Former Society Ed Associate Editor Of West Columbia Light

Mrs. Beulah Gamblin Anderson, former Society Editor of the News just can't get the "ink" out of her blood. Nobody can, easily, if they have ever worked for a newspaper.

Mrs. Gamblin is Associate Editor of the West Columbia Light, and her first edition came out September 12.

The paper is not printed in West Columbia, her letter says, but is printed in another town, but she does all the editorial work on the new paper.

She also says in part, and it makes us "glow": I've gotten some books on "Small Town Newspapers", and what-have-you, but I find that what I learned thru actual work and from you and Mr. Bethel is of more assistance than all the books I've read—so thank you—and keep your fingers crossed for me. We plan to come out with a 16 page paper; the Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring our first edition and in return receiving a nice bonus on all ads and subscriptions—pretty nice, Eh!

"P. S.—You don't know of a good "back shop" man who isn't working do you?" and to that, we'll just say positively: "NO".

Beulah was here for quite some time, and did a pretty swell job of Society Editing, and taking care of the front office. She's been made "offers" several times to come back, but Mr. Anderson is an oil field man and West Columbia is where he works.

District Court Criminal Division Opened Monday

District Court, Criminal Division opened Monday morning at 9 O'clock, at which time a petit jury was called, and although ready, only one case required a jury.

Cases handled, or to be handled were State of Texas vs. Earl C. Ramsey, charged with burglary; Charles F. Hanson, burglary; Harry F. Gilmore, burglary and theft over $50; Boliver Roberts, burglary and theft over $50; and Robert George, burglary and theft over $50.

City Buys Coating For Leon Street: Starts 23rd

The city has bought the necessary covering (asphalt) for Leon street from the square to the end of the pavement on that street.

We'd hoped they'd go to the graveyard, but it wouldn't stretch that far, and they don't have the money.

All equipment is ready for the work, and the car will probably be here the week-end before.

Bids For Work On Farm Highway 182 Turnersville To Hwy. 36

Coryell County's going to get a little further out of the mud. Bids have been received on the Turnersville to Hwy. 36 stretch of road, which nobody'll be gladder to see thru than the Turnersville folks, sot to mention people locally. Here's the way they put it officially:

"Coryell—Farm Highway 182, 8.85 miles grading, structures, foundation course, prime and seal coat from 1.5 miles east of Ames on State Highway 36 to Turnersville".

That's some, let's get some more!

Daniel Upthegrove Retires, 50 Years, Cotton Belt

After more than 50 years service, Daniel Upthegrove retired, Sept. 15, as Chief Executive Officer and Corporate President of the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) Railway lines, a position held for the past 24 years.

He joined the company in 1896 and served as local attorney at Greenville for 26 years, assistant attorney general, Dallas, and general solicitor in St. Louis.

He was unanimously named the choice of the board of directors for presidency of the road in 1922.

He inaugurated extensive measures for improvement of service and physical condition of the road and the complete rehabilitation of the property, and expansion of freight yards.

He started acquisition of Diesel locomotives and substitution of the 112-pound rail for lighter weight rail, and centralized traffic control.

Mr. Upthegrove also started the line in the motor trucking business, co-ordinated with the rail system.

Texans in Washington

By L. T. (TEX) EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

Texas will have four new congressmen when the 80th Congress convenes in January, but at least three of them will have a distinct advantage over most newcomers. They won't be novices in Washington.

Rep. Olin E. Teague, 36, of College Station, will have a clear advantage over the entire field. Even though he will not get a chance to serve on the House Floor before the others, unless a special session is called, his election to fill out the unexpired term of Luther A. Johnson, who became a Federal Judge, assures him of seniority on committees.

He came to Washington after winning the special election, held concurrently with the Democratic run-off primary, and got himself settled down in office. With him was his new secretary, Clayton Hickerson of Corsicana, former Dallas and Temple newspaperman. They opened up offices in the third floor of the so-called Old House Office Building.

The four remaining months of the year will give the Sixth Texas District Legislator a lot of experience and acquaintance with the myriad problems that pile into a congressman's office from his constituent.

The other two newcomers to the Texas Delegation—who won the Democratic nominations and whose election is a foregone conclusion—have had some experience here. They are Wingate Lucas, 36, of the Fort Worth District and Omar Burleson, 40, of Anson in the Abilene District.

