Good-Bye Program For Whole County at USO Friday Evening

Due to the fact that the Gatesville USO is closing, June 15, that is, unless something happens, the authorities will hold "open house" to the many folks in Coryell county who have been assisted in their work here since it's opening in April, 1942.

There will be a few speeches, including Colonel John L. Dunn, Commandant of the USDB at North Camp Hood, an enlisted man will speak his appreciation of the USO, and probably Mayor Protem Wade Sadler will have remarks "for the good of the order", due to the fact that Mayor Kermit R. Jones will be out of town at that time.

Special guests, if they can accept the invitations sent, will include, General Jonathan M. Wainwright, Commanding officer of the 8th Service Command—4th army; Major General Andrew D. Bruce, W. P. Davidson, Regional Executive of USO, Herbert Hitch, Regional Supervisor, YMCA-USO, Harvey J. Emigh, Representative, Federal Security Administration and their associates.

A USDB orchestra will play the introductory part of the program and during refreshments, and after 9:30 for dancing. Pfc. "Moose" Hall, well known singer will sing popular and light operatic songs.

C. E. Alvis will emcee the program, and Mrs. Mabel Campbell, USO Director says no printed invitations have been sent out, and this is an invitatoin to everyone to attend.

Now, personally speaking, we don't think a set-up like the entire USO plant could be maintained in Gatesville, but something very similar, on a smaller scale, both as teen-age club and a City Club or Country Club, is very, very possible, and should be "salvaged" out of the equipment the USO will no doubt liquidate if and when they "fold". Let's don't let it happen.

Rodeo Publicizers Make Trade-Trips In Vicinity

Trade-tripping by publicizers for the Rodeo have been going places during last week and will this week.

Tuesday the trips carry them to Jonesboro, Hamilton, Aleman and Ireland, and Wednesday, Pidcoke, Copperas Cove, Lampasas and Goldthwaite.

Last week's trips included Friday, Turnersville, Clifton, Valley Mills, McGregor and Oglesby, and yesterday's trips carried them to Killeen, Belton and South Camp.

Dallas Magician To Entertain Lions At Wednesday Meeting

"It's fun to be fooled" and that's what the collective Gatesville Lions and their guests will get at this week's feed at the M. E. Church, South.

Joe P. Harris of Dallas, will entertain. Mr. Harris is known throughout Texas.

He is the official "Mule and Hog Caller of the Dallas Bone-head Club", one of the most exclusive clubs in the Texas metropolis.

He says he has more brains than all the rest of the members of the Bone-head club, and freely acknowledges it.

He also claims to be "the biggest man in public office today," avoirdupois, that is.

You can't miss!

"Teen-Agers" To Have Fling At USO Saturday Night, This Week

It'll be "Teen-Age" night at the USO Saturday night, and they'll be there with the bells on, so they tell us.

It'll be an open house party for all just-in-high-schools, just-out-high schools and still-in-high-schools.

With that set-up, a good time should be had by all. Activities start at 8 p. m. and a special student's committee has been named including the hosts for the evening, Billie Chamlee, Bob Potts, Harvey Hamilton, Louise Graham, Henry Straw, Joyce Howell, Gwenn Hayes and Jeanie Lee.

All yiu "teen-agers" have a special invite.

Four GSSB Boys Take Boat Ride, Swim and Exercise Dogs

Four boys who now call the GSSB their home, but really don't claim it, left that place Saturday, headed for the Leon River, were seen by Charlie Guggolz, and officers were notified.

The boys, stripped to their shorts took a boat ride, and when Deputy Sheriff Eric Sharp and Dog Sergeant Jim Nichols arrived, they hit the water like a turtle and swam out on the opposite bank.

Dogs were placed in service and the little boys were treed and taken over, and now their address is GSSB, Gatesville, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Antonich and daughter of San Saba visited Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ward.

Bond Drive, First In Peace (?) Starts June 6 thru July 4

A nation-wide campaign for U. S. Saving Bonds opens June sixth, D-Day and runs through July 4.

It's not a real bond drive, but publicity to get bond sales going and "sop up" some of the "too much money" which helps cause inflation.

