

Well, they still come in—names, we mean, and some from some mean old boys who are ashamed to even write their names, so why would we. Looks more like a "blackmail" note from yellow dogs, so we mention it not more. There's people like that, anywhere, and of course, Coryell County's no exception. They're things we can easily do without.

But, for the nice, self-respecting people, here's a few more suggestions: "I came, I saw, I Conquered", Mrs. Bill Young; "All Seeing I", Mrs. Vernon Powell; "Mat Says", Mrs. Blanche Powell.

Looks like there's going to be some wet and drowned calves in the Livestock Show, which is scheduled for Wednesday of this week. Anyway, it'll be a good test of how the boys can manage, and how the spectators can "take it" too when they have a chance to see what the boys have done.

Have a care for your..... There's ice around, that's not up-holstered. Already, meager reports are, there are a number of "fallees", and those we've heard of include Mrs. Newton Tucker, Tom Freeman, Happy Lee, and D. C. Huckabee, real estate man got the worst end of it, when he cracked an arm early Monday morning maneuvering around on the north side of Main street, 700 block.

Cars are in ditches, in fences, and posts, and everything's slicker than.....! So, yo'ud better take it easy or you'll take it easier in bed, or hospital. This'ns rough, and getting rougher.

A farmer, Osro, they callded his, was talkin' about the $1, the other day. Said it was only 29c, which got us thinking. We've wondered what went with ours, and that's just about where they all went, and more. And then, we thought about that terrific new price we had on the NEWS now, $2. We'l, at the 29c rate, $2 wouldn't be even now but 59c a year, and that'd be only 8c over the rate the NEWS was sold for away back when you could get all the liver you wanted for a dime(53c a pound last we saw), and other prices in comparison. Ye Olde Dollar just don't go nowhere now!

Cold weather's not good on printers either, ink, rollers, folder, press, fingers—nothing works correctly. We're waiting for the warm zephyrs!

standard we are careful to maintain. Whatever the size of your job, we get it out on or ahead of schedule.

Juvenile Code Group Makes Visit To Gatesville School

By Dave Creavens
Associated Press Cor.

Six members of the juvenile code commission Friday paid a pop visit to the state training school for boys and came away convinced they had only scratched the surface in beginning their firsthand study of its needs.

The inspection was the first of three such unheralded inspections of the states youth correctional institutions decided upon by the commission at its last meeting in Austin.

Similar trips will be made to the Gainesville training school girls, and the training school for delinquent negro girls at Brady.

Members of the commission individually said they were much impressed with the institutions physical facilities. Their first impression was that one of the most obvious needs was for a more adequate vocational instruction set up and for more complete individual studies of the delinquent juveniles sent here by Texas courts.

These were admittedly first impressions and the members of the commission who trudged for hours through dormitories, workshops, school rooms, dining halls and the hospital were unwilling to go on record formally with any statement of findings pending a more thorough inspection.

They talked with administrators, teachers, attendants and inmates; studied case histories and ate lunch in the employees' dining hall where the menu was pork backbone, cole slaw, mashed potatoes, coffee or milk, and mince pie. Inmates ate the same meal in an adjoining room, except they had deep dish fruit pie instead of mince pie for dessert.

Here are some of the things members of the commission observed or were told:

That 95 percent of the inmates come from broken homes and 90 percent were declared delinquent for burglary or car theft. Many individuals interviewed were several times repeaters.

The dormitories are big and bare but clean and apparently only dimly lighted at night—too dimly for reading. Toilet and bathing facilities are limited. One dormitory with 40 beds had three showers, two commodes, one urinal, one long wash basin. The beds were clean, each with one sheet, a pillow and three wool blankets.

The boys like to read comic books and picture magazines. Library facilities for recreational reading are almost nonexistent. In one dormitory there was one copy of Look, three Readers Digests, 30 bibles, four comic magazines.

The boys get up at 6 a. m., eat breakfast at 6:30, go to school half a day and work half a day. They finish the night meal at 6:45 p. m. They can read, play games or listen to the radio in the recreation rooms until 8, when they go to bed.

There's practically no formal formal psychological or aptitude testing of inmates on admission.

PEARL GIRLS BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT WILL BE THE ALL-COUNTY AFFAIR 10-11-13-14

At a meeting Saturday, Martin D. Clary, acting as temporary chairman, called the Girls Basketball Coaches meeting together, and voted to have the County Girl's Basket Ball Tournament at Pearl.

