims Texans have made against the government:

An act releasing Bernice B. Cooper, Farm Security Administration typist, of responsibility for the loss of $300 of government money stolen from her custody at the Weatherford office where she worked, Feb. 13, 1942.

An act for repayment of $1,500 to W. E. Noah of Sweetwater, who was injured Jan. 21, 1942 in Alpine when an army truck in a convoy struck his sedan.

An act for the payment of $1,500 to Addie Pruitt of Houston for injuries sustained Christmas Day, 1942, when crushed between two army trucks.

The ordinary Washingtonians who have nothing to do with Federal Power Commission hearings on pipe line applications are now becoming conscious of Texas' great natural gas deposits. The local newspapers have just announced that the West Virginia sources of natural gas and artificial gas which have been supplying Washington are running short and that soon all such fuel here will come from Texas.

Dear Judy,

WELL, Cookie, guess the next big event on the bulletin board is Mother's Day, and all the kids are really planning to go to town for the day.

The cook books have been taken down from dusty places for the big event 'cause all the heps are planning to cook the Sunday dinner for the family.

We held a meeting the other night and decided that if all the kids planned the same menus for their families, it would make life simpler for everybody.

Gloria, who has never boiled an egg came up with a startling menu that would require at least the advice of a French chef—so she was ruled out.

What we finally decided on was crab bisque to start with. You can make a delicious one by mixing together a can of tomato soup and a can of crab meat with milk and butter. Then we're going to have pot roast because you can leave it on the stove and not watch it too much. This will have carrots, green peppers and onions cooked in with it and should be pos delish. The gravy can be poured over spaghetti which will serve instead of potatoes—and save bread too.

Then there'll be a green salad which can be made long before dinner starts. The dressing, a mixture of roquefort cheese and French dressing (bottled), can be added when the salad is served.

Dessert will be a mixture of fruits which can also be prepared and kept in the refrigerator until ready to serve. Don't you think it sounds toothsome?

home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rauschenberg at North Camp Hood Village, Wednesday night. The group enjoyed a movie at the U. S. D. B. Theater and on their return were served cake and Dr. Pepper.

There were six girls present for the affair.

Bet the Chicago high school paper editors were in a tizzy when president Truman held a press conference for 'em. Seems they were permitted to shoot questions about anything they liked.

From Virginia, Minn, comes a note from Mitzi Bourgin whose crowd is looking for new angles and new square words. She says she and her heps are deeply engaged in jive talk at the moment. Looks like the kids want to improve their vocabularies, doesn't it?

Bye the bye, here's a question from artist George Wunder: "Did you hear about the Kentucky cow that grazed on blue grass and mooded indigo?" Silly, don't you think?

Have you heard the Frank Sinatra recording "All Through the Day" and "Two Hearts Are Better Than One"? Or have you found a new love—you don't seem to be scribbling about Sinatra lately.

GATESVILLE SENIORS VS. GATESVILLE 1946 TEAM, TUES. MAY 7

Looks like coach Loyd Mitchell is going to have something to start the 1946 football season with this year, because they finally tell us at Spring Football practice, there have been 55 candidates out for the '46 edition, and 14 of them are lettermen. If we were a coach we'd think that was remarkable. They're about to finish up, and now they tell us there'll be a game Tuesday night, May 7, between the "exes" and the prospective club. It'll be at 8 p. m. and you're invited. Whether there will be a charge was not told to us.

John Frank Post, Jr., has returned home after service in the U. S. Army.

RAMBLERS TAKE TWO IN SOFTBALL: DOWN COKES AND MCGREGOR

Two games held the spotlight the past week on the soft ball diamond, when the Ramblers trounced the Coca-Colas 10-7, and Ivy and Davidson hurled and caught for the Cokes and White and Loer were batteries for the Ramblers.

In the other game, the Ramblers smothered a club from McGregor 17-7, and Loer tossed and Jones stopped.

Schedule for this week has not been announced as yet.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Jackson, Jr., of Baylor University were visitors in the home of Mr. Jackson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Jackson of Gatesville.

Personals

Chambers of Rule, Mrs. Owen King, Gatesville, Mrs. A. E. Mashburn, Amarillo, Mrs. Herschell Jones, of Weslaco, and Mrs. Berkeley Laxson of Dallas.

Pall bearers were Frances Caruth, Bythel Cooper, Troy Jones, Dawson Cooper, Charles Powell and Cyril Hudson.

Honorary pallbearers were employees of The National Bank of Gatesville, and deacons of the First Baptist Church.

VA. Q. & A.

J. Is there any restriction on the use of money secured from a loan guaranteed by the Veterans Administration?

A. Yes. Funds secured from a loan may be used only to purchase, build, repair, alter, or improve a home or farm to be occupied by the veteran, or to purchase a business, business property or equipment to be used by the veteran for the purpose of earning a livelihood.

