IN SPRING, TRA-LA;
IN SUMMER, BIFF-BANG

OKLAHOMA CITY—AP—Police Judge Mike Foster doesn't have to consult the calendar to find out when it's summer.

"It's summer now—unofficially anyway," the veteran jurist announced. "We had four neighborhood fusses over children in one session of court."

Foster pointed out that in summer, families sit on their porches, watch the children play and fight. Neighborhood disturbances increase fivefold.

"In the winter time families stay inside, shut their doors and there is not much trouble," he added.

Bayne Blankenship Has Statement For Voters

Recently a good many persons have asked me to express my views with regard to labor; and I would like to take this opportunity to do so.

During the great industrial expansion of the United States from the 1860's to the 1920's workers in factories and industrial areas had great need for some form of protection from malpractices of unscrupulous employers. Working conditions were deplorable and unhealthy; children worked long hours for a mere pittance of pay; American workers did not receive enough to raise and care properly for a family.

In answer to this need the labor union unquestionably brought protection to the individual worker and forced irresponsible employers to improve working conditions and to install safety devices and to grant much needed pay raises.

The labor union, then, served a good purpose in the past. The question now, however, is whether the union is still serving a good purpose or whether the union is being made to serve the private ends of a few individuals, the labor leaders. It is a question of whether a powerful organization is to be held responsible for its actions that vitally affect the nation's welfare.

I say that within a democracy no group of people smaller than a majority of the people should be able to control the welfare and the economy of the nation. No group or organization in this democracy should have as much or more power than the President and the government; further, any group or organization which has the power of disrupting or retarding the progress and welfare of the whole people should be responsible to the people and to the government.

The state and national government should pass laws, not to outlaw labor unions, but to make irresponsible labor leaders, intent upon their own selfish interests, liable to the law when those leaders insist upon following private paths, paths which are divergent to the welfare of the nation, to further their own interests.

In submitting my views for your approval, I do so with the knowledge that, if elected, I will have to deal with labor problems as they come before the State Legislature.

Sincerely,
BAYNE BLANKENSHIP
Candidate for Representative.

Texans In Washington

By L. T. (TEX) EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, June —(AP)—The Central Texas district now represented by Luther A. Johnson of Corsicana has a chance to put its new congressman ahead of the field in seniority among freshmen legislators taking office next January.

That chance, it should first be noted, depends on whether Gov. Coke Stevenson orders a special election to fill the vacancy created when Johnson resigns to become a Judge of the U. S. Tax Court here. The resignation date, undetermined yet, probably will be in July.

Assuming a special election is held—it could be held coincidental with the second primary in August or the general election in November if Johnson resigns after the July primary—the sixth district voters could endow their new representative with the seniority advantages by choosing the same man for both the unexpired and next regular two year term.

This advantage would obtain even though Congress should adjourn sine die, winding up the current 79th Congress, before a new Texas legislator could be elected and take oath of office. So long as his certificate of election is sent to the clerk of the House he would be duly recorded as the representative of that district for the remainder of the year, and would be on the payroll even though taking his initial oath of office along with other newcomers with the convening of the 80th Congress.

Appreciation of this situation and opportunity facing a portion of Texas voters comes with recognition of the power of the seniority rule in Congress. It accounts for chairmanships of committees, which in turn mean power and influence and enhanced chance for such positions as floor leader and speaker.

With the beginning of each new Congress—A two year period—there are always many new faces. When new members take the oath the same day their seniority is based on the Alphabetical order of their names; more than once in the past a man has been chosen to fill an important position solely by virtue of the fact his name began with "B" or "E" rather than "M" or "P". A single day's seniority would put a man ahead of his other new colleagues, and the advantage becomes increasingly important as the years roll by and they all move up toward committee chairmanships.

AROUND THE CAPITOL:

The busiest man in Washington on Memorial Day was Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls. He rushed Mrs. Gossett to a hospital at 3:30 a. m. when the tork arrived ahead of schedule. At 7 a. m. he hurried back home to see how their children were making out, intending to be back at the hospital for the big moment. He had hardly reached his home, however, when the doctor called to tell him it was a girl. She weighed 8 pounds. Named Mary Melissa, she is the Gossett's fourth child—One's a boy. Mother and little sister both are fine.

President Truman undoubtedly was the more determined in his historic labor speech before a joint session of Congress because of a little incident that occurred in Speaker Sam Raburn's private office a few moments before the Chief Executive stepped across the corridor and into the House Chamber.

