'46 Hornets Stave Off '47 Hornets, And, Visa-Versa

It was one of those "Spring practice finals" Tuesday night when the Gatesville High School '46 Hornets tied up with the '47's in an exhibition game, and the game ended right where it started, 0-0.

Of course, lots of things could happen between now and the first game in the Fall, but the prospects don't look too bad. Punting seems good, and in practically every other phase of the game is ok., except the "scoring punch" part, the real pay-off, but that develops.

For the benefit of the '37's, you have to have the ball if you make counters, and the '46's managed to keep it most of the evening, or more of the evening. Passing was passable, blocking fair, and the mud slick. Featherstone, in the backfield, showed well.

Mary Sue Brown, '47 bandwoman made the first down of the game when she slipped and messed up an otherwise pretty band uniform when she attempted to jump some standing water. When she landed, it wasn't standing.

John Miller Stinnett, '47'er, got in the '46 Pep-Band squad section and wasn't too welcome, continually stirring up strife—think he was a radical, or something.

Way we got First downs was 9 for the '46's; 2 for the '47's, which just about sizes up the game, except for the scoring.

Starters for the '47's were Price, Davis, Fredde, Deabers, Gilmer, Lary, Crawford, Davidson, Vandiver, Daniels, Dysinger.

For the '46's, Patterson, Blum, Ashby, Franks, Painter, Featherstone, Davis, Davidson, Gartman, Flentge, Gilbreath (Gilbreath didn't make it, late, and somebody else started).

Subs '47: Lee, Bauman, Whitt, Johnson, Roberts, McIlroy, Woodward, Bertrand, Black, Mack, Meeks, Sims, Lina, Wright, Brookshire, Newton, Meyers.

Subs '46: Anderson, Mitzer (?), Haskins, Rutledge, Hord, Newton, and Pennington.

Officials were: Red White, Bob Arnold, Joe Skeiton and Rabon Balch.

Peace? It's Up to Women and Children
By Adelaide Kerr
(AP) Newsfeature Writer
Women face in 1947 the hardest job in their history. It is the job of trying consciously to produce and rear the kind of human beings who can live in peace and prosperity instead of slitting each other's throats and laying waste one another's lands once every generation.

Millions of women—white, yellow, red and black, those who can read and those who cannot—believe that war is caused by the Machiavellian machinations of politicians, statesmen, diplomats and dictators and that humanity is helpless before them.

But millions of others, thousands of educators, veterans who fought the last war and people who are working in the United Nations to prevent another, think differently.

What they believe was summed up recently in a letter which John Crown, a veteran, wrote to Dr. Howard Rusk of the staff of the projected New York University-

Bellevue Hospital Rehabilitation Institute. He said:

"All the troubles of the world originate in the common man. The selfish and greedy ways of nations are just the ways of each individual man multiplied a hundred fold.

"If man wishes peace again, he must return to the great Commandment 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.'"

The character, thinking and behavior of the common man and woman are shaped in their childhood. Generally speaking, women have far more to do with this than men because little children spend so much more time with their mothers than their fathers. Also, most of their teachers are women. The generations which hold the future responsibility for peace will be the kind of men and women produced by the women and men who reared them.

Children who can get along with the members of their families and their playmates will be, when they grow up, the kind of men and women who get along with the Joneses next door, the people with whom they work and the community in which they live. Enough of them can produce the kind of nation which gets along with other nations in the endless give and take required between any two—whether they be human beings or countries—if they want to live together in peace.

Enough children who quarrel continually with their playmates will produce, when they are grown, the kind of nations which don't co-operate with others. The impatience that flares to anger when six-year-old Sam cannot have everything he wants is the same impatience that snaps when a business conference is snarled. The selfishness which snatches a toy and holds it from others is the same selfishness which cannot give the other fellow an inch in trade. Quarrels over trade have lit the fires of many wars.

On the other hand the child who will set the table, mow the lawn or run an errand for a sick neighbor can well become the cooperative individual who will work patiently with others month after month to help solve a labor-management quarrel that might have led to strikes, unemployment and depression. Depression breeds fast the germs of discontent that foment war. Hitler and Mussolini could never have risen to power if their countries had not been plagued by such serious unemployment and depression that their people followed any leader whom they thought might haul them out of the morass of despair.