Lucas worked several years in the office of Rep. Fritz Lanham. Obviously the chores heaped upon a congressman are too many for him to handle alone, so Lucas had considerable experience acting on behalf of Lanham in contacting and dealing with various federal agencies.

Burleson worked for a while here in the office of the man whom he is to succeed, Rep. Sam Russell of Stephenville, who voluntarily retires from office.

Although Dallas' prospective new congressman, Frank Wilson, has not had the same experience as the others, his career as a lawyer will undoubtedly stand him in good stead. His having been a president of the Dallas Bar Association will merit him respect in a body where attorneys predominate when it comes to classification of professions. This will be particularly true in his case because he succeeds Rep. Hatton W. Summers, who is judiciary committee chairman and who also voluntarily retires.

The most important moves to be made here early in January from the standpoint of all these new men is their committee assignment. In former years one might well speculate on what committee spots they would receive. In view of the recent Congressional "streamlining" act reducing the number of committees from 44 to 19, no one can foresee what is likely to happen, except that much heated intra-party scuffling almost is inevitable. Many older members will have to yield and be pushed off of major committees by colleagues with more seniority.

In this respect there has been speculation as to what will happen regarding the fact that on a straight seniority basis Texas would wind up with three members on the new Armed Services committee of 33 members. It will be made up of the Naval and military affairs committees, each with 27 members.

If the lower ranking members of both groups are eliminated, Texas would be assured the three because of the Naval body Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson City and Austin ranks second to the chairman; on the military body Rep. Ewing Thomason of El Paso ranks next to the chairman and Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio will be the third ranking man. (Rep. Sparkman of Alabama now outranks Kilday but will go to the Senate next year.)

There has been some little talk that Johnson might be offered a spot on the House Rules Committee if he so desires, but in such a change he would go to the foot of one major committee while leaving a high ranking position on the prospective all-powerful armed Service Committee. Considering his youth—he is now only 38—Johnson would have an excellent chance of becoming its chairman within a few years, in view of the fact that all four of the men who would outrank him in seniority are all much older.

As soon as Teague and Hickerson arrived here they threw out their lines in the hope of catching word of an apartment. They promptly learned the housing shortage here is still acute. Incidentally, Teague arrived in his uniform as a colonel, for he was still in service. While here, the six-times wounded soldier went before an army retirement board at Walter Reed Hospital and was separated from the service.

The three Texas "M. C.'s" still around the Capitol Hill—Reps. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, George Mahon of Colorado City and Kilday, greeted their new colleague. They invited him to luncheon, along with his predecessor, Judge Johnson.

The American Automobile Association announced here that automobile clubs in Mexico and the U. S. have joined in a concerted effort to bring about elimination of the fees now charged tourists crossing the border in both directions. The AAA reported that during the first six months of this year a total of 18,074 cars crossed the border at Laredo for Mexican vacationing as compared with 15,108 cars in the same period of 1941, the previous record year. The fee charged by Mexico now amounts to $2.10 for each person. The U. S. now charges a similar amount, but has indicated willingness to waive all entrance fees if Mexico will reciprocate. The Brownsville Chamber of Commerce has sent word to Washington the city will seek official designation of a "Foreign Trade Zone" at an international airport in that border metropolis. Plans for expanding the "Rio Grande Valley International Airport" there were noted, with erection of terminal facilities, buildings and areas where merchants of both the United States and Latin American countries could bring in their goods for display and trading purposes.

Acting skipper on the first annual cruise down the Potomac river of the Texas State Society of Washington was Navy Rear Admiral Albert G. Noble, who came aboard as personal representative of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

Some 1,500 Texans sailed down the river on the famous old side-wheeler "S. S. Potomac," with Admiral Noble and Ralph Pittman, society president, on the bridge. Admiral Noble was born in a section of Grayson county inundated when Denison Dam was built and Lake Texoma created.

