FRIDAY, MARCH 12, 1948. NUMBER 23

TODAY'S - - AP The Byline of EVENTS by AP Dependability.

Well, this is a gas man's paradise. But, just wait, August's coming, beginning with June and July, and part of May. If it's too late and too little!

Prediction, this a. m., weather to be around 17 above! Warming up today.

Admiration is back in the NEWS That's the coffee that you've heard so much about, and from the "sales record" has been used so much in this vicinity. We know you'll like it if you haven't had it lately.

Anyway, it's the only coffee company we know of that is spending any money in this vicinity to tell you about it—especially, in the NEWS.

Now, that the election announcements have been made, we can all go back in our respective shell and wait until that day, and then not go vote, if we follow what we usually do. Some city elections don't poll enough votes to cover a large size postage stamp.

In any case, or, in any discussion today, it's the weather, and that leads to this morning. Why don't we have football, January 1 to March 31. It's that kind of weather. Then, we could turn the basket or baseball, even around, and extend the baseball from May until before Christmas. Our winter is 1-1 to 3-31 and sometimes, still later.

Then, another good thing that might be changed, would be the filing date for income taxes. Mar. 15, you're always busy doing something else, but, guess it's just as well, because you'd be busy doing something else (when it came to income taxes) any other time of the year. Wonder who ever thought that thing up, or, did they think at all?

Another thing, this kind of business, monkey, or otherwise. One business we visited recently, they were playing checkers, and many others, they were "practicing sales talks" when the next customer came in they'd have something to say. The boom, it seems, is most definitely over, or is it the weather. Weather or no weather, something's over.

Kandahar Marcher Dies in England

LONDON—(P)—Joseph Hipkin, one of the last survivors of the epic forced march from Kabul to Kandahar, Afghanistan, has died at Sutton, England, aged 92. The marchers covered 313 miles in 20 days to relieve the British garrison in Kandahar, beleaguered by forces of Ayub Khan, pretender to the Afghan throne. That was in August 1880. The 20,000 British and Indian troops marched across difficult mountain country with negligible water supplies. The march was led by Lord Roberts. Hipkin was his personal signaller. Ayub Kahn's bid to oust a ruler friendly to Britain was foiled by the action.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling. Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulates the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

Philip Williams Wes Master Violinist In Municipal Concert

By Miss Mamie Sue Halbrook

On Monday evening, March 1, 1948, the Coryell Municipal Concert Association presented its fourth concert of the current series. The star of the evening was Philip Williams, a violinist of distinction and a master of violin technic and tone.

Mr. Williams' opening number, "Variations on a Theme by Corelli", arranged by Tartini-Kreisler, was especially brilliant. The Mendelssohn "Concerto in E Minor" was a fine medium for the artist's versatility. It was beautifully played, with very delicate passages contrasting with broad harmonies. Aaron Leifer proved himself an artistic and brilliant accompanist.

"The Devils' Trill" an arrangement by Kreisler of Tartini's Sonata in G Minor was played with consumate skill and dexterity. The long passage for violin alone, with the long trill and chromatics, showed Mr. Williams to be a master of technique.

The highly descriptive "The Flight of the Bumble Bee" and the tuneful "Caprice Viennois" by Kreisler, was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, as were the rollicking "Jamacian Rumba" by Bennett and the comedy of the solo arrangement of an entire opera, "The Babrer of Seville" won Mr. Williams great applause.

The large crowd that attended this concert was very attentive and were deeply appreciative of Mr. Williams' masterly performance.

For his encores, Mr. Williams played Schubert's "Ave Maria", and a waltz by Victor Herbert, both of which are popular favorites.

All those who heard Mr. Williams agreed that they had heard a master, and that he had given a magnificent concert.

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

DEAR FRIENDS:

This letter is a ay early, as I am leaving for Midison wisconsin where I meet with their State REA Association. I had hopped to be able to stay and attend the National REA Association meeting in Chicago next week, but it now appears likely that we may have the Agriculture appropriation bill before the House next week and I feel that I must be here at that time to fight for a number of items of great importance to our section and to farmers everywhere. These items include the REA, soil conservation, funds with which to support farm prices, if need be, funds to fight the hoof and mouth disease, etc. My own Committee shapes agricultural policy but the effectiveness of most of those policies depend on the availability of funds. These funds are controlled by the Appropriations Committee.