With several cabinet members present, Representatives Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson City and Austin and Paul Kilday of San Antonio presented Mr. Truman a statement they had drafted, signed by all 21 Texas House Members, expressing support of the President and sincere approval of the firm stand he had taken the night before in his nation-wide radio address dealing with the railroad strike. The President read the statement with an intent, sober expression, nodded acknowledgment and then walked into the crowded chamber.

Dr. George I. Sanchez, professor of Latin American Education at the University of Texas, early in August will make a survey of the Navajo Indian Education problem for the Interior Department's Indian Service. He will visit all sections of the 16,000,000 acre Navajo Reservation in Arizona, New Mexico and Utah. The Indian Service says some 14,000 out of approximately 20,000 Navajo children are denied the opportunity to learn their ABC's or even how to speak English since few school facilities are provided for them.

HEROIC SHIPS MEET FATE AT BIKINI RENDEZVOUS

By CARL HODGE

AP Newsfeatures

THE Bikini Atoll guinea pig fleet includes some of the most heroic veterans of Uncle Sam's wartime Navy.

Among the battleships are the Arkansas, oldest of them all and survivor of two world wars. "Arky" helped in the Allied invasions of North Africa, Normandy and southern France.

Also in on the Normandy landing was the Nevada, first of the oilburning super-dreadnaughts and the only capital ship able to get underway at Pearl Harbor. Later she took part in the action off Okinawa. The Nevada painted brightly, is to be the bullseye for the atomic bombardier.

Okinawa Ironsides

The veteran New York is another two ocean veteran who helped out in the North African invasion, then at Iwo Jima and was the only major ship to stay on the job at Okinawa without relief for the entire engagement. Fourth of the erstwhile naval queens is the Pennsylvania, peacetime flagship which participated in 13 amphibious landings.

Then, of course, there is the Saratoga, oldest carrier afloat which fought all the way through the war although officially "sunk" by the Japanese seven times. The other guinea pig carrier, the Independence, won fame as a night carrier.

The heavy cruiser Salt Lake City sank or helped to sink 15 enemy ships, damaged 10 others. The heavy cruiser Pensacola fought her way from Australia early in the war back through the Pacific to Tokyo.

Among destroyers in the supporting cast are the Ralph Talbot with 14 operational and engagement stars to her credit, the Mugford that helped down three Pearl Harbor attackers; the Helm, which missed only two months of the entire war; the Stack, survivor of many attacks and participant in major Pacific campaigns; the Trippe which twice escorted the late President Roosevelt on conference trips; and the Flusser which was in the group which tried to intercept the Pearl Harbor attackers.

Other Destroyers

Other destroyers are the Bagley, which won eight engagement stars, downed 11 Jap planes and rescued 465 survivors of the First Battle of Savo Island; the Hughes, participant in 25 occupations or raids. All the others, the Wainwright, Mayrant, Smith, Lamson, Anderson, Conyngham and Mustin set enviable fighting records.

As for the subs, there are the Parche which sank or damaged 108,220 tons of Jap shipping in six patrols; the Dentuda, one of the newest type subs; the Skipjack which sank four Jap ships; the Searaven, which rescued 32 Australian aviators, and the Tuna, Pilotfish, Skate and Apogon.

Among the foreign element in the cast, the German heavy cruiser Prinz Eugen is best known for taking part in the fateful engagement with the British battlecruiser Hood, and for making a successful dash through the English channel. The Nagato was best known as the former flagship of Admiral Yamamoto.

Ninety-seven vessels, ranging from landing barges up to battleships, make up the fleet. Some 32,000 Navy men are in the contingent needed to move the fleet into position for the big blast and to man supporting vessels. About 2,100 Army men also belong to the joint Army-Navy task force assigned to the bomb test.

Why Argue?

Ever since V-J Day, which most Americans look upon as the end of World War II, we have all recognized a high clamor of communistic propaganda. With sound reasoning, a great many well-meaning people have tried to oppose it on the street corners, to no avail. It is like arguing with a headline in yesterday's newspaper. To be really effective, our opposition must go deeper, much deeper.

There are not many things that I like less or fear more than concentration of political power, government by men rather than by law, and official favoritism for individuals and cliques; and I'm not alone. I am convinced that an overwhelming majority of Americans feel the same way. Consequently I hope these few remarks may improve the measure of protection for us all.

