Chaplain Jack Lewis is Scheduled to Address
 Lions Club Wednesday

A sumptuous meal at the noon hour, Wednesday, and a program of entertainment features characterized the meeting this week of the Gatesville Lions Club.

Cpl. David Sanchez sung a group of love songs with Miss Mamie Sue Holbrook at the piano as accompanist, and the club had as the singer's buddy, Sgt. Arthur Gisolf, who will soon be discharged to return to his home in Rock Rapids, Iowa.

Miss Jane McElroy, editor of the Gatesville High School annual was an honor guest of the club, and her escort, Leslie Smith, business manager of the annual, talked of the coming publication to the business and professional men of Gatesville assembled, and made a fine impression on his audience.

The program chairman announced that Chaplain Jack Lewis, one of the most brilliant after dinner speakers in the state, and very much in demand, will be guest speaker for next Wednesday's luncheon.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:
In 1912 Rufus Rondell shocked and estranged his elder sisters, Adela and Letitia, by marrying a show girl, Evelyn Macey. She died four years later, leaving their daughter, Margaret. Now, 25 years later, Rufus is running a night club on 52nd Street in partnership with picturesque Fiorello Zamarelli, nearby the club run by Sid and Jack, his old vaudeville friends. With his night club profits Rufus supports his sniffling sisters, who are unaware that they were ruined in the 1929 crash. Meanwhile Margaret returns from her schooling abroad, falls in love with Benny, Fiorello's pianist son. On her return the staffs of both cafes stage a boisterous party for her in Rufus' home. It ends up in a wild brawl and a patrol wagon ride, to the amusement of Margaret but the dismay of Rufus, who promised her mother to bring her up as "a lady."

Chapter Five

Margaret and her father were arguing it out in the Rondell library.
"My cellar was full," Rufus was trying to explain... "money came easy. I'm ashamed of all this, Margaret. The associations —"

"I like the people, father," she interrupted. "They're honest. You haven't been — with me."
"But I've tried —"
"Yes — for me. You love me. I believe that. Then why not give up the night club — turn it over to Mr. Zamarelli? You and I will go some place — any place — just to get acquainted."

At this Rufus demurred. There were "reasons" why he could not give up the business he despised.
"Another secret?" she inquired grimly.
"Oh, daughter — if I tried to explain — you wouldn't understand. Later, I can tell you everything — I promise you."

"Just as you promised to write me when I was in school abroad," she shrugged. "You hadn't time for it — you were doing big things. You're doing big things now — big secrets. All right. I'm of age. There's no reason why it won't work both ways!" And she was gone.

The next day Margaret was hard at work practicing hot dance steps to the accompaniment of her music instructor, Klauber. One thing was evident; Margaret had within her the talent to dance with the best of them.

After the lesson was over the faithful Klauber hurried to Rufus' home, to confront Rondell and his effervescent business partner and break the horrid news that Margaret was planning to dance in a night club.

"Go back and tell my daughter," Rufus directed rather pompously, "that I refuse to grant her permission to work in a night club. She left me without giving me a chance to explain. That's all!"

Fiorello turned reprovingly to his partner. "Something tells me you ain't got no boarders in your upper flat... You should never cross your bridges till they are hatched."

Margaret walked blithely into Sid and Jack's, where Benny, not having heard from her for a week and more, was moping disconsolately, threatening to take to drink. When she appeared he made as if to greet her; then, remembering his grievance, he turned his back angrily.

Margaret announced to Sid and Jack that she had come to apply for a job. But instead of offering her a job, they offered her unlimited advice. Sitting sternly on either side of her, they "gave it to her" by turns.

"You're actin' like a spoiled brat," accused Jack.
"We been nice to you all these years," added Sid, "just because we thought you was gonna be like our mother. Well, you ain't. You're turn down your father. You're angel then — just a plain angel."

"But a good guy," Jack chimed in. "And he's your father."
Margaret rose indignantly.
"Just a mo'," cried Jack, "ever with an eye to the main chance, and conscious that Rufus Rondell's daughter would be a tremendous attraction to his customers. You still want to work for us?" "I do," she declared. "Okay—then you do!"

