Bill Providing Spastics Center Tied Up In Senate

AUSTIN, May 18.—The long-hoped for school for spastic children in Texas made a small gain when the bill by Rep. Sid Gregory, Jr., of Gatesville went to the senate for action.

Passed by the house, the measure would authorize the state board of control to take over the North Camp Hood hospital area for use as a spastics school, if it can get the federal government to give it to the state.

However, Sen. Buster Brown's bill making an appropriation for renovation, equipping and operating the school is still buried in the senate finance committee, where it is likely to stay because of the shortage of money for special expenditures.

Gregory's bill provides the authority, but not the money.—The Temple Daily Telegram.

Survey shows that 54 out of every 100 new range buyers plan to go Electric

AMONG families that are planning to buy new cooking equipment, 54 out of every 100 intend to buy electric ranges. That's the result shown by a survey of 8,000 families in 125 typical cities and towns, made by a famous national women's magazine.

Why this nation-wide swing to electric cooking? Because electric cooking is so clean, so cool, so safe, simple and sure.

Because it is truly automatic and provides new hours of kitchen freedom. And because it has become so fast and economical that there's no longer any reason to stay tied to less modern methods.

You, too, will join the switch to electric cooking, when you discover how economical it is to cook this modern, carefree way. You owe it to yourself to get the facts now!

A Sound Thinker

As I sat a few days ago in the spacious office of Mr. John Snyder, secretary of the Treasury, and listened to that keen thinking gentleman outline his views on certain monetary policies, I found myself wishing that all public thinking were as clear, and as cognizant of good economic horse-sense.

In the first place the Secretary believes that a thorough study of the necessary costs of government should be made. He believes then that this cost should be reduced to the very minimum consistent with good government. In the second place he believes that a high national income is possible only if a sound economy is maintained. This sound economy must be based upon maximum production at high efficiency, which he feels would make possible a large foreign trade.

On Your Feet, Sam!

In the third place he believes we should seriously undertake liberal payments on the national debt. This should be done at once. To me that is just plain, common horse-sense. It is just the way a wage earner, farmer, merchant, or manufacturer, heavily in debt, with a large family, but still in good health, would have to plan if he expected ever to get on his feet and leave any heritage to his children.

Uncle Sam is heavily in debt, his children have adopted spendthrift habits, have lost the art of hard work, are quarreling with one another, and are growing more and more inclined to leave the worrying to the old man. The need of the hour is sound counsel from Washington for the entire nation to realize its critical condition, and to act accordingly.

A Sound Program

Secretary Snyder's program needs to be understood, for it is one in which the whole nation can participate. His three point program (in my own words) would be about as follows:

1. Stop the fantastic waste in almost every department of government. Pare costs rigorously, forgetting political expediency.

2. Let industry reduce prices until the profits stand at a very low level. Let labor aim for maximum production, in order to get a real raise through lower prices. Such production will permit active foreign markets, a thing not only necessary for us but for other nations as well.

3. Let taxes remain on a broad base, with only those cuts being made which are necessary to induce investment in the tools of production, while we all do our part to reduce the very heavy national debt.

Steady Employment

Personally, I would modify item three. It is my opinion that if reductions in the budget were seriously and studiously undertaken, all three points Secretary Snyder features could be achieved, and we could still obtain at the same time a real reduction in income taxes.

Comparatively high taxes we must have. The costs of national living in times of peace but amidst quarrelsome and aggressive neighbors may continue to run high. But there are certain reductions that by all means should be made in order to encourage more venture capital. We shall continue to need wide investment of private capital in tools. This will mean more jobs and more steady employment.

Uncle Sam Says

One of my nephews, Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury Edward H. Foley, made a few remarks the other day which are worth the attention and action of all my other nieces and nephews. In talking about buying Savings Bonds through the payroll savings plan, he said: "Workers are doing themselves a favor when they increase their take-home savings. The man who has saved up a reserve has a sense of security which the man who lives from hand to mouth can never know. He gets more out of life. He can take today as it comes, rather than spend it worrying about tomorrow." The same reasoning applies not only to Americans on somebody's payroll but to the millions of men and women who earn their living as doctors, lawyers and independent business men who can arrange for regular purchases of Savings Bonds at their banks.

In House Bill, SCS, REA Funds Cut Poage Says

Funds for Soil Conservation service, Rural Electrification, crop insurance and other items in the Department of Agriculture budget have been cut severely, in a house appropriations bill expected to be reported out May 19, Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco said today.

While REA loan funds were cut only $25,000,000 under the $250,000,000 sought at the same time, REA administrative funds have been cut way back, which is expected to add to the already slow procedure in making loans, Poage said.

He blamed a personal difference between the chairman of the sub-committee, Corg. Dirksen of Illinois, and REA heads for this.