The decision was for a double elimination play off, using four nights, February 10, 11, 13 and 14, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights, games begin at 7:30 and ending when completed. Teams will be allowed a 20 minute warm-up period from the final whistle for a previous game.

SHARE EXPENSE VISIT

A man and his wife went to Chicago, accompanied by a well-behaved bachelor who had suggested the brief vacation.

They visited several of the better restaurants, stage shows, and night clubs during the two-days' visit. As each check came along the man closest to the waiter paid without making notations.

When they got home and counted up the total cost, the husband was prepared to pay two-thirds but the bachelor would have none of it. He suggested a fifty-fifty split since, he said, the husband stood the overhead and carrying charges of the lady at home,

Two cups will be awarded, the winner and the runner-up, and the officials judgment will be used for the all-county selections and six gold basket balls will be awarded to these. Admission will be 25c and 35c for each night. At least two of the officials will be from out of the county, are Juel of Clifton, Gilmore of Waco and Henderson of Waco.

Drawings for the play will show Jonesboro-Oglesby, Turnersville-Gatesville, and Pearl draws a bye, playing the winner of the Turnersville-Gatesville game.

From here it will follow the double elimination schedule.

This seemed logical, though novel, idea and so the husband accepted.

James O. Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bates has been discharged from the service and is home. He was last stationed in Japan.

Just when does an advance toward a lady become improper? It seems to vary.

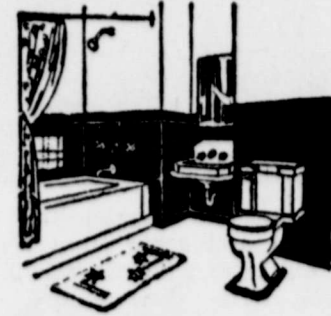

A new wallpaper, not yet available for home use, is said to be so durable that paint can be washed from it with turpentine without injuring the paper or colors in it.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Burdette are here visiting their parents, and will move to Austin shortly.

Dave Cheavens, Chief of the Associated Press Bureau of Austin, was in Gatesville Friday, covering the inspection of the Gatesville State School for Boys by the committee appointed by Governor Beauford H. Jester, and including S. L. (Sy) Bellamy.

TALK:

DEAR JUDY:

New York is just one of the cities facing the problem of the out-after-dark teenager, who roams the streets looking for excitement. So one city councilman, Samuel Di Falco, decided to grasp the problem by its pigtailed and open warfare against some of the kids "who make it bad for the others"

Out of the blue came his resolution, proposed to City Council, to impose a curfew on all teenagers found unchaperoned in the Broadway theatrical district after 11 p. m. By teen-agers, Mr. Di Falco says he means those 16 years of age and younger.

However, Mr. Di Falco wants all ten-agers in the country to know that he is not against kids having fun—what he is doing, he says, "is something they will appreciate when they are grown up and are parents of children who may prove a constant source of concern to them." He adds:

"Youngsters have no business roaming streets after 10 o'clock. They should be home in bed resting and studying for school the next day. If they knew the dangers involved in strolling on a busy thoroughfare like Broadway or bright lighted districts in other cities, they would be glad to accept the advice"

Father of two children aged 3 and 9, Mr. Di Falco says he was aroused to action by unpleasant happenings to unwary youngsters in search of excitement. He says:

"In one instance groups of teenagers were found in a room smoking marijuana just for a thrill. There have been hundreds of other unpleasant incidents of teenagers being harmed by picking up with strangers who made them false promises with fancy jobs in the offing."

When he was a boy, Mr. Di Falco says there wasn't any body-soxers. Kids were more restricted in their activities. Today's parent, he says, is more liberal. Not that he blames the parents. They don't want to be classed as old fogeys when Johnnie or Mary say they would like to go to the theatre, visit a school chum or go to a dance.

But what happens is that Johnnie and Mary more often may decide to go to the theatre district to seek autographs of stage personalities, and often are induced, with little persuasion, to go to night clubs with strangers. Naturally says Mr. Di Falco, a kid who has never been to a night club will be a willing victim and accept the invitation.

Mr. Di Falco believes that if parents will take their children to places of amusement occasionally, their curiosity will be appeased. He says every teen-ager should be taken to a night club by parents, at least once, just to hurdle the problem...but the parents should censor the type of show the club offers before inviting their offspring to see it. He adds:

"There are plenty of decent shows on Broadway, or on Main Street in other cities and towns, to satisfy youngsters. Kids aren't bad when parents show the right attitude. Some of them just grow up before their mothers and fathers realize it. They want to see what is going on in the world they read so much about."