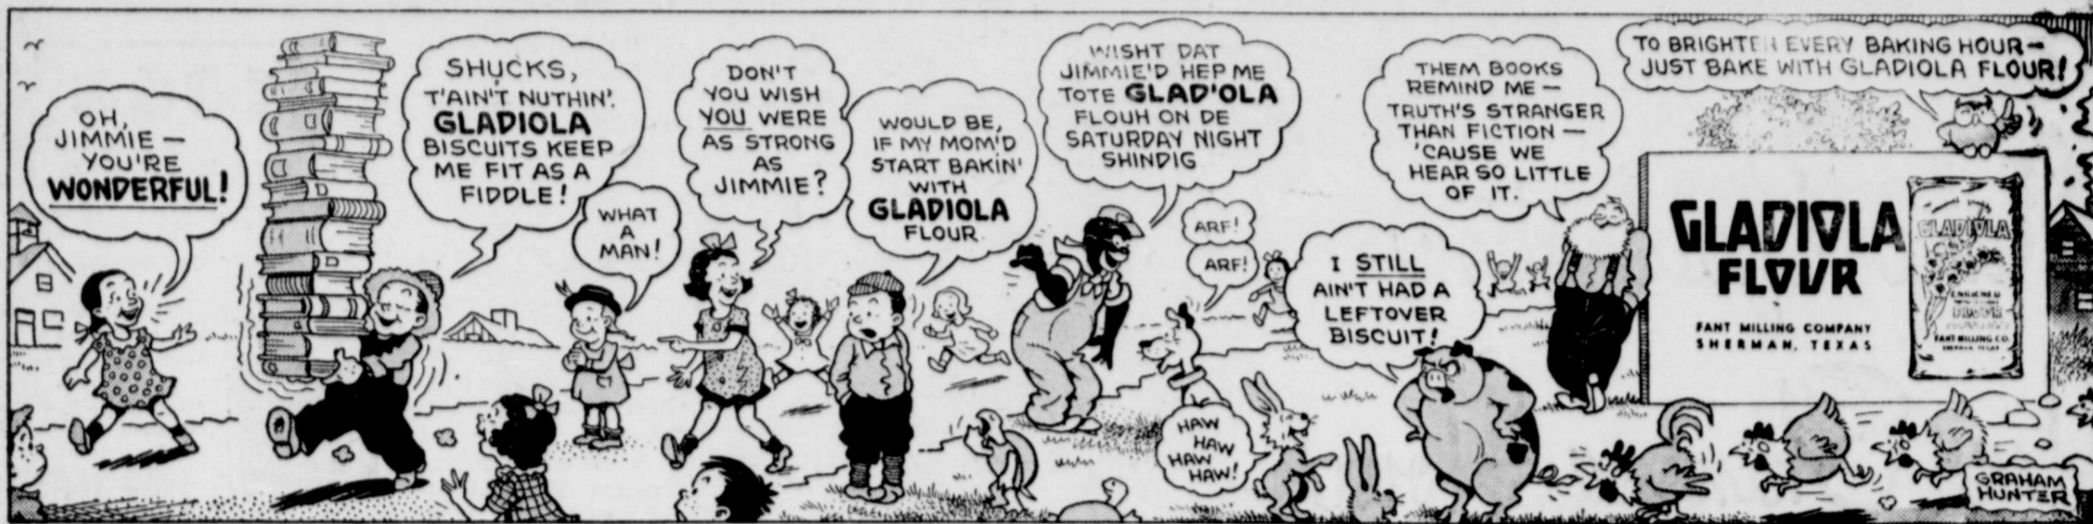

"If 'love thy neighbor' is indeed the key to peace, men and women who seek to translate it into practical action can find what is generally conceded to be the world's best definition of love in I Corinthians—XIII The Bible. In it St. Paul says in essence:

Love is patient and kind; love is not jealous or boastful. It is not arrogant or rude. Love does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful. It does not rejoice at wrong, but rejoices in the right. Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never ends.

His definition of love might be summed up as tolerance, kindness and goodwill—in other words, charity toward one's fellow man. And charity—according to the old adage—begins at home.

Prayer Meetings Prepare For Revival At Baptist Church

A revival is to be held May 11 to 18 at the First Baptist Church with Dr. W. R. White of Austin preaching and Mr. Edgar Spearman of Dallas leading the singing. These men are the finest in their fields, and the services are to be inspiring; but great as they are, the church needs prayer in preparation for a revival. We are told that like causes produce like results; so if we want Pentecostal power, we must "Continue with one accord in prayer and supplication." If we want a great meeting, we must pay the price in prayer; for "Prayer Changes things."

Prayer services will be conducted at the church each night at 7:30 the week of May 5 to 9. On Monday night, there will be a great mass meeting for the entire membership. On Tuesday night, we will break up into groups and the men, women, and young people will have separate services. On Wednesday night, another group meeting will be held. On Thursday night and Friday night, the groups plans will be carried out again. All of these meetings will be held at the church, and every member is urged to attend.

The Young People will be featured especially during the meeting. They will form a Youth Choir and sit in the balcony to assist in the congregational singing.

Out of town guests and visitors at Bill's Cafe opening were Mrs. Lucile Gentry of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Owens and Katy Lou and Judy Gentry of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Richardson of Colorado City, Mr. and Mrs. Jock Gilliland of Dallas, and Kyle Alexander of Baytown.

Mrs. J. H. Talley was honored Sunday by having all four of her girls with her. They are: Mrs. Maggie Armstrong, Austin; Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Wright and children of Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Little of Las Cruces, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Grady McHargue. They all met here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grady McHargue, also, Miss Ruth and Bernice McHargue of Dallas here for the occasion. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Grady McHargue.

