Modern Pied Piper Uses Trick Trap

NAPA, Calif.—(AP)—Rats had been feeding on the old city garbage dump, but a new garbage contract sent the garbage elsewhere and the rats fanned out through Napa looking for food.

Scores of them got run over in traffic. Aroused citizens complained.

Health Officer Donald Ezette got city council permission to put two more loads of choice garbage on the old dump, to lure the rats back.

Next course—poison.

LOST—ONE BARNYARD

MURPHYSBORO, Ill.—(AP)—Anybody seen Ed Hines' barnlot? Where it was now is just a hole and in it is a barn, the roof of which was about level with the top of the hole. It all resulted during the Mississippi river flood recently when a swift current of rushing flood waters literally gouged the ground from under the barn.

U. S. farm assets rose above $100 billion in 1945.

TEEN TALK:
DEAR JUDY:
After-school jobs look awfully good when you need some extra money. Christmas time, especially, when everybody from the dog to a thirty-third cousin seems to be extra-special-friendly, is a time to have more moolah.
The only way to get it, unless the family does the contribution, is to find a part-time job. There are jobs to be had in local stores or in doing special Christmas assignments. Talented kids can paint Christmas Cards or wrap packages or operate a shopping service. This can be done by personal contact, or by inserting a small ad in the paper or by offering the service to local stores.
Typing is the handiest thing in the world to know how to do. There is more money, usually, in the part-time typing job than in anything else that can be done with as little effort. Girls who never have encountered the complicated looking typing machine, can rent a typewriter out of their allowance, buy a typing instruction book for a few cents—and practice. It seems too bad that typing isn't given as a required school course starting even in grade school—so many jobs are dependent on a girl's knowing how to type. . . .
Here's a good way to learn about banking: Philadelphia kids are seeing the financial business first hand as part of their junior business training course. Mixed groups of boys and girls, divided into groups of 25, are conducted through the Corn Exchange National Bank from the basement, where the vaults are located, up through the fourth floor, and all methods of banking are explained in detail. The kids learn how to work the doors of the vaults, try their skill on the multiplying devices and when they get back to school a quiz program is conducted to find out what they have learned from their day at the bank.

Kathleen Courtney, of Conway, Ark. says her friends have been having an argument over the definition of the word "corny" and wants us to settle it. Funk and Wagnalls gives the following definition: Old-fashioned, trite, bromidic, as a corny joke. Popular music: bland or unsophisticated so as to elicit sentimental feelings.

I almost forgot to mention that I met Greer Garson this week. She seems lots happier than ever before. Her hair is a more golden red than the tomato soup red of yore; she wore a black velvet halo-type hat, a little-above-the-ankle dress with a black fitted jacket and a skirt of black satin done in magenta metallic checker-board pattern. She wore ankle-strapped shoes.
Her make-up job was exceptionally pretty—her eyebrows were pencilled reddish brown, foundation, powder and lipstick were more of the orange shades—which all goes to show how important makeup is, because the last time I met Greer, her make-up was pale-toned and not very exciting or becoming to her.

Eat Your Clam And Get Paid, Too

ABERDEEN, Wash.—(AP)—The state department of fisheries has started a clam rush on the ocean beaches hereabouts by offering 25 cents for shells of the razor clam.

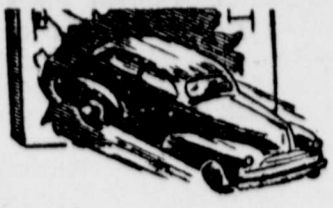

Of course, you have to get the right clam. Once you do, however you can eat it and still collect—the department wants only the shells.

Biologist G. A. Holand says the clam chase was started in an effort to answer a burning problem of the beaches: Do clams migrate? Downing, Andrew Downing, Mrs. Baby bivalves were measured, William Murray, Cena Bell Murray, Douglas Murray, Johnnie Murray, Mrs Douglas Murray, to their location.

NAGGING BACKACHE

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance sometimes are burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country grateful people tell others: "Doan's have helped me; I recommend them to you." That is why we say: Ask your neighbor!