Mr. Di Falco expects that when his proposal is passed, and he doesn't see "how the City Affairs Committee could object to it," the police department will enforce the curfew by questioning unchaperoned youngsters.

SAFETY DRIVING

—By—

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

What is your T. L. Q?

Your traffic law quotient, that is. Do you know the laws that help protect you from an automobile accident?

To familiarize the public with traffic laws and the necessity for obeying them, The Texas Department of Public Safety is co-operating in a nationwide "Learn and Obey Traffic Laws" program during February

"In almost every accident, one or more drivers were violating some traffic law," said Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director. "Better voluntary observance of traffic laws would save a lot of lives"

One of the most common causes of accident is driving in the wrong lane, according to W. J. Elliott, Chief of the Texas Highway Patrol Division. He pointed out that National Safety Council statistics show driving on the wrong side of the road to be the second most frequent violation reported in traffic mishaps.

Keep right and you'll be left—to drive another day, he said, and listed these rules:

1. Drive to the right of the centerline. On three-lane roads, never drive in the far left lane, and on four-lane roads, never drive to the left of the center.
2. Drive to the left on a two-

THE CORYELL COUNTY NEWS, Gatesville, Texas, January 27, 1948

lane road, in the center lane on a three-lane road, or in the lane next to the center on a four-lane road only to overtake and pass a slower moving vehicle, and then only when you are sure that everything is clear.

The new Uniform Act regulating traffic requires that all movements must be made "in safety". All drivers are therefore required by law to be alert at all times.

The state has appropriated funds for a psychologist, but none has been found who would work for the salary offered. All testing is done by one sociologist.

There are now 385 inmates: 128 Anglo-Americans, 13 Latin-Americans, 114 negroes, segregated.

There are apparently ample shop facilities for trade training but most of the machinery was idle and very few boys were in the classes at the time of the inspection. Administrators said vocational teachers are hard to find at salaries available.

An organized recreation program is beginning to take shape and is very popular, especially basketball.

There were eight boys in the

Those details touch on only a few of the highlights.

Supt. Ed. Blair was absent when the commission arrived and the tour was under the direction of J. T. Shults, sociologist. Making the inspection were Chairman Leslie Jackson of the commission, Holford Russell of Denton, S. L. Bellamy and the Rev. Walker Kerr of Austin, Miss Rebecca Townsend of Lufkin, Dr. W. J. Elkins of San Angelo.

The commission was authorized by the 50th legislature to make a full study of juvenile delinquency and what Texas is doing to correct it, and report back to the next session.

Just Communism, Again

Things have not been going well in France and Italy. Press reports speak increasingly of Communist-inspired rioting. These riots, in which people are being killed and many injured, are in perfect keeping with the well known methods of the Communists. They work with peaceful ways until they think they are strong enough to win with violence—showing their real colors.

When I visited Communist headquarters in Paris last year, it was clear from their own talk that they were building upon hate. Events that have come to pass therefore are not surprising. Where the individual is not respected, violence may be expected. Most of the hatred, destruction, and chaos still stalking the earth may be laid at the door of those bitter and false philosophers who have denied human rights and liberties!

Misuse of Labor

Of such is Communism, both in theory and in action. In the recent French elections, when the de Gaulists (anti-Communists) gained ground, the French Communists were ready to go into action. They had gone as far as they could by peaceful action, so the Communists used violence to take the great port city of Marseille. American and British flags, hanging in Armistice celebrations were torn from the city hall. Confusion was rampant.

Communist-led unions in other cities began to go out on strike, to add to the confusion. Coal miners and auto workers struck. The Communists have called for "committees of defense," to resist the peaceful election victory of the followers of de Gaulle. France continues to call up soldiers, participating continued trouble. Civil war could develop.

It is noteworthy that French Communists hold labor captive. So powerful is the Communist-led Trade Union Central committee, that apparently whenever it says so, a general strike is begun. It is a pity that, as desperately as France needs peace and production, its workers are misled into contributing to the political chaos. In Italy, the Communists also failed to win an election and adopted methods of violence in an attempt to start a civil war.

What Agitators Want

These things are not surprising. They are just the ordinary, well-established tactics of the Communists. But to Americans, these events must serve as warning. If we want to preserve peace, harmony, and prosperity, we should keep our own people well-informed. When Americans see through these tactics with understanding, it will be impossible for us to have enough Communists and "fellow travelers" to create such violence in America.