My own Committee has been holding hearings on the proposal to transfer the Soil Conservation Service to the Extension Service. A number of proposals have been made. I hope it will be possible to effect some economies in operation as many people believe can be done, but I would want to be very careful not to injure the fine work of the existing Soil Conservation Service, or the State Soil Conservation Districts. I know that our national life depends on our ability to protect and preserve our soil.

Many of the teachers of our State stopped in Washington on their way back from their National Convention in Atlantic City. They are naturally interested in the possibility of Federal Aid for our schools. Most of us realize the great need of our schools. Most of us recognize that even though the Southern States spend a larger percent of their income on education than the Northern States, we are still unable to provide as much per pupil. This is due both to our poverty and to the fact that we have a large percent of the Natfon's children. I would like to be able to equalize the burden but it seems clear that in view of the present prejudices and ill-feeling over the so-called Civil Rights, there is less chance than ever before to secure this aid without complete Federal control of our schools, including abolition of racial segregation. I cannot pay such a price for Federal aid.

On the other hand, Texas is in a position to force the industrial States to help us support our schools if we will but break the control of oil, gas and sulphur companies over our State Legislature, and especially our State Senate. Were we to levy a 10% tax on the value of all ntrual resources as they are served, this tax would, of course, be included in the cost of gasoline sold in Washington, D. C., and the gas burned in Chicago. Between 85 and 90 percent of these resources are sold outside of the State. We could, therefore, make outsiders pay at least 85 cents for every 15 cents of our own. If we would devote this money to the support of our schools and our roads, we could increase our support of all our schools and at the same time build thousands of miles of needed roads each year.

When I was a member of the Texas Legislature I proposed the first 10% natural resources tax ever introduced. That was nearly 15 years ago. I know that it takes time for ideas to attract public attention, but the people of Texas now know what they can do with a natural resources tax. If the people of Texas do not insist that our Legislature tax these resources which are being shipped out of our State daily, we will find ourselves saddled with a sales tax which will be paid by the masses of the people of our own state while the people of the North and East still burn Texas gas and drive with Texas gasoline with no contribution to our State. We are going to have better roads and better schools in Texas. The question is, will they be paid for by further taxes on our own citizens or will we be put on articles which move out of our state? If Texas would levy her own school taxes on natural resources she can control her own schools. I doubt that she can do otherwise.

Your friend,
W. R. POAGE.

Humble Technical Research Is A Continuous Process

Dr. Allan P. Colburn, assistant to the president and advisor on research at the University of Delaware, completed a two weeks series of lectures recently, on "Advanced Topics in Distillation" for technical and research personnel at Humble Oil & Refining Company's Baytown refinery.

NEW ZOO ARRIVALS

A chimpanzee of the Dallas zoo

takes a close look at his neighbors latest arrivals, two six-day-old lion cubs.

The course is another in the "Humble Lectures in Science" series, designed o keep refinery personnel abreast of latest scientific developments, which brings several of the nation's leading scientists to Baytown each year. The series is now in its second year.

Lecturers remaining on this year's schedule are Dr. Richard T. Arnold, professor of chemistry at the University of Minnesota, and Dr. Joel H. Hildebrand, professor of chemistry at the University of California. Lecture courses are of one to two week's duration and are attended on a full-time basis.

Dr. Colburn's course is devoted largely to new horizons in azeotropic and extractive distillation to aid Humble researchers in developing new techniques to help meet record demand for petroleum products.

Dr. Colburn has been professor of chemical engineering at the University of Delaware since 1941 and associate professor for three years before that. He received his doctorate from the University of Wisconsin in 1929.

During the last wer, he was instrumental in the use of his university's laboratories on war research for government agencies and war industries, and with Dr. B. F. Dodge of Yale, he prepared the curriculum on chemical engineering for the Army.

Dr. Colburn was the first recipient of the Walker Award, given him in 1936 by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers for contributing to chemical engineering literature.

NAGGING BACKACHE

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its restless hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, colds, flu, pneumonia, long fasts, long hours, nervousness, overwork, the effects are disturbing to the kidneys and often times people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble. After colds, fever and similar ailments there is an increase of body impurities that the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove wastes, there is poisoning of the whole system. Symptoms of disordered kidney function may be nagging backache, stiffness, numbness, getting up at night, swelling, a feeling of pressure, burning and loss of strength. Other signs of kidney trouble are: frequent urination, sometimes see burning, sandy or cloudy urine. In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide approval than on something that is merely known. Use Doan's Pills. They have been winning new friends for more than forty years. No one is to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

TEEN TALK:

DEAR JUDY:

Now we'll believe that music can calm the savage beast; it seems to have subdued Master and Miss Bobby Soxer of 1948.