HORNETS LACK GOAL PUNCH OPPORTUNITIES ENOUGH FOR A WIN

It was that final something, that made the Gatesville High school Hornets drop their "Inter-sectional" game with the famous Cameron Yoemen.

With the first downs 12-7 for the game, the Hornets had the punch in midfield, but lacked the added zest at the pay-off for the "figures".

In one of their best played games of the season, the entire team looked good, but the pass receiving was slightly off. The Yoemen, evidently must be in a weaker district than 29-A, because their football didn't look like championship stuff to us, and right now, well take the Blackcats of Mexia over the Cameron Yoemen.

Speed was the Yoemen's long suit, and they had two brilliant ends, Holloway and Hawkins.

A new come for Gatesville looked good, and that's Robert Painter, and with him, McIlroy, who started, and also there were Sims, Meyers, Lina, Bertrand, who've more or less been "reserved" for the 1947 season, that are coming into their own, unless graduation gets them.

We'd say, the GHS Hornets did well their last game.

And, the bragging about the Yoe High School Band. Well, it was nice, and it is said, they've won 7 state awards and one national, but to these old eyes, the only reason they won those is the fact that the GHS Band was not entered. We don't think they can hold a light to our black and gold horn tooters.

Liberty Club Meeting

The Liberty Home Demonstration Club met in the Grace Elam home Nov. 18. Beth and Bess Brown were co-hostesses with Miss Elam.

Mrs. J. B. Jones had a very interesting program on accessories and things we can make for Christmas.

The members supplied a display of suitable gifts that can be made at home with very little expense.

As a result of the accessory discussion a number of the ladies have arranged for another meeting after the holidays, at which they will learn to make jewelry from shells and fish-scales, (shell craze). Refreshments were served to 21 members, and these very welcome visitors: Mesdames A. G. Kautzsch and Lemon Karasak of Pottsville; T. V. Keller and Henry Keller of Blue Ridge; A. A. Kautzsch of Aleman; Donald Chilton and Miss Morene Neal of Hamilton.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Willie Lange, and Mrs. Willie Wentzel as hostesses, December 9th. It will be at the Lange home unless the roads are bad, in which case it will be at the Wenzel home... This will be our last regular meeting of the year. The last meeting before our new officers take over.

A Christmas social meeting will be at the Belvin home, with Mrs. Clovis Belvin and Mrs. Gayle Calhoun as hostesses, on December 23d. Each guest will bring a Christmas gift. Everyone has an invitation to this annual party.

Local News

Much interest is being shown in the Soil Conservation Field Day December 8. The farmers will meet at the Clovis Belvin home and they will study the work already done, and more that is needed on his and adjoining farms. Our farmers were deeply impressed by the lectures of Prof. Neal Gearreald and others at the recent Soil Conservation meet at the Liberty school house. Clifford Onstott is remodeling his dwelling.

Henry Burks' new home is under construction. We learn with interest that Mrs. T. H. Kelm has made sufficient recovery to be moved to Waco for special treatment. She is very dear to all of us, and we are happy about every improvement she makes.

Throughout our community history the mud-holes on the road to the Kemp farm have been a mean impenetrable barrier to our public welfare. During the rainy season they have isolated the families of the area. Now we are congratulating the Kemps and others, and we are thanking Commissioner Keller and his crew for the complete eradication of these age old trouble spots; and for the nice road over which normal travel can be assured with safety.

Our annual community Thanksgiving feast was held at the Liberty School house last Tuesday night.

The Clovis Belvin family have moved into the Belvin Ranch headquarters, formerly occupied by Mrs. E. Belvin. Mrs. Belvin has returned to California to resume her work as a Nurse's Aid. She says that she would like to stay in Texas, but that wages here are about half what they are there. She explains that that is understandable, as the hospital charges are about twice as heavy in California as in Texas.

Gomez Strains Muscle Lifting Batting Cage

EDENTON, N. C.—(AP)—Lefty Gomez, manager of the Yankees' Binghamton, N. Y., farm team in the Eastern League, overestimated his strength when he strained himself lifting a batting cage during the team's spring training here.