The next one who had to be won over to the idea was Benny. The place was not respectable, he argued. And she didn't need money — her father had plenty. Besides, her dancing in a night club would make him a laughing stock —

"Good!" she blazed at this.
"Anyway," added Benny, "it takes experience to dance —"
"It does? Well, how do you know

I haven't got it? Play that piano — something hot — anything!" And without waiting for the music, she broke into a dazzling number. Benny, his last argument swept away, joined in enthusiastically at the piano, watching her admiringly as she executed the difficult steps with the ease of an old timer. Margaret definitely belonged — as the star attraction at Sid and Jack's.

Margaret had just finished a number in her late show, and before going to her dressing room she stopped in at the office of the cafe. There she beheld her father arguing with Benny — over her.

"Nobody's any worse than he wants to be — on 52nd Street or any other street," Benny told him. "She couldn't be bad if she tried."
Rufus saw Margaret standing in the doorway. "I want you to come home," he said quietly. "He gave you my answer," she replied. Rufus dropped his eyes, hardly able to speak in his bitterness.

"I suppose I have it coming to me," he muttered, and left.
Benny, having fought Margaret's battle, now turned on her. "You hurt him," he accused.
"Yes, and I'll hurt him again. I'm his daughter — I'm entitled to his confidence. If he can't give it to me, I'll do as I please!"

Benny, seeing in her now a new, a different Margaret from the one he had fallen in love with, turned on his heel.
"I guess I was wrong," he flung over his shoulder, and made for the door. But both were interrupted by the appearance of Porky, the dress-suiting plugger.

"Hello, baby," he clucked, advancing toward Margaret. "Pretty neat little number you did out on that floor. What do you say to a little supper after —"

Benny, fully cognizant of the three hard-looking gentlemen who were waiting for Porky right outside the door, wheeled around and floored the gangster with a hard left to the chin.

HORNETS KEEP COW BELL FOR 1947: WIN, 12-13

HORNETS DEMONSTRATE POWER, BUT DON'T ADD UP!

Twenty-five first downs shows "can do", especially, when the competition shows only five first downs. The Hornet "can do" up to a certain point that counts very much, but when you're adding up final results, this "can do" don't count.

Hamilton's Billy Matthews just "city slicked" the locals out of 13 points for no particular reason. The first, on a 90 yard run from kick-off, streaking down the sideline with good blocking, and the other, on a quick line up and a 25 yard run for another marker. Now these were two mart plays, with every Bulldog on the job, but Daniels, Davidson and Flentge demonstrated the old "can do" and went at Will, but not to mention Mary, when they wanted to. Gartman, too proved a pass snatcher.

Here's the line up: Hornets: Davis, Featherstone, Ashby, Franks, Gilmer, Dyinge, Patterson, Daniels, Gartman, Flentge, Davidson.

Bulldogs: Krueger, Bullard, Sadler, Thompson, McCollum, Baker, Fulcher, Schneider West, Leeth and Matthews.

Gateville's Sam Franks, captain for the evening won the toss and he chose to defend the west goal, with a high south wind blowing, and it's cold up here in this open press box. Hamilton kicks, ball to Flentge who takes on the 15 and returned to the 31. Flentge carries making 5. Flentge to Davidson, and he makes 1st down, 11 yards. Flentge makes 1 at left end, stopped by Baker. Flentge to Gartman, goes over left for 4 yards. Daniels carries, fumbles, and Hamilton recovers on their own 42 yard line, Kruger getting the ball. Leeth and Schneider in.

Matthews reverses, losing 1, is tapped by Dyinge. Leeth carries for none. Schneider kicks to Flentge who lets it die on the 2 yard line. There's a foul, no, it went over, and the Hornets take over on the 20. Flentge to Gartman, and he goes left for 9. C. Davis in, Dyinge out. Sullivan for McCollum. Flentge carries, carrying 10 yards and 1st down. Flentge is meared cold by Kruger and Baker. Daniels gets away and from 36 to the Bulldog 20, 44 yds, for another 1st down. Gartman carries for 9, Jack Riley in Fulcher out! Daniels hits center and it's 1st down. Daniels goes over left tackle for six, standing. Daniels adds extra at line, Gatesville 7, Hamilton 0.