The News, as usual, will continue to "offer" bonds, but recently, our bond sales are practically nil. However, we've never cashed one for anyone. We're only sellers, not "cashers".

BOWIE, SWIFT OR NCH?

We need to keep heads-up! Camp Hood, as far as retaining its entirety, seems to be a foregone conclusion. It has been rumored, thought and practically all but announced, that North Camp Hood would be designated as THE home of the Texas National Guard.

But, there's a catch. This is a political year, and ALL in Washington are scared. Nothing in "in the bag" until after that fatal day in November! That's what's worrying Washington.

And, here's what it's got to do with us! Prospects were, fine for North Camp Hood to be made the TNG hme. They are not so fine nom. Local politicians, C of C's and other home-town big shots near Swift and Bowie are busy, while we go fishing, vacationing, and generally watch the world go by.

Just recently, the Sage of Marlin released that he wanted Bowie kept as a reserve officers, or enlisted men's camp. Politics IS working, and so is Tom. He has two opponents, and he's looking out after Tm, and he loves Washington.

This is a gentle reminder to the "lords that be" around these parts, that if they don't get busy, we might have thousands of uninhabited acres in NCH which, to say the least, would be non-productive, ever, as far as Coryell County and Gatesville is concerned.

You can't "fiddle" these days, or, you'll really "burn" later. Others don't fiddle—they fight! Let's do a little scrapping for our "acreage" or, that that was ourn!

Lady Writes From China Where There Is No OPA: Letter Cost $30; Bath Costs $250

Ermett Dickie brought us a letter from Blanche Groves, now a missionary at the Baptist Mission in Soochow, China. The letter was written April 15, and cost $30 to send, just like we send a 3c letter. Miss Groves was formerly a resident of Gatesville, we believe.

We quote her letter, which is printed, in part, and it is a complete story about her trip back which started January 5.

"Here I am in China. I was scheduled to sail Jan. 18 after being notified to be in Houston on the 8th for an earlier sailing—After several delays, we sailed on the SS Doctor Lykes and headed for China. The steamer, a passenger-freighter was on its maiden voyage—it was smooth sailing the first day out, and we passed alongside the Wes. Indies, out of the Gulf into the Caribbean Sea, and then to Panama. We anchored at Cristobal on the Atlantic side for 24 hours. We saw both the Isthmus and the Canal, and the six missionary ladies took a bus trip across the Isthmus and saw the beautiful scenic highway among the hills, mountains and the gorgeous tropical vegetation, banana groves, coconut palms, etc. Panama City and Balboa both are lovely, boulevards and avenues lined with panyan trees and the Prados with stately palms leading up to the immense government and other buildings of rare architecture.

Early next morning, we started through the canal, and it took 8 hours to reach Balboa and the Pacific, which we saw from the bridge of the ship. Our ship was slowly propelled by electric mules from one lock to the next, and we saw the heavy double iron locks swing and let our boat through. From the east to the west side, we had been lifted 85 feet into higher water without knowing it, then, at the other side, we went through another series of locks and were lowered that same 85 feet.

Since the Pacific entrance to the canal is 25 miles east of the Atlantic entrance, this is the only place in the world where the sun rises in the Pacific ocean and sets in the Atlantic.

'PISTOL PACKIN' PRETTIES'

We had some rollicking times, shortly after we got out in the "Pacific" (?). We rocked back and forth for days and nights in the heavy swells. We sat in our state-rooms and watched our suit cases and anything loose slide one way and then another across the room. We'd nearly dip water on one side, and then roll over and nearly dip on the other side.

Soon we sighted Hawaii, but did not stop, and then, heading west, the sea calmed and it was glorious with sunsets, indescribable, green, blue and foamy water.

Our last day at sea, a great deal later, we passed many mine sweepers and escaped two floating mines by less than 50 feet. We saw several sunken and partially sunken vessels. We arrived on February 21 in Soochow.

We were given an Eisenhower welcome, the Orphanage Band and throngs of folks came to meet us, and played "Onward Christian Soldiers", and much to our surprise, played, "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You". Our Chinese friends kept calling: "Kou Siah-Tsia lei tsei—Hwan Nen Hwan Nen" (Miss Groves has come. Welcome, Welcome).