Q. In an emergency, how can a veteran secure admission to a veterans hospital?

A. Before proceeding to a veterans administration hospital, the veteran or someone acting for him should communicate with the nearest VA contact unit or hospital by telephone or telegraph, and request authority for admission and for transportation, if necessary. Prior authority is needed before a person can be reimbursed for any expense incurred in such travel.

Q. Should a man who obtains National Service Life insurance from the Government while in the military or naval service retain such insurance after discharge?

A. By all means, because the premium rates are low in comparison with the rates of private insurance, especially in view of the valuable protection granted. After separation from active service, veterans cannot apply for new National Service Life insurance and the obtaining of new insurance with private companies will have to be accomplished at his present age for which rates would necessarily be higher. Furthermore, the additional medical examination which would be required for a new non-government

WASHINGTON — Capital Notes in passing.

If those Democratic party insurgents who'd "druther" see National Committee Chairman Robert E. Hannegan out of that office would just hush up about it, they might get their druthers.

Friends say Hanegan has been on the verge of resigning several times. His health hasn't been the best and the pace is killing. But each time some party irreconcilables have loosed verbal thunderbolts at Hannegan for this, that or the other. If Hanegan does resign, it won't be under any conditions that would make it appear that he walked out because the heat was turned on.

ADD 1946 candidacy possibilities (very bare): Treasury Secretary Vinson for Baseball Czar Happy Chandler's former Senate seat from Kentucky; and Agriculture Secretary Anderson for the governorship of New Mexico.

Of all the cabinet domestic hot spots, Anderson and Labor Secretary Schwollenbach fell on the hottest. Except for Secretary of State Byrnes most other cabinet members are enjoying comparative peace this spring.

President Truman's return from a week's cruising on Chesapeake Bay and reviewing fleet maneuvers brought his travel total close to 24,000 miles.

The White House boys who have had a look at his "prospective trip book" for the months to come, are willing to bet that he will just about maintain that clip during his second year in office.

Time was when a White House correspondent didn't get to go anywhere. The boys there today keep their bags packed all the time and are getting so they can live out of them about as comfortably as they can out of a bureau drawer.

THE Battleship Texas was earmarked for the atomic bomb tests at Bikini. It isn't any more. Legislation has been introduced by Rep. Luther Johnson (D-Tex.) to transfer the battleship to the state of Texas. If this starts a trend for states to take over obsolete battleships with a record, it will raise some neat problems—in New Mexico, Colorado, the Dakotas and such.

Ed Pauley must like it where the going is hottest. Few men would have recovered yet from the burns inflicted by the Senate when it turned the heat on the President's effort to get him confirmed as undersecretary of the Navy.

But Pauley has gone off to see if the Russians took anything out of Manchuria they shouldn't have. Many think that's just stepping out of the frying pan into the furnace.

BROADWAY :

By Jack O' Brian

NEW YORK — The question of curing hiccups came up the other evening—or was it morning? among eight persons sitting around a table in the Stork's Club Room, and there were eight different cures suggested.

Dean Jagger suggested holding your breath and counting 50. Milton Berle said hold your breath and count to a million—"then you won't have hiccups—you'll be dead."

Everybody had a different cure. I don't have any, but the one which I saw being administered one night recently is a dandy, although I'm not sure it can be used effectively unless there is a large wide streak of ham in the victim.

I WAS sitting at the Copacabana with Burgess Meredith and Franchot Tone when Burgess, or 'Buzz' as he is known to "nick-name droppers" got the hiccups. He tried several of the accepted correctives, such as holding his breath and drinking water through a piece of sugar held in his teeth, but none worked.

Then Franchot hit upon an idea one of such amazing remedial powers that I'm sure a paper should be read on the subject at the next convention of the American Medical Association.

Franchot started telling Meredith about his excellent war record. He complimented Buzz on the swell film, "The Story of GI Joe." He mentioned the document

"Everything you've done has any movies Buzz had worked on. been a credit both to you and the movie business" Franchot said.

YOU'VE fought a war in the best way you know—with not only the regular military methods but with the job you know best—the movies. You've been the envy of every movie actor, for you've not only made excellent films, but they've been exactly what has been needed to help win the war.

Tone went on to cover even more complimentary territory, leaving no bases untouched in his all-out verbal back-patting. Then he stopped abruptly.

"How are your hiccups?" he asked Buzz.

Buzz considered. "I guess they've been gone for a couple of minutes" he said. "I wonder what happened to them."

"What happened to them!" exclaimed the handsome Franchot. "Why you forgot about everything else in the world while I was telling you how wonderful you are—you ham!"

WITH THE ARC

Mrs. Ruth Curry, formerly employed by the Red Cross office as stenographer and bookkeeper, left May 1 to accept a position with the Veterans Administration, Waco.