MISSING GIRL FOUND
Miss Ruth Teague, of Sulphur Springs, Texas (above) reported to police headquarters at Farmville, Va., that she had been forced to chauffeur two soldiers from Texarkana, Texas. Virginia State Troopers E. R. Callis and O. C. Trice arrested two soldiers near Ashland, Va., and said the pair admitted being AWOL from Camp Hood, Texas. Miss Teague was reported missing in Texarkana, Tex., by W. S. Dossett, Sulphur Springs, Texas, travel bureau operator, when he reported to police that after he had driven a coupe from Sulphur Springs to Texarkana, two men in the group took his automobile and fled, kidnaping Miss Teague. little Ham and Bacon, and "Cheva" if you don't savvy Cheva, it means just plain old goat thrown in for good measure, the Sellers and Buyers were all happy, as the prices were sky high, the animals weren't so happy however, the Ring Master kept them on the move around the arena to show their good qualities, I reckon, to the Buyers, by punching at them with a big heavy walking stick, they didn't enjoy it o good, and performed with bad grace, but one of the aid animules, Got his Hog back, by clearing the Ring of Buyers, he was a little Brahma Bull, and was he Salty, when the gate man turned him into the Ring, he took hcharge for a little while and had himself some Joy charging around the ring, until he was cleared out of there, as usual there was a large crowd in attendance, of course O. P. A. and the other alphabet boys wasent present, but don't think anybody wanted them anyway, they would have said something Cutting and Ugly about prices, fixed Up and not Fixed Up, no doubt, so guess it was just as well that they wasent present, everybody over there agreed that the meat situation was in a bad way, but most of them looked for more meat for you and I on the meat merchants shelves in the winter of 1947. but, what worry's me, how is we all to live until 1947, without a little Hog made M. F. F. Curry happy by taking his subscription for a year to the Coryell County News, the Best News Paper published in said county, "Skuse the Plug" the editor has to be kept in a good humor. The writer was feeling mity low but after talking to the King of the Locker Plant, felt much better as he says there will be plenty of meat for everybody, real soon, just as soon as it settles down, he says, what that means I don't know, sumpin about OPA and the Commissioner, any way I hope we will soon have more meat and better meat at lower prices. Now, I have talked to you about more meat, what I want to call your attention to now, is less Profanity, and especially on the streets of our fair city. I don't use profanity myself and it fairly burns me up to hear it from other people man or woman, it is so useless, so degrading and such a filthy habit, course I wouldn't criticize, for the world, I will admit that some of my close friends use strong language, tho I have pleaded with them time and again not to use it in my presence, they will persist, and just a few days since two o. my good friends met on the side walk near where I had just parked the old family bus, and engaged in what started out to be a friendly meeting and Bull Session, one of them I will call Pretty Boy, a retired business man and the other an ex-Flat Foot. The fire Works started and that's when Profanity went to a new High, Old men and little boys just shouldn't list:n to that brand, it was so rough that the writer just couldn't take it, it Burned, it Bli:tered and the writer run, who wouldn't, there auto be a law, such language was never heard in the good old days of the open saloon, no self respecting Bar Man would have allowed it in his Place, and we sincerely hope we will never hear it gain on our streets.

The William Culberts Married in Ft. Worth, At Home In Gatesville

After a honeymoon visit to Kentucky Mr. and Mrs. Williams Culbert at home on South Fourteenth Street in Gatesville. Mrs. Culbert is the former Mrs. Mabel Gardner, local manager for the Texas Co. She is a daughter of Mrs. S. B. Winters of Evant, where she was reared. She received her high school education in Evant, and later was a student of the University of Texas.

The marriage of Mrs. Gardner and Mr. Culbert was solemnized at the parsonage of St. Mark's Church in Fort Worth on Sunday morning, September 8, with the Rev. Hayden Edwards, pastor of the congregation as officiant. Mrs. Winters was her daughter's only attendant.

Mr. Culbert's former home was in Nashville, Tennessee. He attended Duncan Preparatory College before entering a Naval Academy of which he was a graduate in the class of 1925. He served three years in the navy and after resigning, he worked for the city of Nashville, Tennessee in smoke prevention work. He was a member of the Rotary Club, associate member of American Society of Mechanical Engineers, honorary member of National Association of Power Engineers, Col. in Field Artillery, attended General Staff and Command School, and served five and one-half years in Field Artillery. He is a registered engineer in the state of Tennessee. He is a member and former steward of Belmont M. E. Church in Nashville.