Here's a few of the costs in China which are not with the benefits of OPA. Small loaf of bread, $250, (Chinese National Currency), an egg $80, a banana $200, a quart of milk $600, a pound of butter $2400.

Laundry from $30 to $300 for each piece; a bath, $250 and hot water is carried from the hot water shops on the street and the tip for the man bringing it is $100, $20,000 for making over a short coat and $50,000 for making a dress, me furnishing the materials.

At present, $1 in U. S. Currency brings $2000 in Chinese currency, but even so, the high cost of living is exhorbitant. Postage is most reasonable thing I've found, $30 for this letter and $120 for air mail.

Apologizing for this "printed" letter. It is this, or none. Besides, I am so very grateful to find a job printing shop still in existence in Soochow, and one of my former students and their friends carrying n. Business is depleted here but we are seeing a yonderful comeback on every hand. It, however, breaks my heart to see signs of suffering and hardship you've never known.

I am sure my friends are eager to know and will be pleased to hear that my home is standing. It is very dilapidated after 4 years of Japanese occupancy.

Boats bringing mail are few and far between. Only twice since my arrival have I received letters by ordinary mail. Air-mails are more regular, of course, yet much more expensive. Air mails here cost 70c from America, ordinary letters 5c. Yours in China,

BLANCHE GROVES

Note: This letter was printed entirely on something similiar to onion skin paper, but not nearly the quality, and a "yellowish" coolr. The printing was good, being approximately the same size type as the regular News "content", but a darker faced type.

Community Public Service Company Adds More Power

Sixty-six thousand more volts will be added to the present power of lines running into Gatesville according to an announcement from John L. Dillon, manager of the Community Public Service Company's office here.

New lines are being strung up and a new sub station is being built on State Highway 36 a few miles north of here. Two large transformers, not yet arrived, will be necessary to complete this work and it is not known when they'll arrive.

The new power will come from the Texas Power and Light Company's North Camp Hood Lines. The present voltage here is 22,000 volts.

NEWS FARM AND

May 24, 1946.

Dear Friends:

The coal and railroad strikes are at the moment receiving the spotlight in Washington. Last night the Senate stayed in session till after one A. M. working on the "Case Bill". This measure passed the House many weeks ago. The Senate even refused to consider it until the big strikes threatened to tie up the entire country. It does not seem possible, but the fact remains that unless these strikes continue I doubt if any effective legislation will be passed. There seem to be a great many of our people who still believe that we should have one law for the employer and another for the employee. Years ago the employer enjoyed an unfair advantage over the worker. The American people properly insisted on no special privileges. Today the situation is reversed. The great unions enjoy privileges that are by law denied to the corporations. I believe that the American people still want "equal rights for all". When both sides are accorded the same privileges, and no more, then I believe we can expect a greater effort to work out our industrial disputes.

One or both of the big strikes may be over by the time this reaches you, but the effects will not be over for many months to come. These strikes have set back our whole reconversion program. They have impaired our ability to aid the starving people of the world. They have weakened our position in dealing with the Russians, and finally they have subjected our own economy to tremendous inflationary pressures. They are certain to result in a higher price level all over the country.

Yesterday the House adopted a conference report on the School Lunch Program. You will recall that as the House originally passed this bill, it precluded the payment of any funds to any state that made any "discrimination" because of race, etc., of children. I pointed out that certain courts had held that segregation (separate schools for whites and blacks) was of itself "discrimination" and that therefore our southern states could receive none of the funds. For that reason, I felt compelled to vote against the House Bill. In the conference report this provision was changed so as to simply require that where the State maintains separate schools that there shall be a "just and equitable distribution". I believe that this is fair to all children and fair to our State, and I was therefore, glad to support the conference report.

The Agriculture Committee of the House has for the past week been inquiring into the world food situation. We have listened to Secretary Anderson and a number of his staff. Next week we hope to hear from Mr. Bowles and Mr. LaGuardia, both of whom seem to assume that they are better informed on agriculture production than is the department of Agriculture.

