

Lot of column names or suggestions 'ook to us like somebody's taking a poke at us, and, that's O. K. by us. We're not worried what they're calling us—only, when they stop calling us.

Nobody else but the late William Allen White, and he's supposed to be the country's foremost "Hicktown-editor", said in so many words: It's not your friends in this business that helps; it's your enemies. He might have been right.

And, back to the suggestions, Curt Rogers says "Bungle Brains" and Mrs. J. S. Floyd of Alice (sister) says: "Mat Chat"; Madam Rose, or, Mrs. J. F. Colvin, says: "Mat's New Look Column", and, after all, we've hit on one that looks pretty good: "Your Red Wagon". Why? Well, listen to this current popular song, or hear the record.

"We wuz robbed". That belongs to the fistic fraternity, but, in our opinion, it's awfully good English, especially, when we think of the 5,000 perfectly good Coryell County acres that are going into making up the 17,483.37 acres out of this and McLennan county that A&M College's getting at a 100% cash discount sale. Do you know, in many ways, that's going to push your taxes up! 5,000 acres the county gets nothing on, which moves the tax over on your property. Also, it's going to take a heck of a lot of directors, flunkies, head men, henchmen, etc., to handle this 17,000 plus acres plus a lot of other expenditures, equipment, cars, etc., all at a "payment to be made thru public service over a period of 25 years. It's theirs, title and all, then. Wow, can we take it! There's about a dozen more like this, they're after too.

Well, to more pleasing subjects—the weather. Yep, it's bad, but the snow isn't yet a foot thick, and you know, it has been, and here. About '30. But, that isn't saying anyone likes it. Might break, but we've got so we don't believe radio reports—on the weather—any more.

Well, the Junior Stock Show is history—yesterday. A total of NINETEEN animals were shown. It musta been the bad weather! That's an awful showing, tho, as many 4-H and FFA Boys as there are in the county. Looks like one of these shows sometime ought to get up to around a couple of humndred something or other.

If you've got a pet rave, write in, sign your name and you can be "guest columnist".

NEWS WORKS, "WAY OUT YON- DER" Some Results

We've always thought the NEWS worked from Coast to Coast and Border to Border. Know it now!

Yep, ran one of those patterns in the NEWS recently, and got an order from Coos Bay, Oregon, for one, and it came from Mrs. John D. Hobin, South Coos River, Coos Bay, Oregon, and she wants Pattern 9126, size 12.

Coos Bay, is too, familiar. Once, before the war, we bought a barometer there, it was done up especially for tourists in some kind of special wood they have. It was really nice, and we still have it.

Just never can tell when folks will answer an advertisement in the "good old County News".

Coryell County Loses 5,000 Acres In This 100% "Sale"!

Delivery of the deed to 17,483.37 acres of rich farm land in McLennan and Coryell counties with buildings and equipment from the wartime Bluebonnet Ordnance Plant to the A&M College of Texas will be made in a ceremony at McGregor, at 1:30 p. m., today. Col. Karl E. Wallace, Dallas, new regional administrator of the War Assets Administration will present the deed for the $2,000,000 properties to G. R. White, Brady, president of the Texas A&M board of directors, as the highlight of ceremonies on the stage of the Ritz theatre.

Congressman W. W. Poage of Waco will make the principal address of the occasion, Col. Wallace the presentation speech, and President Gibb Gilchrist of A&M will speak on "The Future of Bluebonnet Farm". President Gilchrist will be introduced by Hon. Pat Neff of Waco.

The ceremony marks conclusion of over two years of negotiations, initiated by citizens of McGregor, home of the Bluebonnet plant, in which the college was assisted by civic groups throughout central Texas. The property is being sold to the College by the government at 100% cash discount, payment to be made through public service over a period of 25-years.

Officially named "Texas A & M College's Bluebonnet Farm", the huge project is to be operated as an agricultural experiment and demonstration station under the direction of the head of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, agricultural research division of Texas A & M College. Including a wide variety of soils and terrains, it will be divided into a number of plots devoted to experimental crops, farming methods, research and demonstration, livestock breeding and management and mass production of new seed stocks developed by experiment stations throughout the southwest.

Even too cold to be mean, much mean.

Three GSSB boys did get out, and were promptly picked up by officers near Ernest McCorkle's implement shed.

Dr. J. H. Hamilton lost his car briefly Monday night and it was found about 4 miles west on US 84, abandoned. Dr. K. R. Jones' car was rifled that same night, and they got a flash light.

