

A fellow is "without honor in his own home-town" is a saying. This is borne out somewhat by the story in the News today. "Pat" Patterson is a "drafted" candidate for Mayor of the City of Itasca.

And, this local city election is mighty quiet.

And, we were told to go see the Negro school ground, and we did and they've done a nice thing in cleaning it up, and thru the assistance of some "palefaces" they went to North Camp and got some shrubs and have put them on the school yard, and it's looking better, and will still be better when the shrubs bloom better, all of which leads up to:

Poor little Red Cross, only a little over $1,500, whereas, the quota set for this county is some $5,000. Whassamater?

You know, the Red Cross helps with disasters, and one reason this has never come home to Coryell Countians is the fact that we've never had one. One day, we might.

And, Spring is here, and Easter nearly is, and you could tell neither "by the papers".

B. L. McClellan Is Toastmaster For C. of C. Banquet

Thursday evening, 25, with Byron Leaird McClellan at toastmaster, Gatesville Chamber of Commerce will get under way, featuring Stanley Foran, executive of a Dallas advertising agency as the speaker.

Introduction of officers and directors will be made, and Mr. Foran will then speak on "World Leadership or Oblivian."

Committees named are: Reception—Board of Directors: Food—John Gilmer, Floyd Murray, O. N. Hix, Sherrill Kendrick; Finance and Ticket Sales—Jack Straw, Earl Heath, Howard Franks, Joe Skelton, Raymond Leonard, Ollie Little, Clyde Lee, and Barney Owens; Arrangements—Sidney Pruitt, Mrs. Rabon Balch, Mrs. E. B. McMordie and Bill Stiles; Entertainment and Program—George Painter, Bill Culbert and Wade Sadler. Starts at 7.

Draft Plan Included Men, Women, Children

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(Spl.)—Selective Service is studying plans, which if adopted, will provide for the drafting for national service of women and children as well as men in the event of another war.

Appearing before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee to seek restoration of a cut in Selective Service appropriations, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, said the proposed plan is a "breath-taking idea. We have had almost no experience in trying to control everybody."

He added that the plan calls for mobilization of men at a much faster rate.

N. A. 'Pat' Patterson "Drafted by Veterans" As Mayoralty Candidate

N. A. (Pat) Patterson, formerly of Gatesville, and now a resident of Itasca, has been drafted as a write-in candidate for Mayor of that city. His wife is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Preston of Gatesville.

From "The Itasca Item", given us by Mrs. L. A. Preston of Gatesville, is the following item:

"N. A. Patterson has been drafted to run for mayor of the City of Itasca by a group of veterans. It is reported that (Pat) Patterson opposed this move but the veterans were so insistent that he was compelled to answer the call.

"Pat is well known in this locality and is well-liked by the citizens of this community. He is ambitious, out-spoken and his integrity is admired by many.

"His name will not appear on the ballot as the draft move was instigated after the entry deadline."

Pat is in charge of the Veterans Vocational School in Itasca and he and his family moved there shortly after his return from the service.

Red Cross Report is Discouraging: Only Fifth Subscribed

Carl McClendon's secretary, who is the Red Cross workhorse, and keeps account of the funds collected, Mrs. Claude Turner, says it looks bad for the American Red Cross Drive here.

The funds, up to Saturday, which was March 20, showed only $1,573.53 had been collected at that time, although, since then, some little has been added.

The quota, according to Chairman Pat Holt is $5,000, and so far, according to what we've seen Hubbard is first to make their quota.

10th & Saunders Streets Church of Christ To Hold Lectureship

The 10th & Saunders Street Church of Christ is planning a Lectureship Program to be held April 5-8. The lectures will begin on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock and there will be two lectures daily through Thursday night, with a different speaker for each service. An effort has been made to secure the services of outstanding preachers for this program.

The Theme of this Lectureship is "THE CHURCH". The day services will be devoted to the study of "The Work of The Church", while the evening lectures will be devoted to a study of "The Nature of the Church", and the necessity of being members of it.