It was Lefty's first spring camp as a manager and his first since 1944 when the Boston Braves gave him a trial at Wallingford, Conn. Gomez took over as Binghamton manager last July.

They Go To Chair Still Fighting

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Children here are counter-attacking in the battle of the dental chair.

Word leaks out from dental offices that moppets are stalking in for their appointments with their mouths tightly closed.

They nod curtly when the dentist says "Climb into the chair."

When he says "Now open wide" they give him the works—a big bubble of gum that bursts in his face.

Agricultural Climatology Is A New Field

AMES, Iowa.—(AP)—Iowa State College has just turned out its first class of six graduates in a newly established course in agricultural climatology.

R. E. Buchanan, dean of the graduate school, said five of the six graduates stepped into jobs with the U. S. Weather Bureau but he predicted climatological research would become an important field of activity.

The sixth graduate, Jose Memoria of Vicosa, Brazil, will resume his teaching career at the Minas Gerais State College of Agriculture in Brazil.

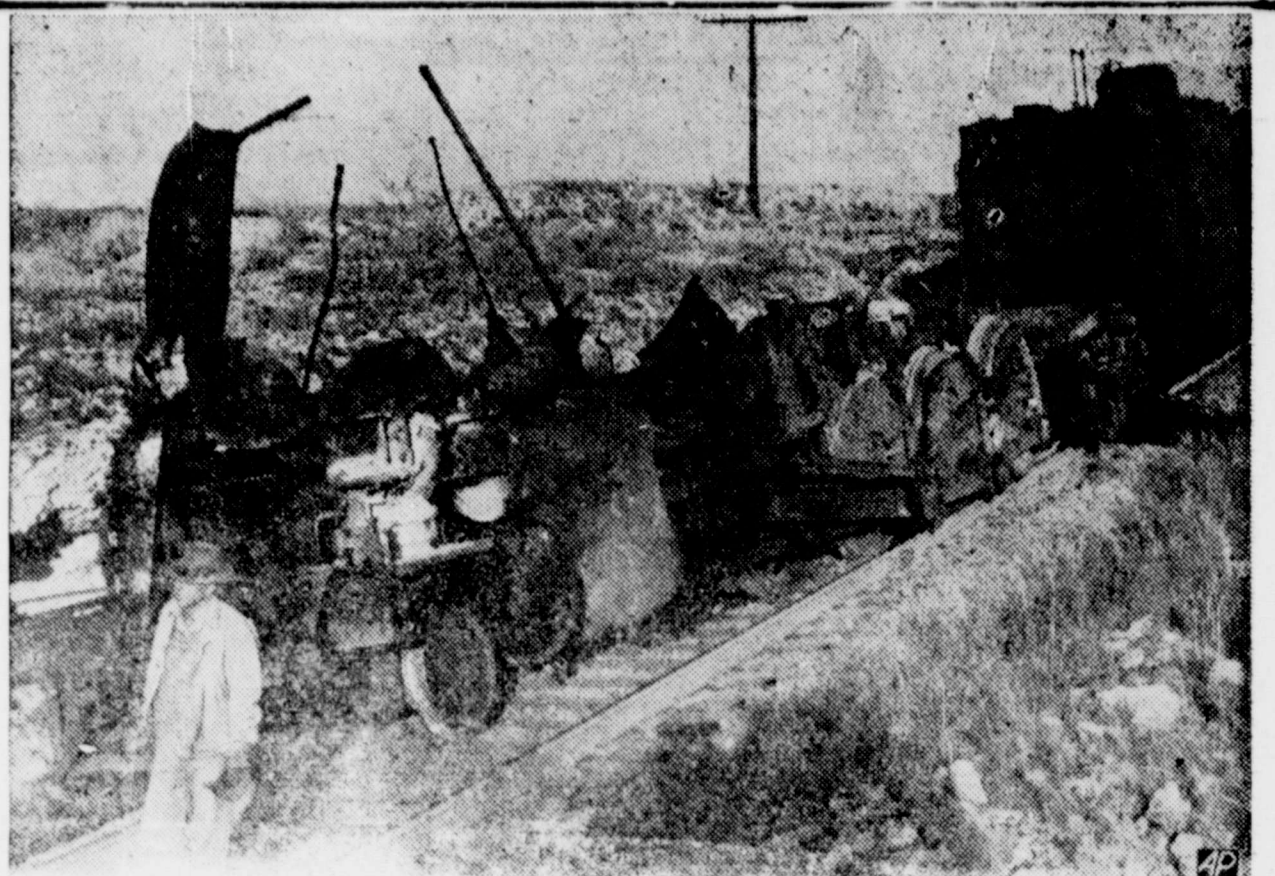

The six students, all of whom were granted master of science degrees at the end of the summer term, were college graduates, had farm background, and all had served as military weather officers during the war.

Dean Buchanan explained that an agricultural climatologist is not a weather forecaster in the usual sense. Instead, he studies all aspects of the weather in a given area to help solve agricultural problems. He advises on planting dates, on erosion control, and on whether a new crop may be suitable for production in a given vicinity.

Agricultural experiment stations, large farm management concerns and food processing companies will have increasing employment opportunities for climatologists in the future, Dean Buchanan predicted.

White families in the United States tend to expend a larger proportion of their incomes on food than do negro families.

Three out of every five fires in the United States are in residential structures. Lighter hardwoods make a hotter and shorter-lasting fire than the heavier hardwoods. Green wood is poor in heat value because it contains moisture.

Gallup Poll: Warmongers All PUBLIC AGREES ON FIRM POLICY TO REDS!

By George Gallup
Director, American Institute
Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 24.—If James V. Forrestal and W. Averill Harriman are "warmongers" in the eyes of Russia's Andrei Vishinsky, then with equal logic the majority of the American people would have to be condemned as warmongers. The general views of these two cabinet members are in accord with the public's own views. But, on the basis of evidence from public opinion surveys, the American people cannot be described as warmongers. There is widespread desire for peace. The public is hopeful that ways can be worked out to get along better with Russia. Despite noisy and mounting tension between the two countries, the American public is not giving way to hysteria, and is showing very little desire to see the United States pull out of the United Nations because of Russia's continued bucking of the majority will. To achieve accord, the American people need to understand the Russians better. By the same token, the Russian leaders and people need to have a sounder grasp of American thinking. Specifically, Stalin, Vishinsky and other Soviet leaders seem to be misreading American public opinion on at least two counts: 1. The Kremlin is misjudging the mood or temper of the American people if it believes that Henry A. Wallace, with his sharp criticism of our foreign policy, represents any considerable bloc of public opinion. 2. Soviet leaders are also misinformed if they suppose that there is any serious cleavage between the public's views on Russia and the State Department's current so called "tough" policy toward Russia. Attempts at driving a wedge between the American people and the government as far as Russia is concerned do not at present hold out much promise of success. In fact, the mood of the public today is one favoring an even tougher policy toward the Soviets than the State Department is following.

What are the reasons for this attitude, The American people have a list of specific grievances, real or fancied, against Russia which will be given in detail in a forthcoming report by the institute. But aside from specific criticisms, one underlying fact which colors American attitudes toward the Soviets is a deep-seated fear of the consequences of appeasement. Many Americans feel that Uncle Sam got his fingers burned by giving in to Hitler in the years prior to 1939. The memory of what happened and the realization that giving in did not make for peace has produced a sharp reaction in the American public mind. The majority of voters now believe that peace is more likely to be maintained if we make clear to the world just what our position is and where we will make our stand. The extent to which the people back up the government in its present foreign policy is shown in a series of polls by the Institute covering various aspects of the situation, as follows: "Do you think that in dealing with Russia and other countries the United States is insisting too much on having its own way?"

The vote:

Yes	12%
No	78
No opinion	10

Do you think the United States is being too soft or too tough in its policy toward Russia?

Too soft	62%
Too tough	6
About right	24
No opinion	8

"Do you think Secretary of State Marshall has been doing a good or poor job in handling our relations with Russia?"