Miss Ozella Hargis, chairman of nutrition, wishes to call attention to the people of Coryell County the present famine emergency campaign.

Plans are underway to bring before the public much information concerning the necessity and the method of conserving food. Miss Hargis is working closely with the Junior Red Cross in the county, particularly with the Junior Red Cross Committee in the Gatesville schools. Nutritional films, speakers, posters, etc., will be available at all schools and public meetings.

Mrs. Horace Galloway, chairman of sewing, wishes to advise the people of Coryell County, particularly of outlying communities, that the war relief garments are cut, and that allotments may be secured by calling at the local Red Cross Office.

JUNIOR - SENIOR THEM LETTERMEN

The Juniors of Turnersville High School entertained the Seniors on Friday night, April 26, with the Junior-Senior Round-up in the Turnersville gymnasium.

The gym was cleverly decorated to carry out the Western theme. Tables were set against a background of a colorful desert covered with cactus, saddles, guitars, and real cactus completed the theme. The tables were ceremoniously decorated in white and green and had a beautiful reflector centerpiece on which stood cowboy hats and buffaloes. The smaller tables were decorated with covered wagons. Also adding to the theme were waitresses, clad in western attire, who sang cowboy songs. They were: Juanell Gilmore, Gladys Hollingsworth, Florene Fleming, Dorothy Gaskamp, Erma Broome, Mae Ellen Vinson, Jo Ann Johnson, and Charlene Tharp.

The highlight of the evening was a most interesting talk made by the guest speaker, Reverend Ed. Bayles, Austin College, Sherman, Texas.

Following the address, a delicious dinner was served consisting of: Barbecue and gravy, baked potatoes, English peas, spring salad, olives, pickles, iced tea, rolls, Ambrosia and cookies.

The glorious fete was concluded with group songs.

4-H STOCK BRINGS NEAR RECORD PRICES

Bidding was spirited at the Kansas City stockyards when 226 fat steers, raised by Texas 4-H members went through the ring. Unhampered by OPA ceiling prices because the stock was fattened by Junir Farmers and shown by them at the Plainview, Texas, 4-H show, cattle buyers bid up to 32 cents per pound—The top price for the Grand Champion Steer, raised by L. D. Ballard, 19 of Plainview—and paid 26 to 30 cents generally. (AP Photo).

By GENE HANDSAKER

(AP) Newsfeatures

HOLLYWOOD —HOLLYWOOD—

HOLLYWOOD —Lavish —colorful — entertaining: I scatter these posies for M-G-M's "Ziegfeld follies," a color-film pageant of girl-glorification, dancing, singing, novelty spectacles and comedy.

It claims "the largest number of star names ever assembled for a single motion picture."

There's William Powell, again portraying (as in "The Great Ziegfeld") the late showman and speculating, amid heavenly splendor, how he would produce just one more follies.

A MERRY-GO-ROUND laden with gorgeous girls features Lucille Ball and Virginia OB'rien. Esther Williams swims under water. Keenan Wynn gets mixed up with two telephones, and Red Skelton becomes plastered while paddling gin via television.

Fred Astaire dances with Lucille Bremer and Gene Kelly. James Melton and Marion Bell sing "Traviatta." Lawyer Edward Arnold barely saves Victor Moore from the death penalty for spitting in the subway. Fanny Brice wins on a sweepstakes ticket.

The production which boasts 400 costumes and gowns completes an M-G-M trilogy begun with "The Great Ziegfeld" and "The Ziegfeld Girl."

ONCE upon a time (the present) a movie studio (Universal) decided to film a fable about Aesop, slave and famous story teller of the sixth century, B. C. They called it "Night In Paradise."

The picture people gave Aesop (Turhan Bey) a beautiful sweetheart, Princess Delarai (Merle Oberon) in the court of fat and fabulously rich King Croesus (Thomas Gomez). They spiced antiquity's stilted dialogue with wisecracks: Croesus' chamberlain

(Ray Collins), eschewing middle-aged play-boyishness, says "Early in life I had to decide whether I was going to be a career man or a carouse man."

They filled their lavish color film with colossal palaces, swimming pools, beautiful maidens a-bathing, and a sorceress (Gale Sondergaard) who appeared magically on Croesus' mirror and floor to plague him for preferring Miss Oberon.

They pictured Aesop as a stooped and whiskered old philosopher who, upon attaining Merle's boudoir, revealed himself as a handsome young adventurer.

The lovers are tossed to seeming death from a cliff but magically survive to marry and beget numerous children.

Moral: Though it brags of Miss Oberon's first screen bath and Turhan Bey's first screen kiss, I think you will find this preposterous tale something less than a moviegoer's night in paradise.

"for outstanding achievement in the plastics industry."

Mr. Meharg is a chemist with the Bakelite Corporation of Bound Brook, N. J. and the presentation was made in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Commodore, New York City, April 24, 1946.