Some of the speakers on this program are: Robert C. Jones, Fort Worth; Wallace Gooch, Temple; Fred Curtis, Waco; and R. B. Sweet, Austin. These men, together with the others, are well qualified to discuss the various topics related to the theme, and a very interesting as well as profitable program is in store for those who attend each service, and we should like for you to make your plans now to come.

Mrs. Byron Leaird, Jr. New Head of Morris Federation: Met Saturday

At the Saturday afternoon meeting of the Morris Federation at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Arthur Schloeman, who had as cohostesses, Mrs. John Milner and Miss Miriam Raby, Mrs. Byron Leaird, Jr. was named president for the coming year.

Other officers named at the meeting were Mrs. J. O. Brown, vice-president and Mrs. A. C. Schloeman, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Laird, reporter; Mrs. J. P. Kendrick, permanent historian.

During the afternoon Mrs. Frank Kelso, Field Officer for the State Department of Public Welfare, gave a most interesting talk on her work in the county.

Mrs. John Milner gave a short story on St Patrick Driving the snakes out of Ireland, and this was followed by a solo by Mrs. Byron Leaird, Jr. who chose for the occasion, "A Little Bit of Heaven", and she was accompanied by Miss Orpa Mayo, who then played a number of Irish ballads.

Besides the club members, the guests, Mrs. Frank Kelso, Mrs. Craig Davidson, Mrs. Gus Schloeman and Misses Mary Boyd, Edith Raby and Hulda Schloeman were served lovely refreshments consisting of Angel Food cake, with green Shamrock icing, pecan nut ice cream, green mints and salted pecans.

The Club will be hostess for the Coryell Municipal Concert Association's final concert of the season, when Frances DeMond, mezzo-soprano appears here under their and William Z. Rozan's sponsorship.

There's a great Career for You in Aviation

In the picture above, the man at the left is a pilot. Next to him is a control tower operator and, right, is an airplane mechanic. They represent three of the hundreds of skilled technicians required today in aviation — one of the world's fastest-growing sciences.

How did they get to be specialists? Like many other men who have gone to the top in aviation, they enlisted in the U. S. Air Force. No other organization offers wider opportunities to men who want careers in this spectacular field. For example:

If you're single, between 20 and 26½ years old, and have completed at least half the requirements for a degree from an accredited college or university (or pass an equivalent examination), you're eligible for appointment to the Aviation Cadets. After winning your wings, you're commissioned 2nd Lieutenant and assigned to active pilot duty with the Air Force. This training has long been recognized as the finest available anywhere.

If you're a high school graduate, between 17 and 34, you can take advantage of the Aviation Career Plan. You can select the special training you prefer from a group of more than 40 excellent courses and qualify for it before you enlist. Good pay from the start, plus the chance to move up as you gain experience, make this another outstanding way to get going in the work you choose.

You can fit into this picture. If you want action, adventure, and training that paves the way for a sound career in aviation, ask for full details on these and other programs now! Your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or Air Force Base, will be glad to discuss them with you.

They knew they walked toward hostile men. There were sects among their own people whose powerful priests feared and hated the simple man from Galilee whom many already were calling Messiah or Heavenly King. Jerusalem was part of the Roman Empire, ruled by Caesar's conquering soldiers from across the sea.

Jesus knew why his 12 followers feared Jerusalem. But He also knew that sand was running fast from the glass of His life and there was still much He had to teach them—still many things He must do. So to prepare them for the tragic events which lay immediately ahead, He called them around Him and told them what was going to happen.

Then they continued on their way as Jesus preached faith and brotherhood to the people along the road, just as He had done before. He said they must treat others with the same kindness they would like to receive themselves. He healed the sick, each time telling sufferers that it was their own faith, their own belief in Him which had made them well again.

But it was this kind of teaching which had made the powerful men in Jerusalem hate Him. The priests and high officials of the temple were more interested in keeping their own great power than in helping others live good lives.