"A farmer in Texas may say 'How does that concern me—when they cut funds of administration in Washington?'" said Poage. "A tremendous amount of paper work is required for each REA loan. Already in my district, farmers were complaining about the time required for making loans. I personally know that for the lack of stenographic help, government officials have gone back to work at night and tried themselves to write out papers."

Poage blamed attempts by Ed O'Neal, representative of the Farm Bureau federation, to get Soil Conservation service transferred back to the Extension service, for cuts in Soil Conservation service.

"First the committee cut out all funds for SCS, but did not transfer its functions to any other agency. Then the committee met again and gave a small amount of money to Soil Conservation service."

Poage claims that the Farm Bureau wants SCS placed under the Extension service because it has great influence there. This influence is felt to some extent in Texas, Poage says, but mostly in the Midwest where in Illinois, Iowa and other states, the Farm Bureau rules policies of the Extension service and in some cases appoints and partially pays for services of the county agent.

"The Extension service has not the time nor the experts to conduct Soil Conservation service, as was demonstrated when the Extension service had this program under its supervision before," Poage said.

"If Soil Conservation is transferred back there now, it would require as large a departmental set up with as many employees as are presently working to do the job."

Poage said he would fight to restore adequate funds for soil conservation work in all its phases. "Agricultural research, school lunches, etc., also suffered cuts of from 50 per cent to 75 per cent while it is reported that no funds are appropriated for crop insurance," Poage said.

An agricultural sub-committee of the house of which Poage is a member is now trying to draw up a new and acceptable bill for continuation of crop insurance on a greatly reduced and purely experimental basis.

"I do not know whether we can not, but I expect to try," he concluded.

INDEX OF TEXAS BUSINESS ACTIVITY

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says Texas felt its first post-war business set back in March, as indicators prepared by the bureau fell from their February peace-time high.

The index for March still stands 12% above its March 1946 level and 88% above the pre-war years 1935-39. Another encouraging factor is that the 2% February-to-March decline in the general index was not so large as the 3% slump occurring between February and March of last year, the bureau said.

Among the primary indexes of Texas business, only miscellaneous freight carloadings were higher in March than in February. Decreases were small in employment, pay rolls and crude oil runs to stills but large in department and apparel store sales (5%) and electric power consumption (8%) when seasonal factors were considered. The shifts in these indicators between February and March a year ago were similar in size and direction.

With the single exception of crude oil runs to stills, all indexes remained higher than in March 1946. Gains ranged from 6% in department store sales and 7% in miscellaneous freight carloadings to 13% for electric power consumption, 13% for employment and 19% for pay rolls.

Compared with prewar levels, business remains on its crest of prosperity. Employment is up 200%, crude oil runs to stills has jumped 47% above the 1935-39 average, miscellaneous freight carloadings have skyrocketed 51%, pay rolls are up 112%, electric power consumption has felt a 164 per cent gain and department and apparel store sales have soared 176%.

SHEEP AND GOAT AUCTION SALE!

EVERY THURSDAY, BEGINNING MAY 22nd

HELD JOINTLY BY

GATESVILLE COMMISSION CO.
SCOTT & JONES AUCTION BARN

Sale to be held at Gatesville Commission Co. Barn
West of Gatesville on Highway 84

Jim McClellan, Luther Scott and Weldon Jones have entered into an agreement to join their sales force and have Thursday of every week for a special sheep and goat auction sale. Buyers have been contacted and have agreed to be present at their opening sale Thursday, May 22. Everybody interested in selling sheep or goats, plan to bring them on that date. Anyone interested in buying be on hand. By combining their sale and handling only sheep and goats, we think we can handle them better, give them more room, show them better, and we think have a more satisfactory sale for all concerned.

Jim McClellan will continue to have his cattle and hog sale every Tuesday. Scott & Jones will continue to have their cattle and hog sale every Saturday, but neither will sell sheep and goats except at their joint Thursday Sale.

SALE WILL START AT 1:00 P. M.

WASHINGTON NEWS
FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
W. R. POAGE

May 16, 1947.

