Coryell City Takes Batfest From Boys At Turnersville Sunday

Playing in ideal baseball weather, Coryell City's baseballers defeated Turnersville's nine in a Sunday afternoon contest at Turnersville 7-4. The hits were even, 8 and 8, and the errors were the difference in the game, but the statisticians didn't keep them.

It started off like a ball game and ended like a race track with Coryell City leading in the race.

Lineups were as follows: Coryell City: Westerfield, 3b; Giebler, 2b; Gholke, 1b; Landfried, ss; Richter, cf; Gholke R. rf; Westerfield lf; McCallister, B. p.

Turnersville: Johnson, C. lf; Gilmore, rf; Jones, c; McCallister, 3b; Nichols, W. ss; Johnson, D. 2b; Nichols, J. 1b; Box, cf; Watts, p; Ivy, p.

Umpires: R. C. Williams, Douglas Gilmore.

Grand Jury Starts Working: Four Short Hadda Get More

The June term of District Court opened this morning without enough Grand Jurymen to get the job done, although the usual number had been summoned. Sheriff Joe White completed the "detail" by specially summoning four more.

When the full number were gotten here are the ones sworn in: W. T. Michael, Lyman, Scott; W. B. Brazzil, Andrew Kendrick, D. A. Grady, Charles Lengefeld, G. B. Hardcastle, Wade Sadler, R. L. Weaver, Ed Elms, George King and Will Rutherford.

Grain cutting was the most popular, and reasonable excuse. It's a bad time for court.

Fish Story, No. 2: Worse 'n Other! Write 'm Only!

We only write 'em! We don't tell 'em, or do 'em! Here's how the tale was told to us.

Seems one Alton Sims, who works at an auterie in this little village, went a fishin'! No luck.

As he was coming out, he had to wade across a shallow place, and, that's right, kicked a three pound bass right out on the bank.

That's the way it was told to us!

Miss Olivia Powell who teaches in San Antonio is visiting here with relatives.

SENATE CHANGES RENT CONTROL AGAIN

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 2.—(AP)—The Senate reversed itself today and struck from its Rent Control Extension bill provisions requiring decontrol at a fixed rate. By voice vote, it removed the amendment which would have required five per cent of areas under control to be freed of such controls each month.

Now, approximately 600 areas in the country are under the controls. So start, therefore, the amendment has required decontrol in approximately 30 areas monthly.

MARSHALL STOPS $30,000,000 TO HUNGARY

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 2.—(AP)—Secretary of State George Marshall today ordered suspended an unused half, $30,000,000 credit to Hungary, where the pro-Communist regime has just set up with Russian support.

Biographical Sketch, Incoming President, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

MRS. HELEN C. ELWELL, Incoming President of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Helen Chaffee Elwell, C. S., of East Hebron, New Hampshire, and Boston, Mass., is a local member of the Mother Church. The preparatory years of her education were in New York, followed by the completion of her schooling in the city of Washington.

Christian Science first came to her family in the Philippine Islands while her father, Lieut. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, was Military Governor, following his command of the international forces in China during the Boxer Rebellion, and prior to his becoming Chief of Staff of the United States Army. The study of the Christian Science textbook, and witnessing the healing power of Truth for members of her family, satisfied Mrs. Elwell that Christian Science, as revealed by Mary Baker Eddy, was the reinstatement of primitive Christianity as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus.

Mrs. Elwell became a member of the Mother Church in 1913, receiving class instruction in the same year. She has had membership in several branch churches as her travels permitted. Upon residing in Boston, he entered the public practice of Christian Science in 1923. She was for five years Assistant Superintendent of The Mother Church Sunday School, and for four years a member of the Christian Science Bible Lesson Committee. Mrs. Elwell has just completed a term of three

Temple Host For 4th Divisional Convention American Legion

Theme of the annual Fourth Division Convention of the American Legion to be held Saturday and Sunday, June 7 and 8, will be "The World's Greatest Patriotic Organization" and principal speaker will be Judge Gordon Simpson of the Texas Supreme Court whose subject will be "Universal Military Training", Harry K. Brown, Fort Worth, Division Commander, has announced.

Representatives of 76 Posts of the Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth congressional districts, which comprise the American Legion's Fourth Division, are expected to send delegations to the Temple Convention. Division Commander Emmett Streetman of Cameron, Joe Spurlock of Fort Worth and C. F. Johnson of Burkburnett.