Before they entered the city, two of the disciples brought to Jesus a donkey from a nearby village. They piled their clothing on the back of the little beast for a make-shift saddle. On this Jesus mounted for His entrance into Jerusalem. It followed an ancient prophecy that the heavenly Prince of Jerusalem would appear and be known because, among other things, He would be riding on a donkey.

As they continued forward those who had gathered at the roadside showed their belief in the bearded man with the deep eyes. They cast their clothing and spread branches of trees on the rutted road before His animal's feet as they would have unrolled a carpet for a crowned king.

Jesus went directly to the temple but stayed only briefly before He went outside the city to a little village called Bethany to spend the night. The next morning He returned to the temple where there was much work waiting for Him.

The house of worship had become a place of business. Jesus first drove out the men who were buying and selling as though they were in the market-place. Then He tipped over the tables where the money-changers worked. He threw out the seats of those who sold doves used for sacrifice. Then He addressed the people, quoting the ancient law which, as God's word, was part of their religion: "My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer."

"But you have made the House of God a den of thieves", He accused them.

The chief priests and their henchmen listened fearfully because they saw that the people believed the word of this man.

Jesus returned to Bethany with His disciples that night, teaching them and talking with them as He always did. But the next day as He reentered the temple, He found the priests and others waiting for Him.

Referring to His actions the day before, they asked Him, "By what authority do you do these things? Who gave you the authority to do these things?"

Jesus replied that He would answer their questions if He could put one question to them first.

"Did John's baptism carry with it God's blessing or just his own?" he asked.

The priests and others retreated and discussed their answer. They realized that if they replied that John's baptism was of God, Jesus would counter with: "Why, then, did you not believe what John said?" If they answered that it was only a human blessing, the priests feared the people would stone them, for most of the worshippers believed John was a holy man.

Finally they said they could not answer the question. Jesus retorted that under those circumstances He would not tell them His authority for driving the merchants from the temple. Then He returned to His preaching.

Soon the leaders in the temple sent a group up to Jesus in still another attempt to trip Him by His own words. Was it lawful, they asked Him, to give tribute to Caesar? They knew that if He told them not to pay taxes, the Romans could arrest Jesus as one who preached treason.

But Jesus merely asked for a penny coined by the Romans which bore on it the features of Caesar. Showing them the coin, He asked: "Whose likeness and inscription is this?"

"Caesar's", they answered. "Give to Caesar the things which are Caesar's", He told them "And give to God the things that are God's."

They tried even after that, but each time Jesus turned their questions so that the answers taught the people more about faith and love.

Then, to rest Himself, Jesus sat down by the treasure box of the temple where worshippers dropped their contributions. The rich threw their coins in and, as He watched, a poor widow dropped in a tiny piece of brass money worth less than a penny.

"This poor widow has given more than the rich," He told his disciples. "They had much money. She had nothing and gave from the small amount on which she must live."

Soon He quit the temple and went to the top of the Mount of Olives, a rise close at hand. With the four disciples who were closest to Him at His side, Jesus warned them that after He had gone many men would come to earth claiming to be the Christ and that many people would be deceived. Then He told them to go out in the world and spread His message among all peoples.

Later He prepared for the celebration of the Pass-over, a week-long religious holiday beginning with a feast at which bread without yeast is eaten. As Jesus sat with 11 of His disciples in Bethany, the twelfth, whose name was Judas Iscariot, was in Jerusalem, talking with the enemies of His teacher. The priests were glad to find among Jesus' followers one who would betray Him and they promised to give him 30 pieces of silver for the deed. Judas agreed and a signal was agreed upon.

Jesus wanted to be in Jerusalem for the Pass-over. It had been arranged for the pre-Pass-over meal, to be held in a city home where a large upper room had been made ready. Toward (Continued on Page 6)

Away from Electric Lines!

Kite flying is great fun but danger lurks when kites are flown near electric lines. Many a child has lost his life using wire for a kite string or climbing a pole to get a tangled kite. Play safe by following these rules:

1. Use only dry, cotton string to fly your kite.
2. Do not use metal or wire on kites.
3. Do not climb a pole to get a tangled kite.
4. Fly your kite only in open fields away from power lines or busy highways.