Somebody was seen in the car driven by William Z. Rozan and his Concert personnel, including Gabor Careli, Tomiko Kanasawa and Aaron Leifer.

Only One Office Open In Court House: Tax Assessor-Collector's

It was all quiet in the court house, part of Thursday and all of Wednesday—no gas, not even the legal kind, or the lethal kind, either.

They did allow the County Financial Office to operate—where you pay your taxes—but the others, they just took off. Incidentally, they were "paying" and at the last count 2,762 had paid their Poll Taxes, and others.

Also, we hear, the tailor shops were shut down one day this week and there has been no school since Monday and there might have been other shut downs too, many wanted to, as they were only wasting gas, payroll, overhead, etc "OLD MAN WINTER UNFAIR TO HUMAN BEINGS!"

Morris Federation Hears
Judge R. B. Cross
At Laird's Saturday

Mrs. J. W. Laird, Miss Ruth Martin and Mrs. Sherrill Kendrick were hostesses at the January meeting of the Morris Federation at the Laird residence last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Martin greeted the arriving guests at the door and ushered them into the spacious living room where huge logs burned brightly in the fireplace, adding warmth and cheer.

Mrs. W. C. Bradley, the president, presided during a short business session, after which Mrs. Laird, in a very gracious manner introduced the guest speaker, Judge R. B. Cross, who eloquently spoke on "Women and The Law".

During the social hour that followed, the guests were directed to a beautiful lace laid table, centered with an artistic arrangement of cut flowers and lace fern from which Mrs. Kendrick poured hot punch and Mrs. Floyd E. Johnson served cherry-nut salad on lettuce leaf, ribbon sandwiches and mints completed the refreshment plate.

Besides members of the Club and the guest speaker, the following were present: Mrs. Bates Cross, Mrs. H. Henderson, Miss Kathryn Martin, Mrs. C. A. Morton and Mrs. Wm. Culbert.

Your Fuel Supply

A WORD FROM LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

You have read, perhaps, newspaper stories and listened to radio newscasts about this winter's "fuel shortage." The government is recommending rationing and restriction of use for some areas.

Because of these circumstances those of you who depend on Lone Star for either Butane or Natural Gas pipe line service probably would like some reassurance about your own fuel situation.

There is no shortage as far as Lone Star customers are concerned. Lone Star has plenty of natural gas and butane to serve all homes now depending on it.

Lone Star Natural Gas System is fortunately located in that most of its sources of supply in 75 different gas fields form somewhat of a circle around the area served. The transportation system is designed to take advantage of this fact with pipelines criss-crossing the area so gas can be routed from at least two different directions to most communities.

Like its natural gas service, Butane service of Lone Star is experiencing a tremendous demand. Our Butane facilities have been expanded many times. ties have been expanded. In this expansion we have been careful not to take on new customers faster than we could provide the facilities for serving them.

Therefore, all Lone Star's Butane customers are being adequately served.

We expect to handle, barring pipeline breaks or washout by floods, the fuel needs of homes on Lone Star system, no matter how cold the weather. Should there be any instances of low pressure areas they will be extremely isolated and result from unusual shortages of material over which we have no control.

Homes have first call on Lone Star Service. On extreme days, as in past years, it may be necessary to discontinue service to large industrial users so all our vast pipeline capacity may be used for supplying fuel to homes. Industries contract for service with this understanding. We sincerely appreciate their cooperation.

Lone Star is in midst of vast expansion and improvement program for the thousands of new customers that are being added each year. $40 million are being invested in new facilities. Last year, the first of this program, 100 major projects were completed over the system. They greatly strengthened Lone Star service for the benefit of over 400,000 homes.

OBITUARY

LOYD ELAINE BIRD

Lloyd Elaine Bird, 1, died January 22, 1948 at 5:30 p. m. at the Coryell Memorial Hospital. Her home was Evant. She was born February 15, 1947, and her father was Lloyd C. Bird, formerly of Dallas, and her mother was Juanita Beasley of Coryell County.

Services were held January 24, 1948 at Restland Cemetery, with Rev. W. C. Terrell conducting the services, Scott's in charge.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. L. C. Bird of Evant, and the father, Lloyd C. Bird; a brother, Franklin Douglas Bird; two sisters, Patsy Ruth and Lovena Olivia. Also her grandparents, Jodie N. Beasley of Evant, Frank Bird, Greenwood, Mrs. Ruth McKinnon, Ripple Creek.