Surprise Bridal Shower Honors Mrs. Whittmire On September 3

On September 3, Madam Rose entertained at her home with a bridal shower of delightful planning, naming as honoree, Mrs. Zona Whitney, the former Miss Brashear. The special lighting of the rooms cast a wonderful and beautiful glow throughout the spacious reception suite and enhanced the loveliness of the lace covered dining table, which had a center floral piece of seasonal flowers filling a crystal bowl. After the service of refreshments the bride opened the many packages of nice, useful gifts and exhibited each treasured piece to the assembled friends. Divisions were found in playing games.

Guests registered in the bride's book, an artistically fashioned volume, made and presented the bride by Mrs. B. M. Colvin. The company lingered in the home of the hostess until a late hour, no one seeming willing to leave the pleasant environment and the fun of the occasion.

Mike Byrd, Pioneer Citizen Of County Dies At Copperas Cove

Funeral services were held in Copperas Cove First Baptist church on Sunday, September 8, in honor of Mike Byrd, 81, who died at his home in that city on Saturday night. Rev. W. P. Mears of Mason, a grand-son-in-law of Mr. Byrd conducted the memorial ceremonies.

A native of Alabama, Mike Byrd came to the Killeen country more than forty years ago, and is rated as one of the builders of that section of Texas. In tribute the Copperas Cove Crony says that he was a useful citizen of his community, and a man held in high regard and esteem by all the people of that section.

Interment was in Killeen cemetery, and grandsons of Mr. Byrd served at the casket as pallbearers. They were John McKee, Bill Baumann, Jr., D. C. Herring, Bob Henderson, Shirley Byrd and "Bud" Byrd.

He is survived by nine children, five sons and four daughters. The sons are Ernest of California; Lois of San Antonio; C. N. of Austin; M. J. of Killeen, and Edgar of Copperas Cove. The daughters are Mrs. Henry Riley of Killeen; Mrs. B. H. Herring of Kempner; Mrs. Lloyd Turner of Killeen and Mrs. L. J. Henderson of Burnet.

BROADWAY By Jack O' Brian

'ELLO, ARE YOU THERE?

NEW YORK — Remember the old days before radio when records of "Cohen on the Telephone" and "Two Black Crows" sold like nylons to entertainment starved comedy fans? These now-almost-forgotten discs were the inspiration for one of the biggest recording firms of recent years, a project which was completely set in the future by an advertising executive who sat on his idea for several years with all the patient secrecy of a veteran spy. It is an idea which, until completely perfected and all concerned signed and sealed, might easily have been swiped by some commercial largeness who could cut corners quicker, talk faster or in some fashion tie up the stars who are part of this deal.

H. Paul Warwick, head of one of the larger advertising firms, or "Huckster," as Freddie Wakeman calls them in his best seller, remembered his boyhood delight in listening to "Cohen on the Telephone" and Moran and Mack, who were the recorded "crows" duo. He decided that such a project, utilizing the leading comedy names of the present, would be a veritable Forty-niner trike for the first time to get to the stars with contracts and fountain pen, under-water-styled or not.

DURING the war, with materials almost completely unavailable, Warwick found he could not turn out the platters in sufficient profusion to pay its way. Therefore the quiet with which he surrounded his plans. Now, however, he has all ready to start such glittering names as Amos and Andy, Jack Benny, Edgar Bergen, Burns and Allen, Eddie Cantor, Ed Gardner, Fibber McGee and Molly, Fred Allen and a slew of others all signed both as performers and equal members of the firm.

Thus many memorable comedy shows, heretofore abandoned after one airing, may be repeated. The best material of the last decade in this manner could be retrieved and made available to fans who have particular favorites they'd like to be able to listen to once more.

Warwick said the big comedy shows will be recorded in theaters or large radio studios so that the enthusiasm of studio audiences can be duplicated. Plans call for recordings of one or two albums each year by each star as a start. Every effort, Warwick added, will be made to parallel the realism or illusion as needed, of the big network radio shows.

THE advertising executive explained that the records will be waxed entirely for home entertainment and that radio stations will be rigidly restricted from using them, as they now use musical records.

Warwick said there is a customizable, purchaser of our records," he said.