If your kite becomes entangled in electric wires, don't risk injury by trying to get it down yourself. Call our office and we'll send a man to remove it for you safely.

EASTER

evening Jesus and the 12 gathered for the meal, His last on earth and always called "The Last Supper."

As they were eating, Jesus took bread, blessed it, broke it and gave it to them, saying, "Take; this is my body."

And He took a cup, and when He had given thanks, He gave the cup to them. They all drank of the cup and Jesus said to them, "This is my blood of the new Testament which is shed for many."

After that final meal they went back to the Mount of Olivets where Jesus again warned them, preparing them for the future. He turned to Peter, one of his disciples, and told him that by the time that very night was over he would deny his Lord three times before the cock crowed twice.

Jesus came to a place called Gethsemane and as His disciples rested, He prayed. When He had finished, He said, "The hour is come. Behold, the son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners."

As he spoke, Judas, followed by an armed mob, approached Him. They had been sent by the priests. Judas ran to Jesus and embraced Him, thus giving His enemies the sign which identified the Christ to them.

The crowd took Him directly back to Caiaphas, the high priest, and his underlings. Peter followed from a distance and when Jesus was taken into the priest's palace, the disciples stood among the servants and watched.

Then began a trial of sorts. A number of men came forward and told lies about Jesus. No one of their stories agreed and Jesus did not answer their lies. He did not speak until Caiaphas asked: "Are you the Christ, the son of the Blessed?"

"I am", Jesus answered, "and you will see me, the son of man, sitting on the right hand of power and coming in the clouds of heaven."

This was all Caiaphas needed. "You have heard the blasphemy," he cried to the crowd. And because it was believed that no man should call himself the son of God, Jesus was convicted. He was spit upon, struck and otherwise mistreated.

As this was happening Peter was approached by three persons, each of whom asked whether he was a follower of this Jesus of Nazareth. Each time he said he was not—and after the third time a cock crowed for the second time

The following morning the high priests had Jesus bound and took Him before the Roman Pontius Pilate, political governor of Jerusalem.

But meanwhile, according to the gospel of St. Matthew, Judas realized the dreadful thing he had done. He took the 30 pieces of silver back to the men in the temple and told them he had betrayed one who was innocent.

"What is that to us?" they told him. But he threw down the silver and left.

Judas hanged himself.

Before Pilate, Jesus was accused of many things. He did not answer them. It was the custom of the governor to release at the Pass-over one of the prisoners. And after talking to Jesus, Pilate suggested that this be the man he'd free. But the crowd, under pressure of the priests and elders, cried for the release of Barabbas, a man imprisoned for rebellion and murder.

Pilate debated the wisdom of his course, but finally he turned Jesus over to his soldiers to be executed.

Barabbas was freed as they led Jesus into a great hall. There the Roman soldiers made sport of Him. They took off His clothes and draped Him in a purple robe. They set a crown of thorns on His head. They mocked Him, struck Him and spit on Him again. Then they put on His clothes again and led Him, out to the hill of a skull Golgotha.

Soldiers placed Him upon the cross. Soon two others were crucified near Him—two robbers. And at the foot of the cross, soldiers cast dice for the clothing of Jesus.

At noon, after three hours of His suffering, the sun was obscured and darkness fell. Six hours passed before Jesus uttered His great triumphant cry and breathed His last.

As He passed away, the Roman captain who stood facing him said: "Truly this man was a son of God."

A good and honorable man, Joseph of Arimathea, went openly to Pilate and asked for the body. Pilate first made certain that Jesus had died and then gave Joseph permission to remove the body.

It was wrapped in fine linen and then placed tenderly in a tomb which had been hewn from solid rock. A huge stone was rolled into the opening of the tomb, sealing it securely. Two days passed, and on Sunday women followers of Jesus returned to the tomb. They carried spices with which to anoint the body of their Lord. They wondered how the great stone could be rolled away so that they might enter the tomb.