This is the 5th annual award, and the program during the award was as follows:

"American and Canadian national anthems.

Toastmaster was Richard F. Back, Dean of Education and Extension service of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Address of welcome, Neil O. Brodeson, president, Society of the Plastic Industry, Inc.

Address, Dr. Preston Bradley, Peoples Church of Chicago.

Music was by Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians.

The affair was the Society of the Plastic Industry's Annual Conference Dinner.

Mr. Meharg was born in Coryell County in 1897 and after being graduated from Gatesville High School completed his degree in chemistry at Rice Institute, Houston, and then did graduate work at the University of Minnesota and Northwestern University in organic chemistry. He has been with the Bakelite Corporation since 1922.

He is a son of Mrs. Sam Meharg of Gatesville.

Tuberculosis Treated On Part-Time Basis

MOSCOW —AP — The Soviet government will double the number of its night sanatoriums to treat tubercular industrial workers while they remain on the job. By the beginning of 1946, such institutions were treating some 50,000 patients yearly in Moscow, Leningrad, Siberia and the Urals.

Night Sanatoriums were established first during the war near factories to give special diets and rest to workers in the first stages of tuberculosis.

Hear Ye, Hear Ye!

One of the 5,000 United States Marines who died on Iwo Jima was Ben Toland, 24, of Concord, N. H., a Yale junior and an honor student. When another officer was wounded in battle, Lt. Toland voluntarily took command of his platoon, stormed the ridge and gained the objective before he himself was killed. Toland's estate, less than $4,000, was divided by his will as follows:

- Benevolence ..... 5%
- His church ..... 5%
- His college ..... 10%
- His prep school ..... 20%
- The A. F. of L. .... 10%
- The C. I. O. .... 10%
- The N. A. M. .... 20%
- The U. S. Congress ..... 20%

A Goodwill Message

The will was not a document of profound legal verbiage; just a hand-written note from a military man going to battle quite aware that fighters don't always return from such missions. It was no hastily devised instrument. Every detail shows scholarly thought. The author knew he might be giving his life for America's future, and tossed in his possessions as part of the offering.

Not even a cynical critic of the liberty Ben Toland understood and appreciated could detect a tone of bitterness in his harmonious bequests. He met death on February 21 and it is reasonably certain that the will was written at Christmas, far beyond the horizon of merriment but in a spirit of "Good will toward men." In that holiday gift-list rings a clear note of victory and hope.

To Save Americanism

As if it were his life's last title, five per cent went to church and five to a Christmas charity, "The 100 Neediest Cases," sponsored by the New York Times. Toland knew the worth of learning and paid a tribute to two schools that were peculiarly his own, Yale University and St. Paul's of Concord. The will's other four beneficiaries sound a chord of pure patriotism.

Not every service man who paid his life for victory in World War II possessed this young man's grasp of public affairs, but they all wanted the same thing. They wanted to see America the land of opportunity once more. The lieutenant's will expresses all this hope and more, for Toland knew how to save America's freedom: through peace between labor and management.

Paying to Be Heard

This sober young man laid 60% of his earthly holdings on the altar of industrial peace. His mother yet lived. No doubt he had personal friends who needed funds. Just the same, his largest single hope beyond his own life-span was to retain the American system of free faith, free speech, free enterprise, popular ballot, unrestricted opportunity and equality under the law.

With 20% he asked Congress to heed the plea of many martyrs, a plea for laws in the interest of all, not just pressure groups. Another 20% calls aloud to the National Association of Manufacturers, a group of small employers such as fill more than two-thirds of America's pay envelopes. Another fifth begs a hearing by the two biggest labor groups, destined to play an important role in America's future.

HE FROESEES NO AIR AGE THREAT TO SKYSCRAPERS

NEW YORK — Andrew J. Eken, who was one of the builders of the tallest structure of them all, isn't worried about what the Air Age may do to the skyscraper. He is equally sure there isn't going to be another race to see how high is up.

"There will be high buildings built in the future," he says, "but they will be 35 to 50 stories in height" which isn't half that of the 102 story Empire State building.

"There is no limit to the height, so far as stresses are concerned," Eken adds, "but the limit is on the amount of space for necessary equipment. I don't think there will be many as high as the Empire unless built for such a special reason as a monument or for advertising."

Eken was highly gratified at the way the Empire proved to the man-in-the-street that planes couldn't knock over tall buildings. When an army bomber crashed into the tower last summer, investigators found the structure had not been weakened in the slightest.

A lot of the skyscrapers' ruggedness against assault is inherent in its design which is like a birdcage of interlocking rods and bars. The birdcage allows for distribution of a load of a half million tons, which is the approximate weight of the Empire State building.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Poston attended the Texas Grain Dealers Association in Galveston last week end.