Time for Action

Wordy arguments never contribute much to the world's progress or to any people's store of knowledge. In fact, taking a stand in opposition to another man's harangue serves without fail to dignify the harangue and call attention to it. Debating a false philosophy always helps it and, unless opposition is well handled, there's a danger of giving more help than hindrance.

The propaganda machine we hear so plainly has been chattering away for two decades. Promotions, good and evil, ride on the wings of news, and news is necessary. Publishers, columnists and radio commentators chronicle real happenings, day by day. Don't blame them. They perform an essential public service.

Find the Source

Of course there must be a few publishers who are unpatriotic, and writers who would stir up a revolution if they could, but these are not the nation's chief danger. When news is really poisoned, the job is done by those who make news, not those who print and broadcast it. Let us know the truth because the truth will make us free; free from our political enemies as well as other kinds.

Journalists tell me that news articles have value (i.e. deserve prominence) in proportion to the number of people interested. Thus persons in positions of power make news because a lot of people are interested in what these men think and say and do. If the rulings they decree or the opinions they express seem socialistic, there's nothing honorable for news men to do but tell the people. It's their country.

Starve It Out

Radical propaganda undoubtedly does this nation damage. I believe a big majority of Americans are wholesome people, love their country and understand what makes it the world's best place to live and most influential power. Just the same, poisoned news gains converts. And so long as men in power wish to gain more power, the campaign for collectivism will be carried on.

At its source is the best place to quiet the voice of socialist promotion. Men who hanker to boss the schools, control hospitals, limit production and eternally fix prices ought to be put where their every word and deed does not make news — out of power. There is a sure way: Stop the flow of revenue out of the Treasury into the hands of such appointed "rulers." That will start immediately and effectively to solve the problem of collectivist propaganda.

Agnes Ingersoll And G. C. Novert Wed In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Gus H. Novert of Copperas Cove are announcing the marriage of their son G. C. Novert to Miss Agnes Ingersoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ingersoll of Salina, Okla. The rites before an altar of fern and gladioli at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Adair, Oklahoma on June 5 at 2:00 p. m. Rev Arthur Pope of that city performed the double-ring ceremony.

For the wedding the bride chose a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white carnations. For something old and borrowed she wore a pair of white gloves belonging to Mrs. Allen Smith, cousin of the bride; for something new, a choker necklace and matching bracelet a gift from the bride groom.

The couple were attended by Miss Jean Ingersoll, sister of the bride and Miss Lois Gann, cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Pryor hotel for the immediate family and friends.

Mrs. Novert graduated from Pryor high school and had previously been employed in St. Louis. At the time of her marriage was employed in Vancouver, Wash.

Mr. Novert attended the Copperas Cove High School and entered the army air corps in January 1942. He served with a hospital detachment for nine months in Manila. He received his discharge in January of this year.

The couple spent a brief honeymoon in Tulsa, Okla., and are making their home in Copperas Cove.

Dear Friends:

Most service men who have a common name like Jones, Smith, or Johnson find it to be a source of continual confusion. On the otherhand, politicians have long looked upon an unusual name like Poage as a handicap. This was due to the fact that the public finds it difficult to remember strange names and many people will always vote for the name they know. For many years, any candidate who had the name of Davidson or Terrell started with a decided advantage in a state race.

This week I found that an unusual name could involve one in other difficulties. On Tuesday (June 11th) the President vetoed the Case Bill, and the House voted on the question of over-riding the veto. The Associated press sent out the correct total and even gave the correct names of those of the Texas Delegation who voted against over-riding. In the list of the entire House, the A. P. listed "PAGE" as voting to over-ride. There is no member by the name of "PAGE". Obviously they simply dropped the letter "o" from my name, but when it got to Texas, our papers, knowing that there was no Texas member named "PAGE" simply omitted my name entirely.

While I can easily understand the error, I regret it because I have never tried to hide my position on any important matter. Some have suggested to me that since no one knows how I voted that I should say nothing about it, but I have always believed that the people I represent have a right to know my views. I was present, and I voted as the Congressional Record of June 11, 1946, page 6801 will show.