Burris, Leeth and McCollum in. Hornets kick, ball to Matthews and he returns to the 42 yard line before stumbling and going down.

Schneider trying to pass, drops 10 yards on play. Schneider quick kicks from his 42 to the 12, 56 yds, and it's the Hornet's ball.

Flentge cuts over center to 70, 8 yds. Flentge hands to Davidson, and he carries to the 40 yd line. Flentge gets through center and steps out of bounds on the Bulldog 46, but he ran over, a 25 yd run. Daniels hits center for 3, stopped by Bullard. Flentge cuts over right tackle, and it's nearly 1st down. Yes, it is.

Kruger taken out, slightly injured. Chambers in.

Daniels carries at left, for 8 yd. Daniels goes same place and it's measured. Alexander in. Yes, it's 1st down. Davidson to Flentge, hand off and he makes 1. Flentge to Davidson and he goes for another 1st down on the 5 as first quarter ends.

2nd Quarter

Davidson slides off Hamilton players for the second marker after a straight march down the field from their own 12. Daniels added extra. Gatesville 14; Hamilton 0.

Painter in, Gilmer off. Dyinge kicks, ball goes to Matthews on the 10 and he returns 90 yds. for the marker, going over untouched. Fuqua goes into the game. Dillard kicked and it's good. Gatesville 14. Hamilton 7.

Hamilton kicks, ball to Daniels on the 20 and he returns to the 38. Hamilton drops 5, too many times out. Flentge to Gartman and he drops 5 yd. los. Flentge carries, pitches to Featherstone and he carries for 1st down. Daniels carries for 8, Leeth and West stop. Flentge fails to go 1 yd. Daniels carries and it's 1st down. Davidson back and Hornets not blocking Bullard throws for 8 yd loss. Melton in, Daniels out. Davidson pass incomplete to Melton. Flentge to Davidson passes too long to Melton. Gartman fumbles and brings ball back to line of scrimmage. Bulldog 49.

Leeth carries and he goes from 49. 22yd to the Hornet 29 yd line. Schneider carries, 1 yd. Matthews takes and Patterson throws him for 9 yd loss. Schneider passes, Davidson knocks down. Gilmer in, Painter out. Schneider kicks and the ball is dead.

Ball on Hornet 9, Melton carries for 4. Flentge carries, stopped by Leeth, 1 yd. Melton hits hole in center and it's 1st down Rost for Sadler. Fentge gets one at center, stopped by McCollum. Flentge hits center for 8 yds. stopped by West. Melton thru center carries to the 48 before being forced out, 22 yds. Anderson in. Melton passes, Schneider intercepts returning 5 yds to the 40 yd line. Hamilton loses 5, too much time. Schneider passed, Anderson intercepted and returned to Bulldog 47. Davidson back. Daniels carries, 5 yds. Davidson passes, too long, incomplete. Patterson nearly got it. Gilmer in. Davidson to Gartman, pass incomplete. Davidson passes to Gilmer, but didn't make it 1st, so ball goes over on 42.

Pennington in. Schneider passes, incomplete. Schneider completes to Matthews, for 1st down. Matthew carries for 0 as the quarter ends.

3rd Quarter

Hornets kick, ball goes to Schneider on the 25, stopped by Pennington. Leeth makes 2 at line. Freddie at end. Matthews carries and he drops 1yd, Featherstone and Franks. They quick kick to the 30 and it's killed on the Hornet 28, Schneider kicking. Davidson carries, stopped by Baker, no gain. Flentge takes ball at right, pitches to Gartman but the whistle blew, 8 yds. Daniels makes it 1st down. Daniels, left tackle carries for 13 yds, and 1st down. Daniels carries 8 yds but there's a penalty and Hornets drop 15 for holding. Davidson passes, knocked down by Fuqua. Flentge to Gartman and he carries to the Bulldog 40, nearly enough for 1st down. Daniels hits center for 1st Davidson runs and in knocked out down and 2 yds, ball on 15 yd line. after 13 yds, 1st down and 2 yds to goal. Daniels goes over for six more. Daniels hits center for 1. Gatesville 21, Hamilton 7.

