Stanley Foran was hitting at... either reville or taps! He was... about Russian-American relations.

Now, this same thing can be applied to 10,000 little towns all over the USA, according to a series of articles running in the "Publisher's Auxiliary". That includes Gatesville.

In this 30% of the buying public (Mr. Foran will tell you that's approximately correct) the thing is, will we wake up to "reville" or, will "taps" sound.

That's us Coryell County and Gatesville.

The summary-so-far, of these articles brings up these suggestions: The town (and newspaper) should encourage civic clubs; urge adult recreation facilities; campaign for playgrounds; sponsor shopping events; campaign for youth; sponsor civic beautification; work for new industries and finally, cement relations with rural communities.

Yep, we all (all of us) have done some of these, or, tried them all, but the effort is divided, half hearted and futile, in many instances, maybe, better, would be to say: "gummed-up".

Not comparing Houston with Gatesville but that city has Three hundred Soft Ball Teams playing on dozens of playgrounds. They really try to have a place for their citizens to play.

In a lot of instances, you can put "Play and Purchase" in the same category. It works, "No ball, no buy!"

Think it over, Gatesville, or, do you think!

And, here, about two weeks ago this editorial was in the Dallas Morning News. Maybe, it's got something—we hope!

Age of Glass

The floor-to-ceiling glass front is a new idea in construction of retail business buildings now employed effectively. In use it is... to be paying off dividends. Interior of an entire floor is... on display, necessitating attention to total arrangement of stocks that will enhance their appeal to possible buyers. That is has worked out to this effect is indicated by increase in sales of from 40 to 85 per cent. The enlarged, inclusive display reinforces well-designed and persistent advertising.

The spread of the idea from coast to coast justifies the observation of the Wall Street Journal that the Age of Glass in building construction has definitely arrived. It bids fair to work even greater transformation in the nighttime appearance of cities than the neon sign and other modern lighting equipment.

"Speed Merchant" is C. of C. Speaker: Said It, Too

Those attending the 1948 Chamber of Commerce Banquet, really heard a lot of words jammed in a short time. Stanley Foran, must, at one time, have been paying for "time" on a radio station. He's a jammer, when it comes to words.

And, if you noticed, he said something! And, if you noticed further, he had the "figgers" to back it up. Somebody in his organization has certainly done research to hand out that many figures in a 45 minute talk. He said he was just "talking".

Well, Stanley Foran, is not ordinary. He's had to know, especially, how to write so folks will read it, open those one-way-pocketbooks and buy it, and yet, yes, and yet, never, never admit "they saw it in the newspaper, or magazine". That's what a Public Relations-Advertising executive must do. And, we mean MUST

By golly, he could practically quote figures to prove anything, especially to "us dumb clucks". He didn't say "us" He said "we".

Anyway, he was a stem-winder, and whatever they paid him, if anything, he was worth it.

Other items on the program, with Byron L. McClellan as toastmaster, were: invocation, Rev. J. W. Sprinkle; dinner, consisting of fruit cocktail, potato salad, mustard sauce, baked ham, green of 1947 and those of 1948.

Ayers Compton, Dallas Public Relations executive, and former owner and publisher of the News, and son of Howard Compton of Gatesville, introduced the speaker. Mr. Foran, speaking a lot on world conditions, said the situation in the world today, was terrible, and left this comparison for USE, saying, "It's up to us! Is it Reville, or TAPS?"

One Little Accident Mars Otherwise Perfect Easter

There was one minor—well, no one was hurt—accident during the Easter week-end with Coryell County folks involved, that happened in or around Gatesville.

Saturday night, a car purportedly driven by L. B. Smith with Merle Gene Lawson, in a '36 Plymouth, was in an accident with Mrs. Ida Fay Walsh and two others of Jonesboro, at 4 miles creek on Hwy. 36, northwest of Gatesville. They were in a '37 pickup, which Deputy Sheriff Eric Sharp says was sideswiped, and badly damaged, and so was the Plymouth.

THE GALLUP POLL— Public Sees Price Drop And No Big Wage Hike!

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J., March 24.—Here is how the American people size up the economic situation facing the nation in the months just ahead:

1. The weight of opinion among adults in the country is that prices will be lower 6 months from now than they are today. Only one person in seven thinks that prices for the things they buy will be higher at the end of a half year.