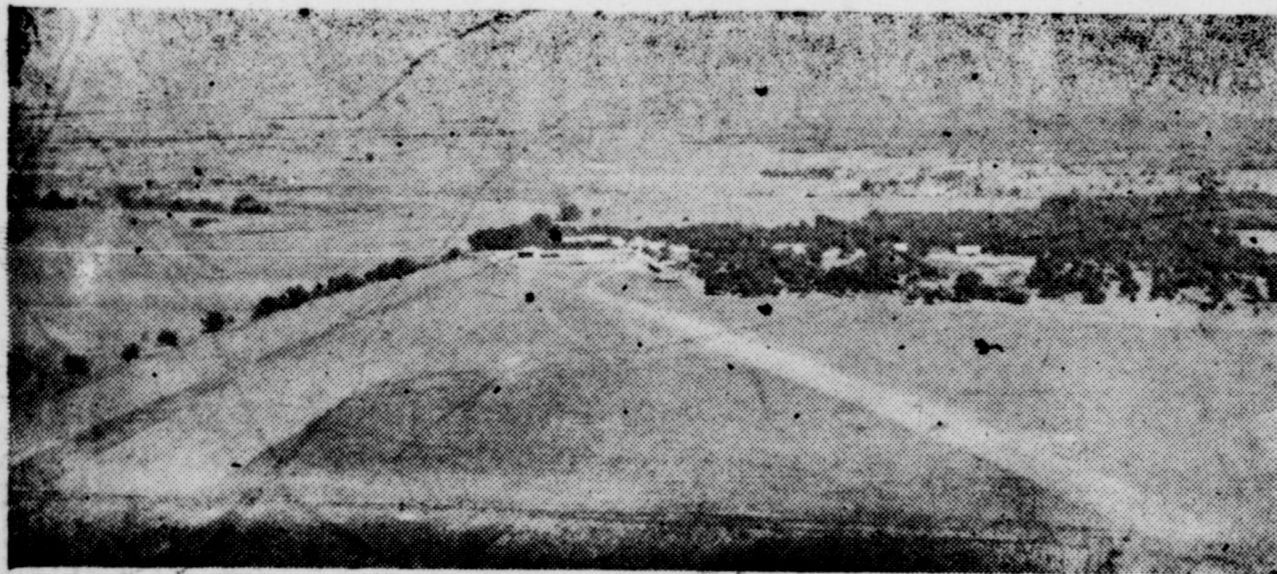

Dear Friends:

After very turbulent four days of argument over the Appropriation Bills for the State, Justice and Commerce Departments, all of which were severely cut, the House did not meet today. Some say it was to enable Speaker Martin to go to Houston to make a Republican speech. I had hoped that this would give me an opportunity to catch up with some of the letters and requests for departmental contacts that are still on my desk. In this I was disappointed, as my Committee has been in session all day, and it is now five-thirty. Formerly, we made lots of departmental contacts on Saturday as the House is not often in session on that day, but now all government offices except Congressmen's offices are closed on Saturday. This makes it much more difficult for me to contact the Departments and accounts in many cases for the delay in answering your questions. The Agriculture Committee has been considering a bill to allow the Land Banks to lend 75% of the normal value of land. At present they are limited to 65% and up until about two years ago they were limited to 50%. With land prices as high as they are, I am convinced that we should reduce—not increase—the percent that the Land Bank can lend. Excessive loans are inflationary. I just don't think that you do anybody a kindness to lend him more money than he can hope to repay, and I was proud to find that the Houston, Texas, Land Bank was the only one to insist that we should keep this great farm lending institution on a sound basis.

There is still much speculation as to the Agricultural Appropriation Bill. We had been told that this bill would be reported today. Now we are told that it will be next Friday before it is reported and that it will not come on the Floor until after the 26th. No one knows just what the Republican Leadership has in mind, but some of us are afraid that they are going to try to slip some power company provisions into the R E A

IRVIN SCOTT, SCOTT FIELD

As so often happens, the farmer is being held responsible for the cost of living, and Members of Congress are saying that we should cut the farm appropriations. You see lots of figures to show how much the price of agriculture commodities have advanced. They have advanced, but so have wages and profits, and farm prices surely had farther to go than almost any other prices.

I have before me a chart showing that since 1940 the average weekly wage of factory workers has advanced from $25.20 to $47.47 or an increase of 90%. During the same period the cost of living has gone up only 58.5%. Remember that the farmers' cost of living has gone up also. In fact, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics shows that although farm income has gone up a little faster than industrial wages, it started much lower, and in the past two months it has been going down while the cost of everything farmers buy is still advancing.

Probably the most revealing figures are those which show the percentage of total income that is spent for food. In 1919 our people spent 32% of their total income for food. In the boom year of 1929 we spent 23% of our income for food. In the depression year of 1933 we spent 25% for food. The percent dropped steadily until 1945, when we only spent 15% of our income for food. In 1946 it rose to where at the end of the year it stood at 19%—or less than 2/3 of what we spent 20 years before. This can only mean that the non-farmers of America are using less hours of their working time to pay the farmers for food. It means that even though food costs more in dollars, it costs less in work hours and that the non-farmers are relatively better off. It also proves that the farmer is certainly not responsible for high prices. It is most unfair to blame the farmer for the price of a shirt where there is 10c worth of cotton and $1.90 worth of labor in it. It is even unfair to blame the farmer for the price of bread when, even with wheat at $2.50, the farmer gets less than 20% of the price the consumer pays.

I therefore, expect to try to retain the appropriations that are needed to maintain our farm income and prosperity.