For All the People

America, we sometimes say, is made up of Fords and Frigidaires, Kodaks and Coca-Cola. We like brands and trade-marks. We respect the successful products of industry, and have confidence in them. We're even likely to take these things for granted, without knowing the how or why behind them. America is the only land where initiative, enterprise, and competition have been allowed to work for the good of all the people.

Yet, to view our industry as comprising a few great names and trade-marks only, is to have a confused and off-balance picture. To think that manufacturers of goods we all like to buy—automobiles, for instance—are the "great monopoly" is to fail to see how big and how productive the nation really is. Neither General Motors, nor any of the others, could get by without their hundreds of helper factories that make everything from cotter-pins to hub-caps.

Where the Supplies

These helper factories are in turn supplied with parts and materials by hundreds of other firms. A supply line may even go back to a simple "alley shop," where three or four men grind or polish a part. Or take a town like Worcester, Mass. The total wage bill there for workers in plants supplying the automotive industry was almost $40,000,000 in 1946. That's a good sized payroll.

Or take the whole parts industry, of which there are more than 1,000 companies, with plants spread all over America. Most of these parts producers are small businesses, employing less than 500 workers each. Usually their origin may be traced to fertile minds that invented and patented an idea for improving automobiles. Many newcomers are still getting into the parts and equipment field. Under the American system, this is possible.

Each Has a Part

Mistaken in their complaint about monopolies, in the next breath some folks berate the "machine age" for not offering the worker a chance to take pride in his work. Just putting in cotter-pins all day in the same old assembly-line position, they say, is poor substitute for craftsmanship. Right here, I want to go on record as praising the free and responsible American who put the cotter-pins firmly and safely in the chassis of my automobile! He did a good job.

I'll give the average American worker the praise that is his due. He has the intelligence to see his place in our method of mass production of goods for the use of everybody. Not so long ago, war workers were being told they were "right behind the man behind the gun." Indeed, the lowliest assembly-line worker or file-clerk is a part of peace-time production. And it is this production that makes America the best land in the world in which to live.

Yes, hundreds and sometimes thousands of suppliers and fabricators are the craftsmen behind the automobiles we drive, the radios we hear. As workers in a free America, we can never overlook the importance of the place we have behind the name tags on the products of our skill. As we work, and to the extent that we understand and depend upon that system, so shall we succeed in preserving American ways and liberties.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Rev. Clarence A. Morton, Pastor

Sunday School meets at 9:45 Sunday with the morning preaching hour at 10:50. The pastor, Rev. Clarence A. Morton, preaches at both hours Sunday. The Training Union hour is 6:00 with the evening preaching at 7. Prayer Meeting is Wednesday night at 7:30. A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us.

The weather permitting, all departments of the church will resume their regular meetings. The Woman's Missionary Union with all of its auxiliaries will meet at the church Tuesday afternoon.

The Brotherhood Banquet that was scheduled for last Tuesday was postponed because of the severe weather. A date will be set for this in the near future when all of the men of the church may meet together for fellowship.

The Youth Fellowship on Sunday night after the evening preaching service was off to a good start last Sunday with 33 young people present. Miss Frances Reesing, Youth Director, the hosts and hostesses, and all the young people reported a fine time. The young people are urged to attend the evening services and remain for this special feature of the church work.

Next unday is Loyalty Day in the church, and it is hoped that every member of the church shall be present for at least one service if it is at all possible. "Come with us and we will do thee good".

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

Wage-Hour Fixing

Thurman Sensing, who directs research for the Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, Tenn., is a man who speaks with wisdom. Sometime ago Mr. Sensing released comments on our wage and hour law, in which he predicted there would be continued agitation to fix minimum wages at high figures. I think it is true, as Mr. Sensing suggests, that few people understand the implications of wage and hour fixing by the government.

Says Mr. Sensing: "The whole system of democracy is directly opposed to any sort of planned economy. . . . Deny it though we may the fixing of wages by legislative action can be regarded as nothing else than part and parcel of planned economy. If the government is allowed to assume the power to fix minimum wages and maximum hours, there is nothing to keep the government from reversing this process and fixing maximum wages and minimum hours." With that, democracy flies completely out the window, Mr. Sensing declares.