LOOKING AHEAD

President—Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

A Nation's Good

Gentlemen of the Continental Congress, who years ago made some important decisions for us, today deserve a vote of confidence. Will we keep the form of government they outlined and set up for us or do we change to something like that in Britain, France or Russia? Let us make our decision on a basis of results. If we don't make it soon somebody will make it for us.

Selecting our course ourselves, doing so wisely and soon is extremely important. Small items of business can be bungled today and corrected tomorrow; but not this one. If the United States should once go collectivist completely, it would never be a republic again until people who live now are forgotten. There are no practice shots; we make this decision once, and that's how it will be.

A Nation's Brains

In comparing the American system with any socialistic plan, one point must be held in mind constantly: Freedom to think. Nothing is more valuable than good ideas and everybody has them. Nobody has a corner on them. Where any person is free to get ideas and put them to work at his own risk, good ones come to light in a hurry and are put to work in a way that helps everybody; that's democracy.

Under any socialistic system of central planning, only a few are considered worthy to think. They have ideas occasionally, of course, but do not try them out at their own risk. They put them to work on a big scale at the nation's risk. By this system the whole people must suffer for the blunders of a few. That's collectivism, and the differences show up clearly in general prosperity.

A Nation's Income

America is the most prosperous country on earth. At the last check, national income in the United States was equal to that of the six next highest countries; national income being the grand total of what everybody earns. Under the American system, incomes are different; some higher than others but all high. In socialist countries incomes are more alike, uniformly low.

America's national enemies cry out against capitalism in tones that make the word sound like a dread disease. At least, under the American system, accumulated wealth is used rather than hoarded. Savings in America are invested in machinery to help workers produce more and earn more. Where profits are unlawful, dividends are impossible, production and wages both low.

A Nation's Progress

Let me illustrate what the American system is worth to the world: Solomon, King of Israel, and George Washington, the first President of the United States, lived about alike. They rode in horse-drawn vehicles, wore hand-loomed clothes, used animal oil for light and wood for fuel. They lived nearly 3,000 years apart. Think what you have now and remember that Washington died less than 150 years ago.

The system of private enterprise has many critics. Students in modern colleges and high schools are able glibly to point out defects in America's manner of life. Admittedly, it is not perfect because nothing is perfect that is made up of imperfect people. Just the same, when the time comes to choose a successful system, pick one that makes the average man richer.

Attends Funeral Of Kin In Beaumont Last Friday

Mrs. Earl Stockburger was in Beaumont for several days the past week to be with the bereaved family of her brother, Burb Jones and to attend the funeral there on Friday, of Mrs. Jones. Other relatives of Mr. Jones here who did not go to Beaumont are Sam Jones and Mrs. Ed Flentge.

News of the death of Mrs. Jones who expired of a heart attack, Wednesday September 11, came as a great and sorrowful shock to Stephenville friends as well as to the family connections. She was some 65 years of age, but was not in ill health. She was a member of the Methodist church in her home city, and was a woman much loved. Mrs. Jones is survived by her husband, a son, B. J. Jones, Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. Jaxkie Wendt and Mrs. Sybil Sally, all of Beaumont. Also she leaves several grandchildren.

SYNOPSIS

Regi Allen, a manicurist employed in the barber shop of a swanky New York hotel, has ambitions to marry a millionaire. Although she attracts the attention of Allen Macklyn, young millionaire paralyzed from the waist down in a plane crash, Regi has eyes only for Theodore Drew III, a society playboy. Drew disappoints her when he tells her that he is leaving for Bermuda for a short vacation, after which he plans to marry a wealthy society girl. He misses the boat, however, when he gets drunk at dinner and Regi has to put him up in her apartment. The next day, he tells Regi that his father lost all his money in the crash and that he isn't worth a cent. To cover up the fact that he missed the boat, Ted calls his sweetheart from Regi's apartment and tries to make her believe that he is calling from Bermuda. But the girl on the other end of the wire isn't fooled.

CHAPTER V

SINCE he did not dare let his fiancée know that he was not in Bermuda—Mr. Snowden objected to people who missed boats—Ted spent another night on the couch in the living room. The next day he insisted that he would cook dinner for Regi when she returned from work.