Fairness Begets Fairness

Recently I found in my mail an unusual letter. It was an impressive letter, for it came from a well-known manufacturer on the subject of labor unions and their leaders. Omitting the personalities involved, I should like to offer you the letter in full. It is so sane and offers such rich practical suggestions for settlement of some of our huge industrial problems that I want to pass it on to readers of this column.

"Dear Sir: Your description of the labor situation in Sweden almost depicts the labor situation of the (XYZ) industry in our country. Mr. X, the founder of the Union, plus the cooperation of the manufacturers, brought it about. And I dare say this labor leader instilled the spirit of cooperation into the manufacturers by fair play and honest tactics.

Men of Calibre

"Since the formation of the Union in 1919, no strikes have occurred. The instruments installed by him for orderly settlements of disputes are no doubt well known to you.

"All of this leads to one conclusion. If the leaders of labor are men of right calibre, strikes are almost impossible because employers are invariably reluctant to have their business disrupted and are willing to meet fairness with fairness; hence, my advice is: Urge labor unions to choose wise and business-like leaders; men of high ideals, thoroughly honest.

"If labor were headed by men who are qualified for leadership, labor troubles would eventually be of minor importance."

Horse-Sense

So ends this very pointed letter from my manufacturer friend, who obviously is no enemy of labor. Actually, the reasons so apparent why management should be the friend of labor are almost the same set of reasons why labor should stand solidly for cooperation with management. After all, the two are the main components of industry, labor and management. Their objectives are the same. Neither can exist without the other. This speaks, with all the logic of plain horse-sense underscored by the compulsion of self-interest: cooperation.

Strikes are Outmoded

Orderly settlement of industrial disputes would mean much to the welfare of our nation at this time of crisis when we are reconverting our industry to the ways of peace. Strikes are now too costly, to labor and to management, and to the public, to have any prominent place in the settlement of industrial disputes. In this enlightened time, when word is almost as swift as thought and the facts are so easy of access, surely these two components of industry with so much in common can make use of the council table instead of the strike. With wisdom and fairness and honesty prevailing this can be done. We have had full demonstration that frequent large strikes are the route to disaster.

On Being Vigilant

That the price we pay for liberty is eternal vigilance may seem like old stuff to some of us. We are prone to relax after being vigilant for five years during a hard war. Like the next man, we pay more attention to signs of optimism than to those danger signals that are likely to call us to vigilance.

As modern-day Americans, we indicate by our actions and our interests that we are concerned about a lot of things—but perhaps least concerned about playing Paul Revere roles. Let Samuel Adams and John Hancock and Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry and A. Lincoln and all the others stay in their history books. We won our freedom in 1776, and we've kept it since. So why take the trouble to worry about being vigilant in 1947?

Take the Trouble

During the war we were told what to be vigilant against, and much of what we were fighting for. Even particular freedoms were enumerated. We knew too, which particular dictators were giving us trouble. But today Hitler is gone. Mussolini's ambitions are dust. It was a lot of trouble, but we paused to finish the job. We were strong enough to do it, and we are still strong.

It is always a lot of trouble to have a mind toward our freedoms. With three-fourths of the world embracing doctrines which oppose our cherished freedoms, and with many of the nations of the world scorning our kind of Republic, we shall have to keep on taking trouble to defend our way of life. This is true, even when we know that our Republic is the best and most prosperous anywhere in the history of civilization.

Defense of the Mind

We have called America the melting pot, the place where the cradle of liberty was first rocked, the refuge of all the persecuted of hundreds of brands of minorities. We have been a thrifty people, an active people, a people building a continent—all the while warding off tyrants from abroad and having a care at home for your freedoms and mine.

How is it, then, that we have been caught napping? Have we not, in times of confusion at home and abroad, allowed doctrines to creep in which would chain our minds and shackle our bodies as well? Distorting, misleading, boring from within, state socialism at home and abroad presents to us the kind of curse that tyranny has always been to free man. Inroads have been made on some sectors of the American mind.

Constructive Program

Did you know that polls have shown that 51 per cent of our people do not know what a balanced budget is? That virtually a third have no conception of the meaning of "free enterprise"? That many of us think it all right to owe a huge national debt to ourselves? That security is something Congress can hand out? That inflation is acceptable because it creates wealth? That there are ways to earn more by doing less?

All these things are fallacies. With other fallacies they will enslave, just as surely as any tyrant. We must make our platform freedom. Can there be a more constructive program than that of free men? Americans everywhere must prepare the defense of their own minds against the inroads of enslaving ideas.

DEDICATE MEMORIAL TO REVILLE

Melvin Pruitt of Refugio, Tex., dedicates a memorial at Texas A. & M. College April 21 to Reville, Aggie dog mascot which died in 1944. The memorial was dedicated by the class of 1947. Cadet staff officers, a color guard, and buglers, standing. (AP) Photo.