As the sun rose on that first Easter morning, they saw the great stone rolled away.

The women went away, trembling and astonished bearers of strange news:

"He has risen!"

WASTE

Cure for Shortage

Oil is said to calm troubled waters. Oil is indeed the key to a good many problems, international and national. Right now there is not enough oil for all who want to consume oil in this country; and some domestic waters are not calmed. Some of you have come smack up against this shortage of petroleum products. I hope you are not among those who have had the poor judgment to call for government rationing and control.

I have said in an earlier column that it was government bungling, along with the wastage of war, that laid the ground work for our current trouble in the petroleum industry. The result—our shortage of fuel oil and gasoline—is here. Now there are those folks who get frightened, not having the long view of things, every time a slight economic dislocation rears its head. These folks usually holler for the government to do something.

Who's To Blame?

Or they blame an industry. In this instance the oil industry is no more to blame than you are. In fact, you are probably more to blame, especially if you are one of nearly a million householders who have installed oil heating since 1941. Or if you have anything to do with the almost 2½ million increase in motor vehicle registration since 1941. There are 35% more trucks on the road than before the war. They haul food to you that is grown on farms almost 100% more mechanized than in 1941.

All these things take oil. Railroads used 42% more diesel fuel in 1947 than in the year before. Our greatly stepped-up industrial growth has been powered by oil and lubricated by petroleum products. Oil and gas have emerged as the main source of industrial energy. In 1920, coal accounted for 78% of the total energy produced in this country, oil and gas 19%. In 1946 it was: coal, 47%; oil and gas, 47%. (The miners' Mr. Lewis please note.)

Full Speed Ahead

The oil industry is therefore producing at top speed. Present output of the industry is more than the whole world required ten years ago. This demand is estimated by some oil men to be growing at a rate of about 8% a year! This is the kind of situation that government interference and price control can never cure!

Demand is a fine thing, for the whole industry. But there are problems. Oil men tell me it costs three times as much to put up a modern refinery as it did in 1936. They say total exploration costs are about four times those of ten years ago, and wildcat wells cost (per barrel discovered) five or six times what they used to. Then, of course, there's the problem of whether they can get the steel or materials at all.

What You Can Do

If you are an oil consumer, you can help get the country through this crisis. You can do it by practicing honest-to-goodness Scotch economy this winter. This voluntary way will prevent government intervention and rationing, which would only make matters worse. Rationing would bring hoarding and ruin present fair distribution channels. The industry through enterprise will continue to put out the goods. Solving problems this way, America will continue to be a great and strong nation.

ADMINISTRATOR GETS CHECK

INDEX OF TEXAS BUSINESS ACTIVITY

The volume of Texas business climbed 1 per cent in January to another postwar high, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The Bureau's composit index of Texas business activity was 211 per cent of the 1935-39 base. This January increase over December was due largely to the rise in Seasonally - adjusted department and apparel store sales, while 4 of the components decreased. The index of department and apparel store sales rose 11 per cent to 351 and electric power consumption was 303, 5 per cent above December. On the other hand, pay rolls decreased 3 per cent to 329; miscellaneous freight carloadings 2 per cent to 153; employment, 2 per cent to 122; and index of crude oil to stills, 1 per cent to

Did you know, when your eyes are examined at

DR. GRAY'S

1. The interior and fundus of the eyes are examined with the ophthalmoscope for any disease or defects.
2. The cornea or front of the eye is measured with the ophthalmometer to determine the amount of astigmatism present.
3. The retinoscope is used to determine the amount of myopia 'nearsightedness' or hyperopia 'farsightedness' that is present; and also to determine the tonicity of the intrinsic muscles 'ciliary muscles' of the eyes.
4. The eye muscles which turn the eyes in various directions 'extrinsic muscles' are tested for any possible muscle imbalance with the use of rotary prisms, to determine if a muscle correction 'prism correction' is needed.
5. Plus other tests needed to make a really thorough and accurate examination. Yes, Here you are assured of a complete Optometric Service.