I have repeatedly expressed my convictions that we should pass legislation to put labor and management on the same legal footing. The Case Bill helps to do that. I have repeatedly stated that I felt that union membership should not protect any man from responsibility for his acts. The Case Bill imposes liability for crimes and for breach of contract on unions and union officials just as now rests on business corporations and on business officials. I had voted for the Case Bill when it originally passed the House. Last December President Truman asked for fact-finding legislation, including a cooling-off period in the hope that it would help get production going. On January 3rd, he appealed to the Congress: "If the measures which I have recommended to accomplish these ends do not meet the approval of Congress, it is my present wish—and I am sure that it is the wish of my fellow citizens—that the Congress formulate measures of its own to carry out the desired objectives. It is definitely the responsibility of Congress. What the American people want is action." I applauded the President's statement believing that he really wanted Congress to work out a measure. For months Congress has studied labor legislation. The situation has gotten steadily worse. At last we did formulate a measure of our own as the President had asked. Congress discharged its responsibility. The people got the action that the President said they wanted. I am deeply disappointed that our President should seem to be so uncertain as to what legislation he actually wants, but I know that I still want the same responsibility that I wanted when certain labor leaders tied up the economic life of the country with the coal and railroad strikes. Therefore, even though the President has apparently changed his mind with the momentary improvement in the situation, I still feel a responsity which I could only discharge by voting to over-ride the President's veto of the Case Bill.

Our Agriculture Committee is working on a vastly enlarged program of agricultural research. I believe that the welfare of the American farmer is definitely tied up in scientific research, and I am happy to do all I can to develop a sound and comprehensive program of this kind.

With best wishes, I am
 Yours sincerely,

... and you can't get full-measure electric service from home wiring that's too small

The liveability of any home depends to a large extent upon its wiring system. It must be big enough for the job.

Wiring that is too small drops voltage and causes lights to dim and appliances to operate sluggishly . . . frequently results in blown fuses due to overloads. An insufficient number of branch circuits and outlets necessitates the use of unsightly, unsafe, extension cords and limits the use of additional appliances.

If you plan to build, buy or remodel a home, it will pay you to check the wiring system. Make sure it has the capacity to give you full-measure service for your chosen way of electrical living. Don't let yourself be handicapped by "skimpy" wiring.

What Is Adequate Wiring?

Adequate wiring simply means a service entrance large enough to bring in as much electricity as your home may need at any time, enough branch circuits of large enough wire to conduct a full measure of electrical energy to your lights and appliances, plus plenty of switches and outlets, properly located for maximum convenience.

CONSIDERED JUDGMENT: SLEEPING'S NO CRIME

BALTIMORE — AP — So far as Magistrate Walter J. Dewess is concerned, northwestern Baltimore men can wake up the whole neighborhood with their snoring — so long as their nocturnal noises are accompanied by slumber.

A man was haled to Northwest City Police Station on the complaint of a woman neighbor that the man disturbed her rest with his snoring and groaning. She conceded that the offender snored during his sleep.

Said the magistrate: "You can't stop a man from sleeping."

SPORTS IN THE NEWS

Former Gatesville Girl Medalist, Golf Journey, West Texas

Abilene, Texas, June 17 (AP)—Miss Bennie Sellers, 25-year-old former WAC and now a McMurray College student, became medalist Monday in the women's West Texas Golf Association tournament. She shot an 82. This was seven strokes over women's par for the Abilene Country Club course.

She continued her fast pace in Monday's qualifying round to eliminate Mrs. Willis Manney of Abilene, 2 and 1.

Miss Sellers, is thought to be the daughter of Ben Sellers formerly "pro" at the Gatesville Golf Club, and many Gatesville folks have played with both Mr. Sellers and Miss Sellers. Gatesville may have a champion women's golfer to add to its other string of sports notables, at least, one who learned on the local golf club layout.

CHAMP, OR NO?

It'll be Joe or Billy after tonight (Wednesday night), and the betting is for the darker lad, although the edge is against him, and the majority of us hope Billy Conn takes him. According to reports, about the only big winner will be Mike Jacobs, the impresario of the Cauliflower trail.

HAS PERFECT RECORD

James Randolph Blair of Dallas will carry a perfect 1946 pitching record into the third All-American Boys Baseball game at Wrigley Field, Chicago, Aug. 10. Blair, hurler for Adamson of Dallas, State High School champion, pitched six straight wins in the regular season and captured two more decisions in the state tournament. The 17-year-old diamond star worked 61 2/3 innings all old, striking out 71 batters and walking only 19. Last year he won 16 of 19 games, pitching his team to the state American Legion Junior Title. Blair plans to enter Baylor University in the fall. (AP Photo).