Real Guarantee

Everybody, he says, should have a living wage — or more — if he earns it. "But no one who believes in democracy will argue that a person should have a certain wage whether he earns it or not. Productivity comes first, not wages. The only real guarantee behind a wage in a democracy is the productivity of the person who receives the wage."

These words are so logical and the reasoning so plain that I would like to continue with Mr. Sensing's comments. Suppose an employer couldn't pay the minimum wage: set up, and had to close down. There are two choices for the government; "either the business must be taken over . . . and workers paid without any reference to the earnings of the business; or the workers go on relief and are issued a dole at the expense of the general public."

False Promises

The first would be state socialism which the people of America would never endorse willingly or knowingly. "Socialism never has and never will bring the people a strong government and a high standard of living." Mr. Sensing cites state socialism in England: "Promising them greater production, it has brought decreased production; promising them a higher standard of living, it has brought them a lower standard of living; promising them happiness, it has brought them misery."

Whence Prosperity?

The other alternative, says Mr. Sensing, would bring a great body of unemployed. "They are unemployed simply because the laws of the land have made it unprofitable for them to be employed. . . . They are living off the enterprise and productivity of the rest of the people. Their incentive is dulled, their energy is stifled, their initiative is warped. They are drones in a free society." When the drones are too numerous to be supported by the workers, Mr. Sensing continues, the government takes over and the society is no longer free.

"If minimum wages fixed by the law are to make us prosperous, we might as well set the figure at one dollar per hour or two dollars per hour or five dollars per hour. . . . In a democracy the requirement must always be that the individual shall earn his wage, whether it be ten cents per hour or ten dollars per hour; moreover, that it shall be fixed by free enterprise in a competitive economy. Our whole history has shown this to be the road to prosperity."

DEAR FRIENDS:

Most of the past week has been devoted, on the floor of the House to the consideration of a revision of the reclamation and irrigation laws. No one seems to be satisfied with the situation as it exists today, but it seemed equally impossible to reach any agreement as to the terms of a new basic law.

Our Agricultural Committee continued to hear witnesses who wanted to offer their suggestions as to a new and permanent agricultural program. We had that we had completed our hearings yesterday, but we are not advised that the Farm Bureau desires to make additional suggestions next week. We will hear them and then try to come to some agreement as to the provisions of a new program. I think it is of great importance that we reach an agreement because if we allow our existing program to expire on December 31, 1948 as most of it does unless we act, it may be impossible to get public approval for any kind of agriculture price support. The American people are being led to believe that farmers are over-charging them. This is not true. Our people, as a whole, are still paying a smaller part of their income for food than our grandfathers did. Even with present prices the farmer gets a very small part of what the house wife pays in the grocery store. The trouble is that all of the people who do get large cuts of the retail price are trying to get the public to blame the farmer rather than to blame them. I fear they may be successful. That is why I repeat this subject so often.

I think one of the most effective ways of checking inflation is to begin to pay the public debt. I know that the time to pay debts, both public and private, is while income is high. I was never able to pay my own debts when I had nothing to pay with. The same thing is true of nations. Our government should use a substantial part of our present tax income to pay our national debt. Many members of Congress agree that we should do this but they say if we leave taxes high enough to make substantial payments on the debt that we will waste the money and the debt will still be with us. I fear there is some justification for this attitude.

I have therefore, introduced a bill to appropriate to the payment of the public debt the $7,000,000,000 which the President estimates we will have at the end of the fiscal year. If we will do this now at the beginning of the Session—we can assure ourselves and the people that the debt will be reduced. Should we refuse, I fear we may succumb to the temptation to court political support through the promise of excessive tax reductions at the expense of debt retirement. We should have some tax reduction, but tax reduction alone is inflationary, as it adds to the money available to buy goods without adding to the goods. Debt reduction, however, is deflationary and will reduce the cost of living.

I expect to fly down to Texas next week-end to attend gatherings in Temple and Waco, where my friends are meeting to do me honor. I deeply appreciate their tributes. I hope that I can all ways serve our District creditably and honestly. I know that I cannot perform any miracles, but I believe that I do represent the best people in the country, and that with their cooperation we will be able to continue to develop Central Texas.

I shall participate in one splendid example of such development at McGregor next Friday (January 30) At that time the A. & M. College officially receives the great Bluebonnet Plant and dedicates it to the use of the farmers and the farm boys of Texas.

With all good wishes, I am,
Your friend,
W. R. POAGE.