There is much about existing regulations that is unfair and unreasonable, but as I see it, there is absolutely no excuse for the many reports that charge our country with falling down on our relief commitments. This simply is not true. It is true that there are still millions of hungry and even starving people in the world. I wish we could feed the entire world, but that is impossible. As a matter of fact, of the 950,000,000 bushels of wheat that are going to deficit countries from the 1945 crop, 400,000,000 bushels are coming from the United States. By the first of July (the end of the crop year) we may be very slightly under our promised quota due to lack of transportation, but we are assured we will not be more than 8 or 10 million bushel short, and no wheat producing nation in the world will have reduced its own reserves lower than the United States. We will on that date have only about eight-tenths of a bushel per capita, while the Argentine will have about 8 bushels per capita or ten times as much. The United States has nothing to be ashamed of, and I am not going to apologize to anyone. The American farmer has done a great job. We should let the rest of the world know just how much we have done.

With best wishes, I am

Austin Doolittle Tells "What Is A Bucking Horse"?

Note: If he doesn't know, who does? Austin "The Shokus Is On" Doolittle, formerly the maestro of The Grove Rodeo, the original of Coryell County, and now breaking broncs on the side near Amarillo, and working in a former "defense plant", tells the story. He was recently with the 666 ranch, one of the largest in Northwest Texas, where men are men, and women still run the place. But we'll let Austin talk. This is his story in brief.

"Rodeos reach their full bloom in July, because, July 4, a National Holiday, is one of the "naturals" for American people, just as the "rodeo" is truly an all American sport.

"So good bucking stock which the various stock contractors own and use are always after more and more "bucking horses".

"What is a bucking horse? During my life as a contestant and rodeo manager, many have asked me what constitutes a bucking horse. For instance, at a Houston rodeo in 1936, some grandstanders thought the calf ropers were using bucking horses to snare the skippery little mavericks. They were more than wrong. "Let's take a run around some top ranches of the Southwest which is the cradle of the bucking bronc. S. M. S., the Swenson outfit, the birthplace of the famous Dr. Blackwell, a horse used in the Stamford rodeo each year.

"We set the scene. There is a herd of cattle being held a quarter mile away, and we drive out and watch the cutting horses work, the cook calls dinner and we all eat, except two hands left to hold the herd.

"Dinner over, the horse jingler brings in the remuda, and the fresh horse catching starts. One by one they are caught and led out and saddled. These are cutting horses to work herd on, and there will probably be a hundred left in the remuda after everyone is mounted, and in that 100, almost everykind of disposition in horses can be found, for horses like people, are not all alike. The horse jingler takes them down by the tank, some of them drink, he then herds them further on to good grass.

"This could happen at the DDD the Sugs Ranch, the Spade.

"In any remuda we will find drive horses which are used first thing in the morning to gather the cattle. Then there are cutting horses to work the herd after the drive is made. Then, there are calf dragging horses to rope calves out of the herd and drag them to the branding fire, and there are roping horses used mostly to doctor worms on, and there are bucking horses which are not worth much for anything but to buck, and they are the premium horses.

"A bucking horse, like anything else must have talent to be a success. Cowboys on ranches, after riding the broncs a few times generally find what they are best fitted for and they put them doing that. Bucking talent is almost always the first to be found, and we find that the first three or four times we ride them, if a horse bucks extra hard and extra long with a horse breaker, he is a good prospect for a bucking horse. However, age has a lot to do with his being a success. A 5 or 6 year old horse stands a better chance of making a bucking horse than a 3 year old.

"They are born not trained. Will James, famous cowboy and authority on horseflesh says "trying to train one of those horses to buck would be just like trying to train an eagle to fly". A bucking horse does not necessarily have a mena disposition, but that is just his way of defending himself, for after all a bronc horse, is only trying to bump someone off he des not want and keeps on practicing, therefore developing himself into a "professional" bucking horse.

"As for dispositions, some try to run away, some kick, some paw, and some, just buck, and these make the "big shows" because they "specialize" in bucking only, and don't try the more dangerous and dirtier tricks that injure riders.