2. Three out of four people do not foresee any general increase in wage rates during the same period, a matter of fact, six out of ten believe that wages will hold steady at present levels.

Baltimore Girls Give Up Flowers And Reap Thanks

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Maryland debutantes who gave up flowers in favor of CARE packages for Europe have been told by a grateful recipient: "May life strew flowers on your path."

Demurely dressed in white, 63 girls representing Baltimore's first families made their debuts last December at the first Monday German of the Bachelors Cotillon, the social event of the winter in Baltimore.

Ever since the ball originated in 1796, it has been the custom for each debutante to receive 20 or 30 sprays and bouquets from families and friends for the coming out party.

This season, instead of the traditional flowers, many girls chose to have CARE packages sent in their names to the hungry in Europe.

An answer arrived the other day from a family in Germany. It said:

"We hope you dd enjoy your ball and are only sorry that you have missed your flowers for our sake. May life strew flowers on your path."

3. The average American definitely is not gloomy about the immediate future of his nation's economy. An overwhelming majority predict that there will be no serious business depression in the next twelve months. Only one in four think a depression will occur within the next two years.

4. As the stage is being set for a third round of wage negotiations in major industries, a majority of adults with opinions on the matter believe a new general increase should not be granted.

In a number of previous polls conducted by the institute the public has pointed to the high cost of living as the biggest problem facing the United States. To test today's economic hopes and beliefs of the population field reporters have just completed a survey covering all sections of the country. These were the questions they asked:

PRICES

"Do you think that prices, in general, will be higher, lower, or about the same six months from now?"

Higher	14%
Lower	39%
Same	36%
No Opinion	11%

WAGES

"Do you think wage rates, in general, will be higher, lower, or about the same six months from now?"

Higher	15%
Lower	13%
Same	62%
No Opinion	10%

DEPRESSION

"Do you think there will be a serious business depression in the United States this year?"

No	72%
Yes	9%
No Opinion	19%

A separate but comparable cross-section of adults was asked the same question except that the time limit was given as in "two years." Their answers were:

No	52%
Yes	25%
No Opinion	23%

NEW WAGE INCREASES

"Many unions of factory workers are going to ask for a pay increase within the next month or two. Do you think these factory workers should get more pay?"

Should get increase	34%
Should not get increase	45%
Qualified	5%
Don't know	16%

The principle qualifications on the wage increase question were: "depends on living conditions" and "depends on current wages."

Senior Play "Goes-on" At G H S Gym April 2: "Foot-Loose" Is Title

Foot-Loose is a comedy with a lovable family as the main theme. The doting mother, Emily, anxious to shield her children from the ills of the world, has only brought unhappiness to her oldest daughter Hope, a social worker. Bob and Mary of high school age, have begun to rebel against their mother's strict ruling; but when Dick, a senior in medical school, comes home with plans to get married right away, Emily breaks into a spell of weeping, telling Dick all the possible reasons why he should not marry now. Hope is eager for Dick to go on with his plans and not give in to his rather spoiled mother. The children then all agree that the thing father and mother need is a vacation, so they are sent ff with fondest wishes; leav- age, have begun to rebel against charge of the other characters to supply laughs, you will think it the best senior play you have seen in years. If you like a good comedy, combined with just enough seriousness, you will be awaiting— Foot-Loose—just as anxiously as I, when it will be produced on April 2, in the Gatesville High Gym.

CASH IN ON SCRAP

STEEL MILLS NEED SCRAP METAL FROM YOUR FARM

Supplies of scrap for the steel furnaces are critically low. The furnaces thrive on a diet of about equal portions of pig iron and scrap. More scrap is urgently needed, if there is to be enough steel for making farm implements and countless other products. More than three million tons of steel scrap lie idle on America's farms, according to the latest estimates — scrap that only litters up the place, scrap that is wasted where it is. How much is there on your farm? How about the old car body, that rusted cultivator, those old plow bottoms, discarded tools? Every bit helps — and it is needed now.

IT'S HARVEST TIME FOR SCRAP

There's a bumper scrap crop to be harvested this spring — and there's money in it for you. Your scrap dealer will pay for everything usable. You can do three good turns in one scrap harvest:

1. You make some money on what you can't use.
2. You get your outdoor spring housecleaning done.
3. You help the steel mills turn out more steel for the implements and equipment you'd like to have on your farm.