Good	63%
Fair	20
Poor	2
No opinion	15

It seems clear that Henry Wallace and others who have been critical of our foreign policy are speaking only for a minority. In Wallace's case, poll figures are available on his personal popularity as a political figure. In June it was found that if Wallace were to start a new political party only about one voter in 10 (13%) said he would support such a party.

November 28, 1947.
DEAR FRIENDS:

While both Houses are holding regular sessions and are listening to a multitude of suggestions as to how to save Europe, how to elect Senator Taft, how to control prices, how to make political capital out of what the President does or does not do, the actual work of Congress is being done in the Committees.

My Committee does not have any direct control over or responsibility for the shaping of either the European relief program or the fight on domestic inflation. I feel that this is unfortunate, as surely agricultural production and agricultural prosperity are basic factors in any program either of aid to Europe or of domestic price stabilization.

Our Committee does begin hearings Monday on the crisis precipitated by the abandonment of the slaughter program for the eradication of the foot and mouth disease in Mexico. As far as we have been able to learn so far, the Mexican government has felt that it could no longer resist the pressure of its own people to stop this program. This is not surprising. On the whole the Mexican people are not nearly as well informed as the American people. They are even more dependent on their oxen and their milch cows. It is doubtful if we could kill off all of our livestock in a vast area without violent objections from our people. I fear that this decision is going to mean that foot and mouth disease is in Mexico from now on, and that means that we are going to have to maintain a permanent guard against Mexican livestock. Even so we will face the definite possibility of repeated outbreaks in the US.

In Central Texas we are just now feeling the effect of the pink bollworm which came in from Mexico just as the foot and mouth disease is now threatening. The big difference is that we have learned how to at least control pink bollworm, and to actually increase our cotton yield while doing it. By "cleaning up" early, the cotton farmers of South Texas have found that they go a long way toward controlling many other insects as well as the pink bollworms. I hope that the farmers of Coryell County will have a similar experience. Unfortunately we know of no beneficial by-products of a campaign to stamp out foot and mouth disease, but if it is not stamped out it will doubtless almost completely destroy our livestock industry for years to come. It holds a terrible threat not only over cowman and the dairy man, but over every consumer in this country. It is simply impossible to visualize the effects that such a catastrophe have, not only on the cost of living but also on the actual nutrition standard of our people. Meat would become a luxury only the rich could afford, and even worse, milk would not be available to supply the needs of our children. Frankly, we MUST protect our country from this scourge even if it means stopping all trade with Mexico. The Mexican people have already paid a terrible price for the selfishness of those insolent individuals who thought they could grow rich by breaking the treaty obligations of their country not to import stock from infected countries. The selfishness of Americans could easily bring the same kind of curse on our own land. We need the cooperation of every American citizen in keeping this scourge out of our herds on this side of the Rio Grande.

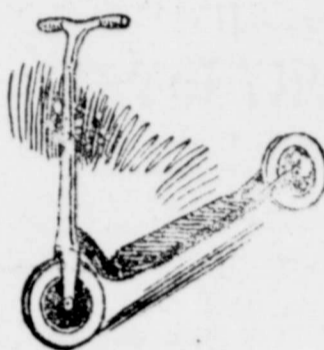

I have just today seen the latest figures of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. They are most interesting. These days we hear a great deal about how much the price of farm products has advanced in the past three or four years. The implication is that fared better than other sections of our society. The fact is that farmers were held back to a low level of income longer than any other group. If we look back to the 1909-1914 period, which has long been accepted as the normal or "base" period, we find that while prices received by farmers in October were 289% of the base period, farm wages were up to 416% and weekly farm earnings were 436% of their base level. At that time the retail price of food was 253% of its 1909-1914 average. Actually the American people are today eating more per person and doing it for a smaller per cent of their income than they were in 1909-1914. It is true that the farmer is making more money than ever before, but so are all other groups. The farmer is still getting substantially less than other groups for his work. If he were not, we would see a great migration from the steel mills, the coal mines, and the automobile factories to the farm. Actually the movement is still the other way, and I think it is time for those who complain about the farmer's income to change places with him or quit criticizing. After all the farmer is entitled to a fair share of national income.