Judge Simpson, the principal speaker, is also a Legionnaire of many years' standing and is a member of Favre Baldwin Post No. 12 at Tyler, his home city. The distinguished jurist is a veteran of both World Wars and in World War II he served with the Judge Advocate's General Department in Africa and Italy. It was while overseas that the voters of Texas elevated him to their highest court. He had a distinguished record as an attorney and district judge in Texas and had served first as a director and later as president of the Texas Bar Association. He will address a joint session of the American Legion and the Auxiliary Sunday morning, June 8.

Commander Brown has announced that Department Commander Bert Giesecke and three past department Commanders will address the Convention, these being Ernest Goens of Tyler, Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth and Ed Riedel of Austin. Others to be presented will be the commanding officer of Camp Hood and representatives of the Veterans' Administration, Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission and Veterans' State Service Office. The convention will be held at the Temple Post No. 133 headed by Harley W. Mitchell as Commander and will be host to the Convention. With approximately 700 members, the Temple Post is one of the most outstanding in the state and owns its own beautiful home and recreation center. Temple Post will be host to the visitors Saturday evening and among the social features will be a coffee at the home of W. W. Wendland, the Fourth Division Commander and now a member of the Department Membership Committee.

Why Is It Coming?

Many observers are of opinion now that the nation may expect a considerable business recession by August or September. It is expected that this recession will be reasonably severe and might last for six months. Some expect it to bring bankruptcy to a good many businesses that are weak financially, create unemployment, and maybe interrupt production seriously.

President Truman is so much alarmed that he is asking industry to reduce prices of commodities in order to help cushion the expected recession. Fears are that it might develop into a real depression. In view of our huge national debt and the fact that we must maintain a high national income, this prospect is rather serious. Naturally, we are asking ourselves: "Why must it come?"

Washington Fable

It is on the way because everything is entirely too high. Homes are too high, manufactured goods are too high, food is too high—everything is too high. People are refusing to pay the prices. They are going to continue to refuse until something is done about it. Now, why do not the industrialists just immediately lower prices until there would be no talk of depression?

That's impossible. Prices are regulated by costs. In manufacturing a price is charged that covers the cost. Big item in cost is usually labor, which averages 50 or 60 or 70%, and as much as 85%, of a finished article. Now the fable. When the war was over the President's Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Henry Wallace, recommended that in the automobile industry wages could go up 30% without increasing the prices of automobiles at all.

Spiral Again

If that could have happened in the automobile industry, of course, it could have happened also in many other industries. Labor was encouraged to demand a 30% boost, which they were told should bring no price increases. The facts, however, were on the other side of the fence. After an 18 1/2 cent increase was granted auto workers, and even before OPA died, automobile prices had to be increased an average of 22%. Other industries granted similar raises and prices went on moving upward.

Labor soon realized that it had lost all its gains in the higher costs of living. When we get far enough from the present problems to size them up more accurately and when a correct history is finally written, it will probably be explained that wage boosts in the fall and winter of 1945-46, more than any other one thing, were responsible for the inflated prices that followed. This is what now threatens to make depression inevitable.

If our government could have found in 1945 enough backbone for a firm stand against increases in wages and prices, urging instead a high productivity to get the nation back on its feet as quickly as possible, then the present feared depression would have been mere talk. But when the general inflationary rise in wages and a corresponding inflationary rise in prices came, all thinking people agreed that finally a depression would probably come. We may get back to a reasonable level that way, but even yet we could use a much better way, which this column will outline next week.

BROADWAY---

By Jack O'Brian

SIDEWALKS STAY OUT
WHOLE NIGHT LONG IN THE 'VILLAGE'

NEW YORK—Johnny Burke, the fellow who writes Bing's songs, and good ones, suddenly discovered a late urge for Chinese chow the other morning. So at four a. m. we hopped a cab and went downtown to 21 1/2 Mott Street, a favorite oriental beanery of the Broadway gaud when it tires of Lindy's cheese cake and Reuben's sandwiches.

The ride downtown included a brief tour of Greenwich Village, which is a lichi nut's toss away from Chinatown, and we took a late look at the arch in Washington Square and the wandering couples in Greenwich Village who never seem to go to sleep. They hang onto their bohemianism, uninhibited sleeping habits included.

Having cased the villagers in their native habitat, which included the all-night cafeteria where the characters without cash eat and then hang around until some well heeled friend arrives to pay the bill, a practice known as "sitting out your bail," we ordered the driver of our garish 1947 rickshaw to take us to 21 1/2 Mott, where again we noted a late session of late lesshrdu a late lesson in changing customs.