Hornets kick, Daniels kicking, ball to Schneider and he fumbles,

Patterson recovering on the 'Dogs 40. Melton carries for none, stopped by Baker. Daniels at left grd carries to the 22, 13 yd and 1st d. stopped by Leeth. Flentge carries thru right side but ball is called back, Hornets drop 15 holding. Davidson passes to Gartman, 24 yds, but short for 1st down. Melton back, but Daniels carries and don't make it 1st down. The pass incomplete, Schneider drops ball. Daniels fails to make 1st down, and the ball goes over.

Hamilton drops 5, too much time Leeth hits center for 5, but there's penalty, Hornets off ide. Matthews carries at left, making 8, is stopped by Flentge. Leeth at c. makes it 1st down.

INDEX OF TEXAS BUSINESS

The index of business activity in Texas, compiled by the Bureau of Business Research, dropped from 191.4 in August to 181.5 in September, the largest decline since the readjustment period immediately following the end of the war. An analysis of the current decline, however, indicates that it is a significant drop in business activity, and is particularly serious because of the unstable situation in other phases of business, notably the stock market and the cotton market. One of the striking features of the September drop in the index of Texas business is the fact that all six of the components, pay rolls, employment, oil refining, carloadings of miscellaneous freight, electric power, and department and apparel store sales registered some decline. The only one that approached the spectacular in department and apparel store sales, which dropped from 383.5 to 313.4. The volume of sales, however, was unusually high for both July and August, so in spite of the severe declining in this index it still stands above any month prior to July (APphotochart

Rev. J. C. Chadwick
Addresses State Boys
At School, Sunday

Rev. J. Carroll Chadwick, pastor of Center, Texas, Baptist church, who has been engaged in a revival at Oglesby, addressed the boys at State School last Sunday afternoon.

Government Coal

In England the government now owns the coal mines. The mines were taken over by the government. There, it is known popularly as "nationalization," and the coal industry and its mines are not expected to be returned to the former owners at any foreseeable date. Former owners were given government bonds bearing a low rate of interest. Under this plan the smaller stockholders could cash out their interests if desired, but it is very difficult at this time for the larger holders to exchange their bonds.

English coal mining has faced many difficulties in the past. The industry got underway long before any mining machinery was developed, and some of the mines have never adopted modern methods. In many, the vein depth has such wide variations that an uneven floor has been created, making it difficult to put in modern conveyors. Some mines are deep, some are shallow. To modernize and keep them operating at the same time, would require sinking many new shafts.

Hindrance Factors

Londoners say these factors kept private owners from modernizing to a greater degree in the past: (1) Labor opposed it, fearing not enough jobs would be left, (2) Numerous government regulations retarded progress and hindered modernization, (3) Limited profits and high taxes made it hard to get reserves needed to pay for modern equipment, and (4) Uncertainty with regard to the issue of government ownership, about which there had been constant agitation since World War I. Owners rightly saw no expediency in making large expenditures when there was threat of losing control of the investment, not knowing what type of remuneration they might expect.

Although the conditions set forth to justify the nationalization of England's mines are non-existent in America's coal industry, where equipment is modern and production efficient, these four obstructions to progress have presented themselves in various shapes to plague and sometimes to stall our own industries. We must come to realize that these factors which limit our progress could in time bring the same sort of "nationalization" which now retards Britain's industrial progress.

No Success Yet

Has the new system given England the coal she wants? The answer is: No. Output per man-hour has not held up—much less improved—under the labor government and nationalization. All methods of recruiting adequate labor have failed. The month of May was one of the best, with nine-tenths of one ton produced per man per day, but since May the average has decreased. This figure compares poorly with an average of more than five tons produced per man-day in America.

The Minister of Fuel, Mr. Shinwell, has just warned that "there may be some stoppages in industrial undertakings this winter." He estimates coal reserves in Britain at the start of winter will be 5,000,000 tons below the safety margin. Referring to nationalization, Mr. Shinwell said: "If under the new program, the industry proves to be a failure, and doesn't secure the coal we need, it will be a bad outlook for the whole country." So far the outlook is bad.

The minister, a former pastor of Oglesby Baptist church, was accompanied by Gatesville by Rep. Earl Huddleston, who introduced the speaker. The service conducted Reverend Chadwick through the initiation.