Scrap means savings to you — if you'll collect it and sell it. On the first rainy day, when you can't plow or sow or cultivate, put on your oldest clothes and get that scrap together.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO

1. Pile up every bit of iron and steel scrap on your place.
2. Take a payload into town the next time you go. You'll make more money out of it that way.
3. If you can't drive it in, call your scrap dealer and ask him to pick it up.
4. If there is no scrap dealer near you, call your implement dealer. Ask him how to get your scrap started toward the steel furnaces.

GOVERNOR BIDS "GOD-SPEED" TO SAFETY TOUR OF TEXAS MOTOR TRANSPORTATION ASSOCIATION

Pointing out that if all Texans observed "Courtesy and Safety" on the highways, Governor Beauford H. Jester tells Erwin Zunker, "Driver of the Month," that the accident frequency could be slashed in half. The picture was taken in Austin as the Texas Motor Transportation Association started a statewide safety tour to visit 65 cities. The safety exhibit consists of a truck-trailer combination containing equipment on which drivers will be given free tests in each city visited. Public demonstrations will be held, and the message of safety carried to many thousands of Texans in a practical way. The Department of Public Safety is cooperating with the transportation association on the safety tour.

STAR HIGH SCHOOL POLE VAULTER

Paul Faulkner of Paschal High School, Fort Worth, is shown clearing the bar at 13 feet 1 3/4 inches in the pole vault event at Southwestern Recreation Track and Field meet at Fort Worth, March 20. The schoolboy's effort set a record and was better than any of the contestants in the high school, college or university divisions. Earl Meadows, 1936 Olympic games pole vault champion, who coached the youth, predicted Faulkner would smash all Texas records in the event. (AP)

WHAT IT MEANS Gasoline Saving By Motorists

By Alexander R. George

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Save one pint of gasoline every day and you'll help keep a shortage away. The American Automobile Association (AAA) gives that tip to the nation's 30,000,000 owners of passenger autos. Association officials say car drivers stand to profit by voluntary saving of gasoline for two reasons. It would help:

1. Prevent shortages of gasoline next summer or fall.
2. Avert a possible scarcity of heating oil next winter.

Some petroleum authorities have said this winter's cutback in gasoline production in order to boost the heating fuel output may lead to gasoline shortages next summer.

Harvest Menaced

Government oil experts say prospective gasoline shortages may hinder harvests in the midwest and thus curtail farm production. AAA officials fear that if motorists don't voluntarily conserve gasoline farm shortages may result in demands for some form of rationing.

If every one of the 30,000,000 passenger car owners saved a pint of gasoline a day, a total of 1,365,000,000 gallons would be saved in 1948. A saving of that size AAA officials say, would go a long way in easing if not averting a shortage.

How can you save gasoline? One way is to drive slower.

The AAA officials point out that hundreds of millions of gallons of gasoline are wasted every year by car drivers who travel at unnecessarily high speeds. This wastage is indicated by tests of gasoline consumption at various speeds.

Speed Eats Gas

The tests show that a car which gets 18.7 miles to the gallon at 30 miles an hour gets only 15.8 miles to the gallon at 40 miles an hour, 13.3 miles at 50 miles an hour, 11.2 miles at 60 miles an hour and 8.2 miles at 80 miles an hour.

The consumption of gasoline per automobile, as well as the total number of autos in use, has increased considerably since 1930. In that year 23,000,000 passenger cars consumed an average of 519 gallons of gas per car.

In 1941, some 29,500,000 passenger cars consumed an average of 650 gallons per car. In wartime 1943, when gasoline was rationed, the consumption of 26 million passenger autos dropped to 425 gallons per car.

The gas consumption of 28,250,000 cars in 1946 was 700 gallons per car. Last year close to 30,000,000 passenger cars used an estimated 800 gallons per car.

This year's consumption is figured to be higher unless there is

CHARCOAL-TYPE BROILING

ANOTHER REASON WHY

Cooking's going Electric

You've never tasted more luscious steaks than you get from the charcoal-type broiler of a modern electric range.

It supplies flameless "glowing ember" type heat and the speed needed to make steaks brown and crisp on the outside and tender and juicy on the inside.

You can broil a thick steak in ten minutes—and do it without stooping or squatting because the broiler is up off the floor at a handy working level.

For faster, easier broiling and for better results from all cooking operations, make your next range an electric. It's the modern way!