It was pouring down rain when she came out of the subway. She turned up her coat collar and was preparing to get wet when she saw Ted flagging her wildly from a taxicab near by. She ran for it, head down.

"Don't ever say I don't think of you every moment," he laughed triumphantly. "I've been sitting right here for two hours reserving this cab. Aren't you going to say it was nice of me?"

"Have you?" asked Regi weakly. Then catching sight of the meter, which read $4.25, she added dryly: "Yes, I see you have. It was lovely of you! But taking taxis . . . when you haven't any money . . . isn't it a little foolish?"

"Foolish! Why, I had to take a taxi. I couldn't come out in this pouring rain . . . and take the new crease out of my pants."

"Where's your overcoat?" "Oh, it's spending a little while in a . . . to put it frankly . . . pawnshop."

"Why did you pawn it?" she exclaimed in dismay.

"Why, to pay for the taxi, of course!" His tone was hurt. "James," he called to the driver. "The nearest delicatessen."

After loading up with delicacies, which used up all the money he had after paying the taxi fare, Ted escorted Regi home in style . . . to a meal "worthy of an Allen and a Drew."

They were washing the dishes when a ring came at the door, and a messenger boy delivered a huge bunch of daffodils.

"Ah, Spring has come to a hundred and twentieth street," beamed Ted.

"They're from Mr. Macklyn," exclaimed Regi, examining the card.

"Who's he?" Ted's voice was sharp.

"He's my best friend. He says daffodils remind him of me."

"I thought your big idea was a man you'd remind of orchids." He couldn't keep a twinge of jealousy out of his voice.

"At least I don't remind people of pineapples."

"Ough!" Ted clutched his chin as though he had been socked. Then, after a little pause: "Your 'best friend,' is he rich?"

"Sure."

"That's nice. Fits right in with your plans, doesn't it?" "I haven't any plans."

"But your ideas about marrying for money haven't changed, have they?"

"Certainly not." She picked up the flowers. "Have yours?"

"Nope," he answered blithely as he brought a vase. "Once a heel, always a heel. That's our slogan." Then he added staring at the flow-

"I'm scared to think what Nona would make that add up to. Well, here goes."

"Hello? . . . Hello? . . . Hello, Miss Snowden," said Regi in a typical operator's voice after the connection had been made. "Bermuda calling. Are you ready?"

"Yes, I'm ready," answered a silken contralto.

"Go ahead with Bermuda," said Regi.

"Hello, Vivian," began Ted. "Can you hear me?" "Hello, Teddy. I can hear you perfectly. How are you? When are you coming back?"

An imp of mischief suddenly took control of Regi. She leaned over and called into the phone: "Hello, Westchester 28396? . . . Bermuda calling Miss Vivian Snowden please. . ."

Ted was dismayed but helpless Vivian was furious.

By this time, Ted was flat on the floor and Regi had collapsed against the wall. They were hysterical with laughter.

ers: "You know they are kind of like you, at that."

Suddenly he gasped as though cold water had been thrown on him. "Oh, great grief," he cried, "I'm in Bermuda!"

"Good. And I'm in Greenland."

"Don't be superficial." His tone was frantic. "I'm supposed to be in Bermuda right this minute and Vivian might telephone. What'll I do?"

"Telephone her first."

"What? From New York?" Then, as the idea sank in: "I shall make you the general of all my armies for that suggestion. Only you've got to tell her I'm calling from Bermuda. You'll be the operator."

"What's her number?" Regi's eyes were sparkling with mischief.

"Westchester eight-two-seven-

"Operator!" she exclaimed. "I've got Bermuda! Please get off the wire. Hello, Ted. . . Can you hear me?"

"Yes, I can hear you." He was trying to fend Regi off with one arm, but laughing at the same time "Hey! Lay off!"

"What did you say, Ted . . ." came his fiancée's furious voice. "Yes, Operator! I've got Bermuda! Please get off the line. Hello! Hello! Ted? . . . Oh, Operator! Go away!"

By this time Ted was flat on the floor and Regi had collapsed against the wall under the telephone. They were hysterical with laughter.

They could not know that Vivian, after jiggling the hook some more, had finally gotten a real operator and been informed that there had been no call from Bermuda, but that it had come from New York!