No longer jive mad, the majority of teen agers, who'd jitter until dad turned out the lights, now are long-hair music fans. It seems they can't get enough Bach Beethoven and Tchaikowsky, and suddenly they are begging for music knowledge.

This year's teen ager seeks to learn what made these great composers tick. At the RCA Exhibition Hall in N.Y., where schools are invited to make up groups to listen to music recordings in their Little Theatre, the place is jammed with young people eager to learn and listen.

Along with the programs of classical music, there are commentaries about the composers, stories and explanations of the story behind the composition. One official of the exhibit, Steve de Baun, said he believes the key to music appreciation as far as the kids are concerned is the commentaries. It is the "something personal" which they learn that makes real music more understandable.

Gilbert and Sullivan is a big favorite with the kids. So is the Nutcracker Suite. Often the schools select their own programs after discussing 'em with the students.

What the kids would like is to have more music study periods in the classroom. Then when they gather around for a long-hair session, they can better appreciate to what the composers were drixing.

European Check-Up

How would you like to be able to take a five-weeks' trip to Europe to see if what you've heard is true? Mr. Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corporation of Pittsburgh, did just that. He made informal contacts with people of all sorts. Then he had opportunity to interview outstanding men of finance and industry in each country.

Because of Mr. Weir's nationally recognized leadership, and because I consider him a far-seeing and capable observer, I want to give you some of his conclusions.

People Must Work

English businessmen he interviewed think England must work out her own salvation. They said more U. S. dollars poured into England would be harmful. Our $4 billion loan to them has been wasted, they told him, and has kept England from facing problems squarely. "England's greatest need is for better government, more hard work and greater production."

France, excepting war-torn areas, was in about the same physical shape as England. "The most serious condition in France is the black market in money," he added. The black market offers twice as many francs for a dollar as the government allows officially. "The great problems of France are bad government, encouragement of the people to believe they can live without working, and the consequent failure of the people generally to produce."

Follow Up the Money!

Mr. Weir thinks the German people must have full liberty in the reconstruction of their country. He branded the Morgenthau plan, as applied in Germany, "one of the great crimes of history." America should stop lending or giving money without proper planning and full investigation of the use of the money. At the same time, he believes Germany is a safe place to put funds for reconstruction, with proper plans.

The individualism of the people in England, France, and the United States makes communism an unreal danger. He believes the people in these countries will never, for long, permit "the iron heel on their necks." It is his belief that a program financing foreign nations so they will not go communistic is without justification. "People who will stand for Communism will go in that direction irrespective of what we may do to the contrary."

Need for Leadership

Europe is loafing on the job of genuine recovery, he believes. "The day they roll up their sleeves and go to work, recovery will begin." Visitors find the English and French, supposedly starving, working only 40 hours a week. Mr. Weir asks: "Why don't they adopt a six-day week, which would greatly increase the production of all materials?" There are enough resources and manpower. "Given the right kind of leadership and adequate incentives... the peoples of Europe would work harder and more productively."

Mr. Weir's phrases "right kind of leadership" and "adequate incentives" suggest the key to this entire puzzle of European difficulties. Take away the profit motive and people lack incentive to work. Then add tax oppression and all the decay of leadership that Europe has had to put up with. The result is unrest and economic chaos. Grabbing the nearest "ism" will not bring prosperity, nor freedom of any kind, for anyone. That is the way to shackles that bind men: hands, feet, and ideals.

Swiss Protest Alcohol Gasoline

BERN, Switzerland—(AP)—Swiss motorists are raising protest against the compulsory admixture of wood-alcohol in gasoline.

During the war, the Swiss government contracted for 11,000 tons of wood-alcohol per year, without rationing restrictions for until 1954, to supplement limited gasoline imports. Altho a large proportion of this substitute fuel is now consumed by the Swiss Army and post office, the government insists that the remainder shall be mixed with all imported fuel until termination of the contract. The mixture is less economical and of poorer quality than pure gasoline, but is sold approximately 50c a gallon.