We should pay attention to trends, lest we give our Communist agitators the assistance they want: 1. Regulations on industry that would limit production and add to shortages of goods. 2. High taxes of a nature that limit capital flowing into tools of production, to make it appear the government should produce goods. 3. Industrial confusion, creating misunderstanding and suspicion between workers and employers. The agitators just love those things!

building contains wash and judging arenas; office and second floor dormitory with bunk beds and hot water are provided for the convenience of exhibitors and roofed exercise arenas covered passages between all provide maximum protection from weather conditions. Horses will be stabled in the enlarged and remodeled horse barn immediately behind and connecting with the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, where the horses will be judged on the halter during the morning and exercised. Performance classes will be interspersed among the three-hour rodeos at 2:00 and 8:00 daily.

Verne Elliott, Plattville, Colo., will produce the world's oldest indoor rodeo in 1948. This exciting contest between men and outlaw animals provides exciting entertainment for the capacity 7,200 who will fill the coliseum at every performance annually. Professional and non-professional cowboys who work the Fort Worth show are competing for the highest pre-event money offered anywhere in the United States, with the exception of Madison Square Garden, totaling a purse of $28,500 for the 10-day show.

Other amusement features include 14 performances of "Helzapoppin" in the auditorium, starring Olson and Johnson, and "Screamline Revue" in Pioneer Palace, famous old night-club on the show grounds open for dining and dancing during the show.

employees, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employees.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employees than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employees represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

Fred Chamlee Speaker
At Lions Wednesday
Luncheon

Note: Here is the prepared speech for the luncheon, which Fuzzy deviated from in part, but in the main, it is what he said, even though in other words.

My friends, I want to thank your program committee for the opportunity allowed me here today. I am taking this method of trying to lay before the people what I call a correction of the Atomic Theory.

Last spring a fisherman went into a grocery store and called for some coffee. The grocer said, "How do you want it ground?" "Oh, about right to fit a gallon bucket." "I see what you mean". The grocer was a fisherman, too.

I would draw a comparison between myself and the fisherman. Probably he was uneducated and did not know one grind of coffee from another, but he got his meaning over. My purpose here is to try to contact an understanding mind that is in a position to take the scientific knowledge I have developed and carry it to completion. I will never have the time and the money to do so.

Ladies and Gentlemen: The Atomic scientists maintain that the whole universe is composed of one thing—electricity. They claim that matter, regardless of its shape or condition of existence, is condensed energy. Einstein's law measures the claimed energy of matter by its mass—the heavier the matter the more energy. That's one reason they picked uranium to make the atomic bomb. Uranium is one of the heaviest known elements.

Ladies and Gentlemen: The Atomic scientists are wrong! Matter CONTAINS no energy whatsoever! (pause.)

I would not even intimate, much less state to you that I am smarter than Einstein or Lize Meitner, who first performed what is called 'cracking the atom'. Nor even smarter than the least of the nuclear physicists. No, please, no! I have only had a small glimpse of that great light which may be called truth. I know my limitations.

Ladies and Gentlemen: The Atomic bomb was what I would call a semi-accident. Here is why. The scientists who developed it did not call their shots. If you will get the newspaper files for the next few months after Hiroshima and Nagasaki, you will find scientists' statements of amazement at the extent of damage wrought by the bombs. Furthermore, if you will get the files before Bikini, you will find grave warnings of what an underwater bomb might do. Possibly disintegrate the earth in a chain reaction detonation. Another prediction was a tidal wave that would reach our west coast with possibly great damage.

Get, too, the files after Bikini. You will find the scientists disappointed in about as great a degree as they were astounded at Hiroshima. An admiral observer went home with this statement: "As a weapon of naval warfare, the A-bomb is a failure."

These two are not the only shots they missed calling.

After the war was over—and before—they flooded the country with predictions of a vast new economic progress which would come from the release of atomic energy. They promised Near Utopia, economically, in five years. After about two years they raised the time to 10 years. Ladies and Gentlemen: They might as well raise the time to eternity, because there is no such thing as atomic energy. The reservoir of energy is not in matter. The atomic is a pie of failure. They might as well dump it in the scrap pile.

But there is one great service the atomic pile can perform. That is, it should open the scientists' eyes to the fact that there is something wrong with their reasoning. It should cause them to