Krause's Soda Busters Take On Red's Ramblers At McGregor

Altho the sport is in a weak position, despite the good work of "Red" White, everybody's hoping he can give it a shot in the arm, now the raddio is over, and make the soft ball game go. We've the up, and will polish it up in preparation for a City Championship tournament, in case anybody's nough interested.

What was started by this head: Krause's Soda Busters of McGregor way, come Friday night, at 8 o'clock. It'll be a good'un! Was when they met before.

Texas' Oldest Voter

Senator Allan Shivers, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, of Port Arthur, Jefferson County, Texas, receiving a check for his filing fee from Capt. Roderick Donald Steele, Texas' oldest voter. In presenting the check, Captain Steele, representing the citizens of Port Arthur, expressed the voters' appreciation for his 12 years faithful service to the district and reminded him that he was the youngest senator to take the oath of office when first elected to the Senate. (Shivers is now dean of the Senate).

Captain Steele for many years has refused to tell his age, but old-timers say that he is now 106. He still works daily as a marine surveyor, climbing over ships to inspect their cargoes.

IN THE SPRING, YOUNG MEN'S FANCY—

MISSOULA, Mont.—AP—Maurice Weaver, Montana State University student and botanist, parked his automobile in nearby foothills and went in search of spring flora. Returning, he found 33 bullet holes in the car, including several in three flat tires. Young vandals target shooting with a .22 caliber rifle were blamed for the destruction.

Good Strategy

Congressman Hatton Sumners, in my opinion one of America's greatest living statesmen, has announced his purpose to retire at the end of the 79th congress. This news first appeared as a dark cloud because men like him are sorely needed to-day, but in Washington last month I was shown the silver lining. Rep. Sumners is "retiring" to a more strategic theatre of war.

The people of America have a danger that is common to them all and a common duty to defend themselves against it. This nation's hope for a bright future depends on a few facts being seen by a great many people at once. Americans can be depended upon for action at any time the truth is not hidden from them or distorted beyond recognition. Mr. Sumners will soon start talking straight to them.

Powerful Truths

"I have watched what my own generation . . . has been doing to the greatest system of democratic government ever evolved through the processes of the ages," said the veteran lawmaker. "By ignoring principles and the lessons of history, accepting for our guidance the theories of men and political expedience, we have made dependents of our citizens and vassals of our states.

"By concentration of power and drafts on the Federal Treasury we now have a bewildering governmental agglomeration impossible of democratic control. Wasteful and inefficient, by nature it is the instrumentality of favoritism, oppression and corruption. It is the destroyer of self-reliance, self-respect and self-governing ability without which no people can remain free."

But There's Hope

A public awakening will save this country from any form of tyranny. Mr. Sumners does not doubt this. He said, "Washington is as sensitive to the changing currents of public opinion as a barometer is to record changes in the weather." If acts of congress fail to reflect public sentiment, it is because such sentiment is itself confused or indistinct to the majority.

Mr. Sumners is taking to the lecture platform. I wish him as wide a hearing as his profound experience deserves. Popular education is the right place to start winning for America a future of freedom. This man has seen Congress sweat under heat applied by political pressure groups. He sees the need to open a door and admit a cooling draft of public sentiment. And he can do it.

Remarkable Record

Born in Tennessee, Hatton Sumners turned 21 in Texas. His congressional district (Dallas) has kept him in Washington 34 years by electing him to the 63rd and all subsequent congresses. He is a sound thinker and an eloquent speaker. He is a nationally recognized authority on Constitutional Law. He is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and has been for a long time.

In a brief and eloquent word-picture of official Washington, the retiring crusader for decentralization of power said of Congress: "The political backing of a well organized minority is consistent and dependable whereas the backing of an unorganized majority is fickle." That's clear. An enlightened public opinion must supplant loud and selfish minorities as guiding stars of Congress.

LONDONERS CAN'T BUY BARD (AW SHAW!)

LONDON — AP—The complete works of Shakespeare, in handy format and reasonably priced, are virtually unobtainable in Britain today. Single volume editions are rarely seen in stores.

Never has there been such a demand for the plays, booksellers said, attributing this in part to the Shakespearean stage boom.

Likewise hard to get and eagerly sought after are the writings of George Bernard Shaw.