Hornets, Sparked by Flentge, Whitt, Bone Take Killeen 12-0

THIRD QUARTER SPELLS DOOM FOR KANGAROOS: TOLLIVER NOT THERE

Gatesville's green 1946 model, despite a little raggedness, and early season lack of coordination, unleashed an attack in the 3rd period Friday night at Killeen to down a parred Killeen Kangaroo aggregation 12-0 on a damp field. The stands were full.

Immediately on the kick-off in the third, Bone, Flentge and Company, went straight down the field in an uninterrupted march for the first marker, and then, turned around and repeated, ending the scoring for the game. Dysinger needed more practice for the extras. The Kangaroos managed, in the first period to get to the 12, but that was all go. And, if you thought it would be muddy as we did, and didn't go, here's exactly how it happened as we saw it—and it wasn't muddy to hurt.

The Hornets kick, Franks holding, Dysinger kicking to Arnold on the 25 and he gets to 31. Ricketts fumbled, Hornets recover.

Bone goes 4, from 31. Davidson stopped by Mounce. Bone makes it 1st D, then hits C for 5, stopped by Bay. Flentge drops 1, Davidson at end, laterals for 3 loss. Bone carries, but ball goes over on 13 yard line.

Arnold is bottled, drops 2. Ricketts makes 3. Arnold 7. They kick short to Flentge on Hornet 35. Reding stops Gartman for 5 loss. Arnold knocks Davidson's pass, intended for Gartman. Flentge, with nice hip work makes 15, but an off-side penalty erased it. Bone kicks to Arnold on 28, returned to 33.

Arnold makes 2, Davis stopped. Whitt throws Ricketts for 3 loss. Ricketts at end, makes 17. Arnold 3 at C. Melton in for Davidson. Killeen loses 15 yards, holding. Painter for Gilmer. Whitt puts Ricketts down for 3 loss. Ricketts takes for none. Ricketts goes backward again, 5 yds. 2 Hornets did it. Kenyon punts to Melton on 50, returns to Killeen 45. Bone makes 2 at LE. Flentge 1 at other. Melton completes to Bone, pass for 1st D., but penalty kills it; 5 yds., off-side. Davidson in, Melton out. Davidson to Paterson, pass incomplete. Bone kicks to Arnold on 10, fumbles, recovers, stopped by Whitt on 15. Ricketts gets 5 at end, Bone stops. Arnold runs, they measure, 1st D. Pennington stops Arnold for none; Arnold makes 2, C, stopped by Franks. Kenyon kicks to Flentge, stopped by Reding on 40.

Davidson passes, Kenyon knocks down. Flentge takes at end, 1 yd. Bone carries, 3. Bone kicks to Arnold on 25, returns to 39, stopped by Whitt. Pennington, Melton C. Davis in.

Arnold gets 1, stopped by Painter. Ricketts fumbles, Pennington recovers on 35. 5 yd Hornet penalty kills that. Arnold tries C, stopped by Featherstone. Ricketts makes it 1st D. Ball on 47. Arnold fumbles but still makes 4 yds. Davis stops Ricketts, 1 yd. Ricketts makes another 1st D as half ends.

Bay holds, Arnold kicks to Flentge on 12, returns to 32. Flentge takes over T for 1st down, thru C for 12, and another 1st D. Bone, over guard, makes 1. Bone is run out on the 19, 15 yards. Flentge cuts over C, but is stopped on 11. Bone makes it 1st D, on the 4. Then hits C for 2, and over for 6 points. Dysinger in, Davidson out. Dysinger's kick fails. Hornets 6, Killeen 0.

Hornets kick, ball to Bay on 30, returns to 35, stopped by Melton. Patterson starts Ricketts to losing 3 yds. Arnold makes 6 at RE, stopped by Flentge. Ricketts stopped by Ashby, 1 yd. They kick killed by Mounce on Hornet 42. Davidson for Melton.

Bone at RE, makes 9. Flentge makes it a 1st D. and 6 yds. Flentge goes for 6. Bone makes it 1st D. Flentge makes 7 more. Bone gets 1, Killeen runs in subs. Bone makes it 1st D. Davidson

TAYLOR FRIDAY NITE

It's a large order, but, so were the Kangaroos.