"Men like Earl and Jack Sellers of Del Rio, who will show in Gatesville, June 12, 13, 14 and 15, Mason Romans of Houston, Johnny Melon and Dub Spence of Belton, Red Lyons of Byers, Grafton Knuckles of Ft. Worth, Everett Colburn of Dublin and Lynn Buetler of Elk City, Oklahoma are always on the lookout for bucking horses.

"They contact ranchers who have lots of horses and they watch the breaking, and if they spot a good one, they take him.

"Fed plays an important part, and "new" ones are put with old horses, given the best of care, for these are like football players.

"After a few try rides, if the horse is still bucking, he is put in the regular string and given a name, and if he goes through one summer and is still bucking good in the fall, he is now considered a veteran. They are hardly ever for sale.

"As for names, they're about as odd as anyone could imagine. Once, Bud Snell was trying one out, and a colored man, Wild Hirse Charley was working for him. Charlie said: "Boss, let's wait a month and watch him buck. A month later, Charlie said: "Let's call him "The Tennessee Shwabbe". That means, it's the latest dance step among the cullud folks. He bucked that way.

"The better broncs come from the Northwestern states as livestock grows bigger in the north and northwest, and size makes a difference in horses as well as fighting men.

"If a horse has the ability to buck, he also has the ability to survive, and they usually live to a ripe old age. The horse, "Pride of Eagle Lake" is one of the few exceptions. In '37, he bucked a rider off at the Baylor rodeo, he was unconscious, and the horse made 7 or 8 more jumps and fell dead.

"09 for instance, was a great horse. He was property of Don McCormack of Eldorado. He looked like a thoroughbred, and was the longest winded bucking horse of all times. Many times 09 would buck from a lot on the place, a quarter mile to the ranch house and never raise his head. Once in the Southwest, the gate opened and a friend of mine, Mel Morris rode him bucking three times around the ball park, and when the pickup men caught him, he was still going.

Crying Jew, a horse of Everett Colburn's. He belonged to a Jew in California that was disgusted with him because he'd buck everytime he was hitched, and always busted something up when he bucked.

So, rodeo fans, do not be misinformed—a bucking horse is born a bucking horse—not made. Some ask: "Doesn't it make you mad to be bucked off by a horse?" The answer is "Definitely No. A rodeo is a sport, and if a cowboy runs into a bunch of bucking horses that can buck him off, he greatly admires everyone of them. An expression often heard around bronc riders and rodeos: "I would sure like to own those bucking Bg grplacesoftA a

"And, when you buy your ticket to the rodeo, you can rest assured, you are about to witness a program that is ntirely unrehearsed, and never twice alike.

"That is why, when you witness a rodeo, you are seeing a "as is" show, nature in the raw, and the world's most thrilling sport.

Texans 'n Washington

WASHINGTON, May—(AP)—Waile strikes plagued Congress, Texas House Members still managed to keep a close eye on agricultural problems.

Before the House Agriculture Committee, on which Reps. Bob Poage of Waco and Gene Worley of Shamrock serve, government officials testified regarding the world food relief program. At the congressional delegation's weekly luncheon high national and state farm officials were principal guests. Around the capitol corridors Harold W. Gaulrapp of Dallas cooperated in bringing relief.

Discussing testimony of witnesses before the House Farm Committee, he points out that of 950,000,000 bushels of wheat to be supplied by producing members of the United Nations from the 1945 crop, the United States has pledged 400,000,000 and will have delivered all but 10,000,000 bushels by the end of June.

With the beginning of the new federal fiscal year, July 1, relief shipments will be made out of the new wheat crop.

Observing that the United States has promised shipment of at least 250,000,000 bushels of the 1946 crop, Poage added:

"We are starting the New Year with the smallest reserves of any of the Major wheat-growing countries. Our reserves will be less than one bushel, eight-tenths to be exact, per capita, while the reserves of Canada will be 3 to 4 bushels and those in Australia 7 to 8 bushels."

Heading the list of guests at the weekly State Congressional Luncheon in the Speaker's Dining Room was Edward N. Dodd, successor to Grover B. Hill as Undersecretary of Agriculture.