The ate O. O. McIntyre seemed to have a special telescope attached on his typewriter to turn out the romanticized journalistic musings which delighted his millions of readers. But his slinking out of sleeves weren't in sight the other morning. In fact, we couldn't find a single item of colorful Chinese garb. The most diverting haberdashery we encountered in the several blocks of Chinatown we traversed was a small group of zoot-suited young lads on their way home from a party.

The restaurant was quite satisfactory gustatorially, but lacked the flavor of swishing oriental silks and strange Chinese cooking rites. The food was served promptly and courteously by bright young Chinese lads dressed in what seemed to be better tailored versions of Pullman porters' jackets. After paying the check, which was made out with brisk mathematical efficiency in accidental detail by an energetic, intelligent fellow who might possibly be attending N. Y. U. evenings, we walked up the stairs from this "dungeon" and wandered a while before halting a cab for home.

We spied a policeman and asked if he was there to protect visitors from possible tong war attack. He laughed out loud.

"Nope", he noped. "We're here to protect life and property. Most of these fellows are citizens, you know. They're afraid tourists might ruin their property. Can't say I blame them, much. Sight-seers think they got to act tough or be shoved around. They been reading too many old books, I guess. This section's pretty tame, outside of the visitors."

Mrs. Fannie Pollock Dies at Ireland, Thursday, May 29

The Ireland community was saddened Thursday morning, May 29 by the death of Mrs. Fannie Pollock, one of its oldest citizens, who died at her home at 6:30 a.m.

Fannie Morris Pollock was born August 23, 1866, and on February 11, 1884 was married to James Flavel Pollock, who preceded her in death some 13 years. To this union eight children were born, and they are: Mrs. Myrtle Hollomon, Ireland; Arrena Pollock, deceased; Guy Pollock, Coleman; Ervin Pollock, Ireland; Felix Pollock, deceased; Mrs. Carl Edwards, Gatesville; Henry Pollock, California; Thelma Pollock, Ireland.

She also had 14 grand children and 8 great grandchildren.

She had two sisters Mrs. Monroe Townsen of Adamsville, and Mrs. Rena Rice of San Antonio.

She was converted in early life and united with the Baptist church, living a devout Christian throughout her life.

Funeral services were held at

The First Baptist church in Ireland at 3:30 May 30 with Rev. James Wiley assisted by Dr. Lawrence Hayes of the First Baptist church of Gatesville. Mrs. Randolph Waddill had charge of the music and pallbearers were Robert Petty, Oliver Neyland, Will Neyland, J. A. Edwards, Morris Pollock, and Guy Pollock, Jr.

Flower girls were Eula Petty, Frances Edwards, Dorris Smith and Ina Pollock.

"WHY PAY MORE AND GET LESS?"

DEAR JUDY:

Summer jobs are scarce this year, kids report. But lots of them have managed to get their applications in early, and, as in everything else, the early bird wins.

The first thing to figure out is whether (1) you are interested mainly in the money; 2) whether you want your job to be part-vacation, and (3) whether you can afford to take a job which will pay little in cash but much in experience.

If you haven't made up your mind, you might get some ideas from the Book of Knowledge Annual. During the summer of 1946 about 4,000 kids were asked to tell what kind of jobs they wanted when they finished school, and why. Out of that number four letters were included in the Annual.

You might be suited for a job you'd never thought about before.

For instance one girl, Claire Mitchell of Toronto, Canada, wrote that she was interested in veterinary medicine as a career.

Why? Claire says... "All my life I have wanted to help in some way my fellow man... Because of this desire I have chosen for my life work the profession of a veterinary surgeon. I have always loved animals; I have owned a dog and a cat of my own and know something of their habits... I am not interested in the money... but in curing sick animals."

Betty Glover of Southgate, Cal., she wanted to be a surgeon, and says... "As I grew older I read all I could about medicine. Now I know what I want for a career."

There is Betty's cue to seeking a job. You know what you want to be and understand your ambitions, read about that subject frequently and it follows, naturally, that you will try to get a summer job along the same lines.

For those mainly interested in the money, keep in mind that there are jobs open at all the resorts. Good swimmers should take advantage of jobs open at pools and beach resorts. There are any number of table waiting jobs to be found at summer camps. In every locality there are jobs to be had in libraries, recreation centers, beach clubs and golf clubs. Attractive to the kids who love to ride and can get their parents' permission are the dude ranches.

One group of kids organized a club called "The Robertsoxers" and plan a sophisticated approach to baby sitting. Instead of sitting home with the 3-4-5-6 and 7-year-old youngsters, they plan to take