Here's a few scores for the record friends, and the "comparison boys" who dope the "A" games. We don't. Taylor 27, Yoakum 6; McGregor 13, Georgetown 7; Cameron 45, Marlin 0; Lampasas 19, Belton 0; Hillsboro 12, Clifton 0.

We won't bother with the class AA yet, they're like us, and only playing practice games.

'Bout the Friday night game. Tolliver was out and that was the main thing wrong with Killeen. Arnold was bottled and Ricketts handicapped. Reding, end was good. We were afraid it'd be 0-12 for the locals, but Coach Mitchell musta given 'em a shot in the arm at the half, because they were beauties in the 3rd period.

Penalties, as usual in early season games, cost the Hornets heavily, but that was good, and they've found it's better to be a little less anxious, and a little more careful about penalties. All in all it was, for the boys, one of the best "openers" we've had in recent years, because we've been get-42, returns to 49. Bay reverses for none. Arnold makes 4 at end when Franks barely misses loss tackle. Arnold gets 1st down. 4 minutes. Ricketts don't go. B. Davis in, Pennington and Freddie out. They lose 5 yds. Milner out. Ricketts fails. Arnold passes, Flentge intercepts and returns 5 to the 25. C. Davis out. Flentge makes 3. Gilbreath for Flentge. Davidson carries, and that's a ball game.

Starting lineups: Gatesville, Davis, LE; Featherstone, LT; Ashby LG; Franks, C; Gilmer RG; Whitt, RT; Patterson, RE; Bone, Gartman, Flentge and Davidson, backs.

Killeen: Mounce 13, Elmore LT; Hilliard, LG; Wood, C; Hold, RG; Saeger, RT; Reding, RE; Arnold Bay Kenyon and Ricketts, backs.

Officials: Johnny Morrow, Stein Strickland and Oscar O'Leary.

First Downs: Hornets 9, Killeen 5.

Co-Capts: Gatesville, Franks & Bone; Killeen, Arnold and Ricketts.

ting polished off, and it's better this way.

Coach Heck Johnson of the Taylor Ducks, on his "condensed information on Taylor High School Football, 1946 Season", gives this: 10 Lettermen not back; 8 lettermen back; 33 other players. In a newspaper story, the Taylor Times, we quote: "Summing it up, Coach Johnson declared that he could see little hopes of repeating the undefeated season of 1945. He said that Cameron and Killeen each have 10 lettermen returning and that Georgetown has an especially powerful team".

Also, there is that "green and experienced post-war model", but, Hornets, don't let this kind of dope dope you. Heck Johnson has this record, and we think he don't aim to lose it: Dist. Champs '31, '33, '38, '39, '40, '41, '42, '43, '45.

Bi-Dist. Champs: '30, '31, '33, '38, '39, '41, '42, '43, '45.

Regional Champs: '30, '31, '33, '38, '39, '42, '43, '45.

Now Heck Johnson, may not repeat this record, but boys, he's going to try.

So, just be reminded there IS going to be a tough football game in Taylor Texas, Friday evening, September 20, and it's going to take a good team to outsmart this Heck Johnson. He was graduated at Baylor University, along about '24, and has been in the business all these years. There'll be no Taylor set-ups.

That's not saying we can't—so's

Dormitory scene at a typical accredited school of nursing in Texas, showing modern, spacious living quarters for student nurses. (FYI—above picture from Harris Memorial Methodist Hospital, Fort Worth).

Mitchell—and just as well done, but it's going to take good hard football.

More Friday, about football. The GM team dropped to Weatherford 15 to 3, Tuesday night and the boys say they were fairly and squarely outplayed, hit and everything else, but the return game is tonight, Tuesday night, for the championship and, it's due to be a ball game.

Uncle Sam Says

Sixty-three years ago this month, Americans discovered a new way of joshing a neighbor who invested his money unwisely: "Go buy yourself Brooklyn Bridge." Brooklyn Bridge had just been opened. Some people actually turned over their savings to confidence men who sold them the great New York span. I could say to you today: "Go buy yourself a bridge," and I would be giving you sound advice. The bridge I have in mind consists of United States Savings Bonds . . . a bridge between the present and your future. U. S. Treasury Department