He discussed the general policies of the department and invited the Texans to come to him personally with their problems when Secretary Clinton P. Anderson is tied up with world food worries.

The Cabinet Member, by virtue of his being a neighboring New Mexican and a former colleague, is very accessible to the Texans.

Other farm leaders present included Jess Gilmer, formerly of El Paso, assistant Production and Marketing Administrator; H. H. Williamson, assistant national extension service director and former Texas state extension service director; B. F. Vance, Texas PMA director headquartered at College Station, and George Slaughter of Wharton, chairman of the Texas State AAA Committee.

Uppermost in the mind of Texas Grange Leader Gaulrapp is concern that a move to put the Soil Conservation Service under the control of the Extension Service might be revived. The idea was recently rejected by the House Agriculture Committee, but there is talk it might be brought up again in the Senate.

Soil Conservation Districts as now organized are set up and administered on a watershed basis, argues Gaulrapp, and therefore operate more efficiently and equitably than if administered by the extension service through county farm agents on a county-wide basis. He notes also that the proposed change has been backed by the National Farm Bureau federation, which in some states operates very closely with county agents in administering extension service activities.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:

Seeing America for the first time and exceedingly happy over all her many new experiences and discoveries is Mrs. William Spain, a war bride, whose husband's home is Paris, Texas. A most ardent admirer of the young English lass is her mother-in-law, Mrs. Lucille Spain, secretary to Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana. The young married couple will soon go to Texas. He plans to study petroleum engineering at the University of Texas.

Two Texas women were among 22 winning fellowships announced recently by the American Association of University Women. They will receive approximately $1500 to pursue their chosen fields of study in literature and science.

One is Miss Dorothy Forbis of Wellington, research assistant at the University of Chicago, who will use her award to study early presentations of the Indian in American Literature and in first-hand accounts of travelers which may have influenced James Fenimore Cooper.

Miss June Hyer of Coleman, a graduate student at the University of Texas, will go to Europe to investigate the influence of Nazi decrees on the post-war philosophy of higher education in Belgium, the Netherlands and France.

Dear Judy,

ARE you plotting a super suit for the beach? You should glamp the one that Dottie got. It really is a honey. It is a new romper affair with cute little bows on the side and has a matching bra. The shirt-tail beach coat is of the same candy striped material.

It really looked dreamy on me—if I must say it myself. Now I'm trying to persuade my mother to get me one something like it. Only the one I want is gingham and has cute little ruffles all around the rompers. It's gonna take a lot of baby sitting to buy it—but it'll be worth it.

If you haven't heard who won the Doebla Art Competition open to students, here's the news:

Florence Smith of Washington Irving High School in New York won first prize with her tempera showing an 18th century dandy and his lady entering a carriage on a snowy night.

Second prize winner, Marion Goy of Tuley High School in Chicago, did a gay backyard scene with a mother hanging out clothes while children are riding bicycles on the lawn.

Sidney Levy of Hazleton, Pa., high school won the third prize. He did a water color of a group of people singing carols before a church on Christmas Eve.

Speaking of campaigns to get the girls vitamin conscious, Herman Amster, a New York durgist who started a cosmetics club for girls where its 2,000 members could get cosmetic information, advance notice of sales and special offers, came up with a new idea. He urged all his members to try vitamins and discover that "beauty is more than skin deep". Agreed? Or have you given up your carrot and spinach program?

Well we really had a jam session the other night. All the kids got together and went swingeroo for the evening. We had the Benny Goodman Album and really worked it to murder. "Tiger Rag" one of the most popular Goodman favorites, is now recorded with Slam Stewart's growls and the low register clarinet chorus.

Some of the kids wrote in from Warren, Ohio, with a list of questions about beauty, boys, dates and parents. Can't tell you who they are because I promised to keep it a secret.

One thing they want to know is whether girls of fourteen should have dates. What do the other kids think? Most of the debuheps here think it's old-hat to have a date all alone with a boy. The kids have more fun in groups—and the parents like it better too.

Will give you another of their questions next letter. Meanwhile, Be Good, Good, Good,
